Speed Zones Established, Violators Will Be Fined

Motorists are cautioned to take note of recent action by the City Council designating maximum rate of speed for motor vehicles, allowing speed zones and providing penalty for persons violating those limits.

Council members studied a survey made from Feb. 18 to March 9 by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation before determining the new speed zones on U.S. 380 and 82 through the city.

Speed zone signs will be erected in the near future by the State. Violations of the speed limits could result in fines of not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars.

The speed zones established include all of that portion of U.S. 82, 10th Street, within the city of Plains with limitations set at:

Beginning at the west right of way line of Avenue A, at the west City Limit, maximum legal speed of eastbound and westbound traffic shall be 45 MPH for a distance of 0.154 miles to the intersection of U.S. 380.

Also established was a speed zone including all that portion of U.S. 82-380 within the City Limits with maximum legal speed set at:

Beginning 0.154 miles east of the west right of way line of Avenue A at the west City Limit, maximum legal speed for eastbound and west- bound traffic shall be 35 MPH for a distance of 0.516 miles to the point of intersection with Avenue J; thence 40 MPH for a distance of 0.407 miles to the east City Limit, this point being approximately 13 feet east of the centerline of S.H. 214.

Preventing Electrical Fires at Home
Electricity serves us well . . . and safely if we treat it with the respect it deserves. Most often we think of electrocution when we consider the dangers of electricity. But another hazard is electrical fires. Recent reports indicate that arcing or overloaded electrical equipment ranks second only to cigarettes as a cause of multiple-death fires.

Here's what you need to know:

- Circuit breakers or fuses help protect against overloads and short circuits. If the breaker or fuse "blows" often or repeatedly, have an electrician check it immediately.
- The smell of burning plastic, warm wall receptacles and flickering or dimming lights signal serious wiring problems.
- Electrical cords (especially extension cords) can be overloaded or short-circuited easily.
- Aluminum wiring in some houses built between 1965 and 1973 can pose hazardous situations because it expands and contracts easily and can come loose at connection points.
- If a cord or plug gets warm, it's overloaded.

Here's what you need to do:

- Discard damaged extension cords (even slightly damaged ones).
- Use only extension cords designed for outdoor use for electrical needs outside.
- Don't overload circuits.
- Keep appliances and motors clean and in good working order.
- Don't leave appliances such as clothes dryers running when you're away from home.
- All appliances and extension cords should carry the mark of a recognized testing facility, such as Underwriters Laboratories.

Wedding Plans Revealed

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Rhonal Teaff and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Welborn of Floydada.

Nuptial selections were presented by Peggy Welch, organist, and Kim Brewer Whipple of Lubbock, pianist. Mrs. Whipple accompanied Jennifer Bacon Galey of Lubbock, soloist.

Entwined with greenery, a fifty-two branched heart-shaped candelabra provided background for the nuptial vows. Flanking the area were twelve branched diagonal candelabras. Mauve colored hearts with lace, bows and flowers adorned the flanking candelabras.

An ivory unity candle, adorned with mauve, pink and grey flowers accented with pearls, was flanked by ivory family tapers. Pews were marked with mauve bows enhanced with lace, flowers and pearls and two silver hearts.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory antique satin fashioned with fitted bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline and Juliet sleeves embellished with English net, lace and pearls. Her chapel length train was edged with matching lace.

Angie Teaff of Wolfforth, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Becky Winn and Lisa Welborn of Lubbock, sister of the groom. They wore dresses of pink antique satin styled with fitted bodices designed with boat necklines and overlays of French lace. Narrow satin ribbons adorned their elbow length sleeves and a large satin bow accented their waistlines at center back. They wore pink satin shoes and carried lace fans decorated with flowers of pink, grey and mauve, accented with pearls, ribbons and lace.

The groom's table was appointed with a silver service and featured two heart shaped chocolate cakes decorated with a "W".

For a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride chose a two-piece floral suit with flounced jacket of pastel colors. Her accessories were white.

The couple will be at home at Route 2, Box 353, Slaton.

Plains Independent School District

From The Superintendent's Desk

Dean Andrews

During the past several weeks I have written many articles for this column addressing my thoughts and concerns on the Edgewood vs Kirby law suit.

The facts remain the same in that Judge Harley Clark has ruled that the funding of Texas Public Schools is unconstitutional in its present form. This suit was brought against the State of Texas by the Edgewood Independent School District and sixty-seven plaintiff intervenors. Judge Clark has stated that every child in Texas must have absolute equity in regards to taxable wealth.

This case has now been heard by the state appellate court in Austin, Texas. A decision will be handed down on June 6th, or shortly thereafter. I feel that if the appellate court upholds the lower level court, then the defendants (State of Texas) will appeal to the Texas Supreme Court.

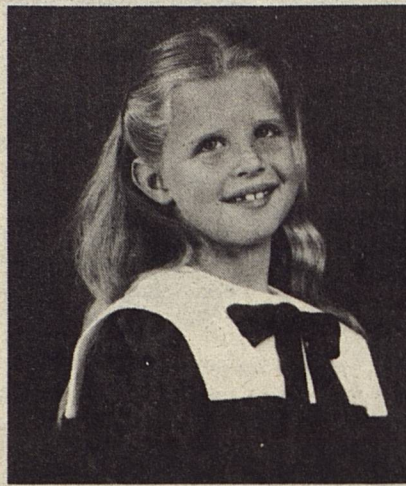

Time and time again in speeches across the state, Judge Clark has given three solutions to this issue and none are good for Plains I.S.D. The three possible solutions are: Place a cap on all school district expenditures per student across the state ($3,600.00); Consolidate districts so that each district in Texas is the same size and same wealth; Approve a constitutional amendment so that the language in the constitution would eliminate the interpretation that education is a fundamental right as set forth in the State Constitution.

As an individual looking at the problem with as much compassion as I can generate, it seems that some common sense should come into focus. Expert witnesses have testified before the courts that Texas has one of the more equitable systems in the nation. The plan has just been underfunded since H.B. 72 was passed in 1985.

In conclusion, I predict that the appellate court will override the lower court decision and determine that equitable access to funds for all schools should refer to substantial funds and that the upper five percent (wealthy) and lower five percent (poor) of schools should be removed from consideration and handled on an individual basis. This in itself will constitute a change in funding for Texas Public Schools and would definitely be the best solution to the problem for Plains I.S.D. I do ask that you remember that the above is my opinion only and if I had all the answers to our state's education problems, they would want me in Austin immediately.

Health Defense: Antioxidants

It may be a jungle out there, but unfortunately for us, not enough of one. Chimpanzees, who live in the real jungle, don't get cancer, heart disease or strokes.

Why are chimps ahead of the human race when it comes to these diseases? Abuses in our environment, uncommon in their world, include alcohol, tobacco, stress, excessive exercise, sunbathing, x-rays and dietary fats (for example, humans are the only species that consumes milk beyond adolescence). These substances and activities produce toxins called "free radicals," which are unpaired electrons that act like fiery sparklers throughout the body, damaging cells as they seek to steal a "partner" electron from another molecule. This is a basic pathologic process that, according to Nobel Prize winners and other eminent scientists, contributes to the major degenerative diseases from which we suffer but chimps don't.

One of these scientists, Dr. Harry Demopoulos, Associate Professor of Pathology at the prestigious New York University Medical Center, helped discover how to "put out the fires" of dangerous free radicals. During 30 years of research and clinical trials, he has substantiated the role of substances called "antioxidants" in neutralizing the dangerous effects of free radicals.

As a result of this research, he has developed HMP Antioxidants to fight free radicals. For a free brochure on the prevention of degenerative diseases, call 1-800-362-8673, or write Health Maintenance Programs, Inc., Seven Westchester Plaza, Elmsford, New York 10523.

A surprising 43 percent of the survey respondents, aged 40 to 50, answered that they "agree strongly" with the statement "I feel like I'm in my 30s." Men with that kind of positive attitude won't let anything stand in the way—not even gray hair—of living an active, success-oriented lifestyle.
