This special night is tomorrow (Monday), April 1, at the MHS auditorium.

The time is 6:30 p.m., and the tickets are most reasonable. They cost $3 for adults, $1 for students and pre-schoolers will be admitted at no charge.

Events get underway at 6:30 p.m., with the Cadet Band, who are students from the sixth grade. This will be followed by the MHS Concert Band, presenting music to be played at contest in April. And, next, will be the Watson Junior High Band with their contest music.

After the band presentation, the entire group will go to the MHS cafeteria for a break of coffee and desserts, and to view art displays done by students in high school and junior high. The Jazz Band will perform during the dessert break.

Then, it will be back to the auditorium to see the district-winning one-act play The Last of Mrs. Lincoln.

This year, the play has already won district honors, and will compete in Muleshoe on April 6 for the area title. The first play will begin at 1 p.m.

Tanksleys

Plan Move

To Brenham

Spencer Tanksley, CEA-Agriculture for the A&M Extension Service in Bailey County, has officially announced he is being transferred.

Tanksley, who has been county agent here for the past 19 years, said he reports for duty at Brenham, in Washington County on April 9.

His wife, Linda, and children, Colin and Courtney, will be joining him in Brenham at the end of school this year.

Mrs. Tanksley is a home economics teacher at Muleshoe High School.

Colin, who was born shortly after the Tanksleys moved to Muleshoe, will graduate from Muleshoe High School in May; and Courtney will complete her freshman year here.

He said people in Muleshoe and Bailey County have been very nice to him over the years, "they welcomed me, and welcomed my family. Everyone has been very warm to us," he commented. "This will be a new challenge, and a new opportunity."

Tanksley will be going from a county with mostly crops and little cattle, to a county that is mostly cattle.

He said Washington County, located 72 miles northwest of Houston is rolling hill country, and has mostly cow-calf operations, with a lot (21) of small dairies.

Washington County also has a lot of nurseries and greenhouse operations that produce many flowers.

He said he will really miss the many friends that he and his family have made during their 19 years in Muleshoe.

MAC Executive Group Plans

New Activities

Harvey Bass, chairman of the Muleshoe Activities Committee, (MAC) reported on a meeting this week of the group.

He said MAC has agreed to be in charge of the entire September Fair, the Bailey County West Plains Fair, this year, with the exception of the agricultural and homemaking exhibits, as the County Extension Agents will continue to handle that part.

He said MAC will be selling booth space at the Fair, and will be working to enlarge the business exhibits.

Also, MAC will be conducting Trade and Save Day on the second Saturday in May, June, July and August this year.

Businesses, and individuals and groups, who receive permission from a business owner, can display their wares in front of the stores on these special days.

He said people can hold small garage sales, sell candy, home crafts, or other items. Those people wishing to display their wares must contact a business or be invited by a business to display in front of the individual business.

Also, the MAC group has decided to go back to monthly drawings for MAC Bucks. They will be the first Saturday of each month, according to Bass.

THE LAST OF MRS. LINCOLN--DISTRICT WINNING PLAY--The scene is from the MHS district winning play The Last of Mrs. Lincoln. Local, Area Ginners To Attend Annual Convention At Lubbock

Questions facing Texas cotton farmers in the '90s -- and answers which can add up to better yields, quality and profit -- will be examined in a seminar April 11 during the annual trade show and convention of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association.

Many local and area ginners will be among the more than 6,000 ginners, producers, officials and others in the industry.

The seminar will be conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service from 1:20 to 4:45 p.m. in the banquet hall of the Memorial Civic Center in Lubbock. It will conclude the 34th annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers, being held in conjunction with the gin show.

Private, commercial and non-commercial pesticide applicators attending the seminar can obtain two of the continuing education units required annually by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Busy Competing

With Judging

In competition with more than 840 individuals at the Livestock Judging conducted Wednesday at Tarleton University in Stephenville, Rick Copp, vo-ag teacher at Lazbuddie, said all the judging was as individuals, not teams.

Also judging were Bret Thomas, Lori Bradshaw, Dawnda Magby and Jody Morris.

Copp said the livestock judging teams will compete next Tuesday at Abilene Christian University at Abilene.

keting strategy is one of the key questions the seminar will address. Dr. Carl Anderson, extension economist and cotton marketing specialist from College Station, will discuss this.

Steps to prevent nematodes from robbing the farmer of yields and profits will be outlined by Dr. Jim Starr, associate professor of nematology at Texas A&M University.

EASTER BLESSINGS

From The Journal Staff!

A Joyous Easter

What Easter Means To Me

By Rev. Dale Berry

Easter--Resurrection Day! To many people, Easter is bunny rabbits and easter eggs. To me, Easter is the day Jesus Christ arose--Resurrection Day! The Apostle Paul's prayer in Philippians 3:10 sums it up: "That I may know Him and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death." Paul's prayer was to know Christ in a deeper, more personal way as Lord and Savior. My prayer is the same. The only way anyone can fully appreciate Resurrection Day is to know the Power of the Resurrection of Christ. It is no accident that Easter comes in the Spring. For as with Spring comes new life, so too, is the resurrection of Christ. Jesus died on a cruel cross and was laid in a tomb on a Friday. By Sunday morning, the tomb was empty. It was as if the body had simply dissolved leaving only the burial cloths. But no, Jesus did not vanish, yet He came to life and demonstrated His power over the grave.

Resurrection Day is special because it reminds me of the power of God over death. This day is a reminder to mankind that God has the final say in life and in death. Easter may be just a symbol of Spring for some, but for me it is a day that symbolizes the new life I have found in Jesus Christ. Just as Jesus died and rose again, my sins were also put to death and I was given new life. That is why the Apostle Paul's prayer was to know Jesus in the "fellowship of His sufferings." By accepting the death and resurrection of Jesus, the believer has a special bond to the sufferings of the Savior.

Resurrection Day for the believer also serves as an opportunity for ongoing renewal. The Apostle Paul said knowing Jesus was to be "conformed to His death." That means I must die to the old order (sin's grip on my life), and pass through death to new life in Christ. I can only do that by acknowledging the power of God in my life. So Easter means different things to different people. For me, Easter is simply, Resurrection Day!

EASTER SERVICES AT TRINITY BAPTIST--Rev. Dale Berry will deliver the Easter services this morning, Sunday, March 31 at the Trinity Baptist Church. Attending the services along with Rev. Berry are his wife, Pam, and his daughter, Rhyan. In their spare time the Berrys' enjoy camping and reading. Rhyan is a kindergarten student at Dillman Elementary. (Guest Photo)

They have four children, Borden Mullins of Lubbock, Wynetta Hudson of Levelland, and Faye Burkhart and Dewayne Mullins, both of Battle Mountain, Nevada. (Journal Photo)

OFF TO EASTER SERVICES--Alexander and Maria Garcia and their family will be attending the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church this morning, Easter Sunday. Garcia is employed by the Bailey County Ambulance Service and Mrs. Garcia is a teachers assistant at DeShazo Elementary. Active Parenting Seminar Scheduled At Dillman

MISD would like to announce that the next Active Parenting Seminar will be held Monday, April 8 from 9:15 to 10:30 a.m. in the Dillman Elementary cafeteria. This month the program is entitled "The Case for Democratic Parenting", and will be presented by Twila Albertson of the Regional Education Service Center in Lubbock. The seminar is free to all parents of children birth through fifth grade. An interpreter will be present for anyone who needs this service. The Active Parenting Series by Michael Popkin is designed to help parents develop their child's self esteem. Topics to be discussed include understanding children, discipline, communication, and encouragement. "We feel the seminars are of great value to all parents of young children" said a spokesperson from the group. "If you have any questions please call Liz Tipps or Ruth Locker at 272-7541." Children need you to set limits on what they do. A mother was asked if her child had a hobby. "Testing the limits," she sighed. And she is not alone. Before they learn to set limits for themselves, children need parents who can set limits for them. "A child needs freedom, but only if he's earned it and only if he knows where the edges are" says Marguerite Kelly, author of The Mother's Almanac II. But even though kids need limits, they're also going to rebel against them sometimes. The fact is that a child doesn't know what the boundaries really are until she's tested them. You can help your child by considering your child's needs and wishes and setting reasonable limits. But most of all, your child will adjust to your limits if you are clear and calm about setting them.

DILLMAN ELEMENTARY POSTERS--These posters will be placed in various businesses around Muleshoe. Students in the first and second grade competed in a 'Poster Contest' in conjunction with Active Parenting Seminar held recently at Dillman Elementary. First grade winners were: Bradley Thomason, first; Kayla Newton, second; Belen Hernandez and Eric Samarron, third. (Journal Photo)

SECOND GRADE POSTER WINNERS--First and second grade students at Dillman Elementary made posters in conjunction with the Active Parenting Seminar held recently at Dillman Elementary. Those winning from the second grade included: (L-R) Jessica Hernandez, first place; Stephanie Kirk, second; Michelle Parker, third; and Bryce Thomason, third. (Journal Photo)

Nancy Kidd, Chamber of Commerce manager reported that jars are being distributed in various businesses for donations for the fireworks. Everyone is asked to drop change into these jars, since this is one of the big events in the celebration.

Students Compete In Knowledge Master Open

Mrs. Jackie McAlpin's third to sixth graders participated in the Elementary Knowledge Master Open on March 14. This contest was held in the Sudan Elementary School against students from 50 states. Africa, Asia, Europe and South America are just a few. This grueling academic contest uses knowledge of Life science, American history, Literature, and 11 other areas of curricula. Elementary school teams faced tough questions such as these, and vied for top scores based on speed and accuracy. A team of 14 students third to sixth grade scored 572 of 1000 possible points. The team scored 100 percent in these divisions; Government, Current events, Literature, Health, Art and Music and Useless trivia. This is the first time Sudan has entered this competition. The Elementary Knowledge Master Open was designed to stimulate interest and recognition for academic accomplishment. The contest was developed to run on classroom computers in order to provide all schools the opportunity to compete in a national academic contest without the expense of traveling to a central site. There are 100 multiple-choice questions in the competition, and they are answered by typing on the letters A,B,C,D, or E. The team has one and one half hours to complete the 100 answers and have three-five minute time outs. Students have two chances to answer each question. If the correct answer is given on the first try, five points are awarded-Plus, bonus points based on the speed of the response are earned as follows: 0-7 seconds, 5 points; 8-12 seconds, 4 points; 13-17 seconds, 3 points and so on. No assistance was given by Mrs. McAlpin, the sponsor, or any audience member during the contest. A spokesperson from the school stated that the school is very proud of these students.

Whatever you look for, the year 1991 will give you some surprises.

IN FASHION

Some spring fashion trends will be reminiscent of the styles of the '60s. Color texture and shape are focal points to consider when selecting garments.

Eyelet, pique, transparent fabrics and shiny metallic are fabrics featured in spring clothes.

Spring's bare look is seen in sleeveless vests, halters and dresses with tight bodices revealing a cut-out back. A white crochet shell is an attractive way to dress up a white T.

1 package (14 ounces) banana bread mix or banana muffin mix

¼ cup semi-sweet chocolate mini-morsels ingredients to complete mix
CRUMB TOPPING:
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup butter or margarine

2. Combine mix and morsels. Prepare bread mix according to package directions or muffin mix according to loaf pan directions. Pour into prepared pan. Combine remaining dry ingredients in small bowl. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Top batter with this mixture.

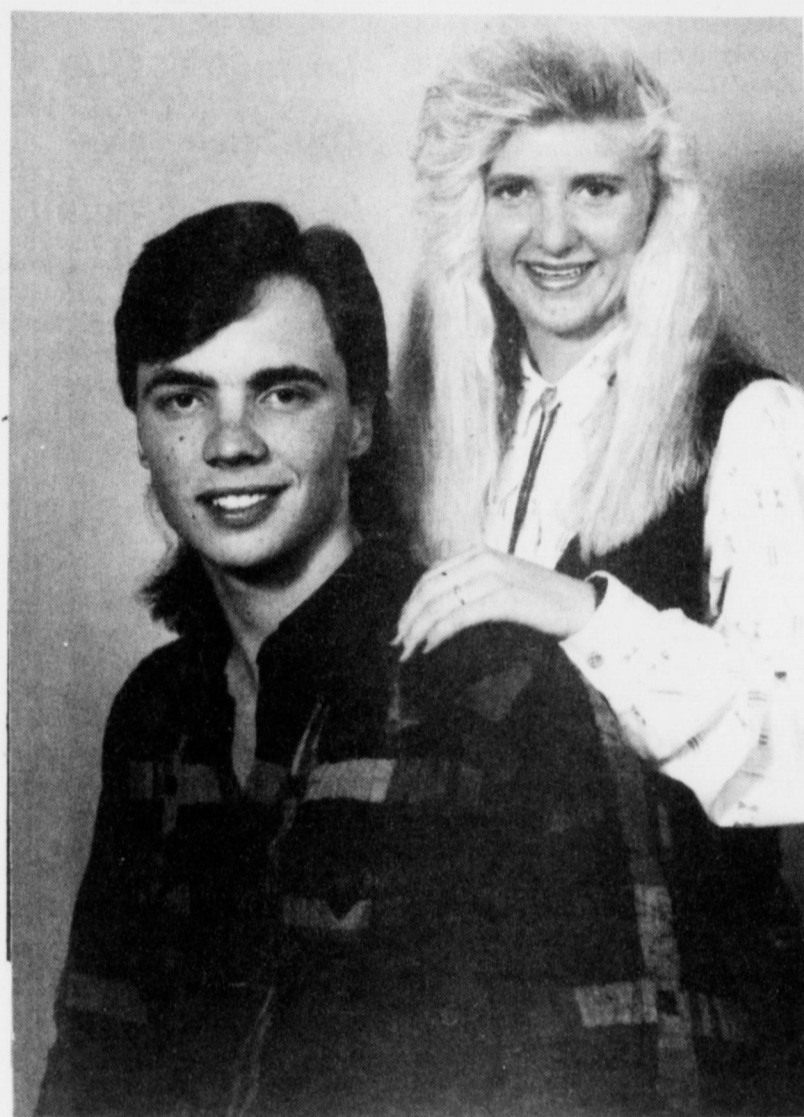

3. Bake 35 to 35 minutes on broiling trivet on LOW MIX. If wooden pick inserted in center does not come out clean, let stand in oven a few minutes to complete cooking. Cool 5 minutes; remove from pan by lifting both ends of waxed paper. Cool completely on wire rack.

MICROWAVE TIPS

Can one microwave a cheeseburger?

It's easy. Using one pound of ground beef shaped into eight thin patties, place a slice of cheese between two patties. That will make four cheeseburgers when the patties are placed on hot buns.

The four cheese-beef patties should be arranged on an eight-inch, square dish, and covered with wax paper. Power must be on High (10) for about 8 minutes, and the dish rotated one turn after 4 minutes.

Eradication Project Sets Target

An international drive to eradicate the screwworm fly, a serious threat to all warm-blooded animals including humans, has defeated the insect pest in Mexico and now is redoubling its efforts in Guatemala and Belize.

Dr. Cliff Hoelscher, an entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, said success in stamping out the screwworm in Mexico was marked last week by celebrations in Mexico City.

Hoelscher noted that planes each week are dropping up to 100 million sterile flies over Guatemala and another 18 million on Belize, Mexico's immediate neighbors to the south.

The Joint Mexican-American Screwworm Eradication Commission is rearing and sterilizing the flies at its plant in Tuxtla Gutierrez, only a short plane flight from the two countries.

Hoelscher said program efforts in Belize and Guatemala, which began less than two years ago, have greatly decreased fly population pressure on the established quarantine line at Mexico's southern border.

Edwin Ketchum, a rancher at Duncan, Okla., and president of the South West Animal Health Research Foundation (SWAHRF), the industry group that supports the program's screwworm eradication goals for all the Americas, said the goal now is to rid all areas north of the Isthmus of Panama of the screwworm pest by 1996.

"This is an ambitious goal, but it can be achieved if ranchers of Central America cooperate," Ketchum said.

Dr. John Wyss, co-director of the Joint Mexican-American Screwworm Commission, said customarily an area, state or country must have no active cases for at least six months before screwworms can be declared eradicated.

Wyss said Mexico has had no active screwworm cases since last July 10, and therefore has achieved eradication of the troublesome pest.

"This is good news for producers and ranchers in both Texas and Mexico," Wyss said.

Hoelscher said the program to eradicate the screwworm from the southwestern United States began Feb. 14, 1962, when the first plane load of sterile flies was dispatched from Austin and dropped over the Texas Hill Country.

The eradication program, Hoelscher said, uses sterile male flies to mate with native fertile female fly populations. The resulting egg masses are not fertile and do not hatch. Screwworm larvae feed on the living flesh of animals, eventually killing their hosts. The screwworm at one time was considered the greatest threat to the livestock industry in the South.

The program was so successful in the United States that the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the government of Mexico then moved to suppress the insect pest in Mexico, first north of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec (the narrowest neck of the country, between Mexico City and the Yucatan) and later to points south.

"Texas has not had an active screwworm case since August of 1982, but inspections and surveillance continue because there is a constant threat of re-infestation," Hoelscher said.

Dr. Wyss, co-director of the Joint Screwworm Commission in Mexico City, said USDA estimates that the eradication program has provided $3.4 billion in economic benefits to Texans.

"These benefits must have been realized by consumers through lower meat prices at supermarkets and by farmers and ranchers who have lower production and labor costs," Hoelscher said.

"SWAHRF is greatly encouraged and pleased by the success in Mexico," Ketchum said.

"We hope for similar successes in Guatemala and Belize."

New clerks attending a special orientation session also received an additional two hours credit, for a total of 1.2 CEUs (12 hours).

The seminar was conducted by the V. G. Young Institute of County Government of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the County and District Clerks' Association of Texas.

Head of the association for 1990-1991 is Doris Lange of Fredericksburg, county clerk for Gillespie County.

"The seminar presented latest updates of great relevance to both county and district clerks," said Nelda and Barbara of Bailey County.

Blood Drive Slated Muleshoe...

First Assembly of God Church of Muleshoe will sponsor a Blood Drive for United Blood Services of Lubbock on Thursday, April 11.

The drive will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the church from 11 a.m.-8 p.m.

United Blood Services of Lubbock and the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council will assist with the drive.

The Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council said the goal of this drive is at least 80 units. A calling committee from the First Assembly of God will be contacting donors by phone, and walk-ins will certainly be welcome.

The local Advisory Council noted that the need for blood is always a continuous one. The war in the Persian Gulf has created an increased need for blood supplies. The increase in outdoor activities, with spring and summer coming, will also place a heavy demand on blood supplies.

The First Assembly of God, United Blood Services, and the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council urgently request your assistance in this drive.

TAST Tests Help Prove Remediation

More than 80 percent of the 58,131 Texas college and university students who received remedial help in 1989-90 were able to pass the Texas Academic Skills Test or a comparable diagnostic test after only one semester of remediation.

Another 17 percent completed remedial studies in reading, writing, and/or math in two semesters, according to data released by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

"These statistics are encouraging. They show that remediation helps students get the academic skills they need for college work without significantly delaying their progress in school," said Commissioner of Higher Education Kenneth H. Ashworth. "In fact, their new academic skills should improve their progress."

Students entering Texas public colleges and universities are required to take the TASP Test, which helps schools identify those students needing additional help in reading, mathematics, and writing. Students who do not pass the test must enroll in remedial programs. They must pass all sections of the TASP Test before enrolling in more than 60 semester credit hours.

"A complete picture telling us how well TASP is working must wait until the first group of students who took the tests approach graduation from college," said Joan Matthews, a director of TASP at the Coordinating Board.

However, the Coordinating Board will publish a more detailed report in coming months describing the kinds of remediation taken by students and their subsequent academic performance, Matthews said.

For more information, contact the Texas Academic Skills Program office at the Coordinating Board.

Federal Land Bank Planning Annual Meeting

Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-TX) will address the 1991 Farm Credit Bank of Texas (FCBT) Annual Meeting for Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBAs).

More than 500 directors and employees representing the bank's 50 FLBAs in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas are expected to attend the annual gathering April 5 at the Stouffer Hotel in Austin.

Congressman Stenholm of Stamford, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, will discuss agricultural and environmental legislative issues during the general session beginning at 9 a.m. in the hotel ballroom.

In 1990, the FCBT expanded its long-term lending operations into Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi with the establishment of six FLBAs there, and added New Mexico to its short-term lending operations with the reaffiliation of the Albuquerque Production Credit Association. Bank CEO Donald R. Rogge, Board Chairman Robert Vanwinkle and President Michael R. Davis will discuss these and other 1990 results. The theme of the meeting is "Stewards of the Land."

With approximately $3.6 billion in loans outstanding to 60,000 farmers and ranchers in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas, the Farm Credit Bank of Texas is the largest agricultural lender in the five-state region.

Senator Phil Gramm Reports

The U. S. Senate has approved a $500 million package of veterans benefits for the troops who fought and won the Persian Gulf War, says U. S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas.

The Senate bill will finance the new benefits from contributions to the Gulf war account made by America's allies. It also included a resolution urging that no funds be expended to help Iraq as long as Saddam Hussein remains in power.

Specifically, Gramm said, benefits to be provided by the legislation include:

-- Permission to health care providers to waive normal co-payments required under CHAMPUS for care provided to military dependents during the Gulf war.

-- An increase in educational assistance from $140 to $270 per month for each month a reservist served on active duty.

-- A temporary increase in imminent danger pay from $110 a month to $150 and a doubling of the benefits from group life insurance to $100,000.

Also, the legislation would extend home loan guarantees for reservists and increase the funding for child-care and family support services by $50 million.

Gramm noted that more than an estimated 50,000 Texans have served in the Persian Gulf War, many of them coming from reserve and National Guard units which were called to active duty.

Letter To The Editor

Mrs. Cleta Williams-Jacobson
Editor
Bailey County Journal
P. O. Box 449
Muleshoe, TX 79347-449

Dear Cleta:

On behalf of the Water District Board of Directors and staff, I would like to tell you how pleased we were to see the feature article written about you in the March 26th edition of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

You are to be commended for your dedication to covering the news in Bailey County. Whether it is reporting the happenings at school board and city council meetings or taking notes during the Rotary Club program, you do an excellent job of keeping Bailey County residents informed.

Also, we certainly appreciate your invaluable assistance in educating Bailey County irrigators about the latest water conservation techniques. Producers are now aware of the benefits of adding surge valves and LEPA center pivot systems to their farm management programs. With these water conservation tools in place, the average annual change in water levels of the Ogallala Aquifer in Bailey County has been reduced from a maximum decline of -4.88 feet in 1969 to -1.14 feet in 1990.

Again, please accept our congratulations!

Sincerely,
Carmon E. McCain
Information/Education Director

(Editor's note: My sincere appreciation for the calls, visits, notes and letters since the article appeared. You have been more than generous with your congratulatory words.)

Lake Alan Henry Work Almost Ready To Begin

Preliminary work has begun on the $30 million dam at Lubbock's Lake Alan Henry Reservoir in Garza County.

The project is the next step toward a $140 million (1990 dollars) expanded water supply that will serve Lubbock's growth to a city of 350,000 population.

Construction and operation of the water supply lake is a project of the Brazos River Authority under contract with the City of Lubbock. General contractor is Granite Construction Co. of California.

Joe Richards, project engineer for Granite, said preliminary dirt work is underway along the center line of the dam, 12 miles east of U. S. 84 at Justiceburg.

Construction of a diversion channel was to begin this week as soon as construction of a road providing access to the base of the dam is completed.

The dam will be 3,600 feet long and 138 feet high and will be completed in mid-1993.

Formal groundbreaking ceremonies at the site are planned for 11 a.m. April 19. The lake was named in honor of former Lubbock mayor Alan Henry, who brought the project to the point of land acquisition during his last term in office in 1986.

"The start of this project culminates more than 20 years of planning by the City of Lubbock," said City Manager Larry Cunningham.

"We have been fortunate to have had city councils with the vision to foresee the need for water long before the need arose," Cunningham said. "No sooner had we received water from Lake Meredith in 1967, it was decided to begin the search for our next water source."

A feasibility study identified five water sources and recommended that a lake east of Justiceburg would be the closest and most economical of all potential supplies.

A series of studies to determine the quantity and quality of water in the watershed was launched in 1971.

Lake Alan Henry will be the third major water source for the City of Lubbock, population 186,000. The current primary

Members of the Sudan High School faculty defeated the KLBK Wise Guys in Sudan Thursday night 67-64 after leading 36-22 at halftime. The contest was held by the Sudan Womens Club for their annual scholarship fund. The Wise Guys participate in fund raisers all-over the South Plains and reported that they enjoy getting to meet the area people and participate in their events. Members of the KLBK team were Lee Barron, Chris Contrevas, Eric Jontra, Jeff Gibson, Jeff Arnold, Mark Keller and Robert Giovannetti. Jontra (50) had the 'hot' hand hitting 23 points. Giovannetti added 16 including three 3-pointers.

The Sudan team included Dyke Gaston, Mike Fisher, Darren Provence, Jonathan Robertson, Buddy Lowrance, Bo Lance and Johnny Hampton. They took an early lead, 13-7 first quarter, and maintained the lead the entire game. Gaston led the scoring for Sudan with 18 points including 12 in the first half. Fisher hit for 13, Provence had 12, Lance 9, Hampton 7 and Robertson and Lowrance each scored 4 points.

source is Lake Meredith, located 150 miles north of Lubbock, which provides about 80 percent of Lubbock's annual water consumption. The balance, primarily during summer months, comes from the Sand Hills well field northwest of Lubbock in Bailey County.

Lubbock residents currently use an average of 36 million gallons of water daily, but it is common for daily consumption to double during the summer.

"Lubbock's future is more secure because of the assurance of an adequate water supply for decades to come," said Lubbock Mayor B. C. (Peck) McMinn.

"Two years ago, many other Texas cities had to ration water during a hot, dry summer," he noted. "West Texas suffered from lack of rain, too, but Lubbock had ample reserves to meet peak daily consumption. Lake Alan Henry will make it possible to continue our growth with new businesses and industry well into the 21st Century."

In an area with average annual rainfall of 19 inches, historical flow records indicate it will take from two to six years to fill Lake Alan Henry once the dam is closed in 1993. Following closure of the dam, construction will begin on a pipeline and pump stations that will deliver water to a water treatment plant that will be constructed in South Lubbock.

Actual water deliveries to Lubbock are projected to be in the year 2002, with the new lake able to supply up to 23.3 million gallons a day.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Eighteen Kiwanians, two honorary members, Robby Clapp and Chad Johnson, who are both 'Country Basket' boys -- those boys don't know the difference between breakfast and dinner. It's all food.

Also, Marsha 'Chocolate Covered Ice Cream' Wilson was present. It was good to have Marsha back, after laying out last week working on a school paper -- (she said)??

We also had one guest, J. O.

Parker's son was home. I think that J. O. had to order him two breakfast. These growing boys!!

President Glen Morris called the meeting to order. Marc Jacobson led the club in the pledge to our flag, and Jim Lutz gave the invocation.

After being reminded that he (Jim) had the friendship coin, decided to give it to the one who was telling lies about him and also telling tall stories to Sweetheart Marsha 'Chocolate Covered Ice Cream' Wilson, and also carried a gun, gave the friendship coin to none other than Lyndon Huckaby.

Larry Parker has been appointed as Fund Raising Chairman, and he talked about a pancake breakfast. A motion was approved for Larry to look into this.

It was also discussed about the fireworks again this year.

Hugh Young will be the Fireworks Chairman and the Kiwanis Club will have their fireworks stand open again this year, starting about two weeks before the Fourth of July.

Be sure and come out and buy your fireworks from the Kiwanis Club, because every dollar you spend with us will be put back into the community.

What!

Boss (to office boy who is half an hour late)--You should have been in here at eight o'clock.

Office boy--Why, what happened?
