'Toast To Texas' Celebration Saturday

around
Muleshoe

At 7 p.m. on Saturday, March 2, KMAC TV in Lubbock will host the Special Olympics Telethon.

From 7-7:30 p.m., the Kidd family from Muleshoe, Hubert, Nancy and Cari, will be featured on KMAC, along with another family.

Five Area Telephone Cooperative Inc. has donated $100 to the telethon, and 5-Area has issued a challenge to all other co-ops, electric, gins, elevators and other co-ops to match these funds.

Mrs. Kidd said money donated from Muleshoe stays in Muleshoe with the Muleshoe Special Olympians.

She said there are three Special Olympians in Muleshoe not in the Muleshoe School District, and thus without funding for Special Olympic events.

Each year, an additional one or two kids will join the Special Olympians who have graduated from MISD, but still want to compete in Special Olympic events.

A planning committee meeting of the Golden 50's Class Reunion will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe Public Library.

A class reunion is scheduled for July 6, so all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Gordon Wilson is president of the group and Evelyn Peat is secretary/treasurer.

Wednesday, February 21, the MISD Board of Trustees will meet in special session at 12 noon in the school administration building with the following item on the agenda:

Consider bids for construction and renovation of Watson Junior High School and take appropriate action.

Educator of the Week at Watson Junior High School for the past week is Barbara Mutschler, a seventh and eighth Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Rural Texas Health Needs Spotlited

Rural Texans have critical needs for greater access to health and trauma care and for better information on economic development programs, the Texas Rural Economic Development Commission has concluded.

These two issues were the overriding concerns raised at 11 public hearings held throughout the state during the past year, the commission said in its final report just submitted to the 72nd Texas Legislature.

"The lack of availability of rural health and trauma care has reached crisis proportions and is becoming a significant detriment to growth and development," the commission report said.

The commission noted that the closing of rural hospitals and medical offices has placed an even greater emphasis on

MAC OFFICERS AND GUEST SPEAKER AT ANNUAL MEETING--Last Tuesday night, the Muleshoe Activities Committee (MAC) held their annual meeting. Pictured from left are Dick Pylant, guest speaker; Judy Logsdon, MAC Secretary/Treasurer; and Harvey Bass, chairman. The MAC Committee reported on activities conducted during the past year, and briefly explained future plans. Pylant spoke on the 'State of Muleshoe' to those MAC members present. (Journal Photo)

MAC Committee Annual Report Indicates A Very Busy Year

Some 18-20 members of the Muleshoe Activities Committee (MAC) were at the annual meeting of the organization on Tuesday night to hear updates on what the MAC Committee has accomplished during the past year.

Chairman Harvey Bass told the group it had been a "real good year, with lots of work done for Muleshoe."

According to a financial report given by Secretary/Treasurer Judy Logsdon, the MAC had $945.17 in their regular account and $457.83 in their special account for a balance as of 2-18-91 of $1,403.00.

No payments were listed on the financial report other than outstanding MAC bucks in the amount of $290.

Bill Bruce reported on placing a flag pole and flag at the Bailey County Civic Center. He said MAC was assisted by Bailey County Electric, Higginbotham-Bartlett, Bailey County Concrete. The flag was obtained through Congressman Larry Combest and former Texas Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

A report was given by John Stevens on the "Lee Horsley" signs placed on all highways coming into Muleshoe. He said the lumber was obtained from Higginbotham-Bartlett and Bailey County Electric dug holes for placement of the signs. Stevens also reported on the MAC project, helping sack candy for the Mule Plex Production last summer. He said Mule Plex sold 6,000 sacks at 50 cents per sack and that MAC had picked up 250 prizes for Mule Plex Production from local and area merchants.

Norma Bruce reported on MAC's involvement in obtaining the Lee Horsley appearances in Muleshoe last year for the July 4th celebration. She said Harvey and Marie Bass were responsible for setting up the visit, and that Horsley's father, Bruce had approved the agenda and program.

She also reported on T-shirts and posters drawn by Pat

Lazbuddie ISD Slates Election For New Trustees

Lazbuddie ISD will hold a school trustee election on Saturday, May 4, with three positions on the school board to be filled.

Application for places on the ballot began on Monday, Feb. 18, and will conclude on Wednesday, March 20, at 5 p.m.

Interested persons may make application for a place on the ballot by going by the school administration office between 8 a.m. 4:30 p.m.

The administration office will be closed for spring break from Friday, February 22 at 2 p.m. through Friday, March 1. The office will reopen at 8 a.m. on Monday, March 4.

Prater's daughter.

She said that she, Judy Logsdon and Pat Prater had arranged for meals at the Depot for the Horsleys while they were in Muleshoe.

Bob Donaldson was not at the MAC meeting to report on security for the Horsleys. But it was reported at the meeting that the security was "very tight for family protection" while the Horsleys were visiting Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

SCAC Keeps Involved Helping Community

(Editor's Note: The following story was written exclusively for The Journals by Kelly Scrivner, mass communications student at Texas Tech University, Lubbock. This and other stories written by communications students at Texas Tech are made possible through a grant from The Readers Digest Foundation.)

The Student Community Action Club, SCAC, strives to make Muleshoe a better place to live by preserving the Muleshoe Depot and the overall heritage of the community.

The SCAC club consists of junior and senior Muleshoe High School students. The students do many things for the community. A representative of the club acts as one of the board members of the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation, Inc., a nonprofit organization interested in preserving some of the history of Muleshoe and the surrounding area.

In addition to working toward the preservation of Muleshoe, the club organizes a cancer drive, patriotic events and chooses a Citizen of the Month for outstanding work in the community.

Jean Allison, a government and civics teacher at Muleshoe High School, has sponsored the club for eight years.

"I really enjoy working with students who want to make Muleshoe a better place to live," Allison said.

Patriotic 'Salute' Will Also Be Conducted

This Saturday will be a very big day in Muleshoe. Last year, approximately 300 people gathered at the Mule Memorial on Texas Independence Day, which is March 2, to lift high their glasses of pure, clear Texas water in a grand salute to the great state of Texas.

DeShazo Principal Resigns; Finney Gets Re-Assigned

At its February 18 meeting, Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees accepted the resignation of Dr. Fred Ivy, principal of DeShazo Elementary School.

Superintendent Bill Moore has reassigned Barbara Finney from her position as principal of Dillman Elementary School to serve as the principal at DeShazo Elementary for the remainder of this school year.

Moore said, "Mrs. Finney is an outstanding educator who is well known to both the students and the staff at DeShazo. I'm confident we can look forward to a great spring at DeShazo."

An associate principal will be named to manage Dillman Elementary School for the rest of this school year. "We are fortunate to have several qualified, certified people from whom to select. They will be working with an excellent faculty and working closely with Mrs. Finney to follow through on the instructional program that is underway at Dillman," Moore said.

At the end of the school year an assessment of the administrative organization will be completed and recommendations will be made to the Board of Trustees by the Superintendent. These recommendations will include administrative job descriptions and assignments for the 1991-92 school year.

Texas Highways magazine praised Muleshoe for their great participation in the event. This year, the Jennyslippers are asking that everyone make a special effort to attend the gala celebration on Saturday afternoon at 1:45 p.m. at the Mule Memorial at the north end of Main Street.

Starting off the day will be a rest-stop for travelers. It will be at the Mule Memorial from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Last year, many visitors stopped to learn more about the Texas heritage, and to stay and give the pledge to the Texas flag, repeat the Toast and lift their glasses toasting Texas - thus becoming honorary Texans.

Rest stop host and hostess T. R. and Vivian White said they would like to invite everyone to stop by for a visit and to especially be present for the annual TOAST at 2 p.m. The Toast To Texas is sponsored by Texas Highways magazine, with John Cagle, chairman. Locally, the Jennyslippers sponsor the Muleshoe Toast To Texas and they urge everyone to be there by 1:45 p.m. to get the program started so everyone will be ready for the Toast at exactly 2 p.m.

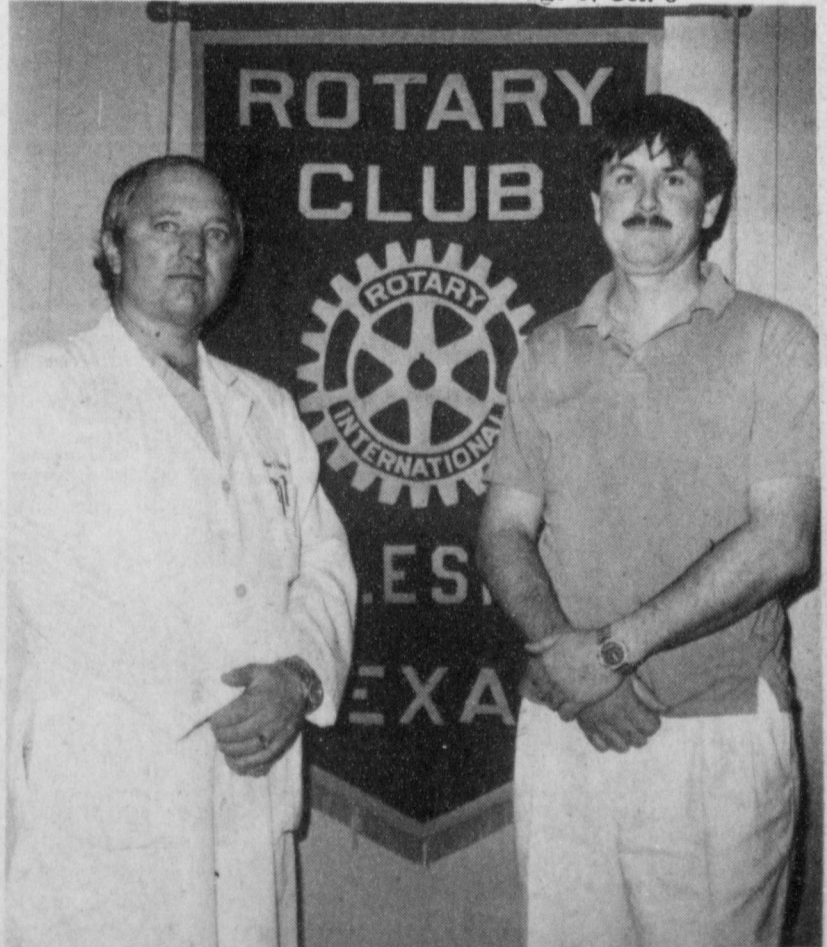

The Muleshoe Girl Scouts are again baking "Texas" cookies for the rest stop. They are shaped like Texas, boots, armadillos and Lone Stars.

Highlighting the Toast will be the Second Grade Dillman Elementary Choir, directed by Jo Jinks. The costumed youngsters will sing the state song Texas, Our Texas followed by Come To Texas, and conclude with a rousing version of I'm A Texan!

Others on the program include Robert Montgomery, president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture; Nancy Kidd, CofC Manager; Veterans of Foreign Wars; Mayor Darrell Turner and Mary Ann Ramirez, the Jennyslipper president.

All Girls Scouts and Boy Scouts are invited to come in uniform.

After the Toast, the Patriotic Salute to our Armed Forces in Cont. Page 6, Col. 6

Lawmakers Should Take Chance On People

Ann Richards
 Governor of Texas

Texas, I believe, is missing a bet by not taking a chance on a state-run lottery. Fortunately, the lottery door is still open-if the Legislature acts quickly. Lawmakers have to decide that the time for protracted lottery debate is over. It's time to let the people decide whether they want to take advantage of this profitable, wholly voluntary means of raising much-needed state revenue.

I was once a lottery skeptic myself. But after analyzing the moral, practical and fiscal questions that the lottery issue raises, I'm persuaded that a state-run lottery is a good idea. I believe we need to do everything possible to save money, to consolidate state government and to raise revenue from sources other than taxes. And that's why I have designated lottery legislation as an emergency matter during the current session of the Legislature.

I support the lottery bill proposed by Rep. Ron Wilson of Houston and Sen. John Montford of Lubbock for two simple reasons: (1) Texas needs the money; (2) Texans deserve a say.

Thirty-three states and the District of Columbia administer lotteries. So do Canada, Mexico, Australia and several nations of Western Europe. Texas is the largest non-lottery state, the only one of the nine most populous states without a lottery.

Last year, lottery sales across the nation totaled $20 billion. Lottery revenue accounts for about 2 percent of all state-generated revenue in the United States. That figure translates into $7.75 billion. Texans ought to be taking advantage of such a popular revenue producer. Estimates of the net annual revenue-raising potential of a Texas lottery range from $500 million to $800 billion for what the experts call a "mature" lottery, a lottery that is four or five years old. A report prepared for my office by the Comptroller's Office estimates that if the Legislature passes a lottery bill quickly enough for Texas voters to act in May, ticket sales could begin as early as January of next year. State lottery revenues in fiscal 1992-93 would total $731 million.

A lottery is no budget panacea, but with an estimated $4.6 billion shortfall casting a chilly cloud over essential state services, every little bit helps. Given our budget situation, those lottery revenues look mighty bright.

The questions I keep asking lottery opponents is "Where else can we come up with money we need so quickly--and so painlessly?" So far, they have failed to give me a satisfactory answer.

A lottery might prevent an undesirable rise in the sales tax, already one of the highest in the nation. A Texas lottery also could attract revenue from out-of-staters eager to play in Texas. Texans spend money on other state lotteries, and on Canadian and Mexican lotteries. I'd be willing to bet that a Texas lottery would attract players worldwide. There is, of course, a Texas mystique, and we ought to capitalize on it.

Most people who walk into a 7-Eleven to buy a lottery ticket see it as close in spirit of a church bingo game or a PTA cakewalk or a volunteer fire department raffle. It's entertainment. They know the odds of winning are slim, but they see no harm in spending a dollar or two a week to give it a try. It's fun, it's voluntary, and like a fire department raffle, the proceeds go to a good cause.

Beyond the money a state-run lottery would raise is the question of the people's will. And that's important. Texans have said repeatedly that they want a lottery. That was the message that came through loud and clear as I campaigned from one corner of this state to the other last year. The Texas Poll found that 76 percent preferred a lottery to a sales tax increase. The same percentage preferred a lottery to state income tax. And 93 percent said that the state should give Texans a chance to vote on a lottery.

We should let the people decide whether Texas will have a lottery. They will decide, after all, whether they will play if the lottery motion carries.

Funding Student Loans

Faced with a potential shortfall in funds for student loans next fall, Senator Gonzalo Barrientos of Austin and Representative Eddie Cavazos of Corpus Christi today prefiled legislation to give the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board additional bonding authority to fund student loans.

"I have met with Governor-elect Ann Richards on this critical issue and will be asking her to designate this legislation as an emergency item deserving early action by the Legislature," Barrientos said.

Until July 1989, the Hinson-Hazlewood Loan Program functioned as a revolving fund. Loan repayments had been sufficient to cover new loans. However, annual loan volume ballooned from $12 million in 1986 to almost $80 million in 1990 as a result of changes in federal financial aid programs, the creation of the College Access Loan program to help middle-income families who had been cut off from federal aid, and publicity about the state's low interest rate.

"We face a difficult dilemma," said Rep. Eddie Cavazos. "Because students' repayments on the heavy volume of loans made since 1987 are not yet due, it is difficult to replenish the loan fund from loan repayments. Our only alternative is to authorize the Coordinating Board to sell additional bonds. To do otherwise is to turn our backs on Texas students."

The bill package includes a resolution and enabling legislation to amend the constitution to authorize the Board to sell $300 million in general obligation bonds, a bill to exempt the Coordinating Board from the annual $50 million cap on voter-approved bond sales by state agencies, and legislation authorizing the sale of revenue bonds to meet immediate demand for student loans.

"The demand for loans now exceeds available funds. Students have already felt the impact. College Access Loans have been suspended and spring guaranteed student loan payments have been delayed," Barrientos said. "We need quick action authorizing the sale of additional bonds."

Barrientos and Cavazos co-sponsored legislation in 1987 that created the College Access Loan Program.

At its January meeting the Coordinating Board is expected to approve the sale of the final $25 million in bonds now available to support the Hinson-Hazlewood Student Loan Program.

Adding their endorsements to the legislation are the Texas Student Lobby, the Executive Committee of the Council of Presidents and Chancellors, the Texas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, and the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas.

It's All In Your Head!

"It's all in your head."

For years, women suffering from irritability, tension, depression, weight gain, breast tenderness and other symptoms prior to their menstrual periods often heard those words.

But persistence in reporting the symptoms led to the label "premenstrual syndrome"--PMS-- and to a search for causes and cures for a disorder that affects 70 to 90 percent of reproductive-age women.

Now, a researcher at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston is telling women once again that PMS is "all in your head." Dr. C. James Chuong, however, refers to chemicals in the brain, not to psychosomatic illness.

One of the chemicals which Chuong believes may be responsible for PMS is beta endorphin, a natural opiate known to reduce pain, elevate mood and produce a feeling of well-being.

A drop in endorphin levels produces emotional and physical withdrawal symptoms like those associated with PMS.

Chuong, assistant professor of obstetrics and gynecology and director of the Baylor PMS Program, said 70 percent of the patients he has studied show lower beta endorphin levels prior to menstruation.

Chuong is also investigating medications to block withdrawal symptoms. One drug being tested is naltrexone, also used to treat heroin addicts. Given orally around the time of ovulation, the drug may eliminate or reduce the severity of PMS symptoms, decreasing suffering, Chuong said.

"While this may not be the only cause or cure for PMS, using this drug known to relieve opiate withdrawal symptoms provided relief for 69 percent of study participants," he said.

Additional studies are underway at Baylor to confirm a link between beta endorphin and PMS and to test treatments. Chuong is also pursuing evidence that a zinc deficiency might lead to a change in the production of certain brain chemicals and therefore trigger PMS.

"PMS may be 'in your head' because it is caused by a chemical imbalance in the brain. But it is a real disorder, not an imagined one. It causes millions of women monthly discomfort and distress that can contribute to marital discord, child abuse and even criminal behavior, as well as job absenteeism and work inefficiency," Chuong said.

Grain & Soviet Union

Private grain companies have sold the Soviet Union about two-thirds of the farm commodities specified by a $900 million U.S. credit deal, the Agriculture Department said.

Creative Living

by: Sheryl Borden

Information on projects for children, developing life-long learners, and cooking oriental cuisine will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, February 26 at 12 noon and Saturday, March 2 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.)

Deborah Durham, representative of Wamsutta/Pacific Home Products, will show and explain how to make three easy projects for children. These include a toy hamper, a puppet show theater, and a teepee bed tent. Ms. Durham is from New York City.

Dr. Alvin Granowsky is a nationally known reading expert, author and consultant to World Book, Inc from Chicago, IL. He'll discuss what a "literate" home is, talk about how to build on a child's interests to encourage reading and emphasize the importance of parents as role models.

Karen Babin, a home economist with the Rice Council of America in Houston, TX, is going to tell how ethnic foods are increasing in popularity. She will prepare some oriental recipes while explaining the health benefits of rice.

On Tuesday, February 26 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, February 28 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on creating an edible centerpiece and making house-cleaning easier.

Teresa Farney, Director of Consumer Affairs for the National Turkey Federation in Reston, VA, is going to show a step-by-step method for creating a very unusual, edible centerpiece. She will also tell about turkey deli products and explain how they offer consumers a new low-fat alternative to red meat deli products.

Lynn Hack-Gerhart, representative of ORB Industries, will demonstrate correcting such household problems as how to remove wax buildup and how to avoid refinishing kitchen cabinets. She'll also show how to remove dents and scratches in furniture and even how to make a water ring on a piece of furniture less noticeable. Ms. Hack-Gerhart is from Niles, MI.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain

RICE COUNCIL: LIGHT AND EASY

BRUNCH RICE

½ cup each sliced celery, diced green sweet pepper, and sliced fresh mushroom

1 teaspoon salt
2 cups cooked rice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

6 eggs, beaten
¼ cup 2% lowfat milk
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper

Cook celery, sweet pepper, and mushrooms in butter in large skillet over medium-high heat. Combine eggs, milk, salt, and black pepper in small mixing bowl. Reduce heat to medium and pour egg mixture over vegetables. Continue stirring until eggs are almost cooked, about 1 to 2 minutes. Add rice and stir to gently separate grains; heat thoroughly. Makes 4 servings. Each serving provides 243 calories, 11.5 g. protein, 11.8 g. fat, 21.4 g. carbohydrate, 690 mg. sodium, and 420 mg. cholesterol.

ORIENTAL STIR-FRY

1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1 package (10 oz.) frozen Chinese-or Japanese-style stir-fry vegetables with seasonings

½ pound boned and skinned chicken breast, cut in small pieces

2 cups hot cooked rice
Remove seasoning pouch from vegetable package; reserve. Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat; add chicken. Stir-fry until chicken loses pink color; push to side of skillet. Add vegetables. Do not add oil to vegetables as directed on package.

Cover and cook 2 minutes, stirring once. Sprinkle vegetables with reserved seasonings; add water as directed. Cook and stir 30 seconds. Serve with fluffy rice. Makes 3 servings. Each serving provides 307 calories, 21.6 g. protein, 6.4 g. fat, 40.0 g. carbohydrate, 520 mg. sodium, and 46 mg. cholesterol.

SHRIMP FRIED RICE

1 tablespoon vegetable oil
½ cup sliced green onions, including tops

2 cups cooked rice, chilled
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1 teaspoon minced fresh ginger

1 egg, beaten
1½ cups cooked shrimp, cut in small pieces

Heat oil in large skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add mushrooms, onions, and ginger; stir-fry 1 minute. Push vegetables aside; pour egg into skillet and scramble. Stir in rice, gently separating grains. Add shrimp and soy sauce; stir until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 servings.

January SCAC

Meeting Held

In Scoggin Home

The January SCAC meeting was held in the home of Lashelle Scoggin. Brian Bush opened the meeting at 8 p.m. and Courtney Graves led the club in a prayer. Robin Berry read the minutes of the previous meeting and Galin Latham gave the treasurer's report.

Brian Bush introduced the guest speaker, Coach Hagerman. Coach Hagerman spoke on the importance of school pride and the importance of every student supporting each other, whether they are in athletic or academic activities. Coach Hagerman was presented a boutonniere by Galin Latham for being "Citizen of the Month" for January.

It was reported that everyone was in favor of a volleyball Outsiders Game. Brian Bush, Jason Harmon, Lashelle Scoggin Courtney Graves and Mickey Trussel volunteered for the volleyball committee.

Brian Bush read a thank-you letter from Mrs. Purdy.

The Citizen for the Month of February was chosen.

Brandi Estep, Celia Villalobos and Margarita Posadas volunteered for "Support Our Armed Forces" committee. They planned activities during the varsity games January 25. Volunteers were taken to work concession stand.

The meeting was adjourned and chips and drinks were served by the hostess.

to Bailey County in 1950, from O'Donnel. He married Beatrice Hammons on Feb. 10, 1934, in Tahoka. She died Sept. 14, 1990.

In addition to farming, Inman found time to serve on the Chamber of Commerce board three years, the Soil Conservation board 15 years and Texas Veterans Land Bank. He has been active in the First Baptist Church for 40 years, serving as Sunday School superintendent at O'Donnel three years, and served as head usher 12 years in Muleshoe.

HIB Vaccine Available In Muleshoe

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has recently approved two new Hemophilus Influenzae Type B Conjugate Vaccines for use in infants as part of their primary immunization schedule. Hemophilus Influenzae is an organism that can cause severe invasive disease including pneumonia, epiglottitis, septic arthritis and meningitis. In the U.S. the organism is the leading cause of bacterial meningitis in children.

Approximately 70 percent of all patients with Hemophilus Influenzae Meningitis are between the ages of 2 and 18 months. Most children, older than 5 years, and most adults have naturally acquired pro-TECTIVE immunity. In the past, the vaccine was only recommended for children over 15 months of age which makes it apparent that the most affected group was not being protected. With the introduction of these new vaccines, vaccination may be started as early as two months of age giving protection to the most vulnerable age group.

The new recommendations are to give this vaccine (HibTITER) at the same time as the usual DPT injections at two, four, and six months of age with a booster at 15 months.

Unvaccinated children 12 to 14 months old receive one dose.

All vaccinated children receive a booster at 15 months or later, but not less than two months after the previous dose. Unvaccinated children 15 months to five years old should receive a single dose.

The vaccine is now available at Muleshoe Family Medicine Clinic. "Should you have any questions as to the dosage requirement or necessity of the vaccine, do not hesitate to call or come by our office" said Pat Langfitt.

MICROWAVE TIPS

Beef convenience foods or frozen leftovers, such as spaghetti or chili, are defrosted in a microwave; a helpful hint is that stirring is necessary for even defrosting, or cooking.

Part way through the heating process stir the dish from outside to the center of the casserole. If it's a dish which can't be stirred (meatloaf for example), rotate the casserole.

One can also relocate the food in the dish, or turn it over-salisbury steak, for example.

to information.

More than 500 citizens attended hearings on rural issues, resulting in 86 specific recommendations contained in the commission's 71-page report, Revitalizing Rural Texas.

In related findings, the commission also recommended that:

°The U. S. Small Business Administration create a statewide Certified Development Corporation to help regional economic development in rural areas not served by councils of government.

°The Governor create an Office of Rural Affairs to serve information needs in rural areas.

°The State Treasurer designate a portion of the state's investment portfolio to buy the federally insured portion of loans made to rural Texas businesses.

°The Legislature increase the funding and include non-agri-businesses in the Linked Deposit Program, which encourages economic development in rural areas by leveraging private sources of capital with deposits of state funds in rural banks.

°The Legislature fund the Texas Business Enhancement Fund, which encouraged financial institutions to make loans to small businesses.

°The Legislature increase the funding of the Texas Rural Economic Development Fund.

°The Legislature adopt a statewide policy to establish adequate telecommunications in rural areas.

°The Legislature adopt a statewide definition of the term "rural" for all program purposes.

°The Legislature create a Rural Development Training Consortium to inventory training offered in management and strategic planning for small businesses and community leaders.

°The Texas Department of Commerce intensify efforts to increase tourism in rural areas.

The commission, established during the last legislative session, was chaired by Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, an agency of the Texas A&M University System.

"The commission's primary charge was to conduct studies and make findings and recommendations regarding revitalization of rural areas and expansion of agribusiness in Texas," Carpenter said.

The commission's work was supported by the Texas Department of Commerce.

Stacy Knowlton, historian for SCAC said, "Being a member of SCAC has helped me understand more about the town I grew up in. I enjoy learning about the history of Muleshoe."

Many students are anxious to take part in this club and help the community of Muleshoe. Membership is through a strict selection process.

An applicant must complete a membership application, and Allison chooses the members based on their reasons for wanting to be a member of SCAC. There is currently a waiting list to become a member of SCAC.

WIC Serves 351 Locally Each Month

(Editor's note: The following article is one of a series written for The Journals outlining various health services available in Muleshoe and Bailey County. There will be additional articles in future issues of The Journals in Muleshoe.)

By: Martina Garcia
WIC Supervisor

WIC is a special supplemental food program for women, infants and children. It provides nutrition education and specified nutritious foods to pregnant, breastfeeding, and postpartum women, and children under the age of five, who have nutrition-related health problems.

To apply for the WIC program; identification and proof of residency must be provided. Income will also be checked to see that it doesn't exceed statewide standards. Additional questions will be asked to determine nutritional risk factors. Once eligibility has been determined, nutrition education and food vouchers will be received on a monthly basis.

WIC foods have a significant amount of Protein, Iron, Vitamin C, Calcium, and other nutrients needed for proper growth and development.

Infants who are not breastfed receive Iron fortified formula, at four months, all infants may receive instant cereal, and at six months, fruit juice. Foods provided for women and children include: cereals, fruit juices, milk, eggs, cheese and beans.

Monthly classes and counseling stress the importance of nutrition to good health. Pregnant and post-partum women learn about their special nutrient requirements and are encouraged to breast feed their babies.

Our local WIC program serves 351 people per month. The WIC Program is funded and administered at the national level by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and at the state level by the Texas Department of Health.

Please call us at 272-4521 if you would like further information concerning our program.

Local Church Will Host Missionaries

Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Gilbert and family, Assembly of God missionaries, are preparing to return to Kenya, East Africa, and will speak at First Assembly of God Church in Muleshoe on Sunday, February 24 at 10:45 a.m.

During their previous term in Africa, both Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert taught in the East Africa School of Theology, in Nairobi, the nation's capitol.

Kenya, which is just about the size of Texas, lies just north of Tanzania, on Africa's eastern coast. Since their independence from Britain, Kenya has continued to maintain close ties with the west and has enjoyed ongoing economic development. Dr. Gilbert said Christianity has been able to grow due to a consistent atmosphere of religious freedom ... but still, he said, great spiritual need exists.

He said a sizeable portion of the people are Islamic or adhere to tribal animistic beliefs.

Kenya's approximately 24 million citizens constitute the fastest growing nation in the world. Dr. Gilbert commented, "Promoting Christian family values is so very important in this growing nation."

Dr. Gilbert is experienced in the Behavioral Sciences Department, and has taught at Evangel College, in Springfield, Missouri for a number of years before going to the Missionary field. Mrs. Gilbert (Rosie) has expertise in college level music fields, and has served as choir director for a number of years, said Dean Reid, pastor of the Muleshoe Assembly of God Church.

Pastor Reid said the public is cordially invited to hear the Gilberts Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m.

in Muleshoe.

A report was given by Donna Kirk on the candy sale and prizes for Mule Plex Production. She said $2,800 in prizes and $570 in cash were given away during the two-night production.

John Stevens also reported on the Bailey County Fair. He said MAC sold tickets to people to guess the weight of a pig. The pig was given to the person who guessed nearest the pig's actual weight.

Treasurer Judy Logsdon said MAC entered a float in the Christmas parade, and gave 25 turkeys for Thanksgiving and 21 turkeys for Christmas, paying for them out of MAC funds.

Scholarships was the discussion held by Ron Montgomery. He said MAC gave scholarship to an individual to go to a trade school. The scholarship was in the amount of $250. MAC also gave food baskets to three needy families at Christmas, according to the report. "The kids were highly appreciative," according to the report given. The goal is to do more for the next Christmas.

For future activities, Tom Bowen said "We want to do things to get people involved in things to bring people to Muleshoe.

At Courthouse

Bailey County Agriculture Agent, Spencer Tanksley, announces that he has available in his office a copy of 1991 Farm Program Templates on diskette received from Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension Economist, TAEX, District office in Lubbock.

Anyone who would be interested in having a copy is asked to bring a formatted 5.25" diskette by the Bailey County Extension office in the courthouse. The personnel will be glad to make a copy of the information for your use.

The input sections on these templates are divided into four parts: general factors which describe the whole farm; factors concerning the acreage planted to the base crop which is eligible for deficiency payments; factors concerning the crop planted on flexible acreage; and factors concerning the use or maintenance of ACR and CUA.

The templates contained on the disk are both for SuperCalc4 and for Lotus 1-2-3, version 2.01 or higher. When using the templates, the user may wish to copy the files to the appropriate subdirectory on the hard disk and execute them from there, or may access them from the floppy disk.

Featured on this portion of the program will be District Judge Jack Young, a featured speaker and Honor Guard from Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, N.M.

Other singers are included on the program along with reading of names of those local servicemen and women serving in the Persian Gulf. This will conclude with special prayers.

You are encouraged to bring your flags, both U. S. flags and Texas flags.

Last year, Muleshoe's Texas Toast was covered by several out of town news media, including both Lubbock and Amarillo TV stations.

Extensive local coverage was given by local media.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce joins with the Jennyslipppers in encouraging local merchant participation. Fly your flags! Both Texas and U. S. flags! Please decorate your windows with a Texas display and/or an American display, said the Jennyslipppers.

Jennyslipper Nelda Merriott said, "We are encouraging everyone, especially all employees, to dress "Texas" in honor of Texas Independence Day on Saturday, March 2. It would be a great time to have a Texas-size sale as there will be lots of folks in town. Let's celebrate Texas and honor our Armed Forces on March 2."

"All clubs and organizations as well as our school students are encouraged to attend the Toast To Texas as well as the Patriotic Salute to our Armed Forces. Last year, our celebration equalled the main one in Austin. This year, let's exceed theirs!! Come on out - everyone - 'Y'All Come."

Following the celebration on north Main, the MAC Committee invites everyone to attend the MAC drawing to be held at Main Street and Avenue C.

From The Senate

By: Teel Bivins

Austin-Senator Teel Bivins (R-Amarillo) advanced his legislative crime package on several fronts. The Amarillo Senator signed on as a co-sponsor of a bill that would make it a capital offense to murder a child under six years old and a bill that will facilitate the seizure of property involved in drug offenses. He also filed two bills that would aid prosecutors in prosecuting offenders and a bill that would allow disabled employees of the Department of Public Safety to earn more income outside their pensions. Senator Bivins also today requested a hearing on his bill that would call for the suspension of a drivers' license for anyone convicted of a drug offense.

Under current law, defendants who are accused of sexual offenses are not allowed to present into evidence past promiscuous behavior of the victim. However, because of a loophole in the law, if the victim is between fourteen and seventeen years of age, such evidence is admissible. Bivins filed legislation today that would close that loophole. "I am outraged that a thirty year old prostitute may be raped and her previous promiscuous behavior be inadmissible, while a fifteen year-old, who might have engaged in minor improprieties prior to becoming a victim of a sex offender, may be raked over the coals by a defense attorney," said Bivins.

Bivins has also introduced a bill which deals with the mental state of felons. Under current law, the prosecutor must prove that the person committing a crime intended to cause all the effects of the crime committed. Under Bivins' bill, the prosecutor would only need to prove that the perpetrator had indeed committed the offense, and by doing so assumed responsibility for all the results of the offense.

The Amarillo lawmaker said he had heard from a number of his district attorneys that it was becoming increasingly hard to prosecute criminals who cause death or serious injuries because of the requirement of proving mental state. "If one person hits another with a 2X4, causing the victim's lung to collapse, the assailant should not get off because it cannot be proved that he intended to cause the collapsed lung. I hope that we can send the message out that if you commit the crime, you are responsible for all the results you cause," said

Poems Wanted For Contest And Anthology

Poems are now being accepted for entry in Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum's new "Distinguished Poet Awards" poetry contest. Cash prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded, including a $500 grand prize. The contest is free to enter.

Poets may enter one poem only, 20 lines or less, on any subject, in any style. Contest closes May 31, 1991, but poets are encouraged to send their work as soon as possible, since poems entered in the contest also will be considered for publication in the Winter 1992 edition of Treasured Poems of America, a hardcover anthology. Anthology purchase may be required to insure publication, but is not required to enter or win the contest. Prize winners will be notified by July 31, 1991.

"If you are a new or emerging poet, we especially want to see your work," says Jerome P. Welch, Publisher. "We are looking for sincerity and originality in a wide variety of styles and themes."

Poem should be sent to Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum, Inc., Dept. E, 203 Diamond St., Sistersville, WV 26175.

Bivins.

Senator Bivins and Senator John Whitmire (D-Houston) filed a bill in response to a current loophole which allowed a person who purchased property and later allowed the property to be used in the sale of drugs. Currently, defendants may avoid seizure of the property by claiming the property was not originally purchased for illegal purposes. Under Bivins' proposal, all property which was involved in drug transactions, in which the owner of the property had knowledge of the transaction, could be seized. Senator Bivins stated, "I want to make sure that everyone knows that the loopholes regarding asset forfeiture are closing and if you sell drugs, you will lose all possessions involved in those illegal activities."

The final bill in package would impact the disability benefits for all employees of the Department of Public Safety who are injured in the line of duty. Under current law, disability retirees can only earn the total of their income at the time of disability, less their pension. Bivins' bill would allow officers to earn up to the amount earned by employees currently in the same position.

Senator Bivins stated that he believes that there is no other group of individuals in Texas more deserving than officers injured while serving the citizens of Texas.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Sixteen Kiwanians, two honorary Kiwanians, Jon Keith Turner and Robby Clapp, and Sweetheart Marsha Wilson and five guests from the Hi Plains Kiwanis Club in Amarillo were present this beautiful morning at the Dairy Queen.

It was sure good to have Sweetheart Marsha Wilson back after missing last week. Marsha is a very busy young lady. Next Friday, she leaves for Houston to participate in the Miss Teen Pageant. Marsha, we are all pulling for you. You are the Miss Teen of Texas to us already and we hope the judges in Houston can see that!!

Our guests from the Hi Plains Kiwanis Club who got up and left Amarillo at 4:30 this morning were Lisa McCoy, Weldon Hacker, Chuck Parr, Don Hansford and Weldon Scarborough. We are sure proud to have our guests. Welcome, and please come back.

President Glen Morris called the meeting to order. Scott Churchman led the group in the pledge to our flag, and Robert Montgomery gave the invocation.

Randy Lewis looked around and thought we had another visitor, but without the 'Grizzly Adams' beard, there sat Marc Jacobson, so Randy gave the friendship coin to Marc - the new Marc. Clean-shaven Marc - see if you can find a friend by next week.

Glen showed a Certificate of Appreciation to the Kiwanis Club presented by the Cub Scouts, to Kiwanian Jim Lutz at the Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet held last Friday nite (2-15-91). The Kiwanis Club is proud of our Scouting program. Keep up the good work.

Glen then turned the program over to Larry Parker, who was in charge of the program. Larry showed a video about Shop Lifting. Shop Lifting is a big, serious crime that takes place everyday.

The FBI states that 40 million dollars are shoplifted every day. Shop Lifting costs every one of us as it causes the price of merchandise we buy to go up.

It is unbelievable as to some of the techniques used by the pros.

The best deterrent to shop lifting is good service. Help your customer, be attentive, be alert. This way, help stop shop lifting.

Larry, thanks for a very informative program. Now that we have all learned how, we will all go out and put it into practice. Ha!!

Carrying Out Our Duties At Home

AN OPINION by Martha A. McSteen

Picture yourself at a strange desert outpost or on a storm-tossed ship half a world away from home. War is in the air. Your only tie to family and friends--the daily mail call--has come up empty. Again.

Often that's the situation for many of the 500,000 Americans now serving in Operation Desert Storm, brave men and women who have put their lives and dreams on hold to answer their nation's call. Every day, they face the same loneliness, fatigue and fear that have dogged servicemen and women for centuries.

That just doesn't have to be. Older Americans can step forward and play a vital role in maintaining the morale of our service members stationed in the Gulf by starting letter-writing campaigns. We can let our brave men and women know they are in our thoughts and prayers and that we wish them Godspeed and a quick return.

Simply put, there's nothing more important than getting the mail delivered. In applauding letter writing campaigns by Americans of all ages, Gen. Colin Powell, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said that "the outpouring of mail has come not only from the families of servicemen and women over there, but from the average American to any soldier. That's great and we want to continue that."

Seniors can share their care and compassion with a half-million Americans half a world away. And they can do it even if they don't personally know anyone stationed over there. Just grab a pen.

Due to the current situation, mail is limited to letters and audio tapes only. Please don't send anything larger until peace has been restored. Letters and audio tape messages to men and women serving in the Army, Air Force and Marines should be addressed to:

Any Service Member
Operation Desert Storm
APO New York, N.Y.

For men and women aboard ships serving in the Navy or Marines, letters and taped messages should be addressed to:

Any Service Member
Operation Desert Storm
FPO New York, N.Y.
09866-0006

The bottom line is that having lived through several wars, older Americans can perhaps best understand how it feels to be away from loved ones in times of war.

Certainly, we all hope the crisis in the Gulf will end soon and we can welcome home America's sons and daughters.

ENMU Brass Ensembles To Perform

Six different ensembles, under the direction of ENMU brass professors Mark Hornbacher and Bob Lindahl, will perform selections in a concert scheduled Thurs. March 7, 1991, at 8 p.m. in Buchanan Hall.

The program will begin with two classical transcriptions by Mozart and Mendelssohn for Trombone Choir. These peices along with two jazz selections will be performed by the Low'n'Brass Ensemble.

Two different tuba quartets will also appear on the program. The tuba quartet is an ensemble made up of two tubas and two tenor tubas. Performing with the university tuba quartets and the Low'n'Brass ensemble will be three Portales High School seniors: Sean Scott, trombone; Lloyd King, euphonium; and Justin Veo, tuba.

The ENMU Brass Quintet and the High Plains Brass Quintet will also perform standard brass quintet selections during the concert. These two groups are coached by Mark Hornbacher.

Completing the program with several brass works for large ensemble will be the ENMU Brass Choir. This organization, made up of 17 students, will be presenting its premiere performance.

For the performance of Giovanni Gabrieli's "Canzon noni toni a 12," the brass choir will utilize the Buchanan Hall Balcony as the piece requires three separate choirs of four members each. For more information call the Fine Arts Office of Promotion at 505-562-2500.

EXENCIONES DE RESIDENCIA

PUEDEN REDUCIR LOS IMPUESTOS QUE PAGA POR SU CASA

Una exencion de residencia le ayuda a reducir los impuestos sobre la propiedad que tiene que pagar por su residencia reduciendo el valor que se utiliza como base para calcular sus impuestos. Por ejemplo, si su casa esta valorada de $50,000 y usted recibe una exencion de residencia de $5,000, usted va a pagar impuestos de residencia como si su valor fuese de $45,000.

Usted puede recibir una exencion de residencia si usted era el dueño de su casa el primero de enero y la usaba como su residencia principal en la misma fecha. No importa si su residencia es una casa, un condominio o una casa remolque.

Hay exenciones que cualquier persona que es dueño(a) de su residencia puede usar para rebajar sus impuestos escolares. Exenciones adicionales se ofrecen a dueños de residencia que estan incapacitados o tienen 65 años o mas. Otras exenciones pueden ofrecerse a propietarios por distritos escolares, condados, ciudades y distritos escolares.

Solicite todas

las exenciones que usted puede recibir en la oficina local del distrito de valoracion en la direccion que se cita abajo.

Si usted recibio una exencion para su residencia actual en 1990, usted no necesita solicitarla para 1991 a menos que el jefe de valoracion pida que haga una nueva solicitud.

Sin embargo, si usted cumplio 65 años o quedo incapacitado antes del primero de enero haga una nueva solicitud para recibir exenciones adicionales.

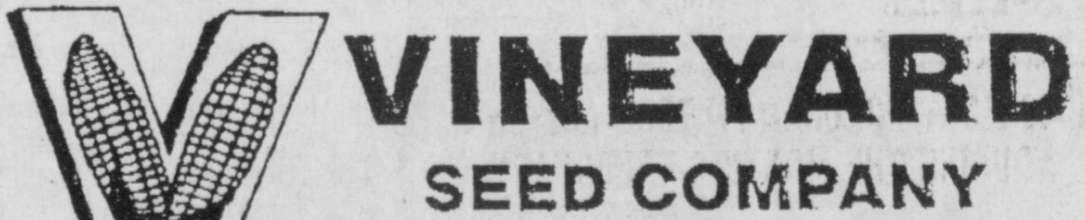

Si usted no ha recibido una exencion para su residencia actual o si se cambio de su casa, haga una nueva solicitud para 1990.

Usted tiene que hacer su solicitud antes del 1 de mayo de 1991. Comuniquese con su distrito de valoracion antes de esa fecha si necesita mas tiempo para hacerla.

Para tener mas informacion usted puede recibir una copia gratis del folleto los Derechos, Remedios y Responsabilidades del Contribuyente de Impuestos en la oficina del distrito de valoracion o puede pedirla del Consejo Estatal de Impuestos sobre la Propiedad (State Property Tax Board) en Austin.

Juniper, Ecologists Duel Over Texas Rangeland

By Kathleen Davis
Millions of Texas acres infested with juniper, or cedar, trees are sending a smoke signal for what could be a raging environmental, economic and physical fire.

Three species of juniper have staked claim to almost 22 million acres in the state, about 13 percent of the entire Texas land area, according to a Soil Conservation Service (SCS) brush survey.

But ecologists have a dilemma: if infestation continues, the rangeland will not be useful for some wildlife species or for livestock, which in many of the affected counties is the only agriculture industry; if the junipers are removed, two endangered bird species that live in some of the infested areas could fly closer to extinction.

Scientists scurrying to find solutions to the problem, however, believe nature may resolve the issue in the form of a massive wild fire.

"It's inevitable that wild fires will become more common and severe as juniper cover increases. Sometime this spring if there is no rain and it's hot and perhaps with a strong wind, fires could burn in a frenzy across there," said Dr. Fred Smeins, a researcher in the rangeland ecology and management department at Texas A&M University.

Smeins' biggest concern is the Edwards Plateau, a 23-million-acre region in southwest Central Texas. More than half of the expansive plateau is linked with juniper trees stationed to pass flames like a baton in an Olympic relay race.

"A lot is contingent upon how much 'fuel' is on the ground," said Texas Forest Service director Bruce Miles, whose agency trains and cost-shares equipment for fire-fighting efforts. "A juniper tree is resinous, so it can go up like a torch. But there has to be something on the ground to spread the fire unless the junipers are very thick."

Before the juniper infestation leads to economic or ecological disaster, a team of Texas A&M researchers hopes to devise a way for all plants and animals to live in harmony on the range. That is no small task considering that all land that is neither forest nor cropland is range—some 60 percent of the state, according to Dr. Joseph Schuster, head of the rangeland ecology and management department.

Juniper, a Texas native, is not a new problem in the state. Birds have been spreading the slow-growing tree for decades. A juniper seedling grows for 10-15 years before it produces seed for regeneration.

"It has been known since the turn of the century that juniper and other woody plants are on the increase on Texas rangeland," Smeins said. "But probably sometime in the 1960s is when juniper started a fairly dramatic upswing."

The SCS, with the most recent data from a 1982 survey, plans to survey again next year. Historical data indicates that juniper according to SCS state range conservationist Pat Shaver.

"It is evident that juniper is invading on sites that it normally would not," said Shaver. "Inventories on individual ranches shows that it is increasing in critical levels."

Shaver indicated that only three areas of Texas do not have some degree of juniper infestation: a thin strip along the length of the Texas coastline, parts of Montague and Clay counties, and the central plain and lower valley of the Rio Grande.

Several factors converged to entice the juniper populations to take root:

- Goats, which graze on

Classical Guitarist Robert Gluestone

To Conduct Class

The School of Music will host a masterclass featuring classical guitarist Robert Gluestone on Thurs., March 7 at 2 p.m. in Buchanan Hall. All area guitarists who are interested may participate in the masterclass at no charge.

Mr. Gluestone represents a new generation of classical musicians. He believes that to reach the soul of the music he is playing, he must "become the guitar." Gluestone is known for his individualized interpretations through the broad spectrum of color that the guitar offers.

The artist brings traditional as well as lesser known European pieces to the concert hall. He also enjoys introducing the exciting music composed for the guitar in Latin America. His love for Latin compositions comes, in part, from the years he spent in Mexico City.

Mr. Gluestone will also be performing at Roosevelt General Hospital and other community centers. He feels there is a need to take the arts out into the community to touch the lives of everyday people.

A native of New York City, Gluestone currently resides in Santa Fe, New Mexico. His recent concert tour has included performances in Mexico City, Berkeley, Albuquerque, Houston, and New York.

For more information on this or other ENMU fine arts events call the Office of Promotion at 505-562-2500.

juniper, used to be heavily stocked on the Edwards Plateau. Ranchers gradually reduced goat herds, however, because they also ate everything else down to the dirt.

• Natural fires are effective controls but are no longer allowed to burn. Fire fighters battle the blazes to extinguish them as quickly as possible. Prescribed burning can be an effective control for some juniper species, but safety factors concern many landowners.

• Many of the commercial processors that harvested cedar to get the oil for perfume manufacturing no longer are in business.

• The presence of two endangered species—the golden-cheeked warbler and the black-capped vireo—prevents the destruction of the birds' habitats.

"If you have any endangered animal on the land and you want to destroy its habitat for any reason, you have to get a permit under the Endangered Species Act, which requires you to lay out how you will mitigate that loss," said Dr. Doug Slack, a Texas A&M wildlife professor.

Slack, who chairs a biological advisory panel for the Balcones Canyonlands Habitat Conservation Plan in Travis and Williamson counties, said the golden-cheeked warbler and the black-capped vireo both are found in parts of the Edwards Plateau. The golden-cheeked warbler prefers mature forests of juniper and oak trees. The black-capped vireo needs more open ranges, which may include young junipers no more than 6 feet tall. Thus, managing vast acres of infested rangeland for the needs of various species is difficult, Slack said.

"Anytime you have a single species of tree, it generally is not in the best interest of many kinds of wildlife," Slack said. "As long as the juniper is present and disbursed as part of the normal flora, it is positive. But when it becomes a single stand that blocks out and lowers the plant diversity, and thus the animal diversity, it is negative in the long run."

Smeins believes regional management plans could be developed if more research provides an understanding of the interactions between the plants, animals and environment.

"Much of this becomes a policy debate. Someone has to say juniper is or is not a problem. We need to manage juniper to optimize its positive attributes," Smeins said.

Smeins and a team of scientists hope to coordinate research this spring to determine the biological and ecological basis for regulating juniper populations. The proposed research will involve the land, water and animal aspects of infestations in the Edwards Plateau and could produce models for management by 1993.

"If we know enough about the two endangered birds and what the rancher wants, we should be able to come up with a compatible plan to have them living side by side," Smeins said. "It may be that we can leave an acreage of trees in one area of the ranch and remove them from the rest."

He said the range ecologists can't just center on how to kill a plant but rather learn how to control it to fit with other uses for the land.

Chemical Stress Test

A new chemical stress test has been introduced at Methodist Hospital which allows those physically unable to walk on a treadmill to be tested for blockage in the heart.

According to Tim Dillon, supervisor of the hospital's Nuclear Cardiology Department, the new test uses the heart durg

I.V. Persantine instead of exercise to stimulate circulation necessary for diagnostic studies that measure how well blood is flowing to the heart. Persantine blocks the manufacture of a body substance that causes hyperemia, or an increased blood flow, which in turn causes the heart rate to increase and the heart vessels to open.

"By opening the arteries up, we can tell the same thing as a stress test," Dillon said. "This is the best way to determine strictures or blockage without walking on the treadmill."

According to Dillon, the I.V. Persantine test carries no more risk than a conventional stress test, less the risk of falling. If the test supervisors see something wrong, the test is stopped with aminophylline, a drug that counters the effect of the persantine.

"This test is fully monitored. It is not investigative. It is in full use," Dillon said.

Dillon emphasized that the chemical stress test is for those physically unable to walk on a treadmill. A normal 45-year-old man who doesn't want to do a stress test is not a candidate.

"This test is for people who can't do it (a conventional test) because of missing limbs or arthritis, etc.," Dillon said. "People who are sedentary because of their afflictions tend to develop serious diseases that aren't identified because they can't exercise."

Happenings Around Muleshoe

WALK/SKATE-A-THON--The Muleshoe Jennyslippers sponsored a Walk/Skate-A-Thon Saturday afternoon at the Bailey County Coliseum. The Jennyslippers served refreshments to the skaters and walkers as they took a short break. Proceeds from the Walk/Skate-A-Thon will go toward the purchase of fireworks for the Fourth of July celebration. (Journal Photo)

CITIZEN OF THE MONTH--Coach Leon Hagerman was named January SCAC Citizen of the Month at their January meeting. Shown along with Coach Hagerman is SCAC President Brian Bush, and Treasurer Galin Latham. (Guest Photo)

OLD FASHION BOX SUPPER--Girl Scout Troops 300, 218 and 228 held an Old Fashion Box Supper Friday night. In addition to sharing a box supper with their dads, the girls received a pink rose. The fathers received a red rose and key rings. (Journal Photo)

TAKING A SHORT BREAK--Those participating in the Walk/Skate-A-Thon took a short break Saturday afternoon for refreshments, served by the Jennyslippers, and have their picture made. Proceeds from The Walk/Skate-A-Thon will go toward the Fourth of July fireworks. (Journal Photo)

MAC MEMBERS ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING--Seated around tables at the Muleshoe State Bank meeting room are several members of the Muleshoe Activities Committee (MAC) who attended the annual meeting. They heard updates on MAC activities, and voted to continue giving coupons instead of going back to tickets for purchases made at member stores. (Journal Photo)

Letter To The Editor

Dear Cleta, Larry, Evelene,
THANK YOU for the wonderful coverage that you give to the Jennyslipper projects. You gave us a full page for our Jenny-slipper banquet - for which we were gratefully delighted!

Then Evelene was out doing a great job covering the Skate-athon / Walk-a-thon. Again - THANK YOU.

Last year you "put us over the top" with your publicity about the TOAST TO TEXAS! It was wonderful!

Now, we are doing it again! and combining a great Salute to our Armed Forces along with it. So please - whatever you can do for this - the Jennyslippers will sincerely appreciate it.

We are hoping for a bigger than ever crowd - but Saturday afternoons are hard to garner a crowd.

We hope that next week, all merchants will fix up a Texas window display - along with a patriotic display for our Armed Forces. Then on Saturday, we'd love for Everyone to dress Texas. Particularly, all employees in the stores. The Chamber is joining with us in encouraging merchant participation.

Again - THANK YOU - and it goes without saying... we'll see YOU at the Mule Memorial for the Toast To Texas and also the Salute to our Armed Forces.

(I have a call in to Clovis Cannon AFB and I'm asking for a speaker - they said we could have one - will give me a name - and I'm also asking for a Color Guard and a Fly-Over. Maybe we'll get that too.

Please re-word my story any way to make it sound right - and would appreciate more on it in your mid-week paper. I may have some more "soap" for you by then.

Thank you,
Nelda Merriott

Baldo L. Martinez Funeral Services Held Friday

Funeral services for Baldo L. Martinez, 82, of Morton were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Feb. 22 in St. Ann Catholic Church with Father Elbert Fadallan, pastor, officiating.

Rosary was celebrated at 7 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday in Ellis Funeral Home Chapel in Morton.

Burial was in Morton Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Martinez died at 8:55 a.m. Wednesday in Cochran Memorial Hospital at Morton.

Born May 21, 1908, in Dripping Springs, Martinez had been a resident of Morton since 1940 from Cotulla, TX. He married Antonio Hernandez on Nov. 16, 1929, in Bastrop County, TX. She died in January 1990. Martinez retired from Sante Fe Railroad in 1976 and was a member of St. Ann Catholic Church.

Survivors include one son, Baldo Martinez, Jr. of Olton; a daughter, Estella Flores of Morton; three sisters, Josefina Barron of Austin, Simona Baladonado of Floydada and Junita Saliseda of California; 25 grandchildren; 39 great grandchildren; and six great great grandchildren.

Freedom isn't always the right to do and say what you please.

(Editor's note: The following letter is from Stephen Burkhardt, who is a Marine serving in Saudi Arabia. He is the grandson of J. W. and Wannie Frazier and the great-nephew of Nelda Merriott. Nelda said she thought folks might enjoy hearing about what he has to say about Muleshoe. Stephen was born in Muleshoe and lived here several years before moving to Battle Mountain, Nevada with his parents.)

Dear Aunt Nelda,
It was nice to hear from you. I've wondered how you were doing and wanted to write to you. From now on, I'll try to write more often, now that I have your address. I always lost it before, but I'll be sure to put it in my address book.
The people of Muleshoe really have been writing. I get more mail from people from Muleshoe than I do from people in Battle Mnt. That is to say, people from BM that aren't related to me. I wish I could give replies to all those letters and cards, but I have a lot of people to write as it is. I honestly appreciate their support though. Every letter I get gives me a lift.

Muleshoe is a nice town. It isn't too big or too small. What I liked about it was how friendly the people are. The people in Battle Mnt. are nicer than the people in California, but the people in Muleshoe are even nicer.

It seemed I could talk to any stranger in Muleshoe and get a nice conversation out of them.

Being that I like agricultural work, it is even better for me.

I'd never run out of work. If I were to get a degree in agribusiness, Muleshoe is a good place to be. It also is a good place to raise a family. See, I haven't found any reasons not to love it, besides one. Where are the mountains?

Aunt Nelda, ya'll take care. I'll come visit when I get back. God Bless.

Love, Stephen.

Three Way News by: Mrs. H.W. Garvin

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Hatcher and girls from Clovis spent Saturday with her parents the Jack Lanes to help Mrs. Lane celebrate her birthday.

Sunday afternoon the Nelson Carlsile home was the scene of a wedding shower honoring Mrs. Mickey Weeks, the former Mitsie Autman. About 30 guests were there with pretty and useful gifts.

We wish to express our sympathy to the Gant family on the death of Mrs. Gant.

The TIE that binds

A true love for our Lord and Saviour binds our hearts in Christian love.

This love encourages us to put our energies and efforts together to serve our Lord at home, at work, and at Church.

A truly wonderful fellowship exists for those who believe and worship together. Attend Church and worship with kindred minds.

"That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
