Visitors To Texas Spent More Than $1 Billion Last Year, For Record

Expenditures by a record-breaking number of automobile visitors to Texas last year topped $1 billion for the first time, the Texas Highway Department has reported.

The Department's annual survey showed a record-breaking 116.6 million visitors toured the State's highways by automobile. Significance of the automobile to travel is underlined by U. S. Bureau of the Census figures that indicate that 86 percent of all travel in the U. S. is by automobile.

Estimates gathered by the Texas Tourist Council, representing the private sector of the travel industry in Texas, indicate that another 5.9 million travelers arrived by commercial carriers—planes, trains or buses—and spent an estimated $467.5 million in the State.

The combined $1.5 billion impact in visitor spending marked the third straight billion-dollar-plus year for the Texas travel industry.

The Highway Department figures show an increase of 9.1 percent in the number of auto visitors over the previous year, and a gain of 25.8 percent in the amount of money spent while in Texas.

The increase is still more significant in that the 18.2 thousand visitor parties surveyed by the Highway Department during the year reported more money was spent last year for entertainment and retail sales than ever in history.

Data on automobile visitors for the upcoming Highway Department travel report was developed from 18,222 questionnaires completed by visitors to Texas after they returned home. In addition, regularly scheduled visual traffic counts were conducted by Highway Department personnel. The survey shows: Almost 16.6 million tourists, representing a 9.1 percent increase over 1967, came by automobile from out of State last year. Travel parties averaged three persons, and they stayed 5.74 days. Just over 33 percent reported they were visiting Texas for the first time.

These motorists spent more than $1 billion dollars, a whopping 25.8 percent increase over spending of the previous year. More than half listed vacation as their primary purpose for coming to the State. Another 28 percent came to visit friends and families. Some 12 percent reported they came for business reasons, including conventions and combination business and vacation trips.

The typical travel party drove a total of 1,199 miles within Texas borders in 1968, one-fourth of their total vacation miles. While 72 cents of the travel dollar went for automobile expenses, lodging and food, 28 cents was spent on entertainment and incidentals.

More than 92 percent of those making comments on the questionnaires indicated they were favorably impressed by Texas.

B. W. Parramore Died Thursday, Funeral On Friday

Billy Warren Parramore, 44, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. W. Parramore, early Thursday morning of last week. He apparently died of a heart attack. Justice of the Peace Ray Heathcott ruled death was from natural causes.

Parramore had been visiting in the home of his mother for several days.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Friday from Spill Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Glenn Bowman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Billy Warren Parramore was born in Winters Jan. 27, 1925. He graduated from Winters High School in 1942 and attended John Tarleton College at Stephenville until he entered the service in the early part of 1944.

Following his discharge from the service after World War II, he farmed in the Winters area until about five years ago when he moved to Corpus Christi where he made his home until his death.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his mother; one brother, R. C. Parramore of Winters; and two sisters, Mrs. Richard Bauer of Winters and Mrs. Harold Teal of Lovington, New Mexico.

Pallbearers were Jim Williams, Lawrence Chapman, Hally Schwartz, Weldon Munzinger, Billy Joe Robinson and Morris Robinson.

Taxpayers Are Reminded of New Tax Surcharge

There is good evidence that some Texas taxpayers are having trouble in computing their surtax charge on their 1968 income tax returns. As a matter of fact, an average of 1211 taxpayers (1-3 of all taxpaying assistance calls) call IRS each day with some sort of surtax charge problem. About half of these taxpayers feel the Internal Revenue Service is charging them the surtax twice — once through withholding and again when they pay their tax. (Actually the tax form gives credit for all taxes withheld and IRS refunds any extra tax, whether regular or surtax, when the annual accounting is made by the taxpayer on his tax form.) An average of 32 taxpayers come to local IRS offices to have their surtax figures checked. This is 7 percent of taxpayer visitors.

Ellis Campbell Jr., district director, points out that North Texas taxpayers, in contrast to reports from other sections, have made comparatively few errors on figuring the surtax charge on tax returns already processed by the computer. Less than 1 percent made a surtax charge error.

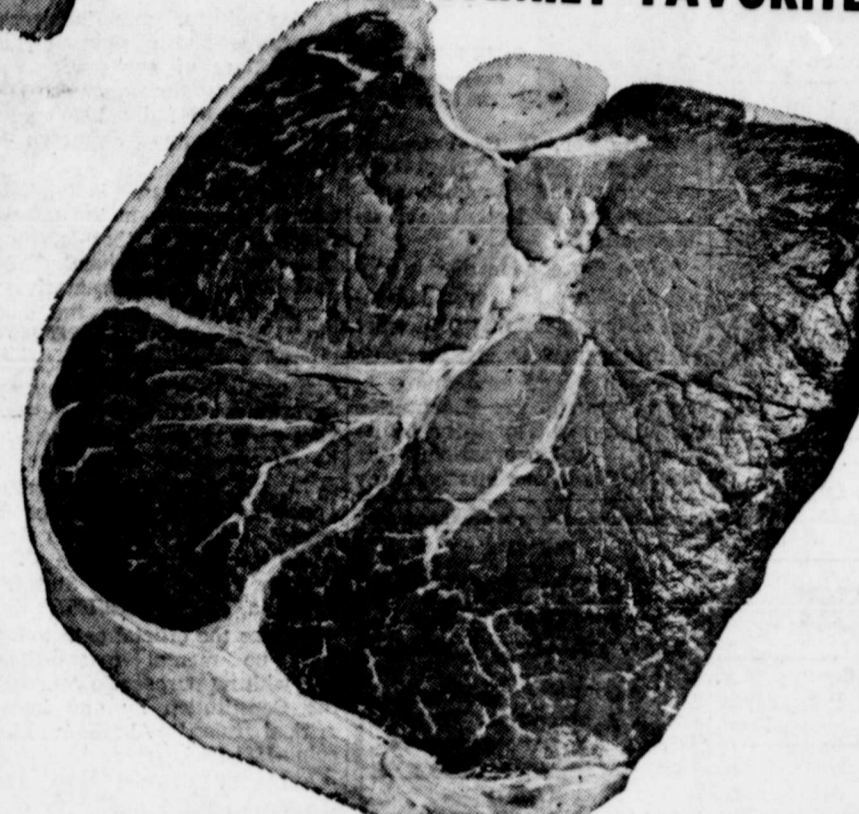

There is a direct relation between the very large number of telephone calls from taxpayers on how to compute the surtax charge, and the low error rate in tax returns processed by the computer. Campbell stated that "In North Texas we have emphasized that taxpayers should carefully follow their line-by-line instructions in preparing their tax return and in computing the tax they owe. Over the years we have offered to check their figures for them or to answer their questions when they get 'stumped.' When we help thousands of people on the same problem and the percentage of errors is comparatively low, it is obvious that taxpayers in our area are doing a good job." The surtax errors come from two sources: (1) Some taxpayers forget to add the surcharge to their regular tax, and (2) Some taxpayers fail to follow the complex instructions and make an error in computing the surtax.

The tax surcharge on 1968 income amounts to 7½ percent of the taxpayer's regular tax. For example, if a person's tax was $1,000 before the surcharge, it would be $1,075 with the surcharge taken into account. Although the surcharge is generally described as a 10 percent tax, it did not become effective until April 1, 1968. To simplify calculations for taxpayers, Congress specified that taxpayers pay 7½ percent of the tax on all of their 1968 income rather than 10 percent of the tax on income earned after April 1, 1968. Campbell emphasized that taxpayers should read the instructions carefully. The tax surcharge is explained in both the 1040 and 1040A Instructions.

Fire, Unlimited
Burning trash in his back yard Harold took note of the fact that the grass was dry and the breeze was blowing. So when the fire had died down, he stomped around the edges and snuffed up the embers with his toe.

But, though Harold didn't know it, the fire smoldered on. During the evening it spread to a neighbor's garage and burned it down. And in due course the neighbor filed suit for damages.

"But I really did try to put the fire out," Harold protested at the trial.

Nevertheless the court held him liable, blaming him for not taking greater precautions—such as throwing dirt or water on the embers to make sure they were out.

"Always and everywhere since the beginning of civilization," said one judge, "fire has been regarded as a dangerous as well as a beneficent agency, to be handled with care."

That doesn't mean the person who starts a fire is automatically liable for everything that goes amiss.

Thus a farmer who was tending a brush fire—with every reasonable safeguard — was held not liable when a sudden, ferocious wind spread the flames to his neighbor's land. Pointing out that the farmer had done nothing wrong, the court said he could not fairly be blamed for an "act of God."

"Danger invites rescue. The wrong that imperils life is a wrong to the imperiled victim; it is a wrong also to his rescuer."

Information Is Needed When Applying for SS

At the beginning of each year, thousands of people apply for their retirement payments. Social Security helps them to apply, but those who bring complete information with them usually get their payments first, according to Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager in San Angelo.

What information should you bring? Moellering suggests the following: For proof of your age, bring your original birth certificate or baptismal certificate. If you don't have one, or if your birth certificate was recorded after your fifth birthday, you should bring other records of your age. Such records include old insurance policies, a school record, children's birth certificates showing your age, a poll tax receipt, and your driver's license. Considered more reliable, several of the older records may be combined to prove your age.

A record of last year's earnings is also needed. Moellering said. If you were employed, bring in your W-2 forms. If you were in business for yourself, bring a copy of your last income tax return — Form 1040 and Schedule C (Schedule F for farmers.) If you paid taxes when you filed your tax return, bring the cancelled check or money order stub as proof that your tax return has been filed. Your wife and any children under age 22 or disabled may also be eligible for benefits. You will need the children's birth or baptismal certificates. Your wife should come with you to apply for her benefits, bringing proof of her age if she is at least 62.

Retirement May Begin At Age 62

The traditional retirement age in private industry is age 65. The gold watch is presented at farewell ceremonies, the company pension begins, and social security and Medicare become a part of the person's life. But what if a person wants or needs to retire earlier? Recognizing that for various reasons employment cannot always continue until age 65, social security provides for early retirement at age 62.

Benefits which begin before age 65 are reduced proportionately month by month for each month before age 65. The full reduction at age 62 is 20 percent. However, a person who begins receiving checks at age 62 would be about age 77 before he begins losing money by having taken the smaller amount at age 62 rather than waiting until age 65.

Any person approaching age 62 who is contemplating early retirement or partial retirement, or whose earnings have been rather low in recent years, should get in touch with social security to explore the possibility of getting early retirement insurance payments.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Easter Fashions:
Easter outfits for little girls this spring are frilly and romantic. They're made of ribbons and laces, embroideries, bows and delicate fabrics.

Most call for ordinary machine washing and drying. Mrs. O'Connor says even the gossamer organdies and sheer voils are practical blends of polyesters and other fibers which yield smooth, crisp wrinkle resistance and laundering ease.

The blend of fibers will stay fresh all summer. The line for little girls will follow women's fashions with the return to waistlines, full skirts and special collars.

Grapefruit.
Much of the grapefruit, the red meat variety, now available is from the Rio Grande Valley. It is classed as seedless, although fruit may have a few seeds.

Grapefruit is a bonus fruit: low in calories, rich in Vitamin C, versatile and economical.

To shop for grapefruit, Mrs. O'Connor suggests selecting firm, well-shaped fruit that is heavy for its size. Heavy fruit usually is thin-skinned and juicy, she notes.

Thick skinned and puffy grapefruit usually is less juicy. A slightly pointed stem end on a grapefruit indicate thick skin, she added.

Skin blemishes and discoloration on the outer skin do not affect eating quality, she says.

Grapefruit is commonly sold by size such as 96's, 80's, 40's, 23's or 36's. The number refers to the number of fruit packed in the box or carton. The smaller the number, the larger the grapefruit.

Mrs. O'Connor says medium size grapefruit usually is pre-packaged in 3 and 5 pound film bags and generally the best buy.

Interest Paid May Be Deducted For Income Taxes

Taxpayers itemizing deductions on their Federal income tax returns can deduct interest paid.

As a general rule, interest must be paid before it can be deducted.

The interest must be on a debt for which the taxpayer is legally liable. Interest paid for another person—such as a parent making a mortgage payment for a child—cannot be deducted unless the parent had a legal obligation to make the payment.

To claim interest paid on a mortgage, the taxpayer should keep a record of the interest paid or obtain a statement from the lender.

Loan organization fees or "points" paid for securing a loan, such as a Veteran's Administration loan, are not interest and cannot be deducted. On the other hand, a charge for preparing a mortgage can be deducted as interest.

Condominium apartment owners and tenant-stockholders in cooperatively owned apartments can deduct their share of the interest paid on the mortgage.

Sometimes money is borrowed on a discount basis with the interest subtracted in advance. Generally, taxpayers may not deduct that interest except as proportionate amounts of payments are made.

Interest paid on money borrowed to buy tax-exempt securities or single-premium life insurance cannot be claimed. And subject to certain exceptions, interest may not be deducted on life insurance, endowments, or annuity contracts where there is a systematic borrowing of the increases in cash value.

Interest paid on installment purchases presents no problem when it is separately stated, such as on a bill, or can be definitely determined and proven.

However, some installment plans add a carrying charge instead of interest. Many taxpayers make the mistake of deducting the entire carrying charge instead of just the interest portion.

When carrying charges are assessed, and the interest portion is undeterminable, the taxpayer can deduct lesses of:

- six percent of the average unpaid monthly balance during the year.
- the actual carrying charges for that year.

To use the six percent rule add the unpaid balances on the first of each month and divide by 12 and then multiply by six percent.

To figure the actual carrying charge for the year, divide the total number of monthly payments to be made and multiply this by the number of payments scheduled during the tax year; but the deduction cannot exceed the actual amount of payment made during the year in the case of delinquent installments.

Taxpayers may be called upon to substantiate interest deductions, so good records are a must.

The 46th National Polled Hereford Show and Sale was held last week, February 20-22, in conjunction with the Houston Fat Stock Show.

This spectacular event was hosted by the American Polled Hereford Association and the Texas Polled Hereford Association. The show was held in the Astrohall, a large three-wing 12-acre building located south of the Astrodome.

Johnny Pritchard, representing Winters FFA, did a fine job showing his ten month old junior steer calf, weighing 795 pounds, which placed third on hoof, and went on to step up another notch to second place when his carcass was judged on the rail.

This competition was open to Polled Herefords from all over the United States.

Also this week, 18 barrows and one steer left for the Junior Livestock Show, being held in Houston. In the strongest barrow show ever held, with 2,200 animals entered, Winters FFA will be represented by Mike Smith, Sherrill Alexander, Joe Pritchard, Rodney Faubion, and Dennis McBeth. Bobbie Jean Thompson's Shorthorn steer is also expected to face some stiff competition in the Junior Steer Show.

Andy Griffith, newly ordained minister, faces the many problems of a feud-torn small town congregation in his first church, as well as conflicts in his own family in Universal's Technicolor comedy, "Angel In My Pocket."

"Angel In My Pocket"
One of TV's most famous modern-day sheriffs having completed a highly successful eight years in a program named for him, Andy Griffith comes to the big screen in a hilarious comedy in Technicolor, Universal's "Angel In My Pocket." The fun-fest will show Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. Co-starring are Jerry Van Dyke, in a change of pace role, Kay Medford, Henry Jones, Lee Meriwether, Edgar Buchanan and Gary Collins.

Tailored to fit him by writers Jim Fritzell and Everett Greenbaum, Griffith plays the role of an ex-Marine brick-yard worker who is the head of a family of assorted characters. He has just completed seminary studies and been ordained. "Angel In My Pocket" is the hilarious story of his first ministry to a church in a small mid-western town.

In a way, it's an easy role for Griffith. As the former TV star points out, "I very nearly became a minister in reality, instead of just playing one in a motion picture. I studied for the ministry back in North Carolina before I got started in show business."

Social Security Is Insurance, Not Welfare

Many people think of social security in such terms as, "Oh, that's some benefit the government gives you if you live long enough," according to Ted F. Moellering, local district manager for social security.

To help understand better what social security is, Mr. Moellering briefly explained what it isn't. Social security isn't "some benefit the government gives you if you live long enough." It's not charity; it's not welfare. The government doesn't give you any part of your social security benefits and unless some drastic changes are made in the program, it never will. The only part the government plays in the social security program is to administer.

Social security is a social insurance system. It's compulsory, but aside from this it is based on the same philosophy as other insurance. One pays the equivalent of his premiums, (social security taxes on his wages), as he goes through his working life; his employer matches his payments; and the total is kept in a special trust fund that can only be used for the payment of benefits and operating expenses.

The worker buys four kinds of insurance in paying his social security taxes. These are survivors insurance, disability insurance, retirement benefits, and hospital insurance under Medicare.

Of course, the only kind of benefit one ever wishes to receive is retirement benefits, but it is necessary in planning one's financial future to be aware of the full value of the other three benefits.

If the worker dies he knows in advance that his wife, minor children, and dependent parents have social security protection. If he becomes totally disabled so that he is unable to work, he can count on monthly benefits for himself, his wife, and children. At age 65, Medicare is there to use for his hospital and doctor bills.

Courts Refuse Diaries As Records

Most business expenses still are allowable but in two recent cases, the U. S. Tax Court has refused to accept businessmen's diaries as adequate records of unreimbursed expenses for business entertainment. Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist, sums up the court's ruling: There must be documentary proof or other "sufficient evidence" to support all diary entries covering expenditures of $25 or more. Documentary evidence was held to include receipts and other records showing the amount of the expense, time and place of entertainment, and the business purpose of the expense, she explains.

Tell some people you can't get along without them and before long you can't get along with them.

Automated Billing To Be Used By Lone Star Gas Co.

Beginning March 1, computers will be used to bill customers of Lone Star Gas Co., Marshall Wharton, manager of the Winters office, said this week, and billing dates will be changed for many customers in the Winters, W i n g a t e and Novice areas.

Wharton said that in order to convert billing to data processing machines, it would be necessary to change meter reading dates, and therefore, billing dates. For instance, he said, if a customer has been receiving gas bills on the fifth of the month, he may begin receiving them on the fifteenth of the month, he said.

The area of the town where the customer lives will determine the date that meter is read and bill sent, Wharton said.

There also will be change in the date of the discount offer on the bill, the local manager said, and it may vary from month to month, depending on when weekends and holidays fall during the month.
