SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1964

NUMBER 32

Point Rows

We received two items in the same mail recently, items that when taken together make you stop and think for a minute.

One of these items is a press release from the Office of Mental Health Planning, in Austin, telling of the problem of finding adequate facilities for caring for the mentally ill in Texas.

Some quotes from this release: "...ranging from emotionally disturbed children to criminally insane adults... they have one thing in common — they need help. Sometimes that help is hard to find... too often a family with an emotionally disturbed or mentally ill member does not know where to seek advice or treatment."

A sad situation. The person with a physical illness, or the family with a member that is physically ill, has no difficulty finding facilities for treatment. But the mentally ill patient is often condemned to a life of complete or partial disability because not enough facilities exist to provide adequate treatment.

The other item we received in the same mail is the monthly report of the State Treasury Department. In looking through the list of funds available for various needs in the state of Texas, we find that only $250,000 is available for treatment of mental health problems in Texas. This is the maximum, the larger portion of that amount being found in the Board of State Hospitals and Special Schools fund, which must also provide for the operation of special schools.

The insurance examination board fund contains more than half a million dollars, the real estate license board fund contains $286,681. As important as these activities might be, mental health is more important.

We have come a long way from the "snake pit" days, but our treatment of the mentally ill, and indeed our attitude toward mental illness, still has a long way to come.

The Lineville Tribune, weekly newspaper published in Lineville, Alabama, has come up with an interesting method of getting full mileage out of its tax dollars. It uses pages from the Congressional Record in which to wrap the papers for mailing. We might suggest that they could be used to wrap garbage also, but some people are particular about what they have associating with their garbage.

A note came with a check for subscription renewal for The News this week: "This is a renewal for my mother, Mrs. W. R. McMinn, 1317 Poplar, Abilene. My mother is now quite ill in St. Ann's Hospital, Abilene. She misses her friends in Santa Anna very much."

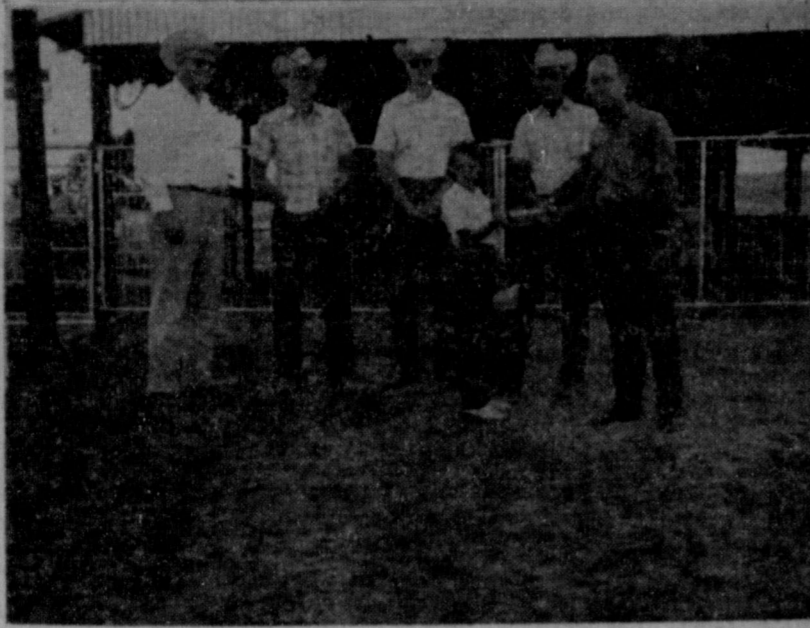

Let us suggest that, if you know Mrs. McMinn, you make it a point to write her a letter or card today. It will probably make her very happy, and it will make you feel very good.

Rev. Bobby Weathers, minister of First Methodist Church, Santa Anna, is off Monday to preach a revival at union services for the Loving and Jean Methodist Churches, in Young County. Rev. Weathers lived in that neighborhood as a boy.

More evidence of the far-reaching effect of The Santa Anna News. C. H. Wise, in the office recently to renew a subscription for one of his children, told us that an old friend of his son, Dr. Wes Wise, read the item about Dr. Wes on the frontpage of the July 9 edition, including the information that the new doctor would be interning at University Hospital in Little Rock, Arkansas. The friend, Charles Scarbrough, who now lives in Oklahoma, called his friend, and they had quite a long distance conversation.

Even Okies read The Santa Anna News.

All friends are invited to attend a gift tea honoring Mrs. Jackie Dillingham, Friday, August 7, 3 to 5 p. m. at the Hospitality Room of the Santa Anna National Bank.

Local 4-H And FFA Members Show Outstanding Calves Saturday

More than one hundred persons turned out Saturday, August 1, for the annual Coleman County 4-H and FFA feeder calf tour.

Starting from the Coleman County courthouse, the group inspected calves being fed out by Sara Sue, Mary Lou and Ted Taylor, Paul and Scott Beaver, Sandra Hemphill, Curtis and Vicki Skelton, Jack Horne, Collier Watson, Franklin Quinn, Charles Cope, and Dickie and David Horner, before collecting at the Coleman Rodeo Grounds for a barbecue lunch provided by the feeders.

Following lunch, the group resumed the tour, having the opportunity to check calves being fed by Joe Pat Hemphill, Tommy Mack Connelly, Vickie Brown, Ann and Jay Davis, and Karen and Ronald Sims.

More than 3,500 people crowded the Coleman rodeo grounds the evening of Friday, July 31, for the annual meeting of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative.

Beginning at 7:00 p. m., the program included registration, a musical presentation, business meeting, cooperative demonstration, humorist and a band.

In the business meeting, three incumbent directors were re-elected. Joe Hudson, of Novice, won over Ray McKinney, Goldsboro; Arnold Fuchs, Ballinger, defeated Arnold Matthesen, also of Ballinger; and J. L. Roach, Miles, topped Walter H. Werner, another Miles resident.

Carryover members of the board of directors of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative include Garland Abbey, Coleman; R. S. Davis, Winters; E. E. Evans, Talpa; Johnnie Henderson, Burkett; and Tom Kingsbery, Santa Anna; and Kirby Robinson, Norton.

Current officers of the Cooperative are E. E. Evans, president; Kirby Robinson, vice president; and Garland Abbey, secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors will meet Monday, August 17, to elect officers for the upcoming fiscal year.

C. L. Newton is manager of the Coleman County Electric Cooperative.

Portion of the Coleman County road to be repaired is a section extending from US Highway 67, seven and one-half miles west of Santa Anna, one and one-tenth miles southwest.

Ford Allen Construction Company, Coleman, was low bidder on the project, with a bid of $72,322.41. It is expected to be completed in 90 working days, according to Eric C. Mayo, Texas Highway Department resident engineer at Coleman, who will be in active charge of the project.

Busy Schedule Set For Annual Santa Anna Homecoming

A full schedule of activities is being planned for the annual homecoming at Santa Anna, Saturday, September 26.

Registration will begin at 9:00 a. m., with coffee and visitation scheduled from 9:00 to 12:00.

Special class reunions and luncheons are on the agenda from 12:00 noon until 3:00 p. m. At 3:00, the business meeting and program will get underway, slated to last until about 5:00 p. m.

From 5:00 to 7:00 p. m., dinner will be served in the school cafeteria, followed at 7:00 by the Bangs-Santa Anna football game at Mountaineer Field.

After the football game, a dance has been scheduled for the National Guard Armory, beginning at 9:00 p. m. and lasting until midnight.

As is the custom, classes ending with "4" will be specially honored this year. The classes of 1914 and 1944 are planning special reunion activities, and it is hoped that other "4" classes will make similar plans.

Those planning the 1964 homecoming urge that all ex-students of Santa Anna schools and their families attend this event.

Jeannette Rankin, was the first woman member of the U. S. House of Representatives — in 1916.

First Methodist Church of Santa Anna will be sponsoring a Youth Emphasis Week, beginning Sunday, August 9, and continuing through Friday, August 14.

The planned youth emphasis is unusual in that it is not for youth alone, but is rather designed to be an effort directed by the youth of the Church. All persons, of any age, are invited to the evening services, which are scheduled for 7:00 p. m. on Sunday and at 7:30 p. m. on following weekdays, according to Rev. Bobby Weathers, minister of First Methodist.

Following the evening service each night, the youth will have a period of recreation and refreshments in the Church's recreation building.

Leading the week's activities will be a former Santa Anna couple, Rev. and Mrs. Weldon Haynes, both of whom are former members of First Methodist Church's Methodist Youth Fellowship organization.

Rev. Haynes, who is presently minister of the Methodist Church at May, Texas, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Haynes, of Santa Anna. Mrs. Haynes is the former Arlene Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Welch, also of Santa Anna. Both Rev. and Mrs. Haynes are graduates of Santa Anna High School, and both are students at Howard Payne College. Rev. Haynes will complete his work at Howard Payne this year and will enroll in Perkins School of Theology, in Dallas.

Rev. Haynes will lead the youth activities during the week, and Mrs. Haynes will direct recreational activities.

The last night of the emphasis, Friday, August 14, will be devoted to a retreat for the youth at Lake Brownwood.

Rev. Weathers invited all young people of Santa Anna and surrounding areas to attend the Youth Emphasis Week at First Methodist.

Santa Annans To Enter Farm Group Talent Contest

Several Santa Anna young people will participate in a talent show sponsored by the Coleman County Farm Bureau on Saturday, August 8, in the Coleman High School Auditorium.

Among the Santa Anna entries are Donald Ness, who will render several western songs on the organ; a skit based on the song "I'm An Old Cowhand" featuring Linda Horner, Velda Cullins, and Karen McCluskey; piano selections by Jimmy Benton; and a dance duet with Carol Kingsbery and Jay Lynn Moseley. Moseley will also be a solo number.

Sponsors for the Santa Anna entries are the Santa Anna Tile Company, Santa Anna National Bank, Hosch Brothers, and Hartman Plumbing and Electrical Company.

Mrs. L. M. Guthrie will be accompanist for the Santa Anna contingent. Winners will be crowned by Lawanda Horner, of Santa, 1964 Coleman County Farm Bureau queen.

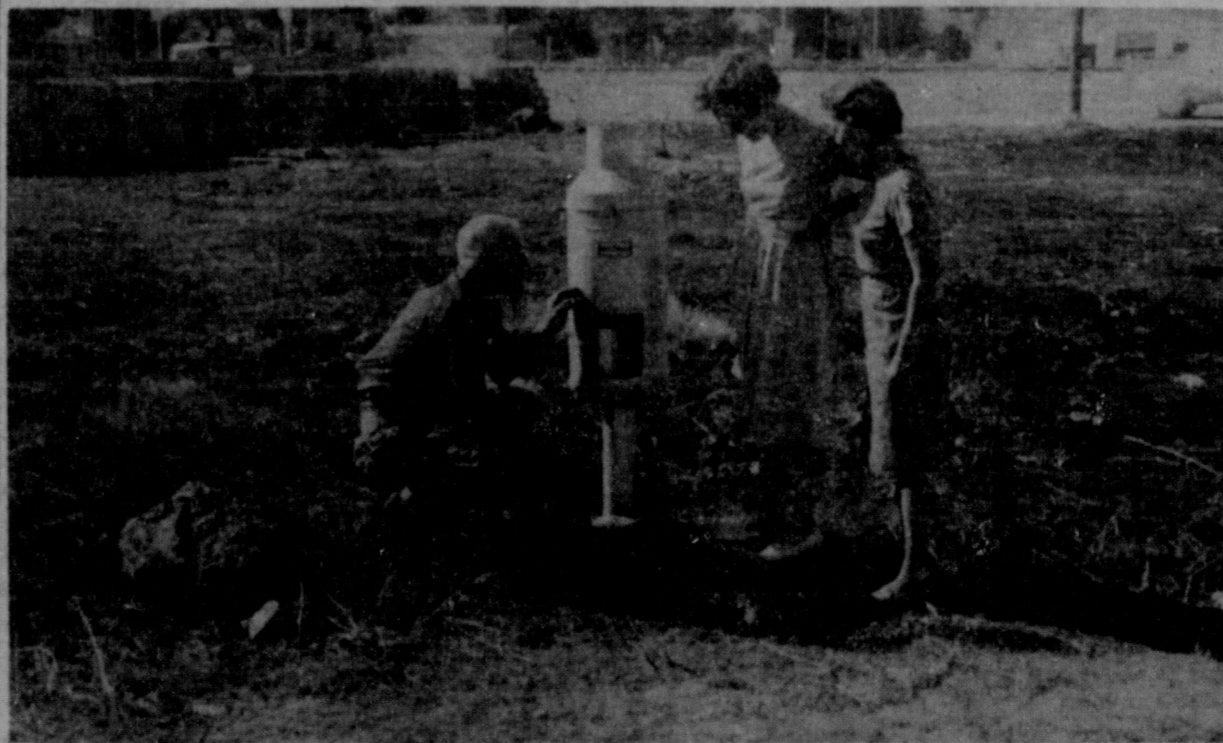

Emzy Brown, of Santa Anna, is president of the Coleman County Farm Bureau.

SCHOOL TRANSFER UPHELD

Hockley County school board's approval of the transfer of 25 students from Witharral Independent School District to schools in Levelland, Littlefield and Anton was upheld by Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar.

Witharral authorities asked the Commission to prohibit the transfer which had been requested by parents of the children.

WHERE'S THE RAIN?

NEW RAIN GAUGERS—The Santa Anna News has been appointed official rain recorder for Santa Anna by the United States Weather Bureau. In this picture, Grady Steen, News production supervisor, explains the workings of the automatic recording rain gauge installed last week behind the News office, to Ruth Poldrack, composer, and Billie Gregg, advertising manager. Steen was Weather Bureau observer in Mason for several years. The only thing needed now is some rain to measure.

Adventists Plan Bible School

Children of the community, ranging in age from four to 13, are invited to attend a two-week vacation Bible school to be held at the church annex of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, from August 10 through August 21, Monday through Thursday of each week. Classes will meet from 6:30 to 8:30 each evening and will include craft and nature study, Bible study on the subject "God's Wonderful World," and supervised games and recreation.

Primary and Junior students will have a special workbook made up of puzzles, completion tests and other exercises. Mrs. Duane Tucker, of Santa Anna, will be in charge of the school with three leaders and ten teachers to assist her. There is no charge for enrollment in the vacation Bible school. Each child however, should be accompanied by an adult for enrollment on opening evening. Special graduation exercises will be held at the close of the two-week period. Assisting in the direction of the general program of the vacation Bible school is R. R. Osborne, minister of the local Adventist Church.

You can learn more by letting the other fellow tell you all he knows than you can learn by telling him all you know.

Children Of Totally Disabled Vets Due Education Help

Children of living, totally and permanently disabled veterans from service-connected causes may now participate in the War Orphans Education Assistance program administered by the Veterans Administration.

This extension of the program to children other than those of deceased service-connected veterans was signed into law July 7 by President Johnson.

Thousands of children throughout the nation are expected to be affected by the new law, according to Glyndon Hague, manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco.

Originally the War Orphans Education Assistance Act applied only to those children whose veteran-parent died as a direct result of service in the armed forces during wartime. The fact that the other parent still lived did not prevent these children, in age between 18 and 23, from qualifying as an "orphan" in the meaning of the law the VA manager said.

Later the law was amended to include children of veterans who died as members of the armed forces in peacetime from illness or injury resulting from "service in the line of duty."

This new law now extends the program to children of veterans of the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II, the Korean Conflict and the peacetime service who have been permanently and totally disabled by illness or injury attributable either to their wartime service or, in the case of peacetime veterans, to disabilities received in the line of duty.

The law provides for benefits up to $110 a month for full time enrollment and proportionately lower for part time study for eligible children attending college or pursuing non college courses leading to gainful employment. Courses on the high school level are not allowed. Marriage does not preclude educational assistance for those who otherwise qualify.

If the eligible person is of legal age, he or she may file application with the VA; if not the parent or guardian must apply.

New Bait Effective In Fire Ant Control

A bait so irresistible that fire ants can't leave it alone has proved to be the main reason for the state and federal success in eradicating the harmful insect in Texas and eight other states.

The new bait developed by scientists is a granulated mixture of Mirex, a chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticide; soybean oil, a food that appeals to the ants; and corncob grits, a carrier that makes it possible to distribute the other two ingredients evenly. The bait is so effective that only a seventh of an ounce of the insecticide is required per acre for a treatment to kill the ants. The new weapon kills the fire ants but does not leave any harmful residue.

The fire ant, a native of South America entered the United States around 1918 with a shipment of goods from its homeland and became established near Mobile, Alabama. The bothersome pest of humans, animals and crops began their accelerated spread in earnest in the 1950's.

For food the destructive insects depend on plant roots, stems, seeds, tender shoots and some insects. They damage farm machinery and reduce the carrying capacity of pastures. Because of the ant's vicious sting, which causes boil-like sores, producers find it difficult to hire workers to harvest crops in infested fields.

Further research is being conducted to determine the most effective timing for the applications.

Slow Vehicles Are Major Hazard On Rural Roads And Highways

The Texas Safety Association today warned vacation drivers to be on the alert for slow-moving vehicles when traveling on the state's rural roads.

"Slow-moving and oversized vehicles traveling on the same roadway with fast-moving vehicles present real danger to drivers who ordinarily do not drive under such conditions," J. O. Musick, TSA General Manager, said.

"The driver of a fast-moving vehicle frequently does not realize how much he will have to cut his speed when approaching a slow-moving vehicle on the roadway ahead."

Citing the farm tractor as one type of slow-moving vehicle drivers may expect, he explained the speed factor involved. "The top speed for many tractors is around 20 miles an hour. At this speed a tractor is moving 29 feet a second. A car traveling 60 miles an hour travels 88 feet a second. The car moving 60 miles an hour requires 251 feet to stop under perfect conditions. At 70 miles an hour, 328 feet is required," he said.

Musick also pointed out that hillcrests and curves often hide slow-moving equipment on the road ahead.

"While most equipment operators drive as far to the right and on the shoulder as possible, part of the equipment still may extend out on the roadway. There are times also when it is impossible for the operator to travel on the shoulder of the road," he added.

Some tractor operators attach a 12 to 14-foot vertical pole with a red flag to the vehicle to warn other drivers. Even when a tractor cannot be seen over the crest of a hill, the red flag on the long pole warns drivers that the equipment is present.

Among other safety devices now being used in some states is a pyramid-shaped metal shield which is visible day or night. The shield is mounted high on the equipment. It is intended to alert the driver of a fast-moving vehicle of the presence of the equipment.

Musick also advised drivers to be on the alert for farm equipment crossing the roadway and turning onto or off the roadway.

Husband Of Santa Anna Woman Flies Mercy Mission

Captain Kenneth B. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams of 3074 Spottswood, Memphis, Tennessee, was aircraft commander of the C-130 Hercules aircraft from Evreux Air Base, France, which recently made a mercy flight to the Madeira Islands to airlift a critically ill serviceman to a hospital.

Captain Adams and his crew evacuated a US Marine lance corporal suffering from appendicitis and pneumonia from Porto Santo, an island in the Madeira chain, to the hospital at Torrejon Air Base, Spain. The Marine was serving aboard an LST when he was stricken and moved ashore.

The captain is on rotational duty at Evreux with his Tactical Air Command (TAC) unit which is assigned permanently at Dyess Air Force Base, Texas. TAC units are frequently rotated to overseas bases to maintain a high degree of flexibility and combat readiness in providing firepower and other air support for US Army forces.

A member of Kappa Alpha Order, he earned his BS degree from Memphis State University and was commissioned in 1938 through the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program there.

Thursday Special For Local Families

Thursday evenings are something special for members of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church of Santa Anna. Family outings, complete with baseball, swimming, boating, water skiing and picnicking, are held each Thursday evening at Hords Creek Dam or Brownwood Lake. "There is another reason for this, other than fun," a spokesman for the Church said. "We believe our bodies are the temple of the Holy Spirit and are to be kept in the very best of physical condition... thus the outdoor exercise and activities. Too, we feel we might as well enjoy these as well as re-create our bodies, which recreation really is."

Beef And Turkey Lead Current Best Buy Market List

Need a good way to beat the heat?

You'll find two August plentiful ready to help you. The high protein content of beef and turkey helps increase body resistance to sweltering summer temperatures.

Beef, along with fresh plums, is a featured item among the plentiful foods for August, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Beef supplies are still running above average. So use beef to make your sandwich meals to celebrate August Sandwich Month. Also, turkey makes delicious sandwich fillings — and is so refreshing.

Seasonally heavy marketings of turkeys are expected this month. The 10 to 20 percent rise over last year is due in part to high hatchability rates.

The June 1 forecast of 112,000 tons of California plums is a 6,000-ton increase over last year's record high crop. Recent cool California weather has delayed harvesting, so supplies are expected to be heavy in August.

In addition to these plentiful, heavy supplies from both nearby and distant commercial gardens continue to provide such summer vegetables as carrots, cabbage, lettuce, peas and tomatoes, according to the US Department of Agriculture's Marketing Service.

Edible vegetable oils remain at high levels with crude oil prices near their all-time low.

The Big Stick

Theodore Roosevelt was one of the greatest Presidents this country has known. He was instrumental in moving the United States from the satisfied Victorianism of the 19th Century into the progressive era of the 20th Century. One of the many quotes for which "TR" is remembered is his famous statement: "Speak softly, but carry a big stick." By which he meant that no person, or nation, should be a braggart, or should loudly threaten another, or should boast of strength or of what it can or would do. Rather, says Teddy Roosevelt, speak softly, don't boast or brag or threaten. But when you do say something, when you are convinced you are right and intend to make a stand on that conviction, then be ready to back up your position.

This week we saw an excellent example of this policy in action. An American warship, on peaceful patrol in international waters, was the victim of an unprovoked attack by Communist craft. Our destroyer was certainly "speaking softly" and it proved that it was carrying a big stick when it returned the fire of the three attacking PPT boats, disabling one and seriously damaging the other two.

We think TR would be proud of that ship and of the men aboard her.

Guarantor Of A Free Press

Something recently said by the Boonville, Indiana, Standard should be remembered.

"One of the most important by-products of advertising is the American concept of freedom of the press.

"Freedom of the press as it is conceived in the English-speaking world derives financial support from advertising."

"From the time of the American revolution until approximately 1830 American journalism was represented by a profession of small highly biased political sheets. However, when expanding business firms recognized the need for reaching a new public through advertising, publishers found a neutral and variegated source of support which made them independent.

"Indeed, advertising made it imperative that the newspapers should think in terms of serving the whole public."

"As government has become more complex, as law and rule by bureaus and agencies have burgeoned, there is more than ever a need for a press free from control of political interests.

"Such a press exists only where advertising support has made it possible for a publication to serve the whole public without fear or favor."

Whatever shortcomings advertising may occasionally be guilty of, its virtues as a supporter of a free press overwhelmingly outweigh them.

Getting America Moving?

Government Of Law

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our Federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 188 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III, of Great Britain, charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: ... For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; ... For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; ... For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us take pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; ..."

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us.

New Laws Affect Vet's Insurance

Two bills recently signed into law by President Johnson will benefit veterans who hold National Service Life Insurance policies, according to Glyndon Hague, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, Texas.

More than five and one-half million World War II and Korean Conflict veterans who hold NSLI policies will benefit from an extension of premium waiver provisions, he said.

At present the law provides for the waiver of premiums if the insured becomes totally disabled before his 60th birthday. The new law raises the disability deadline to the insured's 65th birthday. It is automatically included in all policies.

The second law authorizes the granting of a new total disability income provision which provides a monthly income of $10 for each $1,000 of insurance if the insured becomes totally disabled before reaching his 65th birthday.

Those who are eligible must be in good health and must file an application and pay an additional premium, the VA manager said.

Service-disabled veterans holding "RH" insurance policies will not be eligible for this new total disability income provision.

State Capitol NEWS

Senator George Moffett, of Chillicothe, believes redrawing of state congressional districts is the hardest job to ever face the Texas Legislature. Moffett is chairman of a special committee studying the problem.

Moffett, who holds the all-time record for continuous service in the Legislature (34 years), spoke out on the eve of his committee's fourth hearing in San Antonio.

Committee waded through five new redistricting plans at the Bexar County hearing. Fifth hearing will be held in Lubbock on August 20.

Senator Louis Crump of San Saba meanwhile announced he has called on Texas Congressmen to support federal legislation authorizing states to retain full authority over both congressional and legislative apportionment.

BURIAL ASSOCIATION RATES TO RISE

State Board of Insurance has issued a notice to statewide and local aid associations and burial associations that they must adopt, by November 1, rates which will produce enough income to build their mortuary funds to the point where they can back up all benefits promised policy holders.

This action followed a hearing by the State Burial Association Rate Board at which State Insurance Department actuaries expressed alarm that many small local mutual and burial associations were not collecting large enough premiums to pay all potential claims.

Many associations already have voted to increase rates and two have obtained board approval.

Under the order, each of the 528 associations must appear before the Insurance Board between now and July 1, 1965, and prove they have rates in effect which will bring mortuary funds up to the reserves required by law.

ALAMO HIGHWAY

State Highway Commission heard requests from a group of Texans representing cities from Texarkana to Round Rock. They asked that a route through their area be called "the Alamo Highway" and sought recommendations on ways to bring it to top condition by 1968.

Alamo Highway Association is made up of prominent boosters from cities and villages along US 59 from Texarkana to Marshall; SH 43 from Marshall to Henderson; US 79 from Henderson to Round Rock, and IH 35 from Round Rock to San Antonio.

F. B. Elliott of Jacksonville, president of the Association, said "1968 will be a banner year in which to attract people from all over the east and the north to follow the Alamo route to the HemisFair in San Antonio and to the Olympics in Mexico City."

Highway Commission did not grant the request immediately. But its members, Herb Petry, of Carrizo Springs, Hal Woodward, of Coleman, and Jack Kuitgen, of Waco, expressed interest in the tourist attraction idea.

WATER AID

Texas Water Commission has been busy trying to help communities suffering from the extreme drought.

In little more than a week's time, the Commission sent one of its members, H. A. Beckwith, to Brackettville to help that city drill a water well when Las Moras Spring went dry; granted Thorndale a permit to pump 20 acre feet of water from the San Gabriel River as an emergency measure; and secured a Kerr County court order restraining irrigators in the county from using water from the Guadalupe River and its tributaries for anything except domestic, municipal and livestock purposes.

EXTRADITION HEARING HELD

Secretary of State Crawford Martin will recommend to Governor Connally whether the governor should grant extradition of Melvin Lane Powers to Florida to face murder charges.

Martin conducted an extensive hearing on the request of Florida Governor Farris Bryant to extradite Powers, 27, who is charged with the stab-slaying of his wealthy uncle-by-marriage Jacques Mossler, 69. Defense Counsel Percy Foreman fought the request.

CONDEMNATION CASE CLINIC SET

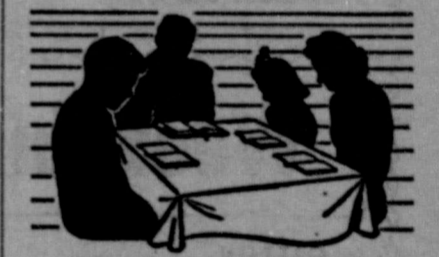

Attorney General Waggoner Carr's department will sponsor a three-day seminar on the trial of condemnation cases November 5-7. Carr is extending invitations to district, county and city attorneys, district and county judges and all attorneys who represent condemning authorities.

Among the speakers will be State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, former Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, Supreme Court Justice James R. Norvell, George Thompson, of Sweetwater and Carr.

Read Matthew 20:20-28.

Whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant. (Matthew 20:26-27).

How often we imagine that our pettiness and meanness are from within, like briar scratches! How sure we are that big people, important occasions—even grand temptations!—would make us bighearted and highminded! We forget that the most distinguished personages of His day in His obscure land won footnotes in history only because their very littleness blinded them to His bigness.

Christ's inner quality is displayed in the big moment before Pilate. We find it most clearly expressed, however, in the small moment with the children, with the widow and her mite, the epileptic boy, the tawdy, evasive woman at the well.

We are not small or weak because others give us no chance for greatness. Jesus worked daily with the same lowly, rejected material that surrounds us day by day. It could not hide His glory.

PRAYER:

O Lord, may I stop blaming others for my unforgiveness, my neighbor for my spite, children for my tantrums, society for these thorns and thistles in my heart. Purge! Prune! Uproot! Burn! Make the tree good, Lord — the tree, my life. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

We are not small or weak because others give us no chance for creative work for God.

Special Hunting Seasons And Bag Limits Listed For Texas Counties

FIRST OF TWO PARTS

A longer big-game season in more than half of the state, and other fall wildlife harvest benefits, were announced by J. Weldon Watson, Executive Director of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Earlier it had been reported that a two-weekend open season on white-winged doves had been requested and approved by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Here is a detailed rundown on the hunting seasons as the result of action taken by the Parks and Wildlife Commission at its July meeting:

The Commission authorized opening the deer season in most counties under regulatory responsibility on the second Saturday of November (November 14) two days before the legal opening in 105 counties under statutory regulations. The mule deer country in the Trans-Pecos was expected. Season for deer, elk and turkey in those counties west of the Pecos was set to begin the last Saturday of November for 15 consecutive days (November 28 through December 12).

The Commission barred the .22 rimfire cartridge in the taking of deer, antelope, elk, aoudad sheep and desert bighorn sheep in all counties where the Commission has regulatory responsibility for these animals.

A sanctuary area in South Texas border counties where white-winged doves and chachalacas may not be taken was redefined as that portion of Texas south of a line extending along US Highway 83 from the Starr-Zapata county line to Mission, from Mission to US Highway 281 via FM 1016 and FM 1926 and along US 281 to the west city limits of Brownsville.

In those counties under regulatory responsibility, the Commission designated a legal turkey as a gobbler or bearded hen. A bearded hen was further defined as a turkey hen having a clearly visible beard protruding through the feathers of the breast.

Santa Anna And Bangs Play Again

The Oldtimers from Bangs will try to even their series with their Santa Anna counterparts Monday, August 10, at the Santa Anna ballpark.

The Bangs team lived up to its name Saturday, as they banged a couple of sore-armed Santa Anna pitchers in soundly trouncing the locals for the first time this year.

The record to date shows two wins for Santa Anna to one for Bangs.

The Santa Annans hope to have their pitching staff back in shape by Monday and are determined not to let their Brown County rivals pull even in the series.

Game time will be 8:00 p.m.

'Old Wimmin' Play Here Again Tuesday

The world of baseball (softball really) will receive another shock Tuesday, August 11, at 8 p. m., when the renowned Old Women of Santa Anna take on an upstart team comprised of younger ladies at the Santa Anna ballpark.

All young and old ladies who would like to play are invited to participate.

Come watch this ballgame even if you don't know a thing about baseball (or softball). It won't make a bit of difference.
