Mr. Willis Butler lost his life when the car pictured above was hit on highway 90 by an eighteen wheeler.

Fort Clark resident loses life

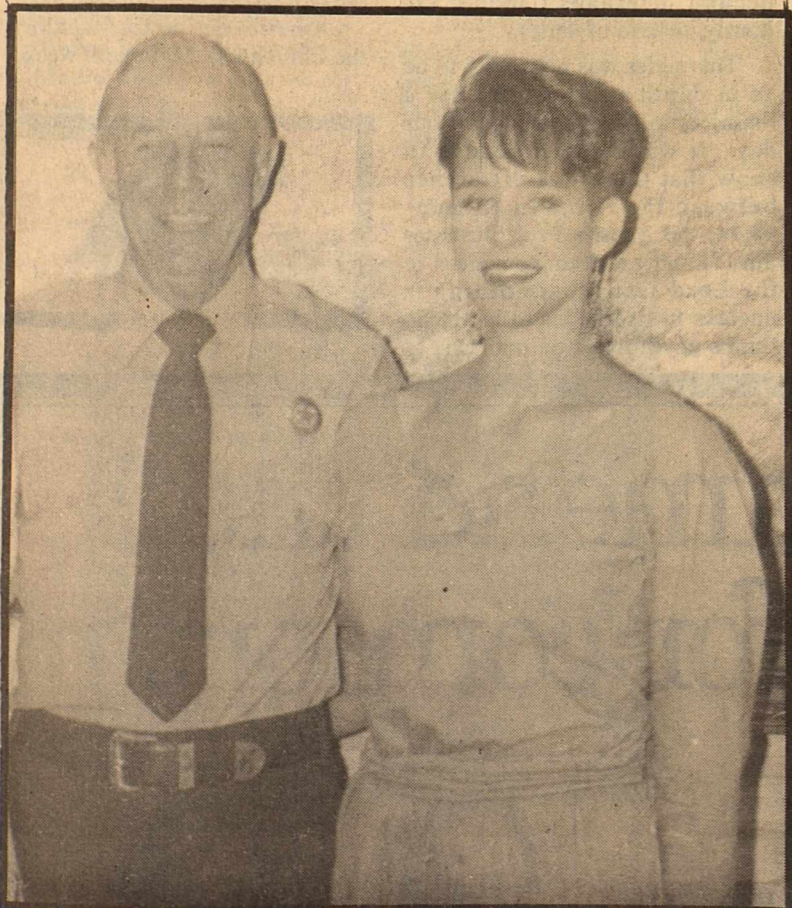

By Cavalryman Staff Writer

On September 20th, 1991, a resident of Fort Clark Springs, lost his life in a traffic accident. Mr. Willis Butler was leaving the Fort Clark Gate turning West on Highway 90 when an eighteen wheeler, driven by Terry Dennis Lamont, headed East, struck his small compact car. Mr. Butler apparently had not seen the semi approaching. The car was crushed on the drivers side and subsequently thrown across the road and into the ditch on the opposite side of the road. Justice of the Peace, Alvin Hall pronounced Mr. Butler dead at the scene. Highway Patrol Officer Roberto Cano investigated the accident with the assistance of local authorities.

This reporter arrived on the scene about 10 minutes after the accident and upon making inquiries of an observer who stated, "We were having a cup of coffee, my friend and I, at the Gateway Cafe when we heard the loud screeching brakes. We looked out the window and saw the back end of an eighteen wheeler sliding across Highway 90. We ran outside to see what happened. Just then we saw a small white car that the truck had hit flung into the ditch in front of the Kinney County Real Estate Office." To my dismay, I then learned that my friend Willis Butler, had gone HOME to be with the Lord. "Rest in Peace, Bill, we will all miss you."

As our community continues to grow and more and more cars are on the streets, we are reminded to use caution especially when crossing Highway 90, so as to prevent another tragic accident befalling our citizens.

Warren Outlaw and Jenny Hood are preparing for their state exams to become certified peace officers in the State of Texas.

Warren Outlaw and Jenny Hood excel in law officers' school

Cavalryman Staff Writer

Warren Outlaw and Jenny Hood, who are attending the Southwest Texas Regional Law Enforcement Academy, have completed their first and second tests that graduates need to continue in the Law Enforcement Academy.

Out of 42 students, these two tests have eliminated 23 students, so this goes to show the intensity of the courses. Now, Mr. Outlaw and Miss Hood are preparing for their State Exams, this will certify them as peace officers anywhere in the State of Texas.

Mr. Outlaw is the oldest cadet to go through this Academy. He is a resident of Fort Clark Springs. Miss Hood is the daughter of Jean and Don Hood of Fort Clark Springs.

Seminole Indian Scouts descendants celebrate their 119th anniversary

Cavalryman Staff Writer

The celebration of the Seminole Indian Scouts descendants Association's 119th anniversary was held on September 21st-22nd, 1991.

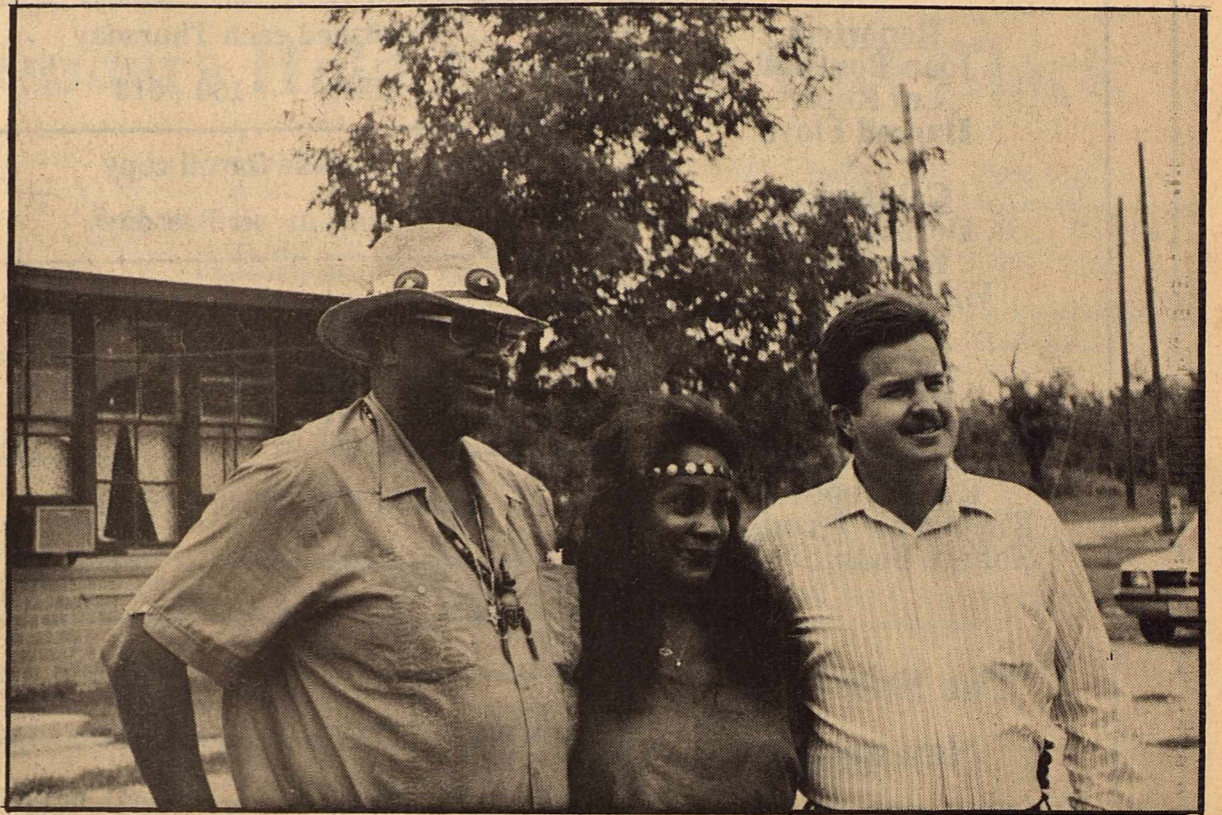

The day began with a parade through town which traveled on to Carver Park. There the winners of the parade were announced. Coming in First Place was a very artistically decorated car owned and driven by Miss Charles Wilson depicting her ancestors moving from Fort Clark to the town of Brackettville. Second place went to the Headstart Float carrying the little King and Queen and their court. Third place was awarded to the ambulance for being the cleanest unit and most faithful to all parades. Honorable mention went to the two horse back riders from the Laughlin AFB Saddle Club.

The program following the parade was chaired by Miss Charles Wilson. She introduced the guest speaker Bishop Lonnie Green Jr. from the Bible Way Church of Christ in Del Rio, Tx. The theme of his speech was "Duty, Honor and Country and what the present day Seminole can do." He said "this is a time for us to think of our country and not just ourselves."

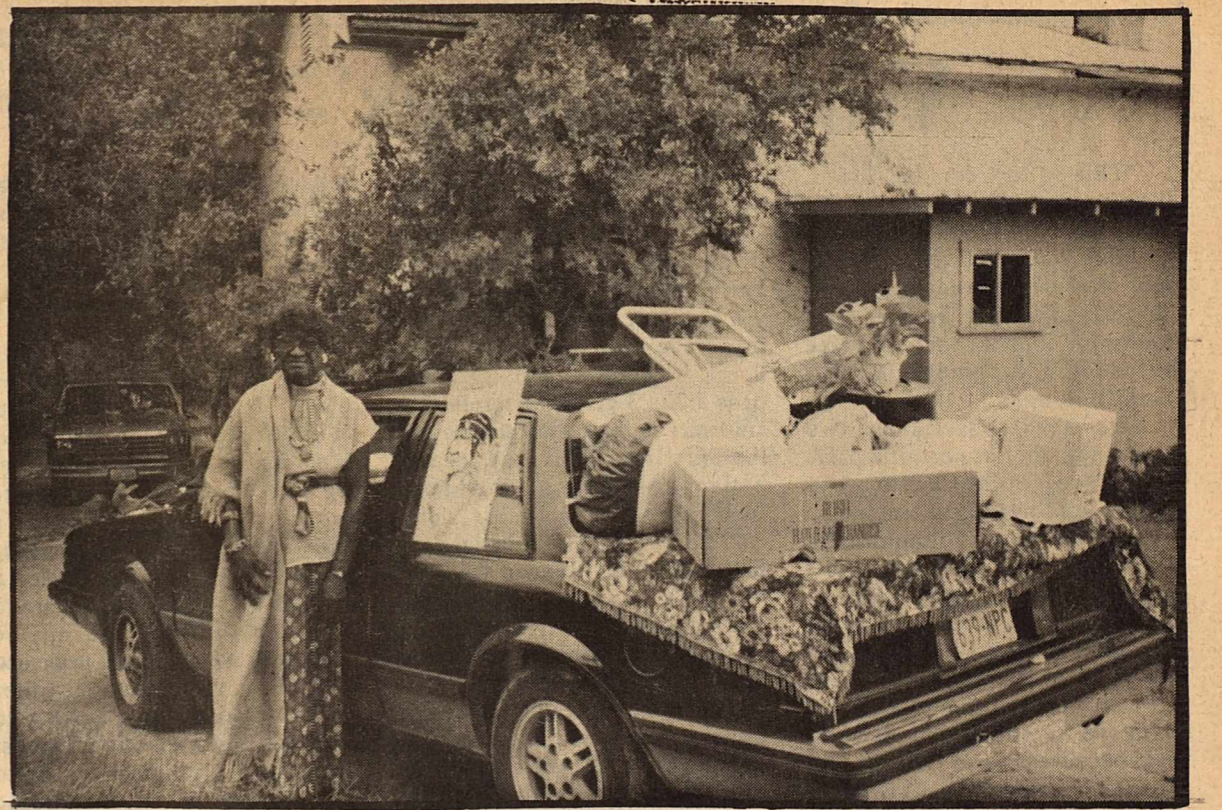

Guests were then recognized by Miss Wilson. Among them was Rev. and Mrs. Curly Daniels. Rev. Daniels is the son of Sam and Eliza Daniels and is 82 years young. He said at 32 he didn't think he would live to see 35 as he drank, fought and in general was not the kind of man his mother wanted him to be. But he said she prayed everyday for him and one night the Lord spoke to him and he changed his ways and started to do His work. Rev. Daniels stated we can all work for the Lord if we let ourselves listen to him. Other guests were Almanique Jacquet and her mother "Lou" from San Diego, Calif. She is with the New Film Service of San Diego, California with offices in London and Europe. She is researching the Black Seminole Indian and her company is hoping to make a documentary on this subject. Also attending were Louise Howard and Wallace Allen from Los Angeles, Calif. They are gathering information on the Seminole Indians to make a documentary presentation to the children across the country to educate them on the History of their ancestors.

F.L. (Doc) Spellmon, an artist depicting black art also attended from San Antonio, Tx.

A bar-b-que and fellowship

Ms. Charles Wilson really went all out for the parade. Not only was her dress very unique but her car depicted history in itself. Lots of thought went in to the dress and car.

was held on the old Carver School Grounds Saturday followed by Memorial Services Sunday at the Seminole Cemetery Grounds. Miss Wilson again presided. Hymns were sung and Rev. Adams of St. John Baptist Church in Brackettville, Tx. gave a blessing. His wife, Mrs. Adams, also led a prayer and asked all people to turn their lives to Jesus. There are over 100 Seminole Scouts buried in the Cemetery including four Medal of Honor recipients, and many ancestors of local citizens.

All attending the weekend celebration found fellowship with their neighbors and expressed a desire for all of the citizens of Brackettville, no matter what race, to live in peace with their neighbors and keep the love of Jesus in their hearts.

The Kinney Cavalryman ends 19 years of service

This will be the last issue of the Kinney Cavalryman that will be put out for now.

Regardless of what you have heard and will hear there are just two reasons for my decision. My first or number one reason is due to the paper not bringing in enough revenue. I no longer can afford to keep it in circulation.

Number two reason, I do not want to spend any more of my life working for a cause that takes money and time from my family, friends and any enjoyments that I may have in what time I have left in this life.

I have enjoyed having this service for the community. I think this community needed a means of communication. When I bought this paper I did not know anyone else was interested in the newspaper business. This community is certainly not large enough to support one paper much less two.

I want to sincerely thank all of our supporters and subscribers for hanging in there with us. Your loyalty and love will never be forgotten.

With all my heart I want to thank my crew that helped me these last five years. Most of them have worked for free to help out because they cared for the paper and for me.

My love and gratitude goes out to Janis Floyd, Harrell Floyd, Wallace Morgan, Joan Boutwell, Kay Smith, Justin Berry, Cordelia Barlow, J.J. Guidry, Lynn Floyd, Cindy Braesicke, Karene Fisher, Kitty Buesteton, D'Ann Clark, Sandy Herman, Les Roper, and last but not least, my loving sister, Ginger Dodson and mother, Sarah Hoover. God bless you all!

Visiting Officials and an inspection team check out the new Senior Apartments

Cavalryman Contributing Writer

This past Tuesday, September 24th, the Inspection team and Officials of the Brackett Senior apartments arrived in Brackettville to check out the completion of said apartments. The inspection was followed by a brunch in the Community Room and a reception for visitors.

The architect, Mr. Wayne Holtzclaw and his wife, Carolyn, from Monroe, La., were on hand as were the following: Tommy Calhoun - General Manager of Calhoun Property Management; Riemer Calhoun, President of Calhoun Builders; and Don David, Supervisor of Calhoun Property Management, from Mansfield, La.

Others attending were resident manager, Pete Pacheo from Brackettville; Jack Anderson, construction inspector for the FHA State Inspection office from Temple, Tx.; and one of the most important officials, Mr. Richard Gramm, assistant District Director of Farmers Home Administration from Junction, Tx.

FHA is the government agency that made the 5-15 apartments possible for Seniors 62 and over, also any age handicap or disabled citizen. Thanks to Mr. Gramm's work on this project thru the FHA, the apartments are now open for occupancy. For further information call Pete Pacheo at 512-563-2705.

Word Studies - Sin Versus Taboos, Part IV - By Ken Curry

"This is My commandment, that you love one another, just as I have loved you" (John 15:12).

"But you, why do you judge your brother? Or you again, why do you judge your brother with contempt? For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ" (Romans 14:10).

I have juxtaposed these two verses together as sort of a basic do and don't of the Christian way of life. Let's take the first verse which is a positive command; "...that you love one another, just as I have loved you." I have underlined the second clause of that sentence, because Christians tend to remember only the first clause, "love one another." I think we remember only the first half because it is so like the Old Testament commandment to "love your neighbor as yourself." You see, if I try real hard, it is possible for me to work up a human love for my neighbor as the OT Law commanded. But Christ told us to love all other Christians with the same amount of love with which He loved us, and that is divine love, not human love. So, Christ's commandment is really a supernatural command that cannot be accomplished by human means; it can only be accomplished by supernatural means. Humans produce human love, but only God can produce divine love! Then how can Christians possibly carry out the command? It is very simple!

There are numerous verses in the New Testament epistles that state that a Christian is indwelt by God the Holy Spirit. Since these verses teach this as an accomplished fact, there is no individual choice left to the Christian. That is, we can't choose if we want to be indwelt by the Holy Spirit or not. We simply are. Now in Galatians 5:16, the Christian is commanded to "walk by the Spirit," and in Ephesians 5:18 the Christian is commanded to be "filled with the Spirit." Both commands mean the same thing, which is to be controlled by the Spirit, and since everything we think or do emanates from a mental attitude, it means to have our minds controlled by the Holy Spirit. But notice, a command is not a statement of fact but rather a potential indicating a choice of free will. We can choose to walk by the Spirit and be filled with the Spirit, or we can choose not to! If we freely choose to have our minds controlled by the Holy Spirit, what are the results? Galatians 5:22-23 gives the results that are listed as fruit; "But the fruit of the Spirit is LOVE, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control..." I have capitalized the first fruit of the filling of the Spirit, love, because it is divine love, not human love! God the Holy Spirit is supernaturally producing in the mind of the Christian that divine love required to carry out Christ's supernatural command to love all other Christians with the same divine love with which He loved us. And if a Christian wants to have true joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control, these are also products of the filling of the Holy Spirit.

In keeping with the same context, Galatians 5:25-26 goes on to say, "If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. Let us not become boastful, challenging one another, envying one another." The last verse is a negative command that paraphrases the opening verse in Romans 14:10. Christians are to love one another, and not be swollen up with spiritual pride and look down their noses at other Christians that don't happen to share their own set of pet taboos. If Christ had commanded us to love all unbelievers, that would have been easy. Unbelievers don't give Christians a hard time about sin and taboos, but other Christians certainly do! Since the only way a Christian can carry out Christ's commandment is through the filling of the Spirit, the fruit of the Spirit enables him to have the proper mental attitude towards other Christians.

We have looked at what the filling of the Spirit is, and what the results of that filling are. But HOW is a Christian filled with the Spirit? What is the technique of being filled? The answer is simple, and is given in I John 1:9; "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." When a Christian is filled with the Spirit but then inadvertently thinks a sin, in that instant the filling of the Holy Spirit stops, and the old sin nature takes over, thus making the Christian "fleshly," or "carnal." The Christian stays in that condition until he confesses his known sins to the Lord, and in that instant he becomes "spiritual," that is, controlled by the Holy Spirit. So the issue for the Christian is daily confession of personal sin, so that a daily control by the Holy Spirit occurs. (Perhaps I should say hourly, instead of daily).

This series was not meant to be an in-depth study of sin, nor a listing of all known taboos of our day. It was rather intended to show that there is a difference between the two. In Romans 14:14, the Apostle Paul illustrates this; "I know and am convinced in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean in itself; but to him who thinks anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean." In other words, if you think a particular taboo is a sin, then to you it is a sin; if you think a particular taboo is not a sin, then to you it is just a taboo and not a sin. The series also tried to show that Christians are to stop judging one another about taboos. Our main job is to prepare ourselves through study of God's word so that we might share the Gospel with the unsaved. A new series on the Rapture of the Church will begin next week.

Selma Pathfinders Hold Events at Fort Clark

Cavalryman Staff Writer

They came from near, they came from afar. Individuals of all ages joined at Fort Clark, September 21 - 22 - 23. They engaged in walking, biking, and swimming events.

The reason for all this activity was the Selma Pathfinders Annual Volkssports - Volkssports literally means a sport of the people. Currently there are four types of Volkssport events: Volksmarch, Volkswim, bicycling, and cross-country skiing. Anyone who completes an event (at their own pace) is declared a winner. If a small registration fee is paid, the participant is also presented with a commemorative award, frequently a medallion or cloth patch. These are individually designed for each event and can form colorful collections. Participants can also receive a rubber stamped mark in their individual "log books." These small paperboard folders have several lines on which a rubber stamp mark is made up on completion of an event. One series of books counts the total number of events in which one has participated.

Phyllis Eagn, President of the Selma Pathfinders, stated that this weekend's events included 2 night walks on Friday, 2 day walks, 2 bike events and 4 swimming events Saturday and Sunday.

The routes were marked with pie plates containing arrows and different colored ribbons. These ribbons were also seen marking the route throughout the Fort.

The Activity Center was headquarters for the Volkssport. Registration was held there and finished events were documented.

(soft) served. There were people from San Antonio, Austin and Fort Clark Springs, Tx., Georgia, Florida and California involved.

The Volkssport is held annually and those who attended this year's event commented on how nice the people of Brackettville and Fort Clark were to them. In particular, the owner Mr. Frerich of STOP and SHOP and our own Recreation Director, Sondra Meil. Also mentioned was the good food supplied to them by Sondra. They all had a good time and hope to return next year.

Eyes are on Josie Monroy

Josie and Jamie had a neighbor in San Antonio who worked part time as a salesperson for Fort Clark Springs. He was always talking about the Fort and wanting them to come see it, so one Sunday they drove down and took a tour, they loved it and brought a membership. This was in July 1973.

Josie was transferred to Warner Robbins A.F.B. Ga. in Dec. 1973 and retired there in 1974. They moved back to San Antonio. In 1979, they became permanent residents of the Fort. Josie is a member of St. Mary Magdalene Church. Her hobbies are ceramics, sewing and crochet.

Josie has just returned from attending a big event in her granddaughter's life. Becky received her Doctorate of Law in August and Josie is very proud of her.

Old Army Days

By Wallace Morgan

By Wallace L. Morgan
Cavalryman Staff Writer

Fort Clark, Texas, circa 1941. Building number 46, during this time was the official Post Guard House, for military prisoner confinement. Around to the side and rear, there was a high fence which enclosed an area for prisoners to be able to have some exercise. If you have ever visited the "Old Guard House Museum," you should have noticed that the cells which are in the cell block are quite small. In addition, there never was any plumbing facilities in the cells. Anyone whom may have been imprisoned in this guard house probably remembered their stay for the rest of their life. Life could not have been very comfortable in these cells as far as hot or cold weather is concerned. Air conditioning or central heat would not have been found in this building during the era in which it was in use as a military confinement facility.

When the 2nd Cavalry Division was posted to Fort Clark, and the 5th Cavalry and the federalized Texas National Guard Cavalry was gone, there was a need for a much larger military prisoner confinement facility. So, a "Stockade" was built, which consisted of World War II type military barracks enclosed in an area with high fencing. The Provost Marshall's office and Military Police barracks were just on the other side of the fence. There was also a solitary confinement building, which remains on Fort Clark Springs through the present time. This area was located in part of an area of where Unit 3 is now located. The main entrance faced Travis Road, just to the east of the non-commissioned officer family housing (now referred to as the "Forty-niners"). It went north and south from Travis for about 3/4ths of the way to Spofford Access Road, (now re-named Scales Road).

If you have not visited the Fort Clark Old Guard House Museum, you certainly should. It is one of the more interesting military museums that I have ever seen.

THE CELTIC EMPIRE: THE FIRST MILLENNIUM OF CELTIC HISTORY c. 1000 B.C. TO 51 A.D., by Peter Berresford Ellis (Carolina Academic Press, $29.95).

In this history of the rise of one of ancient Europe's greatest civilizations, Ellis covers the first millennium of Celtic history. During this period, the Celts dominated the ancient world - from Ireland in the west to Turkey in the east. The author writes that, although the "Celtic Empire" commanded many regions, it was an empire without an emperor or central government, created and perpetuated by independent tribal societies governed by elected rulers - both women and men.

Ellis distills the writings of ancient chroniclers and sources, as well as utilizes corollary archaeological evidence. Documentary evidence reveals that the Celts were the first European people north of the Alps to emerge into recorded history. The history of their civilization, now 3,000 years old and confined to the islands and peninsulas of northwest Europe, needs to be brought into better focus than has been the case until now. In this much-needed, lucid, and expert account, Peter Ellis accords the Celts their proper place in the historical tapestry of Europe.

The Flip Side Commentary "on Classroom Behavior"

By Willis Boutwell
Cavalryman Contributing Writer

A major problem in education across America is willful misconduct by students. Little Johnny, or Mary will ignore an order from teacher and continue to do their own thing. The student does not believe he or she has to obey unless they wish. A little third grader, when asked by his teacher to be quiet, summed it up nicely, "But teacher, I want to talk."

He felt his compulsion to talk more important than his lessons, or his teacher's request for silence.

Add the student who constantly gets out of his seat, and the problem is two-fold. Chances are there is another student who can't resist pinching, punching, or kicking class-mates as he walks by their desks, and you get a pretty good picture of today's classroom.

Let me say here that this article addresses the average classroom. Most schools have classrooms for special education. Where students with emotional problems attend classes. I do not intend this article as an attempt to deal with special education. Although both cases might in part have the same root causes.

If one thinks of education as being a construction process. The following analogy will be fundamental, rather than simplistic. When building a house, one starts with the foundation. Once the foundation is laid the rest of the house is erected on it. Unless there is firm substance such as concrete the foundation is weak. Experience teaches that a house built on a poor foundation will settle and crack. The crack can be patched, but this is a temporary solution. The foundation is the problem.

What is the foundation of education and where is it laid? Home is where the educational process begins, so one expects it to be the foundation. Long before children begin kindergarten and public school, behavioral patterns are set. Some behavioral scientists believe that by age two these are established.

Children who have been taught to restrain their natural impulse to get their own way are self-disciplined. These children make better grades than the child who has not been taught restraint.

I am in no way implying one is more intelligent than the other. It simply means one has a better foundation to build the learning process.

I realize we live in a modern complex society. We need to sit back and rethink our priorities. What is most important to our future? A classroom of self-disciplined children, in an atmosphere that promotes study, or a classroom disrupted by willful conduct. Parents, its you choice!

Library News

By Mary Mitchell, Librarian

In order that we may assist more persons in the County, your library is undertaking the formulation of a Services Directory. As in any sparsely populated area, there are many persons who perform many services who rely entirely on "word of mouth" to publicize their services. As we have a steady stream of newcomers and visitors to our area, and are frequently asked for the names of individuals who perform various services, it was decided that in the interest of service, a written inventory of services and those who perform them would be most beneficial. The success of such an endeavor depends entirely upon the response from those in the service community. Therefore, if you have a talent or a service you perform for remuneration, we would appreciate your coming by the library to complete an application. There will be no charge for those wishing to be listed in the Directory. Think about it! Do you bake good cakes, pies and candy? There are lots of us who don't who still enjoy giving them as gifts or having them available for holiday visitors. Do you embroidery, crochet, or knit? How about babysitting? Window washing? Pet care? Adult respite care? Yard work? Putting in sprinkler systems? Preparing tamales, enchiladas, chili, etc.? Do you offer instruction in some area? Perhaps you are good at Historical / Genealogical research. Maybe you are good at the repair of small or large appliances. Perhaps your forte is creating beautiful draperies or quilts. There are those of you who are capable of creating beautiful clothing. This county is filled with talented people. Our desire is to place these talents in a booklet where those who wish to purchase those talents can find them. Help us help you. Come by your library and complete an application in the first ever "Kinney County Services Directory."

When completed, this document will be available on site at the library. If there is a demand, copies will be available for sale at a nominal fee. Any monies generated beyond the cost of this project will be placed in the Library's designated fund to purchase books for your library.

We wish to thank Mr. Martin R. Sheets, George Foster, Beth Ann Smith, Eileen Voracek, Mr. & Mrs. Larry Cupps, Mr. Bill Morse, and Mildred Harvey for their donation of books and magazines to our library this past week. Too, Linda and Don Wilson donated several books, but most importantly, donated the bible on cassettes for our visually impaired patrons. Thanks to all of you for your generosity and concern for your fellow man.

We have just received a Reference Set entitled: Surgery On File. There are five volumes dealing with Orthopedic and Trauma Surgery; Pediatrics; General Surgery; Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Surgery; and Obstetrics & Gynecology. Each volume is contained with a looseleaf notebook and each page can be removed and copied so that particularly useful information can be copied and kept at home for hand reference. We invite all patrons to come and browse through these and other new books on our front table. There are so many subjects and interests covered.

As always, we invite you to visit the coolest, friendliest little Library in Kinney County.

Rainfall, Foundation designs & Caps on Money on Champions

By Alan L. McWilliams, CEA-AG
Texas Agricultural Extension Service

Rains have fallen in our county in the past two weeks that should have us in great shape going into the fall. I have received (unofficially) 11.5 inches in my rain gauge at home. At its current pace, 1991 will be one of the five wettest years in four decades for most of the state, but that doesn't necessarily mean good news for agriculture.

George Bomer, a meteorologist with the Texas Water Commission in August, says 1991, at this rate, appears to rank with 1958, 1875, 1981, and 1987 as the wettest years since 1951. Many National Weather Service weather stations have had rainfall of 125 to 175 percent of normal year to date amounts through August 28.

Three new publications that give information on foundation problems in the state have been produced by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the College of Architecture at Texas A&M University.

The Publications are designed to assist homeowners, buyers, and builders on the best options when it comes to foundation design, maintenance, and movement.

Buying a home is the single largest investment many people ever make and if the foundation cracks, the value of the home significantly decreases. These publications cost from $1-$2 each, and can be ordered through the Kinney County Extension Office:

- Maintenance of Existing Foundations on Expansive Clay Soils.
- What Prospective Custom Homebuyers Should Know About Foundations.
- Homebuilder Recommendations for Slab-on-Grade Foundations.

The head of the State's 4-H program welcomed last month's decision by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo to limit the cash awards for its champions in youth livestock competition.

Officials of the Houston Livestock Show, largest in the world, had announced that a ceiling would be placed on the amount of money that could be given to winners with champions in youth livestock events.

The grand champion steer this year sold for $221,000 at auction. Under the new rules next year, the owner of the grand champion steer will receive no more than $50,000. Any money the steer brings over that amount will fund scholarships awarded by the Houston Livestock Show. The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo awards $400,000 in scholarships each year to 4-H members -- a significant contribution that may very well be the largest in the nation.

The Extension Service supports the decision for the caps on money as it will allow more opportunities for young people. The Texas 4-H program has more than 402,000 members ages 9-19. About 40,000 members are annually enrolled in some type of animal project and often exhibit cattle, horses, sheep, swine, rabbits and chickens. They are the largest youth group involved in livestock activities.

4-H Animal projects are designed for young people to benefit from the education, hard work and responsibility that goes along with all the rest of the activities. The program continues to help young people make decisions, solve problems, set goals, and learn social skills. 4-H also seeks to teach youngsters how to deal with failures and setback which might occur through positive, productive activities.

Willis Howard Butler

Willis Howard (Bill) Butler of Fort Clark Springs, Brackettville, Texas, died in an automobile accident at midday, September 20, 1991.

Mr. Butler was born August 17, 1901 having recently celebrated his 90th birthday. Bill was married in 1957 to his surviving wife, Anne Kidwell Gibson Butler. He is also survived by a son, Robert W. Butler and his wife, Martha H. Butler, and six grandchildren of Albany, Georgia. Also surviving him is his daughter, Betti Ruth Price, her husband Don, and three grandchildren of Florence, Alabama. He is also survived by ten great grandchildren.

Mr. Butler spent his childhood in Arkansas and Memphis, Tennessee. He learned the electrical trade and became an independent electrical contractor in the state of Alabama in addition to many smaller construction projects, he served as electrical superintendent on the erection of three dams. He took his electrical training into a World War II Navy Construction Battalion (CBS). He later transferred to the regular U.S. Navy from which he retired as a Chief Petty Officer in 1970 with over 20 years of active duty service.

After his retirement Bill and Anne lived in Hanover, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Weslaco and La Feria, Texas before moving to Fort Clark Springs, Brackettville, Texas in 1983.

Mr. Butler was a life member of the AF & AM Grand Lodge of Alabama and an associate member of the local Masonic Lodge. He was also a member of the First Baptist Church, Brackettville, Texas.

Memorials may be sent to the First Baptist Church, Box 308, Brackettville, Texas.

Memorials may be sent to the Masonic Cemetery Care Fund.

Reflections

Ladies quite often wear a necklace with a beautiful cross on it. Church buildings frequently have crosses on them. Whenever we see a cross, we are reminded of Jesus who died for us on that "instrument of suffering and shame."

One of the ordinances (some people say "sacraments") of our Churches is "The Lord's Supper." This ordinance speaks eloquently of the death of Jesus, too.

The bread which is broken pictures or symbolizes the body of Jesus which was broken and crushed from the cross experience. His sufferings were both spiritual and physical. We have no way to measure the intensity of His agony.

The wine from the cup reminds the participant of the blood which Jesus shed for our sins. When Jesus died on the cross, physical blood poured forth from His body. The Son of God, who is also God the Son, gave His life for our sins.

The glorious truth is that "the blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son cleanses us from all sin." Man in reality has no way to atone for his sin. God provides the sacrifice for us through the death of His only Begotten Son.

By faith we accept Jesus as our Substitute. He died for us. He is our Mediator. Paul wrote in verse 5 of I Timothy, chapter 2 that "There is One Mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus." He is the one, eternal sacrifice and mediator for all who believe.

Sunday we are to celebrate the "Lord's Supper" at 11:00 o'clock in our Church. We observe this holy event in memory of Jesus. This sacred memorial is for Christians who have committed their lives to Jesus and who follow Him as the Lord of Life.

But another word is in order. The "bread and wine" of the supper also points forward to the Return of Jesus. Then we'll experience complete redemption of our bodies, too. We'll never grow old again! We'll live in the glorified bodies which will be raised and changed into the likeness of the glorified body of the Lord Jesus.

God is good - gracious, just, holy, and good. What a redemption He provides through the Lamb who was slain for our sins so we might have eternal forgiveness and life without end. For you and me this means glory. Who can't say "Amen" to this truth!

Signs of the times

The love of God is an amazing thing. I have a tremendous respect for God because of his boundless love for his children. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

As a teenager, I accepted the Lord Jesus as my Saviour. I felt His love and forgiveness when I was "born again". However, within three or four years, the world had won my heart again, and I backslid. This simply means that my love for God decreased, and my love for the world increased.

The Word of God tells us, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world, If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." (I John 2:15) There is a good side to this story. Because of His boundless love, the Lord changed my life once again in 1982. In 1982, I was going through a terrible time in my life. Things were becoming very unsettled, even to the point of my thinking there was very little use to go on in life. But one night when the pain was more than I could bare, I slipped out of bed, got on my knees, and asked God to forgive me and take the load off my heart.

The moment I repented of my sins, the load of pain was lifted from me. I again accepted the Lord Jesus as my Saviour. Friend, if your heart is troubled, and the weight of this world has you wondering what to do, cry out to Jesus, the Son of God. When you completely surrender yourself to Him, and call upon His name, His peace will fill your soul.

In Christ's Service.

Tracks along the trail

The perennial hay grass now almost universally known as timothy received its name from Timothy Hanson, but very little is known about him, and the accounts of his connection with it are confusing. Hanson is variously referred to as the one who "first propagated" this grass, who "carried the seed from New York to Carolina from 1720" and who "introduced its cultivation into New England."

Timothy hay is undoubtedly indigenous to Europe and Great Britain, where it still grows wild, although a closely related variety may have been native to the northeastern part of the United States. All evidence, however, indicates that it was first cultivated as an agricultural plant in the New World in the early part of the 18th century.

The earliest known records associate it with Pennsylvania. In 1736, Jared Eliot (1685-1753), physician, Congregational minister and writer of essays on agriculture, wrote in his journal: "Herd grass (known in Pennsylvania as Timothy Grass) -- it is said that herd-grass was first found in a swamp in Piscataqua, (Maine) by John Herd who propagated the same." Herd grass is still used in Great Britain and New England. Benjamin Franklin, writing in 1747, said that "a bushel of clean chaff of timothy or Salem grass will yield five quarts of seed." George Washington refers to timothy several times in his diary. In 1760, he makes the observation that he had "ascertained" that there were "298,000 timothy seeds" in a pound.

Writing at Mount Vernon on Friday, June 24, 1763 he records that he "began to cut Timothy at Ashbards," and on Tuesday, June 25, 1765, he "began to cut my Timothy Meadow on Doeg Run." As early as that year of 1765 we find it stated that Timothy was so called because it was taken from New York to Carolina by Timothy Hanson. The Pennsylvania Gazette listed "timothy seed" soon after the close of the Revolution. Known scientifically as "Phleum pratense," timothy is classed as a cattail grass from the long spikes on which the seed grows.

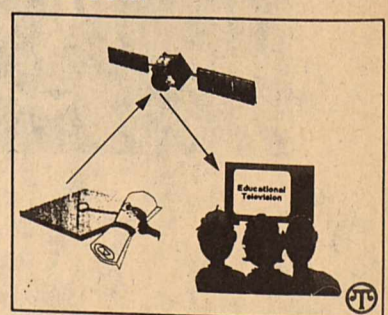

NEWS OF EDUCATION

The Satellite Classroom

"America's children are its greatest resource. The future of America lies in the hands of its children." Enhancing the possibilities inherent in those words is a new teaching technology with out-of-this-world benefits.

Satellite-delivered educational programming, or interactive distance learning, has become the answer to bringing more teachers and expanded curricula to students throughout the country. New, smaller satellite dishes can be quickly and inexpensively installed at a school site. The dishes receive educational programming, broadcast via a GTE Spacenet satellite, which appears in the classroom on a television monitor. Classroom telephones and keypads allow the teacher and students to ask and answer questions.

Congress is supporting the application of this technology in today's classroom. A little-known bill, the Star Schools Program Assistance Act, offers funding assistance to "encourage improved instruction in mathematics, science, and foreign languages as well as other subjects such as vocational education..." The legislation, passed in April, 1989, enables groups such as S.E.R.C. (Satellite Educational Resources Consortium), to pool members' technological and educational resources to help schools meet teacher shortages in critical areas. S.E.R.C. broadcasts to 433 schools in 22 states.

State-supported Kentucky Educational Television (K.E.T.) is currently broadcasting educational programming over a GTE Spacenet satellite to students throughout the state. Students in participating schools are receiving K.E.T.'s Probability and Statistics, and Physics classes. Programs like K.E.T.'s are providing students with access to subjects that otherwise would have been unavailable, thanks to the cooperative efforts of programs like S.E.R.C. and private industry initiatives.

THEN and NOW!

From Yonkers' Apple Trees To Arizona's Mesquite

The very first clubhouse of the very first golf club in the United States was an apple tree in an orchard in Yonkers, New York. Little brown jugs of liquid refreshment adorned its branches, and 13 members who played the six-hole course were known as The Apple Tree Gang.

This was in 1888 and golf clubs and their memberships have undergone a major change. Residential/country club communities are an example.

Consider Quail Creek Country Club, an exciting new adult community in Green Valley, Arizona, just south of Tucson. Bob Childs, developer, says, "We're creating a country club for people who thought they couldn't afford that lifestyle."

Children, an Emerald Homes executive, is building a country club community where single family homes prices start comfortably below six figures. Everyone who purchases a home in the neighborhood automatically belongs to the 42,000 square-foot country club.

The clubhouse and 36 championship holes of golf will be at the heart of the development and offer an impressive variety of activities to its members.

There'll be tennis courts, areas for other outdoor games, fitness trails, formal and informal dining, plus things of which the Apple Tree Gang never dreamed.

The clubhouse will have facilities for conducting business and fitness centers for men and women.

For further information on Quail Creek Country Club call Julie at 1-800-365-8439.

Brackett ISD seeks yearbooks from the past

Brackett ISD is seeking help from the community in acquiring yearbooks missing from its collection. The years that the district is missing are: Prior to 1952, 1953, 1955, 1972, 1982, and 1987. If there are families that have multiple copies from those years, the district would like to purchase them for the historical collection.

The district has multiple copies of yearbooks from some years in the past. The district will sell those books on a first come basis for $20.00 per copy.

If you have copies of the years mentioned above or if you are interested in purchasing an old yearbook please contact Cindy Brandt in the Superintendent's office for more information.

Panthers Claw Tigers

Cavalryman Sports Writer

The Tigers suffered their third straight loss, Friday night at Nueces Canyon. Even though they racked up 400 yards total offense the Brackett defense gave up 471 yards and 33 points.

On the Tiger's opening drive, quarterback Adrian Pena threw a 54 yard pass to wingback Lynn Floyd. Floyd was brought down from behind on the 3 yard line. On the next play, fullback Michael Flores ran it in for the score. Tevin Senne kicked the extra point as the Tigers went up 7-0 with 10:23 left in the opening stanza. Brackett's defense fell asleep on Canyon's first play from scrimmage as Oscar Saucedo ran 60 yards for the touchdown. The extra point kick was good to tie the score 7-7.

Arthur Nevarez scored later in the first quarter to put Campwood up 13-7. The extra point try was blocked by Scott Sims.

The Tigers started their next drive on their own 39 yard line. On fourth down, Angel Jaso ran a fake punt to get the first down. The offense drove it down to the Panther 19 when Pena threw a 12 yard strike to tightend David Dorrough. Mike Flores walked into the end zone on the next play. Senne again booted in the extra point to put Brackettville up 14-13 as the first quarter ended.

Nueces Canyon nearly scored again late in the second period as they drove it down to the Tiger 5 yard line. The Tigers recovered a loose ball and ran out the remaining few minutes of the first half.

The Panthers received the ball and again on their first play scored on a 62 yard pass from Jason Horner to Arthur Nevarez. The conversion failed as Nueces went up 19-14.

The tigers gave up two more touchdowns in the fourth period. Nevarez and Saucedo scored on a run of 18 and 9 yards. The score, with 6:22 left in the game was Nueces Canyon 33, Brackett 14.

The Tigers were down but not out as they nearly made a remarkable comeback. After a kick-off return of 30 yards from Dorrough, the Tigers were deep in Panther territory. They set up another touchdown as Pena threw a screen pass to J.J. Sandoval as he ran 22 yards for the score. The 2 point conversion failed as the score was 33-20 with under four minutes to play.

The Panthers were held on downs on their next possession. With 46 seconds left Pena ran 82 yards for the touchdown. Lynn Floyd went in for the 2 point conversion. Time ran out on the Tigers for a final score of 33-28.

Adrian Pena had 5 out of 9 completions for 140 yards. Runningbacks Juan Dominguez, Flores, Lesly Floyd, Pena, Angel Jaso, and John Ingram all contributed with yardage for a total of 260 yards of rushing!!

Lack of defense and poor tackling cost Brackett the ball game. "We did a good job of moving the football, but we couldn't stop them," Gregg Nowlin said; "We still need to play a complete game with our offense and defense working together."

It's Homecoming week as the Tigers take on the Rocksprings Angoras, Friday, September 27th. The angoras are 2-1 while Brackett fall to 0-3.

Tigerettes lose close match

By Lynn Floyd
Cavalryman Sports Writer

The Varsity Tigerettes played another excellent game Tuesday afternoon but fell short to the Natalia Palominos. Natalia is still undefeated in district at 3-0 while the Tigerettes fall to 1-3.

Throughout the match the ladies from Brackett showed outstanding hustle as they put the ball in play after it bounced off the back walls and the ceiling.

On game point of the first game the ball was set to 5'1" Jenifer Shahan and she delivered a spike that the Palominos will not forget for the win. Natalia then realized that they were up for a tremendous battle.

In game two the Palominos took a quick 9-2 lead before Brackett started to get their game plan together. The Tigerettes scored 7 unanswered points to tie the score, but it still wasn't enough as Natalia ended up winning 15-13.

It came down to the wire in the third and deciding game. Support from the fans and bench fired up the Tigerettes as they came back on the court. Brackett took a commanding 8-3 lead with the accuracy of Theresa Terraza's serves and the spiking of Wendy McDaniel not being outdone until, Natalia's size and talent quickly put them into the ball game. The lead went back and forth until the score was tied at 14. The Palominos won the game 16-14 with two booming serves.

Even though the Tigerettes came up short, it looked as if they played their best game of the season thus far. They go on the road Tuesday, October 1st to Asherton.

1991 4-H Gold Star Winner

Kinney County 4-H'er, NANCY AGUIRRE, has received the 1991 4-H Gold Star Award. The Gold Star is the highest county 4-H award provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Outstanding 4-H members who have achieved high standards of excellence in their work may be chosen annually from each county in the state to receive this honor. Selection is made on the basis of personal developments, leadership, outstanding achievement in 4-H projects and activities and overall contribution to the 4-H program.

Nancy has completed projects in sheep and goats, clothing, foods and nutrition, and rabbits in her 8 years in 4-H. She has served as county secretary, president of the Rabbit Project and junior leader of the foods and nutrition project. She has exhibited the Grand Champion pen of rabbits at the Kinney County Livestock Show. She is the 17 year old daughter of Roberto and Maria Eresmi Aguirre and a Senior at Brackett High School. Nancy hopes to pursue a career in medicine after graduation.

Congratulations to Nancy on achieving this county award. She and 22 other 4-H members from the Southwest Extension District were also honored at the 4-H Gold Star Luncheon with over 100 parents, honorees, and guests attending. The 4-H program also recognizes Central Power and Light for their contribution to the 4-H program in Texas.

Brackett Independent School District Requests Courtesy and Respect for the Rights of others

The Brackett ISD Board of Trustees and Administration request that the use of airhorns and other loud noisemakers be limited. When they are used, they should be directed away from others in the surrounding seats and they should be used selectively during the contest.

District Officials understand that the noisemakers are used as an expression of support for the team. However, the number of complaints received about their use indicates that many fans view them as a hinderance to their enjoyment of the game.

Please be considerate of the rights of others.

1991-92 Influenza season approaches

Baylor College of Medicine

HOUSTON--North Americans could be in for a repeat of the 1989-90 influenza season when 50,000 people died of flu-related illnesses.

The two influenza strains expected to dominate the 1991-92 season are A/Beijing and A/Taiwan, each named for the area where it was first observed.

"The 1990-91 season was predominantly influenza B so we expect influenza A to be dominant for 1991-92," said Dr. W. Paul Glezen, chief epidemiologist at the Influenza Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Outbreaks of influenza A are frequently more severe than type B. The epidemic two years ago was the worst in 20 years.

A complicating factor, Glezen said, is that many elderly people, who comprise the major influenza high-risk group, were born or went through childhood prior to the emergence of the A (H3N2) strain, of which A/Beijing is a variant. As a result, they have not built up resistance through prior exposure.

Help is available, however, because the vaccine for this flu season protects against A/Beijing and A/Taiwan as well as against B/Panama, another strain that could appear.

But, despite the availability each year of an effective vaccine, thousands of people most at risk from flu complications fail to get vaccinated, he said.

"The elderly are the single largest group of people who should get flu shots," Glezen said.

"They are particularly susceptible to such serious flu complications as pneumonia."

The ideal time for flu shots is long before the appearance, usually in December, of the first cases. Glezen suggests being vaccinated by Thanksgiving at the latest. It takes two weeks for a flu shot to provide full protection.

The elderly are not the only ones who should guard against the flu. Other high-risk groups include people with heart disease; lung disease, including asthma and chronic bronchitis; diabetes; chronic kidney disease; and chronic anemia, including sickle cell disease.

Also at high risk are people, such as health-care workers, likely to come into contact with those in the other high-risk groups.

Influenza usually strikes suddenly and produces fever, generalized muscle pain, weakness and a dry, hacking cough.

People younger than 21 should use only aspirin-free pain relievers. Aspirin has been associated with Reye's syndrome, a complication of flu and chicken pox that can cause vomiting, convulsions, brain damage and death in children.

Brackett J.V. gored by Rams

By Lynn Floyd
Cavalryman Sports Writer

The Brackett J.V. played the Del Rio Freshman Blue team last Thursday night. It was an evenly matched game as the Tigers only had 2 sophomores and the rest were freshman on the roster. Brackett lost 18-0, but played aggressively throughout the game.

The Tigers started on their own 46 yard line. On fourth down, Jason Sciba's punt was blocked and recovered by Del Rio. Two plays later, the Rams fumbled and the ball was picked up by Jesse Terrazas. On first down, Del Rio intercepted Sciba's pass and moved into Tiger territory. The Rams couldn't convert on fourth down and Brackett took over. The rest of the first quarter was a "see saw" battle as no one scored.

The Ram's first score came on a 4 yard run from Juan Garcia with 3:59 left in the second quarter. The 2 point conversion failed and Del Rio went ahead 6-0. The Tigers started their next drive on the 25 yard line only to fumble. The Rams scored 3 plays later as Juan Garcia went in from one yard out. The conversion again failed and the Rams went up 12-0. With only a few ticks remaining on the clock, running back, Domingo Villarreal ran 60 yards for what should have been a score, but was called back because of an illegal blocking penalty. The score was 12-0 going into half time.

The only other scoring came in the fourth quarter with 15 seconds left, as Del Rio's Edward Maldonado ran 10 yards for the touchdown. The final score was 18-0 in favor of the Rams.

Notice of Election

An election of a soil and water conservation district director to serve in Zone three on the West Nueces - Las Moras Soil & Water Conservation District is scheduled for October 8, 1991 at Villa's Restaurant, located 1 mile west of Brackettville on Hwy. 90, announced Mr. Bret Trant, Chairman of the Board. The election will be held at 12:00 noon.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director election, a person must own agricultural land within the district where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be 18 years old.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district. Soil and Water conservation district directors serve four-year terms of office.

Zone three of the district includes an area from a line beginning at the intersection of the west Kinney County line and Ranch Road 2523, thence east on Ranch Road 2523 to its intersection with Ranch Road 3008, thence south along Ranch Road 3008 to its intersection with U.S.

Highway 90, thence east along U.S. Highway 90 to its intersection with Pinto Creek, thence northeast along Pinto Creek to its intersection with Ranch Road 674, thence north along Ranch Road 674 to the north Kinney County line, thence west along the north Kinney County line to the west Kinney County line; thence south along the west Kinney County line to the point of beginning.

Current members of the board of directors of the West Nueces - Las Moras SWCD are Chairman Bret Trant, Vice-Chairman Stan Conoly, Secretary Tully Shahan, Member Jim McDaniel and Member P.H. Coates, III.

The purpose of the West Nueces - Las Moras SWCD is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on agricultural lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers, ranchers, and local community entities on conservation matters.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator or other potential users of the SWCD's programs.

OH, COME NOW!... SURELY SOMEBODY REMEMBERED TO BRING THE ROCKS?

History of the Seminole Indian Scout Cemetery

Miss Charles Emily Wilson

The History of the Seminole Cemetery is as unique and historical as the Indian Scouts who are buried there. Approximately 100 or more Negro Seminole Scouts who played a major role in protecting the Texas Frontier from hostile Indians are buried there, with the descendants and families of the scouts.

The Negro Seminole Indian Scout Cemetery was established in September 1872, on the Fort Clark Reservation. April 14, 1881, the Scouts fought their last Indian battle following the final important raid on Texas soil near the Rio Grande.

At that time the cemetery was under supervision of Deacon Tony Wilson, who left us many years ago. "Uncle Tony", also left us with a constant sense of pride, to be proud of our ancestors and their accomplishments. "To preserve and hallow these grounds that these dead may not have died in vain."

After the passing away of "Uncle Tony", Mr. Warren Perryman (Uncle Warren we respectfully called him) became chairman of our group. He passed away and was buried in Fort Stockton, California in recent years.

Uncle Warren was responsible, helped by the City Officials, for obtaining from the War Department, about 1940, headstones that now mark the graves of over 100 scouts. His principles and ideals were: Be proud of your heritage, do not forget the graves of these scouts, honor and cherish them.

During these years there was a period of disinterest and complacency, when families would just come on Memorial Day, and prepare to honor the graves.

Around 1965, the restoration and preservation of the Cemetery began. The local Historical Society, Chamber of Commerce, the Retama Garden Club, and interested individuals donated their time and finances to this effort.

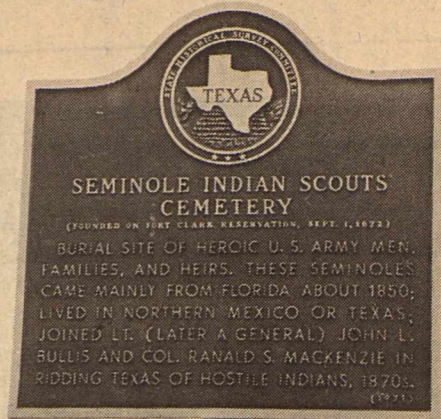

The grandson of Scout Pompey Perryman, Carlton Perryman reorganized the Association in 1967. He was a retired Sargent in the U.S. Army, and a veteran of World War II and Korea. Inspired by his uncle, Warren Perryman, he accepted the challenge with vigor and determination.

The organization is now registered with the State of Texas as non-profit, and is properly constituted with a board of directors and by-laws. Its sole purpose is to preserve, promote and maintain the Seminole Indian Scout Cemetery as an Historical Monument. In the year 1977, four medal of honor winners received new grave markers depicting them as such.

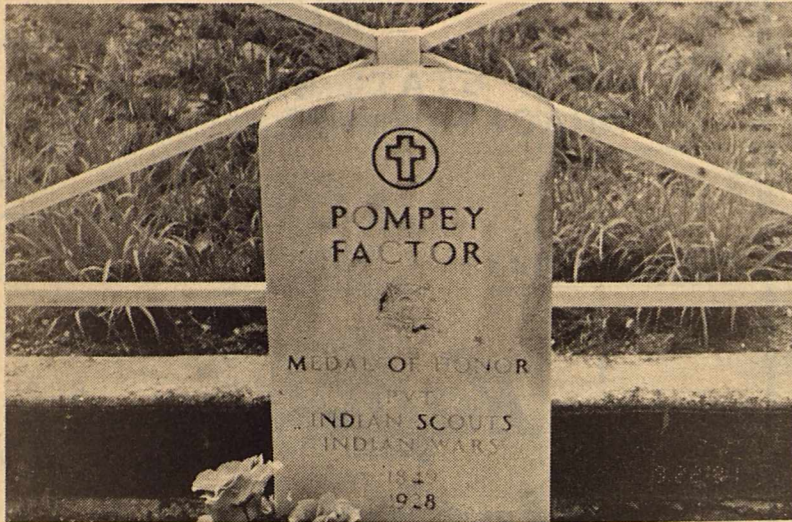

Membership in the Association includes almost every member of Brackettville's Negro population, most of whom can trace their ancestry to one of the courageous Scouts. The old Scouts are gone, maybe from on high they still watch over with unseen eyes and guidance.

The American flag flies above the Indian Scout flag. Both are proud symbols of man and country.

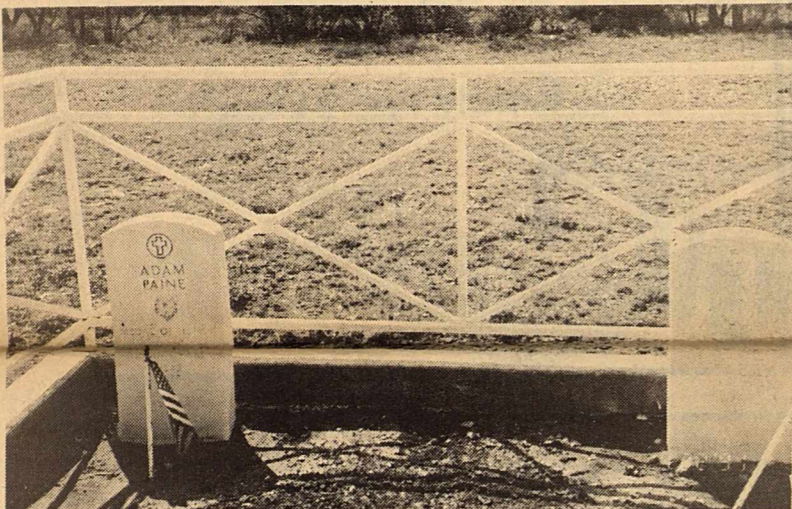

This plaque was awarded to the Seminole Indian Scouts cemetery in 1971 by the Texas State Historical Society.

Pompey Factor's headstone is pictured above. He was awarded the Medal of Honor.

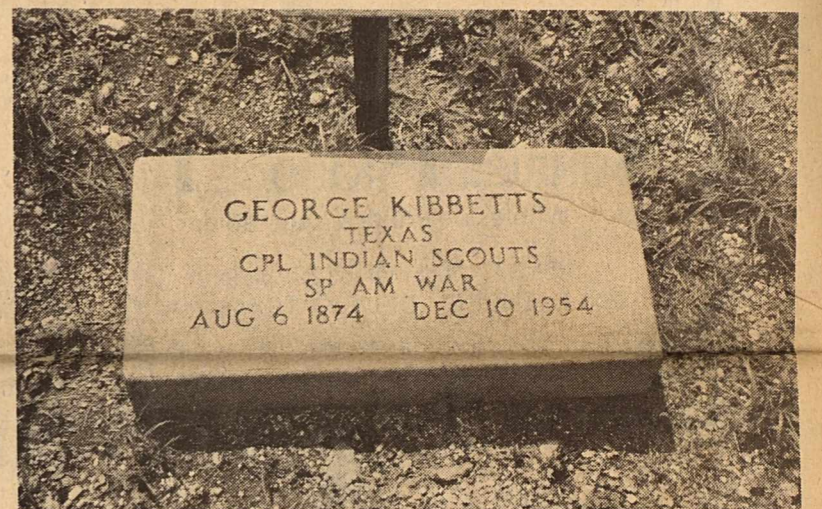

John Ward was one of the four Indian Scouts that were awarded the Medal of Honor for their service to this Country.

Adam Paine and Isaac Payne were also awarded the Medal of Honor for their service as Indian Scouts for our Country.

Almanique Jacquet, Rev. and Mrs. Curly Daniels, and Miss Charles Wilson take a moment to remember their ancestors' accomplishments at the Memorial in the Indian Scout Cemetery.

Thank You! Thank You! Thank You!

The Seminole Indian Scout Cemetery Association wishes to say "Thank You" to our friends of Brackettville and Fort Clark and to the out-of-town visitors for your donations, participation and "just being there", for our 119th Year Celebration. Thanks again!
