John Arnett Buys A Colt.

"Mrs. E. H. Bills recently disclosed a remarkable business talent, rarely met with in women, when she sold to Mr. J. A. Arnett one of her fine colts", says one of their mutual friends.

It seems that Mrs. Bills had a long, lean, lank specimen of man's noble friend, about a one old with a head on him like an acorn dogie and a knee on him like a Dutchman's bread-basket and she wanted to get rid of this every piece of property. She tried to give him away, but couldn't find a willing victim.

Now John needed a good horse, so Mrs. Bills struck him for a trade. She recommended her horse as a thoroughbred: gentle to ride or work and guaranteed to deliver same at the gate to the 49th astute for the magnificent sum of fifty cents.

John came very near hugging himself to death over his fine bargain and smiled so broadly that his hat fell into his throat, choking him so badly that he couldn't go home for a week.

The next morning Mrs. Bills sent a boy out after the noble steed. Soon the boy returned with such a solemn look on his tear-stained sign-board that it made the cat sick and the children cry. After considerable questioning, the boy informed her that the thoroughbred had "laid 'em down", or, in other words, was dead as "Hec."

The traders are getting over it slowly and by jerks, like a frog a-walking.

That National bank and local telephone system are very slow about coming.

Gail can never grow very large till she gets something to attract the country people. Get a hustle on, business men. Don't be laggards.

Our mail service is very incomplete. We need a line from here to Light. Can't we manage some way to get them?

Our people are now sending from 25 to 30 miles for cotton seed for feeding purposes. If we had a gin here, all this money would be kept in our town and lots more brought here. Can't we manage in some way to get one? We are going to visit all the business men this week and find out how much each one would be willing to give toward the enterprise. We will also ask

Mrs. McDonald and Mr. Fayette Burleson and sister, Miss, Dena, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Atkinson this week from their home on the plains.

June Corn For This Country.

James Pratt came into our sarctum one day last week and handed us a chunk of the universal rudder." While here, we questioned him in regard to conditions in his part of the country.

He said everything was alright and he was living easy. He has killed four big porkers which he fattened on corn raised by himself. He says they made him about a thousand pounds of meat.

He had five acres planted in June Corn and gathered sixty bushels from it, notwithstanding the fact that he had a big stand of sorghum planted on the same piece of land. He has been experimenting with different kinds of corn and has come to the conclusion that the genuine Mexican June Corn is about the only kind that will pay in this country.

Our new livery stable man and Judge Bowie happened to what came very near being a serious accident last Friday night.

Mr. Allen was returning with Judge Bowie from Chicago and when they got back to Mesquite Creek they happened to miss the road a foot or two and capsized their buggy in the middle of the creek. Both occupants landed in the mud and water. Neither was seriously hurt, but the buggy was badly torn up.

Still the roads are never worked?

Our correspondent at Union should write us another letter.

Durham, Knapp, Morsis and Jumbo should also be represented in our columns. We take pleasure in publishing communications from any place.

John Petty passed through here yesterday with a load of lumber enroute to his new home in Dawson county. He will henceforth be a citizen of that county.

Lots of Prospectors in the country. If we had a National bank and a cotton gin, we would soon have a thickly settled country.

Colorado now sports a wide-open "Blind Tiger." Another example of prohibition that prohibits!

FRUIT! FRUIT!

With this issue we acknowledge receipt of a box of the most delicious fruit that it has ever been our fortune to get hold of. And it came all the way from California, too. Our old friend and late fellow citizen, A. J. Wilbourn was the giver and truly a more highly appreciated gift was never tendered us.

Judging by the contents of the box, A. J. has found a veritable paradise. Among the different kinds of fruit were: three different kinds of oranges, lemons, limes, pears, persimmons, pomegranates, apples, dates, English walnuts, almonds and some other kinds of nuts that we don't know the names of (as he failed to label them).

The best of it is that Mr. Wilbourn has purchased the place on which this fruit was grown and will "live happy ever after".

He says his place produces many other kinds of fruit, but gee whiz! if we had an orchard that yielded one half as many kinds of "goodness", we would be about as proud a stepper as L. A. Pearce.

A thousand thanks to you, Jack and we hope you will make a seven figure fortune off your orchard in less years than you have kinds of fruit.

Our New Year was ushered in by a heavy snow-storm.

The snow began falling about day break Thursday morning and fell incessantly during the entire day. There was fully ten inches of snow fell, but happily the ground was so warm that the snow melted almost as fast as it fell and when night came there was only about two inches on the ground.

The farmers are now predicting a fine crop year.

How(e).
She Got Here

Our town was suddenly awakened from the sleep of the just at about 10:00 P. M. last Wednesday night by a beautiful cantalto voice bursting suddenly on the still night air, in the directions of Flat-top mountain. The people turned out of their beds en masse and listened with rapture to the melody more glad-some than the voice of the mock-bird and sweeter than the trill of the nightingale.

The listeners wished to learn from whence the sounds emanated so they questioned J. S. Howe who lives in that direction.

"Why", said he, "that is my daughter celebrating her advent into the world", and he skinned his whole head with a radiant smile.

the CITIZEN:

Editor, I am on hand a Christmas is over with its sorrows. There was a Christmas night at Mr. Ben Ivey's and, judging from the noise, Coxey's Army or Roosevelt's Rough Riders must have passed up the Terrell and Greenville road.

Mr. Henry S—— failed to claim his own (which caused a heavy heart with one of our fairest young ladies and much joy with some of the boys).

On Wednesday ye scribe, in company with, Henry Bailey, made a visit to Poverty Flat. On the way, Henry made a social call at Mr. Bishop's.

We found everything quiet in Poverty Flat. While there, the writer called on Mr. and Mrs. Claud Curfess and are happy to say that we found them looking like old people.

On Wednesday night there was a dance and supper at Lewis Ivey's which was greatly enjoyed by all present. While in this flat we saw Mr. Allan Wallace looking as sweet as a green persimmon.

On Christmas day we visited in the Stringtown community and found the widow all right. We also made a new acquaintance and she is as pretty as a speckled pup.

A dance Christmas night at Mr. Bradley's. Some of the young folks also had a singing at Sam Faming's. Both occasions were enjoyed immensely.

On Friday night, a dance at Mr. Craig's; also a dance on Saturday night at George Thompsons, but we have not heard from either one.

Sunday we visited Stringtown again and on the way we noticed Mr. Wiley Tapley had Miss Ella M—— interested in a conversation. We no means of knowing what they were talking about.

Only know it was interesting. Well, Mr. Editor, we have been called on to make some corrections of some former articles. I said in one that Mr. Edgar Bailey visited Mr. Hall's folks and Miss Willie wished me to correct it and I am glad to have the opportunity to do so. It was only one of Mr Hall's family that Edgar visited.

I also stated in writing of Ben Fulsom making his best girl a present of a pet rabbit that we feared he was trying to work his rabbit's foot. Well, his rabbit's foot wouldn't work but he made her a present of a nice photograph album on Christmas.

Mr. Andrew Roby, an old landmark of Hunt county, died the 24th.

He was one among the oldest citizens of Hunt county and has served the county as Surveyor and Clerk. He spent both youth and old age here and died at the age of 72 years.

During the festivities at the dance at Mr. Bradley's, Frank Packnet was robbed of $20.00. Ben Coomer is in jail charged with the crime.

During the holidays we had two weddings: Miss Maud Ivy to Mr. Ira Harkman and Miss Annie Burt to Mr. Lewis Anderson.

Mr. Albert Bailey, of Rockwall county, came down to visit his parents Saturday and started back Sunday. He went by Uncle Jim Butter's where he became so deeply interested in conversation with the widow that the day was gone before he realized it and he had to return to Uncle John's and stay until Monday, when he went back to Rockwall. Wishing the CITIZEN and We t Texas success,

I will close

Arkansas Bill.

L. A. Pearce is now about the proudest stepping "hombre" we know of. In fact he seems to think that this dirt is not good enough for his fatherly feet. He says he prefers to be called "pap", rather than to be termed "old man", but he will let her decide this matter.

All of Mike's important feelings are caused by the fact that his wife presented him with a fine girl last Wednesday morning.

Mother and daughter doing well but the father hasn't been able to get down to town since the great event, and we doubt if he will get over it for the next two weeks. We hope, however, to see him again on our streets in the near future.

Don't forget James McGrory when you go to Big Springs.

He keeps the the finest wines, liquors and cigars. The following brands of whiskey on hand at all times:

THEODOR'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous filth to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kind of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. Theodor's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.

Be sure that you get the original Theodor's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.

Logan, Ark., May 25, 1901.
 I cannot recommend Theodor's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.
