By R. C. THOMAS

Will there be a Little League baseball program in Winters this year?

The question will be answered by the degree of response to a meeting called by the Little League Association for next Monday night at the Community Center.

The Association has asked that all boys who plan to play Little League baseball attend the meeting and sign up. This will be the only time the boys will be able to sign up if they expect to play this year.

Also, the boys must be accompanied to the meeting by their parents or guardians, who must sign parental agreements at the same time the boys are registered. If parents are not present to sign agreements, the boys will not be included in the program, according to members of the Association.

This procedure varies slightly from that taken in previous years, it was pointed out, but in view of the circumstances this action became necessary. An attempt was made recently to organize for the coming Little League season, and a meeting was called, officers elected. Very few people attended this meeting or other meetings which were called—in fact, attendance was so low, it was stated, that it was impossible to begin planning for the upcoming season. No one seemed to be interested in helping in the project, although there was widespread opinion that the program should be promoted.

Those who are promoting the Little League program—and who have promoted it and worked for it so long—have decided that if the program was important to the boys, it should be important to their parents—enough so for them to lend a hand in putting it across. Therefore, they are asking the parents—and others who are interested—to come out and help get the show on the road . . . if they expect the boys to play Little League baseball this year.

Those who have worked with Little League in the past have done a tremendous job. They have built the Association, have built two nice lighted baseball fields, spent a lot of time painting, planting, mowing and watering grass. In fact, they have worked to provide Little League facilities which would be a credit to much larger places. But many of them no longer have boys in the program, and although they want to see Little League continued here, they feel that parents and guardians should at least show some interest, and lend some small amount of assistance. The old hands have shown that they are interested enough in the program to help it continue, and they will no doubt work—but they feel others should also cooperate.

It is unfortunate that the present situation has arisen, where so many of those most benefited by such a program have to be begged to lend a hand in promotion and work. It may have been thought by some of them that their help was not needed or sought. But those who have been working have always been ready to accept any assistance they could get.

It is hoped that those who want to see the program continued—whose sons will be benefited—will see fit to come out Monday night and help build for this season's Little League program. It would be a shame to see the facilities which the old faithful workers have provided go unused this season. More importantly, it would be a shame to deny the many boys who are usually in the program the pleasure, training and healthful exercise the program (Continued on page 4)

MISS RONDA HUTTON

Ronda Hutton Named "Miss Winters" In Lions Club Contest Saturday

Ronda Hutton, a junior student in Winters High School, was named "Miss Winters" Saturday night in the Winters Lions Club annual contest which featured 31 pretty Winters High School girls.

Miss Hutton will represent the local Lions Club in the Lions' District 2-A1 contests later this spring.

First and second runners-up were Ernestine DeLaCruz and Tandy Medford.

Miss Hutton almost collapsed with emotion in the center of the school auditorium stage as the two runners-up were named, leaving her with the title.

In the first round of judging, 15 girls were picked, and then five finalists were chosen. The other two of the five finalists were Denise Williams and Terri Mills.

Miss Hutton received the crown from the 1971 "Miss Winters", Maurine Riess.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hutton, the new Miss Winters, is a tall, slender brunette, is active in high school. She is an office girl, member of the high school choir, a member of the Future Homemakers of America, and was second runner-up in the Farm Bureau contest this year. She plans to be an accounting secretary after graduation.

Miss DeLaCruz, the first runner-up, is treasurer of her junior class, was named Homecoming Queen in the fall of 1971. She was Class Favorite during her sophomore year, and has played basketball two years.

The second runner-up, Tandy Medford, a senior student in Winters High School, is head cheerleader, was chosen Football Sweetheart, had been in the Blizzard Band for four years and on the Student Council three years. She has been in the Future Teachers of America for four years, and has played basketball four years. She was a team member of the District tennis doubles champions in 1970 and 1972; has acted in the one-act play and the senior play, Miss Medford also is treasurer of the Winters Winds, a member of the Sno-Men, and member of District and Region Bands. In band, she won a first division in Class I solo and ensemble.

The 31 contestants in Saturday's beauty pageant were nominated by high school boys. Each boy was allowed 10 nominations and the girls with the most votes were selected for the competition. They were judged on personality, stage appearance and beauty. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright and Wally Simmons, all of Abilene.

Lone Star Gas Company May Ask For Increase In Rates In Winters

Lone Star Gas Company last week announced that it would apply for residential and commercial rate increases from the cities and towns it serves on its distribution system.

The company has requested an audience with the Winters City Council, according to information from the City Hall this week, but a date for such meeting has not been made.

Lone Star stated in the announcement from the Dallas office that any residential and commercial rate increase would be limited to ten percent. The company serves 528 towns and cities in Texas, with over one million residential and commercial customers. It is not known what increase would be requested in Winters.

The application for rate increases, when presented to each city, will list increased cost of buying gas, higher property and equipment costs, increased costs for employee compensation, higher interest rates on borrowed money, and higher gross receipts, franchise and ad valorem taxes as primary reasons for Lone Star's income deficiency. According to the company increases are needed in a substantial number of cities to enable it to earn a reasonable rate of return on the fair value of properties used to serve the public.

It is estimated that if and when all rate requests are fully approved by the cities, Lone Star Gas Company will realize $5.2 million in additional revenue, based on volumes sold to residential and commercial customers in 1971 but adjusted to normal weather conditions, the announcement said.

Lone Star is also requesting the cities to pass ordinances permitting automatic adjustment for the cost of gas.

A company spokesman added that "Lone Star has a commitment to its customers to vigorously compete for supplies of natural gas to keep its reserves in a favorable position. While other sections of the country are experiencing some shortages of natural gas, Lone Star has maintained favorable supplies."

The Texas Railroad Commission in March, 1972, authorized Lone Star Gas to adjust its intracompany "city gate" charge for gas sold to residential and commercial customers, based on the cost of gas purchased by the company. This rate adjustment permits Lone Star to receive 65 percent of the increase or decrease of the company's cost of gas from the cities it serves on a semi-annual basis.

Company officials stated that they would ask all cities to grant the gas cost adjustment provision. A Lone Star spokesman stressed that "the need to continue adding new reserves and the spiraling cost which we must pay for gas create a problem recognized by the Railroad Commission. This rate cost adjustment provision will be a step forward in stimulating additional exploration and development of new natural gas reserves in Texas."

Parents and Players Must Attend

Little League Planning Meeting Monday Nite

A meeting of the Winters Little League Association has been called for next Monday night, April 24, at the Winters Community Center, beginning at 7:30.

Spokesmen for the Little League Association said it is necessary that all boys who plan to play Little League baseball this year be present at the meeting, whether they have played in past years or not.

In addition, they said, a parent or guardian of each boy planning to play will have to be present at the meeting to sign necessary papers and register the players. No exceptions can be made, they said. If the boys want to play, they said, they must have their parents accompany them to this meeting.

Also, Association spokesmen said, any person interested in continuance of the Little League program is invited to attend the meeting, whether or not they have boys in the program.

Winters Junior High School Band Won Sweepstakes At Cisco Band Festival

The 95-member Winters Junior High School Band, under the direction of Kirke McKenzie, won a sweepstakes award—superior ratings in concert and sightreading—at the Junior Music Festival at Cisco Junior College Saturday.

This is the first time a Winters Junior High Band has won this honor. There were about 32 other junior bands in the festival, and only three were judged to the sweepstakes award.

Also, 13 individual members of the band, and four ensembles were rated first division on solos and group performances. Six ensembles and 17 individuals won second division ratings.

All four judges gave the band a "1" rating. Director McKenzie said. Judges were G. T. Gilligan, Fred Stockdale and Dub Crain, for concert, and Bill Carrico for sightreading.

Elementary School Sets "Round-Up" Of Kindergarten, First Grade Students

A "Round-Up" of next year's kindergarten and first grade students, who were not in kindergarten or the first grade in the Winters School this year, has been scheduled for 2 p. m. Tuesday, April 25, in the school cafeteria.

George M. Beard, principal of the elementary school, said each child who will enter the kindergarten or first grade in August, and their parents or guardian, is urged to be at the meeting to register and obtain information regarding the next school year.

A schedule for conferences with the School Nurse will be arranged at Tuesday's meeting. Principal Beard said.

Next school year, beginning August 21, there will be a free public school kindergarten program for children born between Sept. 2, 1966, and Sept. 1, 1967, and who meet other financial and educational qualifications as required by the Texas Education Agency, Beard said.

Parents who are interested in sending their children to kindergarten are asked to contact the principal as soon as possible or attend the meeting next Tuesday.

Fire Damages Lines

A 200-pair telephone cable of General Telephone Company was cut by the fire at General Aviation Industries and Roach Furniture & Electric Co. early Wednesday, putting many telephones in downtown Winters and in some residential areas out of order.

Jack Shelly, representative of the telephone company, said Wednesday morning that crews had already been dispatched to make temporary repairs to restore service, and that permanent repairs to the cut cables would be completed Thursday or Friday.

Fire Heavily Damages Two Local Businesses

An early-morning fire Wednesday completely destroyed an assembly and packing department of General Aviation Industries, Inc., in downtown Winters, and did an undetermined amount of damage to Roach Furniture & Electric Co., occupying the same building.

The part of the building occupied by General Aviation, fronting on Tinkle and Grant Streets, was completely destroyed, with only stone walls left standing after the fire, which was discovered about 3:15 a. m. Wednesday, was extinguished.

Much of the building occupied by Roach Furniture, fronting on Main Street, was highly damaged—some sections were destroyed—and smoke and water damage to furniture and equipment in the front of the building was considered almost complete.

The fire was thought to have started from trash cans at the rear of the General Aviation building—on Grant Street—but no definite cause has been reported.

Don Roach, of Fort Worth, president of General Aviation, who flew to Winters early Wednesday, indicated it would be impossible to determine the amount of loss to his company, but that it probably would run "from $75,000 to $100,000," including loss of the building and equipment and thousands of dollars in equipment which was being manufactured or assembled on contract for the U. S. Air Force. Much of the contract order was to have been shipped out Wednesday, it was said, and a night crew had worked until 10 p. m. Tuesday night preparing the shipment.

Earl Roach, owner of Roach Furniture, said the television repair room, which was in the rear of the building, was completely destroyed, along with television sets, tubes, and parts. Air conditioner parts and other appliances also were destroyed.

In the front of the Roach Furniture building, used for display of furniture, television sets, and other household items, all articles received damage from the heat, smoke and water. A thick film of oily substance, caused by smoke from the burning roof, covered every article in the furniture department. The upholstered furniture appeared beyond recovery because of the damage, and there was some doubt about the recovery of some of the solid furniture and television sets.

Roach said loss to the furniture store alone would amount to "at least $40,000, probably more," not including damage to the building. A pickup belonging to Roach, parked in the back of the furniture store, was almost lost, but firemen were able to roll it out of the building. All television and appliance repair parts were lost, except for a few small parts and tv tubes which were in service-call cases in the store and pickup.

There was some insurance coverage on the building and equipment in both businesses, it was stated, but not nearly enough to cover the high loss.

General Aviation's main plant fronting on Main Street, was not touched by the fire and received no apparent damage.

At mid-morning Wednesday, firemen and employees of the two companies still were pouring water on the smoldering ruins, and beginning clean-up. Many of the members of the Winters Volunteer Firemen, who had answered the early-morning call, still were on duty at noon Wednesday, some of them apparently near exhaustion from the heat and smoke.

The Farmers Union sponsored a "Meet the Candidate" night Friday, April 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Ballinger Community Center.

All county district, and many of the state candidates have been invited to speak a few minutes. L. B. Watkins, president of the FU, said. In addition, several state and national office seekers may have representatives at the meeting, it was said.

A mix and mingle social will follow the talks by the candidates, to give people an opportunity to talk with each candidate, Watkins said. The Farmers Union encouraged each voter in Runnels County to come and hear all candidates or their representatives. Pie, coffee and tea will be served by the ladies of the Runnels County Farmers Union.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C. —Since only lawyers are likely to read the Texas Bar Journal, most people will not have had the opportunity to see an article by Mr. James C. Watson, President of the Texas Bar Association. The article is entitled "Bastions Against Tyranny."

Mr. Watson starts off with an explanation in laymen's terms of our jury system. The terms "jury" and "juror" are derived from the Latin terms "just (right)" and "juris (law)." He explains that basically we have two types of juries in Texas—the Grand Jury and Petit Jury. The Grand Jury has broad powers of investigations into any suspected illegal activity with the right to summon witnesses by subpoena. Mr. Watson opines that the Grand Jury system is probably the most important instrument to protect society against oppression from wrong-doers and from overzealous or even malicious governmental officials.

The Petit (Or Trial) Jury determines factual issues in disputes in civil matters and guilt or innocence in criminal matters. As Mr. Watson points out, "It, too, is a bulwark in a broad sense but probably not as much so as the Grand Jury." In criminal cases the jury protects the individual against the government and, if it be necessary, it guarantees the individual protection from the judge himself.

The President of the Texas Bar Association observes that presently efforts are being made by some to do away with the right of trial by jury for the sake of expediency. There are also advocates for altering the number of jurors and modifying the requirement for a unanimous verdict. There have been suggestions that agreements by a certain percentage of jurors, such as two-thirds, be sufficient to render a verdict.

The Jury system serves a fundamental purpose in our society and the right to trial by jury should be the right of every Texas citizen. As Mr. Watson observes, "there must be substantial justice, not necessarily precise justice; the jury gives that common sense approach."

Service as a juror is accorded only to free men. It is an essential element in a free democratic society. It often brings the average citizen in touch with his government in a substantial and awesome manner. The juror is called upon to judge and to make important decisions. It becomes his vital civic duty as well as a privilege.

Judge Watson says that he exhorts those called to jury service not to seek to be excused, if at all possible for them to serve. He believes that if a particular time for which one has been summoned is critical to him the citizen should seek to rearrange his appearance for jury duty instead of seeking to be entirely excused.

It is a duty, a responsibility and even a privilege to serve as a juror and something to be taken seriously. It can also be found intensely interesting.

Our Bar Association President ends his comments by quoting a current TV commercial which says, "Try it, you'll like it."

Funeral Monday
For Winters Man,
Accident Victim

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Lamar Street Baptist Church in Sweetwater for John Lloyd Ellis, 17, of Winters, who died at 6:12 p. m. Friday in Hendrick Memorial Hospital of injuries received in a one-car accident in Merkel early Friday morning.

The Rev. Orvel Brantley, pastor of the Sweetwater church, officiated.

Burial was in Sweetwater Cemetery.

He was born Sept. 29, 1955, in Sweetwater, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jack Ellis, of Winters. He was a veteran of the Vietnam war.

Ellis was driving into Merkel on old U. S. 80 about 1:30 a. m. Friday, according to reports, when his car ran off the road into the mud on a curve.

Police said Ellis' car then went back onto the roadway and skidded sideways for at least 200 yards, finally slamming into a car wash, destroying the structure and hitting a solid wall on the far side of the building.

Ellis was found at 1:45 a. m. by Officer Harrell Greer of the Merkel Police Dept., trapped between the car and the wall. The car was completely wrecked, police said.

Ellis was taken to Hendrick Memorial Hospital where he was in the intensive care unit until his death.

Survivors are his parents; one brother, Paul, of the home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Hollowell of Sweetwater; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Wright of Pecos.

COUNTY AGENT PARKER'S COLUMN

Check Animal Wounds for Worm Cases

Livestock and household pet owners are reminded that screwworms have returned to Texas with a vengeance. They should take all precautions to reduce case numbers, says County Agricultural Agent C. T. Parker, Jr.

An unusually mild winter in many portions of Mexico and in overwintering areas of South Texas has resulted in large fertile flypopulations that are now triggering case outbreaks in many areas of Texas. Although all known cases are receiving hot-spotting treatments of sterile flies produced at the Mission Screwworm Eradication Center, nevertheless the cooperation of all producers is needed now, explains Parker. A screwworm epidemic is in prospect.

Screwworm cases in Mexico have mushroomed during the winter and early spring, and Texas cases have spread from the Rio Grande Valley and South Texas through the Hill

Country and into the Big Bend area. Hamilton County, in Central Texas, recorded its first case of the year this week and 28 different counties have reported cases since the first of April.

Before the screwworm eradication program began in 1962, southwestern livestock owners suffered hundreds of millions of dollars in livestock losses annually. Since the program has been underway, losses have been kept to a minimum and ranch workers have concentrated on other activities besides checking for screwworm cases.

The time has come, however, when cooperation is again needed from all livestock owners and household pet enthusiasts. Ideal weather conditions and migrating fertile flies are posing a threat to all counties of the state, says Parker.

Thus far, in 1972, 188 cases have been confirmed in a wide area of Texas. Through the end of April last year, only 21 cases were diagnosed as positive. No screwworm cases were confirmed through the end of March in 1970.

Livestock and pet owners are urged to check their animals regularly, and to treat all wounds found with a product

Funeral Thursday In Ballinger For Mrs. Poindexter

Funeral for Mrs. Betty Poindexter, 34, of Ballinger, who drowned Tuesday of last week, was held last Thursday in Allen Davis Chapel with Ron Briley, minister of Ninth Street Church of Christ officiating.

Burial was in Old Runnels Cemetery.

Mrs. Poindexter was drowned in a pool of water about six feet at the causeway on the Concho River near Paint Rock.

The Ballinger Fire Department rescue squad located her body about 8:15 p. m. Tuesday after receiving a call that she was missing about 4:45 p. m. She was born July 24, 1937, in Ballinger, and married Don Poindexter in 1954. She had lived in Ballinger all her life.

Survivors include her husband; seven sons, Bobby Joe of Winters and Terry, Larry, Kenneth, Jeffrey, Robbie, Marcus, all of Ballinger; one daughter, Lora Lynn of the home; three brothers, Lloyd, Frank and Doyle Keese, all of Ballinger; two sisters, Mrs. Cordillia Hilliard of Amarillo and Mrs. Kathleen Gray of Houston.

Cattle Numbers Should Go Up
Cattle numbers can be expected to increase again during 1972. According to the latest figures from the Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service, major gains across the United States in 1971 were in beef cow numbers and beef heifers. From January 1, 1971 to January 1, 1972, beef cow numbers increased about three percent, while beef heifers 500 pounds and over being kept for cow replacements increased six percent.

This holdback of heifers emphasizes that the expansion of beef herds is coming soon, points out Parker. With spring just around the corner and a generally good outlook as far as grazing is concerned, the demand for heifers may be even more startling in the next month or so, adds the agent.

In recent years, cattle numbers have increased primarily due to the increased demands for feeder cattle by feedlots. In 1955 only about 10 million head of cattle were fed in the 23 major feeding states, compared with 25.3 million head last year.

Furthermore, cattle feeding should continue to grow, contends the Agent. Consumers are now demanding grain finished cattle instead of those finished on grass. In other words, they are demanding a higher quality of beef. This can be illustrated by the fact that 59 percent of all the beef produced in the U. S. in 1970 graded USDA Choice while back in 1955 only about one-third was equivalent to that grade.

A fisherman who likes to try different water can very easily wind up with a pocketful of expensive licenses. Those anglers who like to fish the lakes bordering their states really have a problem.

Texas and Louisiana anglers are fortunate. Heads of these two states worked out a reciprocal program for the waters of Toledo Bend, and the Sabine River—the stream that forms the natural boundary between Texas and Louisiana. Each state has agreed to honor the license of the other while fishing on this fabulous reservoir which covers some 200,000 acres when full.

Non-resident fishermen already had a good deal with Texas' universal fishing license costing the same to them as to Texans . . . $2.15 a year . . . and covering the Gulf as well as all Texas waters (excepting, of course, private ponds). Now, with their Texas license, they can also fish the Louisiana side of Toledo Bend.

Both Texas and Louisiana stocked Toledo Bend Reservoir heavily with largemouth black bass in the very beginning. Louisiana put in 1,800,000 and Texas put in 1,500,000. These, of course, were in addition to the natural spawn from fish native to the river.

In one year those bass grew to two and three pounds each and now they are of jumbo size.

The lake's popularity with anglers still exceeds its facilities. But more and more accommodations are being provided as fast as possible. There are several good facilities near the dam, reached through Jasper and Burkville on the Texas side.

More and more facilities are being installed as rapidly as possible on the uppend. This area is reached out of St. Augustine. A multi-million dollar causeway has been constructed across the lake here, connecting San Augustine, Texas, with Many, Louisiana.

For the bait fisherman, minnow and worm stands are available at both ends of the lake. Early fishing, for the most part, was done from the flat-bottom john boats so prevalent in both east Texas and Louisiana.

However, larger boats now are being towed to the lake each day for some of the best fishing of either state from the Sam Rayburn reservoir.

Every week now the newspapers and the adjacent areas publish many pictures of large fish taken from this fantastic lake. Because of the reciprocal license agreement, Texas fishermen flock to the other side, and in turn Louisiana anglers head this way. (Greener pastures, you know.)

Young Men Must Register For Draft At 18th Birthday

Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas, has reminded young men of their requirement under Federal Law to register with Selective Service.

Some young men may believe that because future military manpower requirements may be met by volunteers that requirement to register is past; however, the Law does require registration by all native born young men and all resident aliens within 30 days of their eighteenth birthday. Legal registration may be completed 30 days before, or 30 days after the young man reaches age 18.

If a young man fails to register with Selective Service, he is subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the Military Selective Service Act.

In most Texas counties, young men may register at the office of their local draft board, or with voluntary registrars located in many high schools, Chamber of Commerce Offices and in other similarly convenient locations.

Oh, if the program dies from lack of interest and effort, the town would remain standing, and the sun would continue to come up each morning, and taxes would still have to be paid. But the old town wouldn't be the same, would it? ... and the young boys would get the word that we'd let them down!

STATE Capital NEWS

By BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN — An ancient legal dispute involving Texas' sovereignty over its tidelands is in court again.

The U. S. Justice Department has filed a suit against Texas, challenging the state's regulation of fishing within the farthest-most two leagues (six marine miles) of the historic three-league (nine-marine-mile) boundary.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has requested President Nixon to intervene in the latest federal attack.

The Attorney General further requested an opportunity for the state to present its position to the State Department and Justice Department. The state, he noted in a letter to Nixon, was not notified prior to filing of the action.

Martin claimed the new action is contrary to the position taken by the Eisenhower-Nixon administration in 1953 and 1957.

He submitted to the President excerpts from the state's brief filed in the original boundary suit which was decided in Texas' favor by the U. S. Supreme Court in 1958. He also included a 1957 letter from the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower to then-Gov. Price Daniel. Eisenhower expressed the opinion that Texas should "have the right to explore and exploit the submerged lands extending seaward of (its) coastline for a distance of three marine leagues into the Gulf of Mexico."

Martin urged Nixon to inform him if his position as president is the same as that expressed by President Eisenhower.

COURT REVISION URGED
A Supreme Court justice and president of the Texas Civil Judicial Council says it's time the legislature submits to voters a constitutional amendment of judiciary reform.

Associate Justice Tom Reavley said Texans are demanding "major surgery" on the court system. Suggested Reavley:

—The State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals should be merged into a single court of last resort.

—Fourteen Courts of Civil Appeals should be given jurisdiction over criminal as well as civil cases.

—There should be fewer levels of lower courts with less overlapping jurisdiction.

—Appeal procedure should be "simpler and speedier."

—Judges and cases should be transferred to match resources with needs in keeping with better management of the court system.

The 63rd Legislature, Reavley said, should be asked next year to submit the constitutional amendment proposing court reorganization and modernization.

SPECIAL TRAINING APPROVED
The State Board of Education approved contracts for special training next school year of 2,611 children in non-public schools.

Largest single group involved is the trainable mentally retarded category, with 1,887 youngsters.

Pupils, from pre-school age through high school level, will attend 12 schools operated under the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and 35 independent non-public schools.

The State Board of Education also reviewed a $1.1 million research program supported by 90 percent federal and 10 percent local funds.

Board members voted to uphold orders of Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar sustaining local school board "haircut rules" and dress codes.

COURTS SPEAK
The Court of Criminal Appeals refused to go along with an argument that the aggravated assault law discriminated against men—and concluded it's still worse for a man to hit a woman than the other way around.

Texas Supreme Court held a county judge can't prevent a township incorporation election if 200 residents present the required petition. The decision upheld an Athens district judge and the Tyler Court of Civil Appeals.

The High Court sustained lower courts and refused to knock out of operation a Houston legal aid service for the poor in spite of objections to it by some lawyers who claimed it is costing them money.

APPOINTMENTS
James W. (Jack) Ward of Amarillo has been named by Gov. Preston Smith as a member of the Texas Mass Transportation Commission for a six-year term.

Smith also named eight to the Real Estate Research Advisory Committee. They are Joe W. Loper of San Antonio, Glenn W. Justice of Dallas, Mrs. Katherine Boyd of Arlington, Dr. Walstein Smith Jr. of Waco, John A. Worley of Dallas, George O. Yamini of Dallas, Julio S. Laguarda of Houston and R. L. Pardue of Houston.

HEALTH STUDY LAUNCHED
State, local and federal health officials this week began an intensive study to determine if health hazards exist for workers in the American Smelting and Refining Company in El Paso.

Air samples will be taken within the plant to discover possible toxic materials, and blood and urine samples will be taken from about 800 employees.

The survey will complement a comprehensive health study to evaluate lead hazards in the plant vicinity which was initiated by local health officials several weeks ago in cooperation with the State Health Department. ASRC is cooperating in the survey.

PARTIES SLOW
Secretary of State Bob Bullock complained about early response to his request that county political party officers submit early estimates of May primary election expenses.

Bullock said a week after he asked for the estimate only 99 (of 254) counties were represented in replies. He warned again no state funds will be allocated to local parties until estimated expenditures are submitted on prescribed forms.

Some county chairmen explained they were taking their time since the new state primary financing act makes them responsible for inaccuracies in their figures.

JUNE 1 PUPIL TRANSFER DEADLINE
Texas Education Agency has held parents who want to transfer their children from their home school to a nearby district must submit requests by June 1.

Once approved by the receiving school board, the request must also be cleared by TEA. State approval is a term of a U. S. District Court order filed in Tyler relating to desegregation of schools. Under the order, transfers are not to be permitted to reduce or impede desegregation or encourage discrimination.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas cities and counties would bet about $202 million this year under a federal revenue-sharing bill before a U. S. House committee.

College teachers in a meeting here endorsed the idea of collective bargaining rights for public employees.

Likely date for the next special session of the legislature on appropriations and taxation appears to be the week of June 12.

The State Treasury, declares Treasurer Jesse James, had a greater net return on its time deposit interest "than any billion dollar bank in Texas."

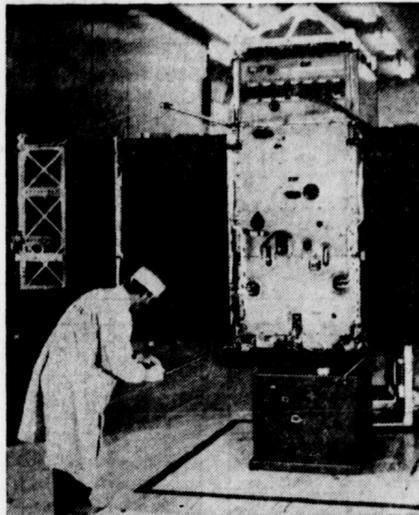

Texas National Guard units have reached the highest rating level in 10 years, according to Adjutant General Ross Ayers.

New state bank charters are being sought at Balch Springs (Dallas County) and Houston.

The attorney general is being asked for an opinion interpreting the state's nepotism law governing state officials and legislators hiring each other relative in view of new disclosures.

Zack Fisher of Memphis is the assistant state campaign manager for Sen. John Tower.

"Gone With the Wind"

"Gone With the Wind," acclaimed worldwide as one of the great motion picture entertainments of all time, is now presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in new Wide-Screen and Metro-color splendor, giving even greater power to the unforgettable love story.

The massive picture has 59 major speaking roles. Thousands of extras were used in spectacle scenes. The most elaborate and still acclaimed as a classic of filmmaking was the burning of Atlanta. The city as it was in 1864 was authentically created on 40 acres at the Selznick Studios in Culver City, California. Of the picture's 90 sets, 50 buildings alone were designed and erected in recreating Atlanta.

The scene had to be filmed in a single "take" without mishap.

There would be no second chance. No available camera crane was large enough to cover the scene, in which 1,200 extras appeared. A shipbuilding crane was delivered to the studio from Seattle to serve as a towering camera platform. Residents of Culver City, attracted by the thousands, still recall the mounting excitement of the spectacle. Flames roared and shot 200 feet into the air as Atlanta burned with a realism rarely equalled on the screen.

This is only one of literally hundreds of memorable scenes in the three-hour, 40-minute epic motion picture.

"Gone With the Wind" has been re-released by MGM over the years to new generations and growing audiences. Millions have again thrilled to the picture each time it has been presented. Today, it is an acknowledged classic of motion picture making.

Special Power of Onion
Onions have been attributed special powers down through the ages. For instance, people in Bohemia and Spanish lands once fed their watch dogs, fighting cocks and ganders onions to make them fearless. In other European countries onions were sometimes hung in rooms to ward off evil spirits.

Even if you don't believe in the onion's magical powers, you probably believe in its culinary powers. For today's imaginative cook uses onions to ward off blandness and monotony in her meals.

Now is an especially good time to add onions to the menu. This Onion and Cheese Soup gives a special lift to mealtime:

- 1 c. chopped onions
 - 2 T flour
 - 1 1/2 qts. milk, scalded
 - Salt and pepper
 - 2 T. butter
 - 2 c. grated sharp Cheddar cheese
 - Paprika
 - Minced chives
- Saute onion in butter until soft, add flour and mix. Add milk gradually, stirring all the while, and heat to just below the boiling point. Season and stir in cheese. Serve with sprinkle of paprika and chives. Makes two quarts.

Herb Onion Saute
6 medium onions, peeled
6 T. butter
Salt and pepper
Dried marjoram
Cut the peeled onions into thin slices. Melt butter in a large frying pan, add the onions and salt to taste. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, for about 30 minutes or until onions are golden and very tender. Stir in pepper to taste and a pinch of crumbled dried marjoram. Makes six servings.

French Fried Onion Rings
1 1/2 lbs. onions
1 egg white, slightly beaten
One-third c. milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
3/4 c. fine dry bread crumbs
Fat

Peel onions under water and cut into slices about one-third inch thick. Slash each slice to center and pull rings apart. Combine egg white and milk and dip onions into mixture. Dust with salt and pepper and roll in bread crumbs.

Place in frying basket and plunge into deep hot fat (365 degrees) and fry until browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes six to eight servings.

Basque Eggs and Potatoes
3 medium potatoes, cooked and peeled
1/4 c. butter
1/4 tsp. salt
Pepper
4 eggs, beaten
1/4 c. minced green onions or chives
2 T. minced parsley

Slice potatoes 1/4 inch thick. Melt butter in a 10 inch skillet over medium heat. Add potatoes and onion slices. Brown on both sides. Sprinkle with salt and a pinch of pepper. Pour eggs over the top. Sprinkle with minced onions and parsley. Turn heat very low. Cover pan and cook seven to ten minutes or until eggs are set. Makes four or five servings.

Easy Onion Soup
2 medium size onions, thinly sliced
2 c. beef or chicken stock
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
2 T. butter

Saute the onion slices in butter, then add stock and the Worcestershire sauce. Season to taste and simmer 15 minutes. Makes four servings.

Colorful Cranberries
Clever homemakers know how much color adds to appetite appeal. That's one of the reasons cranberry sauce is a frequent addition to the menu. Another good reason is its tart, tangy flavor which adds so much taste appeal.

These tasty native North American berries had an important place in the everyday diets of the Indians long before the Pilgrims landed. Pilgrim women learned about these wild berries from friendly Indians and soon began creating their own ways of preparing cranberries for their tables.

Cranberries were first picked by hand, then by wooden fingered scoops which combed the berries from the vines. Now the scoops have been replaced by mechanical pickers which complete the harvest faster and cut down risk of frost damage.

Canned cranberry sauce and cranberry juice cocktail are in especially plentiful supply now.

Cranberry Cheese Salad
2 Pkgs. (3-oz. each) cream cheese
1 cup mayonnaise
1 c. whipping cream
1 c. crushed pineapple, drained
1 c. jellied cranberry sauce, cubed
1/2 c. ripe olives, thinly sliced

Cream the cheese and mix well with mayonnaise. Whip cream and add to the cheese-mayonnaise mixture. Fold in the sliced olives, pineapple and cranberry sauce cubes. Pack in refrigerator tray and freeze for 3 to 4 hours. Slice and serve on lettuce.

Cranberry Prune Whip
1 c. cooked prunes
2 egg whites
Salt
1 c. jellied cranberry sauce
1/4 c. chopped nut meats

Pit prunes. Press prunes and cranberry sauce through a sieve then add a dash of salt. Beat the egg whites stiff, then beat fruit mixture into egg whites a small portion at a time. Mixture will increase in volume with beating. Fold nut meats into whip. Chill. Serve soon after preparation with a custard.

Cranberry Bavarian Cream
1 pint cranberry juice cocktail
1 Pkg. lemon gelatin
1/4 c. sugar
Salt
1 c. heavy cream, whipped

Heat cranberry cocktail to boiling point. Dissolve gelatin, sugar and a dash of salt in the hot cocktail. Chill mixture until syrupy, stirring frequently. Fold whipped cream into the mixture and pour into a well oiled one-quart mold. Chill four hours and unmold the Bavarian on a serving dish. It can also be chilled in a large dessert dish and then spooned into individual serving dishes.

Household Help Covered By SS

Household workers have been covered by the Social Security Act since 1951, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. A domestic worker's cash wages for work in a private household are covered by the law if they amount to $50 or more from one employer in a three-month quarter.

Many situations have arisen where domestic employees have not been reported, and the most common reason given by non-reporting employers has been that their domestic employees had requested that the social security tax not be withheld from their pay. If the reporting requirements are met for domestic employees, reporting on a quarterly basis is mandatory. If you employ a household

BUSINESS and the STOCK MARKET

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Truck manufacturers should experience gains in sales and earnings this year well above those recorded in 1971, especially in the area of heavier-duty trucks. Several favorable factors are making a healthier climate for this important industrial segment in 1972: Reinstatement of the investment tax credit, lower interest rates, the probable absence of labor difficulties, a more encouraging economic environment, continued strong demand for recreational trucks, and a sounder financial position for the companies involved.

INDUSTRY MAKE-UP

While these are several companies with operations in the general field of truck manufacturing, the Detroit Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—produce the lion's share of trucks in terms of numbers. In 1971, these three giants posted substantial gains in the total of trucks they manufactured. In fact, last year was a record-setter for the entire industry, with factory shipments breaking through the long-sought magic mark of 2,000,000 units.

Additionally, in the heavier end of truck manufacturing, the three leaders International Harvester, White and Mack (a Signal Companies division) all fared well during 1971. Although competition is increasing steadily in this heavy-truck area, the three aforementioned independents have been predominant and continue to maintain their leadership positions. It must be mentioned that these independents do not rely on automobile manufacturing for the bulk of their sales as do the car makers also involved in turning out trucks.

Although an industry engine supplier strike is retarding some heavy-truck production at this writing, demand continues strong and is building up because of strike conditions. The walkout referred to is at Cummins Engine; it began in the early part of March. However, as each day passes, the potential for settlement increases.

LITTLE FOREIGN INTERVENTION

In contrast to the auto makers where an estimated 15 percent of the marketplace is currently controlled by foreign cars, the domestic truck manufacturers are relatively free from foreign competition, especially in the field of medium- and heavy-duty trucks. The foreign producers are at a distinct disadvantage when it comes to making the larger-size vehicles and exporting them to the United States, owing to this country's size, weight, and tax restrictions.

As for the lighter-weight trucks, the situation is somewhat different. In recent years, Japanese auto manufacturers—namely Datsun and Toyota—have made some inroads, although their percentage of the market so far is small. We expect, however, that they will continue to make progress in this area, but we do not look for them to become involved in heavy-duty truck manufacture. Another favorable factor for

Will the Real Henry Kissinger...

By RALPH NOVAK

WASHINGTON (CEF)

Who, really, is Henry Kissinger? What does he want to be when he grows up? If he is going to act so much like James Bond, why doesn't he look a little more like Sean Connery? What is a nice guy like him doing in a place like that anyway?

These are only a few of the unanswered questions about President Nixon's combination chief adviser, Tonto in residence, chief cook and bottle washer, minister without portfolio and chief source of gossip about what all those starlets are really like. The questions persist in spite of the fact that newspaper, magazine and radio-television reporters are infatuated with Kissinger and write about him almost as much these days as they do about Howard Hughes. (Which raises an interesting point: Have you ever seen Howard Hughes and Henry Kissinger in the same place at the same time? And who was that masked man, anyway?)

No one, however, has yet established just exactly how much power Kissinger wields. Is he only a glorified errand boy for the President, or does he cast a potent influence on national policy, thereby, perhaps, giving Jill St. John an indirect means of changing the course of world events? ("Golly, Hank, it sure would be spiffy if the President would go to China." "Sure thing, Jill, I'll get on it right away.")

Some criticism has centered on the fact that the American people did not elect Kissinger and have never demonstrated any desire to vest him with power to negotiate matters of international life and/or death. This overlooks the fact, however, that even if Kissinger were to go to Moscow and offer, say, to trade Louisiana for Byelorussia, the ultimate responsibility would rest on Mr. Nixon's shoulders.

And if Mr. Nixon has delegated or ceded unseemly amounts of power to Kissinger, and the American people find this distasteful, they can retaliate against the President at the polls.

Kissinger is, after all, a hireling, albeit an exalted one. And the extended nature of attention paid him is due primarily to the fact that he is so fond of the mysterious aspects of his job. Somehow the American press is over-fascinated with mystery, so has made Kissinger into a sort of Prussian Zorro.

But then we should be thankful for the colorful side-show he has provided lately, taking up the slack left by the toning down of Spiro Agnew. Politics is, after all, a kind of show business and somebody has got to keep the public's interest up during those long intermissions between the President's addresses to the nation.

Amazing new gas oven ends scrubbing.

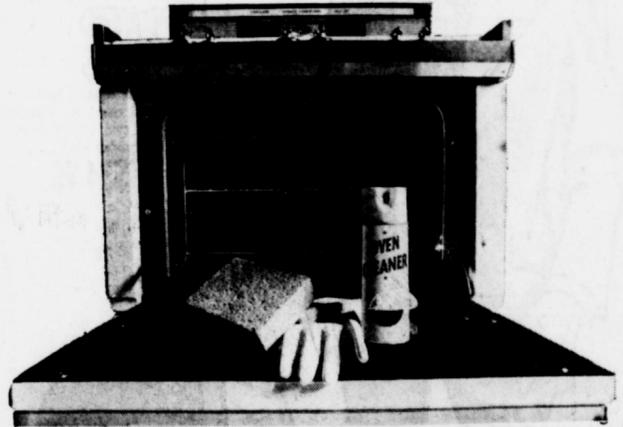

You can cook with this oven 365 days a year and never have to scrub it. Because it actually cleans itself as it cooks!

Think what this means. Never again will you have to go through the grimy job of scrubbing an oven (most women hate this job more than any other).

Never again will you have to face an all day cleaning job—because you've put it off too long.

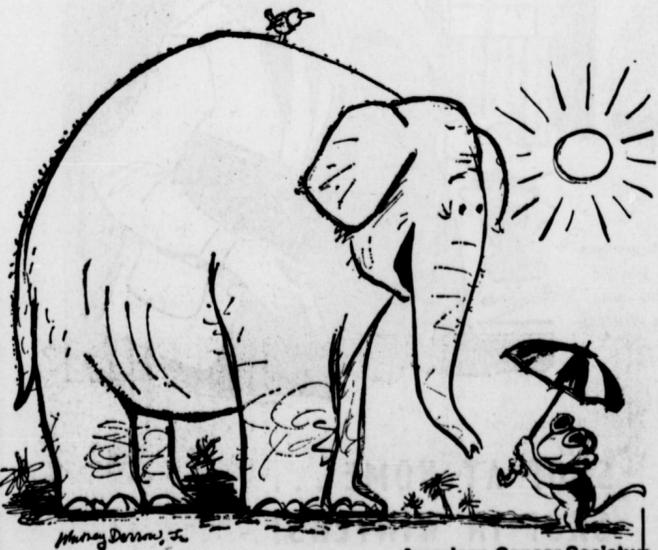

The gas continuous cleaning oven is just one of many exciting features on today's gas ranges. See them at your appliance dealer, or Lone Star Gas. And cross your grubbier job off your list. Forever.

Engineers Hired To Make Preliminary Study and Report Of City Sewer Farm

The engineering firm of Yates & Decker of Abilene has been hired by the City of Winters to make a preliminary study and report of the City's sewer farm system. The City Council approved the action in a regular meeting Monday night.

Mayor Wade White said the study will be aimed at complying with requirements of the Texas Water Quality Board, which has been dissatisfied with the present system for some time. The present farm system is inadequate to handle the needs of Winters, the mayor said, and the Water Quality Board has requested that immediate action be taken to remedy the situation.

The mayor said that it is known that a new system will have to be built, or at least the present system enlarged to meet the demands and comply with state board requirements. The engineering firm will study the situation and make recommendations to the council regarding action to be taken, he said.

The mayor would not hazard a guess as to what a new system would cost, but said that financing would come from loans and grants from state and federal sources, with the city providing a percentage in addition to engineering fees.

Work is being done this week on enlarging some of the lagoons at the farm system, and to build retaining walls in some places, the mayor said.

Workers Will Pay Higher SS Rates

"In 1972, workers earning over $7800 per year will find they are paying more for social security coverage than they did in 1971," according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

"The cause of this is an increase in the wage base from $7800 maximum to a $9,000 maximum. The contribution rate, however," Mr. Talbot pointed out, "will remain the same; 5.2 percent for wage rate employees and 7.5 percent for self-employed individuals."

Mr. Talbot went on to explain that the increase in the wage base will result in higher social security benefits for these workers. Social security benefits are computed from the average worker's earnings that are covered by social security. For example, a worker who has averaged $9000 earnings each year under social security could be entitled to $295.40 each month should he retire or become disabled. His wife and children could be entitled to an additional $221.60 per month. In the event of the worker's death, the wife and children could receive as much as $517.00 monthly.
