

Four In Race

Name Three New Queen Hopefuls

July 25, 26 and 27 are the dates for the 10th Annual old settlers reunion and rodeo this year. There are four candidates in this year's Rodeo Queen contest. Miss Sylvia McGinty, who is being sponsored by the Yoakum County Roping Club, was pictured in last week's addition of The Plains Record. At left is Miss Marsha White who was last year's Rodeo Queen. Miss Brenda Duke is being sponsored in this year's contest by the Plains Dirt Gardeners. Miss Loretta Taylor is being sponsored by the Lions Club and Miss Letha Watson is being sponsored by the Plains Chamber of Commerce. Bull dogging, bareback riding, saddle bron, bull riding, team roping, calf roping, and ladies' open barrel race are the eight events scheduled for this year's show on each of the three nights. It has been announced the books will open on July 22 and will close 12 noon Thursday, July 25. All events in the rodeo are to be Jackpot, with belt buc-ties awarded in each event. Admission to the show will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Saturday's admission ticket will include the Bar-B-Q to be held at noon on that day.

Auffill Rodeo Producers of Lubbock will furnish this year's livestock. The annual Rodeo Parade will be held this year on Thursday at 5 p. m. Each performance will begin at 8 p. m. There will also be a cowboy dance every night with the music furnished by Jimmy Mackey.

MOORE
or Less

The following letter received by Rep. F. Bradford Morse speaks eloquently for itself, and we sincerely believe every single Congressman of the U. S. ought to get one exactly like it.

"Dear Congressman Morse: I hate to tell you my troubles, but I have tried everything else I know. I feel that only you can help me now.

"I have a dependent relative staying with me who has very little fiscal responsibility. He is very good natured, and means well, but he keeps buying presents for my wife and me, and our two children. He charges these presents to my account. He sees something he thinks we need and he buys it for us.

"Many of these things are not needed by us and in very few cases are they exactly what we would have bought if we had bought these things ourselves. Because he doesn't work for a living, money doesn't mean too much to him and he tends to buy the first thing he sees and doesn't shop around like I would do if I were purchasing items. He is also quite generous to the poor and needy, but often gives to those he doesn't know who feed him a soft line.

"I just received a bill for his last spending spree and it gives me a sick hopeless feeling. I keep thinking how better off I would be if I could just spend that money for the things I want and could give to the people and charities I think are needy. Honestly, he does so much of my spending that I tend not to give money to charity anymore.

"He won't listen to me, but he will listen to you because he respects you. Please use your influence to cut the spending habits of my Uncle Sam.

Sincerely,
"Jack A. Wilson

Antioch, Ill., News:

"When laws are used to force one private citizen to hire, rent to, sell to, another specific person or group of persons, every American citizen loses a little more of his individual freedom. The negro loses that freedom right along with the rest of his rights as a citizen as zealously as he fought for recognition. The fight against discrimination will go on, but let's hope all groups keep their eyes on the common goal. It should be a war to free all men from the bondage of prejudice, not to ensnare them in a common bondage of laws that limit personal freedom."

Clean-Up Campaign

YEP, MONDAY'S THE DAY!

Plains Dirt Gardeners are sponsoring a Clean-up Campaign for Plains, on Monday May 17th. Other clubs are invited and will probably join in and lend a hand with the work. A Monday was selected as the pick-up day so that most of us having week ends at home, can have time on the preceding Saturday to clear our yards and pile the rubbish in a convenient location by the alley.

Commissioners Court has volunteered the use of the County Trucks to help in removing the trash. It is up to the rest of us to see that it is collected and conveniently placed by the alleys for easy pick-up, and then to help get it into the trucks Monday morning for disposal.

Dirt Gardeners will serve coffee, punch and cookies from about 10:00 A. M. till noon on Monday the pick-up day.

Mark your calendar. Get into your working clothes and on the beam. Saturday see that your premises are cleared, and the rubbish piled, then Monday the 17th help get it into the dump trucks.

Come by the Community Club Room for refreshments.

Ruth League. Other teams include three from Denver City and one team from Seagraves. Managers of the local team are Cordell Hudleston and Roger Harvey. The team has on tap four more home games this season.

Long - Time Area Resident Passes Away

Residents of Plains and the surrounding area were saddened this week due to the death of a long-time Yoakum resident, Mr. G. P. (Judge) Beane.

Judge Beane, as he was affectionately known by everyone, was 78 years old, and was born on February 9, 1885, in Bodecaw, Arkansas.

He passed away on June 10, at about 5 p. m. in his home here in Plains, following a lengthy illness which had stretched over the past several months.

Prior to moving to Yoakum County in 1939, Judge Beane had served as teacher in the public schools in his native Arkansas, until 1926 when he moved to Midland.

He was engaged in the grocery business in McCamey and Alpine in 1926 and 1927, and while in Alpine, he attended Sul Ross College and obtained his B. A. degree in 1927.

Following his graduation, he moved to Presidio, where he became school superintendent from 1928 to 1931.

Following this he was also superintendent of schools at Barstow from 1931 to 1937.

Then from 1937 to 1939, he was superintendent of the schools in Andrews.

In 1939, he moved to Denver City, then in its first year of existence, to become the first teacher and the first superintendent of schools.

He was elected judge of Yoakum County in 1940, a position he held for eight years. Since that time he had remained quite active in public life, serving as Justice of the Peace and City Judge for several years.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church here and of the local Masonic Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Della; two daughters, Mrs. Florine Hayes, a teacher in the Plains Schools, and Mrs. Blanche Dyer, who is District Clerk of Yoakum County, one brother, Robert D. of Edinburg; three grandchildren; one step-grandson; eight great-grandchildren; and three step-great-grandchildren.

Services were held in First Baptist Church here on Wednesday, June 12, at 2:30 p. m. with The Rev. James L. Bozeman, pastor, presiding.

Needed Lesson

By James Tippett

At the recent graduation of seniors from Plains High School, James Tippett, the valedictorian of the '63 class, made quite a compelling address at the commencement exercises.

Many have felt that the speech, as given, should be published so as to be available to more people. Evidently a great deal of thought went into the speech, and it carries a message we feel is very important.

The speech follows: "Parents, members of the school board, faculty, fellow classmates, and friends: An Italian philosopher once said, 'When neither their property nor their honor is touched, the majority of men live content.' Carl Sandburg, the famous American author, wrote a poem entitled 'Four

Grand Jury Returns Five Bills

A great deal of interest is evident in and around Plains concerning what will be the first First Degree Murder trial ever to be held in Yoakum.

Trial in question is the Murder with Malice trial of T. M. Ward of Denver City, who is charged in the last -- year's slaying of Tiny Nelms, also of Denver City.

A panel of 96 jurors have been called for the trial, that is set to begin on Wednesday of next week, because selection of the jury is expected to take a great deal of time, some estimates running as high as three to four days.

Ward is being represented by Mr. Calloway Huffaker, who is a former District Attorney of the 121st District.

Preceding this trial which starts on Wednesday will be the trial for alleged attempt to commit burglary which is charged against D. L. Roberts and Fred Shockley. They are charged with the attempted breaking - and entering into the Curry-Edwards Drug here last year.

This dual trial will take place on Monday, June 17, beginning at 10 a. m.

In other court business in the past week, the new session of Grand Jury returned five indictments.

They were including four for forgery of checks against R. E. Wright, Jack Childress, Walter T. Earnhart and William Lee Burton. The other indictment returned was to bill Billy Joe Berry of Denver City on charges of breaking and entering into the house of Lee Wilson, also in Denver City.

'63 Grain Sorghum Prices

Mr. W. M. Overton, ASCS Office Manager, has announced prices for the 1963 crop of grain sorghums, for grain produced on farms complying with the 1963 Feed Grain Program, will be supported at $1.69 per hundred weight. This applies to grain sorghum grading No. 2 or better, and other nearby Texas Counties. The 1963 program provides for a 29¢ per hundred weight payment in kind for farms participating in the 1963 Feed Grain Program and this payment will be made based on the County Committee approved yield times the planted for harvest acres; and the payment will be made regardless of the amount of grain sorghum produced. The 1963 Loan price of $1.69 compares with support price of $1.90 for 1962. However, no payment in kind was made on the 1962 crop. Farmers wishing to store their price support grain sorghum in a Terminal Warehouse may obtain terminal rates from the ASCS office. County and Terminal rates will be adjusted by discounts

Residents of this area who are pictured above in the Ralston Purina Company office in St. Louis were among approximately 350 farmers from this section who visited the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit, Missouri, last Monday, and spent the following day seeing the company's research laboratories and general office. Thousands of farmers from all sections of the United States and many foreign countries visit the Purina farm each year to see results of experiments conducted in livestock and poultry

Water Safety Stressed

Water safety in sports is principally a matter of knowing the safety precautions and observing them.

Deaths by drowning could be cut down to almost none if swimmers would observe a few rules -- never swim alone, or at night except in well-lighted pools, or just after eating, or when overly tired.

Deaths and injuries from diving could be virtually eliminated if divers would take the trouble to know where they were diving. How deep is the water? Are there any underwater obstructions? Diving accidents almost always are caused by diving into shallow water or unfamiliar water.

Water skiing -- a sport that is growing rapidly in popularity -- need not be hazardous. The skipper of the boat should know what he is doing, avoiding dangerous high speeds and skimming too close to docks, other boats and obstructions. Preferably, there should be a second man in the boat, and, very important, the skier should wear a life belt to keep him afloat if he is winded by a smashing fall.

Underwater swimming and spear fishing with artificial breathing apparatus, is another sport that is gaining in popularity. Here again, knowing how to swim well, how to use the aqualung and how to handle oneself under water will prevent most accidents.

In boating accidents, the cardinal safety rule -- is stay with the boat. Someone will be along eventually to pick you up, and a long swim to the shore is beyond the capacity of all but a few highly trained athletes.

Sunburn, the universal hazard of water sports, also can be avoided or minimized by using common sense -- don't stay out in the hot sun too long.

Knowledge of artificial respiration, with emphasis on the new mouth-to-mouth method, will save many people from succumbing to drowning. It isn't very difficult to apply artificial respiration, if you know how.

There are few water safety problems that couldn't be avoided by the application of common sense, coupled with at least a cursory knowledge of safety rules.

Evaporation Of Moisture Studied

Hexadecanol, a commercial alcohol product, has been used in limited experiments to reduce evaporation of moisture from soil by 43 percent.

This finding by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station may point the way toward the solution of one of agriculture's challenging problems -- how to reduce loss of soil moisture from evaporation.

It is estimated that 123 million acre-feet of water evaporates annually from cropped and fallow land in the 17 Western States, where water resources are often inadequate for agricultural and other uses. This loss represents about 43 percent of the water used annually in all homes, industry and agriculture of the continental United States.

In the Colorado tests, hexadecanol was applied to the soil at rates of 660, 3,320 and 16,600 pounds per acre. It was mixed with the surface quarter-inch of soil; mixed uniformly with all of the soil in the container; layered one inch below the soil surface and layered three inches below the soil surface.

Water was added to saturate the treated soil and the amount of water lost by evaporation was recorded for 10 days. This cycle was continued for fourteen months. The greatest evaporation reduction, 43 percent, resulted from the heaviest rate of application in the surface quarter-inch of soil.

Hexadecanol mixed in the surface soil restricts evaporation by drying the top layer of soil, the scientists said.

The dried surface then acts as a barrier to prevent the movement of moisture from soil to air. No reduction of evaporation was noted during the first day after irrigating the treated soil but the initial loss of 22.3 percent loss dropped to only 3.9 percent within three days. The surface layer of untreated soil still contained 21 percent moisture at this time.

Hexadecanol proved highly resistant to decomposition and nontoxic to soil microorganisms. Further research and field testing are needed to prove or disprove the practicability of its use.

From Mrs. Harold Cunningham, Beaver Dams, New York: I remember we lived on a farm in the year 1923 and I was four years old. My father purchased one of those still-looked-on-with-suspicion contraptions--the automobile.

It was one of the first in our town and my father was proud and overjoyed at the sensation it caused. Used to a horse and buggy, or a sled, and to riding through the countryside to the beat of horses' hooves and the jingle of bells, we found a new experience--our first ride in the runabout. We took off quickly, just like the time our horse was stung by a bee, only faster. "Hang on!" wasn't just a casual expression. It was seriously meant and seriously taken. Those who failed to heed the warning could find themselves bounced out. One day it happened to me.

Mother sent dad to the store for sugar. She asked him to take me. As usual, he took off at top speed. At the store he forgot something and turned sharply into a driveway to go back. The door of the runabout flew open and deposited me flat on my stomach on the bank of the driveway.

The bank was grassy and soft. A crowd gathered. Everyone asked if I was hurt. Meaning to say, "I am just flattened," I said instead, "No daddy, I am just flattened."

Betty Stewart and Mrs. Joe Cobb after taking some of the Baptist Church campers to Glorieta went on to Albuquerque where they visited relatives of Mr. Cobbs. They returned home on Friday taking their time while sight seeing.

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER
FATHERS' DAY

MANY years ago, at the close of a Mothers' Day service in a New Orleans church, a little girl asked me why we did not have a Fathers' Day service. I could not give any satisfactory answer then. I was glad soon afterward that such a day was designated. I am sure that Father needs no eulogy from me. In song and story

JUST A THOUGHT: The hand is quicker than the eye, or is it? Does it perhaps happen that sometimes we allow ourselves to see only what we want to see and nothing more?

His worth has been set forth. And when the Lord Jesus taught men to pray, he bade them to address God as "our Father." And we know that the Father is everywhere in the universe He has made, everywhere that men pray.

And what greater incentive to pray can there be that the God who has made ten thousand worlds is something like, though in infinitely greater degree, our good fathers on earth? And what greater assurance could we have in crying out of our need?

Years ago I heard of a little girl who was found playing with her doll as happily as if she were safe at home. And when the frightened people on the ship asked why she was not afraid in the raging of a great storm, she replied, "My father is the captain." And a few days since I read of a small boy who was seated alone in a train. And when a preacher sat down beside him and asked if he was afraid on the train alone, he replied, "No, my father is driving." On Fathers' Day, let us prove that we know that God is in charge.

government handle it? The question I want to ask is: Are we satisfying ourselves out of existence just as the men of Sandburg's city? Are we letting our content blind us to path our country is taking? We tell the world how great we are, but does anyone besides ourselves really listen?

"Tonight we Seniors say farewell to Plains High School to go our separate ways. If I could leave one thing behind the kind of dissatisfaction that makes us work to improve ourselves, the kind that builds the concern necessary to better our social standards, the kind that makes us strive to be a nation of action rather than a nation of words.

"As a historian might say, America is entering her golden age. The great challenge facing us, the adults of tomorrow, is to prevent satisfaction and complacency from tarnishing her gold. We must realize that no matter how far we go or how high we rise, we are only a step away from the way down. This is not a challenge to be accepted by everyone. The true measure of a nation is from the bottom up and unless the average American, the kind or solid citizen represented by our graduating class, accepts this challenge our grandchildren may find themselves living in a second-rate America. The preserving of our nation's institutions may be in many ways a more difficult task than founding them and this responsibility must fall on the graduating Seniors of 1963, not only here but across the nation. The future of our nation can be bright or it can be dark, it is as we choose. When we make our choice there is one thing we must remember, the future of our country will not be determined by our past accomplishments was. In closing I would like to leave one thought with you. Think from whence you came, where you are going, and to whom you must give an account."

The Spoken Word

"Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness."—Psalms 10:7

Paul the Apostle used the about quotation in his Epistle to the Romans reminding them that too many men had "destruction and misery" in their ways.

During the course of an election in a particular state, two political opponents were once reminded by a minister that each of them had said such terrible things about one another that it might be difficult for the public to forget the things said, regardless which man won the race.

We should all remember the importance of the spoken word. Governments can "call in" bad money. A food manufacturer can recall shipments if it is discovered something is wrong with the merchandise or the packaging. The spoken word, once uttered, can never be "taken back." It may be apologized for, excused, but the fact that it was said remains the same.

The Christian learns to stay away from cursing and bitterness. When a true Christian has nothing good to say, he says nothing at all.

Read your BIBLE daily and GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

ITEM: Pork can be cooked outside by charcoaling or barbecuing. Cuts that charcoal well are pork chops, preferably boneless. These should be cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick. It is important to select pork with marbling (fat within the muscle), chops with a large rib eye muscle, and pork that is fresh and bright. Cured pork such as ham slices, cottage roll or sliced picnic shoulder are also good for broiling. All pork must be cooked well done.

C. Court Minutes

At Mondays meeting of the Yoakum commissioners, the bid of Western Motors on a 1963 Catalina for $1,340 and the bid of Corbin-Parker for $2,131.45 on a new Ford were accepted.

A lease agreement between the County and Callan Speights leasing to him the teacher residence building at Sligo for $1 per year for a period of at least one year, to be renewed on a yearly basis.

Other consideration on the part of Speights was set forth that he should be a watchman and caretaker of the property. They rejected any and all bids which were made for the painting of the outside of the old Courthouse.

They approved the Extension Service budget for 1964. It was set the same as the '63 budget.

Judy Lenamon was made a Deputy District Clerk. Motion was made to recess the current Board of Equalization until 9 a. m. on July 1.

Cuban Economy Said Perplexing

One of the most common sights in Cuba today is "a stalled car with the hood up and three or four Cubans peering perplexedly inside."

This is but one sign of and economy under Communist shackles, writes Mrs. Ruth Sheldon Knowles in the current issue of Petroleum Today. Mrs. Knowles, who has served as a petroleum consultant to three nations, was active in petroleum exploration in Cuba during the 1950's. She returned to the island to see how its economy had fared under Castro's Communism.

"Service stations will not repair a car unless the driver brings in his own spare parts," she reports. "The chronic shortage of lubricating oil, the bases for which must be imported from Russia, further impairs the functioning of motors. It is forbidden to change the oil in a car."

Mrs. Knowles visited two

American-built oil refineries, which had been expropriated by Castro in 1960. There had been reports that poor-quality Russian crude oil had damaged refinery equipment and created a shortage of spare parts.

She found the refineries in disrepair and facing shortages of both spare parts and technical personnel. All gasoline being processed is of low octane rating and Cubans complain of its quality.

"The Cuban Government is attempting to convince Cubans that private transportation is an unnecessary frill," Mrs. Knowles writes. "For as the automobiles now in use wear out, they will not be replaced; the Government is importing only trucks and buses from the Communist nations."

"To be deprived of freedom of personal movement, the Cubans are told, is a Communist virtue and a sign of progress."

Cuba's only source of energy is petroleum, she notes. Yet the island can produce only a few hundred barrels of its daily requirement of about 78,000 barrels. Thus it depends on imported crude oil—all of it from the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Knowles was told that exploration for oil has a high priority. Between 250 and 300 Soviet geologists and engineers are in Cuba concentrating on oil and mineral exploration.

The Cubans have drilled about a dozen exploratory wells since 1959, but all of them were failures. Mrs. Knowles believes that, bound by present bureaucratic and technological weaknesses, it is unlikely the nation's exploration plans over the next four years will find any appreciable amounts of oil.

STRAIGHT FROM UMP'S CORNER

Preceding weeks activity for Plains Little Leaguers was a full one, but the coming weeks promise to be a great deal fuller.

To enable more time to be given for All-Star work outs at the end of the regular season the original schedule has been changed. Beginning this week games will be played, a double header each night, on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights. Next week, however, there will be no games due to the Boy Scout trip to camp Post.

In the past week's play, on Friday night the first game pitted the Cubs against the Indians. In that game the final score was 5 for the Cubs and 4 for the Indians. Scoring for the Cubs ran 1-0-0-0-4-0-0. For the Indians scoring was limited to the first and third innings in which they made two runs in each inning.

The second game of the evening saw a rather one-sided game in which the Yanks overpowered the Giants 26-3.

Scoring for the Yanks ran 9-8-9. For the Giants it ran 0-1-2.

Then, on Tuesday night the first game was between the Cubs and Yanks. The score wound up at 11 for the Yanks and six for the Cubs.

Scoring for the Yanks was 1-6-0-1-3, and for the Cubs, 3-0-1-1-1.

In the second game, the Giants bounced back and mauled the Indians 21-6.

Scoring for the Giants ran 0-16-5, and for the Indians tallies ran 2-1-3.

U.S. C of C Site Business Need

Edwin P. Neilan, the new president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, believes that the average businessman "has become soft and is taking things a little easy; he needs to buckle down."

When he calls businessmen "soft," Mr. Neilan, a former semipro football player, means that they are not taking the initiative to mobilize local talent and resources to solve local problems.

He is convinced that a revival of grass roots initiative and a sense of responsibility is badly needed. He says, "our cities and counties are being nationalized right out from under us."

Mr. Neilan is president and chairman of the board of the Bank of Delaware at Wilmington. He took office May 1 as president of the Chamber. He is determined to intensify Chamber programs to encourage businessmen to help their communities solve their own problems.

"Government must be kept at home as much as possible," Mr. Neilan says. "When it gets as far away as Washington, you just can't control it."

For the steady growth of the federal government and the budget, Mr. Neilan credits the career servants.

"Never quote me as blaming the Kennedy or Eisenhower Administration for the big budget," Mr. Neilan says. "The creators of the budget are the career policy-makers. The lose in one session of Congress--or one year of an Administration--and they get it all back the next year."

Mr. Neilan was born on his grandfather's farm in Mason County, Mich., October 24, 1905, and grew up in Leeds County, Iowa, and Omaha, Nebraska.

He graduated from Omaha Central High School and attended the University of Omaha for two years. To earn money, he apprenticed as a carpenter for a year. His family moved to Texas, and he received a BA in business administration from Rice Institute in 1928.

He played six years of semipro football as a tackle and end for the Houston Athletic Club.

Mr. Neilan's banking career began during his senior year at Rice when he became a railroad analyst in the Investment Department of the Houston Bank and Trust Company. In 1933 he became chief trust examiner with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, and between 1936 and 1940 he served as a field examiner for the Federal Reserve Banks of New York and Philadelphia. He joined the Bank of Delaware, then known as the Security Trust Company, as associate trust officer in 1940.

Mr. Neilan was promoted to Executive Vice President in 1952. In 1956, he became President and in 1959 was elevated to Chairman of the Board and President.

The bank of Delaware, with 13 offices throughout the state and net earnings after taxes in 1962 of $1.9 million, has become under Mr. Neilan's leadership one of the most automated medium-sized banks in the country. Its computers can trail balance 21,000 savings accounts in minutes--an operation that previously took as much as 6 hours.

His philosophy of management is succinct and forthright: "Hire good people; give them responsibility and authority; pay them for it, and expect results." He was named "Manager of the year" in 1961 by the Wilmington Chapter, Society for the Advancement of Management.

Mr. Neilan served virtually all of World War II at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. He was separated in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant commander and with a commendation from Secretary of the Navy

James V. Forrestal for his work in developing a speedy and effective system for outfitting L S T's and for effective methods for storing and preparing records of electronics material.

He married Julia Ellen Motheral, a native of Texas in 1929. They have no children.

The Neilans live on Holly Farm in Bear, Delaware, a few miles south of Wilmington. Mr. Neilan's hobbies include swimming and growing fruits and vegetables. He swims a quarter of a mile in his pool before breakfast each morning, from as early as the first week of May to as late as mid-October.

Mr. Neilan has been a member of the National Chamber's Board of Directors since April 28, 1951.

Development Corporation Plans Told

The following letter was sent out by Don Hancock.

The following letter was sent out by Don Hancock, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Anyone interested who has not received a letter should contact Hancock. The letter itself is self-explanatory.

One of the most pressing needs of our community is a body or instrument designed solely for the purpose of developing the economic possibilities to the maximum. There are many needs that such an instrument could supply and to do so, such a tool must be flexible and strong.

Some of the characteristics of this proposed corporation are: that it have a possibility of profit, from the increase in the value of the stock more than from dividends which would be unlikely due to the pressing need always for working capital; that stock ownership always be open and available at the current market price to anyone wishing to participate in the civic and economic development of this area; that it be directed by, say 5, of the most civic minded citizens of this area, with one member going off each year, with staggered 5-year terms, such directors also being persons of proven financial ability and judgment; that such corporation should have an opportunity at all deals in this area, both profitable and entirely civic, which might be said to be profitable in the long term, so as to encourage us to invest in the corporation to supply it with immediate working capital, which will be its life blood, and still enable it to ask for and be justified in receiving, help at no cost from the City, County, and other civic groups; that the corporation has an obligation (economically, to the corporation only) ventures (but not every one that comes along) so long as such a venture would be of benefit to this immediate area, both short and long term, such as leasing land to a factory that would employ 100 people for a rental of $1,000 a year, etc.

Some of the needs that could be supplied are: developing an industrial area in or near the city, both for light and heavy industrial which tracts are now impossible to find at reasonable cost; taking options or buying land for county or City for parks, lakes, mosquito control, etc.; to take options on surface and underground water, in a soft water area, to guarantee the abundance future supply of water for the city and for industry, with mention of the possibility still of getting into the Canadian River Dam project; perhaps, even, the outright financing of under-capitalized local businessmen, etc., who are reliable and sound but small and unable to secure other financing.

One of the main purposes of this corporation would be to accumulate an abundant supply of risk or equity capital for immediate availability for projects that would generally be considered an improvement and an advantage to our area, without considerable accumulation of such capital, this instrument cannot operate effectively; in fact, we now have a corporation which would be adequate if work and no or little capital would do the job --- this Chamber of Commerce for it has quite a few that are willing to work and it has very little capital.

Therefore, unless we are determined that such a new venture can attract considerable working capital and be able to stand on its own feet financially, there is no need in dividing what little capital we have available between this new creature and the Chamber of Commerce. To determine this and to launch the separate successfully, I am enclosing subscription contracts which are largely self-explanatory, to which this letter may be attached as an explanation and policy statement; talk this over with everyone you know and see and, if you and they conclude it is a good thing, sign it and put up 10 percent as "earnest money" by depositing it to the account of the corporation at the Plains State Bank.

If I do not hear much favorable comment on this proposal in the near future, it might be assumed that it is undesirable for various reasons and we can discontinue our efforts in that direction and employ them in more profitable areas. This is just another way of saying that I am shifting the burden of going forward with this to you and your friends. Of course, I will be available at all times for help or explanations or discussions, as are others who are interested in the effort; just let us know.

NATURE'S MOST NEARLY PERFECT FOOD

June is the month which honors nature's most nearly perfect food, milk. And it is a time when there is an abundance of the health giving food, says Shannon Carpenter, area dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The story of dairying in this country is closely tied to our progress. The settlers at Jamestown and later pioneers depended on the dairy cow for much nourishment just as we do today in all fifty of our states.

The dairy cow is a marvelous machine that takes grain and grass and makes it into the milk we enjoy. Milk not only gives energy but is an excellent way to curb the appetites of weight watchers, says the specialist.

Housewives get a bargain in dairy products. The food nutrients that they furnish for about 20 cents would cost 43 cents if supplied by other sources. The dairy products consumed by the average family contains about 23-26 percent of the calories, 40-45 percent of the protein, 75-84 percent of the calcium, and 35-39 percent of the vitamin A they need.

Dairying is well adapted to Texas because of its many rolling hills, shade trees, good water supply, and ideal soil and climate for the production, says Carpenter.

The dairy industry is the only agricultural endeavor that is carried on in every state and thus forms one of the mainstays of the nation's agriculture. Dairying brings a regular pay check to the community and dairy dollars flow into all channels of trade, says Carpenter.

The specialist urges you to use more dairy products, especially during June Dairy Month. He reminds that you never outgrow your need for milk, nature's most nearly perfect food.

UNUSUAL VISITOR----- This week a very unusual visitor was afoot in Plains in the form of a highly indignant porcupine. In the picture above he is seen very successfully staying way ahead of his pursuers. Finally, after about twenty people got into the act they boxed him up, took him into the country, and let him out.

Church Of Christ Plans Revival

Luther Savage, gospel preacher for twenty-five years, who preached at Denver City in 1947-1948 returns to the area to do the preaching in a gospel meeting at Plains June 16th through 23rd. Brother Savage preached at Denver City at the time that the church moved out of its little white frame building because it was overflowing with people and constructed a beautiful brick building at the new location. Brother Savage has worked for several congregations in which outstanding growth and building construction took place. At Velma, Oklahoma plans were laid and construction started on additional classrooms and office space while Brother Savage was there. At North Little Rock, Arkansas a new modern church building was constructed that would seat about 1000 people while Brother Savage worked with them. At Magnolia, Arkansas the overflowing of the church building caused the setting up of a building fund and construction was begun at the new location on a building that was to cost about $175,000. At Rosen Heights in Fort Worth where Brother Savage preached for six years the church rebuilt much of the auditorium and constructed many new classrooms. Brother Savage is now preaching for the Colleyville church as its first full-time preacher. The Colleyville church is only two years old, but is enjoying tremendous growth.

Though Luther Savage has three college degrees and has assisted in Christian education work in three colleges, he prefers to be known as just a gospel preacher. His preaching will consist of the story of Jesus and His love. This is your invitation to come and hear him.
