Hedley Planning Big Celebration

Broadback & Shrater Greater Shows will furnish the Midway for the Ninth Annual Cotton Festival at Hedley this weekend, it was announced by boosters.

Lakeview Hosts Miami; Estelline Plays Matador

Lakeview and Estelline will both have home games Friday night. Estelline begins district play against Matador, and Lakeview will meet the district leading Miami team.

Both teams will be the underdogs in the games with Matador and Turkey picked tops in District 9-B, and Miami leading their district with six wins.

Estelline suffered a defeat last week at the hands of Lockett, 40-14. Paul Corona added the scoring punches for the Bear Cubs.

The Eagles were victorious last week at Morse, when they dealt that team its second defeat, 60-27. With Lakeview, Estelline and Memphis all having home games this weekend, area sports fans will have a big choice as to what game to go to.

band will be at the Festival, along with the Khiva Temple Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps to perform in the 2 p. m. parade Saturday. This makes a total of seven bands which have been entered.

Other bands include: Memphis Cyclone Band, the Clarendon High School Band, the Wellington High School Band, the Lefors High School Band and the Golden Spread Air Force Band of Amarillo.

Speakers scheduled to speak Friday include U. S. Congressman Walter Rogers at 11:45 a. m., and State Senator Andy Rogers of Childress that afternoon. Saturday's speakers will be State Senator George Moffitt of Chillicothe, Representative Will Ehrlie of Childress, District Commander of the American Legion, Willis Hawkins, Jr., of Hart, and Lions District Governor Ralph Thomas of Pampa.

As a special feature of the Hedley Cotton Festival Oct. 14-15, Madame All Ghto of Amarillo will bring the foreign officers from the Amarillo Air Force Base who are all members of her Cosmopolitan Club. They will ride in the parade Saturday.

Ground Water Survey In County Is Being Done By USGS, Texas BWE

Engineering aide for the Gound Water Branch of the U. S. Geological Survey, will be surveying all of Hall County for underground water resources.

The survey is expected to be complete around January 1, 1961, Rettman said.

This is a part of a state-wide reconnaissance survey being done by the U. S. Geological Survey of the Dept. of Interior, and the Texas Board of Water Engineers.

Information found in these surveys will be made available at both offices in Austin, after completion of field work.

Reconnaissance surveys are to be used to determine where more detailed work should be done later. U. S. Geological Survey and the Texas Board of Water Engineers have been conducting this work for the past 25 years.

The Reconnaissance survey consists mainly of a well location map, well count, estimating amount of water available in formations, and taking samples for chemical analysis.

Rettman will be working in the Brice, Lakeview, and Plaska areas of the county in the near future and would appreciate any help farmers in the county could give to him.

"I will have to see every well in the county before I get through," he said. Rettman can be contacted by writing Box 1145, Plainview, Texas.

Archie Long, geologist of White Deer will be working Donley and Collingsworth counties, and Dick Reeves, geologist of Wichita Falls is working Childress and south and east of there. Both of these men are with the U. S. G. S.

Train Wreck Monday Morning Kills Engineer, Injures 3 Others

Memphis was jarred awake early Monday morning by one of the worst train wrecks it has seen in many years.

C. E. Hargis of Amarillo, engineer of the Fort Worth and Denver passenger train No. 8, was killed in the crash. The train wreck occurred about 5:25 a. m. approximately 700 yards south of the Memphis depot.

The passenger train hit a caboose and two boxcars which were standing on the main line. Before the passenger train reached the caboose, the engineer set the brakes and jumped. He was killed in the fall.

Crewmen of the passenger train seriously injured were L. V. Lewis, 58, the train cook, who suffered a broken neck, cuts, bruises; D. C. West, conductor, 68, who also suffered a broken neck, fractured finger and cuts. F. E. Loveday, the train's fireman, escaped serious injuries by rushing into the second diesel of the train before the collision. He received numerous burns and bruises.

West and Loveday were taken to Amarillo, their home, Monday afternoon after they were treated here in Goodall Hospital. Lewis was taken to Fort Worth, his home town, Tuesday morning.

The two box cars and caboose were the rear portion of a north-bound freight train No. 72, which was in Memphis. The locomotive and front of the train were not connected to the two boxcars and the caboose.

The passenger train locomotives demolished the caboose, scattering portions of it for 200 feet down the track, while driving the two boxcars in front of them. The wreckage came to rest with one box car overturned beside the track, the lead locomotive, minus the lower section (wheels, etc.) lying on its side beside a boxcar, and the second box car spun sideways at a 15 degree angle from the track.

Representatives from the Interstate Commerce Commission have been in Memphis this week investigating the accident.

One local person, who was on the passenger train, was Mattie Lou Copeland. She said that she was riding in the first passenger car behind the locomotives. Just before the accident she had gotten her baggage together. She stated that she was facing the front when the brakes were thrown on.

"I could hear them squealing, and then there was a big jolt. I (Continued on Page Ten)

Memphis, Hollis Tigers To Tangle Here Friday

The Memphis Cyclone will play their third home game of the season Friday night at 8 p. m. at Cyclone Stadium against the Hollis Tigers.

The Travis and Austin Elementary Schools will play Friday night at 6:30, before the Cyclone-Tigers game. Regular admission price covers both games. Travis won last week's encounter.

Hollis lost their game last week and will be seeking a win Friday night. However, Hollis defeated Wellington 16-0 at the first of the season, so the two teams are fairly evenly matched.

Hollis is one of the truly unusual teams which still uses the T formation, so popular several years ago. Their backfield averages 175 pounds, and the line averages around 170.

Coach Don Lambert said that he expects a good match for local and visiting sports fans. He stated that President Wendell Harrison of the Memphis Booster Club will award some lucky holders of reserve seats the thermos bottle set, stadium blanket and seats.

The Memphis Booster Club members meet every Monday evening at the Cyclone Drive Inn to show the moving picture film of the previous Friday night's game. The meeting starts at 7:30 p. m.

Coach Lambert said that injury-wise the local team will have several lineup changes. Tackle Ernest Wilson was injured in the Spur game and will not see action. It is possible he may not play in any future games this season.

Both starting guards for the Cyclone, Dee Miller and Don Gailey, have bruises which have kept them out of pads at workout sessions. Gailey has an injured elbow and Miller has a knee injury.

Halfback Lacy Montgomery has a hip and knee injury and will possibly not see action Friday.

Memphis has not played against Hollis teams very many times in the past; so the game Friday should not be a grudge battle. The Tigers rely heavily on their 208-pound negro fullback for their powerful off-tackle drives, it has been reported. They also go to the air on many occasions.

The game promises to be a good battle between teams which like to pick up their yardage on the ground.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

October 9, 1960

Dear Editor:

Last night I had a dream. It was the year 2,060 and I was a little girl again in school and was studying the history of the United States. My book was open at the day's lesson and this is what I was reading:

"In the fall of 1960, the man who was then vice president of the U. S. A., Richard Milhaus Nixon, was running for the presidency on the Republican ticket. His Democratic opponent was Senator John F. Kennedy.

The four major TV networks of the time thought that it would help the people decide between the candidates if they could see and hear them on the TV screen in face to face debate. This pleased the people and the two candidates agreed to debate.

The first debate was on September 29, 1960. When the Republicans looked at their nominee on the TV screen, they were amazed and shocked. He looked pale and sickly and his square jaw was set as if rigor mortis had set in. (In reality he was only badly frightened over a face to face encounter with his very brilliant opponent.)

There was gloom in the Republican camp for days. (It never occurred to them that the man they were telling the country could best face up to the Russians as afraid of Senator Kennedy.) So they were puzzled. Could he be sick? Oh, yes, he had bumped his knee as he got out of his car just before the debate and had also bumped his head as he went on the stage. But a real he-man should be able to take this.

At last, the Republicans discovered what went wrong. It had to do with Mr. Nixon's facial make-up. (Make-up was very popular with the women of that day, and some of the men were beginning to acquire the habit, especially when they were to appear on TV.) Mr. Nixon was an old hand on TV and had the make-up habit. In fact, he had had a very brilliant and successful appearance on the screen when he had been running for vice presidency and was being asked to explain how he had come by a certain sum of money. Since he had the right kind of make-up on at this time, he came out "as clean as a hound's tooth."

Mr. Kennedy had not acquired the make-up habit, so he had refused to have his face touched up. In all fairness to Mr. Nixon, it must be said that Mr. Kennedy was a very handsome man and Mr. Nixon was not.

At long last, the Republicans remembered that the man who had applied the paint to Mr. Nixon's face before his TV encounter with Senator Kennedy was a union worker who belonged to the Democratic party. This dirty rascal had deliberately played havoc with the Republican candidates face.

The next debate was on October 7, 1960. All that day, a good Republican non-union make-up man applied paint to Mr. Nixon's face and washed it off until he had him just right.

Sure enough, he looked more alive and healthy, though his answers were no better. But the Republicans were pleased.

Now in 1960 there was much fear over the threats of the Soviet Union under its leader, Nikita Khrushchev. At the very time of the presidential campaign, he was in the front hall of the U. S. A. (the UN in New York City) pounding on a table demanding to have his way. Mr. Nixon had previously visited to Soviet Union, and, in a model kitchen at an exposition, had shaken his little fist in the face of Mr. Khrushchev. This one act was the major plank in the Republican platform.

Now the people got to thinking. "What if they elected Mr. Nixon to the presidency and Mr. Khrushchev should suddenly come to this country or the president should meet him on one of his visits to a foreign country? Mr. Nixon might be caught playing golf without his make-up kit or his special make up tulet. Then the good old U.S.A. would surely go down in defeat before the Russians."

And that is why Senator Kennedy won the presidential election by such a landslide.

Then I awoke and found that it was still October 1960.

Evelyn Gass Powers, M.D.

Which Democratic Platform?

Which do you prefer: the socialistic, anti-Texas platform of Kennedy — or the Nixon Platform that more nearly conforms with Texas principles and ideals as expressed in the State Democratic platform?

The Kennedy platform is against nearly everything Texans are for—it is for nearly everything Texans are against.

What will be your choice? It is between a party label and the best interest of Texas and the Nation.

Allan Shivers says:

"I'LL TAKE TEXAS. I accept the Texas Democratic platform and will work for it. I repudiate the other—the Kennedy platform. I will join with my fellow Democrats to work and vote for men of maturity, experience, responsibility, and a fearless dedication to this country's best interests.

Loss From Fires Shows Increase During Past Year

Farm fire losses in the United States increased an alarming 37 percent during the past 10 years—more than a third of the total gain occurred in 1959 alone.

These tragic figures were uncovered by James Van Pelt of Memphis, general manager of the Memphis Production Credit Association, this week, as he urged full cooperation and participation by farmers, ranchers and dairymen during National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-16.

These mounting fire losses present an increasing problem to our agricultural economy," Van Pelt said. He pointed out that the estimated fire loss on American farms and ranches in 1959 was $4 million, $18 million more than the preceding year.

Increasing fire losses can have direct effect on the successful and profitable operation of a farm branch, he pointed out, and urge an all out effort to eliminate hazards and to provide effective fire detection and fire fighting equipment.

Losses to barns and their contents constituted 42.5 per cent of the entire 1959 farm fire loss. Livestock and their contents were next with 35.5 per cent, followed by livestock, other outbuildings and contents and farm machinery. Listed as most frequent causes of fires in farm houses in 1959 were defective heating equipment, faulty chimneys and flues, defective and overloaded wiring systems and matches and smoking.

Representative, 18th Congressional District Report From Washington By WALTER ROGERS

The Interstate Commerce Commission Grover Cleveland, presiding over one of the more obscure areas in American history, signed an act of February 4, 1887 which established the first of the nation's independent regulatory agencies. For more than 20 years the country's railroad barons had wrapped themselves in a cloak of almost unparalleled arrogance and abuse. The existing mechanisms of both state and federal governments had failed to restrain exorbitant rates and ruthless monopolies. Public patience had thinned to the breaking point.

Court ruled, in the Wabash case, that the individual states could not interfere with the interstate railroads even within their own boundaries. And in every year since 1878 Congressman John H. Reagan of Texas had sought a bill to correct the more outstanding abuses without establishing a formal commission.

But when the Supreme Court decision had made the railroad situation even more demanding, Congress finally hammered out a compromise bill which added an organized commission to the Reagan proposals. Twenty states had already experimented with various types of regulatory bodies. It was believed that federal group would offer experience, expert opinion, arbitration, and protection for the public. It was also felt that such a body would be incapable of discretion, subject to domination, immersed in politics, and generally overwhelmed with the job.

In almost three quarters of a century the ICC has seen its scope and its duties expanded many times, yet the arguments for and against its existence are essentially the same now as in 1877. The railroad carriers have been joined by trucks, buses, and other motor transports while the subtle understanding necessary for proper regulation has increased many fold. The original commission was weak and subject to the disfavor of courts and railroads. But through a long series of major revisions, the most recent in 1958, the ICC in many cases has become the final authority.

The forms of transportation under jurisdiction of the ICC today enjoy in many cases a highly responsible position. This is especially true in the smaller towns and cities where the transportation choices are severely limited or even non-existent. The commission watchdogs this position and deals with such diverse matters as the establishment of time zones for the nation and the periodic inspection of locomotives.

But of foremost concern to every consumer are two major duties. The ICC can prevent a carrier from imposing an increase in rates which is held to be unjust. Thousands of rates increases are made each year, of course, with no attention from the commission. But if a protest is made the raise can be blocked. The nation's transportation lines must also maintain reasonable through routes so that a trip between two large cities is not disrupted with unnecessary delays and changes.

NEW—An adjustable hood and giant flap pockets take this coat out of the ordinary realm of boys' fashions. This coat by Great Western is cotton gabardine, Zelan treated for water repellancy.

In addition the ICC is expected to uphold the advantages of each form of transportation and to prevent any proposed merger which would be harmful to the public interest. It supervises the operation of the countless safety devices which have been invented over the years and administers railroad bankruptcy actions. Generally speaking, it has been handed the land and water transportation problems in one gigantic bundle, together with a gay note from the rest of the government asking it to do the best it can.

Eleven Commissioners are appointed by the President, and these in turn choose a chairman and other officials. The ICC is divided into four divisions and operates with about ten separate bureaus such as the bureau of rates and practices or the bureau of finance. A number of regional offices have been established by the Commission in many parts of the country, and the ICC can allow three or more eligible employees to conduct certain activities.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, like all the other regulatory groups, must work under some rather severe situations. It is supposed to "apply" the law as written by Congresses, but this activity is so detailed that it must ultimately exercise its own judgment in relation to that law. Whether this should or even could be done by the courts has been an unsettled question for many years and will likely remain one for many more. There has been considerable agitation in recent years by the advocates of control who seek to "recognize" the ICC so as to extend its authority in various areas. It will be one of interest to note that a Texan — Everett Huhchinson — may become the next chairman of the ICC in 1961.

Texas Can't Afford To Lose

Texas' future is on the spot. This year we will either strengthen our voice in national affairs or tear down a half century spent in building Texas' influence in the halls of government.

How our state reacts at the polls this fall will go far in determining "Texas legislation" and the influence our Democratic representatives have in shaping the growth of our state and our nation.

If Texas goes Republican — with a Texan on the Democratic ticket — the dominant role and power our Texas leadership has built in Congress over a span of nearly 50 years will be undermined and likely lost.

Too, it would put ascendancy in Congress northern blood-in-the-eye factions who would be out to pass anti-Texas and anti-Southern legislation. They would be after the depletion allowance scalp, stiffer civil rights than Southerners have let pass, ending of committee seniority favorable to the South and other punitive acts now held at bay.

Texans, this fall, must be practical and not swayed by emotional issues.

The candidates of the Democratic Party are capable of dealing with our difficult enemies and our ungrateful friends. Senator Kennedy and Senator Johnson fulfill the need for fresh, energetic, courageous new American leadership so necessary to America and the free world in the crisis ahead.

There is nothing to indicate that the nominees of the Republican Party will do an about face on the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy which has kept us on the defensive, discredited and humiliated, undermining our stature as a world power.

There is nothing to support an argument that more Republicanism is just what the farmer, the rancher, the working man and the small businessman needs.

Texas knows Lyndon Johnson. Texas knows, as Senator Kennedy has stated, that our native son Johnson would be the strongest vice president our nation has ever had. His voice would be heard in governmental councils. His council would be sought in Party affairs, and Texas and the South would have their strongest voice in determining the path our nation and the Democratic Party will follow during the next decades.

Who on the Republican ticket could or would speak with force and authority for Texas and the South?

Texas and its nine million citizens will be best served by the Democratic team of Kennedy and Johnson. The nation and its 180 million citizens would be best served by the team of Kennedy and Johnson.

This is the ticket that is "best for everybody."

Needed: Facts

Fred G. Clark and Richard Stanton Rimanoczy, in a leaflet published by the American Economic Foundation, describe some of the attitudes of high school students toward the American business system, as revealed by various polls.

Substantial numbers of these students — well over half in many cases — think that increased productivity is not the way to improve national standards; that better tools mean fewer jobs, even in the long run; that it is better for a worker not to produce more than the average of his fellow workers; that the profit motive is not essential to American business; that dividends are a burden on wages; that there is "practically no competition" in many basic industries.

So it goes, down a long and disheartening list of misconceptions. The authors observe that, "these misconceptions are not deep-rooted; they are based on wrong information, and are susceptible to simple truth." But these misconceptions, if left uncorrected, will breed a deep-seated feeling of suspicion against all private business and industry. It is frightening to think of this feeling being carried to the voting booths a few years from now. Realistic instruction in basic economics and presentation of the facts of business as they actually exist is critically overdue in our schools today.

Dollars for Democrats

Democratic voters who would like to see the Kennedy-Johnson ticket win the November election should back their party with funds to carry on the campaign. How much the country would need to raise we have not been advised. With us it is somewhat of a negative matter. We could be enthusiastic over a ticket headed by Mr. Johnson, we are not happy with a Democratic platform, dictated as we think, largely by Chester Bowles and Walter Reuther. But on the other hand, the Republican platform was the result of a mighty effort to out-promise the Democrats, and moreover whoever heard of anything that Mr. Nixon espoused of anything being good for Texas?

As of this writing the "feel" of the political atmosphere, gives the Nixon-Lodge candidacy three to two the best of it in Floyd County. There is some prejudice, as always, in the matter of Mr. Kennedy's religion. Because he is a Catholic he is going to lose a good many votes. Then there are others who believe the Catholics believe the Pope should rule. They discount Mr. Kennedy's assurance on this point. They are willing to risk four more years on a Republican in the presidency on this account. It is our belief a republican administration has never been good for Texas in modern times, probably never in history in fact. The Texas voter should think on these things.

Cyclone Bitten By Bulldogs

The Memphis Cyclone suffered its second defeat of the season last Friday night at Spur stadium, 42-0.

As far as this season, the Cyclone lost to Class AA Tulsa, and defeated Class AA Wellington and Class B Estelline, and tied Class A Paducah.

At Spur, the Bulldogs opened the first time they got possession of the ball, after a couple of penalties against the Cyclone went along their way.

They took over the ball on their 40, but then their punter, when three plays were stopped, on the fourth play a red flag went up.

Cyclone Quarterback Bunky Adcock caught the ball deep in Memphis territory and ran it approximately 50 yards. The play was nullified, so the Cyclone was forced to punt on the next down, Spur took over on their 30, and made a first down to the Cyclone.

From here, using the fourth down to make the necessary yardage, they moved on down to score on their 14 plays. Jim Paronto, 180-pound halfback, scored from four yards out.

Then, after the kickoff, a Spur defensive player intercepted a Cyclone pass on the Memphis 25 to set up their second touchdown.

Three plays later, Paronto carried for a score, and a pass to Walker was completed for two more touchdowns, making the board read 21-0.

The next time Spur got the ball, they fumbled on their 33, and Memphis recovered. The Cyclone punted on down to the 21 for a second time, then the ball on a fumble. Spur was forced to punt and Memphis took over on their 34. Memphis was held and forced to punt, and Spur took over on their 49 yard line.

They moved the ball for 10 on the ground, then Spur's quarterback connected with End Albin, who went all the way to score.

The try for extra point was no good. The half ended with the Cyclone in possession of the ball.

The Cyclone kicked off to Spur after the half, and the Bulldogs marched 70 yards on 16 plays to score. Fred Walker carried over. A pass to Parsons was good for two more points, to bring the score to 28-0.

The Cyclone took the kickoff on their 40. A pass play was complete to Halfback Larry Craig and the Cyclone moved down to their opponents' 30. Another screen pass was connected to Montgomery who picked up 5 yards, but the officials called offensive holding against Memphis, and the ball was moved back 15 yards. This stopped the Cyclone drive, and Spur took over. They were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt; so the Cyclone took over on their 15. Craig picked up 15, and then on two more plays with good carries by Craig and Lacy Montgomery, the ball was advanced to the 45. On the next play, a red flag went up to nullify a five-yard gain, and the Cyclone was penalized 15 yards.

After a good punt by Adcock, the Bulldogs took over on their own 22. They moved the ball to the Cyclone 42 where they lost on a fumble. From here, a fumble cost four yards for the Cyclone, and then a pass play lost 11 more yards. Then, on an attempted pass play, Adcock was again rushed, and a defensive end knocked the ball out of his hand into the hands of Craig, who went around right end for 25 yards and a first down. However, the Memphis team was unable to move and Spur took over on their 38, with only a few minutes left in the game.

A pass to End Albin went the full distance for another touchdown. Then, Walker added two more points to make the score 34-0.

Spur kicked off to the Cyclone who took over on their 35. Unable to pick up the necessary yardage for a first, Spur took over on the Cyclone 40. With only three seconds left in the ball game, another long pass from Mickey Fugitt to Walker was completed for the final score, and the Bulldogs connected with another pass for the two points. Final score: 42-0.

Cyclone backs gained 77 yards on the ground, with Craig carrying 10 times for 60 yards of the total.

Boy Scouts To Have Mammoth Voting Drive

Joining the five million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers in the United States who will participate in the third national Get-Out-the-Vote campaign, some 6,500 Scouts and leaders of the Adobe Walls Council are preparing for the starring event of the Golden Jubilee Year.

As it was in 1952 and 1956, this great non-partisan effort to get out a record vote in the national election is under the joint sponsorship of the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge, Penn.

On Oct. 29, 10 days before the election, a mammoth distribution of Liberty Bell placards urging citizens to vote will be distributed to 40,000,000 homes throughout the nation. The Scouts, trained in an orderly and systematic distribution method, will hang the placards on the nation's front doors.

The Get-Out-the-Vote campaign is strictly non-partisan in its concept and execution, and all participants must abide by regulations to keep the project removed from the political arena.

As in all national Good Turns and other service projects undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America, the development of character and good citizenship is the prime motive behind the actual job.

Parents' Day Is Planned At Wayland Baptist College

Parents' Day at Wayland Baptist College on Oct. 17 will welcome parents of Wayland students to the campus with activities especially planned for their entertainment and to acquaint them with the college.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Owen Hall, 100-unit residence hall for women, and Allison-Conk-wright Hall, 8-unit married students apartment, and dedication of Goodpasture and Collier Halls, other married student apartments, will highlight the day. Ground-breaking and dedication are scheduled for 2:30 p. m.

Hosts for the day's activities include Pat Gardenhire of Memphis and Raymond Hall of Lakeview.

Plans call for the completion of Owen Hall and Allison-Conk-wright Hall for the fall of 1961. Trustees have honored President A. Hope Owen by naming Wayland's largest residence hall for him. # I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

Bailey Jones, who has lived in Austin for a long time, was the star slugger of the Brady baseball team back in 1921, when I used to see him in action.

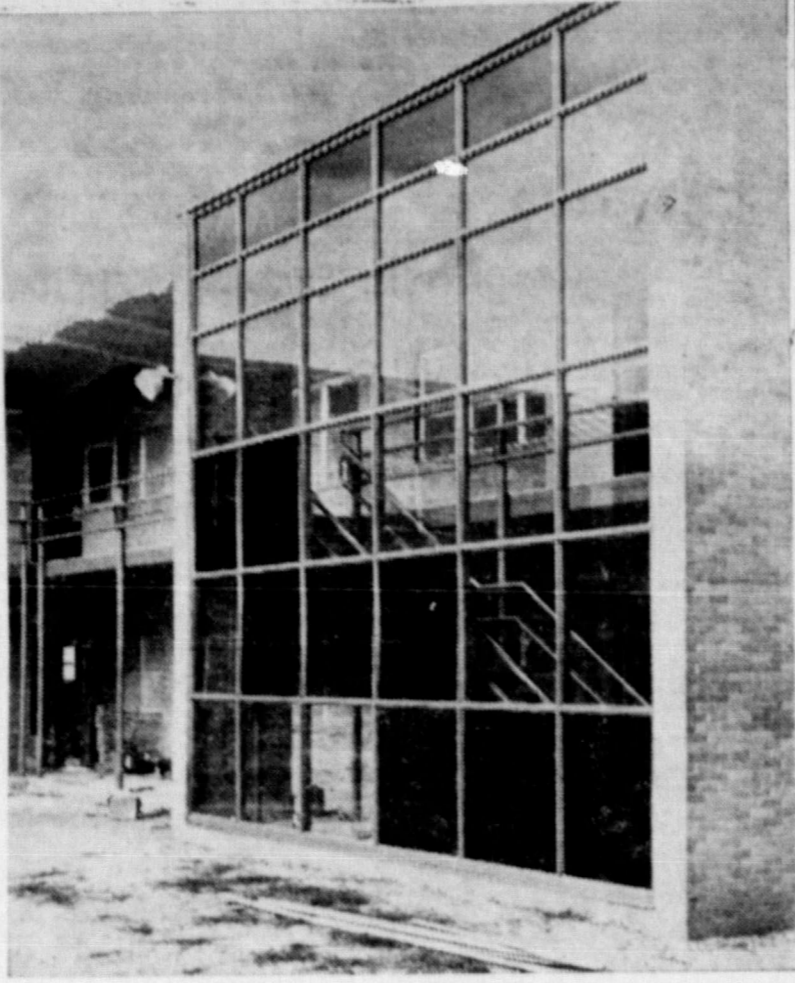

He always has a good story—for instance there was the time that Brady was playing Rockwood. The visitors were at bat and a line drive hit with great power, bounced off the glove of the centerfielder—(call him Williams). Jones was playing right field and had raced over. The ball struck his glove but he couldn't hold it, so he knocked it back to the centerfielder, who held it for the out.

As if that wasn't enough, in that same game, Jones figured in another remarkable play. He had started toward the diamond from right field to advise the pitcher what kind of pitch to throw to the batter, a veteran whose strength and weakness at the plate Jones was familiar with.

But the pitcher didn't see Jones coming in and went ahead and threw. Jones was of course away out of position. The serve was to the batter's liking and Bailey saw the ball hit with great force toward right field. He turned and raced in that direction but didn't see the ball. Meanwhile he glimpsed his teammates and, amazingly, they were going in.

He became aware of a weight in his glove, looked down and there was the ball. He must have instinctively thrown up his hand at the crack of the bat and had caught it without knowing it!

The catch had been made before he moved out of his tracks. Had he been in his proper place, it would have been a clean hit. The batter, as they passed each other, growled, "You are sure lucky." Jones grinned and replied, "Shucks, anybody would know where to play for you."

1913 Study Club, Guests To View Celanese Slides

Members of the 1913 Study Club and their guests will view the new Celanese color slide program on Home Decoration on Oct. 19, at the home of Mrs. R. C. Lemons, according to Mrs. W. C. Davis, president.

The program, entitled "New Rooms for Old," features 50-room settings and offers many How-To-Do-It Ideas for giving old rooms a new look.

Rooms were redecorated and photographed in an elegant five-story Town House in New York City, a 40-year-old home in the country and several city and suburban apartments, thus providing something for all tastes and budgets.

Other rooms in the program offer ingenious suggestions for enlarging window areas, hiding jutting radiators, concealing bulging walls, brightening dark corners, and correcting a score of architectural defects by the skillful use of elegant fabric cover-up, unique curtains and hinged fabric screens.

Mrs. Richard Avery will read the commentary on the 56 slides in the program. A beautiful dress length will be given away as a prize.

CANDY by Tom Dorr

now spreading out still further to 150 and 200 miles.

One Dallas real estate dealer reported that out of 321 farm and ranch sales he has completed since 1951, all except three of the buyers lived in Dallas. All but one of the farms and ranches he sold were located outside of the boundaries of Dallas County.

Aside from the facts reported on week-end farms and ranching, the same survey brought out that agribusiness is one of the most vital concerns of the metropolitan existence of Dallas. It was found that 86,000 individuals in Dallas County — one out of every four in the county — earned their livings either directly or indirectly from agribusiness. Their earnings amounted to $410,000,000 in the year under study, with food processing alone accounting for 11,000 workers.

With agriculture turning more and more to machinery and technology in the new decade of the sixties, it can be expected that the flow of agribusiness into Dallas — as well as into the other major centers of Texas — will continue to grow and expand.

Week-End Farm Movement

What is happening in the purchase of farm and ranch lands by city dwellers in Texas has been amply demonstrated in a study made not long ago in Dallas.

It is figured that more than 25,000 Dallas County families now own farm and ranch lands adding up to some 3,000,000 acres, and most of this acreage is located outside of Dallas County. The holdings include wheat farms in the Panhandle, irrigated cotton fields out on the South Plains and elsewhere in West Texas, citrus groves in the Rio Grande Valley, pastures and grazing land in all sections of the State.

The vast majority of these land-owners are weekend farmers and ranchers, maintaining their homes in Dallas and its suburbs where they make their living. Real estate dealers agree that the growing systems of super-highways and excellent roads out of Dallas have brought about definite changes in the demands of these city-dwelling farmers and ranchers.

It used to be that a radius of about 40 miles outside of the city limits of Dallas was as far as these buyers wanted to go to maintain their rural retreats. But the vast development of the highways has changed all this. The circle has been greatly expanded, moving out to a 100-mile radius and

Paula Knox Of Estelline Crowned Football Queen

Paula Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Knox of Estelline, was crowned High School Football Queen before last week's game with Lockett.

A popular junior in high school, Paula is a member of the pep squad and is president of the F.H.A. Last year she was the delegate to the State F.H.A. Convention in Austin.

Her attendants were Elaine Seay and Beatrice Cruz, who are both cheer leaders.

Members of the football team formed a line on the 49-yard line and the pep squad formed on the opposite 49 yard line. The Queen and her attendants were driven from the north goal post to the center of the field in a 1960 Impala Chevrolet. As the car approached midfield, the Queen received bows from the groups on the 49 yard lines.

Miss Knox, wearing a knit suit with black accessories, was escorted by Tri-Capt. Jerry Stephens. Miss Seay was escorted by Tri-Capt. Noel Long, and Miss Cruz by Tri-Capt. Paul Corona. The Queen was presented with the traditional white helmet. After the ceremony, an archway of green and white crepe paper was formed to the bleachers. The Queen and her attendants were seated on a special platform decorated with traditional green and white crepe paper. The pep squad dressed in their new green slim jim pants for the occasion.

Mrs. Houston Neal and Mrs. Joe Berry visited in Childress last Monday.

tions of material, buildings and work made by various individuals and organizations.

Some three weeks ago our niece and husband, Rev. and Mrs. Jeffrey Hoy of Denver wrote, "If you want to see Autumn colors, come up and we will take you to a real paradise for camera fans." We left Memphis Monday evening, October 3, by way of Zephyr, arriving early Tuesday morning. For three days we were taken on trips. The first day was spent in Mt. Evans and Echo Lake area. The scenery is magnificent at any time of year, but we were there when the aspens were clothed in gold amid green fir trees, and with mountain sides for backgrounds. Clouds that day slowed up picture-taking somewhat. Yet we did not see how any other place in the mountains could compare with, much less excel, and beautiful scenery, but we found such a place the next day when we hit the mountains further south, and for some 75 miles traveled dirt roads along the ridges of Rampart Range, emerging from the forest not far from Pike's Peak. Along this ridge, aspens in all their glory, singly and in large groups, were along the entire route, down the sides and up the sides of opposite mountains. Most of the real aspen beauty scenes were above the 8,000-foot level. It is hard to mentally picture any other place in the Rocky Mountains that could possibly equal what we viewed on the second day's trip.

The third day we spent in viewing sights in and around Denver, along foothills of the Rockies, up on Lookout Mountain and over the rolling plains. The fourth day, we started home about noon and arrived after midnight. We are still recalling mental pictures of God's wonderful scenes of nature's beauty which He permitted us to see.

Girl Scout Fund Raising Drive Plans Are Made

At a meeting of Girl Scout leaders Monday, Oct. 3, at the REA office here, plans were made for the fund drive for the Quivira Girl Scout Council.

The complete budget for the coming year was explained to the local group by Mrs. Martha Holt, president of the council, and Mrs. Marion Osborne, the executive chairman.

"Although Memphis contains only three and a fourth per cent of the entire number of Girl Scouts of the council, we will benefit equally from the total amount of the drive," the local leaders explained.

Future dates of meetings were set in order to make further plans. On Oct. 18 there will be a drive captains meeting at the Cyclone Drive Inn at 9:30 a. m. Then on Nov. 1 at 9:30 a. m. a Drive Kick-off Coffee will be held in the Cyclone Drive Inn.

Attending the meeting were Elsie Hoover, Mary Baten, Josephine Burgess, Jane Taylor, Jimmie Ford, Hattie Dem Thompson, Pug Scott, Florida Branigan and J. W. Coppedge.

Heavy Rains Fall In County Tues.

Rainfall this week over the county measured in varying amounts from five inches to about one inch, it was reported.

The heaviest rainfall was measured on the Buster Helm farm east of Memphis where five inches fell. In that area, other reports indicated that four inches of rain fell.

At Plaska, about two inches of rain was measured, and on the D. C. Hall place at Lesley, it was reported that two-inch rains fell on two separate nights, for a total of four inches.

Approximately one inch was reported in the Parnell and Turkey areas, and Don Leary at Estelline reported two inches falling on his place.

Here in Memphis, J. J. McMick-in reported 1.90 inches fell Tuesday night, and .29 of an inch Monday.

High-low temperature spread for the week includes: Wednesday 82-57, Tuesday 86-59, Monday 89-51, Sunday 84-53, Saturday 83-47, Friday 84-52, and Thursday 88-57.

Train Wreck

was thrown forward into the seat in front of me; but fortunately there were pillows in the seat and I was uninjured," she said.

She added that she stood up as soon as she could, and the other six people in the car were thrown about. One man was knocked flat and was unconscious. Miss Copeland helped the other people regain their footing, and then helped to revive the unconscious man. She said she didn't leave the car until after the sun had come up (around 7 a. m.) and Sheriff W. P. Baten, Jr., took her to the home of her grandmother, Mrs. W. D. Orr.

Estimates of damage totaled $113,600, it was reported late Monday afternoon by railroad officials. This breaks down into $12,600 loss on the box cars and caboose, $30,000 on the second diesel, and $70,000 on the first. Track damages amounted to about $1,000.

Railroad maintenance crews worked all day Monday and into the night, repairing the damage and removing the wreckage. The stock line, running parallel to the main line, was opened at 4:11 Monday afternoon, and at 6 p. m. the first train passed through Memphis.

Two Warehouses Burglarized Here Thursday Night

Two break-in burglaries were reported to Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. last Friday morning.

The Gulf warehouse, operated by T. B. Rogers, was entered Thursday night and a number of things were taken. The Texaco warehouse of Jim Beeson's, located across the street, also was entered but nothing was taken, according to the sheriff.

The Gulf warehouse was entered by cutting a gap out of the hasp and removing the lock on the main door of the building.

Reported missing are: two 6 by 16 6-ply Gulf tires, three 6 by 16 tubes, one case of antifreeze and one case of Gulf Lube oil, HD 30, and an assortment of tools consisting of three hammers, drive socket sets, two punches, numerous end wrenches, six screw drivers, one of which was a big Winchester with white and orange paint on the plastic handle. Other tires were moved but not taken.

When the burglar or burglars left, they replaced the lock on the door.

At the Texaco warehouse, the chain on the Cyclone fence gate was cut at an end section. The building was entered through a forced door. Nothing was reported missing.

A $50 reward for information leading to the capture of the burglars has been offered by the owners, Sheriff Baten said.
