Don't sell Bronco short! It may be small, but its residents like its fresh air and open space. Empire's team provided the helmet.

Mrs. Lorena Houston, postmaster of Bronco, Tex., never heard of the Denver Broncos, but agreed to display the pennant and hold a helmet.

Houston is a Bronco booster

The most enthusiastic Bronco Booster we know is a 62-year old grandmother who never heard of the Denver team in the National Football League. Even so, she's been boosting Bronco for nearly 55 years. Mrs. Lorena Houston - she never heard of the Houston Oilers either - is the postmaster of Bronco, Tex., located 600 miles southeast of Mile High Stadium and about three good first downs from New Mexico's eastern border on U.S. 380. She's also the owner, chief clerk and bookkeeper of the Bronco Food & Farm Supply, a very general store encompassing the post office. Bronco is about as big as Denver and Rich Jackson's arm span. There aren't enough residents to make a grid squad. And concessionaires couldn't make expenses since Bronco, like all of Yoakum County, Texas, is dry. (Not even beer is allowed to be sold - and Mrs. Houston already has the pop business.) Cotton, cows, grass and grain - these Mrs. Houston knows about. Broncos - with an S - she never heard of. Unbelievable? Well, she has never followed football. "Some of the people around here seem to be interested in the Dallas what's - their names," she says. "Cowboys." "Cowboys?" "Don't fault her for not knowing her own state's professional football teams, Dallas is almost as far away as Denver, and Houston - the Oilers is even farther. Mrs. Houston was born in Tahoka, Tex., east of Bronco and has lived in the Bronco area since 1917. She was married there, reared four daughters and two sons (who presented her with 14 grandchildren), and she plans to stay in Bronco. She doesn't even have to leave her Bronco post office and Bronco store because she has constructed an apartment in back of the store since the death of her rancher husband, Rudolph. About 50 families extending more than 15 miles into New Mexico and Texas are served by the Bronco rural branch (Zip 79315). The post office dates to 1900 when Hershel (Gravy) Field started the first one in a dugout. His two sons are resident cattlemen served by Mrs. Houston -- Bobby Field living across the line in New Mexico and Ty Field on the Texas side. While Mrs. Houston is not a sports fan, she certainly is a good sport. Although her hair had just been set, she happily volunteered to try on a Bronco helmet for Empire readers, and give a booster yell. "Go to Bronco," she said vigorously. "No, it's supposed to be, 'Go Broncos, Go.'" Mrs. Houston said she preferred it her way. - Zeke Scher

County Cotton Allotment Totals 40,000 Acres

By W. M. Overton, CED

Yoakum County 1971 Cotton allotment totals approximately 40,000 acres. This includes the 28,693 acre original allotment plus 11,494 acres transferred in by purchase, lease and ownership minus the out transfers. All cotton farm operators signed intentions to participate in the 1971 cotton program. If the required set-aside is set aside in an approved conserving use and if the set aside land is of equal productivity farmers will have a price support payment of not less than 15 cents per pound times the approved yield times the entire cotton allotment. If substantially lesser productive land is used as set aside or an irrigated farms if the set aside is not within the irrigation system a lesser per acre payment will be made. Last year the price support payment was made on only 65 percent of the allotment. If all farmers comply with the program, including working the crop; in a workmanlike manner, the total county farm price support payments will total much higher than last year due to payments being made on all the allotment instead of on 65 percent. June 15 is considered final cotton planting date for Yoakum and other South Plains counties south and east of Yoakum County. This means that if moisture conditions do not permit planting until after June 15 dry land farmers may get land released to be planted to other crops. DROUGHT EMERGENCY Yoakum County has been designated as a drought emergency county and set-aside acres and land under the crop land adjustment program can be grazed. Farmers interested in grazing should contact the county office immediately. Our normal non-grazing period is May 1 through September 30.

National Music Week

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS music plays an increasingly important role in our world today; and

WHEREAS music is one of the most sublime of human pursuits and is subscribed to by all races and creeds; and

WHEREAS music is the language of all peoples and one of the greatest forces in creating peace and harmony; and

WHEREAS the National Federation of Music Clubs - dedicated to encouraging young musicians, to increasing musical knowledge, and to advancing American music -- and its cooperating organizations, join forces to direct attention to the dynamic influence of music in everyday living;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Roy Edwards, Mayor of the City of Plains, do hereby proclaim the week of May 2-9, 1971, as National Music Week and ask that all citizens of this community observe and take part in activities, recognizing the importance of music, musicians, and musical organizations to the cultural life of our City, State, Nation and World.

Dated this 4th day of May A. D. 1971

Eighth Grade Banquet "Learn & Live" Banquet

The Eighth Grade Class of Plains Junior High School held its annual banquet Saturday evening the 24th of April. The setting for the gay, South-of-the-Border theme was the patio of a Mexican hacienda. An out-of-doors effect was created with silver stars. The patio was enclosed with a stone wall accented with palm trees, flowers, bird cages, and birds. Guests arrived, entering into a gaily-decorated Spanish atmosphere of sombreros, pinatas, flowers, and bubbling fountains, and passed through an archway covered with floral arrangements into the courtyard. The focal-point was the stage area accentuated with a Spanish scene consisting of a mountain backdrop highlighted with a donkey and cart, candles, and various typically authentic artifacts.

The invocation was offered by Ceth Lewis. A traditional "South of the Border" meal was prepared by the Stanford Valley Home Demonstration Club. The seventh graders who served were Mona Marchman, Brenda Perkins, Rhonda Trout, Dana Willis, Kreig Blount, Jess Gass, Steve Lackey, and Chris Winn.

The Master of Ceremonies was Jere Lowe. The program began with Royce Aiken entertaining who entertained with his songs and humorous stories. Two unexpected guests appeared - Chico and Rico - who were in reality Maggie Tourez, an eighth grade class member, and Gerald Ritchie, an eighth grade sponsor. They provided many laughs with their anecdotes.

The Eighth Grade Class wishes to thank everyone who helped make their banquet a success.

Members of the Traffic Safety Team, Glenda Miller, Earl Kreig, Jan Kennedy, and their sponsor Sue Parker were guests of Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission Friday night for the annual "Learn and Live" banquet. The banquet was held at the Gridiron Restaurant and featured guest speaker Jim Ravenelli, Director of Development at Lubbock Christian College, and the Folk Singers, Jo Ann Park, Jim Wilson, and Arch Hunter. Awards were presented by Lt. Fred Marshall of the Texas Department of Public Safety, assisted by Tom Allen of KLBK moderator of the "Learn and Live" program. The teams receive a trophy for each round they win in the series plus individual certificates of merit for their contribution to traffic safety on the South Plains of Texas. The "Learn and Live" program has been held annually for five years. The first three years the winning position was held by Lorenzo, the fourth year by Plains, and the current fifth year champion is Dunbar High School of Lubbock.

"Miss Cotton" Contest Postponed

Mary Jane Norman, chairman of the 1971 "Miss Cotton of Yoakum County" contest has announced that the contest scheduled for May 15th has been postponed until Saturday, July 17. The contest was postponed because of conflicts with school activities. All Junior and Senior girls attending schools in Yoakum County are eligible. The girls will model 100% cotton garments in two categories: sportswear and formal wear. Contestants should also prepare a brief oral essay on cotton. The winner of this contest will receive a trip to the State Contest in Dallas to compete with winners from other districts for scholarships and a beautiful cotton wardrobe. The "State" Miss Cotton and several runners up will be featured in the Cotton Bowl Parade and half time show. The local contest will get underway at 7:00 p. m. in the Plains High School Auditorium. Members of the Ladies Cotton Promotion Association will be looking for you there.

Pictured with Mayor of Plains, Roy Edwards, while he signs a Proclamation naming May 2 through May 9 as National Music Week are Myrna White, President of the Plains Fine Arts Club and Jean Craft, District National Music Week Chairman.

"THANK YOU"

Thank you, Mother, for all You've done over the years. For always being near to dry the many tears.

You'll never know how much it meant to have someone like you To say I looked just right even though it wasn't true.

You always seemed to know exactly what to say The many times I felt blue and a little sorry for Kay.

I know it cost a fortune to raise a family I'll bet an extra large amount was spent on me.

I wasn't thinking at the time where it all came from If the other girls had the present fad, I surely got some.

I'll bet you ironed ten tons of clothes Just to have me try it on and to the floor it would go.

You never seemed to mind at all when I brought in a crowd Even if we ate a ton and were extra loud.

I volunteered you at school a hundred times or more, To make a cake, a pie or do some other needed chore.

Where did you find the time to do the many things, I must have thought you had a pair of wings.

I look back now at all You've done for me The "Thank you notes" would stretch as far as I can see.

I appreciate you more and more with each passing day It's really impossible to find the right words to say.

Now that I am married and am a Mother, too I hope I can be just half as perfect as you.

This poem was written for her mother, Mrs. Amos Smith, as a special Mother's Day present by Kay(Smith) Ellison of Lovington, New Mexico.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir: I felt that the following would be a worthy item for your sports column.
Copied from the Dallas Times Herald, Sunday, April 25, 1971.

Church College of Hawaii captured the NAIA invitation volleyball championship by beating Indiana Tech in a best-of-five finals match Saturday at University of Dallas. Scores were 15-10, 15-7, and 15-7. Pete Velasco, a two-time Olympic team player and one of seven CCH performers named to the 12-man all-star team. Among those named was University of Dallas player Robert Field.

The all-star team will practice at UDA several times before going on to Cleveland to compete in the NAIA championship. Third in the two-day tournament here was George Williams College of Illinois; Graceland College of Iowa was fourth, and defending champion University of California at San Diego fifth, University of Dallas was sixth.

West Texas boy Robert Field of Bronco, Texas was named to the National All American All-State volleyball team at the close of the NAIA invitational tournament held in Dallas, Texas this week.

Robert Field, sophomore at University of Dallas, a regional volleyball official for the past four years was the youngest team member picked for the honor. The All Star team will practice this week under Coacher Smitty Duke and John Lowell, Mr. Duke is a former Olympic player and Mr. Lowell was coach of the U.S. team in the 1968 Olympics.

Robert Field will accompany the All-Star team to Cleveland, Ohio, for the NVBA tournament, Saturday, May 1, and then on to Binghamton, New York, for the USVBA finals when the team for the Pan American games will be chosen and tryouts for the Olympic team will be held.

I thought you would be interested to know that Robert Field has officiated volleyball matches in Phillips, Texas, down in the Big Bend area, and in the Ft. Worth-Dallas area.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir:

I have read dozens of newspaper stories and "Letters to the Editor" and not one have I seen which discussed Amendment One fairly or even objectively.

Amendment One was prepared by a group of citizens throughout the state even before our present legislature was elected. The Ethics Commission which would be so created would be appointed by the Judiciary over which legislators have absolutely no control.

The big lie which has been carried by all state papers in its "letters to the Editor" reflect this is a subterfuge for legislators to get a pay raise. The facts are salaries will be left as they are or adjusted only by the Ethics Commission. The legislature has only the power to accept or reject any change.

The truth of the matter is this plan has worked well in many states in giving a fine balance of representation in the legislature.

Finally, why have Texas resisted all efforts to raise legislators' salaries? The answer is simple. Obviously any effort on the part of us, as legislators, to campaign for a raise would be resented. As a result those who fall for the communist line "that all elected officials are bad", have their hayday.

R. B. McAlister
State Representative
District 76
Lubbock, Levelland and Brownfield

Dear Editor:

Within the next few weeks we hope to be able to contact every place of business and each individual in Yoakum County, and give them an opportunity to take part in what we feel is a very worthy project. For the first time in history the 4-H Clubs of Texas are joining in an effort to raise money to build a camp where District, Area, and State Wide meetings can be held on their own property. It will also be available for County and even individual Club camping trips.

The land for this project has been acquired at Lake Brownwood and the 4-H Club members and their leaders are asking, or will be asking each business and individual to make a purchase of chocolate from them. These boys and girls are not asking for donations, (although they will accept, and appreciate, any amount) because they want to earn the money to build their own camp.

Many people are already acquainted with the World's Most Famous Chocolate, which is what the boys and girls will be selling. The chocolate will be only $1.00 and is well worth the money.

The 4-H Adult Leaders of Yoakum County are firmly convinced that it is better to have our 4-H'ers busy earning and learning than to have them idle and going to "Pot".

Respectfully,
The 4-H Adult Leaders of
Yoakum County

Cotton fabrics are playing a leading role in this spring's fashions.

The natural fiber, which Texas ranks first in producing, is in the spotlight not only as a part of the "return to nature" ecology movement, but also because of its great versatility.

The cotton fabrics, which dye beautifully, are splashed with clear bright colors, as well as with soft, dusty shades, this spring. Designs range from plain and homespun to striped and patterned jacquards.

Cotton knits, hottest item in the spring market, provide fashion at moderate prices. Cotton knits come in a wide range of textures, including boucle, raschel, rib, mesh, jacquard and jersey knits.

When selecting a cotton knit, always check labels and hangtags for care instructions. If the labels say "mercerized" and "wrinkle-resistant", the fabric is less likely to shrink and stretch. Shrinkage-resistance is important for all cottons, but beware of shrinkage controlled or preshrunk claims that do not state the percentage of shrinkage. Such cottons may shrink up to 5 percent, possibly making the garment too small to wear.

Most cotton knits are washable --some by machine and others by hand. If knits are labeled as "hand washable" yet percentage of shrinkage is not included, it is best to wash them in cool water with little agitation to prevent distortion of the garment's construction.

Before washing, outline the garment's shape on paper, using the paper silhouette for blocking when drying. Knits usually dry better on a flat surface; when hung, the weight of the water can pull the fabric out of shape.

Only when the label specifically says "machine dryable" should that method be used for cotton knits.

Parents Know the Drug Threat The Child You Save May Be Your Own

By Vernon Townes

Today's Subject: What Parents Can Do About Drug Misuse

Except for speeding in a motor vehicle on the highways, Marijuana smoking is likely the most commonly committed crime in the nation. Americans who have experimented with Marijuana smoking at least once may number as many as 20 million persons. It is estimated by the Pentagon in Washington that perhaps as much as 30% of our troops in Vietnam have tried "pot," but most people making the estimates seem to agree that this is a conservative guess. Where surveys have been taken in larger universities the extent of Marijuana users tops 50% of the undergraduates and the figure is rising.

You'll hear the argument, coming most often from very young users of Marijuana, that it is harmless, has no long-lasting effects, and it is not "habit forming." In one recent survey of 200 Marijuana smokers, it was found that 49% had already experimented with LSD, 43% had tried Amphetamines and 24% some form of the Barbiturates. In all of them, two thirds had used other illegal drugs! If, in the research now underway, Marijuana is proved physically and at the same time medically safe (which is unlikely), isn't it obvious that there still is a definite guilt by association? It seems to form a pattern that the Marijuana user seldom remains ONLY a user of this drug.

Specialists concerned with drug misuse offer these constructive suggestions to parents in dealing with their children:

1. Keep your cool—a level head thinks logically, makes better decisions and generally acts more wisely.
2. Listen to what young people are really trying to tell you. Drugs are not the cause of drug use — at least not initially — there are hundreds of reasons why a child experiments with drugs. Find those potential reasons in your home - family relationships. Correct what might become a dangerous condition BEFORE it can cause serious trouble.
3. Get the facts concerning drugs and make certain you expose your youngsters to this data in an atmosphere of sharing.
4. When setting discipline be very fair . . . but at the same time be very FIRM.
5. All experts in the field agree on this one being of utmost importance: SET GOOD PARENTAL EXAMPLES! A parent who in effect says, "Do as I say, not as I do," stands little chance of influencing his children for true good.

While many people stand doing little more than hand-wringing, more and more parental groups across the country are setting up drug study meetings which show films on the subject. If your club or organization is interested in having such meetings, here are some suggested films to obtain:

"THE MIND BENDERS"—25 min. Subject, LSD and other hallucinogens. Write: National Medical Audiovisual Center (Annex), Chamblee, Ga., 30005.

"FIGHT OR FLIGHT"—16 min. Available for purchase only, 16mm, sound and color. Write Mr. Quinn Tamm, International Association of Chiefs of Police, 1319 18th St., N.E., Washington, D.C., 20036.

"LSD—25"—26 min., on LSD and hallucinogenic drugs in general. Write: Professional Arts, Inc., P.O. Box 8484, Universal City, Calif., 91608.

"DRUGS AND THE NERVOUS SYSTEM"—18 min., on how drugs affect many different parts of the body by their influence on the central nervous system. Write: Churchill Films, 662 N. Robertson Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

"HIDE AND SEEK"—14 min., actual experiences of a teenager caught by the narcotic habit. Write: Center For Mass Communications, Columbia University Press, 1125 Amsterdam Ave., New York, N.Y., 10025.

It goes without saying that the more complete and basically factual information parents have concerning drugs, the more effective they can be in dealing with drug temptations, difficulties and discussions. Children and young people in general must know more than just one side of the story, since most of their information comes from others who favor drug experimentation, usually those in their own age group.

Of course, this department will be happy to assist any parental group wishing to embark on a drug education program. Don't miss my article next week.

Yoakum County was one of the 16 counties out of 20 to qualify to compete in the State 4 H Round-Up which will be held June 2-3 at Texas A & M University. Debbie Addison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison, of Plains, won a first place in the 4 H District II Elimination Contest with her method demonstration on Natural Resources.

Miss Cindi Swiedom, bride-elect of Ed Lee Hunter was honored with a bridal shower Saturday, May 1st in the Club room on the Court house square. Special guest was Mrs. Ed Hunter, mother of Ed Lee Hunter. The table was covered with a beige alce cloth over avocado green. The center piece was made by Mrs. Dickie Green and Mrs. Hoss Newsom, a lovely arrangement made with everything used in a kitchen (consisting of small things) plus beautiful yellow mums. This centerpiece was given to the bride-elect for her kitchen. A sheath cake with colors of yellow and green with Cindi and Ed Lee written on it was served with yellow punch made of pineapple sherbet and pineapple juice. Cindi and Ed Lee will be married June 5th in Abilene where Cindi now lives. They plan to live in Norman, Okla. where they will attend college.

Jan McCravy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McCravy of Plains, has been selected as the recipient of the music scholarship given annually by the Plains Fine Arts Club to the high school student who has contributed most to the community in the field of music.

This award is presented annually during National Music Week, May 2-9th. Pictured with Jan are Myrna White, President of Fine Arts, and Sue Parker, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee.

FFA Banquet To Be Held

The annual Plains FFA Banquet is scheduled for Friday, May 7th. We are looking forward to a good time and we are honored to have as guest speaker, Dr. Ralph Durham.

Dr. Durham was reared on a stock farm in Eastern Colorado. He graduated from Colorado State University with a B. S. in Animal Husbandry, his Ph. D. was from the University of Wisconsin in Genetics and Animal Husbandry.

He taught and did research in cattle breeding at New Mexico State. He developed the on farm swine testing program for U.S.D.A. and coordinated the development of the boar testing stations for Iowa State University. He came to Texas Tech as Head of the Animal Husbandry Dept. in 1959. During his tenure as Head most of the new farm animal faculties were built and the curricula was revised along modern lines. An extensive "pay as you go" research program was developed --the most extensive animal research program of any non land grant college.

Dr. Durham's research has been varied - from crossbreeding to all-concentrate rations to ruman inoculations. Both all-concentrate rations using milo, and ruman inoculations for such rations, were pioneered at Texas Tech by Dr. Durham.

He retired to full time teaching and research in 1965.

WELCOME TO OUR OPEN HOUSE

Last week the combined seventh and eighth grade History classes had a History Project display. Models from History were built by the students. The Fair was praised as the best in its three year tenure. The Open House will continue through Friday May 7th. Everyone is urged to go by and view the displays presented by these students.

4-H Members Compete In District Contests

By Leo L. White,
County Agricultural Agent

Six Yoakum County 4-H Club members were in Lubbock on Saturday, May 1, to enter the District Elimination Contests for Extension Service District 11. The contests were held on the campus of Texas Tech University on Saturday morning and the results were announced during the afternoon in the Moody Auditorium on the campus of Lubbock Christian College.

Debbie Addison was the only blue ribbon winner. She won first place in an individual demonstration on Natural Resources which entitles her to compete at College Station in June at the State 4-H Round-Up. Glenn Boomer was a second place winner in the Public Speaking for Junior boys. The junior livestock Judging Team composed of Tim Bowers, Kreig Blount, Robbie Blount and Chris Winn won third place honors with fourteen teams competing in the junior contest.

About 450 4-H boys and girls from the twenty county district were taking part in the various contests. All first and second place winners in the senior division will compete next month in the State Contests. District 11 will send 102 senior members to the State Round-Up to compete in 25 contests.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Postman vs. Home Owner

More often than not, the relationship between postman and home owner is a warm and friendly one. But even into this sunny clime a little rain must fall. Such as, when the postman gets hurt and sues the home owner for damages.

As a general rule, the home owner is not liable if he is not guilty of any negligence. For example:

A home owner was sued by a postman who suffered a bad fall when a rotting porch step suddenly caved in. But a court found no liability. The judge pointed out that, since the rot was visible only from underneath, there was no reasonable way for the home owner to have discovered the danger.

By contrast, take the following case:

A postman slipped and fell in the outer hallway of a home, because an excessive amount of wax had been applied to the floor. This time, there being negligence on the part of the home owner, the court ordered him to pay the postman's claim.

In terms of sheer frequency, the Number One hazard that the postman faces is a bite by the home owner's dog. Many thousands of on-the-job bites are suffered each year by mail carriers.

In such circumstances, the home owner is usually liable if the state has a "dog bite law." Under this law, a dog's master may be held responsible for a bite not only when he was negligent but even when he was not negligent in any way.

If the state has no dog bite law, the home owner might still be liable—but only if he was somehow to blame for the bite.

In one case, the owner of a vicious dog did take the trouble to post a "BEWARE OF DOG" sign on his front door. However, when a postman rang the bell to deliver a package, the man opened the door and permitted the dog to dash outside and bite the postman in the leg.

A court duly imposed legal liability on the householder. The judge said posting the warning sign did not end his responsibility toward those visitors who, like the postman, had a perfect right to come onto the premises.

NURSING HOME NEWS

The Texas Nursing Home Association, in cooperation with the University of Texas at Austin, will conduct a weekend workshop for nursing home administrators, May 7-9, 1971 at the Fairway Motor Hotel in McAllen, Texas.

Entitled Omnibus Number Three, it is designed to provide a variety of subjects for those TNHA members who are lacking miscellaneous hours toward their 200 hour educational requirement which has been established by the Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators. All fifteen hours have been approved by the Licensure Board and will be credited toward the 200 hour requirement.

J. Watt Hornburg and staff from the Division of Nursing and Convalescent Homes, Texas State Department of Health will speak on Nursing Home Standards in Texas; and Pam Messer, R. N., Assistant Instructor on the Nursing Faculty at Incarnate Word College in San Antonio, will speak on Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation. Guy Shuttlesworth, visiting Associate professor, School of Social Work The University of Texas at Austin, will speak on Psychological Aspects of Patient Relations.

The Texas Nursing Home Association has been involved in continuing educational programs for nursing home administrators and staff since 1967, and over 12,000 have attended our educational presentations the last four years.

The TNHA, with 667 members represents almost 35,000 beds, is the professional association of licensed nursing homes in Texas. Its members are both privately owned and non-profit homes and all are also affiliated with the American Nursing Home Association. TNHA is dedicated to the improvement of health care for the aged.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

EARLY DETECTION HELPS CURE CANCER

Breast cancer is so common—over 60,000 American women contract it every year—that physicians agree every woman should examine her breasts every month for signs of it. At least 85% of all breast cancers are curable if caught early enough, but over half are now fatal because of needless delay.

The intelligent woman who examines her breasts monthly, and in a systematic manner, stands an excellent chance of detecting cancer early—before it can endanger her life. The case of Mrs. A. T., of Chicago, Ill., is fairly typical. Having carefully read the American Cancer Society's booklet on breast self-examination (available free from all local ACS offices), she knew that the odds were pretty good that the lump that she detected in her breast one morning wasn't cancerous. She also knew that only her doctor could tell her for sure.

Mrs. T. was unlucky—but not too unlucky. The lump was cancerous, but it was still very small and had not spread very far. A mastectomy was required, but Mrs. T. is alive and well today—years later—and still caring for her family. Her sensible precautions may well have saved her life.

Mastectomy is not only a medical problem, however. It is a traumatic emotional experience for the woman partly because she knows that the fit of her clothes may well be affected, and she dreads the thought of making others feel awkward or self-conscious in her presence.

Back in the 1920's, a hospital x-ray technician named Ella Bernhardt became aware that the woman who underwent breast surgery frequently suffered from a depression which seemed to have more to do with worry about personal appearance than about health. This worry was quite justified, since very little attention had been paid to the problem by science or industry up to this time. Deeply concerned over this neglected need, Ella Bernhardt taught herself the difficult arts of industrial design, developed a fluid breast form so natural she named it Identical Form and founded a company with the same name to manufacture it.

Since then Identical Forms have insured peace of mind for over a million women. Identical Forms duplicate the weight and constantly changing contours and positions of the natural breast. Identical Forms are filled with a slow-moving, creamy fluid and covered by a double wall of soft, skinklike plastic. It is almost impossible to overestimate the part that a carefully fitted, carefully designed breast form can play in the emotional recovery of mastectomy patients.

Remember, breast cancer is usually curable if caught early. If you are not sure how to go about examining yourself, ask your local Cancer Society office or your family physician. See him once every six months in any case, for a general all-around check-up. Make full use of your best weapon against cancer—early detection.

Remember your resolution that you made a couple of weeks ago when you filed your tax return? You can also recall that you didn't keep good records after resolving to do it last year and the year before. Just about everybody will agree with you that going through a mess of stuff to make up your tax return is a mess. However, if you are going to keep good records this year you need to start now.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

TEXAS TOURIST COUNCIL

Governor Preston Smith has reminded all Texans of the importance of practicing our state motto "Friendship" on the 24 million out-of-state visitors Texas expects to host this year. The proclamation he signed today counseled: "An important part of the heritage of Texas includes hospitality, neighborliness and helpfulness. Texans are known far and wide for their friendliness. This friendliness has been a major influence in attracting many visitors to Texas and bringing them back for further visits. Our state motto is "Friendship." THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of May 10-16, 1971, as FRIENDLY TEXAN WEEK and urge all citizens of our state to show sincere friendliness and helpfulness to the twenty-four million out-of-state visitors we expect to host this year."

4-H Swine Growers Provide Quality, Low-Calorie Product

SPECIAL - Today when everyone is "thinking thin," many people avoid pork in their diet even when they enjoy its succulent taste and inviting texture. They needn't! Today's hogs are not at all the same as the animals of a few years back. "In fact, today's hogs yield just half the lard of those 20 years ago. And a 3 1/2-ounce pork chop now has only 240 calories, compared with 377 two decades ago," according to the Cooperative Extension Service.

There are over 106,000 youths between the ages of 9 and 19 who are helping provide this high quality pork for America's table. They are the young people enrolled in the national 4-H swine program sponsored by Mooman Mfg. Co., Quincy, Ill.

The swine program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, gives young men and women the opportunity to learn about breeding, nutrition, research and marketing of hogs. They also make a profit when they market their animals.

This year's National Pork Queen, Miss Patricia D. Cline, 20, of Pleasant Plains, Ill., worked nine years in the 4-H swine program. She and her older sister maintained a herd of purebred Spotted Poland Chinas until Patricia entered college with profits from the hog projects.

Topping the list of incentives and recognition offered by Mooman Mfg. Co., national 4-H swine program donor, are six $700 educational scholarships, an increase of $100 each over the previous year. The company also offers an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28 - Dec. 2, for a winner from each state, and up to four medals of honor are offered to promising young swine growers in each county.

In 1970, 43 states qualified for expense-paid trips to 4-H Congress and 2,000 counties awarded some 5,700 medals of honor. Last year's scholarships were awarded to young men from Colorado, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Pennsylvania, and to a young lady from Oregon.

For more information about the 4-H swine program, contact the county extension office.

THE HARD TRUTH

Home painters should avoid applying finish coats of paint until after undercoats or primers have thoroughly hardened. Applying a finish coat too soon may cause wrinkling.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

Picture this scene: Wet waders gleaming in the late afternoon sun, a striped fisherman walking into the surf behind a receding wave. He halts, swings the tip of his powerful rod all the way back, hesitates and casts. The missile-like plug, with its payload of menacing treble hooks, soars through the air and splashes down at sea as the angler retreats to the safety of the beach, giving line as he goes. Up and down along the shore other sportsmen play the same game - a game which, curiously enough, none of them can possibly win. The year, 1970.

"The ultimate victory," says Tom Paugh, Salt Water Editor of SPORTS AFIELD, "is catching the striped bass that will be recognized by the International Game Fish Association as its All-Tackle Record—the biggest striper caught by sporting means."

The reason that none of the above sportsmen had a chance is that they were all fishing with conventional production-type fishing lures, all of which were adorned with treble hooks. The IGFA has disqualified treble-hook catches—that is up until now.

However, it is expected that within the very near future—this year, perhaps—the IGFA will put out a bulletin permitting the use of treble hooks, at least on certain types of plugs. If so the All-Tackle striped-bass record will be up for grabs. Single hooks or treble, it just didn't make much difference last year. After all the world record for a striper had held up for well over 50 years, so what chance was there? But now all that has changed, too, and for the first time since 1913 there is a real chance that the All-Tackle Record can be broken. This is not because all of a sudden, like magic, striped bass are growing to new gigantic dimensions. It's because after so many glorious years, the IGFA's oldest and longest-held record has been reclassified. During 1970 the IGFA determined to list under a separate heading the 42 records on its books for which no tests had been made to establish line strength. These records included six All-Tackle Records, the most famous of which was Charley Church's striper of 73 pounds caught in Vineyard Sound, Massachusetts, so many years ago.

But what about those treble hooks? No problem if the IGFA decides to allow them. Until that time, you'll find that only a very few manufacturers will offer an option on some of their plugs—treble hooks or single hooks. The IGFA has permitted the use of a plug with two single hooks. If you can't find plugs with single hooks for sale, you can convert treble hook lures. You do have to be careful not to upset the action of the plug, however.

You can, of course, use a quick-and-easy method and merely clip off two points on each treble with wire cutters instantly converting your plug into a legal record buster.

4-H Adult Leaders Meet

The 4-H Adult Leaders met Tuesday night in the Club room at the Court House in Plains. Mrs. Tom Box, president, presided, Mrs. Preston Murphy, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes. Mrs. Box reported on Dist. II 4-H Adult Leaders meeting in Lubbock April 7. She also reported on the 4-H Chocolate sale meeting March 30. The 4-H members of Teas are asked to sell World's Finest Chocolate bars to help finance a state 4-H Center in Brownwood, Yoakum Co. 4-H boys and girls are to begin selling May 7-21. Each bar sells for $1.00. There will be adult leaders working with each club.

Adult leaders who were appointed to help with the chocolate sale were; Mrs. Preston Murphy and Mrs. Dena Richardson of Lucky Clover Club, Kenneth Blount and Mrs. Jessie Dearing of Blue Sage Club, Mrs. and Mrs. Boomer of Eager Beaver Club, Mrs. Peggy Bowers and Mrs. Dan Beck of Green Clover Club, G.W. Cleveland and Claude Addison of Square Deal Club. All parents are invited to work with the 4-H's to make the sale a success in Yoakum County. Information may be gotten from the above committee, Mrs. Tom Box, Leo White, and Mrs. Joe Henry Thompson.

Glen Boomer of Eager Beaver Club gave his talk on "What's Good About America" as he entered public speaking May 1 in District II Elimination in Lubbock.

Debbie Addison gave her demonstration on Conservation of Wildlife in Texas. Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Addison, won District and will go to state roundup June 2-4. The next meeting will be Tuesday night, June 29. Parents are invited to attend.

Small cracks on house siding or stucco can allow moisture to seep into studs and joints and also attack the back of the siding, where the wood is unprotected by paint. To prevent troubles of this kind, inspect the walls at least twice a year, especially around windows, doors and trim. Fill small cracks with caulking compound.

There's a new way to prevent clogged gutters and downspouts, and the idea is the essence of simplicity. Get a plastic netting and simply cover the gutters with it. The netting, "Vexar" gutter guard, keeps leaves and trash out, yet lets water run through and down the drains.

Below-ground basement windows surrounded by window wells usually become splashed with mud and dirt in heavy rain storms. To avoid this dig out about three or four inches of soil and replace with an equivalent amount of clean gravel. This will minimize mud splashing up against the window and will also speed drainage during wet weather.

Safety Rules

WHEN A TORNADO APPROACHES, IMMEDIATE ACTION CAN SAVE YOUR LIFE!

A tornado watch means tornadoes are expected to develop. Keep a battery-operated radio or television set nearby, and listen for weather advisories—even if the sky is blue.

A tornado warning means a tornado has actually been sighted or indicated by weather radar. Seek inside shelter (in a storm cellar or reinforced building) and stay away from windows. Curl up so that your head and eyes are protected. Keep a battery-operated radio or television nearby, and listen for further advisories.

In office buildings, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor, or to the designated shelter area.

In homes, the basement offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under sturdy furniture if possible. In homes without basements, take cover in the center area of the home, on the lowest floor, in a small room such as a closet or bathroom, or under sturdy furniture. Keep some windows open, but stay away from them.

In shopping centers, go to a designated shelter area (not to your parked car).

In schools, follow advance plans to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. If the building is not of reinforced construction, go to a nearby one that is, or take cover outside on low, protected ground. Stay out of auditoriums, gymnasiums, and other structures with wide, free-span roofs.

In open country, move away from the tornado's path at right angles. If there is not time to escape, lie flat in the nearest ditch or ravine.

Mobile homes are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds and should be evacuated when strong winds are forecast. Damage can be minimized by securing trailers with cables anchored in concrete footing. Trailer parks should have a community storm shelter and a warden to monitor broadcasts throughout the severe storm emergency. If there is no shelter nearby, leave the trailer park and take cover on low, protected ground.
