IN BUILDING

Big Year Is Indicated

Local construction reached the year's half-way point with promise of establishing a new record before 1961 is out, according to City Secretary Bob Loe.

Building permits issued during the first six months of 1961 totaled $172,912. Of the total, $46,112 was for four commercial permits and $126,800 for nine residential permits.

Largest single permit was for $35,000 issued to Ty Field for the new building recently completed on the north side of the court house square. O. H. Clark was given a $6,500 permit to re-construct the Tumbleweed Drive-in building.

Other commercial permits were issued to Romain Telephone Co. for $2,212 and Viva's Beauty Shop for $2,400.

Heading the list of those who obtained residential permits was A. F. Faulkenberry, contractor. He received four permits for $14,000 each.

A $17,000 permit was issued to Robert Chambliss for construction of a new home. T. A. Elmore obtained a residential permit for $6,000 and F. P. Perrin one for $6,600.

Permits for remodeling were issued to Ford Hawkins for $4,000 and S. L. Tingle for $1,200.

The building permits issued by the city for the January-June period compared with a 1960 total of $225,250. There appeared little doubt among local observers that the 1960 mark will be surpassed long before the end of the year rolls around.

Nevertheless, last year was considered one of the area's best from a building standpoint. In addition to the $225,250 in permits, another $150,000 construction took place in areas immediately adjacent to the city and another $93,000 was spent by the city.

Probably the most encouraging statistic among the latest figures is the one representing money spent for residential construction. The $126,800 total compares with $151,850 for the entire 12-month period of 1960.

Store Winners Are Named

Citizens Asked To Express Tax Views

Residents of the Plains area are being given an opportunity this week to participate in a statewide poll to determine the majority views on taxation.

A public opinion poll on state taxes, covering all major legislative proposals, is being sponsored by the Citizens for Fair Taxation. It is published in today's issue of The Record so that area citizens may let their views be heard.

"Our poll is strictly non-partisan and will give the public an opportunity to express opinions on a variety of revenue proposals," said J. E. Connally, chairman of the Citizens for Fair Taxation.

"We are confident that such a poll will reveal that Texans overwhelmingly favor a compromise tax program."

Connally said many people have been misled as to the basic issues involved in the tax controversy. He declared:

"Already, lobby-dominated 'sales tax' organizations have poured thousands of dollars into an 'anti-compromise' campaign. They are sending out so-called 'polls' to selected special interests with instructions to rig them in favor of a general retail sales tax, which is the only revenue proposal listed on their poll.

"The Citizens for Fair Taxation poll lists 11 tax categories and proposals. It is a public service project and distribution of the polls will be general throughout the state. Our chief concern is to help in every way we can to determine majority views and build support for a compromise broad-based tax program that places the revenue burden fairly and equitably on consumers and business alike.

Members of the Legislature are responsible, devoted men and women, and I have every confidence in their ability to resolve conflicting views."

All won merit badges in swimming, while Cooke and Meixner also took merit badges for life saving. Not pictured is another merit badge winner for swimming, Bobby Taylor.

AT SUMMER CAMP

Local Scouts Sweep Honors

Members of Boy Scout Troop 778 returned home Saturday afternoon after a week's outing at Camp Post where they added many feathers to their caps.

The local unit won the most coveted of all awards when it was named the outstanding troop of the week in competition with other outfits from the Quana Parker District. Judging was based on all camp activities, including camping, tent pitching, hiking and others.

In addition to this honor, Plains scouts also took top honors in the swim meet.

Plains boasted of the two top individual award winners. Joe Dan Cooke and Ralph Meixner both earned their life saving and swimming badges. No other boys in the entire camp earned these two badges, considered the two most difficult to earn at the camp.

Budget Hearing Set By School

Public hearing on the 1961-62 budget of the Plains Independent School District will be held at 8 p. m. next Thursday, July 13. The hearing will be in the school cafeteria.

All persons interested in the budget are invited to be present.

Jeannett Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Jones, will begin a business course at Draughn's in Lubbock Monday. Miss Jones is a spring graduate of Plains High School.

Three other local scouts took swimming badges, David Box, C. L. Faubus Jr. and Bobby Taylor.

Of significance was the fact that nine of the 12 scouts attending were Tenderfeet. All passed the outdoor requirements for promotion to second class.

The Plains troop was reorganized just this past April.

Adult leaders are Gene Young, Johnnie Moore and C. L. Faubus. Attending the Post camp with the boys were Young, Faubus, Roy Stockstill, Dick Cooke and Neil Taylor.

JIM BOZEMAN

Baptist Pastor Here

The Rev. and Mrs. James L. (Jim) Bozeman, formerly of Frankel City, completed their move to Plains Monday where he assumed duties as pastor of the First Baptist Church.

In moving to Yoakum County, the couple returned to the same county where they began their married life in 1939. Bozeman was working for Humble in Denver City when they were married.

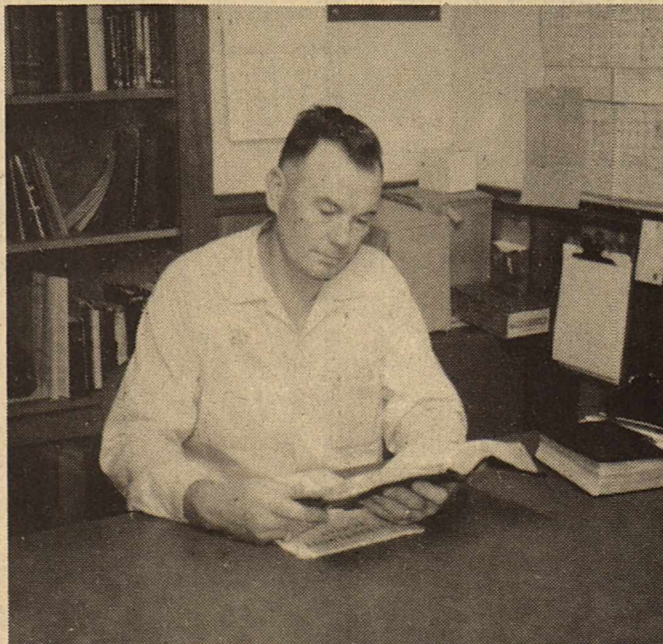

Originally, Bozeman is from Mexia. He worked for Humble 16 years before entering the ministry. From 1949 to 1955 he was pastor of the Northside Baptist Mission and Church in Kermit. The institution was a mission when he first went there, but later became an independent church.

From Kermit, Bozeman moved to Frankel City to become pastor of the church there. He left in 1947 to enter Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He was pastor of the Inspiration Point Baptist Church while attending school. Upon graduation, he returned to Frankel City.

The Bozemens have one daughter, Mrs. Ann Heard, a student at Hardin-Simmons University. Her husband is pastor of Rockdale Baptist Church near Stanford.

School Adds Two Teachers To Faculty

Two recent additions to the faculty of the Plains school system leaves three vacancies on the 40-teacher staff, according to Superintendent G. D. Kennedy.

Latest additions include Jerry Don Stockton, who will be vocational agriculture teacher and assistant coach, and Larry Lockett, junior high science teacher and junior coach.

Still unhired are a first grade teacher, a second grade teacher and a public school music instructor. The school board has prospective candidates for the two elementary positions but has encountered considerable difficulty in lining up the music teacher.

CHANGES NEEDED

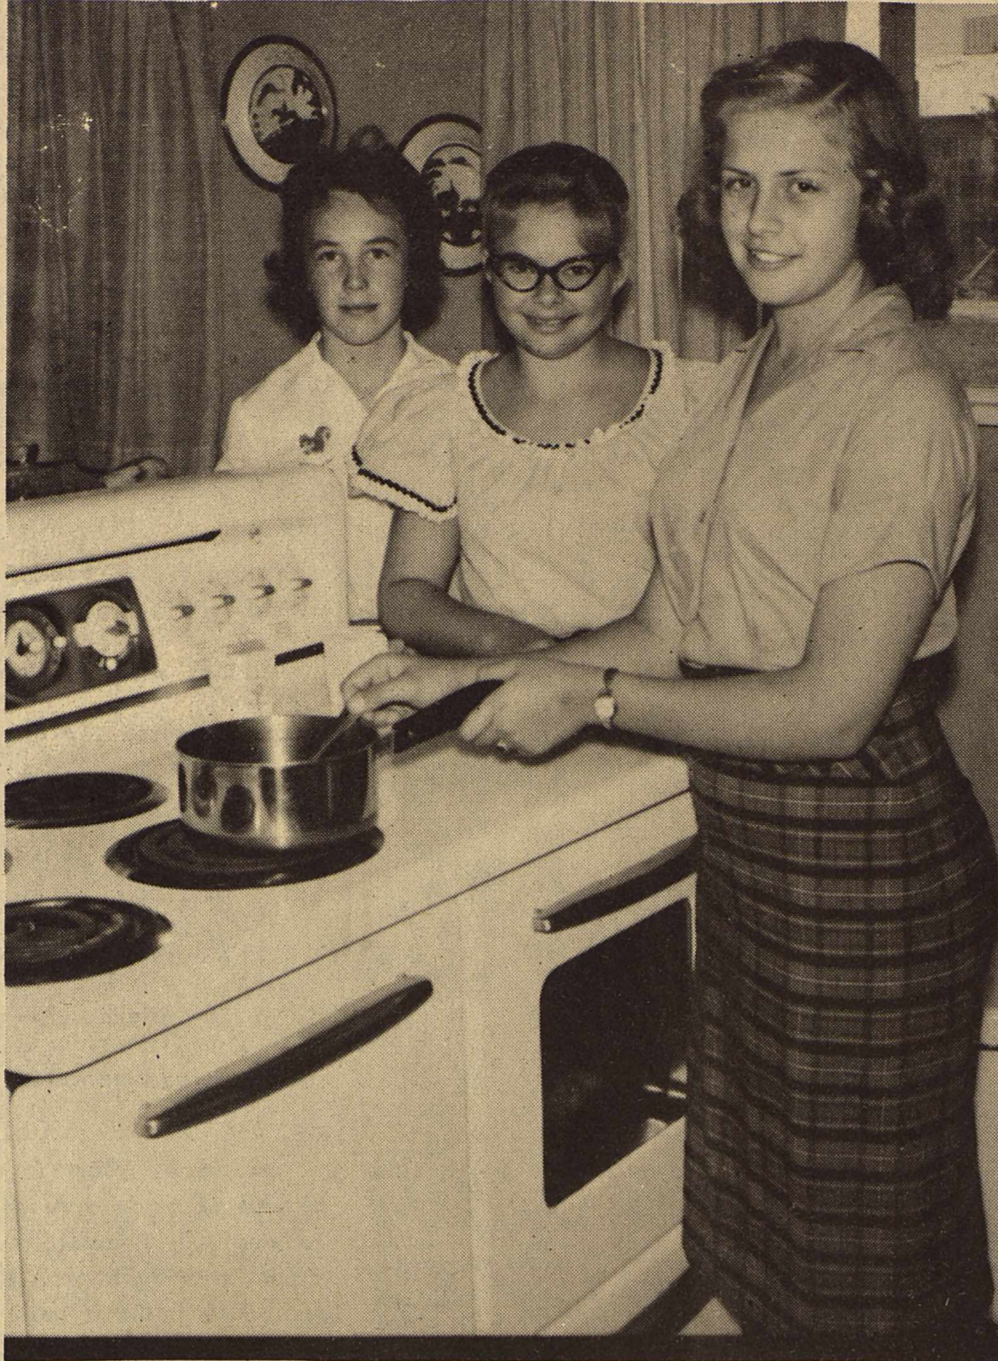

Listen to any oldtimer talk about 4th of July celebrations of his youth and it makes you wonder why today's mobile population doesn't slow down and enjoy the simple things of life.

All of us are prone to look forward to breaks in the normal routine of earning a livelihood as an opportunity to go somewhere. Thousands die in the mad rush to get there and back in the few hours allowed. A great many of those who do return home safely do so with the promise to themselves that next year's holiday will be spent in a less-hecktic manner. But when next year arrives, the temptation to get away fails to yield to good judgment.

Why couldn't a community such as Plains use this mid-summer holiday as a real asset to increase the happiness of its citizens while insuring their safety. It is our belief that any effort would be met with whole-hearted support.

By this suggestion, we are not thinking of some big observance which might prove costly to anyone. Rather we have in mind something like a big community picnic. Maybe every family in the area could be invited to bring its own picnic lunch to the park. Everyone could eat, visit and come and go as he or she wishes. Some time during the day, there could be an inspirational observance of the holiday--not a fireworks display, but perhaps a reading by someone of all or part of the Declaration of Independence.

Such a program might sound boring to many of those whose holidays usually call for more explosive ideas. But we feel that the average person's fondest memories are those of simple things.

Date Is Set For Opening Of School

The 1961-62 term of school at Plains will begin Monday, Aug. 28, according to an announcement made this week by Superintendent G.D. Kennedy. According to the schedule announced by Kennedy, school will close May 18. Holidays also are covered in the schedule. First of these will be Thanksgiving. School will dismiss at noon on Nov. 22 and resume Nov. 27.

Students will be dismissed from classes during the Christmas season from noon on Dec. 22 to Jan. 2. The Easter vacation will run from noon on April 19 to April 23.

Date of the TSTA meeting in March, another holiday for students, will be announced later, Kennedy said.

FERTILIZER DISTRIBUTORS

Spread commercial fertilizer or lime accurately, uniformly for higher yields—bigger profits—with a John Deere Distributor

LF Distributor, above, meets the needs of farmers who prefer a pull-type distributor. Available in 8-, 10-, and 12-foot widths, the LF's wheels have durable bearings to assure light draft. Aggressive "Propel-R-Feeds" handle caked fertilizer with ease. Application rates range from 20 to 10,000 pounds per acre. Don't waste plant food... apply exactly the amount you need... spread it evenly over every acre.

Integral MLF Distributor, left, can be used with any tractor with standard 3-point hitch... in 6' and 9'-3" widths with 104- and 150-inch square implement bars respectively. The MLF is versatile; add such attachments as a grain box and grass seeder for planting crops and fertilizing in one operation. Unit-type planters can be attached to distributor's implement bar for planting and fertilizing row crops. MLF is used to side-dress row crops. With grassland opener equipment, MLF is ideal for reseeding pastures and run-down legumes.

PLAINS By Wendell Fought Talk

Is anyone in the Plains area descendant of Quantrill's guerrillas? If you are, you're wanted.

An organization bent on conserving and preserving the history of the famed 19th century outfit has been organized in Kansas City, Mo. Descendants living in Missouri will be regular members. And anyone else interested in the organization can become a corresponding member.

I doubt if there is much interest in the organization here, but The Record has been asked to assist in the event there are descendants or other interested persons in this area. In case you fall in one of these categories, you can get complete details by writing Brice J. Mansfield, 803 West 39th, Kansas City 11, Mo.

Most people will deny it, but there probably is no one anywhere who has not been the origin of some rumor which turned out to be entirely false. This point really struck close to me last Tuesday morning.

Inez Culwell called and asked me if I could drive the ambulance. A man has been hurt north of John Fitzgerald's place, she said. After I asked for a more specific location, she asked me if I knew where that oil well was, the one across the highway from the Fitzgerald home. I admitted I didn't, but assured her I could find it. She told me the man's name.

In my hurry to get gone, I told the wife where I was going. "A man fell off an oil derrick," I told her. Being a woman, she wanted to know who he was. "I think she said his name was McClellan," I answered.

Upon arrival at the scene of the accident, I found that the man in fact had fallen from a load of hay, not an oil derrick. And his name was Orho Clendemon, not McClellan.

I could hardly wait to get home from the hospital to be sure that the wife had not told anyone her version of the story. Apparently she had not.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Moore returned Saturday from Atlantic City, N. J., where they attended the annual convention of Lions International. While away, they also visited New York and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. James Warren and daughters returned last week from the Lions International convention in Atlantic City, N. J., and other points of interest along the way.

Mrs. C. L. Faubus returned to her home here Monday following a week's confinement in the Denver City hospital.

Dixie McClellan Completes Course

Back on the job this week at Loyd Insurance Agency is Mrs. Dixie McClellan, who has just completed a four-week insurance school at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Graduation exercises for the 60 Texas students attending the school were held Friday night, preceded by a dinner in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Mrs. McClellan's husband attended the graduation. They returned home Tuesday night.

Purpose of the school was to acquaint insurance representatives with many of the finer points of the business, with special emphasis on rating and writing policies. Much emphasis also was placed on the operation of the company, giving students a better knowledge of various company policies.

SOIL Conservation NEWS

Interest in seeding of grass on cropland continues to grow, according to Wilson Duke, technician, assisting the Yoakum Soil Conservation District.

Several farmers will begin to sprig Midland Bermudagrass this week, said Duke. Some that are planning to start this week are: J. C. Stegall, Darwin Hobbs, Wilbur Hayse, Garland Swann and Rolling McCord.

McCord has made arrangements for a digging machine and will dig sprigs from a planting of about 20 acres on his place that he planted last year. In addition he is running about 70 head of cattle at the present time on his Midland Bermudagrass planting.

A. O. Williams of the Silgo Community has planted approximately 60 acres of Blue Panicum and about 110 acres of Weeping Lovegrass the past few days.

The District grass drill was used to plant both grasses and was planted in 20 inch rows so as to get a better and quicker cover.

W. M. Nelson is putting in some underground irrigation pipeline so that he can conserve time and water and also do a better job of conservation irrigation.

School Adds--

Stockton will head the school's new agriculture department. Vo-ag returns to the high school schedule this fall after an absence of several years.

Stockton is a graduate of South Taylor High School and Texas Tech. He lacks only a few hours on his master's degree. He attended Tech on a football scholarship and majored in agriculture education. He is 23 and single.

Lockett is remembered by many Plains football fans as a former gridiron star at Meadow High School from which he graduated. Twenty-four years old and married, he earned his degree from Hardin-Simmons University with a major in physical education.
