HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Winters merchants are going to open the 1966 Christmas shopping season in style... with a big whoopeedoo next Thursday, November 17... a wide-awake jamboree... a Moonlight Sale. Most merchants will stay open until 8 p. m. or possibly longer, if the people want it.

In addition to the many bargains to be offered during this Moonlight Sale event, customers will be privileged to participate in one of the biggest series of drawings for merchandise ever to be developed locally. Literally hundreds of dollars in merchandise will be given away. Each participating merchant will conduct his own drawing—therefore, area residents will have more than a few chances to get in on this good thing.

(It has been emphasized that participants in the drawings will not be required to purchase any item in any of the stores to be eligible to win; nor will they be required to be present during the drawing. All that will be required is that participants must register in each place of business taking part in the drawings.)

This Moonlight Sale promises to be the biggest Christmas Season opener ever in Winters, and much enthusiasm has been generated to get it off the ground. The late-closing hour planned by the merchants of Winters for this Moonlight Sale next Thursday is designed to give people who work during the day a chance to take advantage of the many bargains merchants will be offering to open the shopping season. So plan to attend and bring the whole family... and stay until they turn the lights off. You may go home much richer, and you will go home with savings in your pocket afforded by the bargains Winters merchants have to offer. (And remember... Winters merchants are your neighbors and friends! If you discover the item you purchase is not just what you want when you get home, they'll gladly help you... that's a lot more than a lot of "big city" merchants will do, isn't it?)

We'll see you next Thursday night when you come downtown to the big celebration... the big Moonlight Sale!

Occasionally we find an article in another paper which we like to pass on. The following is from the Macon, Ga., News:

The emphasis in safe driving is on acquiring the necessary skills at the wheel, and then being careful. The difficulty is that many drivers have a curiously limited idea as to what constitutes careful driving.

A lot of people who drive consistently ignore two prime elements in careful driving. One is simple courtesy. The other is thoughtful consideration of the other drivers' problems.

A driver may handle his car with exemplary care, yet fail in these two vital respects. He may scrupulously abide traffic laws, holding his speed within the limit, staying in his lane, warning other drivers of his intention in good time; he may stay on the alert, prompt to react in emergency. Yet he may also fail to give way when courtesy though not law demands it, or to hold back when another driver is in difficulty. Unless he keeps in mind the welfare of other drivers, as well as his own, no man can honestly claim to be driving as safely as he should.

After reading where a big union boss had settled with the government by paying 23 cents on the dollar on his back taxes, our old friend who plows the red dirt on Bluff Creek says he'll go Big Uncle one better. Said if they'll let him, he'll settle with them for 50 cents on the dollar; that's 27 cents better than big union boss did.

MARSHA HAYS... BAND SWEETHEART

Marsha Hays Named Sweetheart Of Band At Halftime Program Friday

Marsha Hays, a senior student in Winters High School, was named 1966 Sweetheart of the WHS Blizzards Band during halftime ceremonies at the Winters - Colorado City football game last Friday night. Also, all senior members of the Blizzards Band were recognized during halftime ceremonies.

The Band Sweetheart was elected by secret ballot by members of the band, and the nomination was revealed following the marching exhibition by the Blizzards band.

Miss Hays is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hays. She has been a band member four years, and previous to that was in the Junior High band. Also, she has been a twirler during her high school years, and is drum major this year.

Anson Tigers Due Here Friday Nite

The Winters High School Blizzards will meet the Anson Tigers here Friday night, in the last game of the regular season for both teams, and probably the last game of the entire season.

Going into this last district game, the two teams have identical district records, 3-1, with Anson leading for the season with 7-1 to Winters' 5-3-1. The two teams Friday night will be battling for a position favorable to catching district honors in the unlikely event league-leading Stamford, with a 4-0-1 district record, should falter and drop their contest with low-point Hamlin on the same night.

Both teams are fresh from a district win on the previous Friday night. Winters captured a 32-26 decision over a determined Wolf team from Colorado City, while Anson whipped Hamlin's Pied Pipers 28-13, to keep their positions on the record book.

Winters and Anson played two common adversaries in pre-district tuneups. The Blizzards and the Coleman Bluecats battled to an 8-8 draw; the Tigers and the Bluecats had a 0-0 standoff. Winters dropped their contest to 8-AA Ballinger, while Anson edged Ballinger 2-0.

Both teams have been defeated by Stamford, Anson dropping their game with the Bulldogs 28-7, and Winters losing 6-0. In all other contests in district play, the two teams have come out on top.

In conference play, the Blizzards have crossed and kicked for 96 points while their opponents have racked up 42. Anson has a 63 to 56 points-scored record for district play. In all nine games played, the Winters squad has marked down 128 points to opponents' 92; Anson has a 177 to 71 record for all games. The worst defeat the Tigers have taken this year was at the hands of the Stamford Bulldogs, 28-7; the worst for the Blizzards was the 30-0 loss to Lake View in the opener. Highest scoring game for Winters was the 33-7 win over Hamlin; Anson's highest was their 41-0 win over a Single-A Merkel team; in district, their highest was over Hamlin, 28-13.

ANSON STANDOUTS

Son of Winters Woman Aboard Ship Which Was Clipped By Fire Off V. N.

Kenneth E. Mayben, Seaman Apprentice, Navigation, U. S. Navy, son of Mrs. Nita Mayben of 300 West Dale, Winters, was serving aboard the Aircraft Carrier USS Oriskany off Viet Nam when that ship was damaged by explosions and fire which killed 43 men.

Seaman Mayben was not injured in the explosion or fire. Mayben attended Winters High School his senior year, 1963, and was later employed at Dry Manufacturing Co. before entering the U. S. Navy.

In a letter to his mother, Seaman Mayben described the tragedy aboard the aircraft carrier. His letter, written at 1:40 a. m., Oct. 28, follows:

"I guess you have heard on the news by now about our fire. It looked pretty bad for a while, and most of us never figured we would stay afloat.

"The fire started in an ammo magazine where we keep the flares they use to drop from planes to take pictures. They said there were 640 of them which (exploded) at the same time. You can imagine the heat they put off when only one of them will light up the sky for several miles.

"The whole ship was full of smoke. They sounded the fire alarm at 6:50 in the morning. I had just got off work at 6:00 and had been in bed about 10 minutes. I jumped up and started putting on my clothes. Then they sounded 'General quarters, general quarters! All hands man your battle stations!' I had my pants on by them so I grabbed my shower shoes and headed for the emergency steering room, which is my battle station. We usually just call it 'after sterine' since it is in the back part of the ship. Our purpose is to steer the ship if the bridge loses control. They did, about 15 minutes after I got down there, and the steering casualty alarm, which is a siren in after steering, went off. We knew then that the bridge had lost control. So we tried to take control but nothing happened.

"For about five minutes the ship was fishtailing through the water and spinning around. We finally got control and steered down there for about four and a half hours, taking orders from the bridge as to which way to turn.

"Then they sounded 'Man overboard' three times in about a 25-minute period. One officer and three enlisted men had jumped overboard when they got trapped by the fire. Some others weren't so lucky. Thirty-five officers and eight enlisted men died in the fire. The reason so many officers were killed is because the place where the officers sleep is right over the magazine that blew up. Most of the officers were still asleep. Some woke up when the flares exploded and made it out. It didn't take but about a minute for that fire to spread so bad that the others couldn't get out.

"Right now we have the 43 bodies down here in the reefers where I work, keeping them under refrigeration until they can be flown back to the States.

"They pushed about eight planes and two helicopters over the side during the fire, plus several hundred bombs.

"Everyone is pretty sure we will be heading back for the States in a few days as soon as they can get a clearance."

Mayben had been in Viet Nam waters about 12 weeks.

George Beard, principal of the Winters Elementary School, is director of the project. He said that 24 pupils had already been registered for next summer's program, which will begin June 12 and continue through August 4. Other parents of children who will be eligible to attend classes under the program have been urged to contact the director and register the pupils. Beard said next summer's program will accommodate 45 pupils, as it now is planned.

According to rules from the Federal Bureau directing the Head Start program, at least half of the members of the policy advisory committee should be made up of parents of pupils who will receive training under the program.

Members of the committee, named Monday night, include Harvey Dale Jones, Walter C. Probst Sr., Mrs. Isidro Lopez Jr., Mrs. Elease D. Williams, Mrs. Beatrice Arispe, Mrs. Nadine De La Cruz, Mrs. Louise Gibbs, and Mrs. L. A. Drake.

Some Paving To Be Done On City's Streets

Street paving contractors will begin work within a few days on several small projects in Winters, according to Winters Mayor W. M. Hays.

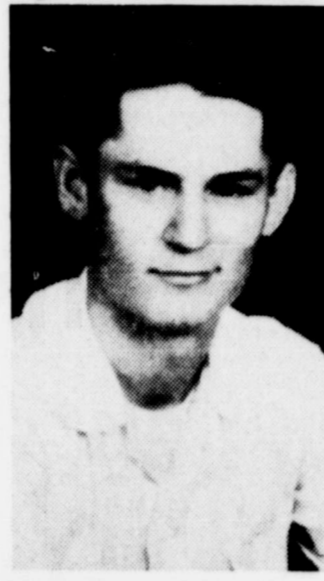

Property owners who wish to have streets, parking areas or driveways paved while contractors are in Winters are asked to call the City Secretary for information.

Projects already approved by the City Council include: Part of the 200 Block of East Broadway, and a block of Grant Street, between Broadway and Wood streets.

Approaches to the new bridge on State Street. Portion of a block on State Street, intersecting with a portion of a block on South Arlington.

City officials also expressed the hope that a block on North Crver, from Trait north to Pierce, can be paved during this program.

Advisory Group Named For Local Head Start Plan

Eight people were named to a policy advisory committee to work with the Head Start program in the Winters school next summer, at a meeting in the high school auditorium Monday night.

The policy advisory committee will offer suggestions for administration of the program, which is designed to prepare children of underprivileged families for entering school. The committee also will act as liaison between the families and the project administrators and with the public.

At the meeting, attended by parents of children who will be included in the project, and others, Mrs. J. B. Whitlow, director of nutritional services for the program, and Mrs. Fred Young, director of health services, explained the part their departments will play in administration of the Head Start project.

George Beard, principal of the Winters Elementary School, is director of the project. He said that 24 pupils had already been registered for next summer's program, which will begin June 12 and continue through August 4. Other parents of children who will be eligible to attend classes under the program have been urged to contact the director and register the pupils. Beard said next summer's program will accommodate 45 pupils, as it now is planned.

Literary, Service Club To Hold Turkey Dinner

The Literary and Service Club of Winters will have a turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, Friday evening, Nov. 11, at the school cafeteria. Serving will begin at 5:30 p. m. and continue until 7 p. m.

The money raised by this dinner will be used to help finance several community projects in which the club is interested, including the Winters Public Library, Runnels County Retarded Children Association, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Easter Seals, Muscular Dystrophy, West Texas Rehabilitation Center, the Heart and Cancer Funds.

Runnels County Goes For Tower

In Tuesday's General Election, 2024 Runnels county electors followed the route taken by most of Texas' voters, to send Republican Senator John Tower back to Washington, defeating Democrat Waggoner Carr.

In the county, Sen. Tower received 1198 votes while Carr polled 825.

The two Winters precincts showed the same leaning toward Tower, but not so pronounced, with the Senator receiving 146 and Carr 136 in Precinct 26, and Tower receiving 119 and Carr 100 in Precinct 7. Vote count in Precinct 7 was 226, and in Precinct 26, 286.

Governor John Connally, Democrat, received 1477 votes in the county, while 410 ballots were cast for the Republican candidate for governor, T. E. Kennedy.

Candidates for county and district office had no opposition, and were re-elected. Democrat candidates for all other offices, congressional districts and state districts carried the county without opposition.

There was some difference in the way Runnels countyans voted on the 16 Constitutional Amendments and the statewide result, according to unofficial returns. Runnels County voted in the following manner for the amendments:

1. Against: State, For (incomplete returns).
2. Against: State, For.

Moonlight Sale Next Thursday

Winters merchants will give away and award more than $2900 during this year's Christmas season program which is being promoted by the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately half that amount will be given away in drawings during the big Moonlight Sale next Thursday night, November 17. As of Wednesday morning of this week, 36 businesses were listed as planning to participate in the individual drawings which will spotlight the Moonlight Sale, and will give merchandise valued from $5.00 to more than $100 to customers who register in their stores. It was expected that others may announce participation before the week is over.

Most every business in Winters will remain open until 8 p. m. for the Moonlight Sale event next Thursday, for the convenience of shoppers, and will offer outstanding money-saving specials on merchandise. Each business participating in the drawings will conduct their own drawings, and shoppers will be asked to register at each business for the merchandise to be given away.

It has been stressed that in the many drawings to be held, no one will be required to be present at the drawings in order to win. Time of each drawing has been left to the individual merchant conducting the drawing.

The Moonlight Sale next Thursday is the first of a series of events planned by Winters businesses to promote the Christmas shopping season. The big Christmas parade will be held December 3, and another Moonlight Sale and drawings will be held December 22. About $650 will be awarded in cash prizes to winners in the parade and in Christmas season home decoration contests.

The many individual drawings to be conducted by merchants will replace the one big drawing which has been sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in past years. Thus, shoppers who register will have many chances to win merchandise or cash.

Winters Library Will Be Open Thursday Night

The Winters Public Library will be open until 8 p. m. Thursday night, November 17, during the city-wide Moonlight Sale event.

Miss Myra Glover, librarian, said the library will remain open on this one night for the convenience of patrons who will be in town for the first pre-Christmas event in Winters.

The librarian invites everyone to visit the library during the Moonlight event.

WINGATE

Mail To Overseas Servicemen Will Be Sent By Air

All first class mail, personal sound recordings (voice letters) and parcels 5 pounds or less and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be airtel on a space available basis between the United States and all military post offices overseas, Winters Postmaster Rankin Pace has announced.

Also, under Public Law 89-725, the Dulski Military Mail Act, which was signed by President Johnson November 2, second class publications such as newspapers and magazines published weekly or more often, and featuring current news of interest to the military, will be airtel from San Francisco to the armed forces serving in Viet Nam.

Postmaster Pace explained that parcels weighing 5 pounds or less and not exceeding 60 inches in length and girth combined, paid at surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States from the points of mailing to the port of embarkation.

To speed up separation and delivery of these smaller parcels falling within this category, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien directed that all parcels be clearly marked upon acceptance at the post office with the letters SAM (surface airtel mail).

This will eliminate the task of reweighing and measuring the parcels at the San Francisco Concentration Center prior to dispatch to Viet Nam or other overseas military post offices.

Postmaster Pace also reminded mailers that Christmas parcels weighing 5 pounds and under, though they are given airtel priority from San Francisco to Viet Nam on a space available basis, should be mailed no later than December 10. Airmail, he said, should be sent no later than December 10.

The deadline for Christmas packages weighing more than 5 pounds going to Viet Nam and other overseas military post offices by surface means is November 10.

Winters Blizzards Hit Colorado City 32-26 in Cliff-Hanger Here Last Friday

The Winters Blizzards opened up a high powered offensive attack to defeat the Colorado City Wolves 32-26 last Friday night. Each team held the lead twice before the Blizzards moved in front for the third time to win. The game looked like another defensive battle as the Wolves were unable to move after taking the opening kickoff. But then things began to move when the Blizzards took the ball.

Alvin Dunn and Jerry Awalt ground out yards and Dunn passed to Johnny Powers, moving the ball 60 yards in all. Dunn carried over from 5 yards out. Fred Gray's extra point attempt hit the goal post and bounced away leaving the score 6-0.

After holding Colorado City and forcing another punt the Blizzards were goal-bound again. They moved 55 yards downfield with Dunn rambling in once more from 6 yards out. An attempted pass for 2 points from Dunn to Randy Boles was no good and the Blue led 12-0 early in the second quarter.

Suddenly lightning struck. Wolves' quarterback Glenn Nix hit his end Riley Tiley who had a step or two on Ronnie Gray and he got to the one-yard line before Dunn brought him down. Nix carried over on the next play. The attempted pass for 2 points was broken up.

Things continued to look up for Colorado City when the Wolves recovered their kickoff but Ronnie Gray turned the tables by intercepting Nix's pass on the 15 yard line. The Blizzards couldn't move the ball and a short punt by George Mostad gave the Wolves the ball deep in Blue territory. They drove over for the tying score on a 10-yard pass from Nix to Dan Steakley. Their extra point was good and the Wolves led 13-12 at halftime.

The Blizzards came back strong after intermission and in four plays were ahead again. Jerry Awalt made the 55-yard scoring play. Once again the extra point was no good and the Winters team was ahead 18-13.

The lead was short-lived as the Blizzards racked up a total of 40 yards in penalties to aid Colorado City in their march downfield. Higginbotham blasted across for the 6-pointer and the extra point made the scoreboard read 20-18.

Late in the third quarter Dunn put the Blue back on top as he went over from one yard out. The Blizzards had marched 60 yards on runs by Dunn and passes to Johnny Powers and Fred Wilder. The extra point attempt failed and it was 24-20.

Late in the fourth quarter Dunn made the final tally as he made a twisting, driving 25-yard run. Several times he seemed to be down but each time he bounced back and kept going. His pass to Terry Rives was good for 2 points and the Blizzards held a seemingly safe 32-20 lead.

But back came the Wolves to score minutes later on an 83-yard pass and run play from Nix to Steakley. The try for two was broken up but the Wolves trailed by only 6.

The Blizzards captured the on-side kick but drove for only one first down before surrendering the ball to Colorado City.

On first down, Alvin Dunn intercepted a pass to regain possession of the ball for the Blizzards. From there time ran out. The scoreboard clock was out of order almost the entire fourth quarter and this served to add to the suspense since no one knew exactly how much time remained.

Alvin Dunn and Jerry Awalt led the offense which scored every time they entered their opponents' end of the field. These drives carried totals of 60, 55, 60, 65 and 50 yards. Dunn had a total of 171 yards including 85 rushing and 86 passing. Awalt had 108 yards rushing. The Blizzards made 19 first downs.

On defense the entire line

Around The 5-AA Loop

Friday night's games in three cities will wind up regular conference play for 5-AA contestants. . . with not one but two teams presently looking down the throat of the leader of the league, Stamford.

Stamford must keep going this week, or have the crown snatched from them by the winner of the Winters-Anson game. Stamford has a 3-0-1 record for district play; Winters and Anson each have a 3-1-0 score. So . . . if the Bulldogs should falter and fall this week against Hamlin. . .

Colorado City, Hamlin and Haskell have already been written off.

But the situation could not really be called a "cliff hanger" — Stamford is expected to easily knock off Hamlin Friday night, thus causing the Winters-Anson contest to be the deciding factor in picking the second and third-place teams in the district. But . . . greater upsets have been known to happen in the past, and after all this is schoolboy football! (But it isn't expected to happen this year in 5-AA).

Last week's Winters-Colorado City game in Blizzards stadium was the suspense-filled contest of the week. Not until the final play of the game was completed was the outcome of the game concrete. The Blizzards hit the Wolves 32-26. . . but with each team laying it on the line, it could have been either direction. Statistics show that Winters out-rushed C-City, 208 to 95, and were behind in the air 86-182. From the beginning it was evident that the game would be a high-scoring affair—the Blizzards scored the first two times they had the ball. But the Wolves seemed capable of returning the compliment just about anytime. Then to make matters more suspenseful, the electric clock which was being used for official time went on the blink, so time had to be kept on the field. After the four-minute signal was given by the officials, fans swore that at least 15 minutes passed before for their last game. Hamlin went to Anson with a 1-2 score for district play; and came away with a 1-3. Anson ended up with that reversed, 3-1, and a chance at a final decision this week. Anson gained 227 on the ground to Hamlin's 155, but the Pipers were way out ahead in the air, 75 to 5. First downs were close, 12-11 tipped toward the winners. Hamlin's Sammy Ferguson scampered 98 yards on a kick-off return for the spectacular of the night. The extra point put them within 2 points of the Tiggers, who had previously upheld a TD with a 37-yard field goal. Final, 28-13.

Most of the questions have been answered this season. . . except the final one. But the outcome is predictable, because of past action. Fans at Stamford and fans at Winters this Friday night will keep an open ear for results of the "other" game. About 9:30 or 10:00 Friday night, we'll really know what happens!

The Blizzards haven't been publicized as an "offensive" team this year—but look at the district standings:

	W	L	T	Pts	Opp
Stamford	3	0	1	59	19
Winters	3	1	0	96	42
Anson	3	1	0	63	56
C-City	1	2	1	83	70
Hamlin	1	3	0	45	103

Library Group Attends Meet

By Cecelia Chambliss
 Five members of the Winters High School Library Club attended a District meeting in Abilene on October 29, in Mann Junior High.

They heard two real authors speak, had fine entertainment, and were served a very pleasing lunch. After lunch they attended a short business meeting.

Members who attended this meeting were: Sally Spill, Sylvia Tinney, Martha Porter, Theresa Emmert, and Cecelia Chambliss, sponsor, Mrs. Christian.

The Importance of Sincerity

What is sincerity? Is it just going down the halls and saying "hi" to everyone you meet?

The dictionary defines sincerity as honesty of mind or intention, freedom from simulation, hypocrisy or disguise of false pretense. Yes, the word really goes farther. To me, it means smiling because you wish to smile, being nice to people you like, and want to like you, or defending someone you respect when other people belittle him.

Is it sincerity when you "talk about or make fun" of someone when to their face you are very friendly? How does this act help anyone? It only assures anyone that you have no true friends. When the friends you have are with another group, they will talk about you. In the process of the disguise you have probably made a few devout enemies. Therefore how will hypocrisy promote you?

Another familiar form of insincerity is being friendly to everyone when you really do not care. Why waste the effort to be friends with people you care nothing about. Why be friends of one who is insincere? You only suffer by being hurt by them.

The truly popular person is sincere. They do not need to make a hypocrite of themselves by being friendly or nice and really not caring.

A Tribute

"Around the World Under the Sea"

Filmed in Panavision and Metrocolor around the world from the Great Barrier Reefs of Australia to the Bahamas and the ocean waters off the coast of Florida, "Around the World Under the Sea," new Ivan Tors production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is a spellbinding drama highlighted by unremitting excitement and explosive action.

The unusual deep sea adventure-drama revolves about a group of specialized scientists who make a submarine expedition to the most dangerous spots in the Seven Seas to imbed sonar devices in the ocean floor, along giant faults in the earth's crust, and over cones of volcanos in order to give warning of seaquakes and subsequent tidal waves.

"Torn Curtain"

For his 50th motion picture, Alfred Hitchcock is at his frighteningly finest in "Torn Curtain," co-starring Paul Newman and Julie Andrews. The Technicolor thriller, a Universal Picture, comes Saturday night to the State Theatre.

It's the story of Paul Newman, in a role that blends both the hero and anti-hero, as an American scientist who in order to complete a project on which he is working for the United States must trick information from the brain of a scientist in an unfriendly country, Julie Andrews, as his secretary and fiancée, who, for security reasons, cannot be let in on the plan, adds to the complications by unwittingly tagging along.

State Capital Highlights— Education Board Recommends Addition Of Kindergartens

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Addition of kindergartens to the public schools will be a major school proposal in the 1967 session of the Legislature.

State Board of Education has recommended it. Texas State Teachers Association feels it is vital to public education, and will support the board's position.

Expanding the public school system to 13 grades is advocated by educators on the ground that children learn more quickly at age 5, and simply because more education is needed for this complicated world. It would, of course, increase the cost of public schools by one-twelfth, at both state and local levels.

School teachers will press for a pay raise to lift Texas salary levels to the national average, but will let the Board of Education carry the ball on the kindergarten proposal.

SCHOOL COST RECORD
Last year's price of $647,516, 534 for the minimum operation of Texas public schools set a record, but State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar says the "minimum foundation fund" will be even greater this year—$667,857,000.

Fund, which is distributed according to the needs of the school district and its average daily attendance, draws its resources from two state sources: the available school fund, including a fourth of all occupation taxes by the state, and other revenues.

Of last year's total, $123,439,886 was furnished by the school districts themselves, and the rest by the state. Figures do not include federal aid.

EAST TEXAS OIL
Railroad Commission has been given proposals by five oil companies for changing the method of allocating oil allowances in the East Texas Field to eliminate what the companies said was discrimination.

Atlantic Richfield, Mobil, Sun, Cities Service and Superior oil companies all put forth widely different plans to eliminate both inequities within the field between marginal and profitable wells and inequities between the East Texas Field and other fields in the state.

City of Kilgore, Kilgore Chamber of Commerce and other local governmental bodies oppose all changes.

HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION
"Texas faces the prospect of losing about $20,000,000 a year in federal highway funds," Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said, if it does not conform fully with the federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965.

Smith pointed out that, in writing the Act, the federal government included a 10 per cent penalty in federal aids to states that do not cooperate fully with the provisions of the new law. State must fulfill its part by seeing that billboards and other outdoor advertising are moved back 600 feet from interstate and federal-state highways. Garbage dumps and junkpiles can be no closer than 1,000 feet. This would involve approximately 17,000 miles of Texas highways.

TOURIST DEVELOPMENT TALKS

"Imagination: Dare to Use It" will be the theme of the second annual Governor's Tourist Development Conference Nov. 22 in Austin. Gov. John Connally will head the participants.

Experts in various fields of tourist development and tourist promotion will meet with delegates to the conference, along with administrators of Six Flags Over Texas and San Antonio's HemisFair '68.

SCREWWORMS DECLINE

Screwworm epidemic in Texas appears headed for an end. Only 97 cases were confirmed to the Animal Health Commission during the week of October 22-28, compared to 197 three weeks before, at the height of the infestation.

Dr. S. B. Walker, executive director of the commission, said the geographic area of the epidemic seems to be narrowing, too. Most serious areas are in Dimmitt, Val Verde and Maverick Counties. At the crest of the infestation, the southwest one-third of the state was involved.

BUILDING PERMITS DECREASE

Estimated value of building permits issued in Texas during September showed a sizable decrease from August's, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Declines both in residential and non-residential permits accounted for the fall of a seasonally adjusted 23 per cent from Austin and 11 per cent from September, 1965, the bureau said.

Of Texas' six largest cities, Fort Worth showed the most total, non-farm construction during September, $17,060,277, but Houston was right behind at $16,978,031. Dallas' figure was $15,151,973. Austin, El Paso and San Antonio were far behind.

EQUAL VALUES ASKED

State Board of Education will urge the Legislature to take action toward equalizing land values among all 254 Texas counties for property tax purposes.

Values now vary from five to 100 per cent of what the property actually sells for, according to Board member Paul Greenwood of Harlingen. Greenwood had unsuccessfully sought to substitute assessed valuations for the complex "economic index" used to figure local fund assignments of minimum foundation school program costs.

In separate action with implications for many districts, the board held that the Rio Hondo schools cannot withhold report cards and transcripts from students who do not pay special fees.

Board ordered Texas Education Agency to make a study to find out just what fees districts are charging students for such things as locker services, towels and soap in physical training classes.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas will receive $724,557 in federal funds to assist in the improvement of Stephen F. Austin State Park in Austin County, Bastrop State Park in Bastrop County and Palo Duro State Park near Amarillo in Randall County.

State Bar of Texas has produced a bill for the 60th Legislature which will clarify and expand the rights of married women. Revisions are part of a project to change and codify all the family laws of Texas into an organized Family Code.

The reason the way of the transgressor is hard is because it is so crowded.

It has been said that 10 per cent of the fishermen catch 90 per cent of the fish.

Have you ever wondered why so few are in this select circle of successful anglers?

Of course there are many reasons. The successful fisherman is studious. He learns all he can about the sport. He is tenacious. He goes fishing regularly. He is curious and observant. And he's also versatile. He is not married to one idea or system. He's always trying something new.

Recently the Austin American Statesman staged a free fishing clinic in the Capital City. This clinic featured expert fishermen who spoke on various phases of the sport. Everything was covered, from catching bass to catching crappies, catfish and whites. Also, many of the salt-water species. Every panalist, regardless of the kind of fish he was discussing, stressed the importance of experimentation for successful fishing.

For example, if a man fishes assiduously for a couple of hours and doesn't catch anything, chances are he is doing something wrong. So, the panalists suggested he do something different.

They reason that since the present system is not producing—then anything else that he tried could not be worse. It was their contention that if you keep moving about, fishing different spots, and changing your techniques, you just might stumble onto the secret that will put fish on the stringer at this particular time.

It still amazes me how many casual fishermen go onto a lake, pick out a likely looking area, stop there and fish for a couple of hours, then head in dejectedly and proclaim that the fish are not biting. Many of these anglers are amazed when other people bring in fish. They can't understand why they too did not succeed.

In deer hunting, for example, it is recognized that deer are found in some places but not others at different times of the day. During the heat of the day you'd look for deer in brushy, cool areas, not out on open exposed prairies.

Just as deer are not found every place in a pasture, fish are not spread over an entire lake. There are just a few places where the fish are concentrated. The angler who discovers such a spot and finds the fish cooperating will catch fish. It is as simple as this.

Thus the wise fisherman moves about. He tries one area for a spell and if there is no action, he moves on. On the other hand, if he is drifting a shoreline and picks up a bass in one spot, he should reverse himself and hit that place again. Very likely there are many fish in this one limited locale.

This is a good practice to follow when fishing for crappie, bass, bream, catfish or white bass. It is particularly true of school fish such as crappies and white bass. Where you catch one of them you'll usually take several.

Maybe you are plugging for bass and you are trying a top-water lure. Nothing is tempted by your offerings. Then try a shallow-running bait. If this doesn't produce, try a deep-running plug or plastic worm which operates near the bottom. Also try different colors!

If the shoreline shallows are not producing, move into deeper waters. Fish the sloughs and coves. Then try the points sticking out into the lake. Work your bait slow, then medium-speed, then fast. Maybe a change in motion of the lure might prompt fish into biting.

Be thinking all the time. Be observant. If you catch one fish, remember what you were doing at the time. Keep trying this technique. Probably it will produce again.

But if not, don't stick with it endlessly just because it paid off once. Don't be afraid to change, to try new ideas, different techniques.

Fish change their habits all the time. The smart fisherman changes his to keep pace with them.

Roger Babson Says America Sincerely Trying To End Viet Nam War Honorably

Babson Park, Mass. There is nothing President Johnson would rather have than an end to the Vietnam war. For a very long time, his Administration has been genuinely working toward such a happy goal. But in recent weeks the behind-the-scenes tempo of end-the-war activity has been greatly stepped up. It is reported that more concessions to the enemy have been made than at any time in the past year. So insistent has the "peace offensive" become that we feel it is time to ask ourselves: "What if peace comes?"

History Never The Same

When World War II ended, analysts freely predicted that business would suffer a quick boom, to be followed by a deep, but short depression. Many are still waiting for that depression. Behind this belief is a quick postwar up-and-down move in the economy was the historical record after World War I.

But in the years since 1945 history has not repeated itself. The well-remembered pattern of 1918-1920 still stands alone in this century. The failure of the quick boom, quick bust sequence to develop after World War II has been explained by economists as the result of superior direction and handling of our financial and business machine by an enlightened government. But perhaps there are other more fundamental reasons.

Important Differences

Although those of us who remember World War I think of it as having been a titanic struggle, actually it did not compare in magnitude or length of time with the second world war. Of course we had been busy for some time furnishing our later allies with food and weapons; but we did not declare war until April 1917, and the armistice came 19 months afterward.

Another important difference was the nature of our over-all economy at that time, contrasted with its nature a quarter-century later. The U. S. was not nearly so highly industrialized. Farming was still a major activity for the nation; the emphasis was on food. Speculation in grains and farm lands was heavy. But consumer goods did not play so big a part in the lives of the people as they did in the next world war. There was neither the fabric nor the time to build what later came to be known as pent-up demands. . . consumer needs that would be satisfied when the guns fell silent.

Post Vietnam

If the Viet war should suddenly stop, the nation would be facing a set of circumstances quite different from those that obtained after World War II. Although the number of U. S. soldiers in South Vietnam is already greater than the forces sent to Korea, we have had a minimum of government interference with our economy. Only "Jawbone" tactics have been used to control prices and wages. Look around you. . . who among your neighbors (who has had the desire and the price) has been unable to get a car, refrigerator, or any other hard goods?

As a matter of fact, all-time peaks in the output of civilian goods have been reached while our military effort has been steadily rising in Southeast Asia. There has been butter aplenty. . . even if some feel that not enough emphasis has been put on guns. This surely means that if peace should come tomorrow, there would be no massive pent-up demand for civilian goods (such as existed in 1945).

What To Look For

If the war in the Far East gets hotter, we still may have to ration butter to get the needed guns. But if peace should come earlier than many now expect, the changeover in our economy could be more disruptive than in 1945. Defense industries would find no great surge in demand from consumer-goods industries to offer a quick job shelter.

The Ancient Mariner would not have taken so well if it had been called "The Old Sailor."

1918 VETERANS DAY 1966

On Veterans Day we honor the heroic ones who gave their lives for their country. It is also an occasion to remember how much we owe to the more than 20 million men and women who have been—or who are now—in military service.

It has been a constant struggle to preserve the liberty which we so highly value. It is threatened by sinister forces from without and by subversive forces from within which work slowly but which bring destruction just as surely.

We must fight to keep principles and ideals which made this country great. It is a battle in which each one may do his part.
