Lions View Film At Tuesday Meeting

Members of Santa Anna Lions Club viewed films of the Santa Anna-Early High football game, which was played last Saturday night, at their regular meeting Tuesday at noon.

During the business session Ford Barnes was presented with a Senior Master Key wall plaque in recognition of having brought 25 new members into the club. He was given a Senior Master Key some two weeks ago. The plaque was not available for presentation at that time.

An installation ceremony, conducted by Rev. Bobby Weathers, was held for the club's newest member, Robert Barkley. Rev. Richard Wood was also installed as a new member of the organization by transfer.

President John McDaniel reported that the light bulb sale was a success, although hardly as good as previous years.

Response Termed "Good" In New ZIP Code Program

Acting Postmaster John C. Gregg today thanked the many Santa Anna residents who have been cooperating in a plan to add ZIP Codes to personal mailing lists.

He also urged all those who have not yet sent in their "ZIP-A-LIST" forms to do so.

As part of a nationwide program, the Postal Service will add the ZIP Codes to personal mailing lists. Every household in the nation has been sent forms with blanks for addresses to which residents wish the post office to add the five number codes.

"It's not too early to think of adding ZIP Codes to your Christmas mailing list," Acting Postmaster Gregg suggested. "Also, it would help us greatly

8th Grade Students Top Honor Roll For First 6 Weeks

Honor roll for the first six weeks of Santa Anna High School was released last week from the office of Superintendent Cullen Perry.

The list contained twenty-five students from the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. Sophomores topped the list with nine.

Honor students included: Freshmen—Dale Little, Shelia Loyd, Willie Terrell, Boots Walker, Ann Martin, Sue Kingsberry and Pascal Hosch; Sophomores—Janice Langford, Frankie Bray, Dorothea Carpenter, Donna Strickland, Clela Pollock, Emily Wells, Judy McIntire, Edie Paul Voss and Leta Pollock; Juniors—Carolyn Rowe and Karen Dean; Seniors—Carlton Watson, Beth Irick, Jean Robinson, Marguerite Horner, Loreta Broadway, Sonja Neff and Leanna Pollock.

To attain the honor roll, a student must have at least 91 points. The point system is based on the number of subjects being taken and the grade of each. Points are determined on the following grades: A plus, 9; A, 8; A minus, 7; B plus, 6; B, 5 and B minus, 4. Any grade below B minus automatically disqualifies a student for the honor roll. Five subjects equal 30 points, and four equal 25 points.

Elementary Roll
Students listed on the Elementary honor roll for the first 6 weeks are as follows:
Fourth grade: Kelly Cammack, Donna James, Sharon McCreary and Judy Cupps.

Fifth grade: Serena Bryan and Susan Newman.

Sixth grade: Lucinda Smith, Janice Martin, Carol Kingsbery, David Horner and Jana Eubank.

Seventh grade: Sherrie McIver and Lonnie Lowry.

Eighth grade: Jim See, Nancy Baugh, Pam Herring, Gail Robinson, Nina Stiles and Dwight Epler.

Response Good In Community Chest Campaign

Rev. Bobby Weathers, general chairman of the Community Chest Drive for the Santa Anna area, told the News Wednesday morning that the drive was gaining momentum with a good response from local residents.

Weathers stated that solicitation of funds was not far enough advanced at this time to make a general report, although it is hoped that a complete report could be made next week with final results revealing the designated quota over-subscribed.

This year's Community Chest quota is $3,000, with funds designated to assist 12 worthwhile organizations in carrying on their work.

Outlying community chairmen had not been contacted at presstime, but drive officials anticipate rural residents will respond generously when contacted.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Welch spent the week end in Chatfield visiting their daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Weldon Haynes.

No. 2 Man Knows All The Facts; He Caught 'Em

The original "you-can't-win" character has finally been located in Wichita County.

He is a rancher who moved in heavy equipment to restore a lake lost to drought a few years ago.

Came the rains and a full lake. Came a neighbor friend who caught eight fine channel catfish to stock the promising new impoundment.

Scene now shifts to still another neighbor approaching the happy rancher about permission to fish in the new lake. He was advised the lake had been restored and was not properly stocked yet.

"Oh, yes it has," assured Neighbor No. 2, "I caught eight nice channel catfish out of there Sunday."

Local Men Attend Soil Conservation Meeting In Austin

E. Dale Herring and A. J. Young of the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District, and Robert F. (Bob) Pearson Jr., work unit conservationist Soil Conservation Service, attended the 26th annual meeting of the Texas soil and water conservation district supervisors in Austin last week. Herring and Young are supervisors of the district. Pearson attended the meeting as a guest of the conservation district.

Gov. John Connally highlighted the statewide meeting by speaking at the banquet Wednesday night, Oct. 12.

"Today's Challenge: To Meet Tomorrow's Needs" was the theme of the convention.

Supervisors, who are local landowners elected to govern local conservation districts, attended committee meetings and other business sessions. They were strengthening their soil and water conservation efforts to help rural and town people.

Other distinguished speakers included C. G. Scruggs, vice-president and editor, Progressive Farmer; John E. Hutchison, director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service; A. E. Cascano, group vice president agriculture, International Mine and Chemical Corp., Skokie, Ill.; and Sam Studebaker, president, National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Tipp City, Ohio.

He was one of four students selected from the Engineering Dept. at Texas Tech in Lubbock to receive the expense paid trip. Engineers from all over the Free World attended the conference.

Glenn is a 1964 graduate of Santa Anna high school and is a junior engineering student at Tech. He is working in the engineering department on a research project.

Other important county statistics in the report are:

Mountaineers Take First District Game With 33-0 Win Over Early High

The Santa Anna Mountaineers won their District 9-A opener last Saturday night, corraling the Early Longhorns to the tune of 33-0, and also spoiling the Longhorns' homecoming with the victory.

It was the Mounties all the way, with Fullback Eddie Jones turning in a 64-yard gallop, on the first play from scrimmage following the kickoff, to the Longhorn 10 to set up the first marker. Two plays later Jones hit paydirt from 4 yards out. Tommy Blanton booted the extra point and the Mounties were out front, 7-0, with only 1:10 gone in the quarter.

Following the Mountie kickoff, the Longhorns fumbled on the first play and Jones recovered the loose ball on the Longhorn 25. Halfback Butch Makuta carried for 21 yards and his running mate Dickie Horner added the final four for the TD. Blanton again executed a perfect boot, but a 5-yard penalty nullified the try. Blanton's second attempt was good and the Mounties had 14 points posted on the scoreboard with 9:27 remaining in the initial frame.

The Mounties, seemingly satisfied with their lead, reverted to a defensive battle the balance of the period. The second quarter was played on about even terms with the Longhorns making only one strong scoring bid following a Mountie fumble of a Longhorn punt, but a strong defense was thrown up to stop the Longhorns as the half ended.

The Mounties came back strong in the third, quickly posting 7 more points on the scoreboard. The scoring drive of Commerce officials last week, plans were mapped for sponsoring the program.

Plans call for a giant Christmas tree to be erected in front of the old telephone building, which will be constructed of tumbledwoods sprayed with silver paint and further enhanced with appropriate lighting.

A Christmas parade is scheduled for early December, featuring several bands, numerous floats and other decorations. A Christmas Queen will be selected from among students of the first three grades in Elementary school and will receive special attention during the festivities.

Merchants are participating in the program by having customers sign tickets which will be placed in a large tumbler for drawings to be held on six consecutive Saturdays, beginning on Saturday, November 19. Other drawings will be held on Nov. 26, Dec. 3, 10, 17 and 24th. At each of these drawings, script will be given as prizes which can be used at any participating store to make purchases. Approximately $500 in script will be given away during these drawings. Patrons may sign up at participating stores, where further information may be obtained.

Travel To Hico Friday

The Mountaineers travel to Hico Friday night where they will tangle with a mediocre Class B eleven. Although this is a non-conference game, the Mounties are expected to keep their winning streak going. They now own a 5-1 season record.

Game time is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

followed a recovered Longhorn fumble by Ted Ford, which carried 55 yards, consuming 7 plays, with Makuta scampering outside for the TD. Blanton again converted the PAT, to make a commanding 21-0 lead.

Late in the period Jones rambled over right tackle for 7 yards for his second TD of the night. The drive consumed an 88-yard effort in 10 plays, assisted by a 15-yard penalty against the Longhorns.

The Longhorns garnered their first 1st down of the game in the third stanza against the tough Mountie defensive unit, and only racked up 5 the entire game.

Mountaineer scoring was wound up mid-way of the fourth when Makuta again went outside on a two-yard run. Try for extra point failed when a bad snap from center was fumbled and Blanton attempted to run it across.

Halfback Horner was carried from the field in the third, suffering from strained ligaments when tackled after catching a Roy Joe Harvey pass. His condition was reported to be good Monday morning, but it is doubtful whether he will see action Friday night.

It was reported Tuesday of this week that Tommy Blanton had suffered a shoulder separation during workouts Monday and would be out of action some three weeks.

Jones was leading ball carrier for the Mountaineers and the game with 201 yards in 23 attempts, followed by Makuta with 113 in 13 carries. Ross Deeds was high for Early with 54 yards in 15 attempts.

State Capital NEWS

Austin.—Gov. John Connally soon will be making his decisions on state spending and tax recommendations.

His budget staff is rushing to completion a tentative budget and revenue bill for presentation to the governor by the end of the month.

Word is that the revenue measure, contrary to early speculation, does NOT call for any upward revision in the state's basic two per cent general sales tax rate. It may include a gasoline tax increase, college tuition boost and adding alcoholic beverages to the sales tax.

Money requests from departments and agencies, totaling $1,200,000,000, are being trimmed considerably. Best estimates indicate the tentative budget presented for Connally's review will require less than $200,000,000 in new money.

The Governor's proposals definitely will contain some form of financial relief for cities, but not the 50-50 split in new state revenues they are asking.

Connally's spending programs may be restrained by these factors:

Possibility of a substantial federal tax raise next year and the chance of future sharing of surplus U. S. income with state governments or an unrestricted grant basis.

A public school study by the governor's committee almost certainly will call for readjustments in the cost load of the educational system, and final recommendations will not be known for two years.

A metropolitan areas study conceivably could result in proposals for sweeping alterations in local government finance procedures.

WATER AMENDMENT

Gov. Connally has launched a campaign for adoption of Constitutional Amendment No. 11.

Amendment would do three things: double the Texas Water Development Fund (from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000); give a constitutional guarantee to safeguarding water in river basins of origin; and permit use of the Fund for construction by the Texas Water Development Board of water treatment and transportation facilities.

About 150 leaders of state and local water governing agencies and other interested citizens attended the meeting and elected former Gov. Price Daniel of Liberty chairman of a steering committee to seek voter approval of the proposition.

On another front, the Water Development Board announced that it will ask for an emergency appropriation of $625,000 from the Legislature to complete the water planning work to bring the Texas Water Plan to completion in about six months.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr withdrew his opinion that cable TV services are public utilities.

TIRES ARE ALWAYS A BARGAIN at RUDOLPH'S Coleman, Texas

But reiterated his ruling that such firms have the right to place cables along state highways within the highway right-of-way.

In another opinion, Carr said the Secretary of State cannot approve a statement of intent to dissolve a corporation listing less than three directors, since to be a corporation it must have at least three directors.

COURTS SPEAK

The State Supreme Court ordered Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to file the sulphur claims of Duval Corporation and Piper Petroleum Company in Pecos County. Sadler had refused, claiming old laws relied on by the firms are no longer applicable, and the companies are trying to get $2,000 an acre mineral rights for 50 cents.

In other action during the week, the high court:

* Affirmed $304,800 in penalties against four East Texas oilmen (Gregg County) for slantwell drilling in Wood County.

* Agreed with Railroad Commission that new truck service between Houston and San Antonio by Alamo Express, Inc., is justified.

* Stuck by its July 13 decision that commissioners precincts of Midland County do not have to be formed on the basis of equal population.

* Sustained lower court findings that state sales tax may be collected on equipment leased to load and unload ships in foreign trade.

* Upheld $73,980 damage judgment for Montgomery County family who successfully maintained San Jacinto River was diverted from their property by an artificial channel and dam constructed by Tennessee Gas Transmission Company.

ANIMAL INFESTATIONS

Texas is pulling out of its serious screwworm epidemic. But now a big outbreak in Encephalomyelitis (sleeping sickness) among horses seems to be taking hold.

Some 40 cases were reported to the State Health Department covering a two-week period. But a spokesman said it likely will get worse before it gets better.

Cases were from Travis, Erath, Cherokee, Angelina and Washington Counties. Texas Veterinary Medical Association also says the disease has been reported in East, Central and South Texas and the Hill Country.

PARK LAND "OWED FOR"

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has written Governor Connally that 37,000 acres in area of proposed Guadalupe National Park in Culberson and Hudspeth Counties has never been paid for by a private purchaser.

Sadler said the interest has been kept up, but the Abilene owner still owes the state $37,000 on land he agreed to buy for $1 an acre 40 years ago.

Congress has passed and sent to the President a bill to establish a 71,000-acre national park. Land cost has been estimated at $1,800,000 and development at $10,300,000. While favoring creation of the park, Sadler insisted that Texas retain the mineral interest in some 45,000 acres.

Federal bill requires donation of minerals owned by both state and private interests, Sadler said.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Connally announced appointment of Arthur R. Marroquin of Austin as chief of the migrant division in the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity. He replaces Al Ramirez of Edinburg.

J. Curtiss Brown of Houston has been named to the Board of Directors of the Texas State Bar. He will complete the unexpired term of U. S. District Judge John V. Singleton, Jr. of Houston, who resigned to accept an appointment to the federal bench.

SHORT SNORTS

At a hearing on loan problems a consumer finance industry spokesman suggested higher legal ceiling on "small loans" (now $1,500 in Texas).

Arroyo Colorado in Cameron County is one of 82 areas selected for possible inclusion in National Wilderness System.

Revenue collected by Texas Liquor Control Board hit a monthly record of $6,135,484 during September, according to Administrator Coke R. Stevenson, Jr. Revenue for the year to date comes to $36,800,000.

Most Deer Termed "Stay-at-Homes" By Game Biologist

Biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department have long known that most deer stay close to home. Proving it was another matter. Biologist Bob Alexander of Mount Pleasant has just come up with a case in point.

Alexander and his crew of technicians made a ten-year study of deer movements, with multitudes of data recorded to aid them in future effective deer management, to answer a few of the questions about the wanderlust of November's prize animal.

The average movement of deer in this study area, centered in Bowie County, is less than a mile and a half.

The study was done by trapping and tagging the animals. Then in future sightings or trappings the tag is a giveaway to the distance the animal might travel.

One deer was tagged in February 1960, was taken by a hunter in November 1965, a period of 69 months and 2 days, and the distance between tagging and kill was 350 yards.

One animal with wanderlust, spanning 43 months and 29 days, was killed by a hunter 5.20 miles from tagging point, an extreme distance indeed when compared to others of his kind in the study.

A vertebrate animal has a backbone.

TODAY'S meditation

Read I Peter 2:19-25

When he was abused he did not retort with abuse, when he suffered he uttered no threats. (I Peter 2:23, NEB)

Television has only recently come to New Zealand, and it is of great interest, of course, especially to youth. Therefore, one day when we were thinking about Christlikeness in a junior high school class, we found ourselves discussing some of the television stars.

It was then I asked the class what they thought of the Texan and Neil Brock, the first a fast-shooting hero and the other a self-effacing social worker. I asked which one they thought was more like Jesus?

Some inclined to vote for the fast shooter. "After all," they said, "he fights for the right." Others remembered Neil Brock for his compassion, hatred of oppression, willingness to identify himself with the lowest and the lost, and the way he just went on helping when he failed to win a response.

The class decision was that Neil Brock showed more likeness to Jesus, who said on the cross, "Father, forgive them; they do not know what they are doing." Jesus had the courage that keeps on helping and does not hit back.

PRAYER: O God, our Father, help us on the long road that leads to Christlikeness. Give us more of His patience, courage, and compassion that we may represent Him more faithfully each day. In the name of Jesus, the Son of man. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

It is character that makes the man.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

Internal Revenue Service's conversion to computer processing tax returns has created many problems. Letters flow into the Internal Revenue Service offices saying, "Dear Computer: You made an error," or "Here's what I meant." The good tax folks insist that the humans in Internal Revenue will correct any errors or mix-ups with the computer. They say that you are not dealing with a machine, but when the machine makes an error they have competent personnel that will correct the errors or explain to you where you made an error. If you have a tax problem, talk it over with the humans. Maybe they can make the computer understand.

Fall Enrollment Certification Required of Vets

Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional office in Waco today reminded veterans enrolled in college this fall under the new GI Bill that the school would have to certify enrollment before they would receive their first check. Two copies of the Certificate of Eligibility must be presented by the veteran to the school, which submits one of these filled out to the VA.

In the first check the VA will pay the amount due at the end of September upon receipt of the enrollment certification by the college. In most cases the first check will be only a portion of the usual monthly check since many schools did not have a full month's session in September. For all subsequent checks no action is required by the college. However, the veteran must certify his attendance at the end of each month to the VA; otherwise he will not get paid.

Coker said that some veterans had experienced delays in receiving their first checks during the summer session. Most of these late payments occurred as a result of the veteran's failing to supply the college with his enrollment certificate for completion and return to the VA by the school.

Receipt of this form will permit the Veterans Administration to make the initial payment to college level students. For students below college level, monthly certifications of attendance are required beginning with the first month.

In cases where the student enrolls, then changes his course to a reduced number of hours, it is the responsibility of the veteran to return his check for adjustment.

MEXIA, EARLY 1920'S — For a number of years oil had been produced in the Mexia region of Central Texas, but by 1921 it was the scene of thriving production, hitting some 176,000 barrels a day by 1922.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

WILL POWER

When elderly widower Green sat down at the dinner table, he had two unusual companions. At his left sat a favorite cat, and at his right a favorite dog — both with their own portions of food in front of them.

This scene was recalled in the courtroom by Green's disgruntled relatives when, after his death, they challenged the validity of his will. Any man who would dine with beasts, they argued, lacked the mental capacity to dispose of his estate.

But the court held the will valid, since Green had otherwise shown normal acumen in managing his affairs.

How much intelligence does the law require, for a person to have "will power"? At the least, he must have a moderate grasp of:

- (1) what he owns;
- (2) what it means to make a will;
- (3) who are "the natural objects of his bounty."

But he need not be free of all eccentricities.

Thus, the mere fact that a person had slovenly habits, or believed in communicating with the dead, or kept counting his money, or would seldom venture outdoors in the daytime — each of these characteristics has been held not serious enough, in itself, to invalidate a will.

Of course, a combination of eccentricities may add up to evidence that the person's mental capacity is inadequate. There is no reason for the law to carry out the commands of a mind that is not even in command of itself.

Furthermore, an eccentricity weights more heavily against a will if it has a direct and important effect on what the will provides. For instance:

A court rejected the will of a man who believed, among other things, that land he owned — actually worth only $12,000 — was worth $4,000,000. The court pointed out that the man's belief not only was baseless but also had markedly affected the way he divided his estate among members of the family.

But when a person has enough basic intelligence, and when his eccentricities are neither too extreme nor too influential, then the law usually lets the will stand. In death, as in life, even a fool has the right to do what he pleases with his own money.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TIPS FROM THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

Medical Manners

How are your medical manners?

Many patients unwittingly break the code of "medical conduct" which their doctors expect of them and, in so doing, delay diagnosis, hinder correct treatment and often cost themselves more money than they would normally pay, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Here are a few of these unwritten laws most often broken:

- Keep your appointment (or notify the doctor's office when you know you can't be there). Even a few hours notice that you can't make it may be enough to allow another patient to take your place.
- Be prompt, but be prepared to wait. Unfair? Not at all. Diagnosis and treatment cannot be scheduled on an exact timetable. Some patients take longer than others. Emergencies arise that upset the doctor's schedule.
- Be cooperative in giving your medical history. Illness or injuries in your past have a direct bearing on your present condition, on your reaction to tests and on how you respond to surgery or medical treatment.
- Don't ask the receptionist or nurse for information about your condition. She is ethically bound not to discuss medical findings with patients. If you have questions, ask your doctor.
- Fill in insurance forms correctly and completely before handing them to the doctor. Most forms are to be filled in partially by the patient. Save your doctor as much time as possible by reading the forms carefully beforehand and filling in as much as you can in advance.
- Take your medicine just as the doctor prescribes. Don't alter his timetable or dosage, and don't neglect to take medicine altogether. The medicine is ordered to help you get well, but it won't work unless it is properly used.

• Be business-like in financial arrangements. Don't hesitate to ask about the doctor's fee, and to discuss anything you don't understand. Also, your doctor has many business expenses to meet, and your prompt payment will help him maintain an efficient practice.

IMPROVISED RELOADER
Reloading your 22 magazine tube can be an aggravating job. It needn't be if you will use the hollow handle of an old round-handled fly swatter.

Pull off one end of swatter, fill with cartridges before leaving home, then when the magazine tube empties in the field, hold swatter handle over the rifle magazine and feed in the cartridges.

DARK RINGS IN YOUR BOAT

In these days of widespread water pollution your boat is apt to get mighty dirty, very quickly.

Mostly, this dirt takes the form of dark, shiny rings that accumulate on the hull at the waterline.

These can be removed easiest with a good scouring powder and a "Chore Girl" activated by a lot of muscle power.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE...

By OMAR BURLESON
M. C. 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It is a common saying around the Halls of Congress that the country would be better off if the last two weeks of any long session was eliminated. The reason is because there are all the things that "must" be done before shop can be closed and members go home.

Invariable there is confusion in all the haste, and only cursory study can be given to complicated legislation.

Congress is to adjourn in the next few days, but if it were not election year, the curtain would probably not come down before Christmas. In fact, it was Christmas Eve when adjournment came in 1964. In recent years adjournment has not come until late in the fall.

The Congress last studied its own operation and procedures in 1945-46, and as a result, passed what is known as the Legislative Reorganization Act. One provision of that law determined that adjournment should not be later than the last day of July, except in time of war or national emergency.

The catch in this arrangement is that from World War II, the Korean War and other continuing crises, an emergency has been considered to be in effect. It is apparent that unless Congress improves its operation, which only it can do, sessions will last the year round and its work still not completed.

The longer each Congressional session lasts, the greater is the potential for doing mischief. This is especially true when the Congress is so subservient to the Executive Branch and largely controlled by it.

More important than the length of any session is the thoroughness and effectiveness with which the Legislative Branch conducts its business.

The growth of the country and the increasing complexity of the issues lengthen the time required for consideration of legislative business. The issues and proposals of the future promise to be even more complex and time consuming. The Congress must gear itself to meet its responsibility.

The bookkeeping procedure of the government is set up on a fiscal year basis, beginning July 1 and running to June 30 of the following year. The Congress meets on a calendar basis. Broadly speaking, the Congress has two essential functions. One is to pass laws and the other is to appropriate money for financing Government activities.

On the matter of appropriations, money bills which must originate in the House of Representatives are supposed to be enacted before the end of the fiscal year. In most cases, as is the situation this year, they run beyond June 30, and as a result a "supplemental" bill is presented, which is a "catch-all." Only the Appropriations Committee itself can give a reasonable explanation of what is included in these measures when they are presented. The solution to such inefficiency lies in better budgeting of time and a reorganization to meet the ever increasing demands.

A joint committee on reorganization of the Legislative Branch of government has been considering, for the past year, proposals for reform and has now produced a measure which will likely be acted on in the next session of Congress.

Many ideas were presented to the Joint Committee by members of both the House and Senate and outside students of government.

One proposal would divide the two-year Session of Congress into categories of work to be performed during each. The first year would be devoted to substantiate or authorizing legislation. The second would be devoted entirely to the appropriations process. To conform with such a change, the government's accounting procedure would have to be changed from a fiscal to a calendar year basis.

This provision is calculated to allow each member to concentrate his time attention and efforts on specific fiscal matters. Supposedly, it would make it amount of funds required in ad-

New "Texas Travel Handbook" Ready

Austin—Two years of detailed research were completed with the release of a comprehensive 176-page "Texas Travel Handbook," published by the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Dept.

The glove-compartment size book contains more than 1,500 items of interest ranging from Alibates Flint Quarries to General Zaragoza's birthplace. In the family of materials now published by the Highway Department, the new handbook information on points of interest fills a need by providing specific information on points of interest and where they are located.

As State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer pointed out, "We have in the past attracted visitors with a colorful array of brochures, maps, motion pictures and posters — All broad in scope. But once within our borders, there was no single volume to introduce specific sites of interest.

"This new publication," Greer said, "will lead our visitors to attractions in every corner of the state.

The new "Texas Travel Handbook" will be available to more than 75,000 visitors who annually call at Highway Department Tourist Bureaus, and by mail in response to travel inquiries now totaling some 224,000 each year.

Like all Highway Department travel literature, the new book will be free. It will become a major item in more than three and a half million pieces of travel material annually distributed by the Texas Highway Department.

Sir Robert Peel, in 1829, set up the first modern police system.

possible to compute the exact advance so that proposed expenditures may be balanced against anticipated revenues. It should shorten the Sessions of Congress.

More importantly, it should help the Legislative Branch of Government to reestablish its independence over the Executive Branch and once again become the servant of the people, as the Constitution intended. Presently there is too much appropriating by the Congress and not enough authority as to how the taxpayers money is spent.

Cattle Feeding Conference Set In Lubbock

Space age developments which are rocketing the Southwest into the leading fed beef production center in the world will be featured at the sixth annual Southwestern Cattle Feeding Conference in Lubbock on December 6.

High on the list of subjects which progressive feeders are talking about these days is steam flaking of grain, and this topic will be covered in detail by Dr. William H. Hale of the University of Arizona, recognized as one of the leading authorities in the nation. He will also discuss other factors having significant impact in cattle feeding circles in his address, "New Methods in Grain Processing." Dr. Hale's address is one of several which are expected to prove highly beneficial to cattlemen looking for more efficient ways of producing beef.

Loan and Certificate Qualifications For 1967 Wheat Program Explained

In the 1967 wheat program, without acreage diversion provisions or diversion payments, how will a farmer qualify for loans and certificates?

Rankin McIver, chairman of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, lines it up this way: (participating farmer will:

1. Sign up with the ASCS County Office during the sign-up period to be announced later.
2. Have an acreage of wheat no larger than the farm allotment (or no larger than the acreage available for production under the program if he plans to use and signs up for the substitution or the excess-acreage option).
3. Maintain the farm's conserving base. (Conserving bases will be reduced for 1967 so that the farm's increased wheat allotment acreage may be utilized.)
4. Keep within all other program allotments established for the participating farm.
5. Keep within the wheat allot-

Encephalomyelitis Spreading in Texas Horse Population

An outbreak of encephalomyelitis among horses has become wide-spread in Texas according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. Reports of the viral disease have been made by veterinarians and horse owners alike in east, central and south Texas and in the Texas hill country. According to veterinarians and the TVMA the outbreak is believed to be the worst in many years, taking its toll in deaths of from 20% to 90% of those animals infected and often leaving surviving animals with permanent brain damage. It is feared the disease may spread to all areas of the state.

Encephalomyelitis affecting the horse population in Texas at the present time is the same type of virus that has plagued the human population in Texas this year and in other recent years. Like in the human population, the mosquito is the primary vector that transmits the virus and it is spread to the bird population and then to horses and man.

Symptoms of the disease in the horse consist of lack of coordination, paralysis of the throat, loss of spirit and abnormal attitude and behavior. Most horses stand in a peculiar, unnatural stance with the head and neck drooped in a sleepy manner thus the common name of "Blind Stagers" and "Sleeping Sickness" are frequently used to describe the disease. Death occurs in three days to two weeks in animals lost to the virus.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association warned that the disease is extremely dangerous to the horse population, although there is no danger of spreading the disease from the horse to man. The association urges horse owners to see their veterinarian immediately for

FAR NORTH MASKS 1966 CRANE CROP

The traditional mystery cleaving migration techniques and nesting routine of the mighty Whooping Crane apparently will have a distinctive 1966 fall touch.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department learned that unexplored wilderness north of Wood Buffalo National Park in the great Slave Lake area of Northwest Territory has successfully concealed the 1966 Whooper summer production results.

Earlier the Canadian Wildlife Service reported that four of six Whooper pairs spotted had one young each. But Wildlife biologist Ernie Kuyt, stationed at Fort Smith, N. W. Territory, told the department observations throughout the summer have been inconclusive.

Forty-four of the majestic cranes, symbol of survival-perils for all wildlife, last April left their ancestral winter home on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Austwell on the Texas coast. Some of them dramatically swirled upward in a historic massed daytime take-off. They included the eight 1965 young that sustained the steady crane population rally from threatened extinction.

Biologist Kuyt said the Whoopers apparently have left the nesting areas amid freezing temperatures and fading vegetation. The giant birds ordinarily do not reach Blackjack Peninsula in Texas until late October.

"We will never know the precise summer nesting results until they reach the refuge," said Kuyt. Although the Canadians use helicopters and low flying aircraft, the biologist said it is "impossible to get an accurate account."

Kuyt described the far north nesting area as an "unbelievable tangle of muskeg, bleached dead sticks and naturally camouflaged jungle." He said the task of identifying Whoopers in this morass is complicated by presence of other large white birds, including whistling swans and white pelicans. The young Whoopers are particularly well concealed to the human eye, he said, because of their habitat-brown color shade.

MARLIN FISHING

You who hanker for a bit of marlin fishing had better use a pretty rugged line if you want to land your catch.

Nothing short of a 30-pound test, fluorescent monofilament line is recommended for marlin fishing, especially if you want to take home a 150-pound fish.

Increase the test weight according to your optimism.

If you receive tips over a certain amount in your work, they must be reported for social security. Ask your social security office for a leaflet explaining this recent change.
