A $1 Dinner for 4

A SPRING dinner that is pink and green in color—to harmonize with one's dainty pink or green Spring table linen, is lovely indeed. But it is still more lovely if its price is so incidental that it saves the price of a gay flowered-china apron to wear in preparing it. Behold the menu—and the apron—above.

The Recipes

Friday Dinner pink. Boil one-half cup rice until tender; drain, add one-third cup milk and one beaten egg, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Put into greased mold, and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Turn out onto hot platter. Add coleslaw.

contents of a tall can of pink salmon, one-third cup chopped green peas and rice olives to one cup white sauce. Heat to boiling and pour over the rice mold. Steamed Fruit Dumplings. Roll out baking-powder biscuit dough, made with one cup flour and cut in four 4-inch squares. Pare and core one apple and cut in wedges. Divide the apple and one-fourth cup canned cherry sauce between the four squares of dough, placing them in the middle. Bring the corners of the dough together and pinch well. Place dumplings on a plate, put in a steamer and steam forty-five minutes. Serve with butter and brown sugar.

Poison Gas Is Being

Used in Squirrel Drive
Livermore, Calif.—Poison gas, made from burning straw and sulphur, is being used by Alameda county pest-control authorities to exterminate upon ground squirrels.

T. S. McGraw, in charge of county rodent extermination, has devised a poison gas machine which he believes is 96 per cent perfect, as compared with the old method of extermination by means of poisoned grain.

McGraw's machine uses 12 sacks of straw a day as fuel, and operates at capacity on 40 pounds of crude sulphur.

The gas is generated in a steel tank and is carried through several lines of hose, with the aid of a blower, into the squirrel holes.

Unearthed Indian Skeletons
Deerfield, Mass.—Three Indian skeletons have been unearthed in this town in recent months. The latest specimen was that of an adult male. An Indian pipe made of white sandstone was found nearby.

Hazel Alberta Harrison

Miss Hazel Alberta Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Harrison, died at her home here at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, after a lingering illness of about 7 months.

She was born December 10, 1914, and departed this life May 3, 1933, being at the time of her death 18 years, 4 months and 23 days of age. She came to this country from England.

She was in the public school here for the past 5 years and entered at the beginning of this term but went only about three weeks, at which time she became ill. For more than 7 months she fought a heroic fight. It was a long battle, but the struggle is over. Her spirit is at rest.

Hazel was one of Carbon's most popular young women.

She leaves her father and mother, a brother, and several mourning loved ones have the deepest sympathy and love of their many friends.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, conducted by Rev. Z. L. Howell, assisted by Revs. G. W. Gwaltney and A. A. Davis, followed by interment in the Carbon cemetery.

The many and beautiful floral offerings showed the sympathy in which she was held by her many friends.

to Guide City Visitors
Columbus, Ohio.—The "Teluguada," a mechanical aid to strangers, has made its appearance in Columbus.

The device, an invention of Michael Abel, consists of a large scale map of the central portion of the city, over which are scattered 100 little lights corresponding to various public buildings, places of interest and business.

"Mad" Motorboat Throws

Pilot and Chases Him
Chico, Calif.—E. W. Odom knows what it means to own a "mad" motorboat.

Cruising up the Sacramento river the speedboat swerved and threw him into the water. As he came to the surface he had to escape being hit by the pilotless boat. Twice more he came up and each time he had to dive to escape the boat.

Following the third dive the boat went speeding down the river only to beach itself a few minutes later.

LINDBERGH TURNS TO RESEARCH WORK

Colonel Keeps Nature of Experiments Secret.

New York—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has plunged into his research work with renewed vigor in an effort to forget the past.

He goes almost daily to an extensive laboratory reserved for his personal use in the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, in New York city, but exactly what he does there is hidden behind a barrier of secrecy.

A few months ago it became known that Colonel Lindbergh, then the happy father of a curly-haired son, had been working on a centrifugal apparatus designed to separate serum from the blood.

Observers, however, are disinclined to believe his whole attention is riveted on such a prosaic affair as a centrifuge. Curiosity has been whetted by instructions prohibiting employees from approaching the Lindbergh laboratory or attempting to engage the famous flyer in conversation.

When Lindbergh sits among co-workers for luncheon in the restaurant on the grounds he is not disturbed. None speaks of the dire events which the colonel is trying to forget.

They have been cautioned, too, against talking abroad about the colonel's return to his laboratories, so that he may enter and leave without being subjected to the gaze of curious outsiders.

Lindbergh, who was known as "Slim" long before his son was kidnapped, obviously has lost weight, but his countenance is cheerful.

There is much speculation as to the nature of his work. In connection with the serum experiment, it was recalled that Lindbergh's first association with the institute was when he flew to Quebec with some anti-gonorrhea serum provided by it for the stricken Floyd Bennett. It is thought he might be interested in developing a serum to be carried on polar flights, but that is only one of the many guesses and rumors.

Infantile Paralysis

"Bren, who had club feet possibly resulting from infantile paralysis, or poliomyelitis as the doctors call it, was found of athletic and even that his handicap did not apply when he was in the water. From constant exercise he was able to become so strong that he eventually was able to swim the English Channel, but as did Lander in the golden days of Greece." Dr. John R. H. told readers of Argus Magazine in his article entitled, "Bren."

Lands
Moscow—The irrigation of the middle Volga drought region by the erection of a gigantic hydroelectric station, announced recently by Josef Stalin, and Premier Vlncheslav Molotov, is one of the greatest engineering projects in modern history, according to Soviet scientists.

The station, supplying 2,000,000 kilowatts of power for machinery to irrigate some 10,000,000 acres of grain lands, will cost the Soviet at least 1,500,000,000 rubles. It will involve the construction of a dam across the Volga at Kamskensk about 30 meters high and some three kilometers in length.

Research work preparatory to formulation of final plans already has been started. Actual construction is scheduled to begin in 1933 and to be completed by 1937.

End of G. A. R. Forecast

Philadelphia—Within another five years the Grand Army of the Republic will have ceased to exist as an organization.

This was the opinion expressed by Samuel P. Town, national commander in chief, as he sat in the Pennsylvania state headquarters in the city hall preparing notices for the annual encampment at Springfield, Ill., next September.

"The oldest member of the G. A. R. whom I know is William H. R. Neel of Philadelphia," he said. "He is ninety-six and was in business until last January."

In the prime of the G. A. R., Town declared, the membership numbered 500,000, but now the total membership is less than 15,000.

By using airplanes the globe trotter can make the journey in about one-third the 80-day trip of Jules Verne. The new belt line follows roughly the route blazed by Gatty and Post instead of the beaten path via the Mediterranean, Suez canal, and India.

The short cut across the United States and spans the Pacific ocean from Seattle to Japan. Keeping well to the north Siberia is crossed by train, reversing the famous journey made by Marco Polo in 1263. The new route crosses Russia and from Moscow and Leningrad the globe trotter proceeds by the shortest route to Sweden. On the theory that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points the traveler sails from Copenhagen and skirts the northern cape of Scotland on the direct route to New York. The new belt line reduces the trip from about 25,000 to 15,000 miles.

Flyer Sees Blaze, Turns in Fire Alarm by Radio

New York.—What is believed to have been the first fire alarm reported by radio from an airplane aloft was turned in by Mark Munn, American Airways pilot, on the Chicago-Cincinnati run. Shortly after he took off recently he saw the roof of a deserted army reserve hangar blazing and radioed the men at the ground station to summon firemen, who put out the fire.

 Love at First Sight.
 "It was love at first sight on the part of my first husband, and he exerted a spell over me which I was powerless to break, even with my own wish not to marry him. At first I used to stay up until 3 and 4 a. m., going to cabarets and shows, but when I couldn't pay the price I found was expected my invitations became fewer and fewer.

"I still lived in one room in a little hotel and even after my spectacular marriage to Doctor Papandaki, his tragic death and my return to work with Molyneux, I never could stand to pretend in my private life the life I only acted during the day."

Marcel Fouchin could not ask the gorgeous girl to marry him because he was destitute. The enchantress of the desert had to put words in his mouth and then set action to the words. They were wed amid enthusiastic ceremonies in the Latin quarter of the left bank "and now," she concluded, "I have gone back to work, not as a mankin this time, but as a saleswoman. Royal Dinner Service Sold for Princesses

London.—A royal silver dinner service, engraved with the arms of Princess Henry of Battenberg and of Princess Beatrice and made by the famous silversmith, Paul Storr, was sold recently at auction by order of Princess Beatrice.

It brought $8,340, though valued at one time at $50,000.

The royal owner is said to have disposed of the service to bolster the dowries of her two granddaughters, the children of ex-King Alfonso and Queen Ena of Spain.

Sometime ago it was understood that the betrothals of the two princesses were to be made public almost immediately, but it was announced later that they had been indefinitely postponed.

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF EASTLAND COUNTY—GREETING:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon E. Hayes Sieber, Mrs. Rebecca Croninger Sieber and her husband Jerome T. Sieber by mail publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, and that Judicial District to appear at the next regular term of the 9th District Court of Eastland County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Eastland, on the first Monday in June A. D. 1933, the same being the 5th day of June A. D. 1933, then and there to answer a petition filed in 88th District Court on the 2nd day of February A. D. 1933, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 15, 518 and which was on the 5th day of April, 1933, duly transferred to the 91st District Court, wherein Mrs. Annie Harbin, a widow, is Plaintiff and E. Hayes Sieber, Mrs. Rebecca Croninger Sieber and her husband Jerome T. Sieber, First National Bank of Lubbock, a corporation, O. L. Slaton and J. M. Wagner, are Defendants and the cause of action being alleged as follows:

That on July 7th, 1928, E. Hayes Sieber delivered to Central Finance Company his promissory note in the sum of $1500.00, due July 7th, 1929, with interest from date at rate of 8 percent per annum payable annually, and all past due interest; to bear 10 percent interest per annum and providing for 10 percent additional interest as attorneys fees placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. That said note has on the back, a notation that interest for two years has been paid; that there is due the principal sum of $1830.80 as principal and interest, and the sum of $183.08 as attorney fees, making a total of $2013.88. That said note has been transferred by Central Finance Company to Mrs. Annie Harbin, a plaintiff herein, and is long past due and unpaid.

That on July 7th, 1928 E. Hayes Sieber executed and delivered to J. A. Beard, a certain deed of trust, as trustee, and thereby conveyed to said J. A. Beard, trustee, all that certain lot, tract or parcel of land situated in Eastland County, Texas, being a part of the David Butler survey, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning on the South Boundary Line of said David Butler Survey at a point 641 1/2 vrs. West from the S. E. corner of said survey for S. E. corner this tract.

Thence West with said South boundary line of said Survey, 141 vrs. to the S. W. corner of said survey for S. W. corner this tract;

Thence North with the West boundary line of said survey, 1420 vrs. to the N. W. corner of this tract which is also the S. W. corner of R. E. Barton's 120 acre tract out of said survey; Thence South 1420 vrs. to the S. E. corner of said survey containing 355 acres more or less.

That on April 9th, 1927, E. Hayes Sieber executed and delivered to Mrs. Rebecca Croninger

Sieber, his promissory note in the sum of $8000.00, and gave to Roy Riddell a deed of trust on the above described property, to secure said note, but that the lien, if any, given was in all things subordinate to and subject to plaintiff's deed of trust and lien, and so specified in the deed of trust given to said Roy Riddell. Plaintiff is informed that a portion of said indebtedness was transferred to First National Bank of Lubbock and that Mrs. Rebecca Croninger Sieber and her husband Jerome T. Sieber are claiming some right or title to said land. That J. M. Wagner is asserting and claiming some interest to said land.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays for judgment for the amount due her on said note, for costs of suit and foreclosure of her lien on said land; that all claims and demands of defendants each and all of them, jointly and severally, be decreed to be inferior, subordinate and subject to plaintiff's lien. Plaintiff prays for such other and further relief in law and equity she may be entitled to.

HEREIN FAIL NOT. But have you before said Court, on said first day of the next term thereof, of this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
