

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There's been little talked about around here except the long hot summer, and the lack of rain. In fact, politics has taken a back seat and probably will remain there until a good rain comes along to freshen up folks' spirits a bit.

It has been several weeks since any measurable amount of rain has been received in this vicinity. Total for July was only one inch, in Winters proper, although there were reports of a bit heavier rainfall in other sections of the county. Not enough to brag about, however.

The last good rain was on June 12 when 1.8 inch was received here. Half-an-inch fell on July 22. 3 inch on July 29, and 2 inch July 30.

Even in the face of the dire need for rain in this area, there seems to be a tendency on the part of everyone to refrain from using the word "drought," its just a long dry spell. Don't know just when the point is reached when it becomes a "drought" instead of a "dry spell." If one looks back over the records, however, there have been other "dry spells" during the recent years. There was no recorded rainfall during July of 1963. During the same year there was no rainfall during January, only 1.3 inch in February, and nothing in March.

Everybody's talking about the weather, so why try to swim upstream? — We'll start talking about football, or something else just as soon as it is practical.

Winterscenes: Preacher Virgil James was walking a round town the first of the week carrying a bride. He said he was trying to figure out if he'd found a bride or lost a horse. It's been hot.

Two lads, Bill Baldwin and David Chapman, sharing a banana split at Main Drug. Served in this manner, all the nuts had to be on one end and the chocolate on the other.

A biologist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department sent in a report to headquarters recently that in the small community of Lohn in McCulloch County, he "could hear the gray francolins calling in nearly every direction."

Having been thoroughly brain washed with the publicity about The Thang at Haskell, and the Caddo Critter, and various and sundry other reports of "creatures," we read that part of the report with a tingling of the spine. What next is going to show up in the form of wildlife in this wilderness? we thought.

Then we remembered the danger of skimming over an article and grabbing something out of context — so finished the piece. We're not so nervous anymore. Francolins resemble bobwhites, according to the article. They are dusty tan or beige in color and about twice the size of bobwhites, and roost in trees and shrubs and thus are safer from predators than ground nesting birds.

The francolin is native of India, and the first consignment of 300 birds was released just north of Brady. Some of the young birds have been seen in the original stocking area and there have been other indications of progress. They have a tolerance for a wide range of temperatures, it is said — from 20 degrees to 120 degrees — so they should be quite at home in Texas.

Blizzards Start Summer Practice Sessions Monday

The Winters High School Blizzard football team, two-time winner of the district 6-AA championship, will begin their 1964 football season next Monday morning, with two weeks of twice-a-day drills before school begins.

Coach L. G. Wilson said this week that about 40 boys are expected to report for summer practice. Of these, he said, 16 are returning lettermen.

Football boys will begin first practice each day at 8 a. m. and continue to 9:30 a. m., with the evening sessions beginning at 5:30 and continuing to 7 p. m. All boys will stay in the old school gymnasium between the practice sessions, and will take their noon meal in the school cafeteria. They will not stay on the school campus overnight. Coach Wilson reminded prospective team members who have not taken their physical examination that these tests can be made at 7 p. m. Friday, Aug. 14, at the old gymnasium.

Many of the team members already have taken these examinations, he said. Boys will be under the direct supervision of the coaching staff during the practice sessions and between each practice. Staff members include Wilson, Bill Bryant, Elgin Conner and Jerry Cunningham.

Coach Wilson said that football fans are encouraged to go out and watch the practice sessions of this year's Blizzard football team.

For All Pets Rabies Vaccinations Next Wednesday

Winters Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is again sponsoring the drive to have all dogs, cats and other domestic pets vaccinated against rabies.

Wednesday, August 19, has been set for the drive, and Dr. Robert Miller, veterinarian, will be at the vocational agricultural building, Winters High School, to give the vaccinations. He will be assisted by members of the FFA and Jake Joyce, FFA advisor and vocational agricultural teacher.

Cost of the vaccinations will be $2.50 per animal, considerably less than usually charged for the service, it was said.

Residents of the area who wish to have their pets vaccinated may bring them to the vo-ag building from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. next Wednesday.

It has been reported that special emphasis should be placed on this year's rabies vaccination program because of the outbreak of rabies in this section of the state. According to reports, Taylor County to the north of Winters is second in the state in number of cases reported this year. Coleman County also has a heavy infestation, it was reported.

Those sponsoring this vaccination drive stressed the importance of having all pets inoculated, and urged that all pet owners have their animals vaccinated. If for some reason the animals cannot be brought in during the one-day drive, it still is important that owners take them to a veterinarian immediately.

When the days are hot you probably use more electricity

Certainly you do, that's because your air conditioning system is working harder, your refrigerator is working harder and all of your other electric appliances are performing tasks which, without them, you would have to do. Let's face it---there's no substitute for all the comfort and convenience that electricity can give. Besides, the average WTU residential customer is paying an average of 17% less per KWH than in 1953---isn't that a happy thought?

Electricity costs so little you can use lots of it.

"The Pink Panther"

Ordinarily, it is the custom to assign a writer to create the story, hand the story to a producer who gets the actors and technicians together, and once this "package" is assembled, hands it over to the director who sees it through the cameras and into "the can" — and that is how motion pictures are born.

But in the case of Blake Edwards, he did the assigning, writing and directing for the high comedy of high jinx among the international set. "The Pink Panther," a Mirisch Company presentation in Technicolor and Technirama, shows Friday and Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre under United Artists release.

"Never Put It In Writing"

The new Pat Boone film, "Never Put It In Writing," which shows Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In theatre, is an hilarious, broad comedy designed to please the entire family.

It is the story of a young man, angered at his boss, who writes the gentleman a letter which should never should have been written and then mails it when it never should have been mailed. The suspense element hinges upon Boone's efforts, despite arrest and a mad flight in a plane piloted by a man who operates from an instruction book to retrieve the letter.

David Niven, who excels in suave, sophisticated roles, has one tailored - made in "The Pink Panther," which will show Friday and Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre through United Artists release. The Blake Edwards' production for the Mirisch Company was filmed in Technicolor-Technirama.

"The Ceremony"

"The Ceremony" a story of love, crime and political intrigue, shows Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre, through United Artists release. It marks the debut of producer and director of gifted actor Laurence Harvey — who also stars in the exciting drama. Co-starring John Ireland, Robert Walker and beautiful Sarah Miles, the unusual film concerns a man falsely accused of murder and sentenced to death before a firing squad.

"Dr. Strangelove"

Peter Sellers and George C. Scott are starred in Stanley Kubrick's "Dr. Strangelove or: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb," shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. The film, a Columbia release, is called a "nightmare suspense comedy" by the producer-director.

Also starred are Sterling Hayden, Keenan Wynn, Slim Pickens and screen newcomer Tracy Reed as "Miss Foreign Affairs."

"Dr. Strangelove or: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb" has a psychotic Air Force general triggering an ingenious, foolproof and irrevocable scheme, unleashing his wing of B-52 H-Bombers to attack Russia. The President of the United States, unable to recall the aircraft, is forced to cooperate with the Soviet Premier in a bizarre attempt to save the world.

State Capital Highlights— Texas' Progress In Race Relations Commended By Visiting Officials

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Texas' progress in the field of race relations was commended by visiting federal officials here to discuss aspects of the new Civil Rights Law.

Gov. John Connally met briefly with Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges; former Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins, director of the new Community Relations Service; and former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee.

Session was one of a series to be conducted with governors in all states at the request of President Johnson to discuss the Community Relations Service operation. Agency will provide conciliation service at the state and local level to resolve discrimination disputes.

Governor Connally predicted Texas will continue to move forward without outside help.

Meanwhile, Texas School Boards Association warned that action on the part of segregated schools between now and Labor Day may determine their continued eligibility for federal funds.

According to Department of Health, Education and Welfare officials on the Civil Rights Law all the answers won't be known until new regulations are to be drawn late this month.

But the law has been interpreted as banning federal aid to segregated facilities.

Texas schools now get about $30,000,000 a year in federal money for such programs as the national defense education act, vocational education, school lunch and milk program and aid to districts where federal installations bring in a large number of pupils.

HEW personnel indicate tentative procedures for enforcement of Title VI will require assistance from local school boards of compliance or intention to comply before federal funds will be awarded.

LOBBYISTS

Texas legislative leaders, who have been the target of many lobbyists, have turned lobbyists themselves.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, and Speaker Byron Tunnell and Sen. George Moffett, chairman of the Legislative Council's redistricting committee, have been lobbying in Washington for passage of federal laws to clarify the restrictive situation.

Moffett wants Congress to say that a state may have as much as 15 per cent variation from the average population in its Congressional Districts. He and Smith also spoke in favor of the proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would allow the states to set up one house of their Legislatures on a basis other than population.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that:

A county commissioners court may decide whether or not it shall appoint county hospital managers with overlapping terms.

A county attorney has the duty of filing suits for foreclosure of the State's lien for delinquent inheritance taxes.

District courts in that county have jurisdiction of these suits even in those instances in which property formerly belonging to a decedent is not within the county, so long as it is within the jurisdiction of this state.

PANHANDLE SALT WATER HEARING CONTINUED

Oil industry representatives urged the Texas Water Pollution Control Board not to outlaw the use of open, unlined earthen pits for the disposal of oil field salt water in Dallam, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Potter and Oldham counties.

Board held the third in a series of hearings to explore the problem in a 48-county area which overlies the Ogallala water formation.

Oil engineers testified disposal of oil field brine into unlined pits in the five Panhandle counties named is "very minor." By January 1, testified one, 87 per cent of the salts will be injected underground, with only 257 barrels a day going into unlined surface pits.

HUNTING AND FISHING LICENSES GOING OUT

New hunting and fishing licenses are scheduled to be sent to some 2,800 dealers by August 14. State Parks and Wildlife Commission announces.

Old licenses expire on August 31. More than 2,300,000 are expected to be paid during the coming year — at the rate of $2.15 for a fishing license and $3.15 for a hunting license.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Highway Commission authorized urban transportation studies to determine future highway needs of Abilene, Midland, Odessa and Texarkana.

Cigarette taxes continue to increase — $8,400,000 in June, a jump of $317,942 over the previous month — according to the State Comptroller's office.

Thirteen citizens' task forces met here to work on various aspects of a Texas plan for a community mental health program.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler refused to consider the sale of 10 tracts of school land in Bandera County, explaining that he thought his own staff had set values too low.

Treasurer Jesse James reported an increase of $459,999 in tax revenues for stamps on ale, liquor and wine from July, to July, 1964, for a total of $10,000,000 last month.

Attorney General Waggoner Carr announced the recovery of $52,452 against two defendants charged with operating slanted oil wells, making a total of $80,270 in judgements which have been returned against the slant-hole drillers and operators.

Texas Education Agency has formally requested of federal authorities the establishment of a multi-million-dollar residential vocational education school at old Gary Army Airfield, San Marcos.

Governor Connally will tour four northern Mexico states bordering Texas on August 15-18.

University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research reveals its seasonally adjusted index of business activity in Texas for June hopped 16 per cent above the June, 1963, level, marking the 41st month in an upward swing that rivals the 45-month expansion record set between October, 1949, and July, 1952.

Tourist attendance of 15 key Texas attractions have served 10,100,000 this year, up 15 per cent over the first six months of 1963, and will get better during the second half of the year, Texas Tourist Development Agency predicts.

Fish Baiting Does the Job

Making the fish come to you instead of the reverse is perfectly legitimate in Texas waters, according to Marion Toole, coordinator of inland fisheries for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

And here's one official suggestion to accomplish the conquest, as made by Toole in acknowledging an inquiry from an Austin man:

"There are two or three different methods of attracting fish. One is to cut quite a large amount of fresh willows which are wired together to form some large mats. These are weighted with rocks and submerged, piling mat upon mat to create brush about four feet high. This will bring in minnows, sunfish and crappie.

"Some people buy bales of alfalfa hay which they sink by attaching large rocks to the bales. These of course will also produce basic fish food that will attract minnows and small fish which in turn will attract larger fish that can prey on the smaller fish.

Bertha Louise Holle, Francis Eugene Griffin Wed At Lutheran Church

St. John's Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening August 8, at 7:00 o'clock, uniting Bertha Louise Holle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Holle, and Francis Eugene Griffin.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton G. Griffin of East Peoria, Illinois.

The Rev. Albert W. Holck, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with tall floor candelabra holding lighted tapers flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

Miss Emma Henniger, organist, played traditional wedding music, and accompanied Mr. Erwin Henniger to sing "Oh Perfect Love" and "Lord's Prayer."

Gwynne Geistman and Teddy Geistman of Lowake lighted the candles and Pamela Holle of Ballinger was flower girl.

Best Man was Maurice Holle and ushers were Bill Holle, Ronnie Onken, Gary Onken and Arnold Thormeyer. Groomsman was Jerry Holle of Ballinger.

Maid of honor was Trisha Onken and Matron of honor was Mrs. Jerry Holle of Ballinger.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of blue crystalline fashioned with fitted bodice, boat neckline, short cap sleeves, wide cummerbund and bell shaped skirt. They wore pill box hats of matching material with short blue veils and long blue mitts. They carried colonial bouquets of white roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle gown fashioned with fitted bodice, featuring boat-shaped neckline accented with appliques of lace outlined with pearls, fastened down the back with tiny covered buttons and long tight sleeves. The full length skirt featured a panel at the front with lace appliques matching those at the neckline.

Unpressed pleats were on either side and fullness in the back extended to a short train, long streamers accented with lace appliques, fell from the wide bow at the back. Her waist length veil of illusion fell from a scalloped lace cap. She carried white roses on top of a white Bible and held a handkerchief given to her by the groom's mother.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

Roger Babson Says—

Financial Expert Gives Advice To Young People Starting Families

Babson Park, Mass. — From time to time the younger element among my readers write in asking advice about how to get started on an investment program. Hence, I would like to devote this column to this group who are just starting out to build their future. Readers who are further along in years may also find this column useful in assisting their children and the grandchildren to start out on a firm footing financially.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

I earnestly beseech young people to use their heads and not their emotions in financial matters. My first principle, is to establish a firm foundation before embarking on building an investment program. This means acquiring adequate insurance protection for your family in case an accident or illness should result in your untimely death. My general recommendation is "straight" life insurance without the expensive frills.

Of course, home ownership should be an early consideration. I urgently advise young people not to overextend themselves by buying a home beyond their means. They should, however, endeavor to locate in a good and growing community so that their home can be a real asset in years to come.

BUILD UP RESERVES

Sad to say, too many young people are overanxious to acquire a fortune. In their haste, they make a few purchases of stocks without first building up a nest egg of savings. Hence when some unforeseen emergency arises, they find they must part with their investments either at a loss or before the maximum profit potential is realized.

My second principle, therefore, is to carefully build up a savings fund as a reserve for a rainy day. Many young people today find it hard to save anything, but sensible budgeting and steadfast resistance against indiscriminate spending can produce surprising results.

A gradual but persistent accumulation of savings, moreover, will provide you with funds to pick up good stocks when the market is low. Most investors could achieve greater investment gains if only they had the patience to store up reserves to invest when bargains appear.

EARNING A LIVING

In times such as this, when the stock market has had a prolonged rise, it is easy for investors to expect quick and large profits. All too often the stock market is viewed as a medium for supplementing an income. I cannot stress enough that your livelihood and the foundation for financial independence lie in the building of a good career which will produce a higher level of income over the years.

By and large, the wealthy people I have met in my lifetime did not build their fortunes by speculating in the stock market. Rather, they speculated on themselves more valuable to their employers. As their earning capacity grew, they were able to channel their surplus funds into wise investments and thus compound their financial progress.

INVESTING VERSUS TRADING

Most readers lack the training, experience, temperament and time to make a success of trading in the stock market. On a short-swing basis, it is difficult to spot the turning points of the market and of individual stocks and to "pick winners." The average investor attempting to trade the market will more often than not find him-upward, the resultant prosperity shows up at once in big turnover gains in out retail outlets. We are seeing such a situation at the present time, and I think we will continue to see mounting retail sales at least well into 1965.

BETTER GAINS EXPECTED

Business executives closest to the retail scene look for stores, on the whole, to chalk up gains over a year ago through the autumn months and the holiday buying season. This seems to be reasonable to me since the impact of the tax cut should become stronger, further boosting already favorable business conditions. Some economists expected an immediate upward push to business as soon as the tax-cut bill was passed. My study of the comparable situation in England, however, teaches me that the effects of tax-cutting gain cumulative strength as time goes by.

It is my opinion, therefore, that retailers will not enjoy the full favorable force of the tax cut until the latter months of this year, — and even beyond. My optimism should be justified in looking for the best retail turnover in our history from the end of summer-vacation time until at least early 1965. Inventories on dealer shelves are on the rise, reflecting the high hopes, and I think they will get some sort of record by fall.

Babson Park, Mass. Feeling the pulse of retail trade is one of the surest ways of determining the health of the economy in general. When employment is high, consumer income expanding, public psychology optimistic, and business trending

COMPETITION WILL BE A PROBLEM

The fact that I look for very brisk retail business does not mean that it will be clear sailing for store managers. The competition, already sharp as a razor, will grow even keener. To hold lead positions, store operators will have to make the most of advertising and promotion possibilities; they must use their imagination and ingenuity. Also they will need to give customers much more personal attention and service.

Only the front-runners, the go-getters, will manage to keep their "take" well above 1963 levels during the remainder of this year. Super-markets will have a rough time outdoing their year-ago totals, particularly where they have expanded too rashly into houses; many of these have gone out on limbs that may not be able to hold them up too long under the weight of the bitter rivalry that exists. It is my feeling that many discounters will founder in the period ahead, and that the field will eventually narrow to perhaps a dozen or so soundly operated chains.

GOOD MARKETS FOR QUALITY PRODUCTS

Executives of retail organizations should keep in mind that today's buyers are probably more willing than ever to buy high-quality goods, big-tag items. It is certainly true that consumer tastes are being raised through superior education and more prosperous conditions. Spendable money is exceptionally plentiful in most parts of the country, and buyer resistance is low in the face of superior wares. Luxury merchandise is already moving easily, and the pace may be ever smarter in coming months. The government will surely do everything it possibly can to keep things prosperous until after the November elections.

What stores need to stress is the quality of the goods they offer and of the services they provide. The demand appears to be turning much stronger toward quality and service. It has been a surprise to me, in fact, to learn how far a good many customers will drive to shop at a store where the merchandise is select and the service personal and friendly. This might even indicate a swing back toward the smaller specialty shops. But the principles involved are what every retailer — big or small — can adopt and adapt to his own particular merchandising. I predict that retailing in this country has a bright future, both near term and long term, for those concerns that keep in tune with the times and at least a step ahead of the crowd.
