ness men of the Home Town are now so eager to render the farmers who find themselves in distress is prompted in the main by an unselfish spirit of brotherly love and the desire to help those who are in need of assistance. At such times the country banker and the home town merchant come to the rescue, grant credits and extensions and, as is the case this year, furnish seed for planting the next crop without a dollar of cash or security passing hands. Practically every county that was hit by the drouth has sent out word that no outside help is needed.

We believe firmly in the right of every man to spend his money where he chooses but the farmers of Texas have not given their individual support to those merchants and bankers and newspaper publishers, etc., who have come and made their home in their midst and have invested their capital in the county. Too often we have gone out of our way to patronize the stores in the big city, knowing full well that dollars sent away to distant markets never return in any part. How much assistance are the farmers of Texas now getting, we ask, from the big city mercantile houses? Not a cent! It is the home town bankers and business men who organized and came quickly to your relief. It pays to trade near home, other things being equal.—Southland Farmer.

KEY HOOKS WRITES FROM CAMP BOWIE.

A Splendid Account of the Life of a United States Soldier.

Dear Sister—Right now I'm going to write you a letter. The Y. M. C. A. building is crowded on Saturday afternoon and Sunday with boys writing letters home. The Y. M. C. A. furnishes us with all the free writing and reading material we can use. Not only this but we have volleyball and basketball courts to play on and base ball materials and the necessary suits for these games, all furnished by the Y. M. C. A. By means of all this and other kindness the Y. M. C. A. is proving itself a friend that will never be forgotten by the soldiers.

Camp Bowie is certainly getting to be a camp now. We have about 25,000 soldiers here. About all you can see is soldiers, and then more soldiers. I'm liking it better all the time, though even if we are drilling hard five and a half days out of the week. I don't want you to ever get the idea that I am the least bit blue or dissatisfied, or that I am having a hard time. The army is a great thing. We all talk, laugh and sing together. A man isn't a man that won't fight for his country without being made to do it, when the whole world is looking to him for help in the fight to sustain everything that is precious to a freedom loving people. I couldn't be anywhere else but where I am for I couldn't feel right if I were out of the army unless I had a mighty good excuse for being in civil life again.

Of course it is natural for a human being to become blue at times, no matter where he is, or what he may be doing. It is that way with us. We soldiers sometimes think we got our ignorance and patriotism mixed up and joined through ignorance; but after all there is nothing like being an American soldier when your country needs you. However, I prefer civil life in time of peace.

I sometimes wish you could see our regiment out on the march. At a distance it is really a pretty sight and it makes a fellow feel proud that he is healthy and physically strong enough to be an American soldier. Really I'm beginning to have a feeling of pity for those Garmans when this army of Texans is turned loose on them, for something is surely going to happen. Most of the soldiers are sensible about it. They are not crazy with excitement to get into the war, but if it is necessary to fight they are determined to show the Germans the way back to Berlin in a very distasteful manner.

I went "how-wowing" the other afternoon over to see some Indian soldiers with the Oklahoma troops. I didn't admire their looks very much but it is said that they make splendid soldiers. I'm sure I wouldn't want the task of whipping over half a dozen of them at one time at least.

I have almost quit going to church down in town, for we now have a new tabernacle right at the camp and of course it is more convenient to attend here. We are expecting a revival to be held soon, conducted by some big evangelist from the north.

The T. W. C. Glee Club furnished us the music last Sunday, and take it from me, the looks of some of those girls were enough to give a fellow a genuine case of heart trouble.

Our drill now consists mostly of flag signaling, etc. The most enjoyable part of the day's work, though, to me, is our early morning hike. We take ours on horseback, you know, and we really enjoy it. We are allowed to talk and sing while on our hike and when all the boys are feeling right, our singing isn't altogether without a pleasing effect on the hearing. The route that we take is very interesting for it leads past beautiful homes and lawns, and part of it runs down into the Trinity bottoms. I don't think I would like to be a bottom land farmer, for most of them are negroes and they don't look any too sociable either. Anyway I can't go back on West Texas for a home. It can dry up and blow away and still I had rather live there than here.

Although I am not indifferent to the attractions of the other parts of the state. I shall soon be writing you letters in French I suppose. They selected 31 boys from our company a short while ago and I was fortunate to be one of them, who will be instructed by a teacher from T. C. U. I'm glad we are going to get to learn the French language for we may need it. When I tell you that I've gained 22 pounds since I've been here you'll see that army life agrees with me.

J. KEY HOOKS,
Co. — 6th Infantry, Camp Bowie.

(The above letter from Mr. Hooks is one of the best and most interesting that we have received, and we not only thank him for it, but hope he will write often for the Record, in the same vein. You must remember, Mr. Hooks, that army and camp life is entirely new to the American people, and many of us will be unable to visit your camps, so that everything is of interest to our readers. We would certainly be glad if you would write such a letter frequently, and we are sure our readers would enjoy it. — Editor).

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Mitchell County Teachers Institute is in session at the high school building this week. Nearly all teachers were present at the first session Monday morning, ready for the work assigned.

County Judge Bullock had charge of the meeting. The welcome address was given by County Attorney Thomas R. Smith. The response by Prof. J. S. Jackson of Loraine.

The remarks by Judge Bullock were of the most helpful kind; the keynote of his theme being Service. This was followed by impromptu talks by Dr. W. A. Williams, W. W. Porter and M. K. Jackson, all of whom spoke of the responsibility of the teacher, and also of the greatness of the work, and impressing the main purpose of education—Service. Mrs. Porter and the Record representative were also visitors at the opening.

Special music has been given each morning by different ones of our local talent. Tuesday morning Mr. Dawes favored with a piano solo; Wednesday Miss Cecil Conaway, one of the recent teachers of Colorado, also gave a piano solo; Thursday Miss Lottie Landers and Stansil Whipkey, two seniors, gave a piano and violin duet; Friday Miss Hooper favored with a vocal solo.

On Wednesday Mr. W. S. Taylor state school visitor of the State University, attended the institute and gave many helpful suggestions to the teachers along various lines of work.

Besides the good derived from these meetings in discussion, the teachers know each other better and have a greater bond of sympathy for each other in their work.

FRENCH INDUSTRY IS RECOVERING

Natural Thrift and Economy
Promise Rapid Progress

EXPORT BUSINESS GROWING

Our Great Ally Possesses Recuperative Powers Which Justify Belief That She Will Meet and Solve Triumphantly the Problems Which Confront Her After the War.

With Paris boulevards echoing with "vives" for American troops our interest in the welfare of our ally vastly increases, and the facts are not lacking to encourage the belief that she is already on the road to recovery from the blow of invasion by a ruthless enemy.

One of the most important developments is the announcement that one of the largest banking institutions in America concerned with foreign trade, the Guaranty Trust company of New York, has opened a Paris branch to handle the rapidly increasing volume of French business.

This action may surprise many persons who had thought of France as bowed under a calamitous invasion. The bank, however, gives figures indicating that France is not only meeting her military and civilian problems with a stout heart and never failing courage, but is re-establishing her export business with this country.

In 1914, the year of the outbreak of the war, imports from France to this country totaled $111,446,252. This total was reduced to $77,158,740 in 1915, but last year the value of French imports to the United States rose to $102,077,000.

"A nation that can achieve such a commercial recovery while her territory is being ravished by the invader," says the Trust company's statement, "possesses recuperative powers which justify the belief that she will emerge from the present conflict prepared to meet and solve triumphantly the problems which confront her."

The commercial and industrial record of France, following past wars, indicates that she should recover quickly from the actual physical destruction inflicted in the present conflict. The reconstruction of railroads, the erection of factories to replace those destroyed, and the replacement of the mechanism of industrial activity that will be required and that is in part already planned, offer a peculiarly inviting field to American capital and enterprise. Tentative steps have already been taken by representatives of American engineers and business men in this work.

Aside from its attractive business aspect, the enlistment of American money and effort in the great task of reconstruction that will remain at the end of the war will tend to cement still more closely the ties that bind the two great republics together, and will enable Americans to discharge in part the debt they owe to France for her friendly interest in the welfare and progress of the United States from the beginning of its life as a nation.

In judging the industrial status of any nation, its production and consumption of coal, iron, and steel and the growth of its transportation systems are highly significant factors.

In 1869, French industries consumed 21 million tons of coal, of which 13.5 millions were taken from home mines. In 1912, the consumption was 61 millions, of which 41 million tons were taken from home mines.

In 1869, the French output of cast iron was 1,380,000 tons, and of steel, 1,060,000 tons. In 1914, France produced 5,311,000 tons of cast iron and 4,635,000 tons of steel.

The increasing activity of her railway system is similarly demonstrable. In 1869, there were in France 10,743 miles of railway track; in 1912, there were 31,546 miles.

Between 1869 and 1912, inland navigation increased 150 per cent; while the traffic of her mercantile marine has amazingly expanded. The tonnage entering French ports in 1869 is set down as 11,000,000 tons. In 1912 this had been increased to 53,000,000 tons.

Leaders in American finance ascribe this solidarity of the French republic to three influences; first, a thoroughly sound banking system, centralized in one of the greatest banking institutions of the world, the Bank of France; second, the ingrained thrift and frugality of the French people as a whole, together with a national economic vigor not elsewhere surpassed; third, wise supervision, and patriotic co-operation by the government with banking and business interests.

The government does its part to warrant and retain the confidence of the holders of its securities. One of its wise policies is to impose new taxes to defray the interest charges on new security issues. It began this practice after the Franco-Prussian war, and is today following the same rule in regard to securities issued to finance the present conflict. This continuity of purpose, doubtless, will prove reassuring to all holders of French government securities.

The Franco-Prussian war of 1870-

1871 taught the French people the meaning of thrift and economy. So well did they learn this lesson, that the whole sum of the indemnity demanded by Germany, $1,000,000,000, was raised within the republic's confines by its own inhabitants and paid off more than one year before the time stipulated by the Germans.

The habit thus acquired has never been forgotten by the French, and today the aggregate number of investors purchasing the French war loans has reached the amazing total of 4,500,000 individual subscribers. Perhaps no other country, in proportion to its population, can make so good a showing.

France is particularly fortunate in that her small investors prefer "safe" investments rather than offerings which promise high returns. Government rentes, in France are perpetual, and this characteristic seems to obtain for these government bonds increasing favor in the eyes of the French people.

The points of sympathy between France and America are too many to enumerate, but the spirit of liberty and its resultant democracy are, today as always, the major ideals of both nations. Seeking no victories but those of peace, no territory except their own, no sovereignty except sovereignty over themselves—the independence and equal rights of the weakest member of the family of nations are to the people of the United States and of France entitled to as much respect as those of the mightiest empire. In defense of these principles, France is engaged in a death struggle with militant autocracy and ruthless aggression, and it is not surprising to learn that she has loaned to her allies and to other friendly states 7,000,000,000 francs with which to further the cause of democracy. It is in keeping with America's traditions that since the date on which we formally aligned ourselves with France and her allies in the great struggle, our government has lent to France $370,000,000.

It is eminently fitting that America should now be fighting on French soil to make the world safe for democracy. The liberty that America has enjoyed for 140 years France helped her to achieve. The swords of Lafayette and Rochambeau, aided by the guns of De Grasse upon the high seas, assisted in cutting the foreign ties that bound the American colonies prior to the War for Independence, and from the private purse of King Louis himself came the first loan to America—unsecured and unconditional—to finance that historic undertaking. It was with entire justice that Washington wrote to Rochambeau, "To the generous aid of your nation and to the bravery of its sons is to be ascribed in a very great degree that independence for which we have fought."

HOW CATARRH IS CURED

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere. Adv.

THE ENDLESS CHAIN NUISANCE

The Record received this week the following letter from a subscriber: "Mr. Whipkey—Will you please print this in your paper this week? I think it very appropriate at this time, as so many are receiving those endless chain letters, or ancient prayers, until they have become a nuisance. I believe in prayer, but I surely do not believe in these silly chains."

The first of the "endless chain" schemes that have proved such an annoyance to postal officials in all countries was launched nineteen years ago, in 1898, by a young girl, Natalie Schenck, of Babylon, L. I. Her project was purely benevolent, and was animated by a spirit of patriotism. Desiring to raise a fund for the aid of American soldiers then fighting Spain, she originated the "endless chain" idea as an adaptation of a scheme that had a vogue in England until it was stopped by act of parliament.

The "chain" was started with four letters written by Miss Schenck to as many girl friends. Each was asked to contribute ten cents and write four similar letters to other friends. A few days later the Babylon postoffice began to get busy, and as the days went by the postal officials got busier and busier until they were fairly buried under the weight of mail which descended upon them like an avalanche. A hurry call went to Washington for extra help and mail was delivered to Miss Schenck by the truck load. Now that young lady began to feel the effects of the scheme. Her home was littered from cellar to garret with letters, all containing dimes. Before the thing "died out" of its own accord she had received more than a quarter of a million dimes. Fakers all over the world heard of it and, as fakers will, they immediately got busy. Hundreds of thousands of people were swindled out of money in this manner, until the postal authorities put an end to it. The famous "endless chain" prayer which threatens endless punishment to any persons who breaks it, has been one of the hardest survivors of all.—Chicago Journal.

THREE OF F. L. P. A. FOUND GUILTY

Abilene, Oct. 18.—C. T. Bryant, Z. L. Risley and S. J. Powell, three of the forty defendants in the F. L. P. A. conspiracy trial, were found guilty this morning by the jury. The thirty-seven others were acquitted.

Bryant, Risley and Powell were each sentenced to six years in the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Risley, when the court asked defendants if they had anything to say, declared the verdict was a miscarriage of justice. Powell and Bryant affirmed their innocence.

Notice of appeal was given ninety days being allowed attorneys to perfect the appeal.

Bryant, Risley and Powell were respectively the state organizer, state president and state secretary of the Farmers' and Laborers' Protective Association. They were found guilty on the first count in the indictment, alleging that the defendant "conspired to overthrow, put down and destroy by force the government of the United States and to levy war against it." The other six counts in the indictment were ignored.

The thirty-seven defendants who were acquitted after the six weeks' trial were alleged to be former members of the F. L. P. A., an organization which the government counsel declared to be entirely legal in itself but which certain persons sought to use as a cloak for illegal plans.

The cost of the trial to the government was $12,122.95, of which $7,311.45 was paid witnesses, $3,377.40 for jurors, $540 for bailiffs, and $894 for board of jury.

In passing sentence on the convicted men Judge Jack said: "You three were the leaders and promoters and instigators of this conspiracy. It is an unpleasant duty indeed to pass sentence on any man—it is doubly so when that sentence does not merely deprive him of his liberty, does not stop with making him a felon, but brands him a traitor to his country—and that at a time when the nation, in the grip of a world war for democracy and rights of humanity appeals to patriotism of her every son for his loyal support, when the flower of her young manhood is donning the soldier's uniform and her brave boys stand ready to give their lives, if need be, that democracy may triumph over autocracy and the rights and liberties of the free peoples of the world be preserved."

Further along he said: "In this great crisis, no disloyalty to the nation can be tolerated and with those in this country who, by word or action, would give aid or comfort to the nation's enemy in a war of ruthless frightfulness, the courts can only deal with an iron hand."

In his address to the defendants who were acquitted, Judge Jack stated that by the verdict of the jury they had been restored to their communities in the same position they occupied before indicted. He urged them to show their loyalty to the United States upon all occasions and to resent as they would resent an insult to their families any remarks against the president of the United States the government or its officers.

He urged that they go home, and if necessary, "sell old Beck," and purchase a Liberty Bond, suggesting that they place this motto over the front door, "God bless our home," and along by its side a Liberty Bond.

It would give him great pleasure, he said, to learn that the defendant had organized another association and that its aim should be the sale of Liberty Bonds. He said that he hoped that none of the defendants would ever again be charged in any court with any violation of the law, and he urged that they go back home with the determination to prove their loyalty to their country by their hearty cooperation and support of the nation in this war.

MISSING—ONE PANIC!

More than 700 distilleries in the United States went under prohibition in September.

Where is the panic? Where are the unnumbered millions of men who were to tramp the streets?

The momentous day went by without even jarring the country. The distilleries just stopped making whiskey—that's all.

Today most of them are just as busy as ever making alcohol for industrial purposes and to shoot at the Kaiser instead of making alcohol to murder Americans.

In Peoria and some other places where the distilleries were actually closed and men put out of their jobs, they were snapped up so quickly by other industries that they did not even have time for a holiday.

The Great Teacher of Humanity has told us that if our eye offends us we should pluck it out; if our hand offend us we should cut it off. Figurative language, but most applicable to the present situation. Loyalty to an adopted country is more binding than to the country of our birth. The latter condition of birth is accidental, the former a deliberately assumed duty.

THE TALEBEARER.

The Words of a talebearer are as wounds.—Proverbs xxvi:22.

None of the maxims and observations given voice to by Solomon hit a disturbing nail in the structure of humanity squarer on the head than the one to be found in the words quoted above. If there is one really cancerous growth in all levels of society it is the telling of tales by one person about another. Although the intelligence of all civilized people is much greater today than it ever was before, and is increasing with each succeeding generation, the bearing of tales by folks about their neighbors, their acquaintances, their friends and even their relatives, seems as general as it ever was, and is as much in need of reproof as it apparently was in the days of Solomon.

It appears to be an almost inherent frailty for an individual to repeat the stories about others that he may happen to hear. Sometimes it is done with malicious intent. More often, perhaps it is the result of thoughtlessness. But whatever the reason, it is a practice that is to be vigorously condemned, and in no uncertain terms. The harm that is done by most of it is frequently of the irreparable sort. The wounds that are made by it are often of the unhealable kind. They become running sores, making life well-nigh unbearable. And occasionally such tales encompass the actual ruin of those who have been so unfortunate as to become their victims.

There is no excuse for the kind of tale-bearing that injures. It may furnish food for conversation and gossip, but it accomplishes nothing save harm. This would not be the case to such an extent if the tales that are told and retold were truthful as to their details. Truth may hurt when it is unpleasant but it does not kill. The great trouble with the general rule-of-tale-telling is that in the end it becomes a tissue of falsehoods. And it surely is the experience of every one that the theory about lies being without harm is a rather fallacious one. A story is started about some one, often with no more ground for its existence than the misrepresentation of an act or the misrepresentation of a word. It does not amount to very much in the first telling. Each person who repeats it, though, has the habit, unintentional, in most instances, of adding on something here and something else there to make it a "better story," a more interesting, or a more forceful one. Finally the original tale is magnified to such proportions and twisted about into such shapes that the person who started it on its way would not be able to recognize it as something of his own creation.

Characters and reputations, the most priceless possessions of all men and women are being blighted continually by just such tales. Troubles of all sorts are caused by them even within the sacred precincts of a family circle. Often they break up a home. As a matter of fact, the damage that they do is incalculable. Nearly everybody knows that this is so, or would realize it if he stopped to think about it, if he would remember the wrongs that have been done him in just such a fashion, provided he is not fair enough to recognize the wrongs he has done others in the self-same way. And yet this iniquitous practice is general with most people.

If each man and woman wants to do his or her part, however, to make the world a better place in which to live, they will stop it. Eliminate the telling of tales, one about the other, even the true as well as the false, and life would be relieved of many of its stings.

GAINED 12 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

Dallas Man Recovers After Suffering For Fifteen Years.

"I have not only gotten rid of all my fifteen years of suffering by taking Tanlac, but I have actually gained twelve pounds in weight besides," said Hugh A. Long, 1820 North Pearl street, Dallas, Teas, a few days ago. Mr. Long has been a contracting painter in Dallas for many years and his standing and influence in that city are too well known to require further comment.

"I was troubled with my stomach for fifteen years," he continued, "and I reckon I had about all the miserable feelings anybody ever had from indigestion. But I'm simply feeling fine since taking Tanlac and my friends are talking about how well I look. I was constipated all the time frequently had severe headaches, and the past five years especially, my stomach has been so weak and out of order I couldn't digest what I would eat and I would actually belch up my food sour and undigested. I never dared eat vegetables, as much as I liked them, and the gas on my stomach would rise up around my heart and make it difficult at times for me to breathe. I was extremely nervous hardly ever got a good night's sleep and had a tired, languid feeling all the time. I tried everything in the line of medicines and spent three months at the mineral wells in Texas without any improvement. In fact, I kept losing weight and strength until my condition became alarming and it looked like there was nothing made that would help me.

"One day I picked up a Dallas paper and read an endorsement for Tanlac given by a lady in Atlanta, Georgia, who was affected as I was. That's how I got started on Tanlac and I now feel like a brand new man, out and out. I sleep sound as a dollar every night and get up in the mornings as fresh as a flower. My constipation and nervousness are gone and I never have any more headaches. I eat just anything I want now—vegetables and fruits—nothing is barred from my diet and everything agrees with me and my increase in weight shows the fine work Tanlac has done in correcting my troubles and building up my weak, run down system. Yes, sir, those five bottles of Tanlac have done more for me than all the other treatment and medicines I ever took. In fact, nothing else ever did me any permanent good and I am writing my sister and brother to take Tanlac for I am confident it will help them too. Many of my friends are taking it after seeing what it has done for me and if anybody don't believe this statement, all they have to do is to see or write to me."

FROM E. M. McCRELESS.

I left Colorado on night of 16th and arrived in Fort Worth the following morning. I visited Camp Bowie, one of the greatest sight seeing places of the country, just at this time. Don't miss seeing it if you have a chance. It is both interesting and instructive, especially to the rising generation.

I went from there to Argyle, my railroad destination. I set out on a twelve mile journey with a reasonably heavy suit case. I interested myself by looking at corn fields, cotton patches fields of peanuts (instead of patches), cane patches, old time rail fences, post oak trees, etc. On my arrival, about sunset, I found my people there making a very fine quality of sorghum syrup, a sample of which will soon be exhibited in Colorado. Wednesday morning went to work for the remainder of the week. Sunday I went to preaching at China Chapel, the place where I used to worship in gone by days. Met old friends and relatives. Heard Bro. Whitehead preach; took dinner at the same place he did. He asked me if I knew Rev. J. C. Moore of Sweetwater. I told him I did and that Bro. Moore took dinner at my house last Sunday, which fact produced an intimacy between us, and we had a jolly good time.—E. M. McCreless.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in a Few Moments—Try This!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter, for a few cents; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair at a lot of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? Adv5

A little mud now and then,
Would be welcome to West Texas men.

The doctors used to bleed a man for every ailment, but now they bleed him whether he has anything the matter with him or not.

If Russia can squabble among themselves in the presence of a foreign enemy, what would they do to each other if international peace should come now?

Mr. Subscriber, in arrears, won't you kindly devote a few minutes of your time to see just how much you owe on your home paper? For goodness sake, have a heart.

So far those in the race for governor are: Robert L. Warren, of Terrell; Charles H. Morris, of Winnsboro; Earl B. Mayfield, of Austin (and Bosque County); Will C. Hogz, of Houston; Henry Clark, Stephensville; Ben F. Looney, of Greenville; Daniel E. Garrett, of Houston. It is more than likely that Comptroller Terrell will also enter the race.

Roosevelt at Chicago making patriotic speeches to the foreign-born and Taft at Montreal influencing the Unitarian General Conference to endorse the present conduct of the war by the administration illustrates the excellent uses of ex-Presidents in a time of national emergency.—New York World.

"It is an open question whether whiskey will ever be made or imported again," says a Chicago liquor circular, which reminds us of the old gentleman who was making a tour of the penitentiary and found a former servant of whom he had been very fond. "Jim," he said, "I am awful sorry to see you here. Are you in for life?" "No sir," replied Jim; "des frum now on, dat's all."

Precious upstart! You can tell a man by the way he always treats those below him. The fellow who smiles and smirks with his equals and adopts a tone of superiority or disdain when he talks to those who do not wear as good clothes or smoke as good cigars as he does, is a cad. The gentleman is a gentleman to the hod-carrier as easily as to the millionaire. Even-handed justice and kindly consideration mark the man who is above the littleness of this little world.

The test of a man's greatness is his devotion to his duty. The Judge who sentences a man to death does not look with pleasure and satisfaction upon the blanched face of the criminal. The thought of the culprit's wife and children, the seriousness of sending a man upon a journey through the unknown affords no pleasant reflections. The action too, is taken in cold blood, after mature reflection, it may be after sleepless nights. The judge does not swerve, however. Duty is clear. The American of German descent is not asked to indulge in vulgar abuse of the race that gave him birth. It was reluctantly and regretfully that the American Nation entered the war, and reluctantly and regretfully does the American of German descent take the same course.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

We may be looking at it from the wrong end, but it seems to us as if the hand writing was on the wall, and that John Barleycorn's reign is fast drawing to a close, not only throughout the South and West, but throughout the United States.

For years it was said that the counties containing the cities and larger towns, could never be carried for prohibition. When Dallas county went dry the fallacy of this statement was shown. Now we have McLennan county, one of the strongholds of John, in the dry column. And the peculiar feature of this election was that the rural districts did not have to balance up the anti-majority of the city, as Waco went dry by a majority of 137. This county, especially in the rural districts east and north of the city is made up very largely of a foreign element, Germans and Bohemians principally, and these people were counted on by the antis. But it seems that the younger generation of these people, especially the American born, are fast realizing that they and the country which they have adopted as a home in which to rear their families, is better without the saloons. This is plainly shown from the fact that voting boxes which formerly went almost solid anti, this time gave only small majorities for the saloons.

Another peculiar feature about this campaign was the quiet and seemingly way in which it was conducted; all newspaper articles and advertisements had been eliminated, by an agreement between both sides. No public debates were indulged in, and but very little public speaking. The question was put squarely up to the people, and they were left to make their decision, and to vote according to their own views.

The recent trouble at Waco with the negro soldiers, probably had some influence. The soldiers' camp near by no doubt had a great deal to do with it; and who knows but that the outcome of our past anti state administration wielded a wonderful influence in favor of the pros. But, aside from the local influences which have been quietly at work, the people of these United States, have tried John, and passed the sentence of total banishment upon him. With Counties like Dallas, McLennan, Tom Green, and all of North and West Texas going dry, we may well look for a dry state within the next two years. Our new Governor, Hobby, who was elected on an anti ticket has seen a great light, and we feel that what he can do for the prohibition cause, he will do.

While we have passed the meridian of life, and are on the downward stretch, we feel sure that we are young enough to see John Barleycorn driven from the United States, and that our children will dwell in peace and security in a country without saloons, distilleries or breweries.

Indications are that Germany has delivered the needed punch to make millions of Americans realize they are actually in war. Immediately after the news of the sinking of the transport Antilles a tremendous boom in the sale of Liberty Bonds resulted. New York alone subscribed $45,000,000 in a half day, which broke all records for a half day's work. Tremendous sales were reported all over the country. This only points the statement made time and again by the great war leaders, that this country would have to have a good hard "punch" to bring the war home to its people—to make it a live, vital, personal matter, before they would wake up and get busy. While it is a most regrettable disaster, still it is only a part of the game, and the sooner the American people realize the actual menace of the mailed arm of Germany, the sooner will they put the American vim into the army, the navy, the money and the food supply. When the American people once fully realize the awful nearness of the war, and what defeat would really mean to this country, then, and then only, will they get into it in earnest. Then is when the metal of the American soldier will be shown, and the dogged fighting quality of the American army will be brought to its fullest perfection. There has been too much apathy in the ranks of the people. They have not realized that each individual, be he in the ranks, on the farm, in the shop, or in the professions, has his bit to do, and to make the brilliant success of the American arms that the world is looking for, we have—all of us—got to realize that it is an individual and personal war.

Had this transport been going to Europe loaded with American soldiers, instead of returning empty, the blow would have been terrible, and this is what we may look for before the entire army is landed on foreign soil. If the United States should be jogged into more earnest endeavor, and a better understanding of what they are "up against" by the sinking of this transport, these brave and noble men whose lives were sacrificed, may not have given them in vain. Perhaps the example will do more for this country than if the same number had given up their lives in the trenches.

SOMETHING CRACKING IN GERMANY

Renewed reports of mutiny in the German navy, coming at this time from Ostend, long used as a submarine base, confirm statements frequently made of late that the glamour of service upon undersea boats has gone and that threats as well as promises are of no avail.

Revolts in the German military service, where discipline is notorious, are especially significant when they are related to submarine warfare, but even greater importance must be attached to them as they are shown to proceed from political unrest and the hardships of insufficient food and clothing. War machines which ask the impossible in a wicked war, even of a nation trained to obey must have something more than Iron Crosses to offer as an incentive.

Without exaggerating these military and social outbreaks, more of which will follow, they may properly be accepted as symptomatic of German conditions. Autocracy has been powerful because it has convinced the people that it was infallible and invincible. Now that the humblest subject sees and knows that it is neither, it is confronting perils at home as well as abroad.

Every hint of insubordination among the docile German races must be accepted in America as a herald of the day prophetically proclaimed by President Wilson a year ago, when he said that the peace to come would not be decreed and guaranteed by a small coterie but by the German people themselves.

The esteemed Childress Post says the Memphis Herald and the Plainview News are the only papers in Northwest Texas that favor dividing Texas into two states. It is evident that the Post's exchange list is very limited, or that its editor does not read the editorial comments of his brethren very closely. Just off the bat we can mention the following papers that are very much in favor of dividing the state: Southwest Plainsman of Amarillo, Canyon News Slatonite, Lockney Beacon, Lakeview Promoter, Ralls Banner, besides the two mentioned above, and there are many others we don't think of just now. So far as our exchange list which includes most all the newspapers in Northwest Texas, we know of but two that oppose the proposition, and they are the Childress Post and the Clarendon News. It is only a matter of time until the division takes place, for it is manifestly just in order to better serve the needs of the people.—Plainview News.

Coming down on the lower plains you may add to the above list the Abilene Reporter, El Paso Times, and Herald, Colorado Record, Lubbock Avalanche, Western Evangel, and nearly every other West Texas paper that we know of.

The weather the past week has caused several persons to almost give up the game and quit the drive. It takes nerve and determination to stay with it, but he who stays will be entitled to reap his reward in the bully county of Mitchell, in the by-and-by.

EXPRESS NOTICE.

Owing to the lack of business to justify the collecting and delivery of express packages, the Wells, Fargo Company have called in their horse and wagon from here, and transferred their driver, Billy Moezer, Jr., to Miami, Ariz. Local agent Woods says he will arrange to deliver and collect express one hour each day by local auto, the hour to be announced later.

HOW DOES IT CONCERN ME?

A fair question, always. Let us think for a while how the War and the Liberty Loan concerns the farmer.

We went to war with Germany partly because the rulers of that country refused to let us send to Europe our ships laden with grain and cotton. They sunk the ships and cruelly murdered our sailors. Now suppose we allowed them to stop all our shipping, where would you be? None of your goods would be sold in foreign countries, with the result that you would get nothing like the prices which you get today. It is the enormous demand for what you produce, that is securing you high prices. If this demand were cut off, down would go prices. This war is being waged partly that you may obtain fair prices for your goods.

Farmers have been kept down in the matter of prices quite long enough, and the government and the people of this country, are not going to let a foreign power interfere with their business—which is your business.

Having entered the war in order that we may have the right to send your goods to any part of the world, what is going to happen if we lose the war? Prices of farm produce will drop; the Germans will impose taxation upon you, which will cripple you for the next twenty years. Worse than that, if the Germans get over here, they will treat you in just the same way as they have the farmers of Northern France and Belgium. In these sections farm houses have been shot to pieces, crops wasted and burned; even fruit trees chopped down, the cattle stolen, the men sent into slavery to work for German masters, their women ill-treated in ways that cannot be talked of in print, their little children have had their hands chopped off in order that they may never fight for their country, or do any more useful work again.

You may say "Such things will not happen here." They said this in France and in Belgium. Such things will happen here just as sure as you are alive, unless we smash the Germans so that they are utterly unable to reach the shores of this country. The German fleet and the German army will take just one week to get here if we are beaten. They have made up their minds that America shall pay for this war. They have made up their minds that our wealthy men shall give their money, and that you farmers shall provide the food for their armies and their people at home.

After thinking over these facts, is there a farmer who will stand forward and say "This war does not concern me?"

You have money that you do not need until next spring. Loan it to the government at good interest. When you want the money back again, you can borrow on your bond, or sell it for what you gave for it. Uncle Sam will take care of your money until you need it and pay you interest on it, and you will be protecting yours; and your business by loaning him the money.

Go and buy a Liberty Bond tomorrow. Don't put it off—things that are put off often do not get done at all. Tomorrow.

FOR WOMEN.

How does the war concern you? The mothers who have a boy who has gone to fight for his country, will not ask such a question. But if the war has not touched you yet, you may ask this question.

There are feelings that only mothers know, and only women understand. Think of the mothers who have given their eldest boy to their country. How do they feel today? How would you feel if you were in their place? They have parted with the little fellow that came first, and has always been a little ahead of the others in their love, because his was the first little tiny human form that lay against their breast; his were the first little hands that tugged at their hair. This other mother—the mother who has sent her boy to fight for YOUR protection, feels just the same way that you would about your boy.

She wants that boy back. Won't you help her bring him back? There are thousands of American mothers feeling badly today. Millions of French and English mothers, longing for their boys.

Husbands too, have gone by the million to fight for their Country and yours, for YOUR protection. Don't you sympathize with these women? Your husband is not perfect, sometimes you get "real mad" with him, but you don't want him killed by German brutes. Think, then, how these other wives feel—they want their husbands back. Won't you help them bring their men back?

Yes, of course you would like to help them, "but how can I help?" you say.

Help end the war by buying a Liberty Bond. Save out of the house-keeping money for it, deny yourself something so you can buy it. Do more than this—see that your husband, your friends, your neighbors, buy a Liberty Bond. Show them this little "bit" in the paper, and say, "Let's all buy a Liberty Bond piece."

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY.

The M. E. Sunday School held its fall rally last Sunday. This was to enlist everyone that should be in that school for service and to entertain visitors.

The honor roll of the school hangs in the center front, between the pictures of President Wilson and General Pershing.

The Boy Scouts, with their leaders, Mr. Person, Paul Terrell and Carley Bozeman, attended in a body, and after a short lesson the Juniors came up from the basement and a suitable program was given.

There were 256 present and the offering amounted to $10.00, which will be applied to better equip the school.

Do you know that clothes can be a means of spreading disease? In many localities where washwomen live the conditions are most unsanitary and dangerous to health.

DIED.

Last Saturday Mr. C. M. Landers died at the home of his brother, Mr. Harry Landers, after an illness of several months.

The funeral services were conducted, Sunday afternoon, by Rev. W. C. Garrett, and the body laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

C. M. Landers was born in Bidgeport, Vermont, sixty-six years ago. He was the oldest of six children, four of whom are still living.

The brothers came to Texas in an early day and have been engaged in the stock business, now conducting a large ranch south of town.

All the old timers, and especially the stock men know the Landers Brothers.

Mr. Landers was a quiet, unassuming man, going about his business in his own quiet and peculiar way. He was a man of sterling worth and integrity.

The Record joins the friends of the family in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

CEREMONIAL MEETING.

The Campfire Girls had a ceremonial meeting with their guardian, Mrs. Merritt, last Friday evening. Ailene Davis and Julia Shepherd were initiated into the order of Woodgatherers.

The unprecedented sandstorms which raged Saturday and Monday evenings, makes Judd Lewis' recent poetical effusion quite appropriate. Here it is:

The clouds that lately hid the sky An' promised us a rain, Have all of them gone driftin' by.

Beneath a dusty blight, If I'd the orderin' of things— Tho' I am glad I ain't— I'd have the whole world look, by jings.

Fresh as a dab of paint! There would be green leaves on trees And sweetness in the air An' freshness would be on the breeze.

Each midnight I would have it rain Enough for every day, An' blooms should spring along each lane.

DINNER PARTY.

Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Coleman entertained Dr. and Mrs. Hutton of Georgetown and Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Riordan at dinner Monday. During the evening many of the church members called to meet Dr. and Mrs. Hutton.

DEATH OF MR. T. H. ROE.

Word was received in Colorado Thursday that Mr. T. H. Roe had died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Hardie, at Taylor. Funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church this afternoon and interment in I. O. O. F. cemetery.

None but those who have sat in the shadow of a great bereavement can justly weigh such a sorrow as death brings. Those who have gone down into the valley of suffering and stood for months by the side of a loved one, as hope after hope has dropped away as the petals fall from a fading flower, know that such anguish cannot find solace in the tenderest words.

The Record will give a more extended notice of this good man's life, next week.

STOMACH TROUBLE. Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. HOW TO EASE YOUR TAXES

This is a subject that interests every man. This war is costing a sum of money so great that no man can realize what such an amount means.

To get down to something you can understand, it means that every man in this country has to give up nearly half of what he earns this year.

The government is going to get this money, because it has to have it. Of course, it can tax your income, tax everything you eat and drink, your land and your cattle, and raise the money this way.

NOW HERE IS THE POINT: JUST SO MUCH AS THE GOVERNMENT WILL ALLOW YOU TO LOAN TO THEM, SO MUCH LESS WILL THEY HAVE TO TAX YOU.

Looked at fairly and squarely, is it not better to loan money, rather than have it taken from you?

We are a level-headed people, and when things are put up to us in a straight-forward way by straight-forward people, we are ready to fall in line.

You know the facts now, straight from the U. S. Government. You have money that you do not need until next spring. Lend it to Uncle Sam.

Your banker is a good man to talk to. You believe in him. Go and ask his opinion. He will tell you that he has bought Liberty Bonds, and he will advise you to do the same.

LET THE OTHER FELLOW DO IT.

This is the thing that has caused so many failures, so much misery, so many deaths—"letting the other fellow do it." From the fall of great nations down to the smallest personal accident it is this policy that has been responsible for so many of the troubles of the world.

This leads naturally to another thought. It is not enough that we merely subscribe. We must see that our neighbor subscribes, because if he falls down, we ourselves shall suffer, even although we may have done our share.

There are just a few people left in this country who say "let the rich man find the money." When the government has had its needs supplied, the rich man will not be so rich; his taxes will be enormous, and many a wealthy company struggling with the high cost of everything they use in their business, in addition to their taxation, will have a difficulty in securing profits for their shareholders.

"If you say 'let the other fellow do it,' the loan will fail, we shall be disgraced in the eyes of the world, the resistance to Germany of our allies may break down, and the most terrible thing in the world will happen to us—conquest by Germany.

The Germans are not willing "to let the other fellow do it." Their boys of 14 and their old men of 60 are serving in the army, their women and their children are going short of food; they are giving up almost every cent they possess in order to beat this country. Surely we have more patriotism than the Germans, more sense—if not, then we deserve to be beaten.

Call in and see your banker and ask him whether this article contains the truth. He will tell you that it does, and will agree that it is a fatal thing in this great national crisis to "let the other fellow do it."

WEST TEXAS REMINISCENCES

In 1874, when the tocsin of war was sounded against the Indians and outlaws of West Texas, I was a boy of East Texas, scarcely past the 20th mile post in life.

We pitched our camp on the public square, hobbled our horses just west of the little town, where grass and water were plentiful, and were taking life easy.

Everything moving along serenely and not a thing to disturb the inhabitants of the little village, except the hoot of an owl; the catamount's cry, or possibly the howl of a wolf.

But these conditions were not to last long. One evening, just before sundown the familiar crack of the Colts 45 and the Smith & Wesson 44 rang out eight or ten times, and Charley Webb, one among the best men, and officers, of West Texas, lay dead on the street, the victim of a band of outlaws, that infested the country at that time from the Guadaloup to Big Wichita.

As a matter of course Company A had to get busy. In the course of 24 or 48 hours guns had arrived and the Erath county boys had come in.

The good citizens of Comanche were up in arms, and those of Brown county were gathering in to take part in the hunt for the killers, who had left town, but seemed to be in no hurry about leaving the country.

So, for six or eight days, things were in an uproar in and around the town of Comanche. Some of the outlaws were captured and turned over to the civil authorities, and were afterwards taken out and hung; others were killed in the brush, where they were found, and some got up anybody good-bye.

Of course while this was all going on, there was considerable excitement at times, as a running fight with the outlaws was almost a daily occurrence.

One incident I will mention that was a little out of the ordinary.

At this particular time everything had become rather dull. Not a trace of the outlaws had been seen or heard for a day or two. Lieut. J. M. Milligan, knowing that the bandits were in the habit of hanging out at an old ranch down on the line of Comanche and Brown counties, took about thirty of his men and went down expecting to meet them when he got there, or that they would come in some time during the night to get something to eat.

Unfortunately, a company of fifty men had come over from Brown-wood for the purpose of watching the ranch also, hoping to catch the outlaws. Arriving within about 400 yards of the house about dusk they proceeded to tie horses where they would be hid from view.

LOOK AT A CHILD'S TONGUE WHEN CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Take no Chances! Move Poison From Liver and Bowels at Once. Mothers can rest easy after giving California Syrup of Figs, because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what a's your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED. When Bilious, Headachy, Sick, For Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Bad Colds.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months.

Still Has His Marbles. "Look, mother," said Bobbie, exhibiting a handful of marbles. "I won all those from Willie Smith."

"Why, Bobbie!" exclaimed his mother. "Don't you know it's wicked to play marbles for keeps? Go right over to his house and give back every one."

"Yes mother," said the boy obediently, "and shall I take that vase you won at Mrs. Jones' whist party and give it back to her?"

DESPONDENCY.

When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two.

TEXAS OUTFIT TAKES TO ARTS.

Mosaic Spread Eagle Designs and Co. Insignia Abound in their Camp Busy on Fountain.

Camp Mills, Garden City, The point is that with the wild men of the plains—the coyote loving, whirlwind talking, buckskin riding, moving picture heroes from Texas—good sense, military order and aesthetics came to town.

In an interview Major Devine said: "We're here and putting up as though we were to stay indefinitely because we don't know anything about when we are to move, I think it might be worth while to give a special eye to the men in this organization."

Near the Major's tent Lieut. Smith is having something fancy done in the way of tessellation, a walk with a border of stones and shells, with company designation, spread eagle wings and a shield of the Stars and Stripes.

The central feature of the decorations was surely created under some classic influence, either that of the Horace Ode or the calyx shaped city square fountain in San Antonio, Tex. itself.

Your Uncle Sam is a good old man. He always does the best he can. Never hunts for trouble or a fight; Always tries to do what he thinks is right.

When Kaiser Bill his flag unfurled, And started out to whip the world, Uncle Sam said "Boys, we've got to win And show that Wiener where to head in."

It may be inquiry disclosed the fact—that eggs are selling for 35c a dozen in Dallas, Big Spring, Houston and Austin, from where the six companies of the 117th supply train were recruited, but that doesn't prevent Texas from playing good baseball.

The quartette of corporals—Brady, Tate, Hampton, Valente—can get a crowd any time it strikes up. While they're short on pianos in the outfit there are plenty of guitars and banjos, to furnish the music.

Of Texas dogs not a few. Every well known town of Texas is said to be represented by a meat hound, whether he came in the bologna rings or on four feet yelping.

very seriously. Most of the men had stout convictions and deep personal feelings with regard to what has been going on in Europe before they joined the supply train.

The above article was copied from a New York paper and refers to the motor truck companies, one of which, No. 4, went from Big Spring, which are now in training camp in New York.

WOMEN TORTURED.

Suffer Terribly With Corns Because of High Heels, but Why Care Now

Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.

This freezone is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

FROM D. A. NEEL AT WATER VALLEY. I left Westbrook October 16th arriving here the next evening.

I have been hauling water 18 years and have worn out one Fish Bros wagon and a Peter Schuster is nearly gone, but I will stop for a while, as there is plenty of good water here, which is run to the house—won't I get lazy though.

I have just received 20 bushels of white crystal wax Bermuda onion sets which I expect to put out and irrigate. Will put in one acre of fine straw berries this winter, and two acres of my big black berries next spring; sweetpotatoes and spuds, as well as my fine watermelons.

I believe I have a good market for selling truck as can be found in the state. I have lots of fine wood for my fire place. I believe I am in a good community.

I hated to leave old Mitchell county and my friends up there, but decided that I could do far better. I have a surer thing down here irrigating. However I have left a nest egg there. I received the Record Saturday morning and was sure glad to get it. I will come back, at times if I can get off long enough, and will come to see you.—D. A. NEEL.

WHEN YOU TAKE COLD.

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold.

If You Own A Car

Or ride in one often, your complexion is exposed to a severe test.

It has frequent sun baths. The dust, moreover, is actually forced into the pores by the speed of the car.

The result of such treatment is likely to give a harsh, leathery look to the skin of the face and neck.

A good cold cream is the best solution of the problem. Apply it before going out and then dust the face with a good powder.

After a trip, smooth the cream over the skin. Let it remain on for a few minutes, then rub off with a soft cloth.

Artesia Face and Tan-nore are creams of the best for this very purpose. In tubes and jars—25c and 50c. We keep it.

TEXAS CAMP PICTURES TO BE SHOWN IN NORTH

Seven Million People Expected to View Houston Army Life.

From seven to ten million people through six states of the middle west will, within the next few weeks view at thousands of theatres an extensive motion picture feature showing Illinois troops in training at Camp Logan.

Included in the picture will be scenes taken in the city of Houston. Camp life scenes will be shown close-up views of the boys at work and play, athletic events, companies and regiments grouped, some individual shots at commanding officers, and other interesting insights into army life in the south.

This picture which will bear the seal of the war department, will be one of a number being secured by the Southern Pine Association in various camps throughout the United States.

They will be exhibited primarily in each of those states from which come the troops, both of the state militia and the new national army, it being the intention of the war department to give parents and friends at home a comprehensive idea of just how their boys are cared for by Uncle Sam.

It has been said that the American army is the best housed fighting force the world has ever known. Two hundred and fifty million feet of Southern pine lumber has been required to erect more than 50,000 buildings, many of them large two-story barracks quarters, in cantonments and national guard and aviation camps over the country.

It will be suggested to local exhibitors using the pictures that they set aside a small proportion of their receipts, to be applied to the company funds for troops from their home towns.

Two prints from each picture will be preserved in the vaults of the war department. Should such a record of the civil war be obtainable today it would be of countless historical value.

WESTBROOK ITEMS.

A Serious Accident.

Mr. C. M. McDonald met with a very serious and probably fatal accident Friday afternoon. While bringing a well drill in from the Fairview school house, some part of the derrick slipped and struck him a severe blow between the shoulders, pinning him down so tight that he was unable to move. Fortunately his team stopped and just how long he stayed in this position no one knows. He was found by Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Pool about sun down. After releasing him from the derrick they went to Mr. Jim Olivers, who lived near by for help. He was carried to the home of Mr. Oliver and a physician, Dr. C. L. Root, was summoned at once and Dr. Root found him in such a critical condition, being paralyzed from his shoulders down, that he refused to let him be moved to his home. All of his children are at his bedside. Mr. and Mrs. Horace McDonald came in Sunday morning from Allen; Jack McDonald came Sunday from Commerce; Mrs. Julia Brooks, sister of Mr. McDonald and Mr. Harvey Perkins, his brother-in-law, came Monday from Bedias.

Wednesday evening it was decided to move Mr. McDonald to the Sanitarium at Temple. Dr. Root, Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. McDonald passed through Colorado in their cars to Sweetwater where they take the Santa Fe train.

Our Soldier Boys.

Since last week letters have been received from all of the soldier boys from here, that the boxes were sent to. We are sending in their letters so that all might read them. We feel sure that all will be glad to hear about their soldier life. They are as follows:

"I received the box yesterday and don't think that I ever received a present that I appreciated more than this one. You people are showing as much patriotism as the boys who volunteered. These presents from home show that you people are interested in the welfare of all the boys from old Westbrook. I want to thank you and all connected with the sending of the box, for the good things that it contained. I enjoyed looking over the Record. The good eats and the paper made me think of home.—Private Leroy E. Grissett, Field Hosp. Corps, Co. No. 1, Fort Bliss." Another one says:

"You don't have any idea how I appreciated the box you sent me. I received it today. The cake and candy were fine and I am still enjoying it. I am still doing fine. I was made corporal in a month after I enlisted. Have been acting sergeant for about two months, don't know when I will be made one. I am having a pretty easy time. We go out and drill in the morning and sleep in the afternoon. I went over to Camp Travis tonight to see some of the boys from Mitchell county, but failed to see them. I don't know when we will be sent to France, but hope we will be sent soon for I sure want to go. I want to get a ten day's leave and come home Christmas.—C. G. Gressett, Battery A, 3rd Field Artillery, Ft. Sam Houston."

Jim Metcalf says: "I got the box you people sent me today, and it certainly was nice. I divided the contents with my friends and they said that they would be glad to be a Westbrook boy. I am having a good, easy time. Drill one hour each day except Saturday and Sunday. I enjoy soldier life fine, but there is no such thing as social life with me now, more than going to church on Sunday. Again thanking you for the nice box, such remembrances certainly helps a soldier boy.—Jim Metcalf, Base Hospital No. 5, Nogales, Ariz."

Another one says: "I consider it not only my duty but a privilege to thank you people for the kindness shown us when we left Colorado for the training camps and I am sure that the people did for us was appreciated by all the boys alike and the lanches you fixed for us were certainly fine and they came in very handy about noon Tuesday as we did not stop for dinner until about 3:30 Tuesday evening. We arrived at Camp about 3:30 Wednesday morning, and after we were given two blankets each and a cot, we lay down for a short nap; and from that time I began to appreciate the kindness some woman in Westbrook had shown by sending a pillow along, and each night as I retire I cannot help thanking them for that one thing, for many of the boys haven't any pillow at all, and until yesterday we had slept on only one blanket spread over the springs of the cot, but we got some hay yesterday and made us a mattress. The first day we were here we were vaccinated for both small pox and typhoid fever, and my arm has been sore ever since, and this evening we got our second inoculation and I am expecting to be sick sure enough by tomorrow. Several of the boys fainted and fell out of the ranks after the first vaccination."

We have Wednesday and Saturday evening and Sundays off. We don't have to drill on those days, which gives us some rest. But the greatest blessing that ever came to the soldier boys is the Y. M. C. A. which furnishes us with all kinds of amusements and also creates a religious influence in the camp, which is very badly needed. But with all the bad things in the army there are many good things after all, I guess I should not complain. Again thanking you for your kindness and asking an interest in your prayers that I may live an upright christian life even in the army, I hope to ever remain a friend of the Westbrook people.—Cecil Logan, 1st Cassion Co., 315th Am. Tr. E. S., Camp Travis.

TAKE YOUR HOME PAPER AND THE PROGRESSIVE FARMER

Realizing that this year, the next and the next maybe, the American farmer will be called upon to feed the major portion of the peoples of the Earth, we have arranged for our readers to also receive The Progressive Farmer. We recognize it as the South's leading exponent of the now vital doctrines of crop diversification and farm products conservation.

So important have these problems appeared to our President that he has issued an appeal to the South to not only feed itself but have something more for our sorely needing friends across the Seas.

As your patriotic duty equip yourself by using the advice and guidance of this standard farm weekly which sells for one dollar a year and may be had with our paper for the amount named below.

SEND US $ 1.50 FOR BOTH PAPERS.

We Are on Trial

—not Dallas or New York, but our own town, or community.

Uncle Sam wishes to borrow our money. He asks us to show our patriotism by buying Liberty Bonds.

Perhaps we overlooked the last Liberty Loan; perhaps we were busy; or perhaps we had our money tied up in other things.

But we must make a good showing this time. We must, everyone of us, invest in a Liberty Bond.

Will You buy yours today?

Your banker will supply you with full information concerning the Bonds.
