Plans Being Formulated For Annual Hall Picnic

Cyclone To Practice With Kress Tonight

The Memphis Cyclone will face one of their toughest practice sessions tonight as they scrimmage the Class A Kress Kangaroos at 7 p. m. tonight in the Cyclone Stadium.

Kress is picked one of three teams this season to win District 3-A and Coach Leo Fields Kangaroos are the defending district champion. The Cyclone's scrimmage with Kress will be a tough workout as both team have rugged linemen returning, but relatively inexperienced backfield men. Kress possibly has Memphis in the weight department but Memphis probably has a slight speed advantage.

Coach Bert Glascock said the scrimmage with Kress tonight will be a rugged affair and a good test for the local lads before the season starts next Friday night.

Local fans can come watch the scrimmage with Kress if the weather is good tonight. If not, the scrimmage will be called off, Coach Glascock said.

In discussing the Cyclone squad this season, Coach Glascock said the coaching staff was pleased with the spirit and determination of the boys. "This bunch is really working hard and trying hard in workouts," Coach Glascock said.

About the McLean scrimmage last week, Coach Glascock said each of the two Memphis units were able to muster a scoring effort while the Tigers were unable to crack the Cyclone defense. "We felt we played sloppily," technique wise as our execution was poor, but the boys' efforts, hustle and desire were outstanding," Coach Glascock said.

At McLean, Kay Miller looked good carrying the ball and Willie Devorse was outstanding on defense, the Memphis coach said in citing outstanding players.

The Memphis squad has not suffered any major injuries to its players but several of the boys have minor injuries which hamper their performance.

"We hope to get through tonight's scrimmage with Kress without injuries of a serious nature so we will be in good shape to take on the Clarendon Bronchos at Clarendon next Friday night. This is a ball game both schools want to win.

1,513 Students Enroll This Week In Hall County

The total enrollment in Hall County schools for 1966-67 is 1,513, as compared to last year's total figure of 1,556 students, according to a survey made of the school superintendents today. This is a loss of 43 students since last year.

Enrollment in the four Memphis schools is 912 students, compared to last year's total of 938, a loss of 26. Memphis High School has 241 enrolled, according to Supt. A. E. Greer, with Junior High having 230 students.

Austin Elementary School has 142 listed on the roll, with 61.3 percent Anglo, 15.1 percent Negro and 23.4 percent Latin students. Travis Elementary School reports an enrollment of 299, with 65.8 percent Anglo, 23.7 percent Negro and 10.3 percent Latin students, Supt. Greer said.

A summary of percentages for all four Memphis schools lists 72.4 percent Anglo, 18.6 percent Negro and 8.9 percent Latin, according to the superintendent.

Supt. Loran Denton reported a total enrollment of 236 students in the two Turkey schools, with (Continued on Page 12)

Plans for one of the best picnics in the history of Hall County are taking shape this week, Haskell Howell, president of the association, has announced.

"All committees are functioning under the various chairmen, and most of the plans are already completed," he stated.

Invitations have been mailed to several hundred former Hall Countians by the invitation chairman, Tops Gilreath, to be in Memphis on Sept. 17 and 18, to attend the annual picnic and barbecue.

Parade

The two-day celebration will get underway with a parade tentatively set for 1:30 p. m. Sept. 17, under the sponsorship of the Lions Club with Jack B. Boone as chairman.

Other members of the parade committee include Les Sims and Bob Douthit, parade marshals, and O. R. (Doc) Saye, Homer Tribble, M. C. Allen, Jr., and Clifford Farmer. They will be working toward contacting merchants this week, seeking parade entries.

Boone said that cities and towns in a 100-mile radius have been contacted to enter floats, riding clubs and marching units; and that letters have been sent to 11 high school bands. There also will be a division for children's entries on bicycles, with pets, or whatever kind of display they choose to enter. Prizes will be given in all classes of entries.

The Memphis High School Cyclone Band and the Caprock Trail Riders Club will be among the leaders of the parade, which will form near the high school. The parade will come down Main Street, circle the square and disperse going back toward the starting point, Boone said.

Free Barbecue

After a meeting this afternoon, members of the finance committee, chaired by J. W. Coppedge, will be seeking donations to cover expenses of staging the picnic. Six and one-half beehives have been donated for the barbecue, and one more is needed. Desserts will be (Continued on Page 12)

Heavy Rains Flood Plaska Wed. Afternoon

Rainfall in large amounts coming down in a short period of time yesterday afternoon caused flooding and runoff damage to crops in the Plaska area yesterday afternoon.

The largest amount reported was on the V. C. Durrett farm, located three miles southeast of Lakeview where 4.5 inches was caught in a gauge. On the Clyde Reed farm east of the Durrett farm, 4 inches was recorded.

It was from this heavy rain, added to by smaller amounts, that runoff water poured into the Plaska community in such quantity that flooding conditions were reported.

Old timers in the Plaska area said the flooding was as bad as they can ever remember. All over the area and northward, amounts of from 2 to 4.5 inches were reported.

Lakeview itself received two inches from this rain, while some areas west of Lakeview received as little as one inch.

On south and west of Lakeview, two and three inches were reported. The Deep Lake area had good rains and in certain lake bottoms, farmers say standing water is reported in feet instead of inches. One report has what was a good stand of cotton being covered by four and one-half feet of water.

Rayford Hutcherson, official weather observer in Memphis, reported a week's total of 2.78 in. of rain, bringing the month's total to 7.25. This gives Memphis a year's total of 17.28 inches of moisture.

'Bargain Days' Here Are Friday, Saturday

In this issue of The Democrat are the sixth in a series of Bargain Days in Memphis advertisements. The specials will be offered Friday and Saturday, Sept. 2 and 3, and attention is called to each list.

The Bargain Day was introduced for April 4, following a meeting of the retail merchants committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development. The chairman is J. M. Ferrel, who, with the help of C. of C. President Byron Baldwin, have been prime movers in the combined effort to draw additional shoppers to the city once each month.

Appearing on two pages in this issue are advertisements of sponsoring merchants. Also on other pages are weekend specials as well as other messages.

It is not known at this time whether the retail committee will continue the promotion or not, J. M. Ferrel stated Wednesday. He added that his committee would meet later this month and make plans for city-wide promotions extending on through the Christmas and gift-buying season.

September 7 Is Last Day To Vote In ASC Election

Wednesday, September 7, will be the last day to vote in the 1967 ASC Community Committee elections, Lynn L. McKown, Office Manager, Hall County ASC, stated today.

All known eligible voters were mailed ballots and voting instructions for the mail election on Friday, August 26, but many eligible voters have failed to mail their ballots as of Thursday. This being the only method all interested persons have in participating in the multi-million dollar farm program, every eligible person should vote for the committee members of their choice.

Turkey School Board Announces Budget Hearing

The Turkey School Board has announced that a budget hearing for the Turkey Independent School District will be held Monday, Sept. 5, at 8 p. m. in the office of the superintendent.

The meeting will be open to the public. Anyone interested in the budget report of the schools is invited to attend.

First Load Of Milo Is Cut By Becker-Dean

Omer Hill, owner of Omer Hill Elevator in Memphis, reported receipt of the first load of 1966 milo Tuesday. The load of approximately 15,400 lbs. came from the Lloyd Becker and W. H. Dean farm, located two miles southeast of Plaska.

The harvesting of the Becker and Dean farm was halted because of rain after two loads had been cut. The first load had a moisture content of 14.75, Hill reported.

The field was cutting an average of approximately 2,700 lbs. of grain sorghum per acre.

Cyclone Boosters To Meet Monday Night At Jr. High

The Memphis Cyclone Booster club will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the Junior High School to hear reports on the progress of the Cyclone team.

President Bob Montgomery encouraged all supporters to attend.

Local Invitational Golf Meet Is This Weekend

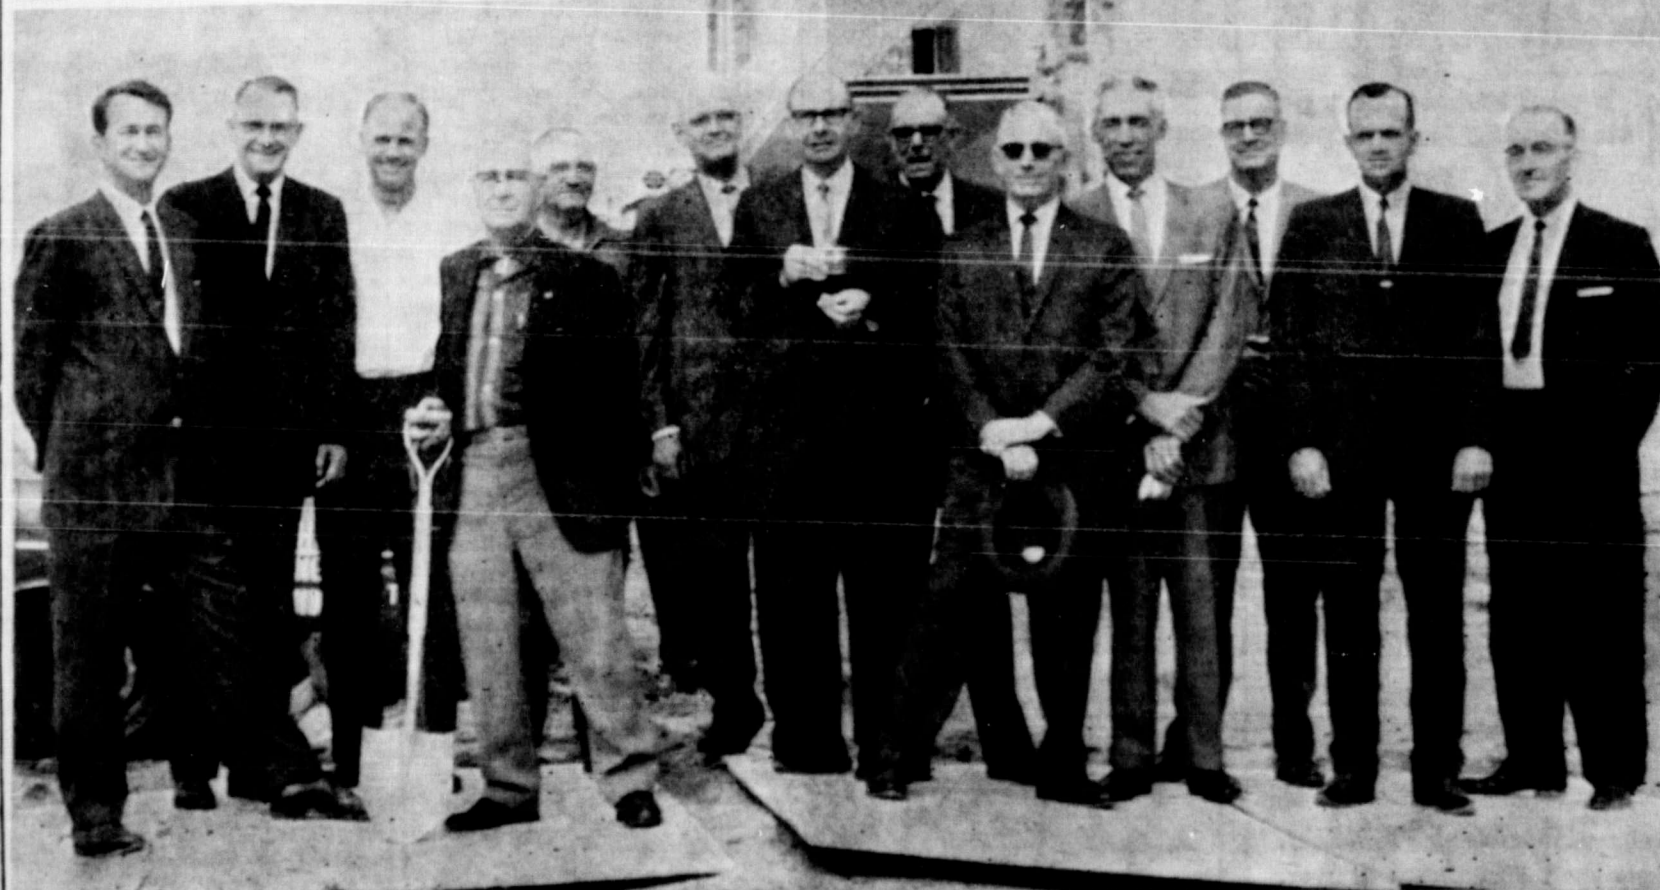

The 16 men in the championship flight will play 27 holes Sunday and 27 holes Monday. This flight will be split into championship and consolation eight-somes at the end of the first 27 holes. The top 8 men will compete for the top two prizes and the bottom 8 will play for consolation.

All lower flights will compete Sunday in 18-hole matches. Winners of Sunday's matches will compete for the championship and runner-up prizes while losers will compete for the consolation prizes. These prizes will go to the lowest shooters in 18-hole medal (stroke) play Monday.

The golfers will be competing for top merchandise prizes in this tournament. The winner in each flight will receive a set of eight top line golf irons. The runner-up in each flight will receive a set of three woods. Consolation winners will receive a nice golf bag.

There will be a long-driver contest held on the No. 2 hole Sunday in which a flag is moved to the point of the longest drive and a name recorded by the golfer hitting the drive. A special prize will be given the winner. All golfers will participate in this contest and have two shots at setting the driving record, the tournament committee said.

With the fine rains this area has been receiving the past few weeks, the Memphis course has greened out rapidly so the course should be in fine shape for the tournament.

In Support Of 'Fair Farm Budget Act'

U. S. Senator Walter Mondale's "Fair Farm Budget Act" advocates a principal we have long supported about the United States Department of Agriculture annual budget figures and therefore we are heartily in support of this act.

Senator Mondale's "Fair Farm Budget Act" would neither add to the cost of farm programs nor add to the tangible benefits received by farmers under farm programs. It would simply break cost and benefit figures into two columns.

We consider this move to be highly significant, even to the point of being one of the most beneficial moves to U. S. agriculture in many years.

In effect, the act would require that the USDA budget be split into two parts. One would show which expenditures were pointed toward strengthening farm income. The other would include money spent, or to be spent, for the benefit of the consumers, businessmen and the public in general. Appropriation and budget requests would be broken down the same way.

U. S. Agriculture supporters have been losing the battle of public relations in the heavily populated areas because the big city press and large circulation magazines have used the USDA agriculture budget as an object lesson in socialism and as an ax to cut many pro-agriculture proposals to pieces. To those people who believe that what is good for General Motors is good for the nation, there is no room in their thinking for an agricultural society.

The idea of Senator Mondale's bill is to let the public know that the entire USDA budget is not spent just to help the farmer. Speaking on the Senate Floor in support of the bill, the Minnesota Democrat said: "It is my hope that this legislation will once and for all end the myth that the American farmer is reaping a rich bonanza from the taxpayers, when in actual fact only one out of every three dollars in the Agriculture budget goes for farm income support."

"For example, in last year's $7.2 billion Agriculture budget $2.6 billion was spent on programs to strengthen and support farm income while $4.6 billion was spent on programs which clearly benefit every man, woman and child in the United States.

We believe that passage of the bill and factual reporting to the public of both categories in USDA budgets, could go far toward alleviating the resentment of the farmer by urban taxpayers. It could show the American housewife that government programs have helped to make food and fiber the best bargain on the market.

We also feel that without the ill will in the urban population which is reflected by their representatives in Washington, a gigantic step toward more equitable farm programs could be taken.

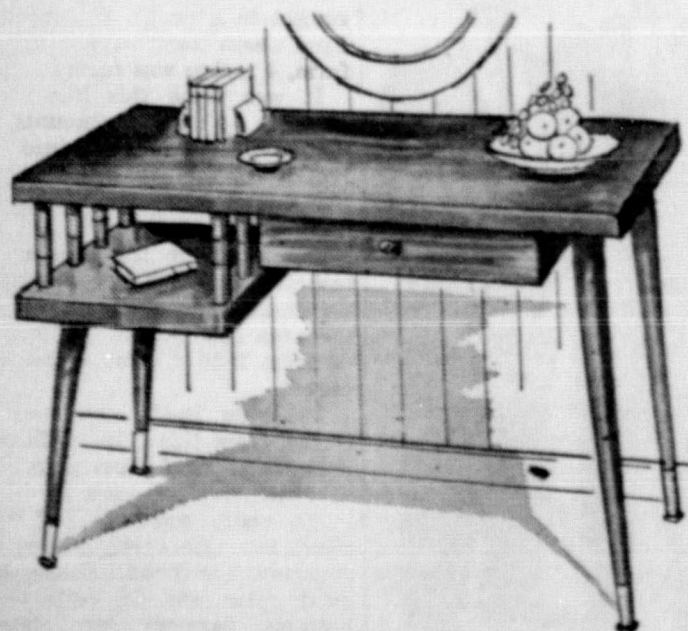

What about it Hall Countians, do you feel that Senator Mondale and the 18 co-sponsors of the "Fair Farm Budget Act" deserve our support and a pat on the back in this matter?

Thoughts For Thursday

Have you ever noticed the similarity between humans and dogs? This isn't meant as an insult to the human race, because dogs possess many sterling qualities—qualities we might well covet.

Cocker spaniels are our favorite dogs—and we like people who resemble cocker spaniels. These little dogs are humble. They are kind and gentle. Seldom do they bark. We've never heard a cocker growl. He is never in a bad humor. He is as friendly to a stranger as to his master. True, he isn't a good watch dog. He is too trusting. But this fault, if it is one, is all forgotten when he looks at his master with warm, adoring eyes.

Cockers respond to scolding, but harbor no resentment towards the one who scolds. With a hurt look, they seek to express their sorrow for offending.

Cockers are affectionate and sentimental. They are useless except as a friend. All they have to offer is friendship.

Another dog, quite different from the cocker, is the bulldog. He is homely and tough looking. He's loveable in the sense that the cocker is loveable. He isn't affectionate—yet behind his rough appearance is a heart of gold. Even though he often remains aloof and cold, he possesses a loyalty to his master which may save the master's life and property.

There are men like the bulldog.

HEMISFAIR 1968 TO COVER 92 ACRES

The fascinating story of Hemisfair 1968 will be told on a 92-acre architectural wonderland in downtown San Antonio, just 200 yards from the Alamo. It will feature massive new pavilions, exotic lagoons, theaters and a 16-acre tree-shaded garden and amusement area. Four and one-half acres of the site have been deeded to the United States government, and six and one-half acres to the State of Texas, for their pavilions. Among the many exhibitors will be foreign nations, other states, and major industries from the United States and abroad.

There are pampered dogs which were born with a silver spoon in their mouths. A fond old dowager gives them every attention, protects them from all harm. She bestows upon them her kisses. She buys them overcoats and sweaters and perfumes their bodies. They are never allowed to do things for themselves. In their protected atmosphere, they are annoyed by strangers. If a stranger comes near, he is greeted with an impudent yap—but he is afraid of the animal. He knows that the yap is worse than the bite. The dog has no friends except his dotting owner.

There are mongrel dogs that have poor breeding. They are not overly intelligent, but they make the most of what they have. They may not be beautiful and perhaps they can't learn. But they will be a loyal platmate for that little boy across the tracks who can't afford a purebred pet.

Finally, there is the contemptible little cur. Unlike the mighty bulldog that uses his bark to deter thieves who would molest his master or his master's property, the cur uses his bark to annoy. He barks at everything and everybody just to be heard. It enhances his ego. Nobody pays any attention to him. He annoys but he doesn't scare. He is of little value to his master because his bark means nothing. He cries "wolf wolf" so often that even if a wolf appeared, his master wouldn't take heed.

Most of his yapping is at his superiors. Live as not, he may chase the mighty locomotive and really believe he was responsible for the locomotive travelling on, unmindful ever of the little cur's presence.

If a real enemy appeared, the little cur would tuck his tail and run. As humans, we might well spend a little time studying the dogs we know. They might give us a lesson in personality development. We would not go amiss my modeling our own lives after the dog we admire most—H. H. Baggerly in Tulsa Herald.

There are useful dogs, the collie, the German police. They perform their duties faithfully and efficiently, whether it be watching sheep or guiding a blind man. With them, duty comes first.

There are mongrel dogs that have poor breeding. They are not overly intelligent, but they make the most of what they have. They may not be beautiful and perhaps they can't learn. But they will be a loyal platmate for that little boy across the tracks who can't afford a purebred pet.

Mrs. Terry Kirk, Children Lead Exciting Life In Africa

By PAULA SHERRY
A "juju" market where items are sold for the practice of "black magic" is one of the daily sights in the life of Mrs. Terry Kirk of Port Harcourt, Nigeria, West Africa, who is vacationing for a month in the United States.

She and her two children, Kevin, 5, and Stacy, 14 months, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Smith, in El Paso before coming this week to Lakeview where they are visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Fan Kirk and other relatives. Kirk remained in Port Harcourt where he is manager of Lane-Wells, a geophysical service for oil companies.

Before moving to Nigeria almost a year ago, the family lived in Bogota, Columbia, where their daughter, Stacy, was born. Mrs. Kirk speaks Spanish and their son Kevin also spoke Spanish while living in Latin America. His mother said that he has forgotten the language since the move to Africa, and that they haven't tried to learn any of the Nigerian dialects as they vary from village to village, and from tribe to tribe.

Port Harcourt is a small town in eastern Nigeria, with the Ibo tribe the main one in the area. The family plans to move to Lagos, the capital city of Nigeria in the western region upon their return to the country. Mrs. Kirk said that most of the homes are owned by Nigerian chiefs, and have to be leased for two or three years, paying the entire amount of the lease at one time. The three-year lease on their home in Port Harcourt amounted to 18 pounds, which is $5,400.

They live in a newly developed area of Port Harcourt, in a modern two-story house with all the conveniences, including refrigerated air conditioning which is a "must" in the hot, humid climate. Mrs. Kirk has three servants, including a nanny, a combination steward and cook, and a "small boy" who does miscellaneous chores. "My servants are very good ones, but this is the exception to the rule. Labor is cheap, but it is extremely hard to find servants or any other worker who can be trained to do a competent job," she said.

"I came in one day to find my steward polishing my dining table with the electric floor polisher, which he said was much better than a rag," Mrs. Kirk laughed.

English is spoken throughout the country by practically all the Nigerians, though they use a "pidgin" form of the language. Lack of communication among themselves, due to the hundreds of dialects, has created a problem of unity in government. A military coup was staged several months ago, and the present leader, Gowon, has promised to re-turn Nigeria to civil government, she said. Nigeria was an English colony until 1960 when it was given independence.

The downtown area of the town of Port Harcourt is small. The Kirk family lives about three miles from downtown, and has dense jungles within two blocks. Roads are extremely bad with the best ones only being black-topped. Mrs. Kirk said that traffic was perhaps the worst situation with which she had to contend, as there are no stop signs and people have no sense of caution or courtesy. There are many bicycles used, and the riders ride the middle of the road, as do the drivers of cars. "Mammy" wagons used to transport people and goods, and people pushing hand lories. The left side of the road is used, as it is in England, but no one seems to pay much attention to this fact. Mrs. Kirk stated. There are also herds of cattle, similar to Texas longhorns, which are raised by the natives and which are herded in large numbers through the streets.

LAKEVIEW VISITORS—Mrs. Terry Kirk and children, Stacy, and Kevin, right, are pictured in the home of their mother-in-law and grandmother, Mrs. Fan Kirk, at Lakeview. They live with Mr. Kirk in Port Harcourt, Nigeria, in West Africa, and are in the United States on a month's vacation. Mr. Kirk, who remained in Africa, is manager of Lane-Wells geophysical service there.

"The rush hour is 4 p. m., and it is simply madness. It is about like what would be in the States if hundreds of four-year-old children were turned loose in cars and other vehicles," according to Mrs. Kirk.

With three servants, Mrs. Kirk said that she has very little to do around her home, and spends most of her time shopping for groceries and exploring the large native markets. There are only four groceries in Port Harcourt, and one usually has to go to all four to find a week's list of supplies. American canned food and articles are plentiful, but sell for three times the price they do in the United States. The market place has a large variety of fresh fruits, such as coconuts, pineapples, and grapefruits, and the basic vegetables, such as lettuce, potatoes and tomatoes.

The family uses Obudu beef from the eastern region of Nigeria, which is dry and tough compared to American beef. However, it is much better than the local beef from the Port Harcourt area, which is too tough to be eaten by American or European standards. Good beef imported from New Zealand costs $2.80 per pound. The Kirks also eat barbecued goat, and can get pork and chicken, although it is not as tender as the American varieties. Fish are a staple item on the native Nigerians' diet, as they are plentiful and cheap. Mrs. Kirk stated that another staple of the native diet is garri, a starch somewhat similar to the potato, which they make into a mush. They also eat yams, okra, and corn which they raise.

The market place has many stalls selling foods, colorful material, household goods, and goods of all descriptions. One never takes the first price given by the seller, Mrs. Kirk said, as the natives love to barter. At the end of each month, door-to-door salesmen called "traders" make the rounds of the residential areas, spreading goods of ebony, brass, ivory and leather all over the floor of each house where they call. They then will give a price and barter for as long as two hours over one item. The traders also like "change change," which is trading their merchandise for some American article, such as a piece of clothing.

The "juju" market in the downtown market area is a fascinating place, Mrs. Kirk stated. Although Christianity is making considerable progress in Nigeria, there are still many pagans as well as Christians who practice "juju," or black magic. The stall features such items as chicken feathers, animal skulls, and all sorts of strange articles used to "hex" an enemy or to take a hex off. No one will admit to using "juju" but it is a common practice, nevertheless, she said.

A "juju" tree stands near the Anglican church and school, and is used to hang sacrificial animals in native ceremonies. If an animal gets loose from the tree, the natives will not touch it as it is believed to be "hexed."

Mr., Mrs. John Smith Enjoy Vacation Trip To Northwestern States, Canada

(Editor's Note: The following account was written by Mrs. John Smith upon their return from a vacation trip to the northwestern states and Canada. The account follows:)

We left Amarillo Tuesday, August 14th and spent our first night in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

On August 17th we camped in the city park in Roundup, Montana. The camping facilities in this park are maintained by the Cow Belles, which is an organization of young women who also perform in a rodeo arena nearby.

About noon on August 18th we crossed the border into Canada at Sweetgrass, Montana and that night we stayed in Calgary in Alberta Province. We were too late for the Calgary Stampede but we enjoyed our ride over the city with its large shopping centers. It is a very modern city.

We left Calgary on August 19th and drove to Dawson Creek, British Columbia where we camped two nights in the city park. Dawson Creek is the beginning of the Alaska Highway. At Dawson Creek we met many interesting people. One family who lives in Alaska had been to Denver where the mother had attended a Home-makers Convention. She told us that she had had all the "south 48" that she wanted and was very anxious to get back to the "north 49". It seemed to be too hot even in cool Colorado for them.

From Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Fraser of Medicine Hat, Alberta we learned something of the agricultural practices in Canada. We found there were no government controls on their crops. They can plant as many acres as they wish in any kind of crops they raise. We learned of the concern of filling the big wheat contract Canada has with Russia.

From Dawson Creek, we drove to Lake Louise, which is in Banff National Park, via Prince George, Glacier National Park, and Yoho National Park. Lake Louise is a resort and we had never seen a place so crowded. From Lake Louise we drove back to Calgary making a loop of 1627 miles.

Heading south from Calgary we crossed the Canadian border at Carway, Alberta where we found U. S. Highway 287. We left U. S. 287 at St. Mary, Montana and drove through Glacier International Peace Park; then circled back just south of the park to U. S. 287 again. When we reached the highway, after driving all day, we were only 32 miles from where we left it to enter the park.

We followed U. S. 287 on through Helena, Montana to Yellowstone National Park. Just before we entered the park we stopped and viewed the 1965 earthquake area.

From Yellowstone we followed U. S. 287 to Ft. Collins, Colorado. Since we had already traveled Highway 287 north of Denver we just couldn't resist the temptation to travel Interstate 25 into New Mexico. At Raton we drove on Highway 87 and came into Texas at Texline.

We arrived in Memphis about 3:30 p. m. on August 27th. It was a wonderful and a very rewarding trip and when we checked our car mileage we hadn't realized we had driven a distance of 5,249 miles.

Hall County Insect Report States Increase

Hall County received about five inches of general rain during the past week. Bollworm populations have decreased over the county while boll weevils continue to increase.

Bollworm damage to green squares and bolls was light (2 percent to 4 percent) in one or more fields in Hall County. Control measures for bollworms should begin when bollworm eggs and four to five young worms are found per one hundred terminals, or five percent of the small squares and bolls have been injured by small bollworms. Control measures should be applied at five day intervals, or less, depending on the infestation. Fields should be checked closely two to three days following each application to insure effective control.

Populations of 550 to 910 boll weevils per acre were observed in Hall County. Boll weevils are capable of causing significant losses if left uncontrolled. Growers should inspect fields regularly and make insecticide application if fifteen percent to twenty-five percent or more punctured squares are found.

Light infestations of Plant Bugs (Lygus, Stinkbugs, and Rapid Plant Bugs) were found in two fields in the county. Cotton square borers were observed in some fields and light infestations of spider mites were reported. Grasshoppers were observed damaging the margins of cotton fields and they have severely damaged the native pastures.

The Area Entomologist and County Agent wished to remind producers, whose fields are being checked by the Rolling Plains Survey Teams, that they should fill out their Moisture and Insecticide Use Records currently. This information will be very important in the final analysis of this program's survey work.

For control recommendations, please refer to L-508, Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the Rolling Plains of Texas. Copies of this guide may be obtained at the office of W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agricultural Agent, who has an office on the first floor of the county courthouse.

The information used in this Cotton Insect Report was compiled from reports received from the Rolling Plains Survey Teams, Extension Entomologist, and the County Agricultural Agent.

Charlie Brown County Chairman For Texas Pavilion

Charlie Brown of Memphis has been named county chairman in the Texas campaign to build a Texas Pavilion at the Agricultural Hall of Fame at Bonner Springs, Kansas.

The county campaign is one of more than 200 such campaigns planned throughout Texas this summer.

Honorary state chairman is Governor John Connally, who launched the Texas drive in May with a statement and proclamation strongly supporting the national agricultural center.

Charles G. Seruggs, state chairman and editor of The Progressive Farmer, Dallas, said, "The Agricultural Hall of Fame and National Center is the only institution in the country which is devoted to memorializing the greatness of American agriculture since pioneer days." He explained the National Center is administered by a board of volunteer agricultural and business leaders drawn from every state in the Union and that the center is a private, non-profit, tax-exempt corporation having no government support.

Comprising 275 acres of rolling farm land at one of the highest points in Eastern Kansas, the Agricultural Hall of Fame today has assets of more than $700,000.

An exhibit hall of 9,500 square feet with an administrative wing of 3,000 square feet were opened to the public last June. A second building will soon be under way which will have more than 18,000 square feet of exhibit area and will be the largest of its kind in the world given over exclusively to the exhibit of antique farm power machines.

Funds to launch the Agricultural Hall of Fame have been received from more than 20 states. Kansas and Missouri contributed the largest share to initial purchases of land and construction of building.

T. H. Deaver, Jr. Attends 2-Week Banking School

Temple H. Deaver, Jr., First National Bank of Memphis, Texas, was among the 1,305 students from 39 states, Washington, D. C., Puerto Rico, and Central America who attended the annual two-week residence session of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Aug. 15-27.

The school, sponsored by the Central States Conference consisting of the bankers associations of 16 states, requires attendance for two weeks each year for three years for graduation. A total of 423 seniors received their diplomas at the school's 1966 graduation exercises Friday night, Aug. 26. The School of Banking is one of the many schools, short courses, and conferences sponsored annually at the University of Wisconsin as education services for all citizens.

Attendance at the 1966 School of Banking enabled its students at Wisconsin's University not only to meet a large number of bankers from all over the country, but they also had the opportunity of hearing the school's distinguished lecturers, over 100 experts from all part of the nation, who are recognized authorities in banking, economics, government, law and industrial, and agricultural and financial problems.

Health Department Of Hall County Releases Information On Projects

Mr. R. J. Neel of the Health Department in Hall County released several items of information of public interest of which citizens may not be aware.

The Health Department is concerned about the public health of the citizens of this county and the elimination of dangerous practices and conditions to this public health.

Work is being done now to clean up and spray for mosquitoes over Memphis. The Health Department wants to extend public thanks to the Memphis City Council for spraying for mosquitoes and for purchasing rat poisoning in an effort to control these two spreaders of disease.

Memphis has more of a rat problem throughout the city than many citizens realize. The Health Department is working on plans to bring in a specialist for the control of these rodents, it was announced.

Most gins in Hall County furnish housing facilities for the migrant farm workers which come into Hall County during cotton season. This housing is filled to capacity. The Health Department said that this isn't the only services provided by the ginners. Many times they provide groceries, money for medicine or doctor's bills, and some times pay for funeral expenses for one whose family is out of work.

"When you see these men be sure to express your appreciation for this and the many other services they render our community," Mr. Neel said.

One of the projects being encouraged by the Health Department is general clean-up. A group of migrant workers in the gin quarters last Thursday spent most of the day cleaning up their area.

This should be an encouragement to all citizens to clean up trashy areas in our cities.

Miss Pamela Lindsey is visiting in Hamlin this week with a friend, Miss Christy Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bob Harrison, Jamie and Bryant, of Richardson spent several days last week visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. T. M. Harrison. They were en route home after vacationing in New Mexico and Colorado.

Mrs. Jane Young left Saturday for San Francisco, Calif., where she will meet her husband, First Lt. Gary Young, who is returning from Viet Nam.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Bagworms Are Destructive Pests

Bagworms are destructive pests on many evergreen and deciduous shrubs and trees and sometimes on neglected fruit trees. Late March and early April is the time to control them, says County Agent W. B. Hooser.

All of the bags should be removed from the infested plants and destroyed. Then begin applying control measures when temperatures remain above 60 degrees for at least six to ten hours during the day. The pesticide applications should be continued at 7 to 10-day intervals until the infestation is eliminated, the county agent advises.

Sevin, chlordane, malathion lead arsenate or toxaphene will effectively control the bagworm. Directions for mixing and applying the materials are contained on the labels of the containers and should be carefully followed. The bagworm moth deposits 500 to 1,000 eggs in a brown, tapered bag attached to a branch of the plant in September. The eggs hatch in early March and the small worms, an eighth to a quarter-inch long, immediately begin to feed on the plant's foliage and bark.

The young worms or caterpillars construct a small, tapered bag of silk-like material and attach it to pieces of bark and foliage. The bag turns to a brown color.

A bagworm protrudes its head and front feet from the bag as it moves about the plant as it feeds but will withdraw into the bag when disturbed. In late summer, the bag is attached to a branch and the mature caterpillar pupates within the bag. "The female," explains the County Agent, "is a wingless moth and stays inside the bags until the eggs are laid. Then she leaves the bag and dies."

The feeding worms, when infestations are heavy, will remove the foliage and bark from all parts of a tree or shrub, resulting in the death of the plant or the heavily infested parts.

L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants" is available from the county agent's office.

.22 Birdshot Cartridges

If you are one of those rare sportsmen who is so good a shot with the conventional shotgun loads that there is little challenge left, try shooting birds—quail and smaller game—with a .22 rifle, loaded with shot-filled cartridges.

Size 8, 9, and 10 are good shot sizes to use.

Using such a pee-wee shot is guaranteed to test the skill of even the best marksman—and the shot won't hurt your gun barrel.

Mrs. Estelle Barber and Katherine Hawthorn spent last week-end in Oklahoma City with Mr. and Mrs. John T. Barber.

Choosing A Camp Trailer

There are so many trailers on the market today that the novice camper is certain to be bewildered. One user suggests that the most useful trailer for a camper is one that has built-in conveniences, such as bunks, gun and fishing rod racks, and that measures 18 to 19 feet in length.

Handy Thing To Have

Ask any one of a dozen experienced sportsmen who do much camping if he has a roll of friction tape with him and he will answer yes.

This little commodity is invaluable outdoors. It is ideal for starting campfires in wet weather, or for binding together brush and limbs when erecting quickie bad-weather shelters.

Katherine Hawthorn of Abilene is spending the week with her week with her mother, Mrs. Estelle Barber.

Memphis School Board Approves Budget For $912,192 Expenditure

The Memphis School Board Thursday night in a special budget hearing approved the 1966-67 Memphis School District budget which included a total estimated expenditures for the year of $912,192.00.

The Memphis district expects to pay these expenditures out of the following funds: State and County Available Fund, $75,000; Local Maintenance Funds, $281,710; Transportation Fund $9,800; Interest and Sinking Fund $75,890; Building Fund $428,460; and the Elementary and Secondary Education Act—Title I, $40,832.

Supt. of Schools A. E. Greer explained at the budget hearing that the Memphis District budget includes all money spent for normal operations, for programs under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title I, for the Memphis and Estelline Districts, and for the building program being conducted.

The budget allocates the amount of money which can be spent under each department for the year. If more money is necessary for non-budgeted expenses, the budget has to be amended to meet those unforeseen matters.

The Hall County TSTA will entertain with a tea at the Community Center Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11, from 2:30 until 5 o'clock honoring the State Senator, Jack Hightower of Vernon, and all new faculty members of Hall County.

Mrs. Charley Chambliss, president, announced this week. Board members of all Hall County Schools, Parent-Teachers officials and members, and Civic Club officials and members are cordially invited to attend the tea.

Improved Method Of Long Distance Calls Announced

A new and improved method of placing long distance calls is being recommended by General Telephone Company of the Southwest for customers served from the company's Memphis long distance center.

The new method, which requires the use of an area code also eliminates the need for giving the name of the town being called, according to Wayne Goodrum, manager of General's Memphis District.

"The best way to place a long distance call," Goodrum said, "is to give the operator the information in five steps. . . first, the Area Code of the place being called; next the number you are calling; the person you are calling (but only if you are calling person-to-person); then, wait until the operator asks for your number. Your name will not be needed unless the operator asks for it."

"With the new procedure the operator enters all the necessary information on an IBM card instead of the more familiar tickets. All handling is purely automatic operation since the card passes from the operator's hand," Goodrum explained. "IBM computers, located at San Angelo, do all the routing of the calls automatically, eliminating possibilities of human error."

"Beginning with the October bills details of most long distance calls will be printed directly on the customer's bill and will include the "from" and "to" points, called number, minutes talked and amount of call. A code will be used to indicate the type call and the rate class. This code is explained on the back of the bill."

General's Memphis long distance center serves as the "Master" office for 29 area communities. The exchanges are Carleton, Dalton, Donalson, Elmore, Healy, Lenoir, Memphis, Quitman, Turkey and Wauhatchie.

Jacqueline Laurel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pearson. She was born August 26 and weighed 7 pounds, 4 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Foster announce the arrival of a son, Cody Bryan, born August 25. He weighed 4 pounds, 13 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Eggs, Jr., are the parents of a son, Paul David. He was born August 28 and weighed 7 pounds, 11 1/2 ounces.

Thursday night the Memphis board approved budget changes on the 1965-66 budget and approved the amendment to this budget.

The 1965-66 budget was amended to include a total expenditure of $1,017,498.

At the budget hearing, Supt. Greer explained that the Memphis District had an outstanding bond indebtedness of $1,281,000. Bonds retired during 1965-66 included $18,000 leaving bonds outstanding as of Sept. 1, 1966 as $1,283,000. The debt ratio is $1,283,000 to $15,544,180 or 7.98 per cent. It is unlawful for a school district in Texas to be in debt more than 10 per cent of total valuation of the district.

The per pupil cost in Memphis during the 1964-65 school year was $333.96 while the state average during the same period was $369.81.

A recap of the 1966-67 expenditures showed that the Memphis District will spend 8.86 per cent of its budget for administration. Instruction costs will take 78.16 per cent of the budget. Health service will cost 0.65 per cent while transportation will cost 1.55 per cent. Plant operation will take 6.45 per cent and plant maintenance will take 2.36 per cent. Also 1.91 per cent will go for fixed charges and 2.02 will go for student body activities.

In breaking the 1966-67 budget down, the district expects to spend $415,157 as a total of all current operational expenses. The district expects to spend $420,343 as a total capital outlay (building program). Total debt service is expected to be $176,210.

As the Memphis District budget indicates, the Memphis Schools are a Million Dollar business in Memphis. Supt. Greer stated that the cost of operation, insurance, and everything else is increasing year by year. "When we work our budgets out each year, we certainly can see the added costs mount up," he said.

Yard Judging Now Underway In City Contest

The campaign to make our city a more beautiful place to live will reach its climax this week as judging of yards is now underway by members of the Chamber of Commerce Beautification committee, according to Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, chairman.

The most beautiful block in the six designated areas has already been selected, and will be announced in The Memphis Democrat next week with names of those having the most beautiful yards.

Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded to those persons winning the yard improvement division of the contest.

B&PW Club Opens Annual Sale Of Birthday Calendars

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club are now taking orders for the Community Birthday Calendar, the club's annual fund-raising project, according to Mrs. Elsie Hoover, committee chairman.

Birthdays and anniversaries may be listed on the calendar for 25 cents. The calendar will be one dollar. Persons interested in listing dates or buying a calendar may contact Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Wilma Lewis, Mrs. Louise Howell, Mrs. Cora Belle Kinard or any member of the B&PW Club.

Proceeds from the project for the past two years were used to buy an ice maker for the Community Center. The club also awarded a $25 scholarship to last year's outstanding commercial student in Memphis High School.

Field Day Tour Of Demonstrations Scheduled Sept. 12 In Hall County

A field day tour of demonstrations set up to assist farmers will be held Monday Sept. 12, at 9 a. m., starting at the County Agent's office in the courthouse in Memphis.

These demonstrations were set up through the cooperation of the Hall County Agricultural Program Building Committee, the farmers, the Texas Agricultural Experimental Stations and the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

The tour will end at 12 noon in Memphis.

The first visit on the tour will be a beef cattle result demonstration at the J. J. McDaniel farm where Midland Bermuda grass was planted, and supplemental feeding insect control and management practices are combined.

On the Brown Smith farm, several varieties of alfalfa are being tested for yields and for resistance to the spotted alfalfa aphid. This demonstration will be under the direction of Norris Daniels, associate entomologist of the Bushland Experiment Station near Amarillo.

The next step will be for a study of hybrid grain sorghum varieties on the Harold A. Hodges farm, after which the group will see another result demonstration of Medland Bermuda grass being grazed by beef cattle on J. J. McDaniel's other farm. On the Troy Phillips' farm will be seen a cotton nematode control demonstration where Fumizone 70E and nematode resistant varieties of cotton were tested under direction of Dr. Robert W. Berry, area extension plant pathologist.

A cotton variety test demonstration will be visited on the Wayne Hutcherson and the last scheduled stop will be a cotton fertilizer test on the Roy Gresham farm near Newlin.

Outstanding agricultural representatives from the Texas Experiment Stations, Extension Service and the Department of Agriculture will be present on the tour to explain the demonstrations.

These research projects are set up to improve agricultural practices for the agricultural population and every farmer is urged to attend and take part in the field

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Officials from major Texas cities, beset with money problems, are calling on the Legislature to allow municipalities a 50-50 split in any new broad-based state taxes enacted next year.
Gov. John Connally pledged to recommend "very substantial new sources of revenue" for the cities after a group of metropolitan area mayors conferred with him.
Question as to whether the kind of revenue-sharing plan advocated by the mayors is permissible under the state constitution will be briefed by the Texas Legislative Council, at the request of House Speaker Ben Barnes.
Cities petitioned for a 50 per cent refund of any increase in the state sales tax or an equivalent amount of any new broad-based tax, with the state doing the collecting and apportioning half of new funds where paid.
While agreeing to ask the Legislature for financial relief for the cities, Connally declined to spell out the precise form and amount he will seek. He did promise there will be "no strings attached" to his recommendation.
Connally also reported an agreement for regular conferences on urban problems between the mayors and top state officials.
What will happen to the cities' request for financial assistance in a legislative session where a state tax bill of more than $200-

000,000 is regarded as a certainty remains to be seen.
Some legal authorities do not believe a straight refund is possible without a constitutional amendment, although the Legislature could authorize the cities to levy their own sales tax with the state serving as collector.
NEW MANSION SOUGHT—At its initial meeting, the Texas Fine Arts Commission, created by the Legislature in 1965, recommended a new governor's mansion and said the present residence, completed in 1955, should be operated as an historic house.
Governor Connally has not yet expressed his view on a new mansion. However, last year when the Stat Building Commission, of which he is chairman, recommended a new $1,000,000 mansion, he differed and recommended that the money be used elsewhere.
Commission outlined a far-reaching program to encourage development of, and participation in, the arts, including traveling exhibits, festivals, awards, nighttime family entertainment in communities and revived band concerts on the square.
Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa was named chairman of the new agency.
"RED MEANS WRONG"—You will be seeing lots of red if you drive the wrong way on a Texas freeway.
In a move to curb wrong-way pileups, State Highway Department is installing red reflector buttons and pavement markers at entrances to interstate and other controlled access highways.
If you see a red arrow pointing at you from the pavement as you enter a freeway ramp, you are entering the wrong way. Straight red line pointing against you on lane lines means you are going in the wrong direction.

Highway Department has spent or obligated $76,600,000 in an overall four-year safety program.
LOANS—Tight money is making it hard for Texas colleges to sell their building bonds. Some still are looking for buyers.
On a third try, buyers were found for the 4 per cent bonds of San Angelo State at San Angelo ($1,200,000); Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches ($2,600,000); and Sam Houston State at Huntsville ($2,500,000.) Southwest Texas State at San Marcos and East Texas State at Commerce still need buyers for their respective $2,400,000 and $2,300,000 bonds. Constitutional ceiling of 4 per cent makes the bonds less attractive to investors than other issues bringing higher returns.
MORE MONEY—Mounting demands of higher education in Texas seem certain to force a tax increase by the Legislature which meets in January.
Budget requests for the 22 state colleges are almost double those of the current two years, in large part because of a need for "catching up". Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says that the previous practice of providing money based on past enrollments just won't work. Cash should be provided for the 22 state colleges and the 34 junior colleges on the basis of what their enrollments will be, instead of what they were.
Junior colleges, fast growing as they are, will be some $16,000,000 short of operating money during the current two years. It will take $100,000,000 to put senior college appropriations on a current basis.

Prospects for a surplus in the state treasury of $75-$80,000,000 have led to talk of increasing college tuition and fees, so students would pay more of the cost.
APPOINTMENTS—Governor Connally appointed Billy Gene Compton, senior Amarillo corporation court judge, district attorney for Potter and Armstrong Counties. He is a native of Borger and attended Pampa schools. Compton replaces Dee Miller, who resigned to campaign for the Congressional seat left open when U. S. Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa decided not to run again.
Dr. Luther L. Bailey was named project director by State Interagency Policy Board, appointed by the governor to conduct statewide planning for vocational rehabilitation.
Connally named Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas to command the Texas State Guard.

sold for 10 cents each at the picnic.
M. C. Allen, Jr., reported that beavers or money to purchase the meat have been donated by Mrs. W. C. Dickey, all the Davenporters of Lakeview, the Farmers Union Co-Op Gins of Memphis and Plaska, Estelline Co-Op Gin, the Lesley Co-Op Gin, Lakeview Co-Op Gin, First State Bank, First National Bank and the Memphis Compress Co.
Tickets to the picnic will be issued at the City Park Bridge by members of the picnic committee.

Grounds and traffic will be handled by the city police and sheriff's department.
Howell said that members of the Hall County Picnic Association are working hard to make this picnic a successful one, and hope that everyone in Memphis and the area will turn out to make the out-of-town visitor welcome.

80 in Turkey High School and 156 in Turkey Elementary School. This is a loss of 6 students from last year.
A report by Supt. A. P. Jones of Lakeview gives a total enrollment of 175. Lakeview High School has 107 students, and Lakeview Elementary School lists 68. Last year's enrollment was 171, making a gain of 4.
Enrollment in the two Estelline schools totals 190, according to Supt. David Haynie. Estelline High School reports 65 students, and Estelline Elementary School gives a total of 125. This is a loss of 20 students since last year at this time, as 210 were entered for 1965-66.
Mr. and Mrs. Coy Beckham announce the birth of a daughter, born August 31. She weighed 6 pounds and 2 3-4 ounces.

Mrs. Terry Kirk—(Continued from Page 3)
though the music is hard to understand, she stated. Television is broadcast from Aba, which is 30 miles from Port Harcourt, and features many programs seen in the States, such as "Bonanza" and "The Beverly Hillbillies."
The only American magazines available in Port Harcourt are "Time," "Newsweek" and "Playboy," though several others are available in Lagos. "The New York Times" is received five days late there.
Port Harcourt has two daily newspapers, which handle stories much differently than an American paper. Mrs. Kirk showed the interviewer an article taken from one of them, which gives an account of a wedding.
A quote from the article states, "Mr. Anthony Sunday Nwaokorie Iroh, news vendor in Port Harcourt and Miss Virginia Ngozi Thomas Konkwo last Saturday decided to come out of the lives of bachelor and spinster, decided to go unto the Lord which had been the joy of their heart. They joined themselves into one at a Holy Wedding at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Creek Road Road, Port Harcourt."
"After the ecclesiastical side of the wedding both couple and invitees retired to the Plaza Cinema Hall where the Social side of it was held. More than 600 people attended the Wedding ceremony."
Mr. F. C. Ogumba was the master of Ceremony. He prayed to God to guide their home so that in nine months time, a similar party might be thrown in honour of a new comer. "There was a lot to eat and drink."
Climate in Nigeria is unhealthy due to the rain, humidity is no marked change and the sun rises and the same time every day. Mrs. Kirk noted that approximately 150 inches of rain fell from about July to the end of August. The temperature from hot to very hot, the high is usually in the 90s, the humidity is high.

The air conditions constantly, to keep mosquitoes coming inside. The mosquitos have to take medicine every day to keep them from malaria in the native villages high, because there is enough cool weather to keep the many diseases of the tropics from spreading.
She stated that doing a good job in Nigerian health problems fishing clinics throughout the country. An excellent by the English was given with a staff of Nigerian trained in England.
"We love living in Nigeria because it is a country where you can do what you want to do, though I do miss American efficiency. But where you can't find a car, you can't find a front window and carrying a table and on her head."

Sue Collins is out to get you!

But she doesn't know it. Sue's a good driver. And that's the trouble. You've come to trust her over the years... but really, you can't. Because even the best drivers end up in some of the worst accidents.
Drive defensively, and you won't end up on the receiving end of some other driver's mistake or sudden move. At intersections, never assume the right-of-way. Make defensive driving pay off by practicing it every second of every minute you're behind the wheel. It takes extra effort—but that extra effort's worth it.
The forty-nine thousand people who died on our highways last year would be the first to agree. If they could.

Watch out for the other guy!
