Rain, Snow, Sleet Slow Harvest

Cotton, Corn Hurt; Wheat Farms Aided

Slow rains began in the area Wednesday night and early Thursday and are proving to be a boon to wheat farmers as cotton, grain and corn producers are beginning to fidget as they watch the water-laden skies.

Leon Hargett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hargett, Route 2, Muleshoe and Johnny Diaz, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Severiana Diaz of Farwell, have recently volunteered for the U. W. Army.

They are both in basic training at Fort Ord, Calif. and are 1970 graduates of Farwell High School.

Lions Club reporter Dave Sudduth said the Muleshoe Lions Club members are now selling stadium warmers. He said the warmers may be purchased from Don Harmon or Buck Johnson at $12.50 each. These are zip up warmers.

Sudduth reported that Muleshoe Area Librarian Anne Camp was special speaker at the meeting of the Lions Wednesday at noon. Mrs. Camp discussed the operation of the library and plans for the new building to house the library.

Larry Hall will be chief barbecuer for the Clovis St. James Episcopal Church barbecue on Sunday, (today).

The barbecue will be held at the church in Clovis, 117 North Main and begins at 12:30 (CST). Tickets are available at $1.75 each.

During a United Fund report meeting Friday afternoon, a total of $7,947 was reported by the Muleshoe area United Fund workers. This represents 53 percent of the 1970 goal, said Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce Manager Jerry Hutton.

Next report meeting will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, October 20 in the Chamber of Commerce offices in the City Hall.

Playing in extremely drippy weather, the Muleshoe A and B eighth grade teams downed Morton in two games Thursday. The eighth grade B team defeated Morton 14-8 in the first game with Morton not scoring until near the final two minute warning.

Gary White scored three times, Mike Bland scored a couple and another player scored once to put the eighth grade A team way out in front and end the game 34-0 in the second game of the evening. Gary is quarterback for the eighth grade A team.

Bush Confirms Area Resident Appointment

Congressman George Bush of Houston has announced the appointment of Mrs. Larry B. Hall of Muleshoe as his Bailey County chairman for the Bush for U.S. Senate campaign. Mrs. Hall has also been named Bush Belles Chairman for Bailey County.

The goal is to organize Bush Belles' groups throughout the state. All Texas women supporting Bush's candidacy are eligible to participate.

"We have less than three weeks to go," Bush said, "and I appreciate the enthusiasm and dedicated efforts of volunteers like Jessica Hall."

Approximately an inch has inundated the area in the form of rain, sleet and snow since the drippy weather hit. At press-time Saturday, the rain was expected to continue until Sunday afternoon when the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted clearing would begin.

The moisture came one week after a "sneak" freeze and snow was recorded through the area. In 1969, the first freeze was recorded on October 13 and this year, the first freeze was on October 8, making one of the earliest "freeze dates" since records have been kept.

Almost everyone has mixed feelings about the moisture, ranging from wide smiles on the faces of the wheat farmers, to apprehension noted by grain sorghum producers who have not harvested; corn producers who still have corn in the fields and cotton growers with un-matured cotton.

In the Stegall area, Mrs. Buck Ragsdale at the Stegall Gin said from .8-.9 moisture had been received and a combination of the early freeze and new moisture would leave cotton some 25-40 damaged. She said grain sorghum is not expected to sustain any damage as it is now mature enough to withstand the adverse weather. There is no reported corn in the area.

Lazbuddie and that area has had nearly an inch of moisture and Aubrey Worsham at Foster Fertilizer said 95 percent of the grain sorghum in that area has been harvested. He added that the early freeze left some undetermined damage to cotton. According to Worsham, it is too early to know the extent of damage to the cotton at this time.

Approximately 11 miles southeast of Muleshoe, Mrs. Connie Hill said approximately 1.2 inches of moisture has been received during the three days of rain, sleet and snow but her husband did not expect any outstanding damage to their cotton. Charlie Nix at the Lariat Gin, west of Muleshoe, reported .6

Wheat Pasture Being Prepared To Study Cattle

Wheat pasture for cattle backgrounding studies is being established on the High Plains Research Foundation's Steine Research and Demonstration Farm east of Plainview.

The planting of 125 acres of wheat marks the Foundation's full scale entry into livestock production programs.

In 1969, the Foundation began small scale swine feeding studies. The Steine Research and Demonstration Farm offers the Foundation an opportunity to expand its swine feeding program and develop a meaningful program in cattle feeding operations.

The Steine Research and Demonstration Farm was inaugurated during a meeting of the Foundation Board of Trustees September 10. Board members voted to accept the terms of lease for the 480-acre farm located seven miles east of Plainview.

The wheat pasture study will compare beef cattle on a 65-acre pasture of Caddo wheat and on 55 acres of Sturdy wheat. To be installed later is a swine feeding operation for 200 feeder pigs with future plans

18-Year Olds Now Register For 1971 Voting

According to Jean Lovelady, Bailey County tax assessor-collector, several 18-20 year old youths have inquired as to the procedure for registering to vote. Recent legislation approved registration of 18-20 year olds, although a test case has since been filed to test the constitutionality of the new law.

Mrs. Lovelady is taking applications from the younger group, but is not issuing registration slips until the case is settled. It is expected the Supreme Court will issue a ruling in early January as to whether or not Congress can grant the vote or whether the age limit must be changed by a constitutional amendment.

She said applications may be picked up at any tax office, or, in the event of college students or servicemen, applications may be obtained by written request.

Married college students can claim either their college residence or their hometown as their legal residence. But, unmarried college students or military service personnel will register where they claim their legal residence or where their parents live.

Scheduled from 6:30-8:30 p.m. is the banquet, which will be held in the Corral Restaurant, with the Honorable Irvin St. Clair, Mayor of Muleshoe as master of ceremonies. The Honorable Don Cihak, Bailey County Judge, will give the welcome address with the response by Harry Riggs of Post 260 in Plainview.

Bailey County Now On $430,000 Budget

Bailey County Judge Cihak was introduced as guest speaker by Morris Nowlin, Precinct One Peace Justice, during the regular meeting of the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday. Nowlin was in charge of the program for the meeting.

Judge Cihak spoke on the courthouse financial structure and presented resume of the 1971 county budget.

The judge said the county tax rolls, with an estimated $16,800,000 shown on the roll, is based on the supposed market value of one-third on personal property and one-eighth of the market value on real property.

He commented, "I don't know whether that is correct or not, but it has been done that way since I have been judge and for many years before. The only rationale I can make is that real property has a much larger useful life than personal property."

He pointed out that for every $100 in assessed value, a tax of 95 cents is assessed. This constitutes 80 cents in a constitutional assessment for jury fund, road and bridge and permanent improvements, along with the general fund. A further constitutional levy of 15 cents is assessed on each $100 for public road maintenance plus 30 cents more on each $100 valuation over $3,000 as a special road tax.

Bailey County operates on approximately $430,000 per year, according to figures quoted by Judge Cihak.

Of this amount, he said, approximately $210,000 is in income from ad valorem (real and personal) taxes; with the balance of approximately $120,000 from motor vehicle registration; $15,000 interest; $23,000 State of Texas Lateral Road Monies and $81,000 fees, fines, etc.

Approximately $214,000 is divided among the four precincts for road work, maintenance, oil and tires, and other expenses. Some $200,000 is used for officials and county employee salaries; $19,200 for salaries for the four commissioners and approximately $72,000 for salaries for road hands.

Candidate Fullerton Visits In Muleshoe

From the time he walked into the door at the Muleshoe State Bank community room Thursday morning with the comment, "We made it and the weather is great," Byron Fullerton filled the packed room with his dynamic personality.

Showing a marked deference to the wishes of his wife of 24 years, Marilyn, Fullerton added that she was "his committee." He commented that anything he may say wrong while in the meeting would be rebuffed by (his committee of one) on the return trip to Lubbock.

The Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Texas spoke clearly and concisely with a strong and definite position on all phases of government, today's problems, and offered numerous solutions to the problems facing the Texan.

He remarked that the campaign was "the most invigorating thing I have ever done, such as visiting in exotic places like Muleshoe, Texas."

Likening his campaign to a football game, Fullerton said he was going at it "Go, Gung Ho!", as he likes to win, like a football team.

On a serious tone, Fullerton added that he tries to speak forcefully on any issue, so people will know where he stands as he is familiar with the many issues facing Texans. He said, "My opponent, Ben Barnes, has not chosen to speak on any of them (the issues)."

So he will not be mis-representing anything, Fullerton said he documents all press releases, and sends news media the newspapers, or governmental papers with quotes to back up his statements.

The candidate emphasized, "I got into the race because I like good government, and because I believe in a two-party system. We need competition in government as well as anything else. This year, I decided Ben Barnes would not be re-elected by default.

"I am also concerned about my two sons, ages 17 and 19, and I am concerned about the state of affairs in state, local and national government. Ben Barnes should not be lieutenant governor, or anything else," he stated emphatically.

Using the basic precept "a man should work for a living", and "we should make sure people can be helped to help themselves," the candidate began an analysis of the present welfare system.

He also had strong statements to make over taxes, expressing the concern over the fact that "we are in danger of over-taxing ourselves out of existence."

Terminating the problems of crime and narcotics as a "fantastic problem" he gave a dissertation on several potential solutions to the everpresent problems in those areas.

Advocating that college students should be allowed to voice their dissent and speak out if they feel they are entitled to their "gripes" he said the basic position of school disorders should not be allowed and co-

He added that the county has enough money in the bank to pay principal and interest on Road District 1-A, comprised of portions of old precincts One, Two and Three. Therefore, this particular tax is no longer collected, resulting in lowering taxes a total of 40 cents in the last two years.

"Also," said the judge, "we will have enough money to pay road bonds, principal and interest, on Highway 84 by certificates of deposit on deposit in the bank, and this results in a tax drop of 20 cents over the past two years."

In setting up a proposed budget, Judge Cihak said some county operations requested a proposed budget request from their various departments. The various departments turn in a budget request. In that instance, the county officials will say "here's the money we need, let's go out and raise it." In this county, according to the judge, we say, "here's the money we've got, let's live with in that" which results in no tax increase.

"We are at the limit on tax levies," added the judge, "we cannot, by law, raise the tax levy."

On being questioned about a possible raise for county employees, he stated, "If we spend everything we have out of the general fund, we will have no funds for a general raise. The officer salary fund is the only fund which approximates self-supporting in our county operation."

He cited several funds which are placed in the officer salary fund and would be counted in the officer salary fund. Included were $30-35,000 in fines and costs, recording fees and the biggest item -- fines and court costs recorded by the Justice of Peace.

According to Judge Cihak, only $2,500 in tax money had to be transferred to the officer salary fund from the general fund. He added, "there is not sufficient money remaining in the general fund at this time to give a general raise to employees."

Indiana Corn Crop Ravaged By Blight

An Indiana farmer nursed his corn crop through a hailstorm in June and a two-month drought only to have the ears turn black with blight, Joe McGowan Jr., reported this week in an Associated Press story.

Because a good part of the American corn crop this year has been ruined by the spreading corn blight, the story of Martin Silverthorn and the Southern Corn Leaf Blight, "a black fungus that no one knows how to stop," which hit his corn fields and those in the deep south on up through to the Great Lakes region this past summer, was reported in detail in the story.

The U. S. Agriculture Department announced Monday that the nation's blight-damaged crop improved slightly during the final week of September and now is estimated at 4,188,281,000 bushels.

But the new estimate, as of field conditions on October 1, represented a 13 percent decline from the record crop of more than 4.8 billion bushels expected in July, the story reported.

According to the Indiana farmer the fungus spores are carried by the wind, and first will attack the lower leaves of a corn stalk. When the fungus spores attack the corn stalk, it produces egg-shaped lesions. Later, the fungus moves up the plant and penetrates through the husks into the corn kernels. The farmer said the fungus hits the leaves and slows down growth, then the ears will not fill out, and drops production as much as 50 percent.

Silverthorn said he first noticed the blight when the ears began to develop and he began to find a dry blade now and then. Agriculture experts are uncertain whether the blight will survive the winter and make more devastating attacks next spring, nor do they know whether the black fungus "dust" is dangerous to farmers working on the harvest.

The story continues that Purdue University's agricultural extension service warned farmers in Indiana that while the fungus is not known to be infectious to man, it could produce allergic reaction and result in chronic respiratory condition after repeated exposure.

All persons working in blighted fields have been warned by an agricultural bulletin to wear breathing masks.

Tests are presently underway at Purdue to check the feasibility and safety of feeding the blighted corn to hogs and beef cattle.

The growth of blight-resistant corn is being stepped up in Mexico and South America this winter and the Indiana farmer feels that there will be a drastic shortage of the blight-resistant seed corn for next year.

The Indiana farmers are reluctant to speculate on blight damage to their corn, however, they feel that people will be selling their hogs as corn will be too expensive to use for feed. This also may mean a saving for the consumer who benefits from lower pork prices as the farmers will be selling their hogs earlier creating a market glut.

Next year, however, according to some leading New York brokerage house specialists in farm commodities, the consumer will be paying higher prices for both pork and beef products because the corn blight will mean high prices for feed grains being used to fatten cattle and hogs.

Offsetting some of the gloomy aspect for the farmer is the likelihood that what corn is saved from the blight this year will draw better-than-average prices.

inch of moisture and said the cotton harvest would be slowed down considerably by the moisture. There is a little grain in the fields in the Lariat community and quite a lot of corn, said Nix.

In Muleshoe Proper, nearly an inch of moisture was recorded through drizzly, slow rain, a heavy snowfall which melted as it hit the ground and sleet which hit as slush.

If the Sunday afternoon clearing starts, harvesters expect to get into their fields early in the week.

The first and only test of one's religion is the kind of life he leads.

leges and universities should not be allowed to become sanctuaries for law violators. Defining an intellectual as "a man who knows more about less than anyone else," he placed much of the blame for campus disorders on liberal professors and permissive parents.

Advocating strong enforceable laws for drug offenders he stated that the main problem is use, and a penalty should be secondary. He stressed the medical, legal and social aspects of drug addiction, followed by the enforcement aspect. Fullerton cited DPS figures which stated kids of nine years of age and up had been arrested for drug violations and said that according to state law, youths under the age of 18 years could not be jailed under adult laws, or held under those laws. He said over 200 counties in Texas have no juvenile detention facilities or counseling facilities.

He told of a law passed by legislature which states a person over the age of 21 years who sells to a person under the age of 21 years on conviction could go to the electric chair. Fullerton termed this an emotional law and suggested that emotion be stripped out of the problem, take a good long objective look at the law then do what is necessary to make an enforceable law.

Fullerton also expressed explicit views on the Vietnam War, Amendment Number Two (Liquor by the drink), the Brown Power movement, and many other areas during the informal meeting.

More than 40 persons visited with Fullerton during the morning, including District Attorney Jack Young, who is a fraternity brother of the candidate, County Attorney Roger Gorrell, Attorney Jim Ivy and Jimmy Kennedy of Zapata, who is area representative for Senatorial Candidate George Bush which encompasses eleven counties, including Bailey County.

Among the group were representatives from Bailey and Farmer Counties, including Fullerton's campaign chairman for the two counties, Phil Garrett.

Refreshments were served during the informal session following Fullerton's talk.

Judge...

Judge Cihak said, "In order to provide general raises for the county employees, we would have to (a.) leave the levy going to the general fund the same and delete certain items paid from the general fund; (b.) cut the levy from the other three constitutional funds and put them into general funds. The other three constitutional funds are jury, road and bridge, permanent improvements; (c.) arbitrarily go from one-eighth to one-sixth on market value on taxes; or (d.) have a re-evaluation of all property within the county in order to equalize property values as carried on the tax rolls."

He pointed out that the county has previously budgeted $4,000 for welfare operations, which include groceries, hospital bills and bus tickets to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston. He said, "It is anticipated this amount will be reduced due to the Commodity Food Program now in this county. Thus the county has ceased to give grocery orders."

The judge pointed out that one-half the income in the county goes to operate the precincts. When asked what income is brought in by renting county road equipment and operators to private landowners, the judge said very little income was brought into the county funds in that manner.

During a question and answer session which followed Judge Cihak's resume, Alex Williams asked, "Why, in view of unequal assessed taxes, did the county not re-evaluate?"

The judge emphasized, "It takes three votes to spend county money and to hire an appraisal firm. We talked to several firms, and a meeting was held with the City Commissioners, and the MISD agreeing to look into it. Nothing was ever done about it."

Williams stated, "County taxes are more unequal on medium priced homes than on higher priced homes," and further wanted to know why the county commission did not accept the responsibility of re-evaluation.

He was again told by the judge that it takes three votes of the county commissioners court to start re-evaluation.

Judge Cihak was asked what if the county commissioners court was approached to correct an assessment. He answered that market value would have to determine the apprai-

Ceremony Unites Miss Bessire, Shanks

Miss Betty Ellen Bessire and Donald Lee Shanks were united in marriage October 11 at 3:00 p.m. in the Primitive Baptist Church of Muleshoe, Elder Bernard Gownes officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Omar Bessire of Muleshoe. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Shanks of Muleshoe.

The bridal decorations featured a wedding arch covered and draped with emerald and white bridal flowers which formed a canopy under which the bride and groom knelt for the vows. Twin candelabras of lighted tapers accented the setting.

Musical selections were "More", "Twelfth of Never" and "Walk Through This World With Me". "The Wedding Prayer" was recited by Jack Henderson, brother-in-law of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white velvet with empire waist and bodice of lace over velvet. The gown was trimmed with pearl trim at the cuffs and neckline, and featured a velvet train. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and miniature white bridal flowers forming a cascade and surrounding the dew dropped cattilya orchid. The bouquet was enlaced with piquet, satin and love knots.

For the traditional something old, the bride carried pennies minted in the year of the births of the bride and groom. Something new was a diamond necklace given the bride by the groom. Her wedding gown was borrowed and her garter served as something blue.

Matrons of honor were Mrs. Jack Henderson, sister of the bride, El Paso, Texas and Mrs. Dabney Blaylock, sister of the bride, El Paso, Texas. Mrs. Travis Bessire, sister-in-law of the bride, Muleshoe, served as bridesmaid. They were dressed identically in street length dresses of sapphire blue, fashioned with a V-neckline and matching belt with bow trim at the waist. They each carried a lace fan decorated with gladiolus and satin.

Flower girls were Sherri LaShelle Bessire, Muleshoe, Rhonda Mischel Henderson, El Paso, and Shauna Lynn Blaylock, El Paso, all nieces of the bride. They wore identical blue empire dresses with flare skirts and bell sleeves. The dresses were trimmed with white lace at the neckline and the sleeves. They wore miniature gladiolus corsages and scattered the flower petals to mark the bridal walk.

Candlelighters were Rodney Michael Henderson, El Paso, nephew of the bride and Randy Bessire, O'Donnell, cousin of the bride. Ring bearer was Gaylon Lewis Blaylock, El Paso, nephew of the bride.

Gerald Shanks, Muleshoe, served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Jerry Hutton and Travis Bessire, brother of the bride, both of Muleshoe. Ushers were Bobby Bryant, Muleshoe, and Dabney Blaylock, brother-in-law of the bride, El Paso.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church. Registering guests was Mrs. Joe Bob Smith, cousin of the bride. Serving were Mrs. Gerald Shanks, sister-in-law of the groom and Mrs. Gary Burkhardt.

The bride's table was decorated with white lace over blue. The centerpiece was a large frosted white candle with the bride's attendants flowers surrounding it. A white four-tiered cake trimmed with blue flowers and bells was served.

For a wedding trip to points of interest in Colorado, the new Mrs. Shanks wore a navy and white dress featuring a flared skirt and long sleeves. She chose navy accessories to complete her ensemble and the corsage was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Muleshoe High School and attended Data Processing School of El Paso. She is presently employed by Perry Brothers.

The groom graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1963. He completed four years in the U.S. Navy and is presently employed by Plains Auto in Muleshoe.

Out of town wedding guests were: Mr. and Mrs. O'dell Bessire of O'Donnell; Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Bessire, O'Donnell; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bessire, O'Donnell; the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Short, Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Vaughn, Happy; Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Vaughn, Jr., Hacienda Heights, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Vaughn, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Leodus Vaughn, Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Tarr and Jean of Farwell.

Amendments Explained

DEAR EDITOR

The time of the year now brings an emphasis on campaigns, elections, and issues confronting the people of our state. Since November is just around the corner, I thought you might be interested to have a little information pertaining to the seven Constitutional Amendments that will be on the ballot November 3. I think it is good for all voters to have a knowledge of the amendments before casting their votes. Many times we neglect to study the Constitutional Amendments, but they are most important as our Constitution provides a basic structure of law under which we operate in the State.

Our Constitution was adopted in 1876 and has been amended one hundred ninety-five times. If you will remember, we voted on nine amendments to the Constitution August 5 of 1969, and the following seven amendments are a part of the total of sixteen passed by the 61st Legislature. The amendments appear below in the order in which they will be on the ballot. I have tried to present a little background and the pros and cons of each amendment so that you will have an opportunity to evaluate the issues before casting your vote.

PROPOSITION 1
 REMOVAL, RETIREMENT OR CENSURE OF JUSTICES, JUDGES AND JUSTICES OF THE PEACE

AMENDMENT NO. 1 Proposes to amend Article V, Section 1-a, of the Texas Constitution, relating to removal, retirement, or censure of justices, judges, and justices of the peace under prescribed circumstances. The Texas electorate in 1965 adopted the current Article V, Section 1-a. The section greatly expanded the article in regard to the retirement and removal from office of justices and judges of the appellate courts and district and criminal district court judges. However, no provision was made for censure or private reprimand of judges nor did the section include the judges of the other state and local courts. This amendment was designed to change the provision to include these features.

Argument For: 1. Every judge is charged with the equitable enforcement of law. The responsibilities of the judges of lower courts are no less sacred than those of the justices of the appellate courts; therefore, they should be answerable to the same rules dealing with retirement, removal from office, and public censure or private reprimand.

Argument Against: 1. Except in rare instances, the judges named in Subsection (6) are elected by the people and therefore answerable to the people at the polls. Therefore, the expansion of the article is unwarranted. Increasing the power and scope of the commission might also lead to "witch hunts," and such action could subsequently discourage qualified persons from seeking election on the bench.

 LOCAL OPTION MIXED DRINKS

AMENDMENT NO. 2 Proposes to amend Article XVI, Section 20, Subsection (a), to authorize the legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on a local option basis. During the early days of the Republic, Texas has no restrictions against the operation of an open saloon other than the requirement that the proprietor pay a tax and that he be bonded to guarantee that an orderly and reputable house would be maintained. As the frontier atmosphere faded and civilization sank its roots deeper into community life, temperance groups were militant but only mildly successful in attempts to bring about prohibition in the state. In 1887 the voters of the state defeated an amendment dealing with prohibition by a vote of 220,000 to 129,000. Temperance groups found little support during the next 20 years, but in 1911 a similar proposed amendment on prohibition was lost by only 6,000 votes. World War I again brought prohibition into prominence, and when the federal government submitted the national prohibition amendment in 1918, it was adopted by the legislature. However, prohibition lacked the public support necessary for enforcement, and when Congress modified the Volstead Act to permit the sale of beer in 1933, Texas adopted an amendment to the state constitution legalizing the sale of beer. The 21st Amendment to the federal constitution, which repealed the 18th Amendment, became effective in December, 1933. The 44th Legislature of the State of Texas then submitted an amendment to repeal state prohibition, and it was ratified in August, 1935. The 1935 Amendment authorized the sale of hard liquor on a local option basis but prohibited the open saloon. Many attempts have been made over the years to achieve liquor by the drink, but the issue did not become a major one until it was endorsed by Governor John Connally in 1967. Connally's proposal for a "minibottle" plan of liquor by the drink failed to receive a majority vote during the 1st Called Session of the 60th Legislature in June, 1968. Many lawmakers contended that the constitution would first have to be amended to repeal the provision banning open saloons. Such a resolution was offered and passed for submission to the Texas electorate during the Regular Session of the 61st Legislature.

Arguments For: 1. The proposed amendment would not force mixed drinks on any locality since it requires that any mixed-drink law be on a local option election basis.

2. Adoption of the proposed amendment and passage of subsequent enabling legislation would lead to stricter control of liquor sales to minors, an end to the subterfuge of private clubs, a decrease in alcohol consumption, a reduced crime rate, and fewer traffic accidents.

Arguments Against: 1. The proposed amendment would make alcoholic beverages more readily available.

2. Although enabling legislation for the proposed amendment could be designed to raise needed revenue through the taxation of mixed beverages, this revenue would be negligible in comparison with resulting problems such as broken homes, juvenile delinquency, drunk-driving, criminal assaults, and other crimes.

 SPECIAL TAX PROVISIONS FOR RANCH, FARM AND FOREST LANDS

AMENDMENT NO. 3 Would authorize the legislature to provide by law for the establishment of a uniform method of assessment of ranch, farm, and forest lands based upon the capability of the lands to support the raising of livestock or to produce farm and forest crops rather than on the value of such lands and the crops growing on them. The present provision of the Constitution requires no enabling legislation since it prescribes in detail the procedures for designating land for agricultural use and the assessment of such land for tax purposes on the basis of factors relative to such use.

Arguments For: 1. Farm real estate taxes per acre have increased by more than 22 percent, according to data compiled by the Economic Research Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, and there is a need for the tax relief for owners of such property which the proposed amendment would authorize.

2. The constitutional amendment approved by the voters in 1966 has not provided tax relief urgently needed by farmers and ranchers who use for agricultural purposes land which has greatly increased in value due to its potential use for other purposes, such as urban development. The proposed amendment would enable the legislature to provide such relief.

Arguments Against: 1. Enabling legislation for the proposed amendment has not been passed; therefore, the voter has no idea how far the legislature may go in providing property tax considerations to the owners of farm, ranch, and timber lands.

2. The proposed amendment could result in a tax ceiling for rural lands while urban Texans would be in a different category.

RECONSTITUTING STATE BUILDING COMMISSION

AMENDMENT NO. 4 Would amend Article III, Section 51-b, Subsection (a), to reconstitute the State Building Commission as a three-member appointed commission. In November, 1954, the Texas electorate adopted the present Section 51-b of Article III. This section created a State Building Commission, composed of the present membership, with a provision that the legislature may designate some state official other than the chairman of the Board of Control to the commission. It also created a State Building Fund into which is paid the revenue which remains from a 2 cents on the $100 valuation state ad valorem tax after payment of Confederate pensions. This tax may not be levied after December 31, 1976, by virtue of a constitutional amendment adopted in November of 1968. The first structure erected under this section was the State Supreme Court Building. Since then the Capitol Complex has continued to expand. At the time the original amendment was adopted, a person desiring to visit most of the state agencies in Austin had to go to almost 200 locations scattered about the city. The cramped quarters provided by the Capitol also deprived members of the House of Representatives of office space. The amendment was designed to eliminate such situations by the creation of the Capitol Complex.

Argument For: 1. The governor, attorney general, and chairman of the Board of Control do not have the time to consider all the details of the additional duties imposed upon them as ex officio members of the State Building Commission.

Argument Against: 1. Since the State Building Commission makes recommendations concerning the expenditure of large sums of public money, it would seem inadvisable to change its present membership of elected officials responsible directly to the people to an appointive membership which is answerable to the voters only through the governor.

PROPOSITION 5
COUNTY ROAD BONDS ON MAJORITY VOTE

AMENDMENT NO. 5 Would authorize any county to issue road bonds in an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property in the county for "the construction, maintenance, and operation of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, upon a vote of a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of the county...."

Argument For: 1. Construction and maintenance of sufficient roads and turnpikes to meet the traffic needs of rapidly growing Texas have been hampered by the constitutional debt limit and the requirement of a two-thirds vote of the qualified electors. The proposed Amendment No. 5 would alleviate this situation.

Argument Against: 1. The majority vote requirement of the proposed amendment would make it too easy for a bond election to pass. When bond elections are called with the timing selected to assure turnout of only those in favor of an issue, a majority of the voters could, in fact, be disenfranchised.

PROPOSITION 6
RAISING HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION FROM $5000
TO $10,000

AMENDMENT NO. 6 Proposes to amend Article XVI, Section 51, to increase the value of the homestead exempt from forced sale from $5,000 to $10,000. The precedent for exemption of the homestead from forced sale was established by statute enacted by the Third Congress of the Republic of Texas in 1839. The Texas Constitution of 1845 continued the exemption, establishing it at 200 acres of land (not included in town or city) or any town or city lot or lots, in value not to exceed $2,000. Constitutions of 1861 and 1866 carried forward the same provisions. Then the Constitution of 1869 raised the amount of exemption for urban lots from $2,000 to $5,000 and incorporated the statutory provisions clarifying the maximum value.

Argument For: 1. It has been 100 years since the homestead exemption was set at $5,000, and conditions and economic demands have changed so greatly since that time that the intent of the constitution to protect the home and earning capacity of the citizen is no longer effected through this small exemption.

Argument Against: 1. Since homestead exemptions are often abused by violating the intent of the constitution and permitting the hoarding of extensive assets beyond the reach of creditors with just debts, a larger exemption of $10,000 as proposed by Amendment No. 6 could increase the opportunity for abuse.

PROPOSITION 7
CONSOLIDATING SOME FUNCTIONS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT

AMENDMENT NO. 7 Would authorize the legislature to provide for consolidating offices and functions of government and for performance of governmental functions by contract between political subdivisions in any county. During the past 50 years the population increase and industrial growth of Texas have resulted in more and more demands for governmental services. Because of constitutional limitations that often barred existing political subdivisions from providing assistance, a legislative program of creating "special districts" was established. As the creation of special districts increased, and it became evident that many of them had overlapping jurisdictions and tax assessments, the legislature sought to provide densely populated areas with a means of consolidating many of the services and functions. In 1966 the voters adopted an amendment which would permit Harris County to facilitate consolidation of governmental services. In 1968 the voters approved a similar amendment for Tarrant and El Paso counties.

Argument For: 1. Adoption of the proposed amendment would permit counties to do away with costly duplication of services by consolidation, under which one governmental unit could be authorized to make assessments for all political subdivisions through an equal and fair assessment ratio, thereby providing more equitable apportionment of ad valorem taxes. Such consolidation would also result in coordinated planning to meet the demands of growing metropolitan areas.

Argument Against: 1. Adoption of the proposed amendment would be the first step toward overcentralization of government at the county level. It could result in too much authority resting in the hands of a few.

I realize this has been rather lengthy, but I do hope that it has been of value to you. When the Legislature convenes in January, we will be faced with many serious issues pertaining to state government. Several of the issues, such as redistricting, taxes, water legislation, and tighter enforcement of drug laws will be just a few of the many things that will concern the people of this district. I am hopeful that you will let me have your ideas and opinions on these issues when they are considered next year. I appreciate hearing from you and knowing what your thinking is. This helps me to know what the majority of the people in the district desire. A representative form of government can be at its best only when the citizenry takes a part and voices its concern on the various issues.

Our government is the best in the world; however, this does not necessarily mean that we do not need improvement, because we do in many areas. With this thought in mind, I am hopeful that we can all work together for a better State.

Yours for better government,
(s) Bill Clayton

Caged Catfish, It's Possible

COLLEGE STATION--Catfish in cages? Doesn't sound very realistic, but to the people in the catfish farming industry it could mean an easier method of production with increased profit.

The culture of channel catfish in cages has been demonstrated by Dr. H.R. Schmittou, an Agricultural Extension Service fisheries specialist at Texas A&M University. Assisted by Don Steintach, an Extension fisheries demonstration assistant, Dr. Schmittou has proven that cage culture is feasible for production of catfish on both the commercial and private levels.

advantageous over the conventional system in a number of ways. Cage culture is suited to practically all types of water environments. Ponds, lakes, mining pits, reservoirs, streams, irrigation canals, estuaries, tidal streams, bays and other waters may all be used for production.

More intensive cultures using the cage culture system are permitted where otherwise only a lesser level of culture would be possible. Also, in the same water where the catfish are being raised in the cages, other species of fish may be raised in the open water.

MR. FARMER
MILO $2⁵⁰ CWT.

This could be the price offered for your grain before another crop is harvested. Don't be misled by overestimated crop reports, statements by grain buyers that blight situation is not bad, and statements that there are enough reserve stocks to fill all needs.

The truth is:

1. Government crop estimates have continually dropped from August reports of 4.6 billion bushels of corn to 4.4 billion in September and 4.187 billion in October.
2. Crop could drop below 4.0 billion bushels before final statistics are in.
3. This is approximately 20 per cent below anticipated usage of corn, or 1 billion bushels short of needs.
4. Latest government reports of CCC owned corn was 250 million bushels and much of these stocks have already been used.
5. Milo production now estimated to be off at least 10 per cent, and could be much less.
6. Milo reserves less than three months total supply.
7. Some statisticians estimate that if corn crop drops below 4 billion bushels, it will require reserves of corn, all reserves of milo, and much of wheat reserves just to fill this year's feed grain needs.
8. A prominent magazine reports in September issue that there will be only enough blight resistant seed corn for 20 per cent of 1971 crop, which will result in a greater shortage in 1971-72 marketing year.
9. Early freeze across milo belt could reduce yields drastically.
10. Farmers deserve more than 70 per cent of parity for their grain.

By becoming more alert in the market place we could better this situation. Better prices could be ahead for those who are able to wait a while before selling.

Vote for the man who will work
for Texas.

Lloyd Bentsen will work for a higher standard of living and better health care for our senior citizens, the disabled and the needy. They need help and protection. But loading down the public assistance program with people who should be working is depriving those who deserve more help.

The Welfare Reform Bill of 1970, which Lloyd Bentsen's Republican opponent co-sponsored, would double the cost of welfare in the first year and increase those eligible for welfare from 10 million to 24 million. This doesn't protect those who really need it. It provides a guaranteed annual income without the proper work incentives and job training to get these additional millions of people off the welfare rolls.

Lloyd Bentsen believes the welfare program should be reformed. But he opposes a guaranteed annual income and he wants real work opportunities instead of a costly new program that solves few problems. Lloyd Bentsen believes in guaranteed opportunity, not guaranteed income. President Nixon's welfare plan, backed by George Bush, is not the answer.

Texas needs a Democratic Senator who will support the President when he thinks he's right but can oppose him when he thinks he's wrong.

AND, AWAY WE GO--Speedy Mitzi Bass, an Untouchable, is just about to be blocked by Gold-digger Susan Wood, far right, as she puts on a tremendous burst of energy to gallop toward the goal. Mitzi proved to be chief running back for the Untouchables during the powderpuff game.

Goldiggers Meet Untouchables

By Sonnie Glaze
The Goldiggers and the Untouchables clashed in a great display of athletic ability in the annual Powder Puff Football game in the Benny Douglass Stadium at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 13.

The Goldiggers plunged ahead as Vicky Julian tore across the goal line making the score 6-0. Jeanie Putman outwitted the Untouchables for the extra two points, making the score 8-0. Both teams put forth their best efforts in a good game.

The cheerleaders did a wonderful job, highlighting the nights activities and introducing some new yells. The Goldiggers' cheerleaders were Frank Ellis, Matt Street, Kenneth Carpenter, and David Williams. The skirted screamers for the Untouchables were Randy Burrows, Robbie Green, Mike Morris, Richard Warren, and Kevin Tucker.

The half time activities were accented by the crowning of the kings. The Goldiggers king was C.L. Myers escorted by Jeanene Freeman. The king for the Untouchables was Danny Noble escorted by Janis St. Clair. Congratulations to these two boys!

They appointed a committee to decide on a booth for the Halloween Carnival.

Lou Ann Cole Learns Narcotics Problems

By Lou Ann Cole
On Oct. 6-8, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. Bob Graves and Lou Ann Cole attended a three-day workshop on drug education in Lubbock. The workshop consisted of approximately 180 administrators, teachers and students. The theme was "Bridge Over Troubled Water." If the problem of drug abuse is ever to be solved then everyone must join hands and work together. Maybe through understanding, a bridge can be formed sturdy enough that not even the enormous weight of drug abuse can bring it down.

The 61st Texas Legislature has required the public schools to teach students in grade 5-12 about the problems of drug abuse beginning in the fall of 1971. All the schools in Texas will be experimenting with different methods in order to find the most beneficial way to educate students in drug education. For the next two years there will be no set schedule or outline which the schools must follow. They will all be on their own.

Those attending were not left completely in the dark however. Ideas were presented and discussed openly. There was a great deal of discussion during the three days in which everyone had something to say. This was great because a problem must be discussed before it can be solved and there were a variety of view points expressed. Those present watched films, heard speakers, and had rap sessions in which everyone shared his ideas. It was impossible to learn everything there is to know about drug abuse in three days, but everyone who attended the workshop was able to lay down the first stepping stone in starting his own drug education program. Success of this program will be a long time in coming but at least this group now have their feet on solid ground and there is hope in reaching the goal.

Bumper Stickers Involve Band

By Cynthia Wrinkle
The Muleshoe Mighty M Band is now selling bumper stickers. The personal stickers say "I am a member of the Muleshoe Mighty M Band." Another style says, "I support the Muleshoe Mighty M Band." All band members are selling them.

The band is preparing for the marching contest which is going to be held Nov. 18, at Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

Twirp Week Crimes Being Tabulated

By Becky Sain
If girls were seen asking boys for dates, escorting boys or carrying boys' books, it's not necessarily correct to presume the social standards have changed. This past week has been twirp week. Anyone caught while committing a twirp-week crime without a license will be severely punished.

The spirit competition for the past week is as follows: Sophomores, first place; Juniors, second place; Seniors, third place; and Freshmen, fourth place. Each student is encouraged to back his class in the contest.

The council has assigned reports to be written to the governor. If you are asked to report, please accept willingly.

The Mules played their best defensive ballgame against the Portales Rams. The Rams had a very impressive back field and the coaches felt the Mules did a good job of stopping the Rams' best plays. The Coaches were also pleased with the improvement of the Mules' offensive line.

The Mules met Dumas, the number nine triple A team in the state, Friday night. This game will open district play for both teams. Other teams in the district this year are Perryton, Canyon, Levelland, and Tulla.

Sophs To Take Carnival Spook Pictures

Reporter Rhonda Bland
The Sophomore class met October 13 in the cafeteria to discuss a booth for the Halloween carnival. There were many suggestions made and it was decided to have a picture-taking booth. The charge will be 50¢ to have pictures taken in funny figures. Following the business cokes were enjoyed by the students.

F-I-G-H-T--The newly formed Muleshoe Pep Squad has big posters to advertise their feelings toward the Mighty 'M' Mules. The posters are to be displayed during varsity football games.

Pep Squad Boasts All New Posters

By Cathy Mardis
The Pep Squad, a newly formed group this year, has been very active. One of their activities is the great big posters everyone has been seeing at the pep rallies and football games.

The Pep Squad sits together as a group at all the home and out-of-town games. This Friday at the first District Game against the Dumas Demons, watch for the Big Posters in the Pep Squad section!

SOPHOMORE COKE PARTY--More than 140 sophomores pack the MHS cafeteria when they were feted with a coke party during the week. The sophomores apparently enjoyed their impromptu party.
