HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Without resort to qualifying words or phrases such as "overall," "on the whole," "in spite of," or "regardless of," we join many others in simply stating that we have an unusually wholesome community of young people in the Winters area.

The facts of youthful accomplishment, dedication to purpose, loyalty and initiative, and the near complete lack of deeds and attitudes which would bring and shame and condemnation upon the community, bear this out. Cooperation between the youth and the adult segment of the community indicates an important presence of respect and understanding. There is no indication of a serious "generation gap" locally. (We dislike the overuse of this phrase—and if we would only admit it, much of the trouble which besets us presently could be laid to a "gap"—or lack of "communication"—within the same generations.)

The Winters City Council, in regular meeting Monday evening, agreed upon a vocal resolution, and asked us to be a medium to communicate their thoughts, not only to the young people of this community, but to the adult population as well:

The City Council wishes to express thanks to the young people for their past cooperation in helping to keep this city a wholesome community; for their more immediate cooperation in helping to keep the past Halloween weekend quiet and without wanton and disruptive destruction of property, and other acts of violence and inconsideration.

The City Council also wishes to congratulate the adults and parents of the community for the examples they have set for the young people.

Mrs. Mary Louise Bauer has a phrase to describe certain personalities or ideas: "As appealing as cold, unsalted gravy."

It is said, that youth is not a time of life—but a state of mind. A temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, an emotional vigor. It is a freshness of the deep well of life. Youth means a predominance of courage over timidity, of the desire for adventure over love of ease. This condition as often exists in a man of fifty as in a youth of twenty. Nobody grows old by living a given number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals.

Blizzards Travel To Eastland

After being surprised and subdued 12-7 by Hamilton last Friday night—their first loss of the season—the Winters Blizzards don road jerseys this week for the trip to Eastland and a game against the district-leading Mavericks.

This week's game spells a comeback chance for the Blizzards, while Eastland will be playing to keep their District 8-AA leadership. Results of this contest could point directly to the final outcome of the season.

The Blizzards will mass offensively under the leadership of Quarterback Steve Tatom this week. Tatom stepped into the slot after Ronnie Wilson received a broken hand being during the Winters-Hamilton game last week. Coach Jerry Gibson said Wilson probably will not play at all this week.

The Eastland Mavericks are described as a big, fast and tough team, with great talent, worthy of the No. 3 State AA rating which has been pinned on them by at least three statewide rating authorities. They have piled up an impressive 267 point record for the season, holding opponents to a mere 39. In district play, the Mavericks have scored for 157 and kept opponents to 13. Their lowest score was their 9-0 win over Hamilton two weeks ago.

Eastland Mavericks have played every team in District 8-AA Winters has played, with the exception of Coleman. The Mavericks meet Coleman next week. Comparative results of these games:

Winters	27, Clyde 0
Eastland	21, Clyde 0
Winters	41, Comanche 16
Eastland	51, Comanche 0
Winters	7, Hamilton 12
Eastland	9, Hamilton 0
Winters	0, Ballinger 0
Eastland	18, Ballinger 7

Speaking of last week's game with Hamilton, Coach Gibson said the Blizzards "made too many mistakes," while the Bulldogs made no mistakes. The Blue did a creditable job in the second half, he pointed out, but failed to "catch up" after Hamilton went out ahead.

Rev. Crawford To Preach at Scottish Clan Gathering

The Rev. Roy L. Crawford, retired Methodist minister of Winters, will preach Sunday morning, November 8, at the tenth annual gathering of the Scottish Clans of Texas, at Salado.

The Rev. and Mrs. Crawford will attend the two-day event Saturday and Sunday. Scottish men will wear kilts, and the women will wear tartan dresses. Bagpipe bands, Scottish dance contests, Highland games, a Ceilidh (a social evening of program and songs), will provide entertainment for the clans.

Clan leaders will lead a grand march. The clans will worship on Sunday, and hold a parade. Many who are not of Scottish descent attend the celebration.

Mrs. Crawford's father, J. B. Pace, had a grocery store in the 1890's, in the building which now houses the museum at Salado.

SP4 George Keel In Army Exercise In Turkey Recently

The exercises provided participating troops with in-the-field experience in operating a multinational operation and was a vivid demonstration of NATO solidarity.

Large Crowd Attended Annual Range Tour Sponsored By Soil-Water District

Largest crowd ever! That was the story last Thursday at the annual range tour sponsored by the Runnels and Coke County Soil and Water Conservation Districts. Seventy-five persons attended from 15 towns in the area, Ronald Rugh, range conservationist with the Runnels Soil Conservation Service, said.

The tour included the C. H. Wylie Estate ranch north of Bronte, located in Runnels, Coke, Nolan and Taylor counties. All conservation programs on the ranch are worked through the Runnels SW&CD.

This was the largest crowd ever to make the annual range tour, Rugh said. He said the Soil Conservation Service and the sponsoring Soil and Water Conservation Districts wished to extend thanks to everyone for their cooperation in making the tour a successful one.

Blizzards Met First Defeat Of 1970 Season

The Winters Blizzards met their first 1970 defeat as the Hamilton Bulldogs scored 12 points and Winters 7.

A Blizzard fumble gave the Bulldogs possession of the ball in the first quarter. After a drive of 15 plays Hamilton's Bob Gardner went over for the touchdown. The extra point attempt failed.

Two long drives in the second quarter sent the Blizzards deep into Bulldog territory but both failed. Minutes before the half the Blizzards reached the 4-yard line only to meet the determined Hamilton defense.

Sporting a 6-0 lead at the half the Bulldogs intercepted a Blizzards pass to set up their second TD. Fullback Tom Prichard scored two plays later as he went up the middle to the goal.

Winters seven points came in the fourth quarter after receiving the ball on the 40. Mike Mathis carried the ball over for the touchdown and David Harrison added the extra point. The Blizzards were forced to end their scoring here and left the Bulldogs with a 12-7 win.

The Blizzards meet the Mavericks of Eastland there Friday night. Eastland is the leader in district competition. This should be another exciting game in 8-AA football.

City Electric To Move Lines For Highway

Winters City Council Monday night authorized purchase of Poles to be used in the relocation of main power lines made necessary by the widening and rebuilding of Main Street (US-83).

According to C. C. Paske, superintendent of the Electric Department, it will be necessary to move 45 poles. New Poles will be 45 feet, costing $56.20 per pole, a total of $2248. Paske said. It will not be necessary to purchase additional power lines and cables for this project, it was stated.

Work on relocation of the poles and power lines will begin shortly, it was understood. Council also authorized purchase of more mercury lights to be used as street lights. These will be installed at intersections, it was stated.

In other business Monday night, previous plans to go ahead and pave parking areas in the vicinity of the Winters Community Center were changed. It was decided that only gravel work would be done at the present time, Buford Baldwin, City Secretary, said, because cold weather is not a suitable time to pour asphalt. An asphalt paving will be put down when the weather turns warm again, he said.

Final Notices Sent To US 83 Property Owners

City Secretary Buford Baldwin said this week that final notices on offers to purchase additional footage for the Main Street widening and rebuilding project have been sent to several property owners who will be affected.

Baldwin said each property owner who has not settled with the City is being notified of dates to meet with special Commissions to work out agreements of condemnation purchases. The special Commissions will be appointed by the Runnels County Judge, in compliance with State statute, he said.

Dates for the meetings with the special Commissions will be November 10, 12, 16, 18 and 20, the City Secretary said.

Seventy-three parcels of land adjoining Main Street in Winters (US 83) will be affected by the widening project, the City Secretary said. Many landowners already have signed deeds and completed agreements with the City of Winters, he said.

County Voters Name Republican Judge, Democrats Win Other Races

For the first time in the history of Runnels County, voters Tuesday elected a Republican County Judge.

Unofficial totals show that Republican Elliott J. Kemp defeated incumbent Democrat W. H. Rumpy 1386 to 1319.

In the only other county race, County School Superintendent Democrat W. E. Elkins won reelection over challenger Grider Hays, Republican, 1460 to 1187.

County voters stayed in the Democratic column in all other races, favoring Democrat Lloyd Bentsen with 1943 votes, to Republican George Bush's 1081, for the U. S. Senate seat. The two Winters boxes went for Bentsen with 502 to 207 for Bush.

Runnels voters also stayed with Governor Preston Smith, 1719, against Republican Paul Eggers, 1023. Winters voters said 486 for Gov. Smith, and 220 for Eggers. All other Democrats carried strong, in the county and in the two Winters boxes.

Runnels County residents followed the state rural trend, voting against the Constitutional amendment which would allow liquor by the drink at local option. Metropolitan voters apparently put this amendment across, however.

Congressman Omar Burleson of the 17th Congressional District, State Senator David Ratliff, 24th District, and State Representative Lynn Nabers, 64th District, all Democrats, had no opposition in the General Election, and easily returned to office.

Burleson received 573 votes in the two Winters boxes, Ratliff received 601, and Nabers received 602.

In strictly local Winters voting, County Commissioner Melvin Mapes, with no opposition, was returned to office. He received 704 votes in the two Winters boxes.

Ray Heathcott was re-elected Justice of the Peace, without opposition, receiving 613 votes in Winters boxes.

Van Whittenburg was named Constable in Winters, 607 votes in the two boxes.

County School Superintendent W. E. Elkins received 403 votes for re-election, against challenger Grider Hays, 272, in the two Winters boxes.

Deer Attacks Man In His Driveway

AUSTIN—Just mention Bambi to Joe McKinney, and he'll flinch.

McKinney, a Kendall County construction worker, is recuperating at his home near Boerne where he was attacked last week in his driveway by a 150-pound buck deer.

The victim suffered multiple lacerations on his head, chest and both legs from the incident and might have been hurt even worse if his wife had not felled the beserk animal with two shots from a .38-caliber pistol.

McKinney told Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game management officers he had no time to escape. He noticed the deer trotting toward him as he was leaving his car and walking down the driveway toward his house. The deer lowered his head and ran full tilt into McKinney, knocking him to the ground.

Mrs. McKinney saw the attack from a window, grabbed the pistol and rushed outside to see her husband pinned to the ground under the buck's antlers. She fired pointblank at the deer, hitting it in the chest both times.

Observers speculated that the deer, which perhaps was someone's pet at one time, became spooked when a child's T-shirt accidentally became impaled on its antlers when it ran under a clothesline.

The shirt was still on the deer's antlers when the battle ended.

Department officials remind Texans to consider any deer potentially dangerous, regardless of how "tame" they might act. Moreover, keeping wild deer as pets is illegal in Texas, so it's wise to leave fawns in the

Bowfin Caught In Murvaul May Be New State Record

AUSTIN — A 16-pound, 12-ounce bowfin caught Sunday, October 18, in Lake Murvaul by a Richardson engineer may be a new record for the state.

Records maintained by the Texas Outdoor Writers Association indicate the fish hauled in by Joe Woods on the deep East Texas reservoir beats the current record of 13 pounds, four ounces by more than three pounds.

Woods said the monster bowfin took a shallow-running artificial lure at 6:30 a. m. when he cast under the low-hanging branches of a willow tree.

Woods, who was fishing alone from a boat, was able to land the fish after a five-minute battle. He told officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department he was using fairly heavy bass equipment, including a 25-pound test line. The Department cooperates with the TOWA in keeping statewide fish records.

The bowfin is one of the state's most unusual fish species. It is almost eel-like in appearance, with a cylindrical body and a characteristic dorsal fin which extends over most of its back.

But despite his preference for murky and sluggish waters, the bowfin is an extremely sporty fish when hooked. Many anglers rate the bowfin ahead of the popular black bass in the fighting category, pound for pound.

Bowfins have feeding habits similar to bass, eating mostly other fish and a variety of small water animals. They probably are valuable as predator fish, biologists feel, because they help to keep down populations of shad and other rough fish.

Hunting Accidents Needless Tragedy

Austin, Tex.—"Hunting Season every year brings needless tragedy to Texas, and in almost every incident carelessness is the culprit," the President of the Texas Safety Association said today.

George Wm. Perry, a Dallas attorney who heads the state-wide safety group, urged Texas hunters to learn and use the basic rules of weapons handling and hunting safety.

"Last year 24 persons died as a result of hunting accidents in this state," said Perry. The TSA leader pointed to hunting accident records which showed there were 92 separate accidents involving 142 persons.

"The tragedy is that these accidents just do not have to occur. Sixty-nine of the people involved in the hunting accidents last year were under 21 years of age. Forty of those involved were 16 years old or younger," Perry noted.

He said that this was clear-cut evidence that many people are hunting before they have been given proper instruction in safe hunting practices.

"Parents need to make sure their youngsters understand the rules of safe hunting and make sure the youngsters obey them," Perry urged.

There are twelve basic rules for safe gun handling, according to the Texas Safety Association.

1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded, never take anyone's word that a gun is empty.
2. Always point the gun muzzle in a safe direction, never aim at anything you don't intend to shoot.
3. Be sure of your target, never shoot at unidentified noises, wait until the whole animal or bird is visible.
4. Know the correct way to carry your gun, under your arm, on your shoulder, cradled in your arms, and in both hands.
5. Keep the safety on or the chamber unloaded until ready to fire and keep your finger out of the trigger guard.
6. Check bore frequently—through the breech end—to be sure it is clear of foreign objects.
7. Agree beforehand on the area each hunter will cover.
8. Be sure the action is open when handing a gun to another person, or stopping to eat, talk, or rest.
9. Transport unloaded guns in cases for their protection and keep them out of sight to prevent theft.
10. When hunting in a group no hunter should carry a gun so that it even points at another person.
11. Unload gun before crossing fences and pass the gun under first.
12. Correct unsafe gun handling whenever you see it by explaining and demonstrating the right way to handle a firearm.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When any money is lying around in Washington not being used, it is a certainty that somebody will be proposing ways to spend it. It is a little strange that there is "Federal" money in Washington not being used. Contrarily, money is being used which in most instances doesn't exist at all.

The case in point, however, is the Highway Trust Fund which is well in the black unless it is considered that its funds have been borrowed by other Federal agencies. The repayment of these funds is as good as any other obligation of the Federal Government but they may not always be readily available.

At the present time a goodly portion of funds created under the Federal-Aid Highway Act is being withheld by the Administration. The Congress has before it legislation to continue and extend the Interstate Highway Program, which is paid for by the gasoline and other taxes. The tax end of it, which is handled by the Ways and Means Committee, has been approved but the Public Works Committee of the Congress has jurisdiction over all other features of the Highway Program which calls for a 90 percent payment by the Federal Government with 10 percent by the various States.

There are all sorts of proposals for diverting money from the Highway Trust Fund for purposes not provided in the original Act.

Mainly, the advocates of diverting Trust Fund money want it for mass transit systems in the big cities. Just recently the Congress voted to authorize more than $3 billion for this purpose but the Governors, Senators and Congressmen from these areas say this is a drop in the bucket and want to tap funds collected for building interstate highways to an urban transit system. When these members found that last year the Highway Trust Fund had a surplus of over $2 billion in unobligated funds they immediately attempted to latch on to it.

To do other than to build highways with taxes collected for that purpose is not keeping faith with the States and the highway users who pay the bill.

Most reformers are satisfied with themselves.

Lone Star Gas Company Reports Record Earnings

Dallas—Lone Star Gas Company earned a record $1.97 per share for the 12-month period ended September 30, 1970, according to L. T. Potter, chairman.

In reporting record earnings for the nine and 12-month periods, Potter said 12-month earnings were up sharply from $1.44 per share a year earlier. Net income for the period rose 37 percent to $28,968,000 on 10 percent higher operating revenues of $255,988,000.

Potter cited gas supply as a service strong point and said that the company is expanding already aggressive programs of exploration and gas supply to assure healthy maintenance of the favorable gas supply position. He said that drilling on the E. R. Baden Unit Well No. 1 in Oklahoma's gas rich Anadarko Basin has reached approximately 5,000 feet with completion projected in about 16 months at a world record depth. The company acquired a major lease acreage position in the basin earlier this year.

Potter also said that a new wholly owned subsidiary, Lone Star Energy Company, was recently organized to construct, own and operate plants supplying hot and chilled water, steam and other forms of energy to large complexes such as shopping centers, industries, office buildings, and schools. The Energy Company has a contract with the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas for the installation and operation of a central heating and cooling plant to serve the school's 12-building complex. Plant operations are scheduled to commence in about one year. Application of new technology highlighted completion in September of a 60-mile stretch of 30-inch transmission pipeline to bring additional contracted gas supply into the utility system. Potter said. In this project the company successfully used large scale high speed automatic welding equipment. Use of this process enabled the company to realize substantial savings and improved quality in the construction of this pipeline.

Experts look into the question of why we live; average citizens might attend to the "how we live" problem.

Winters FTA Says Thanks For Help

The recent 17th annual convention of District XV, Texas Future Teachers of America, would have lacked much interest and enthusiasm had it not been for local people, spokesmen for the local FTA chapter said this week.

"Information" packets were distributed to all students registering for the convention. Included in the packets were ball point pens, pencils, grip openers, note pads, coin purses, and informative booklets. These items were provided by Winters merchants.

FTA spokesmen said, "In view of the fact that there were 250 members in attendance, representing eleven schools, the local merchants made sizable contributions toward a worthwhile project. At the same time, the project afforded them an excellent means for advertising while creating a lasting feeling of friendliness toward the community as a whole."

Merchants who contributed items were Mac Construction Co., Wallace-Murray Corp., American Supply, Dale's Ford Sales, Waddell Chevrolet Co., The Winters Enterprise, The Winters State Bank, Winters Construction Co., Harrison's Auto Supply, Mansell Bros., and Lone Star Gas Co.

AROUND THE 8-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

IF . . . Coleman beats Ballinger, and Winters can hold Eastland this week, and . . . if the creek don't rise . . . and Coleman can beat Eastland and Winters can beat Cisco the following week, and . . .

The list of possibilities, IFs, ANDs, and MAYBES is endless, but this week probably will tell the big story.

Two of 8-AA's biggies were knocked off last Friday night, leaving Eastland still out front, but moving Coleman up to No. 2 position, and Winters and Ballinger tied for the No. 3 spot.

Eastland hadn't been up against what everyone has been prone to call the top teams—until they went against Ballinger last week. But the Mavericks proved their strength, and came out looking like crown-wearers.

Winters had already played two of the tough teams, and then went against Hamilton, heretofore considered in the "second division" ranks, only to be knocked off the 3-0-1 perch, along with Ballinger. Hamilton's holding of Eastland to 9 points the week before should have been a straw in the wind, an indication of strength SOME place—and they displayed it well Friday night, against the Blizzards. Hamilton 12, Winters 7.

Ballinger just couldn't get with it against Eastland Friday night, with the Mavs running up 273 yards against 123 for the Bearcats, even though Ballinger did get on the scoreboard first, 18-7.

Coleman's defeat of Clyde Friday night was lopsided, 48-6, as expected, but statistics didn't show that much difference. They are going to be dangerous adversaries for the Eastland Mavericks next week.

Comanche's Indians, following their 41-16 shellacking at the hands of the Blizzards the week before, slapped winless Cisco 21-7. Again, the losing team scored first, to no avail.

Even though the Ballinger-

Coleman game this week will be a highlight—always is—the Winters-Eastland contest will be the spotlighted 8-AA game. The Blizzards are still smarting from their loss to Hamilton, and the high-stepping Mavericks are ripe for branding . . . if someone strong enough to light the fires comes along.

Other games around the loop will be Cisco at Hamilton and Clyde at Comanche.

Biologists Recover Game Fish From Mineral Wells Lake

When the City of Mineral Wells drained Mineral Wells City Lake to make spillway repairs, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists and game management officers were on hand to make sure the lake has some fish when it refills.

Game fish were removed with nets and seines and transferred to the Possum Kingdom State Fish Hatchery. These fish will be the brook fish used to restock the 500-acre lake.

Many of the fish captured will be used in the Department's flathead catfish program.

JUSTICE PLANNING FUNDS RECEIVED

Texas Criminal Justice Council received final approval of its 1971 block planning grant, totaling $1.2 million.

Money will be spent for state-wide planning to improve the criminal justice system. Forty percent of funds will go to local governmental units.

First meeting of the 150-member panel named by House Speaker Gus Mutscher and headed by Waggoner Carr, former attorney general, was held at the capitol last week.

One of the first things Mutscher suggested was a study of the work load heaped on officials who draw only $400 a month base pay. Committee is expected to come up with a recommendation and support for legislators' pay raises.

Mutscher asked the group to give special attention also to legislative facilities, ethics and internal security.

He further suggested a look at steps now taken to assure protection for orderly conduct of the state's business at the capitol and "physical protection" of state officials, employees and the public.

INSURANCE AD RULES PROPOSED
State Board of Insurance set a November 30 hearing on proposed new rules governing advertisements by health insurance companies.

One rule would require a clear and conspicuous statement in ads of any waiting periods between the date of the policy and the time it actually provides coverage.

Another rule would make the same kind of clear disclosure necessary where coverage is limited for illnesses caused by conditions existing before policy date.

Suggested rules would apply to all newspaper ads, as well as radio-tv, billboards, leaflets, form letters and recurring representations by agents.

Companies would have to maintain a file of ads for inspection by examiners representing the State Insurance Board.

COURTS SPEAK
State Supreme Court set a December hearing on a Houston area welder's accidental "injury" suit which intermediate court held showed only evidence of occupational disease (silicosis).

High Court directed the Bowie County District Court to block an oil pooling arrangement that was ordered by the Railroad Commission for the 80-acre, one well Simms Field in Bowie County.

Federal District Court here postponed until November 12 a hearing on the San Antonio Conservation Society's suit to bar construction of San Antonio N. 281 Expressway.

SHORT SHORTS
Attorney General Martin has held that the State Health Department and Nursing Home Licensing Board could privately exchange confidential information.

Mutscher said both houses of the legislature will hold a press conference at Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas.

Carr ruled out the study of such matters as annual legislative sessions and abuses by joint conference committees, since the committee was named by the House Speaker and was not authorized by the Senate.

Timing of sessions and joint conference committees are matters of concern to both houses," he noted.

Four sub-committees were named and immediately began work. Sub-panels will work in areas of duties, responsibilities and compensation; ethics and standards of conduct; physical facilities and internal security.

BAPTISTS RELEASE SCHOOL
Baptist General Convention here approved the request of Baylor Dental School at Dallas to be released from church control so it could accept government financial aid. Baylor Medical School in Houston was released two years ago, permitting it to seek state funds for enrollment increases.

Convention called on the University of Corpus Christi to repay a $500,000 loan it received from the federal Small Business Administration to repair Hurricane Celia damage and borrow from a non-government source.

Delegates adopted resolutions commending national leaders for their spirit of peace to end the Vietnam hostility; urging courts to use discretion in dealing with each marijuana case on merits; and opposing grants of tax funds to parochial schools.

and important. The free enterprise conducted freely and without undue hindrance which has propelled this country through intelligence, industrial imagination and curiosity. The growth through positive constructive action. Democratic freedom is for all the people, but requires hard work. America will remain a great nation so long as we Americans do not forget that the ideals of dignity, honor, pride of accomplishment and respect for others are for all ages and all times. It is not disgraceful to stand up for the values we possess in our country.

LBJ Visitor Center Gets Second Award

AUSTIN—The Austin firm of Brooks, Barr, Graeber and White, Architects, has been named a winner of the First Honor Award for Texas Architecture for their design of the Visitor Center at Lyndon B. Johnson State Park.

Roy White, project architect for the Visitor Center, received the award at the Texas Society of Architect's award luncheon in Fort Worth Oct. 29 during the annual TSA convention there. The Visitor Center, a contemporary structure of limestone and board-and-batten walls and roof shingled with cedar shakes, was designed to be in harmony with the rustic landscape. It is a multi-purpose building containing an information desk with brochures concerning the park and general region, a large exhibit area, an alcove for continuous slide programs and a comfortable lounge area in front of an open hearth stone fireplace.

It will be rather difficult for anyone to cheat you if you refuse to try to get something for nothing.

A Tip of Our PIONEER Cap to MELVIN WILLIAMS

Melvin Williams produced 4,100 pounds of grain sorghum per acre this past year from 300 acres of Pioneer hybrid 848 and 4,000 pounds per acre from Pioneer hybrid 848.

Mr. Williams farms 2,000 acres near Winters. His crop had ample moisture early but was extremely dry later.

Naturally, we're proud that Mr. Williams plants Pioneer brand hybrids year after year. We congratulate him and wish him continued success.

Garden Calendar for November

1. Make a note of those trees and shrubs you admired this fall for their brilliant foliage or colorful fruit. As you plan additions or replacements in your landscape, keep these in mind.
2. Make soil enriching compost from those leaves and lawn rakings rather than adding to the air pollution by burning. Make sure you add water as you build the compost pile. Those dry leaves will not decompose without moisture.
3. Although it isn't too late to prepare beds for spring flowering bulbs, last month would have been better.
4. Complete all spring bulb plantings except for tulips. These should be chilling in a refrigerator at 40 to 45 degrees F. for 45 to 60 days before planting.
5. If you haven't brought in those tender plants, better get them under cover before the first frost.
6. Select and order fruit and pecan trees for winter planting.
7. Set out pansy plants in a rich, well-drained soil in a sunny location. Try some of the solid colored pansies in masses as well as the giant mixed colors.
8. Don't be in a rush to transplant or set out base rooted woody ornamentals. Plants should be completely dormant and devoid of foliage before moving.
9. In areas where rainfall has been scarce be sure to water er both broad and narrow leaved evergreen trees and shrubs. Much of the so-called winter injury noted on evergreen is due to lack of moisture.

10. Overhaul or repair power tools before storing for the winter. They will then be ready for use when needed in the spring.
11. Clean up, sharpen and oil hand tools before storing for the winter. Sand rough spots on wooden handles and apply a light coat of linseed oil to prevent drying and splintering.
12. Force spring flowering bulbs for indoor beauty.
13. Select those new or special rose varieties you admired and order for December or January delivery. Prepare beds now so they will settle before planting time.
14. After frost kills the dahlia foliage, dig and store the roots.
15. As you rework and prepare those beds for spring planting of annuals and perennials, dispose of the debris and trash immediately to reduce danger of insect and disease problems next summer.
16. To maintain quality, gather pecans daily as they drop.
17. Stock your bird feeders to encourage birds to remain in the winter landscape.

Have You Thanked a Green Plant Today?
The following was taken from a column by the Travis County Ornamental Horticulturist — I thought it was extremely timely and interesting.
"Have you thanked a green plant today? This is the phrase I saw recently on a bumper sticker that has more truth in it than most people may realize. Green plants do a great deal of good for all of us every day, not only in supplying food and fiber, but also in the fight against pollution. We hear a lot of talk what we can do to fight pollution. Green plants have been fighting pollution ever since time began. Let's take a look at trees and the way they are helping to combat pollution, and improving the environment in which you and I live."
We all enjoy the shade of a tree when the weather is hot. This is due, in part, to the fact that trees lower air temperatures and lessen light intensity. The amount of moisture given off (transpired) by a large tree on a summer day can be as much as 100 gallons. This transpiration not only humidifies and cools the air, but also removes impurities by acting as an air washer.
We should all be aware that trees take carbon dioxide and other pollution gases from the air and returns pure oxygen—vital oxygen needed to sustain animal life on this earth. This the tree does through photosynthesis.
Trees are constantly at work filtering dust particles and unpleasant odors from the air. It has been estimated that an 80 year old beech tree, for instance, has about 1,600 square yards of total leaf surface that catch dust particles during much of the year. Evergreen trees can filter the air all year round.
Trees work still further in the fight against pollution. They do a lot to curb unwanted noise. Excessive noise is pollution of a sort. Appropriate tree and shrub barriers can reduce noise levels by as much as 50 percent. Add to this the noise muffling of other plant materials, such as lawns and ground covers, and you can see what a significant contribution plants make toward improving our total environment.
And in light of all the good that trees do for us every day, about one million trees are being eliminated each year thru pavement, asphalt, urban sprawl and other developments. This does not include the thousands of trees destroyed annually by fire and other disasters.
Winter Care for Evergreens is Important
Weather damage is one of the worst enemies of evergreen plants in Texas. While disease problems as leaf spots and mildew as well as certain insect problems as spider mite, tip moth and scale can be damaging, the most wide-spread and serious damage in most years is weather injury.
Evergreens are particularly susceptible to winter drying. This usually occurs in late winter or early spring before new growth can get under way. Strong winds and low humidity result in desiccation of the foliage because the plants are unable to replace the moisture given off by the leaves through excessive transpiration.
Plant losses in farm windbreaks and home plantings can be extensive and costly. The damage is usually obvious early in the growing season. The tree or shrub will sometimes put on a flush of new growth, and then begin to decline. It has used up the reserve food stored in the roots and trunk, but the root system has been so severely damaged by the excessive drying that it is unable to supply the moisture demands of the new growth.

The visible symptoms present will depend upon the severity of the injury. Sometimes only the branch tips will be dead, other times entire branches or even the whole tree or shrub may turn brown and die. In windbreak planting it is not unusual to find dead plants next to apparently healthy ones.
The best precaution is to plant evergreens in a well-drained soil, with good fertility. Since this isn't always possible the next best thing is to provide adequate soil moisture. Too often the inclination is to store the water hose at the same time the lawn mower is put away for the winter. Just because the frost has turned the grass brown and the deciduous trees and shrubs have lost their leaves, it doesn't mean that moisture is no longer required by the landscape plants.
The following steps can assist you in preparing evergreen woody plants for the winter and aid in keeping weather damage to a minimum.
1. Water trees and shrubs thoroughly at regular intervals throughout the winter.
2. Use a mulch to prevent surface evaporation and also to keep the soil warmer. Even if there is adequate soil moisture, evergreens have difficulty taking up moisture when the ground is cold.

"Chisum"
John Wayne, the screen's all-time boxoffice champion named "Best Actor" for 1969 at the Academy Awards ceremony, stars in his 201st motion picture, "Chisum," a Warner Bros. western which shows in Technicolor and Panavision Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre.
The canvas of "Chisum" is as big as the West of a century ago—wild, open and free for the taking. Chief among the film's characters is the "King of the Pecos," John Simpson Chisum, the man who initiated America's great westward cattle drives during the 1870's.
Other explosive characters include Billy the Kid and Sheriff Pat Garrett, both of whom were intimately connected with the fierce cattle wars waged in New Mexico's Lincoln County during the turbulent decade detailed in this picture.

Mrs. Eddie Little Died In Hospital Here Wednesday

Mrs. Eddie (Ruth) Little, 66, died at 5:50 p. m. Wednesday in North Runnels Hospital, following a heart attack. She had been in the hospital since the previous Friday.
Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Friday from Main Street Church of Christ. Bobby Bates, minister of the church, and Glenn Gray, of Houston, former minister, officiated. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home. She was born Ida Ruth Jones, August 24, 1904, at Fulbright, Texas., the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Jones. The family moved to Runnels County in 1908. Her father was a longtime state legislator and postmaster in Winters, and her brother, the late Harvey D. Jones, was former mayor of Winters.

She graduated from Winters High School, and at 14, enrolled at Abilene Christian College, later going to the University of Texas at Austin where she received her degree in English in 1925.
She taught school at Kennedy and Corpus Christi. In 1936 she married Eddie Little. They lived at Corpus Christi until 1939, when they returned to Winters. Mr. Little was a rural mail carrier in Winters until his retirement about two years ago.
Shortly after World War II, Mrs. Little began free lance newspaper writing for the Abilene Reporter-News. She also wrote many articles for the Winters Enterprise. Her work as a newspaper correspondent led her and her husband into photography. They became proficient photographers and in this field soon established a successful photo business.

As the photo studio grew, Mrs. Little began to relinquish her correspondent duties, but continued doing special features for the Reporter-News until poor health caused her to retire. She was also the Runnels "stringer" for the Associated Press.
About two years ago Mr. Little's illness prompted the closing of the photo business.
Survivors include her husband; two sons, Lt. Comdr. Harvey E. Little, a naval officer on duty at Philadelphia, Pa.; and Bill Little, assistant director of sports information service at the University of Texas at Austin; one sister, Mrs. Alene Williams of Woodboro, and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Dr. Lloyd Downing, James Lee Johnson, Earl Roach, Harry London, E. E. Vaughan, Rankin Pace, Carl Turk and Homer Hodge.
Birth of military aviation in the U. S. occurred in Texas in 1910 when the whole U. S. Air Force arrived at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio: one man.
