THE AMERICAN WAY

SOCIALISM AT WHOSE EXPENSE?

Fountain (Colo.) Advertiser

George Meany, one of the Labor Union's top men, has suggested that all of the railroads be nationalized in order that feather bedding, now in progress, can be made a permanent part of work rules governing the railroads.

This sounds like a scheme a Labor Union Boss would come up with. He has no financial investment in the railroads and has devoted none of his energies toward promoting their success.

He pretends to be an American, yet here he goes advocating socialism with someone else's money and property.

Isn't it time that labor leaders begin to realize that government take-over of private enterprise is a step backward; that it simply means another loss of freedom and a rise in costs for the consumer and the taxpayer who must subsidize losses incurred thru this method.

Those who work for the railroad might gain but how about those who own the railroads? Don't they have any rights? And the taxpayer — how about us? Should we be forced into higher taxation to subsidize jobs for the railroad workers?

Don't union leaders know, or is it that they don't care about anything but their own selfish ends, that management of a business must be able to eliminate and streamline operations in order to keep a firm in the black?

People who go into business do not do so in order that they can devote their entire lives to public service. They do so in order to make money. They invest their savings and exert their energies because they want their business to grow and expand. Some of them go into business because they think they can be their own boss (they soon lose this delusion when the tax men begin to invade their properties and government becomes their unwanted partner without any investment). Expansion of private business is a public service it furnishes jobs to more people.

Profit is not an evil — it is the only thing that creates more jobs by allowing expansion and competitive functioning of any business.

If profit is such an evil thing in the minds of those who advocate socialism and nationalism of privately owned facilities, why are they forever trying to get more money for their services? After all, isn't that the same thing? Why don't they work for nothing as a community service if it's such a wonderful thing to do?

Let's answer that...they're human, that's why. No human being wants to work for nothing and if forced to do so, will find ways by which to defeat the end. He simply quits working.

Victory Sunday At First Methodist Church

Sunday, May 31, has been designated as Victory Sunday at the Santa Anna First Methodist Church. It is also the final day of the conference year. The Methodist Church year runs from June 1 through May 31.

The past year has been a great one for the Methodist Church. The church has received 46 additions — 11 on profession of faith, 17 from other denominations and 18 by transfer from other Methodist Churches.

The increase in attendance has been simply wonderful. All previous records have been broken. The church rates first in the district in per-capita giving and also rates very high in the entire conference. During the past year the church has spent $22,542 for all purposes.

Rev. Bobby Weathers, pastor, said, "God has richly blessed us and to Him goes all the glory and honor. We come to the end of this year with thanksgiving in our hearts for His leadership, and we know that greater victories await us if we follow our Christ. Be present to join in the worship on Victory Sunday."

Texas joined the Confederate States on March 2, 1861, the 25th anniversary of Texan Independence.

Adventist Camp Meeting To Be Held at Keene

Members of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church are making preparations today and tomorrow morning to attend the annual Camp Meeting in Keene, Texas, which is expected to draw up to five thousand persons on weekends, and up to four thousand on weekdays.

"A large majority of the local membership will attend worship services at this religious meeting on Saturday, May 30 and June 6," Elder Ray Osborne said in announcing the local church's participation in the camp meeting. "However small, services will be held in the local church on Wednesday nights as well as on Saturday, for those who do not attend the camp meeting."

"Purpose of the nine day convention," Osborne said, "is to give church members a deeper insight into the church's theology as well as to provide opportunity for a fuller Christian commitment."

"In a day of gross materialism this great drawing apart to study things of the Spirit comes as a refreshing change," Osborne said.

"Religious meetings of the convocation will be held from 6:30 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. each day with services throughout the day. On the first Saturday afternoon of the camp session an ordination service will be held. Reports of spiritual progress of the church will also be given throughout the session."

Elder Osborne said, "On the last Saturday of camp meeting, June 6, the Santa Anna Church will bring something special to the convocation. This will be announced in next week's Santa Anna News."

Benjamin E. Leach, president of the Adventists for the Texas Conference and director of the program of the encampment said during planning sessions yesterday that "This year's camp meeting has all of the earmarks of being one of the best the church has ever enjoyed." Every accommodation for living at the convention site is filled and many persons are awaiting any cancellations.

"We have purchased seventy-five additional new tents to meet the growing camp meeting attendance in an effort to provide adequate housing for the expected crowd," said Leach.

"Our church members seem to be expecting a rich spiritual reward from this meeting he said, "And our camp officials are praying and working toward the fulfillment of their hopes."

Tomorrow morning cars, many of them with modern house trailers attached will be streaming in at the convention grounds carrying church members from throughout Texas and Southern Oklahoma. By tomorrow evening most of the family accommodations will be occupied and hundreds of other Adventists from nearby areas will join the permanent conventioners for the convocation's keynote address.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin, Tex. — State officials have begun the long parade before Gov. John Connally's budget staff and the Legislative Budget Board. From now until summer end, more than 150 state agencies will give estimates on how much they will need to operate in the 1966-1967 biennium.

These hearings will produce budget recommendations to the next Legislature by Governor Connally and by the Legislative Board.

All estimates must be set out in dollars and cents. But the summer budget-hearing period actually is the guessing season, since agency heads have to guess now how many file clerks, how much stationary and how many pencils they will need in August, 1966.

A few items seem certain: The Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools expects a 37 percent increase in the population of its schools for mentally retarded and will need an estimated $28,000,000 more than its current $100,000,000 budget. Department of Corrections will request $5,000,000 for pay raises for prison guards.

Budget raises not determined this summer are expected to be requested when the Legislature gets proposals for improving the state's higher education system; giving public school teachers a pay raise; building new schools for the mentally retarded; and building a state osteopathic college.

AUTO THEFTS

State Highway Department reveals the fact that each year about 17,000 automobiles are stolen in Texas — and 9 percent are never found!

Until three years ago, scrapped cars — complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers — could be purchased for $50. But no more.

To prevent both plates and papers falling into hands of theft rings the Legislature required each salvage yard operator to remove current plates from vehicles purchased as salvage.

Plates and papers are supposed to be kept under lock and key until claimed by the highway department. About 10,000 titles and 3,000 license plates

Gardening Safety
With the return of warm spring days, millions of home gardeners once again are getting out to spade beds, plant seed, spread fertilizer, mow grass — and the other countless minor tasks attendant to keeping the lawn neat and attractive.

Your doctor recommends gardening as excellent therapy, for both body and mind. For those who enjoy digging in the dirt, gardening offers good exercise, fresh air and sunshine after a winter of being cooped up indoors.

Your doctor also offers a few suggestions on keeping gardening fun and safe:
Take it easy, at least for the first few sessions. Don't try to work a 10-hour day at hard manual labor on the first warm weekend. Take frequent rest breaks and work at a pace that isn't too tiring. As the season advances, your muscles will limber up and toughen and you will be able to do more with less discomfort.

Cuts, scratches and bruises are the fate of most gardeners. Usually they aren't serious. Clean minor cuts with warm water and soap and cover with a light bandage. Tetanus lurks in the soil, and a booster shot of tetanus toxoid is recommended at the onset of the gardening season for all who have not kept their immunization up-to-date.

Stop and think, briefly, about safety before handling garden tools — especially power tools such as lawn mowers. Power tools are great labor-saving devices, properly used. Used carelessly, they can slash off fingers, and toes. Always turn off the mower when it is left unattended, even briefly. Always turn it off when adding gasoline to the tank. If the motor is electric, don't use the machine in wet grass. Power tools usually are accompanied by safety instructions. Read them carefully.

Modern gardening is made possible by the pesticides that dispose of the many varieties of bugs that thrive on growing plants. Careless use and storage of pesticides can cause serious accidents. A cardinal rule is to read the instructions on the package carefully and obey their safety warnings. Pesticides are safe, if used properly and kept away from children.

Poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac also sprout up in the spring, to the great discomfort of many amateur gardeners. Look for the three-leaf sprigs that mark poison ivy and poison oak. If in doubt, consult a botany handbook or garden encyclopedia. If you find poison ivy in your yard, dig it out — roots and all — being careful not to touch. If you burn poison ivy avoid the smoke. The poisonous oils vaporize in the smoke and thus expose your whole body, eyes included. If you get a poison ivy rash, your doctor can suggest soothing medications to ease the itching and discomfort while healing progresses.

When to Fish
You'll get many different answers if you ask for advice as to when to go fishing. Some "experts" say only on sunny days. Others allow there should be good cloud cover. But the fact is that fish adhere to no set eating standard.

However, it has been proven that fish do feed best—whether cloudy, sunny, warm or cold—at first light in the evening. Also, during early spring and late fall.

So, it seems, the best time to fish is any day during early

Quality Beef Remains A Food Headliner
College Station — Now's the time to "beef up" your menus, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.
Ample supplies of top quality beef will be available for the next few months, and should be one of the best values at the supermarket.
Large supplies of fryers also are on the market.
Consumers are enjoying what economists call a "buyer's market" with plenty of competition for food dollars tending to drive prices downward.
Owners of home freezers may want to give consideration to current low meat prices. Indications are that as the year advances, prices will go up to more normal levels.
Apples, coming from storage, continue to be moderately priced. Good quality strawberries are available, but prices vary. Other fruit choices are pineapples, bananas and pears.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS
RAW MATERIALS
... direct step in industrial development
Many industries locate near the raw materials used by them and are seen throughout the WTU service area. One example, pictured above, is the carbon black plant of United Carbon Company at Shamrock.
This flourishing petrochemical plant has become an important addition to the economy of this Texas Panhandle town. Such development anywhere creates new jobs, brings more payrolls, and adds many other advantages such as helping to provide new schools like the one pictured left.
Again, here is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.
In Texas the annual value of raw materials produced is $700 per capita, while the value added by manufacture is only $600. Contrast this with the highly industrialized state of Ohio. There the annual value of raw materials produced is $125 per capita, while the value added by manufacture is $1330.
Thus, as these figures show, additional processing of raw materials is the most direct way to sound industrial development. Communities seeking new industry will find that an assessment of local raw materials is the vital first step.

Plastic Bag Handy

When going deer hunting, carry a large plastic bag in the pocket of your hunting coat. It takes up very little room and makes a nice dry seat while sitting on a stand. Furthermore, it serves as an excellent container for the deer liver when you head for home.

Squalls Only Delay Nesting

San Angelo — Recent high winds, hail and heavy rains in parts of West Texas have hindered nesting game birds only to a minor degree, according to West Texas game wardens.

Blustery spring blows accompanied by rain and hail have soaked and scattered poorly constructed dove and quail nests, but Mother Nature equipped these important game species to re-nest after such disturbances with nothing more than time being lost.

Bobwhite, scaled quail and mourning doves bend with the elements and bounce back with renewed nesting efforts after early spring storms. Hatches of young may be a week or so later this year because of windy rain storms, but hatches are anticipated non-the-less.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

President To Address U of T Students

Austin (Spl.) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, who has often referred to himself as a "proud son-in-law of the University of Texas," will forge even closer bonds to the institution May 30 as he delivers the UT commencement address and receives an honorary doctorate.

The University will confer an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on President Johnson and an honorary Doctor of Letters degree on Mrs. Johnson.

President Johnson is a 1930 graduate of Southwest Texas State College. Mrs. Johnson holds two earned degrees from the University of Texas: Bachelor of Arts, 1933, and Bachelor of Journalism, 1934.

Except for honorary degrees awarded shortly after the opening of the institution in 1883, only two have been awarded. Honorary Doctor of Laws degrees were conferred in 1923 on Robert E. Vinson, former UT president and in 1935 on U. S. Vice-President John Nance Garner.

The academic procession for the May 30 commencement exercises will begin at 7:45 p. m. on the Main Building south terrace. Approximately 2,000 bachelor's and graduate degrees will be conferred. Because of the expected crowd, admission to the evening ceremonies will be by ticket only. In case of rain, the program will be moved to the Municipal Auditorium.

Read Romans 7:18 through 8:2.

"The Helper, the holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and recall to you everything I have said." (John 14:26, MOFFATT.)

At seven o'clock in the morning I prayed, "O Father, make me an open channel of Thy love. Teach me to be perceptive and understanding, and to have good judgment that I may bless and help others."

But at nine o'clock, when a troublesome woman came once again asking for "a help," I was irritated, abrupt and rather harsh. Only later did I realize the difference between my prayer and my action. I moaned inwardly, "I didn't remember my prayer."

This is the cause of so many failures; we are sincere at prayer time, our longing is deep and ardent. But in the hurly-burly of our daily work, our desire becomes diffused and vanishes.

Our task is to train ourselves, to discipline our thoughts to return hourly, or momentarily, to the deep inner remembrance of our heart's sincere desire. By such training and discipline, at length we abide, even amid outer distractions, in the awareness of the Holy Spirit's keeping and guidance.

PRAYER:
 Dear Father, it is our true desire to follow the way of love. Let the power of the Holy Spirit keep us steadfast through every moment of this day. For Christ's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 Today with the help of the Holy Spirit, I shall not forget my divine purpose.
 — Margaret Sheldon (Barbados)

Production Credit Assn. Ranks High In Meeting Attendance

Coleman — The Coleman Production Credit Association held a high ranking among the 36 agricultural financing institutions in Texas and 484 in the nation in attendance at the 19-63 annual stockholders meetings, according to figures recently released by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington D. C.

The Coleman PCA ranked 27th in the nation and eighth in Texas, with a percentage of 50 of its voting stockholders in attendance at its 29th annual meeting. It was one of only 28 associations showing an attendance of 50 percent or more of voting stockholders at the 1963 annual meeting.

"We are very pleased at the high ranking our association showed in annual meeting attendance in 1963," commented General Manager J. C. Marshall of Coleman. "This indicates the wide interest taken by our stockholders in the affairs of their association."

The Coleman Production Credit Association is owned and operated in its entirety by more than 650 farmer and rancher stockholder-borrowers in Coleman, Taylor, Brown, Callahan, Runnels and Concho counties. Offices are operated in Coleman, Abilene, Brownwood and Ballinger.

Association directors are President S. P. Horne of Coleman, Vice President Ernest T. Pitzer of Abilene, Wade Carter of Norton, G. W. Jenkins of Melvin and Amos Porter of Blanket.

Suggestions For The Food Shopper

College Station — Food shoppers may find these buying ideas easy on their budgets, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, short ribs, ground beef and round steak. Pork values include end cut pork chops, shoulder roasts and steaks, smoked hams, picnic and fresh pork backbone, she says.

Fryers remain low in price and high in quality. Grade A large eggs offer the most quality and nutrition for the money, the specialist says.

Fresh fruit and vegetables in good supply at reasonable prices include strawberries, lemons, bananas, pineapples, lettuce, cabbage, green onions, carrots, dry yellow onions, radishes, mustard, collards, turnips and greens. Green beans and sweet corn are coming to market in greater quantity, with attractive price tags attached.

For menu variety, consider eggplant, asparagus, cauliflower and broccoli. End-of-the-pack grocery items are being featured at attractive prices, including tomato products, corn, green and wax beans and peas.

Seeds of the evergreen Texas Ebony are used as a substitute for coffee by Mexican Indians.

Charles Barrington Stationed In N. J.

Clementon, N. J. (AHTNC) — Army Specialist Four Charles R. Barrington, 20, son of Cecil M. Barrington, Rockwood Route, Santa Anna, was assigned to Battery A of the 43d Artillery's 3d Missile Battalion, a Nike-Hercules missile unit in Clementon, N. J., April 30.

This unit, part of the nationwide U. S. Army Air Defense Command, provides air defense in the Camden, N. J. area.

Specialist Barrington, a radar mechanic in Battery A, entered the Army in May 1961 and was last assigned at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Barrington attended Santa Anna High School. His mother, Mrs. Marie E. Barrington, lives at 276 E. Dexter, Covina, Calif.

ROYAL SERVICE WMS HAS

ROYAL SERVICE PROGRAM

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the Rockwood Baptist Church Monday afternoon in a Royal Service program. Mrs. Ray Caldwell led the discussion of "For Liberty and Light." Mrs. Claud Box was at the piano for group singing of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." Mrs. R. J. Deal conducted the business session when the regular social was planned for Monday, June 1 at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. Box and Mrs. Deal as hostesses. Each member is to bring a cup to exchange.

Members present were Mrs. Bill Bryan, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Matt Estes, Mrs. Deal, Mrs. Box, Mrs. Evan Wise, Mrs. Lon Gray, Mrs. Eurrell Blair, Mrs. James Steward, Mrs. A. L. King and Mrs. Henry Smith.

FACE LIFTING

The Seventh-day Adventist Church is receiving a face lifting via new landscaping. The planter sign has been repainted and planted and shrubs have been set out.

Anyone having extra trees, possibly mimosa, who would care to donate them to the church would certainly be welcome to call Mrs. Henner, who will see they are picked up and planted properly.

ADDITION TO HOSPITAL STAFF

Another addition to the staff of the Santa Anna Hospital is Mrs. Chivela Wallender, R. N., of Jefferson, Texas.

Mrs. Wallender is also a music and voice teacher, specializing in organ and piano.

With her little daughter, Carol Ann, Mrs. Wallender is residing in Mrs. Clara Traylor's house on Avenue C.

Screwworm Threat May Loom Again

Birmingham, Ala. — The Progressive Farmer magazine declares in the June issue that the screwworm may reinfest the Southeast and Southwest this year unless Congress acts to provide funds for operation of the screwworm barrier in Mexico.

"The Southeast faces infestation because the only sure protection they have is a screwworm-free Southwest," states the magazine. "In spite of a Mississippi River inspection line, screwworms re-entered the Southeast three years ago. However, not a single case has been reported in Louisiana or the Southeast since the Southwestern Eradication Program got underway."

Screwworms have been successfully pushed out of the Southwest and most of the eradication operations are now in Mexico. Southwest producer and state funds which paid for half of the program have largely been expended. "Only U.S. Government has authority to operate in Mexico," The Progressive Farmer emphasizes. "Screwworm eradication program, therefore, faces abandonment unless Congress acts to keep the international program going after July 1."

Director of Practice Announces Special Enrollment Exam

Thomas J. Reilly, Director of Practice, U. S. Treasury Department, has announced that the Special Enrollment Examination, for those seeking to qualify for enrollment to practice as agents before the Internal Revenue Service, will be held at IRS District Offices September 24 and 25, 1964. The examination will be similar in content to that held in 1963.

The Special Enrollment Examination Program presents an opportunity each year for those qualified who are not attorneys, certified public accountants, not qualified former Internal Revenue Service employees, to establish the proof of competence which is required of tax practitioners who seek to acquire enrollment status in order to represent their clients at all levels of procedure before the Service. The program is of special interest to the public accountants of the Nation.

Applications, which are to be filed with the Director of Practice, Washington, D. C., and detailed information concerning the examination, may be obtained from Internal Revenue Service District Offices, R. R. Bishop, Examination Coordinator, P. O. Box 594, Dallas, Texas 75221. The examination fee of $25.00, established in 1963, continues to be effective for 1964.

Self Culture Club Completes Study For Year

The year's course of study for the Self Culture Club was completed last Friday when the members went on a tour of some historical sites in Coleman County and had a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Hardy Blue.

Places visited were Camp Colorado, the old cemetery there, and the Sanders Edmonson home on Jim Ned Creek.

Camp Colorado, founded in 1851, had stone buildings constructed between 1854 and 1857. One of the buildings was used as a part of the Sackett residence, and was awarded a Texas Historical Society medallion last year. The cemetery was first used for soldier burials in the '50's, and later became a community cemetery.

The Edmonson home was built about 1876 by Sam Gholson and has been occupied continuously and is in excellent repair today. The Gholson cattle herds ranged from the Brazos to the Llano, and the headquarters on the Jim Ned were one of the early fine homes in this area. The Edmonsons bought the place 67 years ago, and many of the furnishings are interesting and valuable family relics. One of the barns there is of stone, and was an outpost of Camp Colorado, with solid rock walls and few openings.

Mrs. Edmonson and Miss Daisy Edmonson served fruit punch and cookies to the visiting group, among which Mrs. Jim Rutherford was a guest.

A short business session was held at the Blue home, with Mrs. Tom Kingsbery presiding. Mrs. B. A. Parker was elected club secretary, succeeding Mrs. Charles Allen, who is moving to El Paso.

About sixteen members were present, also Carol Kingsbery and Patricia and Philip Allen.

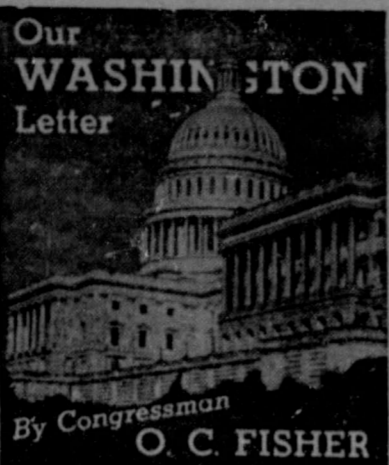

Buy Red Bath Towels

Deer hunters, why not ask your wife to buy some red bath towels? They are perfect for use in the woods as scarfs, seats and for rub downs.

Furthermore, when tied around the horns of the buck you're lugging from the woods, they make good insurance against being shot.

And of course the towels can be used in the home when you're not in the field.

President Woodrow Wilson was football coach at Princeton in 1890.

MEXICAN WORKERS Who desire to enter the United States on immigration visas to work on farms and ranches, will find it increasing difficult to be cleared for admission. Under the Immigration laws the Labor Department must determine that an applicant will be paid prevailing wages, enjoy working conditions comparable to domestic workers, and there is a labor shortage.

The Labor Department recently announced that before an alien will be admitted to work on a ranch he must be paid not less than $150 per month plus room and board, plus $1.00 per hour overtime in excess of 208 hours per month. The law does not require this, but the Labor Department does.

In addition, the Labor Department now requires an employer who offers work to a Mexican alien seeking admission, to first offer to pay any qualified available domestic worker in the U. S. at least $150 per month, etc.

The Labor Department also requires the employer to first advertise for domestic workers, use the USES and other means of recruitment to fill the needs, and various other requirements.

THE LABOR DEPARTMENT has decided too many Mexican aliens are being admitted, and has undertaken this crackdown to reduce, if not entirely eliminate, the admission of more Mexicans. The influx of Mexican nationals began about 10 years ago when the Labor Department made the contract bracero program unworkable with arbitrary conditions and restrictions. By being denied admission for temporary employment under contract thousands of the Mexican braceros came in on immigration visas, on a permanent basis.

In fact, during a ten-year period, up to recently, more than 400,000 were admitted — most of them because the Labor Department would not allow them to be contracted on a temporary basis. Now they are here permanently.

The bracero (contract) program, already reduced to almost uselessness by the Labor Department is due to expire at the end of this year. This is certain to stimulate a vast increase in applications for permanent visas from south of the border. Now the Labor Department has decided to keep them out.

Here's Some Starting Salaries For College Graduates

College Station — Starting salaries for prospective college graduates are of concern to many young people this spring.

Here's information about beginning average salaries being offered to male college students who will receive a bachelor's degree this year. It should be of interest to many Texans, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

With a few exceptions, the industry making the most job offers also was providing the highest salaries. For instance, electrical engineering students were offered 647 jobs from the aircraft and space industry with an average monthly salary offer of $633. The high was $692, the low, $574.

If the same students were interested in working for the electrical machinery and equipment industry, the number of jobs available would be 226 and the salary average would be $619. The aircraft and space industry ranked highest in the number of job opportunities for five of the technical curricula.

Average beginning monthly salary offers quoted include: Humanities and social sciences, $452; marketing and distribution, $459; business, $453; accounting, $538; Metallurgical engineering, $600; civil engineering, $607; industrial engineering, $610; mechanical engineering, $617; chemical engineering, $612; physics, chemistry, math, $617; aeronautical engineering, $628; electrical engineering, $633.

In humanities and social sciences, job offers were more evenly divided among all the categories of employers. The highest number — 32 offers — came from banking, finance and insurance, with an average salary of $452. From the merchandising — retail and wholesale field — came only 27 offers, but the average salary was a little higher — $468.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

Sunburn

The sunburn season is here again.

It's a completely safe prediction that at least ten million people will succeed in roasting to a turn on the first long, hot weekend at the beach or pool, or even in the backyard garden.

If you want to get a sunburn, it's easy. Just stay out in the summer sun too long. However, do this with the knowledge that the physical benefits of tanning are at best dubious, and that there is solid evidence that continued exposure to sun weathers and ages the skin.

If you want to get tanned, the American Medical Association offers some pointers on how to do it without burning too much.

Gradual exposure to the sun is the safest and simplest method of acquiring an attractive tan. As a general rule, begin with 15 minutes exposure the first day, and increase the time by a few minutes a day. The time of day is important, with the mid-day period, when the sun is directly overhead, being the hottest for burning purposes.

Actually, the slim possible benefits of tanning are more than offset by its potential hazards. One skin specialist who has studied the problem said recently that he foresees the day when tanning will no longer be a status symbol and the fair, creamy complexion will once again be the vogue.

Continued tanning brings gradual changes in the blood-vessels of the exposed surfaces. The connective tissue of the skin degenerates, causing wrinkles and a coarsening of texture. The "V" of the neck becomes permanently reddened and freckle-like dark spots appear on the skin. These spots can sometimes be the start of skin cancer.

Sun bleaches the hair, too, and over a period of time the sunbleached hair becomes brittle and unmanageable. However, the damaged hair will eventually grow out.

The only really beneficial effect of sunlight on the skin is formation of vitamin D, but the American diet already provides an adequate supply of this vitamin.

Despite the adverse physical indications, doctors are well aware that many of their patients still will continue to work on a suntan each summer. If you feel that you must get tanned, remember the basic rule for gradual tanning — 15 minutes the first day, increased by about a third each day. With care, it may be possible to tan without too much burning and a minimum of peeling.

It's the Law in TEXAS

NEW LAW TIGHTENS HOT CHECK PROSECUTIONS

The 58th Texas Legislature passed H. B. No. 457 dealing with the use of worthless checks to defraud. It has practical aspects for both the collection of such checks and the prosecution of offenders that were not available before.

It makes it unlawful for any person or firm to make, draw or deliver a check with intent to defraud, knowing that the maker does not have sufficient funds on deposit to cover its payment. It is no longer required that the check be given in exchange for property in order to subject the maker or drawer to punishment.

The new Act, similar to the old law, provides that the refusal of payment by the bank shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of insufficient funds, "provided such maker — shall not have paid the holder thereof within ten (10) days after giving of such notice that such check... has not been paid..."

New notice provisions state that notice shall be given in writing sent by registered or certified mail or telegram to the place listed on the check.

Penalties are provided which increase with each offense and depend upon the size of the check. First conviction on a check under $50 shall be punishment in the county jail for not to exceed two years and by fine not to exceed $1,000.

If the check is over $50 the penalty can be fixed at confinement in the penitentiary for not less than two years nor more than ten years.

In order to avoid turning law enforcement agencies into more collection agencies, the Bill provides that anyone who has furnished information concerning a worthless check which has resulted in the acceptance by the District or County Attorney of a complaint and who shall thereafter suggest or request that such case be dismissed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not less than $100 nor more than $500.

Repairing The Eyeglasses

A good way to ruin a fishing or hunting trip is to lose the tiny screw that fastens the ear piece to your glasses. To fix it, temporarily, remove the staple from a match book cover. It will serve as a substitute until you return to civilization. A straight pin also works quite well.

Austin — Suppose you had $25,000 to invest... where would you turn for advice?

You have two choices — an amateur or a professional advisor.

The same goes for your health, whether you realize it or not. Good health, the experts say, is worthy of a $25,000 price tag.

Where will you turn for advice about your health investment... your neighbor, a health quack or a physician?

Undoubtedly, your neighbor is both interested and concerned about your health and welfare.

But beware words such as "I know someone who had just the same thing you do and she..."

Stop listening right there. Only your doctor can diagnose your case, or Mrs. Jones's. Different diseases may have similar symptoms.

Whatever the source, always question a cure-all or sure-fire remedy. Carrot juice will not cure varicose veins or gout. Yeast flakes will not rehabilitate weary and worn body cells. And wheat germ oil will not cure arthritis, gallstones, cirrhosis of the liver or epilepsy.

Above all, beware the health quack. This self-designated health authority is a fake. He is intensely interested in you... not in your welfare, but your money.

The old-time medicine show pitchman has given way to a much more suave and impressive scientific operator. Today the bogus health expert usually dribbles impressive scientific language into his spoken and written come ons.

The quack may be selling copper bracelets to cure arthritis or a serum to cure cancer. The cancer quack imposes a two fold problem. Not only is he wasting the money of the hopeful patient, but he is wasting time. And time, spent on a false cancer cure, may cost the person his life.

Pay no attention to oral promises or a friend's advice about health products or devices. Read the product's label before you buy. False claims on labels are subject to prosecution; they therefore tend to be much more subdued than unpoliceable sales talk.

In any case, remember, your good health is worth $25,000. Be wise, use only your physician's advice on your investment.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

A BOOBY TRAP in the anti-poverty program was disclosed last week when Sargent Shriver, the Administration's Commander-in-Chief, addressed the National Advisory Committee on Farm Labor. Shriver, declaring "a farm labor system that is based on poverty and destitution", took the cover off his plan to have all farm labor paid a minimum of $1.25 per hour, plus time and a half for all hours over 40 during any one week.

Using the old scare-crow expression "corporate farms", the anti-poverty czar said they pay "substandard wages", and he said this sets a bad standard. He did not bother to identify the farms he was talking about, nor did he announce what those "substandard" wages amount to. Nor did he explain where the family farmer, who he said should be forced to pay higher wages, is to get the money to pay for this increase in cost of production. Most of them are losing money now.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL got a jolt last week when two Negroes broke a window and entered the Capitol Hill apartment of Miss Mari Ellen Christerson, who works for Senator Carl Curtis of Nebraska. At 2:30 a. m. she was awakened by a man who choked and beat her fiercely. In the struggle she suffered a compound arm fracture, a broken nose and eyesocket, and other injuries. The two Negroes escaped after taking $30.

This is but one of a long series of similar attacks by Negroes on Congressional Secretaries. A year ago a Secretary was slashed by a Negro who followed her into a Capitol Hill Catholic Church at noon. Alone and kneeling in prayer, she was stabbed 10 times by the knife wielder. About the same time three other secretaries, while each walked alone to their rooms, within two blocks of the Capitol, were attacked by Negroes. Many other similar incidents have been reported.

While the Negro race is not to blame for these individual acts, there are those who fear that so many similar crimes having been committed by Negroes, to grant special rights and privilege to that race, as is proposed in the Civil Rights bill, would tend to encourage more criminal acts by Negro criminals by making them feel they are in a preferred class.

ANOTHER JOLT to the Civil Rights legislation was dealt by the results of the Maryland Presidential preference primary. Although the outright anti-civil rights vote (for Wallace) was only 43% of the total, an analysis revealed that a clear majority of the white people of Maryland were opposed to the bill, and voted for Wallace.

A-1 Fish Stringer

Take an old (or new) brass chain, a box of high grade shower curtain rings and you've got the makings for a store-bought fish stringer.

Fit the rings through the chain at regular intervals. Rings open and close more easily and are the ideal size to hold fishes' lips.

Three Areas Of Misunderstanding On Social Security

Over the years three major misconceptions have arisen here and there concerning social security financing, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager of the Social Security Administration in Abilene.

Tuley lists the most common of these as the belief that the social security trust funds are "in the red". In the opinion of such believer, the social security program is bankrupt and there won't be enough money to pay off when many of those working today reach retirement age.

"These critics," Tuley said, "base their assertion on the fact that we do not operate on a 'full-reserve' basis like private insurance companies do."

Tuley pointed out that private insurance must be ready to pay off 100% on the dollar if they should cease to operate. No such total reserve is required under the social security program, because social security is a non-voluntary program for coverage of future as well as present generations of workers.

The program is thus guaranteed new entrants year after year. Therefore, the social security program does not need a 100% reserve because it is assured permanent income from those who work for a living.

"A second misconception," he stated, "is that the social security program always pays out more than it takes in. Here again it is implied that the social security program is slowly going broke and won't be able to meet future commitments."

He added, "This is simply not true. It is true that for short periods of time the expenditures exceed the receipts. But this is a temporary condition due primarily to expanding the program. The point the critics miss is that the social security law has provided for a higher tax scale at specified times to assure its solvency."

The third misconception, cited by Tuley, is that the payment of full scale benefits to people who have worked under social security only a short time is financially dangerous. Here the critics fail to understand the basic concept of social legislation, he said.

Tuley explained that social security was born during the depression of the 30's. A primary concern at that time was to get purchasing power into the hands of the older people who were the first thrown out of work and would be the last rehired. Over the long pull, social security was intended to compensate for loss of earning power due to old-age, death and disability.

He said that Congress adopted the same policy for social security that many employers use by adopting the theory of "prior service credits." This means that the older people were given credit for having worked years before social security became law.

Most employers who adopt a private pension plan give their older workers credits for years of service at no cost to the worker.

Tuley further points out that this policy is transitory, for even at this relatively early date in 1964, we find that those people without rather substantial work under social security are not able to qualify for benefits until and unless they secure added work under the system.

"Our critics," Tuley concluded, "would have difficulty convincing these people that social security is just a give away program, with no relation to time spent in the system."

Brush The Rust Away

Take an old shaving brush and soak the bristles in oil. Then store in your tackle box.

A fast pass over spoons, splinters and such before they go back in their compartments keeps 'em bright and shiny. Oil stays in the bristles for weeks.

To Quick-Dry Boots

For a quick-dry job on a pair of hunting or fishing boots in camp, try heating rocks and dropping them in the boots.

Repeat until the interiors are entirely dry.

Capt. J. A. Spillman Participates In U. S. Strike Command

With Desert Strike Forces in the Southwest U. S. — Captain James A. Spillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvy E. Spillman of 507 Emmett, Topeka, Kan., is in the field with U. S. Air Force Tactical Air Command (TAC) units now engaged in Exercise Desert Strike being conducted by the U. S. Strike Command. The realistic combat operation is the largest joint air-ground training maneuver in the southwest since World War II.

Captain Spillman, a tactical fighter pilot, and other members of TAC's jet fighter, reconnaissance, air assault and support units are providing firepower and other tactical air support for the U. S. Army battlefield troops participating. The exercise will run through May 30 on 13,000,000 acres of desert land in California, Arizona and Nevada. Major elements of the Military Air Transport Service and Air Force Communications Service, plus Strategic Air Command jet aerial refueling tankers, also are providing airpower needed in the combat maneuver.

The captain, permanently assigned to Holloman AFB, N. M., is a graduate of Topeka High School. He received his B. A. degree in 1954 from Washburn University in Topeka. Captain Spillman is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon. His wife, Alice, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Guthrie Sr., of Santa Anna, Texas.
