From The Superintendent's Desk

DEAN ANDREWS

As I walk through the halls of Plains Schools I can feel the spirit of Christmas. It is a feeling of excitement and everyone seems to be in a hurry. There is a sparkle in every eye and age makes no difference. Everyone at school gets excited and puts on their best behavior in hopes that Santa might just be checking on all of us at school.

1987 has been a very good year for our schools both academically and athletically. Our students have achieved at a level that ranks them in the top twenty-five percent of the schools in this state and you, the patrons, have supported our students in every area.

Our School Board of Trustees, Administrators, and Staff wish each of you a very Merry Christmas & Happy New Year.

County 4-H'ers Attend Food Show

Knowledge of good nutrition and skills in cooking were blended into scores of delectable dishes Saturday, Dec. 12 as nearly 200 youths from 20 counties competed in the South Plains District 4-H Food Show at Texas Tech University.

Club members from Yoakum County were Kirk Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parrish, his entry: Broccoli and Rice Casserole; Stacey Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jones, entry: Hurry-up Rolls; Johnny Don Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Davis, entry: Nachos Con Queso; Heather Bowlin, daughter of Pat and Bobby Bowlin, entry: Morning Glory Muffins; MaDawn Sherrin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sherrin of Tokio, entry: The Ultimate Carrot Cake; and Raecene Robertson, daughter of Olivia Robertson of Denver City, prepared Strawberry Nut Bread.

The contestants, between ages nine and 19, participated in the district show after winning their county show, says Mary Dale Williams, Yoakum County Extension Agent. Prior to the shows, they were active in foods and nutrition projects involving food science, safety, nutrition, fitness and career opportunities.

In the district show, contestants were interviewed on nutrition facts and preparation principles. Judges then evaluated each dish on taste, appearance, texture and aroma.

4-H is the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, an arm of the Texas A&M University System.

Educational programs conducted by the Extension Service are open to all persons, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Filmtime youngsters enjoyed a Christmas party Wednesday. Twenty-six boys and girls attended despite bad weather and cases of chicken pox in the community.

Library personnel gave each little one a mouse and bear Christmas ornaments made by Karen Willis. Songs were sung and the story of Jesus' birth was read. Movies were "Paddington" and "In Dutch."

Children attending were Lensey Cullins, Jayce Clayton, Ty Shearman, Jason and Corey Kelton, Sean Holster, Chase Howell, Jared Bell, Chad and Casey Maines, Chelsea Wagnon, Kimberly and Sarah Martinez, Lesli Rowe, Regan McGinty, Jessica, Jose and Eve Mendoza, Adam Garcia and Tanya Vasquez, Ashlei Mason, Kyle Kight, Emily Blair, Elizabeth Clanahan and Scott Robertson.

Purpose of the project is to help youngsters take responsibility for healthful food choices. Skills are developed in planning meals, selecting, preparing, serving and storing foods.
