4-H AWARDS BANQUET

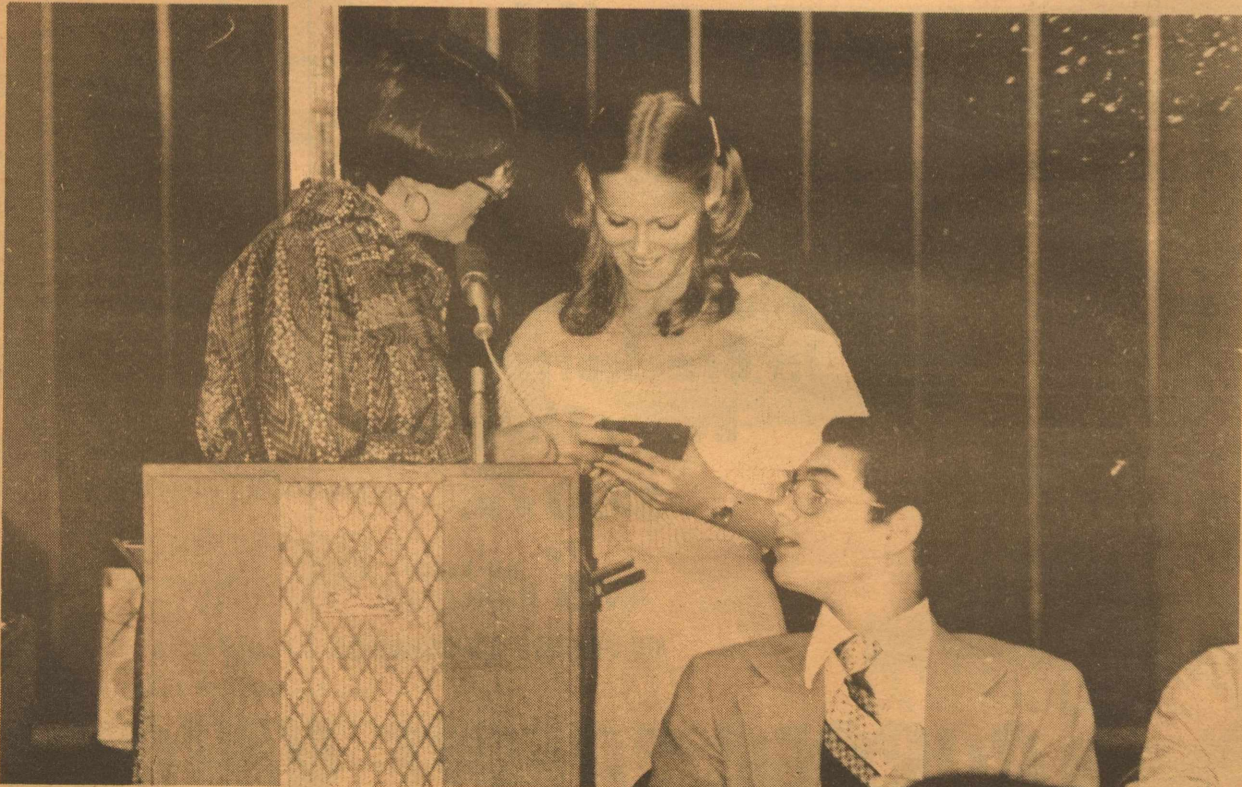

by Becky Rogers

Mr. and Mrs. Joe York Jr. receive the "Friends of 4-H" award from Candy Smallwood.

Allan Frerich receives the "Gold Star Boy" Award from Carl Essar.

Candy Smallwood gets the "Gold Star Girl" Award from Becky Rogers.

Excitement and anticipation ran high for the 4-H Club members of Kinney County last Monday night, when the crowning event of the year took place in the Brackettville Civic Center. With all the hard work over and done, it was a night for honors and recognition of those 4-H members who had done their jobs well and finished their 4-H projects. Also, at this time, the 4-H boys and girls were able to say "Thank you" to persons who had helped them to achieve their goals.

Master of Ceremonies for the Banquet, Allan Frerich, President of the Las Moras 4-H Club, welcomed the leaders and parents. Checho Martinez gave the invocation.

A delicious assortment of covered dishes brought by 4-H families was served buffet style. To help carry out the theme, special 4-H plates, napkins, cups and place mats were used.

Following the meal, Kimberly Baxter began the Awards Program by leading the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Motto and Pledge. Our guests were offered a special welcome and recognized by Kimberly Trant.

The guest speaker for this special 4-H occasion, Mr. Chuck Hall, an outstanding young leader and citizen of Brackettville was introduced by Mark Baxter. Mr. Hall gave a most inspirational talk to the 4-H Youth of Kinney County reassuring them that the adult community really does care.

He built his speech around the objectives of the 4-H program and reminiscenced about the progress it had made during its 20 some odd years of existence in Kinney County.

Following Mr. Hall's warm and caring remarks to the youth who are growing up in the same community he grew up in, John Jones began the presentation of awards. John gave a brief summary of the years accomplishments of the 4-H livestock projects then introduced each adult leader who in turn presented livestock medals to the 4-H'ers.

Mr. Pat Rose, Jr. presented 33 sheep medals; Mr. Hadley Wardlaw presented 6 beef medals; Mr. Roger Gebert presented 4 swine medals; and Mr. George Lopez presented 5 horse medals.

"4-H Banquet" from page one

The home economics 4-H program summary was given by Lana Pullen who introduced the adult leaders to present these awards. Mrs. Judy Burks presented 30 foods and nutrition medals and 4 dairy foods medals; Mrs. Laura Latham presented 6 bread medals and Mrs. Nancy Villarreal presented 10 clothing medals.

Presenting an overview of the citizenship and leadership activities was Joe Hidalgo who also introduced the adult leaders who presented these awards. Mr. Charles Spain presented the leadership awards; Mr. Ray Smallwood the citizenship award; Mr. Jim Voss the Method Demonstration Awards and Mrs. Barbara Voss the Record Book awards.

Mrs. Nell Smallwood and Mrs. Lyn Frerich presented 4-H year pins, book covers and pencils to each member who had completed at least one project.

The new 4-H members were recognized at this time and also presented with a set of 4-H book covers and pencils.

To pay tribute to all the dedicated efforts of the adult leaders, Buck Smallwood recognized each of them.

Saving the best till last, several special awards were presented toward the close of the 1976 Annual 4-H Awards Program. Presenting the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Certificate to Kaye York was Mr. Pat Rose, III.

Changing the award from "Friend of 4-H" to "Friends of 4-H" the 4-H clubs honored Mr. and Mrs. Joe York, Jr. with this award in appreciation for all the many years of support they had so willingly given the 4-H Club program. No matter what event or problem was encountered, they were always there to help and a phone call or personal visit proved it. These friends have loaned the 4-H everything, from a sledge hammer to a spare tire and from horses, to pasture for 4-H livestock. They have furnished transportation on 4-H trips and served as adult supervisors on many 4-H events. Candy Smallwood presented this well deserved award.

Recipients of the Danforth "I Dare You" Award were Joe Hidalgo and Kaye York. These awards go to an outstanding boy & girl 4-H club member who does not follow the crowd just because everyone else is doing so but rather "dares to be different". They were presented by Bill Pratt and Lucy Lucas.

The highest awards given by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service at the county level to 4-H Club members are the Boy and Girl Gold Star Award. These awards are presented to the most outstanding 4-H Boy and Girl in the county.

Candy Smallwood, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Ray Smallwood received the Gold Star Girl Award and Alan Frerich, son of Mr. & Mrs. Edwin Frerich, received the Gold Star Boy Award. Presenting these awards were their County Extension Agents, Becky Rogers and Carl Esser.

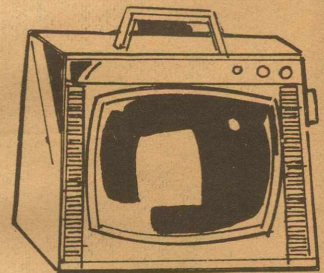

Bringing the 1976 4-H Awards Banquet to a close, Kaye York recited the 4-H Prayer.

County Extension Agents Becky Rogers and Carl Esser would like to express their appreciation to everyone who helped make the 1976 4-H year a success and look forward to the "all ready in full swing" 4-H year ahead.

LIBRARY NEWS

by Elsie Sauer and Jo Kent

Have you been to your library since May? Whether you have or haven't you are invited to attend "Open House" Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 October 17 to see how your Library has progressed. Hosts will be Friends of the Library.

Come and borrow a book, hear a short review of Leon Jaworski's book just published about Water-gate, (Did you know he was in Ft. Clark one night last week?) plus other program items.

We are hoping to become a State Library soon. This status will provide additional advantages. To qualify we must have a paid Librarian, paid by the county (and/or) city taxes with at least $5000 annually appropriated for salary and operating expenses. At present the city is not helping at all. The county court has voted $600 a year and pays lights, gas, yard maintenance and telephone -- which added to the $600 makes an approximate total of $1000 a year. The building is loaned free by the New World Study Club.

State law allows a County to support a Library with 12% of each $100 evaluation -- which (for Kinney County) would be $16,000 a year.

The two licensed librarians, Mrs. Goleman and myself, have always worked without pay and are willing to continue to do so. Our aids have been paid by Manpower (a federal Welfare Agency) through the commissioners and the school. At present the Manpower aid is exhausted.

The Friends of the Library, of which Mrs. Jo Kent of Ft. Clark is president, has raised almost $4000 in the past year. A drive last September netted $1000 and was matched with $1000 personally by Mr. Mendelsohn. In early spring, the Friends held a White Elephant Auction next to Sweet's Rx Center and raised $875.00 to purchase competing. When Mr. Cole heard this was $190 short of the total cost ($1065.07, installed if cash) he offered to lend Mrs. Kent the amount by oral agreement and no interest. To repay this $190 she edited and published "A Bit of History and A Bite to Eat," booklet, to sell for $1.00 (now $1.25). The cost of printing and the $190 loan have been paid. The income from the 50 or so remaining books will go into the Library treasury.

Mr. & Mrs. Breaux, formerly officers of Friends, and Mrs. Breaux's father, Mr. Gant, have also done much for the Library. Among other things, all the paper-bound books section shelves are their personal donation.

The Sorority raised $303.40 at its Spring Flower show and sale and donated the amount to the Library to revamp the children's room. Of this amount, $147.20 has been spent on one children's size reading table and 12 chairs, leaving $156, some of which has been used for paint, bookcases, and some books. The money left will be used for new books.

The Lions Club has been most helpful, too. Among other things, members have built several of the bookcases.

Six fluorescent lights were installed labor free by Albert Seargeant and his wife Alice, and Mrs. G.O. Rone, and Paul O'Rourke have paid for the lights. The New World Study Club paid for the rest.

Mr. Richard Olvera has donated a new vacuum sweeper. Also 20 new folding chairs have been bought with the Library funds.

Other donations and memorials have helped our treasury.

The Library Board, Mr. Charlie Ward, Miss Charles Wilson, Mrs. Laman, Richard Olvera, Paul O'Rourke and Charlotte Goleman have been most cooperative and helpful, as has our County Judge, Tommy Seargeant.

Manpower money for Kinney County is exhausted at present. We are now without an aid. Please contact your city alderman and county commissioners and let them know if you wish more tax money to be allowed to the County Library. They are your representatives and need to know your wishes.

A full-time paid librarian is needed to continue the present program and to acquire state status.

Our present program lends out an average of 400 (approximately) books a month and shows movies to approximately 900 viewers a month, most of these being school children.

Films and the projector are available to Clubs and responsible individuals. The Rotary Club has used this service quite often. The films and projector are furnished by the San Antonio Public Library Audio-Visual Department, The Inter-Loan Library Department of San Antonio Public Library can and will locate and furnish us with any book requested by patrons if not available here. Last week we received a book for as far away as U. of Delaware Library.

Come see us! Open House 3-5 Sunday, October 17. Bring the clip-coupon (below) or leave it at Sweet's Drug, Minimax, Nash's or Book-Drop. Thank You.

Whudunit Play Opens

Uvalde-A patio supper with live entertainment will greet theater guests at Southwest Texas Junior College here October 16 as the college drama department presents its first performance of the year.

The special dinner theater will climax four nights of performances which will begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Tate Auditorium and continue through the 6:30 p.m. patio supper on Saturday.

The college cast is deviating from their usual performances by presenting two one-act plays. "After Magritte" will serve as a curtain-warmer to the mystery farce "The Real Inspector Hound." The plays were written as companion pieces and appeared on Broadway at the same time.

"The Real Inspector Hound" is a very clever sexual farce," said director Joan Johnston, "and it is full of mystery and humor. However, it is mostly adult material and I don't think younger children will enjoy it or understand it."

Tickets for the two performances are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and may be purchased at C.G. Morrison's and Bill's Shoe Tree in downtown Uvalde. Dinner theater tickets, however, are $5 each.

After a week of performances on campus, the college casts will travel to San Marcos to present the plays at the regional meeting of the American College Theater Festival.

TEXANS TO RECEIVE CANCER INFO SERVICE

Sheridan S. Evans, M.D.
President, Texas Division
American Cancer Society

DEAR VOLUNTEER:

I would like to take this opportunity to acquaint you with a new lay educational resource on cancer that is becoming operational in Texas.

Called the Cancer Information Service (CIS), the program is sponsored by M.D. Anderson Hospital with cooperative assistance of many agencies in Texas concerned with cancer control. The program is funded by the National Cancer Institute (NCI), which established similar projects for the other 17 Comprehensive Cancer Centers designated by Congress.

The primary tool of the CIS is a toll-free telephone line to provide Texans with current, factual information on cancer reviewed by medical sources. Educational material distributed by the program unites resources of voluntary agencies (including the American Cancer Society), professional societies, health organizations and many government agencies involved with health education. The program enjoys the support of the Texas Medical Association and Texas Cancer Coordinating Commission.

The CIS also is co-sponsor with the American Cancer Society of a newspaper column, "Cancer Answerline," which is distributed to most daily and weekly papers in Texas. We hope your community paper utilizes the column.

You will probably be seeing newspaper articles about CIS in your area soon, since current plans call for the program to be operational throughout the state by early 1977. From time to time you may get requests for patient services through your Area Office that originated from the CIS in Houston. The toll-free number for Texas is 1/800/392/2949 and 792/3245 for the greater Houston area.

This new service supplements and complements other efforts in the state to assure Texans easy access to information on cancer.

WHUDUNIT -- Inspector Hound (Mickey Hunkin) and Mrs. Drudge (Anna Sifuentes) discover a disconnected phone in the mystery farce "The Real Inspector Hound" which will open at Southwest Texas Junior College in Uvalde Wednesday through Saturday. A special feature of the fall drama presentation is a dinner theater Saturday night.

TIPS FOR GREEN THUMBS

by: JOE TOWNSEND

If you have any plants outside that cold will hurt, it is time to protect them. The best protection of course is to put them inside where you can keep the room warm on freezing nights. Your plants need light in the winter the same as in summer. If you have fluorescent fixtures, the light is a close approach to daylight. If you put in some type of plant tubes in the fixture you have almost a twin of natural light. If you have incandescent light it is about like no light at all to plants. Plants inside and especially in winter do not need as much water as outside in summer, but they still must have water. Most plants do well if the top of the soil stays moist to touch. No plants do well if the soil stays soggy. It is too often true that pots inside are set in containers to prevent water from going on to the floor and water is left in the retainer. Too often the water stands and is soaked back up into the soil, the plant takes root rot and dies. With proper light, proper water, and proper feeding, your plants should be as beautiful in spring as when you take them in in the fall.

Between Us

by: JOE TOWNSEND

I sat for a while this morning and just enjoyed listening to the beautiful singing of an early rising mockingbird. There's no experience quite like listening to the world wake up. From now and then the chirp of a small bird to the full swing noise of the day -- 'tis indeed a considerable journey in such a short space of time. It makes one pause to remember that it is indeed a new day. No need to worry about yesterday; it's gone and there can be no re-run. No reason to wonder about tomorrow; it's not here yet. Just a new page in life's book, fresh, crisp, ready to be filled in. With what enthusiasm the mockingbird greeted the day. No early morning dragging around dreading to face just another day. No lazy drifting into the responsibilities of the day. No whining to the world about the work and burdens ahead. Of course he faced a day of hunting for his food - no Uncle Santa Caluse to dish it out to him. No gilded cage to protect him from his natural enemies, just his own resources. No warm cozy fire to shield him from the weather. Just another day of living - so he sings the night into disappearance in the light of the rising sun and wants the world to know he's happy and ready to enjoy life one more day. In so doing he helped my day off to a good start and all day long his beautiful singing haunted my day. My, my, how much we can learn from the cheerful, musical mockingbird.

United Community Buys Fire Truck

Catarina -- There is no limit to what Home Demonstration Club members can do when they are confronted with disasters and genuine community needs.

Those situations--the spectre of fiery disaster and community need--combined last winter to provide the home demonstration club here with an opportunity to become an example for very small towns everywhere.

That example also has won recognition for the women both nationally and in Texas. The project placed second in the National Extension Homemakers Safety Award program sponsored by the National Home Demonstration Association. The group was recognized at the National Association meeting in Virginia earlier this year. The women also were honored at the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting in College Station in September.

Community spirit in Catarina is still strong, and nature provided a stern test for that spirit this past winter when extreme drought conditions posed the threat of wild grass fires in the town and surrounding areas.

The spark that literally pulled the community together was one of those grass fires which the women of the town were forced to fight and put out with water-drenched burlap bags.

With that experience behind them, the women, most of whom were members of Catarina Home Demonstration Club, recognized the need for some type of fire protection system.

After discussing the need, the women set about to achieve the goal of acquiring a fire engine for the town. Catarina has not had fire protection, except for assistance for neighboring Asherton 13 miles away, for more than 15 years.

As with most undertakings of this kind, money was needed and the club came up with several projects for raising the more than $3500 necessary to purchase a fire engine through the government surplus system now available to small communities like Catarina.

The first of several projects was to draft a letter to area landowners, many not living in the county, asking their support and contributions for the fire engine. Grass fires pose as much a threat in terms of damage to the surrounding ranches and farms as it does to the town. Most of the funds for the project were raised through this direct mail appeal.

With this community club, applications filed and money in hand, the group has acquired a fire truck on loan from nearby Asherton. This truck will stand ready until the community receives its new fire engine.

Having a fire truck presents a new need for the home demonstration club. The members are now busy trying to raise funds to buy additional fire-fighting equipment.

CB BREAK

BY THE SKY PILOT

You can always tell when some CB'ers get a new piece of equipment. This is especially true if it is something to extend the range or power of the set. He keeps the air hot with his chatter. It seems he wants the world to know he has a new "play purty". If he talks across town he has to use his power mike or sideband. He is totally insensitive to how offensive he is to other CB'ers. Now there's nothing wrong with using a power mike or a sideband. They are legal and many times are helpful. If one wants to use them to play the skip or to stretch out his range, that's well and good. However, courtesy to other CB'ers demands proper use of such equipment. There is never any legitimate excuse to use more power than is necessary to do what one is trying to do. To turn on a sideband or use a power mike to talk in a radius of three or four miles is thoughtless and inexcusable. Sporting illegal power is never acceptable. The person with a single channel has just as much right to the air as one with several thousand dollars worth of equipment.

The FCC cannot force the courteous use of a CB. If one is not gentlemanly enough to use it courteously, he simply casts reflections on himself. He doesn't in any way prove his superiority, rather his littleness.

Thank you for the channel -- We'll be 10-10 and 10-8.
