BANK PLANS DISCUSSED

Architects John Graves (left) and Jack Graves (right) are shown with drawings for the proposed remodeling of the First State Bank of Brackettville. A public meeting was held Tuesday to answer questions about the plans. Estimated cost of the structure will be $179,000. Approximately 35 people attended. Several Bank directors were also present.

EDITORIAL BY GEORGE !

MIXED EMOTIONS

"Mixed emotions are: seeing your mother-in-law drive over a cliff in your new Cadillac," was the way the old vaudeville joke went.

I know that is the way that many people feel about a new bank building and demolishing the old building.

I personally signed a petition to try and save the old building IF THERE WAS ANY FEASIBLE WAY. After talking to some of the bank directors, (who would also like to save the old building if possible), and hearing the architect speak last Tuesday, I can see that there is no way to feasibly keep the old building and add on to it.

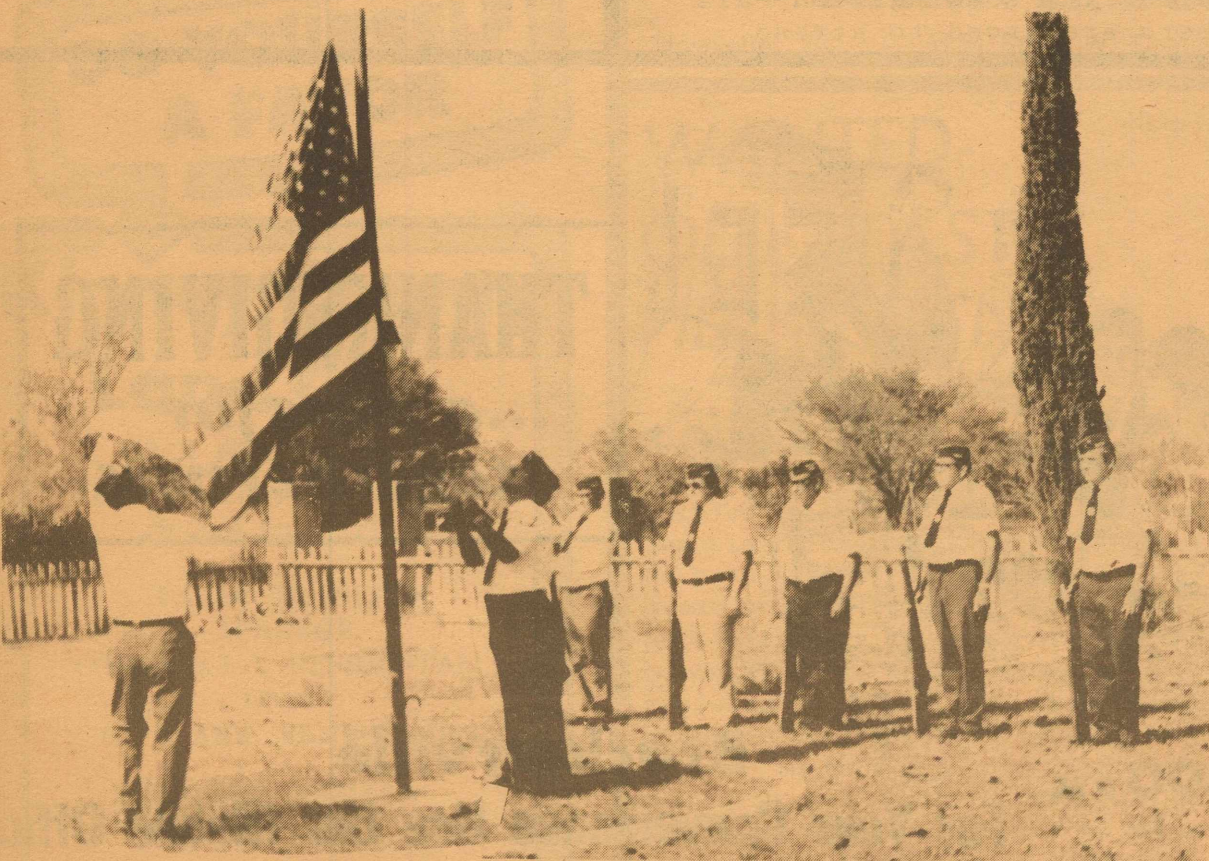

I think all of us realize that Brackett must have expanded bank facilities.

There are other old historic buildings in this town that should be preserved. The time to think about preserving them is BEFORE someone plans to tear them down! In one small town in Texas recently, the historical society and the high school senior class raised $2500 and bought an old saloon building. The class and the historical society restored the building, which they now rent. The rent income goes back into a fund to restore other old buildings and there fore bring additional income into the restoration fund.

One of the things that has held up progress in our community is THERE IS NOT A SINGLE BUILDING IN THIS TOWN FOR A PROSPECTIVE NEW BUSINESS TO LEASE OR RENT!! This includes an office for a professional person. (Our new dentist has to settle for an office in the old jail building; ain't that great.) Most new businesses can not afford to stock their establishment and then buy land and pay for the construction of a new building.

If a group would get organized and restore an old building, I doubt if it would stay vacant long.

Veteran's Honored

Honoring those who died in the service of their country, the Brackettville Veteran's of Foreign Wars, Post 8921, placed flowers on local graves, November 11. An honor guard of Brackettville veterans conducted the ceremony.

to the editor

November 22, 1976

Dear Mr. Loos:

This is in regard to the letter published in the CAVALRY-MAN, November 12th, concerning the Athletic Complex on the Camp Wood road.

The main purpose in answering the letter in question is to clarify certain remarks in the letter that do not state the true facts.

On November 4, 1975, there was a public meeting held at the Civic Center to discuss the possibility of building the new athletic facilities. The results of that meeting were published in this newspaper on November 7, 1975. The following meeting of the Booster Club was also held at the Civic Center to further discuss this project, and at that time was no opposition to said project and the Booster Club took over the sponsorship.

The Booster Club appeared at several service clubs to present the project as well as talking to individuals and groups of people on what plans were being made to develop the athletic facilities.

Also a scale model was put on display at business places.
During this time we did not receive any criticism or opposition as to what was being planned.

During this planning stage,
the pros and cons were discussed so that everyone would be informed as to the purpose and needs as well as short comings to moving these facilities.

As to the other statements made in the letter published November 12th, we feel that every one is entitled to his opinion and should feel free to express it.

Our only concern is to state the facts as to what steps were taken to inform the public before the project was started.

At any time we would be more than happy to answer anyone's question concerning the new athletic facilities. It is not a secret project, nor is it for "a half dozen" affluent few.

Sincerely,

/s/ Charles Koch
President,
Brackettville Tiger
Booster Club

GARDEN CLUB

The November meeting of the Retama Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Paul O'Rourke, with Mrs. David Blair and Mrs. Ralph Blahnik assisting.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Armijo, Park Naturalist, assisted by Barbara J. Voss of the National Park and Wildlife Service, Amistad Area, Del Rio, presented the program "Plants and Their Use," explaining plant changes from ten thousand years ago to the present time on some of our native plants, and how man, from the beginning of his time to the present, has used these plants for food medicine, and material. One of these plants is the familiar Century plant. In Mexico and Central America where it is known as Maguey, the sap is fermented to make the well known tequila. The root is said to taste like sweet potatoes.

Among many other interesting and useful plants of our area were mentioned: Mesquite bean for calcium and also good in treating diabetes. The bark can be used for paint. Prickly Pear, vitamin C, for salads, vegetable, and the bud for jelly. Cattails also have edible parts.

Among the flowers useful to man are the sunflower, cenizo (Texas sage) good for asthma, and many blooming plants which furnished material for honeybees. The lechuguilla contains cortisone.

Out-of-town visitors were Mrs. W. B. (Eleanor) Preston of San Marcos, Rose Schwartz of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

New members are Ruth Haywood of British Columbia, Canada, Alberta Wiersma of Grand Rapids, Michigan, Jessie LeCount of Washington, and Betty McMichael, Fort Clark.

WANTED- OLD PLASTIC PILL BOTTLES

The United Methodist Church in Brackettville has taken on a continuing drive to save plastic pill bottles to send to the G.W. Harley Memorial Center in Monrovia, Liberia. We have discovered that there is a great need in tropical Africa for such pill bottles, according to the administrator, because they keep the medicines from melting. We are asking everyone in the community to join with us in this project. You may drop your pills bottles (plastic only, no glass because of danger of breakage) at the church or in a box at Sweet's Pharmacy. If you have old medicines which may be out of date, why not let Mr. Sweet see if they are still good. Any help you can give us with this project would be greatly appreciated.

CB BREAK

BY THE SKY PILOT

The central word about being a good "C.B.'er" is courtesy. A person quickly reveals his true character on CB. If he seeks to "out loud" and "over lord" other CB'ers, he shows himself to be a selfish, thoughtless individual. If he disregards good taste and uses words or says things that are not in good taste, he reveals himself as a rebellious smart aleck, immature person. If he allows his talking to interfere with the talking and listening of others, he reveals himself to be a spoiled insecure person who intentionally or carelessly reveals his lack of courtesy and considerations for other's privileges. No one has the right to infringe on the privileges of others. This is why the FCC sets out limitations. Generally, however, is one would infringe on others, he could not care less what the law says. He governs himself on the basis of what he can get by with. This type of CB'er will eventually be taken care of by other CB'ers. Be courteous, considerate and gracious; you will not only enjoy your CB, but will make others "on the air" appreciate you.

also

The "Black and White", the "local yokel", the "County Mountry" are basically benefactors of the general public. In a few cases they are pushed to make their jobs money-makers for the city or the county. This is a real tragedy. In no way can the amount of money brought into a governmental entity by fines, be a measurement of effective law enforcement. Indeed, good law enforcement should produce very little money. Large amounts of money indicate law violations, not enforcement.

Because the "bear" is a benefactor he deserves cooperation of every CB'er. Despite the use of CB's to locate the "bears" traffic generally is much slower under the 55 mph speed limit. CB's can be very useful to the Highway Patrol and other officers, but there must be a feeling of respect and cooperation on the part of both the officer and CB'er.

There is no effective way to get a drunk driver off the highway than effective use of CB's. Helpful traffic information regarding weather, wrecks, stray animals, can easily be passed by CB's than any other way. Soon there should be a loose joined "organization" nation wide of CB operators working with law enforcement officers for the benefit of all -- this is as it should be. All the good numbers to you -- we'll be 10-10 and out of it. Thanks for the channel.

COMMISSION SETS GOALS

The Texas Commission on the Arts & Humanities has included eight goals in its appropriation request for state funds this year. Establishing these goals is part of the Commission's master plan to increase technical assistance, while maintaining at the same time financial support for the arts in Texas.

THESE GOALS ARE:

- To expand the programs in the arts to specifically include small towns and rural areas throughout Texas.
- To expand opportunities for special audiences such as Texans of varied ethnic backgrounds, senior citizens, handicapped persons, and people in correctional facilities.
- To emphasize the importance and benefits of financial participation in arts and humanities to Texas business leaders.
- To develop a cooperative effort with organizations in metropolitan areas to promote programs of statewide esthetic and economic importance
- To encourage educational opportunities in the arts and humanities for Texans of all ages through community and educational organizations.
- To develop an information network to promote better communication, increased cooperation, and more effective program planning and presentation among individuals and organizations in the arts.

To urge cooperation among cultural, financial business, and government organizations to improve the cultural climate of Texas.

The Commission feels technical and informational services is one of its major roles. It routinely identifies desires, resources, and helps with program planning in the arts across the state. The Commission also consults with arts councils and other arts organizations throughout Texas about promotion, fundraising, management, and structure and by-laws.

Between Us

by:

JOE TOWNSEND

Two men were talking when one asked the other, "If you could take $100,000 from some big corporation and you knew no one would ever know - would you do it?" After a little while the man said, "You know a big corporation would hardly miss the money and I could surely use it for a lot of good. I believe I would." The other man then said, "If you were walking down the street and there was not another person around and you came to a blind crippled beggar with a $5 bill in his tin cup that he didn't know was there, would you take it?" The man very indignantly said, "Why, what do you think I am? Certainly not!" The first man said, "We've already established what you are, we're now trying to determine your price."

Some people seem to think there are degrees of honesty. No, a person is either honest or dishonest - no grey neutral zone in between. A person that would lie, would steal. When a politician makes campaign speeches and pre-election promises, and changes his course after the election, he has proved himself a liar and hence dishonest - watch him. When a business man professes to sell cheaply and his prices are high - he's dishonest - watch him. When a man professes to be your friend and seeks to destroy your good name when your back is turned, he's dishonest - watch him. A man dishonest in one area will be dishonest in another. Honesty is not limited to money or to one part of life. An honest man is honest in every facet of living. So is a dishonest man, dishonest in all of living.

SWTJC

UVALDE--Southwest Texas Junior College filled the first place girls' rodeo team November 12 in the Wharton Junior College rodeo competition in Simonton.

The SWTJC boy's rodeo team placed sixth out of 23 schools entering the season's first regional National Inter-collegiate Rodeo Association competition.

"The points we made in this first rodeo," commented team coach Chilton Stoner, "count toward going to the national finals in Montana. It's a good start."

Girls' team members who rode their way to a championship finish are Charlotte Gulley of Uvalde, Suzanne Snyder of San Antonio and Sita White of Three Rivers. Miss Gulley won the barrel racing competition with a time of 15.49 seconds, and Miss Snyder placed third in breakaway calf roping.

Members of the boys' team competing in the rodeo are Clay Billings of Bandera, Tim Barton of San Antonio, Jerry Speer of Carrizo Springs, Scott Brauchle of San Antonio, Sam Garza of Tilden, and Robin Brittain of Sinton.

Brauchle placed third in bareback riding while Garza and Speer placed fifth in head and heeling.

Miss Gulley, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gulley of Uvalde, was recently named the All-Around Cowgirl at the SWTJC Rodeo Club "Playnight" held November 4.

"The team members who participated in this rodeo will not necessarily be the same people to represent the college during our new rodeo competition in December," Stoner said. "The team changes for almost every rodeo."

TIPS FOR GREEN THUMBS

by: JOE TOWNSEND

We are having ideal weather for plants, trees, and lawns. There is enough moisture to save watering. There is enough warmth to prevent losing plants by frost or freeze. As the ground becomes dry enough, now is the time to prepare flower beds for spring planting. It is a good idea to mix heavily into the soil some coarse ground bark mulch. This will keep the soil loose and yet will retain moisture. By spring planting time, the bed should be in ideal condition. Then just before planting, work some good all purpose fertilizer into the soil. If proper watering is done and the proper plants are selected for the bed, you can be guaranteed beautiful flowers in spring and summer. Half the battle is to be fought now. A little time, energy, and money spent now will pay beautiful dividends in the months ahead.

With Thanksgiving just past and Christmas just around the corner, BHS students have really swung into high gear with their activities.

The FHA Mother-Daughter Banquet was held Monday night at the Home Economics cottage. The FHA girls prepared everything themselves and everyone had a great time. The featured speaker was Cathy Calhoun from Nueces Canyon.

The elementary teachers got a small break Monday and Tuesday. The High School speech class students went to the first, second, and third grades to read stories to the students. Those participating in this included Richard Bryant, Ruben Cervantez, Ana Guajardo, Frances Hernandez, Marion Johnson, Debra Longoria, Walter Lucas, Becky Resendez, Dennis Robinson, Maria Rodriguez, Dusty Slubar, Kaye York, and Herman Riegal.

Students are reminded that December 15 is the absolute final day to order an annual for 1977, according to editors Marión Johnson and Tony Koch.

Several seniors heard representatives from two colleges Monday. Throughout the year, several colleges will send people to our campus to recruit prospective students.

FFA boys will go Christmas tree chopping, December 8. The proceeds from this sale will be used for various FFA activities.

Carl Esser Reports:

CATTLE MARKETING SEMINAR SLATED

San Antonio--Producing cattle for a particular segment of the beef market is one way Southwest Texas cattle producers can increase income.

Learning what types and grades of animals the various segments of the market are favoring could help cattlemen gear their management in the direction of producing those kinds of animals. With this goal in mind, people representing Texas feedlots, western feedlots, and packers will be present for a one-day Beef Cattle Marketing Workshop here Dec. 3.

The workshop will be held in the Auction Building at the San Antonio Union Stock Yards beginning at 1 p.m.

"We are going to have a grade, type, and pricing demonstration utilizing live animals," said Dr. LeRoy Hoermann, an area livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde.

"We think this kind of knowledge will assist our Southwest Texas producers in making management decisions which will lead to the production of calves for a particular segment of the market. We think this is one way to maximize income within the depressed cattle business."

During the demonstration, representatives of the various markets will tell producers what type of animal they favor and what they would pay for that animal. A federal inspector also will grade the animal during the demonstration.

"It is hoped that this demonstration will give our producers some hints as to what these various buyers are looking for in terms of types and grades of cattle," Dr. Hoermann said.

The livestock specialist said this is not an easy subject to deal with, especially since two distinctly different types of cattle might grade the same. "It boils down to what the particular market is looking for in terms of cattle," he said. "Knowing this will help producers decide what market they would like to aim for in their production arrangement."

The panel discussion will be moderated by Dr. O.D. Butler, head of the animal science department at Texas A&M University. Panel participants will include Leon Miller, president of Alta Verde Industries in Eagle Pass; Maurice Harrell, owner of the Harrell Cattle Co. in Gonzales; Dudley Campbell, president of Chaparrosa Agri-Services Inc. of San Antonio; Joe Bray, officer-in-charge of the Texas Federal Marketing News Service in San Antonio and Dave Folger, a buyer for Swift and Co. in San Antonio.

Other participants will include Lewis Watson, chairman of the Southwest Texas Agricultural Resources (STAR) program; and Willie Mund, chairman of the STAR Beef Cattle Task Force.

Sponsors for the workshop, in addition to STAR, include the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Union Stock Yards.

Preserving a Historical building just to preserve it accomplishes nothing. That building must be put to some productive use...it must be maintained...this costs money... and someone has to pay the bills.

I lived in San Antonio most of my adult life and I have seen the results of the San Antonio Conservation Society. This well meaning group has preserved a number of old historic buildings. In most cases they sit empty and people driving by wonder what they are. They have, in my opinion, hindered the growth of downtown San Antonio to where it is on the verge of bankruptcy..... They cost the taxpayers millions of dollars on the north expressway alone. I would be the first one to agree to saving the old buildings here but, to keep them from fallin down they must be productive. Don't close the gate after the cow gets out!

If you want to talk about history...this country was founded on the FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM. HISTORICALLY it has been the greatest in the world. The First State Bank is a free enterprise operation...the people that own it have invested their money,,,if they make a profit they get a dividend..if they don't,their money earns nothing...But you will still get your interest on time deposits!

I LOVE OLD BUILDINGS, BUT IF AMERICA HAS TO GIVE UP THE FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM, I WOULD RATHER SEE THEM TEAR DOWN ALL THE OLD BUILDINGS FIRST!! BOY, AM I GONNA CATCH HELL OVER THIS ONE!
