HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Things were somehow different up at the Main Drug Tuesday morning. Oh, there were the usual goings on. They haven't remodeled or anything like that. The same girls were behind the counters. The same coffee pots were simmering. The same coffee drinkers congregated on schedule and told the same old jokes.

To the casual observer, perhaps, there was nothing out of the ordinary—just people coming and going, buying pills, drinking coffee and cold drinks—everything normal. But to anyone who has ever gone through the doors of Main Drug more than half a dozen times, there was something unusual... so unusual that even an out-of-towner could have felt it.

There was something out of the ordinary Tuesday—so different from the normal that it bears attention and mention.

For the first time in 44 years, Main Drug was open for business without a Lloyd Brother behind the counter or in the prescription department, or somewhere about the building. Bob Browning, pharmacist who recently joined Main Drug, was in the prescription booth... but neither Ralph or Raymond were around—they must have decided to take a day off and "go fishin'!"... and the walls didn't come near to tumblin' down, as one wiseacre observed.

Winters is going to have a big blow-out come next Friday. The Retail Trades Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is promoting a big "Flea Market" on that day... a sort of giant community garage sale; an action into which everybody—and his dog—can get.

Never having promoted a "Flea Market" before, there was some discussion among members of the committee concerning the way to go about it. Bill Robinson, chairman of the committee promoting the affair, said, "Well, we'll just have to start from scratch!" And that's near the slogan they picked for promotion: "Come Scratch With Us!"

So if you have things and stuff around the house that you have not been able to get rid of in a garage sale—or that you've picked up at a garage sale, or anything at all you'd like to sell or trade, dig it out and put up your stand and sign some place downtown next Friday, and have at it! It won't cost you anything to get started, and who knows, you just might get rid of that night stand that's been bugging (?) you for so long—and a "Flea Market" is the place to do it.

Even if you don't have something you'd like to get rid of, come on down and scratch around—the affair will last all day—and you may have some fun.

Our hail-stripped, water logged and tax-buffed Bluff Creek friend claims he's never been particularly politically naive, but that it always gets him in the pit of the stomach when he hears a politician announce that he wants only "to serve in the position where I can be of best service to the pee-pee!", the effect on his own political welfare notwithstanding.

We were assigned to take a picture of a buffalo the other day, and gingerly climbed up on the fence from where we aimed the camera, always ready to vacate the premises just in case that thing took a notion to take a closer look at the lens. Someone asked if we'd thought about getting into the pen in order to take a better close-up. Admit we did think about it, but not for very long. Like the boy who picked up the hot horseshoe, it don't take us long to examine a horseshoe.

END OF THE TRAIL—Descendant of the herds of millions which roamed the prairie more than a hundred years ago, this buffalo was raised by Vester Parrish near Wingate. Weighing "about 1500 pounds," this buffalo was brought in to Jay's Locker Monday for slaughter. He had been dehorned, and was considered comparatively tame and did not seem to mind people walking around outside the corral fence—but no one volunteered to go into the pen with him. (Staff photo).

Industrial Golf Tourney At Country Club Sunday

The fourth annual Winters Industrial Golf Tournament will be held at the Winters Country Club Sunday, June 20. Tee-off time will be 9 a. m.

Four-man teams from 10 industrial and business firms have been entered in the tournament, according to John McAdoo, tournament chairman for the Country Club.

Teams will play 27 holes. Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place teams, and to first and second place partnerships. An individual medalist trophy also will be awarded.

Charlsie Poe Receives State Award For "Best Publication of the Year"

"Some areas and regions, unfortunately, will never have more than second-rate histories written about them," John Caldwell of Albany told members and guests of the Winters Lions Club Tuesday noon, "but Rannels County is lucky. It now has a first-rate history because Mrs. Poe did not wait too long. She struck while the iron was still hot, and had moreover the advantage of firsthand knowledge of her subject throughout all of her adult life."

Caldwell, a member of the executive committee of the State Historical Survey Committee of the State Historical Survey Committee, in a special meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday noon presented Mrs. Poe with an award, signed by Gov. Preston Smith, for the "Best publication of the year 1970 on local or regional history." Mrs. Poe's book, "Rannels Is My County," was published last September.

Caldwell was introduced by Rankin Pace, chairman of the Rannels County Historical Survey Committee. Several other members of the committee were also present for the luncheon, as well as many other guests.

In making the presentation of the award, represented by a large hand-lettered certificate signed by the governor, Caldwell pointed out that "One of the most important movements today, embracing Texans in all walks of life, is the impetus to preserve our historic past." Those who work at the state and local levels, he said, to preserve our archeological treasures, our historic buildings, and to give substance to the memories of our pioneers have in a sense become pioneers themselves.

The assembly, Caldwell said, was to honor an individual "who has taken an interest in all of these endeavors but who has excelled especially in one. Mrs. Poe has devoted many years of her life to the compilation of a history of the county which has called home since girlhood. The quality of her writing speaks of a deep empathy with her subject and an understanding of its origins."

Water Sign-Up Date Extended

Deadline date for sign-up with the North Rannels Water Corporation has been extended to July 1, according to an announcement by officers of the steering committee.

Original deadline had been June 4, but because of the mounting interest in the proposed project, steering committee members said, the time has been extended to allow those who have been unable to sign up to do so. Many others have indicated interest in the project, but because of pressing farm and ranch work have been unable to fill out application papers, it was said.

LaDell Davis, vice chairman of the steering committee, said Tuesday night that 310 subscribers have signed up and deposited the $100 initial fee. This is a very substantial number for this area, he said, but indicated that there would be many more applications completed within the next few days.

In addition to the number of sign-ups, Davis said, the "pattern"—or closeness of probable meters—looks very favorable. Foy Brown, of the Farmers Home Administration, from which long-term loans would be made to finance the proposed project, indicated that prospects looked "very good."

The steering committee reminded all rural residents and landowners in the area who have not made application that it would be to their advantage to sign up now, during the extended sign-up period. Not only would additional applications make the proposed project more feasible, they said, but once it is underway the cost of joining probably will be much more.

Applications, accompanied by initial fee of $100, should be sent to Press Galloway, Secretary-Treasurer, North Rannels Water Corporation, Wingate, Texas, or handed to any member of the steering committee or to C. T. Parker, Rannels County Extension Agent.

Money collected in initial fees of deposit, Davis said. In the event the project is not developed, fees will be returned to applicants.

The steering committee of North Rannels Water Corporation will next consult an engineer to study the proposed project, and make estimates of the total cost, Davis said. After this is completed—probably during July—application will be made to the FHA for a loan to finance the project. Applications for loans will be reviewed during August, it was understood.

The steering committee will meet at the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce at 8 p. m., Tuesday, June 22, to make further plans, it was announced.

Flood Damage To Streets Will Run To Several Thousand Dollars

Cost of repairing Winters streets following the heavy flooding rains Monday night of last week will run to "several thousand dollars," Van Whittenberg, street superintendent of the City of Winters, said this week.

Damage to streets, especially unpaved streets, was extensive, Whittenberg said. Some gravel streets will take several loads of gravel to fill holes left by the rushing waters. Sunlawn addition received the most flood damage, but streets are paved and cost of repairing will not be severely high, it was understood.

However, some streets in sections which did not receive the high rushing water experienced by Sunlawn and Leeman additions, were of gravel and became almost impassable in some sections.

In addition to starting repair work on streets, the Street Department also has been helping to haul trash and debris from Sunlawn and Leeman following the flooding.

"Homemakers Have Responsibilities In Today's Society," Says Teacher

"Today's society places many new responsibilities on the homemakers," Mrs. Cecil Hambright, homemaking teacher in Winters High School, said, in speaking of the program in the local school.

"Roles of family members are changing. More women work outside the home. New equipment, products, ways of doing household tasks, as well as changing values, make the job of homemaking more difficult, more challenging today than ever before."

Homemaking education is needed to help prepare for this important vocation, Mrs. Hambright said, especially for the dual role of homemaker-wage-earner.

Describing the part played by the homemaking department in Winters High School, Mrs. Hambright said the program is designed for the following purposes:

—To help individuals and families improve home environment

Blizzard Band Students Earn Honors At State

Three members of the Winters High School Blizzard Band won high honors at the State Solo and Ensemble contest at the University of Texas at Austin last week.

Maurine Riess, Trish Hill and Kay Schwartz won Division II ratings for their solos and received medals. They were accompanied to Austin by Mrs. Kirke McKenzie.

Students earn the right to participate in the State-level contest by winning Division I on Class I solos during Spring UIL contests. Medallions are given for Division I, medals for Division II, and certificates for Division III. The lowest ratings are III and IV.

MIKE KRAUSE

Mike Krause Gets Award From L-S Club

This year for the first time, The Literary and Service Club of Winters presented a citizenship award to a Special Education student, chosen by the teachers in Winters School.

Mike Krause, son of Mrs. Joyce Krause, is the first recipient of this award to the Special Education class. He will be a sophomore in Winters High School next fall.

Choice for the award was made on the basis of ability to get along with adults, ability to get along with students, willingness to cooperate in classroom or campus activities, willingness to abide by rules and regulations, willingness to work, friendly attitude, honesty, initiative, dependability, and determination.

Mrs. Carroll Tatom, president of the Literary and Service Club, made the presentation of this award in an assembly of the Winters High School student shortly before the end of the school term. She emphasized that "this was a difficult choice to make because of the high standards involved." She pointed out that many "would fall short when judged by these standards."

Mrs. Krause and Mike have been residents of Winters for four years. She is a first grade teacher. Mike has participated in the Special Education program for four years.

Elm Creek Board Visited Clyde's Multi-Type Dam

Members of the board of directors of Elm Creek Water Control District, and about 20 other interested residents of Rannels County, including the mayor and members of the City Council of Ballinger, visited the multi-purpose dam at Clyde last week, to obtain first-hand information on the project. A similar project has been proposed for the Elm Creek District.

W. M. Hays of Winters, chairman of the board of Elm Creek Water Control District, said Clyde's dam, reportedly the only such multi-purpose dam which has been completed in Texas, was built to provide municipal water for Clyde, a recreational site, and as a soil conservation and flood prevention structure. Although comparatively small in surface, average water depth is 40 feet, it was reported.

Members of the Soil Conservation Service from Rannels and Taylor Counties also made the tour, along with the executive secretary of West Central Texas Council of Governments of Abilene.

Hays said most of those making the tour indicated a belief that a similar project could be developed on Elm Creek in North Rannels County, to provide municipal water, recreational possibilities, along with flood prevention and soil conservation.

FROM TEXAS CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton of Texas City, arrived Tuesday night to visit several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Millhorn and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burton.

RETURNS HOME

Clarence Wessels returned home Friday after visiting in the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Roth of Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wessels and Kay Lea of Monahans were also visitors.

Water Situation For City Brighter

Rains during the past few days on the watershed of Elm Creek in North Rannels and South Taylor counties have brightened the water supply picture for Winters to a great extent.

While areas to the west of the Elm Creek watershed were receiving downpours of up to a reported 12 inches Monday night of last week, a much smaller amount was received on the watershed itself; some runoff was reported, however. Then later the past weekend, steady rains for several hours over a wide area caused Elm to rise, and poured considerable water into the Winters City Lake.

W. D. Waggoner, water superintendent for the City of Winters, said the lake caught about 23 inches of water during the week. Water level now is about three and a half feet below spillway level, he said. The "island" in the middle of the lake has again become an island, he said, and not a peninsula from the mainland.

Along with much rain in Winters proper, water consumption has dropped, as low as 150,000 gallons a day consumption. Prior to the rains, consumption had reached 900,000 gallons daily, because of the length of the dry weather, comparable to many hot summer months in normal years, Waggoner said.

Water consumption during the next several weeks is expected to be lower than normal because of the rains, which will be a help to maintaining the water level of the lake, it was stated.

Flea Market Friday, June 25

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a giant "Flea Market" in downtown Winters, Friday, June 25.

This "Flea Market" will be open to all individuals, clubs, organizations or churches who would like to participate, it was announced. Many Winters merchants also will be featuring "Flea Market Specials" during the day.

Anyone who has anything they would like to sell—antiques, furniture, sporting equipment, household goods, clothing, and the like—may set up stands on vacant lots, parking lots and sidewalks in front of vacant buildings. There is no limit to articles put up for sale.

However, the Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber, in charge of arrangements, has suggested that permission be obtained from property owners to use premises for sales stands. Several property owners have expressed willingness to let stand operators use their property for the "Flea Market."

The Retail Trade Committee has selected "Come Scratch With Us" as their slogan for promotion of this "Flea Market," which they plan to organize into the biggest such affair in this section of the country. Many individuals and organizations have stated an interest in this "Flea Market," and many more are expected to join in the fun. There probably will be several refreshment concession stands, in addition to merchandise and goods stalls.

There will be no registration requirement or fees to take part in this "Flea Market," promoters said. "Just find your vacant spot, arrange your goods and start selling," they said.

Band Ice Cream Supper In Park Saturday Night

The Winters Blizzard Band Boosters will have an "Old Fashioned Ice Cream Supper" in the Winters City Park Saturday, June 19, from 7 to 9 p. m.

Homemade ice cream and cake and cookies will be sold. Tickets for the ice cream supper are on sale in several stores for 50 cents each.

Proceeds from this ice cream supper will be used to help purchase instruments, music and other needs of the high school band. This is the first of several summer activities being planned by the Blizzard Band Boosters.

Red Cross Fund Drive Tuesday

Reports had not been received from all workers, but indications were Wednesday afternoon that the special drive for funds for the Red Cross will net near $800.

The special drive was conducted to raise money to help repay the Red Cross for the money spent here following the May 8 hailstorm.

H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols was the chairman for this special drive.

WASHINGTON

"As It looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C. — The announcement last week by President Nixon, removing trade restrictions with Communist China made headline news. It was not entirely unexpected since the matter had been under consideration for a considerable period of time.

What also makes news but less headline was the President's action in removing the requirement that 50 percent of grains and other commodities to China and communist countries behind the Iron Curtain be delivered by American ships. Since 1964 exporters of goods to foreign countries must use American ships for at least one-half of their transportation. The action of the President is highly significant since it is about impossible for nations to buy our grains at the added shipment costs.

Since 1964 our sales of grain have dropped more than half simply because American shipowners must charge rates far in excess of going world rates because of greater expenses, largely in wages.

After the 1964 decision, it cost $18 to $20 a ton to move wheat to Russia in American ships. It cost as little as $8 a ton in foreign ships. Obviously this made American wheat less competitive with the other large exporters, such as Canada, Argentina and Australia.

In 1964 Russia had a great shortage of grain and offered to buy about 4 million tons from the United States. The result was that even in its somewhat desperate situation the Soviet Union only bought about a million and a half tons.

Just three weeks ago, reports

But, What's for Now?

Habit is man's best friend or his worst enemy.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wood were in Big Spring Sunday and visited the Don Mincey family.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Johnson had Mrs. Sophia Kauthauer and Mrs. Cordelia Alexander of Winters as visitors Thursday. Mrs. Wesley Hamilton and son, Rickie, of Ballinger visited on Saturday night.

Visiting Mrs. Effie Deitz during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Boynton of Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hambricht, Mrs. Reed McMillan of Ovalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brevard's showed that Canada contracted to supply Moscow with $225 million worth of wheat. The U. S. shipments of everything to the Russians last year amounted to only $125 million, all because of the expenses in shipping. Certainly, if American traders are going to deal with the communist countries, they should have a better break. Our imbalance of foreign exchange is in a serious condition at this time, and, if we are going to trade with communist nations, exporters should have the opportunity at more fair competition.

Russian feed grain requirements have risen steeply because of their efforts to build up livestock herds and make the country more self-sufficient in meat. Reports indicate that the Russians have diverted large acreage formerly producing wheat to feed grains, making necessary a greater demand for wheat. Whatever the demands for grains from Red China and the eastern communist bloc nations may be in the future, the removal of the cargo preference will give American traders greater opportunity to export feed grains and wheat.

There is no indication that China will turn to the United States for any part of its supply of wheat and other grains but since the embargo of more than 20 years has been lifted, then there may be a chance for disposing of surplus grain by American producers and shippers.

Powerful forces, particularly the International Longshoremen Union, vigorously oppose the lifting of the 50 percent requirement, in fact that was the reason for the policy in the first place. In some bulk commodity shipments, American ships carry only about 10 percent of our exports. Before the 50 percent rule was applied United States flagships carried upwards of 65 to 70 percent of the same exports. Records indicate that the 50 percent requirement has not succeeded in creating a single seafaring job or business for American shipowners but only cost American farmers by denying a source of foreign sales.

Despite the subsidies to our maritime fleet, both in the building of ships and their operation, there has been a constant deterioration since 1964. Under the President's announcement last week in connection with the lifting of the China embargo, one of two things will have to happen—either our merchant fleet will succumb to foreign shipping competition or it will have to lower its prices to meet that competition. In this latter instance there probably will be a demand on the Federal Government for greater subsidies to make up the difference.

LONG OVERDUE NEED FOR SYSTEM

NASDAQ promises to take the mystery out of O-T-C trading, and may very well bring nationwide acceptance and prestige for O-T-C securities. This market is the largest and oldest in the country, but because of its former lack of visibility the small investor preferred to confine his purchase to the listed exchanges.

The new computerized system will eventually follow up with volume figures on trading—never before compiled—and stock indexes along the lines of the Dow-Jones averages. If the present addition of 36 exchange-listed stocks to the NASDAQ system is successful, more listed companies will be included. Thus, unlimited opportunities will open up for the visual display of the securities of unfamiliar companies which have compiled sterling growth records, as well as those fledgling but promising firms with good potential. Both groups should afford the possibility of outstanding capital gains.

CURRENT O-T-C FAVORITES

The Research Staff of Babson Reports has recently called the broad spectrum of securities being traded in the vast O-T-C market and is currently recommending Russell Stover Candies, Western Publishing, and Republic Life Insurance at present levels. These companies are leaders in their respective fields and should show appreciation over the intermediate term for the aggressive investor.

Other O-T-C companies which will be interesting for purchase when prices have moved somewhat lower are Charles River Breeding Laboratories, world's largest breeder of lab animals; Southland Corp., nation's largest convenience food store chain and General Automotive Parts. In buying securities over-the-counter, check with your broker or dealer as to whether any specific security is traded under the so-called "Blue Sky" laws. These laws control offerings of securities under which the state securities administrator can prohibit public sale of issues not meeting certain statutory stand-

HEALTH FOR ALL

Medication can help alleviate some asthma attacks. Can withholding medication alleviate others?

Most researchers agree that many factors—biological and psychological—can be involved in asthma attacks. And at Duke Medical Center, Dr. John B. Reckless selected patients who seemed to present asthma-like responses that might be psychosomatic instead of actually allergic or infective. He based a group therapy approach on the premises that these allergic-like reactions can be learned responses that will continue indefinitely unless snuffed out by therapeutic events. Dr. Reckless is associate professor of psychiatry and nursing as well as head of the division of psychosomatic medicine at the Center.

In his group sessions, Dr. Reckless uses encounter and psychodrama strategies to create extreme emotional reactions. When patients suffer attacks on the spot, they are encouraged to approach someone in the group, curl up in infantile positions, and allow themselves to be hugged and comforted until the attack subsides.

Withholding medication during the session, says Dr. Reckless, forces patients to learn to tolerate uncomfortable emotions and recognize that control is within their own power. Creating a high level of anxiety fosters rapid learning of new, coping behavior.

In his work with groups covering a three-year period, Dr. Reckless reports that this group supportive technique has not only cut down the number of attacks during sessions but also a high percentage of those outside the group.

Asthma attacks, however, are not always primarily psychosomatic. And medication prescribed by a physician is the essential first step in treating most asthmatics. For more information about respiratory ailments, check with your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

Wellesley Hills, Mass. — On February 8, 1971, a revolutionary electronic, computerized system of trading securities was placed in operation in the over-the-counter market. This method of price reporting is called NASDAQ (for its developer, the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation). Within about four months it has already brought more orderly trading, savings in time and money for the dealers, and better and firmer price for the customers. It is challenging the leadership of the listed exchanges (the New York and American Stock Exchanges) by means of its third-market operations (listed securities sometimes traded in the O-T-C market, often at lower commissions).

20TH CENTURY
BREAKTHROUGH

The over-the-counter market is maintained by thousands of professional investment firms that "make markets" by continually quoting bid-and-ask prices over telephones, teletypes, and private wires. Historically, there has been no central meeting ground. In the past before the new NASDAQ computer quotation system was instituted, the most efficient firms usually obtained quotes from at least three dealers in order to provide their customers with the best prices.

The procedure was time-consuming and expensive in this vast securities market. Some 25,000 to 30,000 stocks are quoted in the course of a year. On a weekly basis, about 8,500 stocks are traded over-the-counter. Currently, NASDAQ carries bid-and-ask prices on about 2,500 securities. The quotes are constantly updated by the dealers. Flashed across a television-like screen are the names of the dealers marketing the stock and the prices at which they are willing to trade. Quotes are obtained in a matter of seconds once the proper buttons are pushed. The system is scheduled to expand to 20,000 issues by the end of 1971.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN—Major changes in election laws for voters and candidates were approved by the 62nd Legislature. All are contingent on final federal court action upholding lower court decisions invalidating old requirements.

Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law a new voter registration act and filing fee bill. Earlier the Texas Legislature enacted a resolution ratifying the federal constitutional amendment extending full voting rights to 18-year-olds. Federal amendment may not be finally cleared in time for the 1972 elections, but young voters can participate in presidential and congressional voting and the national convention series.

New voter registration provides for year-around sign-up (with temporary cutoff 30 days before any election) and automatic renewal for three years by voting in any primary or general election. First registration under the new system will begin October 1, March 1, 1972, is the earliest voting date for new registrants. Voters will continue using present registration certificates for elections through next February.

A federal court invalidated the old Texas annual registration requirement, which was unique in the nation. Texas' new automatic registration law would be repealed if appellate courts reinstate annual registration.

Under a bill passed by the 62nd Legislature, in response to another federal ruling that present filing fees are excessive, candidates would pay a maximum of four percent of the term of office salaries to get on the ballot. Bill also permits "filing by affidavit" stating that the candidate cannot pay the prescribed fee, or by a "petition" signed by 10 percent of the voters in the last general election within the area (state, county, precinct) served by the office sought. If the Supreme Court invalidates this act, a special legislative session may be necessary to provide a method of paying primary election costs in 1972.

IMMUNIZATION REQUIRED
Texas student must begin an immunization program by Jan. 1, 1972, under legislation just signed into law, says the Texas Department of Health. Students will be allowed to enter schools during the summer and fall terms with provisions that their immunizations against at least one of six diseases will be started by Jan. 1 and completed as soon as medically possible. Required immunization for grade school level youngsters includes diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, rubella and smallpox. Measles immunization is not required if there is a history of measles illness. Exceptions may be granted on religious grounds or to those who may be harmed by immunization (on written certification by a physician). However, exemptions would not be permitted in a time of emergency or epidemic, the Health Department adds.

AUTO RATE HEARINGS SET
Hearings are set for 9 a. m. June 30 in Austin to consider new auto rates to replace the controversial schedule put into effect January 1. State Board of Insurance is expected to hear usual cross-recommendations to raise and lower rates. Hearings will be conducted in the State Highway Department auditorium on casualty and physical damage rates, rating plans and rules. All those who wish to have subject matter placed on the agenda were advised by the Board to contact its automobile office in Austin by June 23 and provide written statements in quadruplicate.

Rate revisions will be effective on and after September 1 under present indications. After hearings last year the Board increased rates an average of 14 percent, statewide. This raised an angry reaction from many insurance purchasers. Insurance companies, which urged a 27.7 percent increase, were equally unhappy.

COURTS SPEAK
Third Court of Civil Appeals has ruled that the Ector County Commissioners Court had no authority to spend county funds to purchase a 280-acre tract as the site for the University of Texas of Permian Basin, Odessa. Court decision said the rest of the campus tract, 308 acres, was properly acquired for the new state university as a gift. State Supreme Court upheld the "spoke" annexation of a narrow strip of territory by the City of San Antonio and noted that the new law banning such annexation does not apply to past city actions.

High Court refused to place on the June 29 charter election ballot in Pharr a committee-proposed recall amendment. On July 7 arguments will be heard by the Supreme Court as to whether a minister can be held in contempt of court for refusing to move his church. Reversing a district court ruling, the Third Court of Civil Appeals said that an Austin area teacher whose contract was not renewed deserves a full trial on merits.

U. S. Supreme Court vacated a three-judge federal court finding in San Antonio that the Texas safety responsibility act is valid and sent the case back for reconsideration in view of an earlier ruling that a Georgia law provides no proper method of determining fault of drivers in accidents.

AG OPINIONS
Non-resident archery hunters in portions of Sabine and San Augustine counties must qualify for the regular non-resident hunting license, plus a special license for five-day periods, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: —Griffin and Brand of McAllen are entitled to 435 acres of water right acreage under a section of the Rio Grande Valley water rights case judgment on re-hearing. —Southwest Texas (Uvalde) Junior College Board is without authority to issue a district note of $100,000 payable over 15 years and secured by pledge of district bank stock to finance faculty housing on campus.

HOSPITAL FUNDS AWARDED
Health facilities last week received $647,135 in additional Hill-Burton funds to complete projects. Receiving funds for existing projects were: Dallas County Hospital District, $34,000; Good-all-Witcher Foundation Hospital, Clifton, $95,000; Campbell Memorial Hospital, Weatherford, $100,000; Youens Memorial Hospital, Weimar, $27,151; Teague Hospital Authority, $10,000; McAllen General Hospital, $10,000; Southwestern Texas Methodist Hospital, San Antonio, $11,000; M. D. Anderson-Pavilion, Houston, $130,000; Christian Home for Aged, Houston, $225,984; and Childrens Rehabilitation Center, Amarillo, $4,000. Mercy Hospital at Jourdanton was awarded $50,000 and Texas Medical Center Hospital Laundry Cooperative, Houston, $40,000, for new construction.

PRESIDENTIAL DINNER PLANNED
All major Democratic candidates for presidential nomination are expected to receive invitations to a $50-a-plate dinner in Austin during mid-January. Funds raised at the dinner will go to meet 1971-72 State Democratic Executive Committee budget of $81,000. A sub-committee was named to check candidates to determine the most convenient day for the dinner.

HEALTH FOR ALL

POLLUTED CHILDHOOD
Small tots on congested city streets are nose-high to exhaust fumes. And blood lead levels among children in cities are on the increase.

The National Air Pollution Control Administration estimates that 200,000 tons of lead are added to the atmosphere each year; 95 percent of it comes from car exhausts. NAPCA wants gasoline lead additives reduced and eventually eliminated. Aerosol lead particles are so small they are likely to penetrate deep into the respiratory tract. Lead in the blood is attached to red blood cells, and extremely high intake of airborne lead can bring on anemia.

Carbon monoxide from car exhausts is also associated with dizziness, fatigue, loss of appetite, headache, and impaired vision in children. According to a committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics, air pollution is so severe in many areas that it may even adversely affect growth in children.

The Academy says that sulphur dioxide—from steel mills, coal and oil powerplants, and petroleum refineries—is a pollutant that can be incriminated in growth retardation, increased number of respiratory infections and attacks of asthma among children.

Research shows that the incidence of childhood asthma is significantly higher in areas where the air pollution levels are high. The results are most striking among boys under five years of age. In fact, the boys often developed eczema as well as asthma, both of which are primarily allergic conditions.

Air pollution affects almost everyone, and takes its toll among the very young. For more information, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

SHORT SNORTS
Governor Smith is still pressing his demand for a presidential drought disaster area proclamation covering Texas.

Highway Department is re-evaluating its plans for a new $20 million office building near the state capitol and the governor's mansion, in view of a legislative directive.

Burton G. Hackney resigned as Texas Commissioner of Public Welfare, effective June 15. Governor Smith appointed Enrique H. Pena of El Paso as Judge of El Paso County Court of Domestic Relations.

State revenue from cigarettes decreased $492,362 from May, 1970, to last month. Wayne Gibbons of Austin, formerly of Breckenridge, is new executive vice-president of the General Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

...about your SOCIAL SECURITY

Servicemen returning from Vietnam—as well as other Armed Forces personnel and veterans—are invited to bring themselves up to date on their social security status by asking about it at the nearest social security office. The invitation is extended by J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

"Like most civilian workers, Armed Forces personnel earn social security protection through payroll deduction credits," Mr. Talbot said. "But, special social security rules apply to military service in three periods—during World War II, during the immediate post-World War II period, and since 1956."

For social security purposes, the World War II period was September 16, 1940, through July 24, 1947, Mr. Talbot said. The post-World War II period was July 25, 1947, through December 31, 1956. "People on active duty in those years generally received free social security credit for $160 a month in pay if they served 90 days or more and if their military discharge was not 'dishonorable,' he said.

Since 1956, people on active duty or in training for active duty have received social security credit for their earnings.

Since 1967, Armed Forces personnel have received additional social security credit—generally amounting to $100 a month—without deductions from their paychecks. Called "Noncontributory" wage credits, they are based on housing, clothing allowances, and other military earnings that are not paid in cash, said Mr. Talbot.

"The amount of social security payments is based on the average covered earnings of a worker," he said. Servicemen and veterans—as well as other civilian workers—can check their earnings and social security credits by contracting the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Doctor in the House?"

Suppose you are sitting in a theater when the man next to you slumps to the floor, unconscious. In alarm, you shout:

"Is there a doctor in the house?"

And a doctor comes and gives first aid. As the person who summoned the doctor, could you be held legally liable for his fee?

As a general rule, when you request any kind of services to be performed for someone else, you may indeed be responsible for payment. But in the case of a medical emergency, the law usually makes an exception and denies liability. As one court explained:

"Persons commonly call for medical aid for the sick solely is in your area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo at 949-4608.

out of a spirit of kindness, without expectation of becoming personally responsible."

Would it matter that the sick person was your friend or relative? Not necessarily. Thus:

A man brought his daughter-in-law to the hospital for some tests while her husband was away on a trip. When surgery became necessary, he told the doctor to go ahead. Did this request, plus his kinship to the patient, make him responsible for the surgical fee?

A court said no, because it was not customary for a man to be responsible for his daughter-in-law's medical expenses. To make him liable, said the court, there would have to be a more specific understanding between him and the doctor.

Still, the understanding need not be as specific as a formal legal contract. In another case, a man was driving his girl friend home from a party when he had an accident. The girl was badly injured, and he rushed her to a hospital.

There he begged the doctor to do everything he could to save her life. He said he "felt responsible" because she had suffered the injury in his car.

Later, he tried to avoid liability to the doctor by pointing out that he had not made a specific agreement to pay. But a court held him responsible anyhow. The judge said the comments he did make, under such circumstances, could fairly be interpreted as a promise to foot the bills.

Bride-to-Be Was Honored At Gift Party Saturday

Martha Porter, bride-elect of Wayne Harris, was honored at a kitchen gift party Saturday in the home of Mrs. G. F. Lloyd, 103 Mel Street.

The serving table was covered with a white cutwork linen cloth, and table appointments were crystal. The bride's chosen colors of yellow and green were used throughout the party rooms.

Miss Porter wore a peach-colored A-line dress. Her corsage was white daisies.

Special guests were mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. Edgar Porter of Crews and Mrs. G. L. Harris of Monahans.

Miss Porter and Mr. Harris will be married July 2 at Hope-well Baptist Church.

New State Law Requires All Students To Be Immunized Against 6 Diseases

Senate Bill 27, amending section 2.09 of the Texas Education Code, was signed into law by Governor Preston Smith on April 26. This law is now in effect and requires that all children entering Texas elementary or secondary schools or institutions of higher education must have been immunized against six diseases: diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, rubella, and smallpox. The law states that "the State Department of Health shall provide the required immunizations to children in areas where no local provisions exist to provide these services."

Senate Bill 971, an amendment to Senate Bill 27, has become law. It enables the State Board of Health to modify or delete any of the six required immunizations, and allows the provisional admittance of students if the required immunizations have been begun and are continued to be received "as rapidly as is medically feasible," and requires the State Department of Health to promulgate rules and regulations relating to the provisional admission of persons to an elementary or secondary school or institution of higher education."

All students will be allowed to enter their respective school systems during the Summer and Fall 1971 terms, with the provision that their immunizations against at least one of the aforementioned diseases will have been started by January 1, 1971, and all completed as soon as medically feasible, according to the Texas State Department of Health.

STUDENTS INCLUDED

The immunization requirements are specified elsewhere in this policy statement and apply to all students attending public, private, or parochial schools, for example; kindergartens associated with elementary schools, elementary or secondary schools, academies, colleges, universities, and schools for the blind, deaf, mentally ill and mentally retarded.

Exclusions from compliance are allowable on an individualized basis for medical contraindications and religious conflicts. Students falling into these categories must submit signed affidavits as specified in the law:

Medical Contraindications—The student must present an affidavit signed by a physician, duly registered and licensed under the Medical Practice Act, in which it is stated that, in the physician's opinion, the immunization required would be injurious to the health and well-being of the applicant or any member of his family or household.

Religious Conflicts—The student must present "an affidavit signed by the applicant, or if a minor, by his parent or guardian stating that the immunization conflicts with the tenets and practice of a recognized church or religious denomination of which the applicant is an adherent or member; provided, however, that this exemption does not apply in times of emergency or epidemic declared by the Commissioner of Health."

REQUIRED

For complete immunizations the following are required in the respective class or age groupings:

Children in Kindergarten and Grades One Through Five, or Children ages 5 through 11 in Ungraded Schools.

Polio—At least 3 doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday.

Diphtheria—Tetanus—Minimum of 3 doses with last dose within 10 years. (Td adult type.)

Measles—1 dose of vaccine, or history of measles illness.

Rubella—1 dose of vaccine. Not required past age 12 years.

Smallpox—1 vaccination within the past 10 years.

Children and Others in Grades Six through Twelve or Children and others ages 12 and older in ungraded schools other than institutions of higher education.

Polio—at least 3 doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday. (Polio vaccine is not required for persons nineteen years of age or older.)

Diphtheria—Tetanus—Minimum of 3 doses with last dose within 10 years. (Td adult type.)

Measles—The majority of children in this group will have been previously immunized or obtained natural immunity through infection. Recommended but not required on an individualized basis if history of vaccine or illness is thought to be negative.

Rubella—Not required past age 12 years.

Smallpox—One vaccination within the past 10 years.

Students in Institutions of Higher Education

Polio—At least 3 doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday. (Polio vaccine is not required for persons nineteen years of age or older.)

Diphtheria—Tetanus—Minimum of 3 doses with last dose within 10 years. (Td adult type.)

Smallpox—One vaccination within the past 10 years.

At the present time, reinforcing or "booster" doses of Diphtheria—Tetanus and Smallpox vaccines are required every ten years after the last dose completing the series; however, boosters are not required for Polio, Measles, and Rubella.

SCHOOL RECORDS

All schools will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of individual students. The State Health Department is designing a standard form for this purpose.

ACCEPTABLE DOCUMENTS

Since many types of personal immunization records are in current use, any document listing each immunization received by year will be acceptable during the 1971-1972 school year for either initiating or updating school immunization records.

Signature or rubber-stamp validation of personal records by physicians or public health clinics is recommended but not required until the Summer 1972 Semester, after which validation of new records is required.

A new, standard Certificate of Immunization form is being developed; however, compatible documents will always be acceptable.

Effective at the start of the Spring 1972 Semester, and continuing thereafter, new enrollees (those not previously enrolled in the Summer or Fall 1971 Semesters) who have not completed the required immunizations at time of enrollment, must complete them as soon as is medically feasible.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Lanny L. England of Lubbock are announcing the birth of a daughter, Landa Michelle, born June 1. The baby weighed 9 pounds 4 1/2 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bishop and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. England.

Janice Ruth Mills, Andy Dewane Bundas Married Here Friday

Janice Ruth Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Mills, became the bride of Andy Dewane Bundas in a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock Friday evening, June 11, in the First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Glenn Bowman, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Bundas of Hamlin.

Randy Stevens was organist, and Kenneth Mills of Monahans was soloist. The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with baskets of gladiolas.

Keith Bundas of Hamlin was best man, and Phil Harrison and Danny Killough of Winters were ushers.

Phyllis Grissom of Winters was maid of honor. She wore a blue silk organza dress, and carried white carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an antique satin dress with sequins-embroidered bodice and Bishop sleeves. Her train was of tulle edged with Chantilly lace.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The wedding cake was a three-tiered affair, on a table decorated with blue candles and the bride's bouquet. Mrs. Danny Killough, Miss Brenda King, Miss Cynthia Brown, and Mrs. Kenneth Mills served.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Winters high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Hamlin High School, and is employed at Harrison's Auto Supply in Winters.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bundas are at home on Route 1, Winters.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

In this era of booming outdoor adventures, newspapers—weeklies as well as dailies—seek good photographs of their readers and their outstanding catches. Editors are just as anxious as the hunters or fishermen to see these pictures printed.

Unfortunately, a goodly number of such photos, often taken of truly outstanding fish or game, are rejected. In most instances rejection was due to the poor quality of the pictures.

Most newspapers prefer photos taken by their own staff photographers. But fishing and hunting are sports of unusual hours, to say the least, so staff photos are impractical. Outdoorsmen, proud of their trophy fish and game, usually have a buddy take a pix of them or have a commercial photographer do the job.

Problem with many commercial photographers is that they usually don't have prints ready for a week, perhaps even longer, unless a premium fee is paid. Unfortunately, the news value of a picture lessens with the passage of each day.

The buddy - snapped photo, rushed to the corner drug store, can be back in your hands in 24 to 36 hours. This is not enough time loss to kill the news value of the picture. Even so, the photo may still be rejected.

Usually the reason for rejection is the matter of a photo lacking contrast, being out of focus, or being taken from too great a distance.

If you have a buddy take the picture, keep the following points in mind.

1. Have him move in close so that you and your trophy fill the view finder on the camera. Too much background and extraneous scenery only detract.

2. Have him focus the camera sharply. If the camera is a fixed-focus model, step off a distance of about nine or 10 feet and you will be in reasonably good focus.

3. Avoid cluttered backgrounds. Preferably use a cloudy sky or water.

4. Trophy catches and kills usually come once in a lifetime. Treat the occasion as such by keeping in mind that film is expensive. To be sure, shoot up the whole roll of film at different exposures. Better still, make it two rolls . . . at different distances, with different exposures (both lens openings and shutter speeds).

5. When you take the picture to the newspaper office, take the negatives, too. A good newspaper photographer often can do some "doctoring" in the darkroom and come up with a print that's excellent for publication.

Spice CABINET

FRUIT TEMPURA

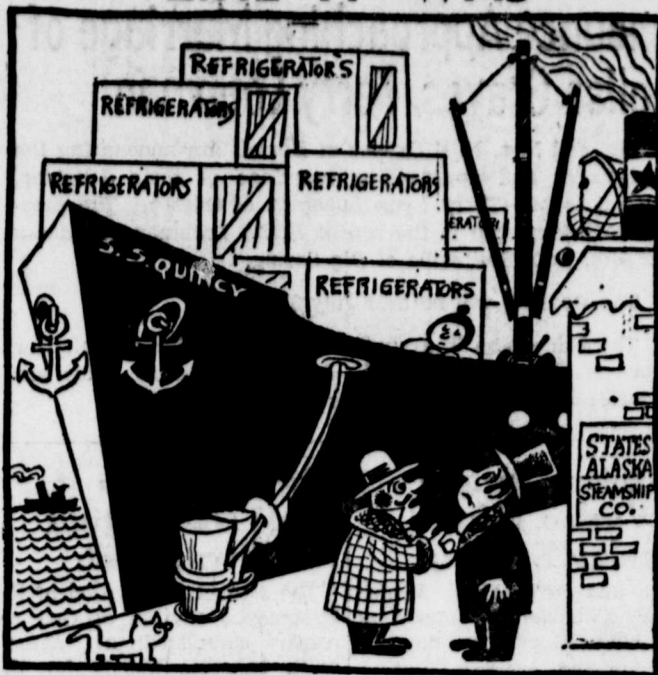

- 2 peaches
- 2 pears
- 2 bananas
- 4 apricots
- 2 nectarines
- 2 tbsps. shortening
- 3 bars (4-oz. each) crunchy chocolate
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1/4 cup orange liqueur

Halve peaches, apricots and nectarines; remove pits and slice. Peel pears, halve, core and slice. Peel bananas and slice. Arrange on a flat tray and chill until icy cold.

If using electric unit, set automatic temperature control to 180 degrees. Melt shortening and chocolate bars, stirring constantly. Stir in cream and liqueur. Skewer fruit on bamboo sticks or fondue forks and dip into mixture. Makes 8 servings.

Desert Ideas:

Bring breakfast to the dinner table! Try something unusual for your meal toppers by using French toast and waffles for desserts!

Both of the following dessert ideas utilize dairy products, which are plentiful this month. Your family will really go for Lost Bread, an easy yet elegant finish to a meal. This special French toast is served in France on June 13 in honor of St. Anthony, the saint who finds the lost.

Make French toast in the usual way, but use unsliced bread. Cut in pieces the long way—or use three slices of bread side by side. Slather the toast with strawberry preserves and a layer of sour cream. Add another row of toast, more preserves, sour cream, and top with one more layer of toast. Sprinkle confectioner's sugar over the top and serve. Watch your family's eyes light up!

They will barely get over that surprise when you serve them delicious Chocolate Buttermilk Waffles—fun to bake at the table!

Beat 3 egg yolks. Gradually add 1-2 cup cooled melted butter and 2 cups buttermilk; mix well. Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda and 1-2 teaspoon salt. Add liquid to the dry ingredients; mix just until the batter is smooth. Beat 3 egg whites until peaks form; fold into batter. Pour batter into preheated waffle iron; sprinkle with semi-sweet chocolate pieces, allowing 1-4 cup per waffle. Bake as usual. Serve piping hot with a sprinkling of (confectioner's) sugar on a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Serves 8.

Shades of Betsy Ross! What better way to remember Flag Day—the birthday of the Red, White and Blue—than with a kitchen full of "egg-citing" baking smells!

Get out the flour, the shortening, the sugar, the eggs and the rest of the "scratch" and try your hand at a few old-fashioned baked goods.

Gingerbread

- 1-2 cup shortening
- 1-2 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 egg; 1-2 cup molasses
- 1-2 cups flour
- 1-2 tsp. salt

Farm Vehicles May Be Exempt From New Rule

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Omar Bureleson today announced that the Department of Transportation has indicated its intention to revise its commercial vehicle driver qualification regulations insofar as they apply to drivers of certain vehicles controlled and operated by farmers. This action followed consultations and study within the Department, with the Department of Agriculture, with farm group representatives and other interested parties.

Congressman Bureleson stated that the Department's Federal Highway Administration found that the seasonal and intermittent nature of interstate farm operations; the general short range of the majority of farm trips; and the lower incidence of exposure of farm vehicles to highway collision risks support revision of the regulations.

"As one who has protested vehemently the restrictions on farm vehicles, and who has introduced legislation to correct this inequity," Bureleson said, "this action is a step in the right direction."

He stated that the Department's revision will cover a proposed exemption from the new driver qualification rules for all drivers of farm vehicles under 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, a lowering of the minimum age to 18 for drivers of farmer-controlled and operated vehicles, and selected exemptions from some other requirements. The agency also will consider a 150-mile radius exemption for single vehicles (non-articulated) and limited exemptions for the larger and heavier multiple-unit (articulated) types of farm vehicles. There is also a general exemption proposed for drivers of vehicles used in custom combine harvesting operations.

"Frankly," Bureleson said, "I do not think the Federal Government has any business regulating farm vehicles at all. State provisions should be sufficient and I continue to feel there should be a complete exemption for farm vehicles."

MRS. PAUL LEROY McCORMACK

Margaret Ellen Stoecker, Paul LeRoy McCormack, Married Here

Winters Church of Christ was the scene at 7:30 o'clock Saturday of a double ring wedding ceremony uniting Margaret Ellen Stoecker of Bay City, and Mr. Paul Leroy McCormack of Houston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stoecker of Winters. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCormack of Pasadena.

Mr. Carl Hecker of Columbia, Mo., Church of Christ minister, officiated.

Church decorations included a Swedish steel tree candelabra flanked by spiral candelabra and baskets filled with pickery gladoli, statice and typhosiphila.

Music was by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hodge, Jr.

Mrs. Dale Monroe of Canon City, Colo., was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length empire gown of apricot floral print, with gold satin ribbon at the waist, Victorian sleeves, and high neckline. Her headdress was a cap of flowers made of floral print organza with apricot tulle.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. J. D. Tyler of Bay City, and Mrs. Bob Long of Palacios, were gowned similarly.

Dale McCormack of Houston, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Larry McCormack, the bridegroom's brother, and Reid Stoecker, of Austin, brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of candlelight silk organza with handclipped chantilly lace on a high neckline, empire bodice and Victorian sleeves, and repeat of lace on an A-line skirt and detachable chapel train, and a queen's crown of candlelight orange blossoms with an English illusion veil. She carried a traditional bouquet of stephanotis and white carnations centered with two cream-colored cymbidium orchids to be used for her going-away corsage.

The bride's mother wore a street length mauve pink dress, with white accessories and a white orchid. The mother of the bridegroom wore a street-length lavender dress, with white accessories and a white orchid.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church of Christ following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with epergne filled with yellow roses and watermelon carnations, hyssophila and purple statice. The register table held the wedding book, a rice bag tree, and was centered with a spring bouquet and the bridesmaids' baskets.

The bride's cake was four-tiered, topped with lighted bride and groom. It was baked and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Erwin Ueckert.

House party for the reception included Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Connie Gibbs, Miss Martha Brown, Miss Janice Gray, Miss Janette Elliott, and Mrs. Erwin Ueckert.

For travel the bride wore a sleeveless yellow polyester dress with gathers at a high waistline, short white gloves, white accessories, and an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

A rehearsal dinner hosted by the bridegroom's parents was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church of Christ.

After a month's tour of Europe Mr. and Mrs. McCormack will be at home at 10011 Hammerly Blvd., Apt. 75, Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School, and earned her bachelor of science degree from Abilene Christian College. Mr. McCormack is a graduate of Pasadena High School, and earned a bachelor of business administration degree from the University of Houston. He is employed by the Internal Revenue Service at Houston.
