John King To Celebrate His Centenarian Debut

It isn't often that one has the opportunity to celebrate his one hundredth birthday, but for John King, a patient at Cousins Home, Sunday, Oct. 26, will be the day.

Actually, Mr. King will be 100 on October 27, but a birthday party is planned for him at Cousins Home from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday.

Hall County Producers Are Failing To Report Cotton Production To ASCS

As of today only 32 percent of Hall County cotton producers had reported their cotton production to the ASCS office, Lynn L. McKown, Office Manager, Hall County ASCS, announced today. "We feel that it will be to the best interest of everyone to furnish their records of cotton produced in 1966, 1967 and 1968 as requested. This will enable your elected community committeemen to establish equitable preliminary yields for all farms when they meet on November 5, 1969," he said. All gins have been supplied with forms for reporting cotton production and any member of the office staff will be glad to assist producers in making their report, but Friday, October 31 is the target date of completing this work and an early report would be appreciated.

the telephone under the rules of the contest, primarily because no proof of the actual guess could be retained in the permanent file on telephone conversations. Hall County harvested 61,710 bales from approximately 61,546 acres planted in the 1968 crop. Lynn McKown, office manager of the Hall County ASCS, reports that 83,000 acres were planted in cotton for the 1969 crop. However, McKown stated that the harvest on this acreage would be spotty and not entirely regular from acre to acre. The cotton guessing contest is being held for the 23rd consecutive year with readers of this newspaper trying to guess the number of bales of cotton harvested in this county. The person guessing closest to the actual number of bales ginned will receive a three-year subscription to The Memphis Democrat; second place is a two-year subscription; the third place is a one-year subscription. In case of ties, in any of the places, duplicate prizes will be awarded. Winners in last year's contest were: Essie Bumpas of Estelline, first place; Helen Anthony of Memphis, second place; and Mrs. M. C. Spencer of Memphis, third place.

Mr. Ward died Tuesday, Oct. 21, in Thomas Nursing Home in Wellington. He had suffered a stroke a few days before.

Will Ward was born Nov. 26, 1879, in Raines County and came to Collingsworth County 40 years ago. A retired farmer, he lived in the Dosier area a few years before moving to Wellington.

He was married to Miss Hallie Rose Feb. 10, 1901, at Emory. She preceded him in death several years ago.

Survivors include: four sons, L. E. Ward of Wellington, Clarence and J. C. Ward, both of Pampa (and Dennis of Memphis); two daughters, Mrs. Trudie Farmer of Amarillo and Mrs. Ray Bell of Pampa; 16 grandchildren; 25 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Memphis Junior Gridiron Teams Play Wellington

Memphis Junior football teams will be playing Wellington this evening, with the Whirlwind teams going to Wellington and the Wellington B team playing the Memphis Jr. Varsity here.

Last Thursday, Childress teams won two games and lost one in matches with Memphis junior teams.

The Memphis 7th graders won a 22 to 6 decision from Childress. The 8th graders found the Childress team too strong and lost 36 to 6, despite a good effort on the part of the Whirlwinds.

The Junior Varsity under Coach Denzil Lacy put up a good battle, only to be overpowered in the final stages and lose 50 to 18.

Coach Lacy reported, it was a good game until the middle of the third period when our boys were physically overcome.

Although the final score was one sided, he said, it was a much better game than the score indicated.

The games with Wellington teams tonight should be interesting and these two schools always have exciting contests.

Cyclone Travels To Iowa Park Friday

The Memphis Cyclone takes the road Friday to make the long trek to Iowa Park to play the state's second highest ranked Class AA football team, Iowa Park Hawks.

The Hawks are heavy favorites in this game and all their District 2-AA contests. They have not had a close game in their classification this season.

The Hawks are blessed with eight returning starters on both offense and defense, from a team which made the Class AA final last season. Many of these boys started as sophomores two years ago.

Besides having experienced backs and linemen, the Iowa Park lads boast exceptional speed and quickness for their size.

The backfield led by All-stater Jim Clapp (160) at quarterback has Steve Watson (170) at full-back. (Continued on Page 12)

Several Memphis Lions Club members have been giving what assistance they could in helping the Estelline men to organize a Lions Club, which is one of the programs outlined in regulations governing Lionism.

A spokesman for the Estelline group said that all men in the Estelline area are invited to join the new club, not just those living in Estelline itself.

Daylight Saving Time Will End Sunday, Oct. 26

Local residents are reminded that Sunday, Oct. 26, is the date the nation goes off Daylight Saving Time and clocks will be turned back one hour.

Since Sunday is the first day for the time change, Church Services throughout the city will be held on Standard time, which will be one hour later than last Sunday . . . if clocks are not turned back.

High cost of operation, shortage of competent personnel and need for more central location are some of the contributing factors to this consolidation of service points," J. L. Hill, Jr., president of Rolling Plains PCA said in making the announcement. "We regret very much having to deprive any town of one of our offices."

A public showing of the new quarters in Childress will be Sunday, Oct. 26, from 2 to 5 p. m. The new office in Childress will be staffed by Robert Proctor, formerly of Memphis, and Billie J. Holley, as credit representatives. Mrs. Edna Richardson and Mary Davis will serve as assistants.

Mrs. Richardson is the wife of Roy Richardson of Memphis, and will continue to make her home here. She has been an employee of the association for six years. Proctor has been assigned to the Memphis office for about two years. Holley and Mrs. Davis have been in the Paducah office.

Texas Governors Are Important To Us!

It was one year ago, this week, when Texas Governor John Connally approved the Lakeview Watershed Work Plan, giving state approval of the project and asked for approval by the Department of Agriculture and the appropriate Committee of Congress.

Since that time, these steps have also been completed, and the Lakeview Watershed Project is now almost ready to become a reality, thanks to the hard work of the sponsors and concern of public officials in Austin and Washington, D. C.

Next Thursday, Oct. 30, another Texas Governor, Preston Smith, is planning to visit our city. He comes as a guest of State Representative W. S. (Bill) Healy and local leaders to speak at a joint meeting of the Memphis Lions and Rotary Clubs concerning another project, the Palo Duro Scenic Road. He will also discuss state affairs. The Governor wants to see first hand the possibilities and assets of such a project in the Texas Panhandle.

While here, Governor Smith will also participate in the ribbon cutting ceremony at the Triple M Homes, Inc., mobile home mfg. plant, which began hiring employees here this week. This is scheduled for about mid-morning on Thursday at the Plant site in northwest Memphis. This will be open house to the general public.

In a State as big as Texas, with as many different problems, hopes, ambitions, interests which conflict, etc., we can be grateful and thankful that our Governors are men interested in the small as well as the big.

We want to always remember that our state and nation has progressed and survived conflicts because of the courageous leadership it has received throughout its history.

The arguments for the scenic road project are sound as the project could help to attract many tourists to the Palo Duro Canyon State Park and open up beautiful country to the eyes of many people who would otherwise never see this grandeur. We feel the scenic road project is not a selfish one, which would only benefit just a few, but one which will benefit many.

We would welcome the Governor of the State of Texas and his interest in our area. Governor Smith is no stranger in Memphis, he has been here before, and we welcome him back.

Seeing Is Believing!

Motel operators say that three-fourths of their registrants cannot remember their automobile license numbers. This is true even though the drivers see their tags dozens of times daily, month after month.

The strange quirk of the human mind to reject information which it does not need to hold explains much about the effectiveness of various kinds of advertising. It explains why newspaper advertising is so essential to successful retailing.

Many people cannot remember phone numbers which they call daily. Some can not remember their own phone number. Most of us cannot remember the time, or even the day, of a television program we watch every week. In fact, normal people would lose some screws if they attempted to remember the thousands of details directional to modern living. The communication medium which expects such memory is expecting the impossible.

Perhaps visual sound advertising has an effect upon the unconscious. Perhaps people unconsciously buy a product or go to a store because of something that was heard or seen in a fleeting moment. On the other hand, perhaps they don't.

The unconscious or subconscious mind just doesn't come through when we try to remember names we have heard repeatedly, or the site of a store which is selling brand x at a bargain, or cost of groceries read off hurriedly.

The truth is that buying, especially important buying, is done coldly and rationally. It is done with the use of reference information. It is done with reference to the printed record which does not trust memory of the nebulous unconscious.—Samuel S. Talbert, University of Mississippi.

The idea is still a good one...

An assist from Hanoi

The North Vietnamese, who are usually tough and smart foes, did President Nixon a favor by clumsily stumbling into yesterday's nationwide Vietnam moratorium.

With the anti-war demonstrations taking on impressive dimensions, the pressure was clearly rising on Nixon to take new steps to disengage, and Hanoi's best move was to sit tight and keep quiet.

Instead Premier Pham Van Dong and Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's "foreign minister," had to send open letters to the American people hailing the "noble" struggle against the administration's Vietnam policy.

Pham Van Dong went so far as to call the moratorium "your fall offensive" and to express hope that it would "succeed splendidly" in forcing Nixon to withdraw U. S. troops.

Vice President Agnew promptly and rightly called the Hanoi statement "a shocking intrusion into the affairs of the American people by an enemy power." With the President's backing, he also called on moratorium supporters to repudiate Hanoi's intrusion and dissociate themselves from North Vietnam's goals.

Most people demonstrating yesterday want peace and an end to bloodshed. But among the key organizers of the moratorium, we suspect, are those who really want to see the U. S. lose and Hanoi win in South Vietnam. It is a pleasure to see them embarrassed by the very regime whose cause they are serving here.

A courageous statement

Congresswoman Edith Green, in a courageous statement, has taken exception to the idea that a college education is a necessary attainment for every living soul. She declares "Too much emphasis has been placed on a four-year education as a prerequisite of success and happiness..." She said college entrance requirements have been waived in too many cases to take in persons who are incapable of competing at that level. The result has been students who are not accepted and cannot accept college life at the four-year level. She attributes much of the campus unrest of today to the fact that there are people in college who should not be there. She said she would prefer to see extensions of vocational and technical education for those whose intellectual bent leads them in that direction. Her remarks make sense.

— The Claude News

Listen carefully, Mr. N.

President Nixon's statement the other day that he was not going to be swayed or influenced in any way by public protests was either a rash and thoughtless declaration which ought to be retracted, or an autocratic denial of basic American principles.

Neither the President nor any other elected public official at any level of our democratic process is privileged to ignore public protests or to refuse to hear them. This doesn't mean that the public official must be governed in his decisions by the cry of a mob... but it does mean that every public official has an obligation to be responsive to the expressed will of the people, and public protests are a time-honored way of making that expression heard.

Mr. Nixon's peevish declaration was directed specifically toward the student-led protests against the Vietnam war which were to be focused on "M" Day Wednesday.

day. The President is understandably nettled at student criticism of his policies, because some of the criticisms have been mighty pointed, but he is on very shaky ground when he says in advance that his mind is closed and he will not be influenced by a public expression of feeling. Because what he is hearing is the voice of the people... not all of the people, certainly, and maybe not a majority of the people, but a very substantial element of the people... and when the people speak, public officials had better listen.

Or aren't students "people" in the Nixon view? They are in ours... even when they are high school students... and they have the same right to express opinions and have them heard as has any political pundit.

This is still America, Mr. Nixon... make no mistake about that.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Big fish get that way—BIG—because they are cautious. Unless starved or angry, they won't smash a bait or lure that isn't striking water. Keep this in mind! Pace your fishing and you'll be rewarded with lunker catches.

In this swiftly moving age in which we're living too many lure fishermen copy the jets and fish fast. They cast out and retrieve, cast out and retrieve. Too many lure anglers go under the assumption that if a fish doesn't grab the lure within seconds after it hits the water, the angler is to reel-in rapidly and cut out again.

This is a fatal mistake if the angler hopes to fill his string.

A. C. Becker, Jr., outdoor editor of The Galveston News, has had the good fortune to observe fishing habits of both fresh water and salt water fish in several states, as well as public, oceanariums in Florida and Texas.

In the oceanariums he noted that the only fish to quickly dash to grab food were the little ones. This is particularly true of species that fishermen of ten refer to as "bait-stealers".

He noted that large fish quickly move within chomping range of the baits offered. But they always spend a little time contemplating the bait before actually taking the baits in their mouths.

A good example is the manner in which large redfish feed along the shores of the Sea-Arama oceanarium, which is located at Galveston. Before taking a piece of bait, the big reds will smell it a number of times and even push it around a bit with their noses.

Often the small bait-stealers will dash ahead and steal the food from under the redfishes' noses. Even so, this doesn't excite the big reds into doing anything foolish.

Other large fish feed in much the same manner, although not quite as slowly as the redfish.

Fish of many species mingle together. This even though some of the fish naturally feed on the species that are nearby. But again the big fish don't go charging around smashing into small fish. That is, they don't as long as the small fish remain schooled up and give every appearance of having a lot of energy.

But whenever a small fish strays from the school or starts swimming about, as if crippled, the big fellows move in quickly for the kill.

Perhaps, to some degree, this explains why artificial lures that have darting motions are effective fish-getters.

Becker noted some experiments conducted with hookless plugs in clear, fresh-water impoundments holding bass, crappie and bluegills.

Bluegills showed reckless abandon in charging the lures as soon as they struck the water. They would go after the same lure time and time again.

Crappie were a bit more cagey. As soon as they discovered a lure wasn't worth eating, they quit the area.

Bass, however, were downright superleuths in thoroughly fishing the plugs before making contact.

There are times, however, when bass hit first and think later. But this only occurs during the spawning season when the fish become very aggressive in protecting their nests.

Lure fishermen would do well to take every opportunity to observe the feeding habits of fish. Knowledge gained will help them

New Publication Gives Directions To Campgrounds

AUSTIN — Directions to some 350 public campgrounds in Texas are provided in a new publication released today by the Texas Highway Department.

The new Texas Public Campground Guide gives information about sites which range from primitive to elaborately modern. Directions are provided to undeveloped gulf beaches, and to sites with paved parking areas, electricity and running water. There are even directions to a site one can't get to — by car, that is. (It's a fisherman's camping area on a Gulf coast island.)

The guide was published to serve the growing popularity of camping and recreational vehicles. It lists only those campgrounds which are operated by tax-supported agencies—federal, state, county, city and such organizations as river authorities. Private commercial facilities are not included, that information usually being available in commercial tour and camping directories.

The cooperation of many state, federal and local authorities was required to compile this first comprehensive guide to Texas public campgrounds. Cooperating agencies included the Extension Service to Texas A&M University, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, U. S. Corps of Engineers, National Park Service, National Forest Service, chambers of commerce, city and county officials, and others.

Free copies of the new Texas Public Campground Guide are available at Highway Department tourist bureaus and district offices, or by mail from the Texas Highway Dept., Travel and Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78703.

Tax Man Sam Sez—

September is here and back to school time has finally arrived for Mama — or much too soon for Junior. Going back to school does create one small income tax problem for those students who worked during the summer. Nowadays this includes most of the senior high school students, as well as college students on summer vacation.

Ordinarily the students worked in jobs that required their employer to withhold income tax and social security tax from their pay check. The law requires their employer to issue them a W-2 within 30 days after they leave the job. The students will need to carefully put away this W-2 until January 1, 1970. Ordinarily if they do not work elsewhere, they will get all of their income tax withheld refunded, provided they file on Form 1040 with the Internal Revenue Service. Of course they are not required to file unless they make $600, but IRS can't send their money back until they do file. The students that lose the W-2's usually find that the employer will give them a duplicate — but only after at

'Housekeeping' In Orchard Will Pay On Fruit Yields

The use of good "housekeeping" practices in the backyard or commercial fruit orchard at this time of the year will pay big dividends, explains County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Peaches and plums which were discarded or dropped from the trees during the harvest season should either be picked up or plowed under to a depth sufficient to prevent their being returned to the soil surface next spring. This clean up, points out Hooser, is important since organisms can carry over in this fruit.

Brown rot, for example, causes a disease of peaches and plums which is characterized by a decay of fruit at harvest time. Decayed fruit left on the tree or underneath it can serve as a source of the disease - causing spores next spring.

In addition to carrying out a good clean up and sanitation program now, plans should be made for the use of protective sprays of fungicides such as sulfur, captan or Botran next spring. These sprays will protect the young fruit from infections, says the county agent.

S. E. Lanes To Attend Church Meet In Hawaii

Local congregation members of Jehovah's Witnesses will concern themselves with being the "Right Kind of Ministers" during three days of intensive Bible training in Plainview when they attend their semiannual Circuit Assembly in Plainview High School Auditorium, November 7-9.

The theme for the assembly was announced this week at King-John Hall, 507 N. 8th, by Mr. Jack Cobb, presiding minister. He indicated that several of the local members will have a share in the program as well as being among the volunteer helpers who will staff the various departments. More than 20 in all from this area are planning to attend with upwards of 500 expected to share in the program that will include modern application of Matthew 7:29.

While the majority of the members here are attending the convention in Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lane, 503 N. 8th, will be en route to Hawaii where they will attend the "Peace on Earth" International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses representing the Memphis Congregation.

The Lanes will depart Nov. 3, along with several others from the Plains, all of which will be delegates for the 6-day convention in Honolulu, November 11-16. The assembly in Hawaii and one in Mexico City will conclude the world-wide series of "Peace on Earth" gatherings of the Witnesses this year.

one went out on front porch and shot his gun in the air. The first fire fighting equipment was a two-wheel cart with a few hundred feet of small hose and it took five men to pull this cart hoping to get to the fire before it died out.

Wallace Hays, old time Hall County boy, was in Heritage Hall this week. Said his grandfather, T. J. Hays, came to Hall County he thought before 1900. He bought 10 acres of land at Leslie and built a store building and operated it there with post office. He remembers going to the Crow's place, north of Leslie to get the corn ground into meal and going fishing in Crow's Lake. Wallace attended school about 1917 and said he could remember Glen Thompson and Kate Dalton. Paul Hays is now living in Santa Barbara, Calif., and K. Hays Lee is living in Los Angeles, Calif. Wallace left here in 1922 for California and from there to Houston, where he is now living. Said he would bring a calf weaner for Heritage Hall.

Donors this week to Heritage Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Claude DeBerry as a memorial to their families. Thanks to you both as we can still use donations for Heritage Hall.

Just had this note from Wellington this week. The note as follows: "Dear Mr. Baldwin: The Lillie Home Demonstration Club of Collingsworth County would like to visit Heritage Hall Thursday, Oct. 23, at 2 p. m. Mrs. L. W. Wells, President." We are looking forward to this visit from Collingsworth County, our good neighbors east of us. Would like for any other clubs that want to make special date to go through Heritage Hall to do so.

Tip for robbers: Instead of saying, "this is a stick-up," you merely shout, "this is a demonstration." You could go scot free.

There is a real scarcity of food for thought. Fortunately, it is not included in the cost of living index.

Who says fishing is not fun in the wintertime? Man, there are angling opportunities galore during the winter months in Texas.

In fact, if you want "quality" fishing it awaits you most everywhere in the Longhorn State . . . in the cold, cold weather when the whites are hitting.

Ever go after white bass? Best time of the year is the cold-month period. And they hit live bait, dead bait, artificial lures . . . almost anything you toss out among the lively schooling whites.

And it's a ball catching them! They're scrappy, energetic creatures. Good eating too!

Thrill of white bass fishing is the tremendous action. They are hit-and-run fighters — the whole school of them seem to battle for the bait. Taking 20 or 40 whites from one darting school is not uncommon. We've heard of as many as 140 catches in on day's haul.

Don't decry the hoggishness of such an angler. 'Tis said that you could take all the whites out of an impoundment the size of Lake Travis . . . but 20 . . . and in one season the entire stock would be replenished. Don't know whether this is true or not, but I understand from biologists that the white bass do reproduce by the thousands.

White has fishing in the wintertime is done — in quantity — by following the gulls. When you locate these circling birds you know you've hit the jackpot. Right below those "spotters" you'll find a school of darting, dashing shad. And right below the shad you'll find whites.

Probably your best lure is a silver spoon, like the Dixie, or a Mr. Champ, or a slab.

Make your cast beside the school . . . on the edge of the activity . . . not in the middle of it. Heavier the lure the deeper and faster it sinks . . . and the larger the fish you'll catch. Reason for this is the big ones stay below and gobble up the injured shad as these cripples sink to the bottom.

Occasionally you'll find a lazy ole lunker black bass on your hook . . . providing your lure goes deep enough. Most likely he will be right on the very bottom eating only what food comes his way. He's lazy, but foxy, and a fighter too, with lots of objection to being netted.

Fishing for whites is equally successful, if not more so, in the tail-races below a dam — when the whites go upstream to spawn. And that's in cold weather too . . . oftentimes in the deep of winter . . . on the very coldest days . . . when the ice freezes in the guides of your fishing rod . . . and the angler's veins turn purple.

But it's fun . . . and when

Texas Brands Published In 1951

Texas Brands were published by the Amarillo Daily News in early 1951. Assembled and presented to Heritage Hall on Oct. 15, 1969, by O. R. (Doc) Saye, they are in book form in a nice album with brands on each page and each page covered with clear plastic so it can be handled and not mar the brand. There are 25 pages in the book with 230 different Texas brands with history of each brand. This is very outstanding for the museum. Thanks a million, Doc, for all of your time and work put into this book.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey were by Heritage Hall and brought us a boy and girl mannequin from Dallas on their way to Dumas. They are in the process of moving to Dallas. Don't know how they will get along without sand and tumble weeds as they were raised up in this country with them. I guess you can get used to doing without some things. I think the jack rabbits must all be gone, but we miss them, as well as a lot of our birds which have disappeared along with a lot of flies. Don't know why Noah did not leave the two flies off the ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weatherby of Shamrock were in Heritage Hall and brought in a buffalo horn hat rack for display. It belonged to the late T. D. Weatherby. They said he and T. D. drove 1040 head of cattle for Lett's Ranch from Roger Mills County in Oklahoma in Oct., 1921. Howard lived in Hall County 14 years and he has been ag teacher in Shamrock for the past 32 years. Mrs. Weatherly was reared in Childress and Gray Counties.

Looks like the eyes of Texas are on Bull Durham and P. A. and will be out in front as noted cigarette rollers and tobacco counters.

Reading an insurance ad in 1935 Democrat — "Lot's wife was curious; and turned to a pillar of salt." Lot's wife was curious; so are a lot of women today. This is a modern age; they don't turn into salt, but they turn into trees, telephone poles, garage doors and other cars.

The gray horses that pulled the first hose and ladder truck here were "Joe and John". Found this in an old write-up by J. H. Read, history of the fire department here which started with bucket brigade and the only fire alarm was each

Gertrude Rasco Attends Cliburn Piano Contest

Miss Gertrude Rasco attended the third Van Cliburn International Piano Contest recently held in Fort Worth where she heard the six finalists.

Three played with the Ft. Worth Symphony on Friday evening and three on Saturday evening in the lovely theatre of the Convention Center.

It was midnight Saturday evening before the winner of the $10,000 first place was announced to the huge audience which had waited patiently, Miss Rasco stated.

Petite, Vivacious Cristina Ortiz, only 19 years old, of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, was named first place winner.

Miss Ortiz closed the competition earlier in the evening with a stunning performance of Brahms First Concerto. Musicianship, insight, passion and conviction were shown in abundance, and her concept of this mighty work rang nobly and true from beginning to end, Miss Rasco stated.

A spontaneous explosion from the audience greeted her at the end.

On Sunday afternoon, she was heard in solo recital at Ed Lauderdale Auditorium at Texas Christian University.

Miss Chalones Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hoover of Newlin and a friend from N.T.S.U. also attended the Sunday afternoon concert and we visited a few minutes, Miss Rasco stated.

Also, Miss Helen Collar of Chickasha, Okla., who was the Guild Audition Judge here two years ago, was in attendance and she asked to be remembered by teachers and students of this area.

Miss Edna Cora Johnson, National Guild chairman of Boston, Mass., who has attended all three Van Cliburn contests, staying each time the full two weeks and hearing all contestants play all required piano numbers, made this remark: "This year's contest playing has been of a higher quality than the preceding contests, I think."

There were only 22 contestants who entered this year; five nations were represented including Brazil, Canada, Hungary, Israel, Japan and Mexico and 10 states of the U.S.A.

Miss Rasco said there was one other thing of interest to her, she recognized a piano teacher, Kathleen O'Dowd, who lives in Ft. Worth, whom she had not seen in 40 years, not since they were young students in the Normal

Class of the Dunning System taught by Miss Allie E. Barcus of Fort Worth (now deceased).

"It was good to see and speak with her at Sunday's concert for a few minutes. All and all I had a 'musical time' time — enjoyed every 'note' of it, and shall look forward to attending the next Van Cliburn contest," Miss Rasco concluded.

Methodist WSCS Meets For Study In Tarver Home

The Alpha Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church met Monday, Oct. 20, at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. M.G. Tarver.

The president, Mrs. Ed Hutchinson, mentioned plans for the church Harvest Day Festival to be held in November.

Six members of the Women's Society attended the sub-district 1 meeting in Clarendon Oct. 7, at which time Ila Poole discussed the major organizations that level attacks at our churches, namely, the John Birch Society, Church League of America, Minute Men and others. Mrs. Kirk plans to conduct a "World Understanding Workshop" combined with a "Human Rights Workshop" the latter sponsored by The World Federation of Methodist Women.

Mrs. Herb Evans, secretary Missionary education and service, gave a comprehensive introduction and review of Chapter I of the study, "China in Change" to enable the group to understand the contemporary history, culture, and influence of the Chinese people as well as their problems. The title of Chapter I is "China, Yesterday and Tomorrow". Mrs. Evans gave the background of Searle Bates, the book's editor and displayed many interesting artifacts that were inventions of the Chinese such as the Compass, the calendar and the telescope.

Mrs. V. V. Coursey reviewed Chapter II, "China's Transitions, Century 1850-1950". She summarized in an interesting manner why China is ruled by a communist regime by observing the revolutionary process running through the preceding century.

Mrs. J. P. Montgomery gave an inspiring meditation by quoting Chapter building sayings of the Chinese and reading Romans 12 from the Bible. She offered the closing prayer.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to those already mentioned and Mmes. W. J. McMaster, R. S. Greene, J.W. Oliver, J. J. McDaniel, Bess Crump, F. W.

TO WED IN DECEMBER—Mr. and Mrs. Floy Anthony announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jeanie, to Mr. Lynn Kemper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kemper of Spearman. The wedding will be an event of Saturday, Dec. 27, at 7:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Memphis. Friends of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

Q. If there is no sign telling you of a minimum speed limit, how slow can a person lawfully drive?

A. It is illegal to wilfully drive a vehicle so slowly as to obstruct or impede the normal, reasonable and safe movement of traffic.

Q. What does the law require in regard to getting out of your vehicle and leaving it parked at the curb, store parking lot, etc.?

A. No person driving or in charge of a motor vehicle shall permit it to stand unattended without first stopping the engine, and effectively setting the brake thereon, and, when standing upon any grade, turning the front wheels to the curb side of the highway.

Q. If someone is going to an

out of state college or is stationed out of state in the military service, how can they renew their drivers license without appearing in person?

A. They should write to the Tex. Dept. of Public Safety and ask for a renewal card or have a friend or relative pick up a renewal card from a drivers license office and send it to them. They should then take the card to an optometrist, medical doctor or drivers license patrolman in that state and have their eyes examined. The results of that exam will be entered on the back of the renewal card and the license can then be renewed by mail. You will have 45 days upon moving back to Texas to go to a drivers license office and have your photograph taken.

Q. Even when there is no sign prohibiting a u-turn, when is it illegal to make a u-turn?

A. There were 3,367 people killed and 205,308 injured in motor vehicle traffic accidents in the state of Texas for the year 1967.

AUSTIN—Fear of snakes will keep many would-be campers at home this summer even though statistics show that in the United States more people are killed or seriously injured in their bathtubs than by snakebites, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

In the past 10 years in Texas, there have been just 31 deaths attributed to poisonous snakes. Snakebite deaths were most frequent among the young or old.

An unreasonable fear or ignorance may cause more harm than an actual snakebite. For example, a man who once trod on a rattler still wakes up screaming in the night. And a hunter, spiked by barbed wire, thought he had been bitten by a snake and very nearly died of shock.

True, these are extremes. But if you do regard the snake as a vicious and cunning creature with a deep-seated hatred of man, you are mistaken. Instead, it is timid and retiring. The earth-bound reptile will react to man as it would to any big and threatening creature, but it prefers to slide unobtrusively away.

Poisonous snakes of the U. S. include the rattlesnake, copperhead, cottonmouth moccasin and coral snake. One of the most prevalent in Texas is the rattlesnake. Should you encounter a rattler, the safest thing to do, usually, is to remain perfectly still or edge gingerly away. Don't run. You only excite the snake, making it more apt to strike in self-defense.

On the other hand, don't assume that it will shake its rattles as a signal of attack or that it only strikes when coiled. A rattling tail indicates nervousness rather than a sign of aggression. And, a rattler may strike in any direction from any position.

In applying first aid for snakebite, make the victim lie down as soon as possible and apply a constricting bandage above the bite. The pulse in blood vessels below the bandage should not disappear, nor should the bandage produce a throbbing sensation. Loosen the bandage for a few seconds every 15 minutes. If possible, apply ice packs to the bite and get the victim to a physician or hospital.

If a lengthy interval seems likely until antivenin can be given, make cuts cautiously through the skin into and just above the presumed venom deposit site, avoid tendons, and apply suction.

AUSTIN — Ever heard of the Texas Interagency Council on Smoking and Health? If you have not, you will because it's the nation's pace-setter in bringing smoking and health education to the state's youth and adults alike.

Here's the way the concept works to achieve a coordinated effort:

The Council is comprised of the Texas State Department of Health, Texas Education Agency, Texas Division of American Cancer Society, Texas Heart Association, Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association and Texas Medical Association. The Texas Parent - Teachers Association is a cooperating member.

It coordinates the regional conferences in developing leadership within individual school districts, making available to teachers and students special resource materials, consultants and activities relating to the hazards of smoking.

The goal of the Council is to bring to the state an increasing awareness of the health hazards of cigarette smoking with emphasis given to youth. And the goal is being rapidly reached in Texas.

There are 20 regional education service centers over the state where 10 conferences on smoking and health have already been completed; and five more will be completed by spring. This will total 75 per cent of the state.

This is more in one state than in all other states combined. A special resource kit is provided those school district representatives who attend the conferences and they take the material directly back into their classrooms. This way, education starts immediately after a conference, and no time is lost in further meetings with local personnel.

Both national and state authorities in the education field are used as instructors at the conferences.

Recently two noted authorities in the education field met with the council in Austin to evaluate its progress and stated that Texas is "by far the leader in the endeavor."

What this means then, is that of all information concerning public health being brought to our students, the hazards of smoking are becoming uppermost in the curriculum. And again, Texas is leading the way.

FBI Director Reports There Are 5 Million Serious Crimes Annually

General John N. Edgar recently released the Uniform Crime Reports, a detailed nationwide summary of police statistics made by the voluntary cooperation of local county and state enforcement agencies.

However, there were almost 5 million serious crimes committed in the United States in 1968, a 17 percent increase over 1967. The number of violent crimes exceeded 555,000, a 19 percent rise over the previous year. Crimes against property totaled more than 1,000,000 offenses, up 17 percent over 1967.

According to the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, in 1968 robbery increased 30 percent, forcible rape 15 percent, murder 13 percent, and aggravated assault 12 percent over 1967. Specifically with respect to the property crimes, larceny $20 and over increased 21 percent, auto theft 13 percent, and burglary 14 percent.

Hoover pointed out that trends in serious crime were consistent in all areas and geographic regions. Suburban communities continued an upward trend with a 17 percent rise in the number of crimes. The large cities up 18 percent and the rural areas 15 percent. The North-central States recorded a 22 percent increase, the Western States 16 percent, Southern States 16 percent, and the North Central States registered a serious crime rate of 13 percent over the previous year.

From 1960 to 1968 the volume of serious crime in the United States climbed 122 percent, with violent crimes up 106 percent and crimes against property up 87 percent.

Crime and Population
According to the FBI Director, there were 2,235 serious crimes per 100,000 population in the United States, a 16 percent increase in the crime rate over 1967. The violent crime rate in 1968 was 295 victims per 100,000 population, up 18 percent. The property crime rate was 1,940 victims, up 16 percent over 1967. Since 1960 the serious crime rate, or the risk of becoming a victim of crime, has nearly doubled. From 1960 to 1968 the volume of crime has risen 122 percent and our United States population 11 percent. Thus, crime continues to outstrip population growth 11 to 1.

The FBI Director observed that the sharply rising crime rates in the 1960's are most significant with respect to the rapid rise in violent crime over the last several years. He expressed greatest concern with the fact that arrests for the young age population outstripped their population group increase more than four to one during this period. He noted that this was particularly true in connection with arrests for violent crimes in our large metropolitan population centers.

In summary the FBI Director stated, "There is no comfort in the cold statistics contained in Uniform Crime Reports - 1968. While it is true the crime volumes of the 1960's are a disgrace to our way of life, they represent the acts of a relatively small minority. In this connection, it is well documented that the recidivist plays a large part. Continuing increases in our young age population, in urbanization, and social conflict are realities. Any crime reduction must depend on our young people, the vast majority of whom are honest and decent citizens. They, however, cannot afford to be indifferent to the crime problem but must actively dissuade more of their peers from criminality."

Fish To Be Killed In Baylor Lake

Plans to chemically treat Lake Baylor to remove the present fish population and to allow for later re-stocking with game fish were announced this week by Jack Crabtree of Canyon, fisheries biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The treatment has been recommended by Crabtree and will be administered starting at 8 a. m. Friday by Parks and Wildlife personnel.

Purpose of the treatment is to rid the Lake of carp, so that when the lake refills they will not be able to interfere with the game fish production.

Baylor Lake will be treated with rotenone, a common agriculture insecticide that is toxic to fish. It kills all fish by blocking the respiration so that they suffocate, but the fish are edible and should be treated as any other freshly-caught fish.

The public is invited to come and salvage fish the day of the treatment. There will be a charge of $1 per person to get into the lake.

Crabtree said, "They may use dip nets or their hands. Normal bag limits will be suspended the day of treatment."

The lake will be closed to fishing and all activities beginning

Wednesday, Oct. 22. Restocking with channel catfish and forage minnows will begin in about two weeks, with other game fish added next spring. The lake will be closed until the spring of 1971.

When the lake reopens, and admission charge will be administered by L. V. (Soapy) Keel, who leases the lake from the City of Childress.

Texas Water Safety Regulations be enforced at Lake Baylor and everyone is reminded that Coast Guard approved life preservers must be aboard for each person in the boat, Crabtree said.

Range Fire Control Meeting Slated At Matador Oct. 27

To assist in the control of pasture and range fires which annually destroy thousands of acres of grass in West Texas, a meeting has been scheduled in the County Courthouse, Matador, starting at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Oct. 27.

Speakers are Kenneth Burton, Fire Division, Texas Forest Service, Lufkin; and John R. Rauch, Fire Prevention Instructor, Engineering Extension Service, Texas A&M University, College Station.

Topics to be presented include methods of prevention; use of maintainers and other equipment; use of cattle sprayers; back firing and area fire department assistance.

This meeting will be open to the public, but will be of special interest to ranchers, County Commissioners, fire department personnel and machinery operators, according to W. C. Palmeyer, Motley County agricultural agent.

Thompson Bros. Co.

A new agricultural industry has been started in East Texas among the tall pines. This time it is not timber cutting, but catfish production.

For the last several years attempts have been made to produce "cultured catfish" but usually they were on the part of an individual with insufficient capital, or some landowner who just wanted to experiment. Now it is a different story.

More than 150 East Texas farmers have entered into a cooperative program which will supplement cotton, grain and rice income. They have formed the Tri-County Catfish Co-op, for Jasper, Tyler and Newton counties. They have already prepared a feasibility study. Through the Deep East Texas Development Assn., they are asking for federal assistance in getting a successful program under way.

Recently one of the original groups harvested more than 5000 catfish from a lake 50-feet wide and 900-feet long. Those that weighed more than 1 1/4 pounds were marketed and the smaller fish distributed to other lakes. There are 21 lakes already on the Stringer farm near Kirbyville.

These catfish sell for around 60 cents per pound liveweight, which puts them on a more profitable basis than poultry. Men behind the East Texas movement feel they now have a project that will surpass the gigantic East Texas broiler industry.

Planting stock is produced at around 5 cents each for fingerling size. Every care is taken to produce quality channel cats. Any runts or mud cats are tossed aside.

Through the cooperative effort a processing plant will be built to provide for the proper care of the fish before reaching the market. This also will make it possible for ready markets to be established in larger metropolitan centers.

These men also are working with other government agencies, such as the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the Farmer's Cooperative Service of Washington. Another effort is made to produce a fish that will not have the usual "fishy" smell. This the housewives will greatly appreciate.

So the famous catfish and hush puppy dinners soon may become as popular as fried chicken or broilers, thanks to the men in this cooperative East Texas movement. And who knows, some of the ponds may be opened to pole and line fishermen, who can catch their own fish as they desire.

As the program develops in East Texas, like the broiler industry, it probably will spread to other parts of the state. Senator Charles Wilson of Lufkin is president of the East Texas Economic Development District, which is promoting the program.

A Washington columnist writes that those officials who hammered the South for years to integrate public schools do not send their children to integrated public schools. What's new?

Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Frost, Jr. of Childress are the parents of a son born Oct. 19. He has been named Marc Anthony and weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce.

Quannah Dumps Memphis 62-0

Quannah Indians, after what was a disappointing season, came to Childress and Shamrock district play, unleashed destructions and fury on the Memphis Cyclone to the tune of 62-0 on Friday night.

The Indians went on the war scoring two or three touchdowns in each of the quarters, ending their final six points on a fourth down pass with only seven left to go in the game.

The local lads just could not seem to do anything right except grab off two pass interceptions, one by Ronnie McFalls and the other by Mark Handley, and do a good job of punting the football. Merle Kilpatrick and Mark Hundley combined to average 40 yards on nine punts.

The Cyclone played without Fullback Carol Thompson, and Merle Kilpatrick and Billy Gilbert left the field with injuries. The Indian's spirit seemed to ignite with their success.

The Memphis team, trailing 7-0, stopped the Indians when Ronnie McFalls intercepted a Quannah pass and returned it to the Memphis 45.

On the first down, McFalls came out of the backfield on a pass pattern, slipped away from his defender into open field, and QB Merle Kilpatrick threw the ball into his waiting arms. McFalls caught the ball but in his attempt to tuck it away, it slipped through his arms incomplete. This was the first of several well-thrown passes that went in and out of the arms of Memphis receivers during the nights play.

After this, the Indians came back to dominate play with a strong running and passing game. HB Larry Graham, a 170-lb. senior, behind good blocking by FB Rick Prater, began cracking the Cyclone defense. He rambled for 179 yards of Quannah's 303 yards rushing, and scored 24 points. He turned in the longest run from scrimmage, 55 yards on the Indians second TD.

Quannah's sophomore quarterback Richard McDonald ran over one touchdown and passed for another. Marvin Wells threw the final TD toss.

Memphis Young Farmers-Ranchers Hear Prog. Brought By Local Bankers

Diversification of farming operations was cited as a most important need in Hall County at the meeting of the Memphis Young Farmers and Ranchers Chapter Monday, Oct. 20.

The program was presented by W. H. "Hobey" Dean of the First National Bank and Danny Scarborough of the First State Bank of Memphis.

It was stressed that farmers should find sources of income other than cotton before their financial situation becomes critical.

Dean and Scarborough pointed out that a miracle crop is not necessarily needed in the county. Other crop and livestock enterprises presently in county, under good management, are clearing more money than cotton. The landowners will need to be sold on enterprises other than cotton and in many cases a cash lease would be best allowing operators to diversify.

The bankers stated they would like to see farmers experiment with other crops and livestock to find new sources of income. However records should be kept so a farmer is not just buying himself a job.

It was pointed out there were farms in the county that were not making the operator any money but because of the lack of records the farmer did not realize the situation.

Refreshments were served and the next meeting on Nov. 3, was set as a work night to plan programs for the year.

Mrs. Inez Lester visited in Lubbock Thursday with her son and family, the Bill Lesters. They all attended the Coronado High and Lubbock High football game Friday night. Mrs. Lester's grandson, Bobby Lester, is a member of the Coronado football team. They also attended the Mississippi State vs. Texas Tech football game Saturday night at Jones Stadium. Mrs. Lester's grandson, Billy E. Lester, is a student at Texas Tech.

AUSTIN — Texas Aeronautics Commission has expressed concern that the new federal aviation legislation may shut off its revenues for state airport building aid which now totals more than $400,000 a year.

Proposed aircraft user charges would increase the general aviation fuel tax from two to seven cents a gallon, levy a licensing fee of $25 per aircraft plus two cents a pound for prop planes and three and a half cents a pound for jets, increase the passenger tax on airlines from five per cent to eight per cent, place a new five per cent tax on cargo shipments and establish a $3 per passenger tax on international travel.

Money would go to airport improvements and relief of congestion. Some $100 million a year would aid large, airline-served terminals and $25 million a year would be reserved for smaller airports like those helped by TAC funds. Based on population, Texas would get about $18 million annually for larger airports and $2.5 million for smaller ones.

Hitch, according to TAC Executive Director Charles Murphy, is this:

Federal act requires states to match aid funds on a 50-50 basis. At present, the source of funds TAC has for airport building is unclaimed refunds on the state's five-cent-a-gallon tax on aviation gasoline. Plane owners now leave some $46,000 a month in the state till rather than go to the trouble of filling out forms for refunds. However, with stiff new federal charges, it is feared they will start applying for all refunds they can get, thus leaving TAC with an "empty bucket," as one commissioner said.

Murphy said a state jet fuel tax of three to four cents a gallon would be necessary to raise as much as $2.5 million a year.

Meanwhile, TAC approved a $324,500 construction aid program for the next year, including these projects:

Dalhart, Commerce, McLean, Hale Center, Haskell, Hemphill, Pleasanton and Vega, $27,500 each; Taft, $26,000; Bridgeport, Giddings, Jackson County (Edna), Jasper, San Benito, Hearne and Van Horn, $10,000 each; Shamrock, $4,500, and Caldwell, $4,000.

Appointments Announced

Gov. Preston Smith made a long list of key judicial appointments, including elevation of 140th District Judge Connally McKay of Tyler to the 12th Court of Civil Appeals and 67th District Judge Harris Joe Brewster of Ft. Worth to the Second Court of Civil Appeals.

Smith also named these district judges:

Galloway Calhoun Jr. of Tyler to the 140th district; Clyde Robert Ashworth of Arlington to the 67th; Athens attorney Jack Humphrey Holland to the new 173rd; James Edward Wright of Fort Worth to the new 141st district; Gordon Lindsey Gray of Ft. Worth to the new Criminal District Court No. 4 and Robert Lee Wright of Ft. Worth to the new Court of Domestic Relations No. 4 of Tarrant County.

Governor announced these appointments to other positions:

State Board of Morticians: Joe J. Manor of Austin, replacing Harold Saunders of San Antonio and Claude Vance Singleton of Lubbock replacing C. Jack Clark of Dallas.

State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers: Robert Lockhart Reid and James D. Pitcock Jr., Houston.

Ag Opinions

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin spelled out the duties of county commissioners, county election boards and sheriffs to determine the number of voting machines needed, provision and delivery of them to the polls for each election held at county expense.

In other new opinions, Martin held that:

*Small claims court jurors must be paid the same ($3-$6 a day) as those serving in justice courts, with payment out of county jury fund.

*Alligators now are under the control of the state as protected wildlife specie.

*Legislative act providing for the method of school board elections in counties of 8,605 to 8,615 population is unconstitutional since the population base is unreasonable.

*A former legislator with eight or more years service who now is a state employee can become a member of the "elective class" under the employees retirement system without working five consecutive years at an appointive job.

*Grand and petit jurors selected for Jim Hogg County by the 49th judicial district court and for Duval and Starr counties by the 79th district court are legally selected jurors for the new 229th judicial district court from September 1 to commencement of the new term.

Courts Speak

Supreme Court set hearing for November 26 on the appeal of Air Southwest Company for commuter air routes between Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio.

High court scheduled oral arguments for December 3 in the case against the Dallas transit system brought by the widow, mother and daughter of a bus passenger who was killed Dec. 18, 1965, by a drunk who boarded the bus. At issue is whether the driver was negligent in allowing the drunk to board the bus.

Tyler Court of Civil Appeals order dismissing the saintly case of Dr. Harold Eidenoff of El Paso, who was freed from Rusk State Hospital earlier this year, was affirmed by the State Supreme Court.

Court of Criminal Appeals heard arguments on Houston black militant Lee Otis Johnson's appeal from a 30-year sentence for giving a marijuana cigarette to a police undercover man.

State filed suit to enjoin Air East Air Lines Inc. and Central Texas Airlines Inc from conducting air carrier operations without certificates.

Drinking Hours Extended

A dozen counties and 19 cities have adopted the new 2 a. m. drinking curfew approved by the last Legislature on a local option basis.

Included are Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, Potter, Bandera, Bell, Aransas, Wilson, Galveston and Fort Bend counties; Corpus Christi, Aransas Pass, Rosenberg, Temple, Texas City, Denison, Poth, Boerne, Post, Pharr, Galveston, Rockport, Bandera, Port Aransas, Port Neches, Laredo (private clubs only), Victoria and Herker Heights near Fort Hood.

Liquor Control Board is studying the proposal of a Dallas restaurateur for authorization of Texas travelers to join a single giant private club with guest privileges in any participating club.

LCB authorized two airlines to sell mixed drinks during flights — American Airlines and Braniff. Texas International and Delta also have applied for licenses.

A U. S. senator announced that DDT and other pesticides have been found in cigarettes. Maybe this is why a mosquito will not fly through smoke rings.

Seasons For Bird Hunting Explained

Bird hunters in Hall County have been showing interest in the upcoming bird season in both migratory and domestic game birds. Mourning dove season is still open and will remain open until Thursday, Oct. 30.

The geese and brant season opens October 18 and continues through January 11. Bag and possession limit is five with the following restrictions: West of U. S. Highway 81 — daily bag limit and possession limit: not more than 1 Ross's goose and, in the alternative, 1 white-fronted goose; or 1 white-fronted goose and 1 Canada goose; or two Canada geese.

Duck season opens November 18 and continues through January 11. The daily bag limit is: 4 — not to include more than 2 wood ducks, 1 canvasback or 1 redhead and 1 mallard. Possession limit: 8 — not to include more than 4 wood ducks, 1 canvasback or 1 redhead and 2 mallards.

When game birds are cleaned in the field, regulations specify that a fully feathered wing must remain attached while transported between the place taken and the personal abode of the possessor. This regulation does not apply to dove or quail in this area.

There is an open season in this area for Sandhill Cranes (Little Brown) which is Dec. 13 through Jan. 11, 1970. Daily bag limit is three and possession limit is six.

Quail Season
In counties other than Briscoe, Childress, Cottle, Hall, and Motley Counties, quail season opens the second Saturday of November through Jan. 31. In these counties, which include Hall County, the season opens Dec. 1 and continues through January 31.

Bag and possession limit: twelve quail per day and thirty-six in possession.

Turkey Season
Turkey season opens the last Saturday of November for 16 consecutive days. Bag and possession limit: one turkey either sex, per person.

Lakeview Cagers Begin Season Under Coach Davis

Lakeview cager teams have begun this 1969-70 season splitting games at Flomot, last Friday, and defeating Roaring Springs teams Tuesday.

The Lakeview boys are 1-1 and the girls are 2-0 for the season so far, Coach Cagle Davis said. Coach Davis is in his first season with the Lakeview teams. He served as assistant coach in the Canyon and Hereford school districts.

At Flomot, a 27-point effort by David Hunter of Flomot led his team to an 84-63 win over Lakeview.

In the girls game, however, Brenda Smith's 23-point effort for Lakeview led the Eaglettes to a 53-28 win.

The next game for the two Lakeview teams will be Tuesday, Oct. 28, at Lakeview gymnasium as the two teams play host to Roaring Springs teams.

At Roaring Springs Tuesday, the Eaglettes won a 53 to 49 decision. Scoring for Lakeview were Brenda Smith 35, Mary Gilbreth 12, and Brenda Durrett 6. Dorothy Parks had 41 points for Roaring Springs.

Lakeview (G) 12-25-45-53
Roaring Spring 9-24-38-49
Lakeview (B) 14-23-37-47
Roaring Springs 6-19-25-34
Scoring in double figures for the Eagles against Roaring Springs were Richard Gilbreth with 20, Terry Wansley 17 and Lewis Richburg 10. Jeff Thacker with 22 was Roaring Springs high point boy.

Coach Davis cited Pat Gowdy and Terry Wansley for doing an outstanding job of rebounding in the Roaring Springs game.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Bruce and Boycens visited this weekend in the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Gary Gentry, and Mr. Gentry at College Station.

Mr. King was born in the southland, only four years after the end of the Civil War. He could be considered middle aged when he came to Hall County as an early-day settler in 1904. He came to Texas before Hall County was even formed into a separate county.

In Memphis UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be out Halloween under the sponsorship of the 1913 Study Club as has been a custom for the past several years, Mrs. Gayle Greene, chairman, announced this week.

Memphis students, dressed in costumes from "store-bought" to homemade, will be ambassadors of good will as they visit homes asking for pennies, nickels and dimes to give to the Children's Fund on Halloween.

The money collected by the students will be used by UNICEF to assist programs for the world's needy children in 120 countries, Mrs. Greene stated. "The task is enormous, and our help is needed to bring life-saving food and medicine, and an opportunity for education to millions of children in the developing countries."

The UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be identified by their official collection box: a small orange and black carton.

"The need is great," said Mrs. Greene, "and the time is now. Your help to a child, through UNICEF, may mean the difference between a hopeless future and a chance to live and grow to be a useful citizen."

back, Jeff McDonald (150) at tailback, and Mark Thompson (155) at wingback. Behind these regulars are QB Steve Catlin (136), FB Steve Berry (188), Steve Webb (156) and Gary Williams (175) at tailback.

Linemen who played against Memphis last year include Frazier (218), Newman (180), Pittman (185) and French (224).

Defensively, the Hawks are as talented as they are offensively. Center Linebacker Steve Berry, No. 44, is possibly the district's best linebacker.

Iowa Park and Memphis, after this season, will be leaving District 2-AA. Iowa Park has been transferred to District 11-AA while Memphis has been assigned to District 2-A.

Comments
Coach Bert Glascock said this week that the local team hopes to give a better effort against Iowa Park. "We'll be playing one of the state's finest and we want to play well with a good effort," he said.

At Booster Club Tuesday night, after showing the Memphis-Quannah game film, Coach Glascock said that he had no excuses. "It was the sorriest game I have had anything to do with," he said.

"I don't mean I think our kids are sorry, I mean they played a sorry game. We have good kids but they had a bad night. Our fans felt bad, but I'm sure our boys and the coaches felt worse about it," Coach Glascock said.

"I think we learned something in the game and I'm sure we can do better," he said.

Coach Glascock said that this week, he has been with the showing of young on the team.

Schedule Revealed
This week, Memphis officials worked out a schedule for the Memphis next season.

The schedule consists of Deer, Chillicothe, Paducah, and Crowell in non-home games, and Silvertown, McLean, Claude and Clark District 2-A play. There are home games and five on the road.

Lewis Davis and Carlsson returned to work this week, the coach reported other boys have been injured.

Terry Wynn, starting has a deep muscle bruise miss the Iowa Park game. Ballew re-injured an over elbow and may miss the game. Tommy Hall returned to program this week.
