Town Hall #444

State Senator Kel Seliger held his 444th town hall meeting last Monday at the depot in the city park. Kel represents District 31 which spans

37 counties in the Panhandle, Permian Basin, and South Plains. He has served in the Texas Senate since 2004. Kel is the Chairman of the Senate

Higher Education Committee. He told the group of attendees that education funding was going to be a top priority during next year's legislative session. He stressed that his main goal is to listen to what the people in his district want and take those requests to Austin and implement them.

Texas Crop and Weather Report: Texas Panhandle

Temperatures were near-normal with a few days above normal near the end of the reporting period. Soil moisture was mostly adequate. Rains delayed cotton harvest for most producers. Wheat fields were booming. Cattle producers were beginning to prepare to turn out yearlings on wheat pasture. Deaf Smith County producers were trying to get into fields following heavy rains the previous reporting period. Silage chopping began in limited areas. Cotton bolls were opening, and producers were waiting for drier conditions to harvest. In Hall County, a few warm, dry days allowed producers to harvest cotton and peanuts in a few fields. Pasture and cattle conditions looked good. This summary was compiled by AgriLife Extension district reporters.

Rusty McFarland wins Week 9 Football Contest

Rusty McFarland of Friendswood, Texas was in the money again in Week 9. Last week he won second place and this week his Texas Tech-Iowa State tie-breaker score of 10 won him the $30 first place prize. Rusty, Sandra Berend, Laura Field, Dorothy Stowers, and Sawyer Osborn all correctly picked 11 out of 12 games. The Miami-Houston game was given to everyone since it was played on Thursday. Those top five entrants all missed the Texas-Oklahoma State game except for Dorothy. She missed the Levelland-Dalhart game.

Sandra Berend missed the tie-breaker by 12 points and she won the $20 second place prize. Laura Field and Dorothy Stowers both missed the first tie-breaker by 19 points so we had to go to the second tie-breaker which was the Denver-Kansas City game. Laura missed it by 3 points and won the $10 third place prize. Dorothy missed the second tie-breaker by 5 points.

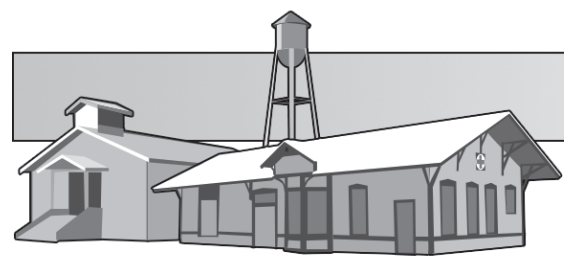

With three weeks remaining in the contest, Jon Field has surged into the lead but he is followed closely by 14 contestants within 7 points. Good luck to all!!! The current standings can be found on page 7.

The Bus Stops Here

Sharon White saw this bus at the YesWay Store (formerly FastStop) last week. The owner, Jeff Roland, found the bus in Roswell, New Mexico. It had the number 5 and Friona on it. He and his son were on their way to Santa Rosa and had always wanted to come to Friona and see if anyone would remember the old buses. Of course, Sharon told him that her Grandpa Reeve had one of the first bus "fleets" in the state of Texas. Jeff owns and operates Roland's Mustang Vintage Auto & Truck Yard in Midland, Texas.

The Healthy Baby Coalition of Parmer County, Parmer Medical Center and Texas Department of Health and Human Services teamed together on October 22nd to make Parmer County a safer place for children. A free car seat inspection was offered in the hospital's employee parking lot. Certified technicians worked with each family to instruct them on how to assure their child was fitted properly in their car seat and that the car seat was installed properly in the vehicle. Each family received 20-30 minutes on one-on-one instructions from the technicians who answered questions and assured that each child was safe in their family vehicle. In addition, DSHS provided 20 car seats that were distributed free to parents who did not have a seat for their child or whose current car seat was considered unsafe or not appropriate for the age of their child. Overall, 29 children were assisted.

Miniature monsters will soon invade the neighborhoods and the cry, "Trick or Treat," will be heard through out the land. Major V.J. Cawthon, regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Motorists and parents need to take precautions to protect children and prevent disasters this Halloween". "I would suggest house or block parties for the kids. Children will invade many neighborhoods in spite of past unfavorable incidents, and he offered the following safety rules to help protect the kids." Cawthon said, "Small Children should be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating be confined to their own neighborhood. Costumes should be light in color, short enough to prevent tripping and non-flammable. Facial make-up should be used instead of masks or hoods that restrict vision." Trick or Treaters should not eat unwrapped candy until the parents inspect it and fruit should be washed and cut into small pieces to be sure nothing has been placed inside. Children should be told to look in all directions before crossing the streets and to walk, never run. A flashlight carried by a child can serve as a warning to motorists and children should be instructed to use sidewalks when possible.

Friona Jaycees passed a resolution this week in support of proposed amendment one on the Constitutional Election to be held next Tuesday. The first amendment provides a raise in annual salaries for Texas legislators from $4800.00 to $15,000.00 and calls for annual sessions of the legislature. "The Jaycees, like many other organizations across the state, feel that Texas can attract a better quality legislator by providing a salary in keeping with the times," stated Don Gatlin, president of the local chapter. The JCs feel that under the present set-up, only wealthy persons can serve in the legislature or else representatives must have additional source of income. "We feel that being a state representative is a position worthy of adequate pay," Gatlin said. He urged that all qualified voters in the Friona area exercise their voting right regardless of how they might care to vote.

They plan to enter the state tournament in Midland and the national tourney in Minneapolis, Minn., early next year.

Psalm 102—Truth on Trial

Brett Hoyle, Pastor, First Baptist Church

Truth has often been placed on trial in the college classroom, various movies and books, but every time you face a crisis in your life truth goes on trial. The question becomes whether you will walk in faith or fear, truth or terror, trust or doubt in Jesus Christ. Psalm 102 is a prayer for God's help in the midst of crisis. As the psalmist prays to the Lord, we see how truth is on trial, and that the truth of who God is, wins.

The first eleven verses are downright dark and miserable, because the psalmist is bold enough to be honest with God about the devastation, despair and misery that he is going through. He doesn't reveal whether he is being attacked by enemies, persecuted for the faith, suffering consequences of sinful decisions or simply going through a general trial in life, but what is revealed is that things were tough. When crisis hits, be honest with God about your situation, feelings and frustrations. He knows them already, and when you confess your heart to Him it opens you up to walk with Him through the difficulty at hand.

From a realistic assessment of the crisis at hand, the Psalm shifts to focus on the Lord's power, might, eternity and sovereignty. The trials in our lives must be processed as you focus on the Lord's character, and sovereignty, not the difficulty of the trial. Remember, Jesus can calm the seas, walk on the water or even lead you across on dry land, but the aim is for you to cling to Him each step of the way. Psalm 102 does that, so much so that the Psalmists trust in God is strengthened, hope is renewed and faith increased because he was willing to get honest about his misery, and look up unto the Master.

Panhandle Parables

Daily Thanksgiving

By Jeff Procter, Minister, 6th Street Church of Christ

Over the years, I have seen various November challenges. The one I appreciate and encourage you to entertain is that of finding daily things, opportunities, blessings.... that you are thankful for and write them down. So since today is November 1st it is a good opportunity for you to grab a sheet of paper and start your daily list of thanksgiving.

I won't update you each week as to my list, but I will give you my thankful blessing for November 1st. I am thankful for November 1st. It was on this day several years back that my wife was born. So, not only am I thankful for today, but thankful that Monica is my wonderful wife and friend in this journey, Happy Birthday!

When we take a moment to stop, breath and give thanks many things begin to have clarity that can be lost in the rush of our daily lives. Satan hates gratitude. He has no interest in us being thankful for anything, but ourselves. It is an inward self-focus that he prefers, because when one is focused on self, little else matters. So, this is the beginning of hopefully a journey that will take you beyond, November 30th, but become a daily reminder of just how blessed you are in this life and allowing Jesus to use you, prepare you, and lead you to the life to come. I hope that as you enter this holiday season, it will be less about stuff and more about others. Mend what needs mending, love what needs loving and inspire those that need inspiration, by the way you live your walk with the Lord. Have a great week and God bless.

Llamados a Conocerle Friona Para Cristo

By Pastor Aurelio & Cynthia Silva

La Palabra del Señor es Poderosa para sanarnos. La Raiz de la mayoría de las enfermedades es por falta de alimento, tanto físico como espiritual. De acuerdo al libro de Salmos 107 :18- su alma abomino todo alimento y llegaron hasta las puertas de la misma muerte. Por esto mismo el Señor Jesucristo dice en Lucas 4-4. Por eso el Señor dice no solo de pan vivira el hombre sino de toda palabra que sale de la boca de Dios. Tambien en el Salmo 107:19 Al clamar ellos al Señor El envío su palabra y los sano, En Mateo 8:8 Tenemos una historia un centurion que clamó y pidió solo que enviara su palabra y su criado sanaria y así sucedio. Si estas enfermo clama al Señor y su palabra te sanara.

The word of God has power to heal. The root of the majority of illness is the lack of food, physical just as much as spiritual. According to the book of Psalms 107:18 "They loathed any kind of food, and they drew near to the gates of hell." Therefore this is why the Lord says in Luke 4:4 "it is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God.'" As well in Psalms 107:19 "Then they cried to the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them from their distress." In Matthew 8:8 we have a story where a centurion who called unto the Lord and asked that his word may be sent and his servant shall be healed, and just that occurred. If you are ill call unto the Lord and his word shall heal you.

Using Scripture Selectively

By Teena Hughs

After all that happened last week--the caravan/invasion, a man attempting to send mail bombs to Democrat leaders, 11 people being savagely killed in a Pittsburgh synagogue, and whatever else you can think of--I was glad to be able to watch Hallmark Christmas movies over the weekend.

All of these events are very disturbing, but what really disturbed me was seeing politicians on both sides invoking Scripture and the name of the Lord into their viewpoints on the caravan/invasion.

We can all find verses of Scriptures to support our beliefs, and all too often, people don't quote the above and below the verse they are choosing to use in their defense; nor do they understand the historical reasoning of why the particular Scripture was written.

I have a problem using the Bible to justify beliefs when it suits a person's cause; but to be honest, I have an even bigger problem with the people who did this last week. They used God's Word to justify their stance on immigration, but they never use God's Word to justify their beliefs and support of abortion or homosexuality, because God's Word does not support either one!

I use Scripture to make points when I write this column, but I also choose to believe ALL of the Bible, not just the parts that suit me and what I believe.

Selectively using Scripture to justify one's cause, and ignoring it when it is convenient to do so, do not go hand-in-hand. And, this is what calls me to question the integrity of people who use God and His Word to further themselves and their causes. God and His Word aren't to be messed with, and those people who do mess with it, should be concerned about what they are doing.

Take care, have a great week, and please pray for our country!!!

Evans Survivor Visits South Dakota

Joe Bob Mann, long time residence of Friona, Texas, visited South Dakota during the U.S.S. Frank E. Evans DD 754 Association Reunion in Rapid City, South Dakota, October 9-14, 2018. During one excursion along with his wife, Dale Mann, and other members of the Association, the group toured Ellsworth Air Force Base located just outside Rapid City.

During the tour, a group of airmen informed the Evans group of their duties and answered questions about the three B-1B Lancer bombers which were displayed on the air field. While visiting the airmen, a chance meeting with one airman resulted in finding a close neighbor. Joe Bob met Airman Heather Rocha who just happens to have grown up in Bovina, Texas, and graduated from Bovina High School. She has been stationed at Ellsworth for one year.

Other excursions brought the Evans group to the Mount Rushmore and Crazy Horse Monuments. It had snowed so the scenery was quite different from the summer-like scenery the Manns found during a visit two years ago in September. The trees and mountains were covered with snow while the roads were clear. Mount Rushmore showed what appeared to be the Presidents crying with the streams of moisture from the melting snow running down their faces. It was beautiful to say the least.

While at Ellsworth Air Force Base, the group had their annual memorial to honor not only the "74" sailors who gave their lives on board the Evans on June 3, 1969, but also all members and family who had passed away during the year. It was a moving ceremony held at the South Dakota Air & Space Museum outside the Ellsworth Base.

On Saturday night, the final banquet was a murder mystery in which Joe Bob and Dale had acting parts. The title was "Murder at the Deadwood Saloon". All cast members dressed in 1864 costumes, had no memorized lines but adlibbed their parts from information given. The event was well received by those in attendance.

The next Reunion will be in Long Beach, California, from May 28-June 4, 2019. The group will be staying on the Queen Mary cruise ship which is moored in Long Beach. Long Beach was the home port for the U.S.S. Frank E. Evans DD 754 when it was cut in two by the Australian aircraft carrier, The Melbourne, in 1969. The memorial will be held on June 3rd which is the date of the accident. Joe Bob Mann was on board the ship when the accident happened resulting in the 74 sailors losing their lives when the front end (the bow) of the ship sank. The Evans Association is working diligently to get those "74" names on the Vietnam Memorial Wall in Washington, D.C.

Local Students Complete TCFA Feedyard Technician Program

Amarillo, Texas - Seven Friona students completed the Machinery Operation, Safety and Repair portion of the Feedyard Technician Certification Program October 16 and 17 at West Texas A&M University (WTAMU) in Canyon. The goal of the program is to give students a basic understanding of the knowledge and skills necessary to work in the feedyard industry.

Friona students who graduated from the program are Miguel Lopez, Anthony Padilla, Zachary Ramos, Jose Rodriguez, Ezra Stephens, Roy Vega and Zeus Zamudio. WTAMU students tested participants on metal-working skills including welding and cutting. Participants also trained on wheel loader and skid steer operation and safety at Warren CAT in Amarillo, and trained on feedyard and mill safety at XIT Feeders in Dalhart, Dimmitt Feeders in Dimmit and Wheeler Land and Livestock in Wheeler.

To complete the certification process, the students were tested over their skills with a written exam. They were also interviewed by TCFA and feedyard industry officials on topics covered in the training.

The program is a collaboration between Texas Cattle Feeders Association, WTAMU and Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Services. One hundred students representing 22 schools graduated from the Machinery Operation, Safety and Repair portion of the program.

Students in the program are identified by their Agricultural Science Teacher, feedyard managers or have expressed interest to be accepted into the program. They should be enrolled in at least one high school agricultural class each semester, participate in extra-curricular activities such as FFA and have a supervised agricultural experience project.

If you are interested in potentially hiring students who have participated in the program, please contact Brady Miller at brady@tcfa.org or Rachel Hernandez at rachel@tcfa.org, or you may call (806) 358-3681.

Don't delay anymore - get that flu shot today

By Bob Moos, Southwest public affairs officer for the U.S. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services

It's not too late to get a flu shot. Even though the flu season usually begins about now, the vaccine will protect you within about two weeks. The season typically peaks in January or February and runs through May.

The flu hospitalized and killed more Americans last winter than any seasonal influenza in decades. More than 900,000 people landed in the hospital, double the number of many seasons. More than 80,000 people died, far exceeding the previous high of 56,000 for a flu season over the past 30 years.

The hospitalizations and deaths were mainly among people 65 and older. As people age, their immune system typically weakens and their ability to ward off diseases declines. Moreover, the flu virus can cause complications for those already struggling with chronic health problems.

Last year's heavy toll underscores the importance of getting a flu vaccine as soon as possible. The shot can prevent infections and reduce the severity of complications from the disease. If you're enrolled in Medicare Part B, your flu shot won't cost you anything, as long as your doctor, health clinic or pharmacy agrees not to charge you more than Medicare pays. There's no deductible or co-payment.

If you were vaccinated last year, you'll still need another shot this year, since your immunity to flu viruses wanes after a year. Also, the types of viruses usually change from season to season, so new vaccines are made each year to fight what scientists believe will be the season's most common strains.

You have many flu shot options. Besides the traditional flu vaccines that help protect against three strains of the virus, there are now "quadrivalent" vaccines that help protect against four strains. There's also a high-dose vaccine approved for people 65 and older.

If you have any questions about which is best for you, talk to your doctor or other health care professional.

Despite the risk that flu and its complications pose, the vaccination rate remains much lower than it should be. Even during last year's horrible season, less than half of the U.S. population was vaccinated.

Why? Some people don't understand that the flu can be serious and life-threatening, so they don't think a flu shot is worth their time and effort. Others resist annual vaccination because they believe it's risky, even though decades of experience have shown flu shots to be safe.

If you're concerned about a serious allergic reaction or some other medical condition that may make the flu vaccine unsafe for you, you should consult your doctor before a vaccination. Otherwise, it's important to remember that you can't get the flu from the flu shot.

Side effects are rare. Most people notice nothing after their vaccination. A few may have a slight fever or some soreness where the shot was given. But those side effects usually last just a day or two.

As flu season begins, you'll want to wash your hands and stay away from sick people to reduce the spread of germs. But as useful as those steps are, an annual vaccination remains the best way to protect yourself and those around you. By avoiding the flu, you'll avoid giving it to family and friends.

Texas Weekly Fuel Update and Outlook

Gasoline prices in Texas have fallen 5.6 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $2.56/g yesterday, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 13,114 stations in Texas. This compares with the national average that has fallen 2.9 cents per gallon versus last week to $2.81/g, according to GasBuddy.

Including the change locally during the past week, prices yesterday were 32.5 cents per gallon higher than a year ago and are 7.1 cents per gallon lower than a month ago. The national average has dropped 6.6 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 35.6 cents per gallon higher than a year ago.

"From coast to coast, gas prices in nearly every state saw downward movement in the last week as sliding oil prices continued to keep the door open to falling gas prices. In fact, in the next 24 hours we'll likely see the national average fall to its lowest point in over six months," said Patrick DeHaan, head of petroleum analysis for GasBuddy. "Saudi Arabia has indicated it is prepared to raise oil production, addressing what had been a major concern ahead of Iran sanctions taking effect. Oil prices have fallen over 10 percent in recent weeks, providing the bulk of the gas price relief we're seeing, and will continue to see for the next week or two at least. While there is still some anxiety globally over a lack of spare oil capacity, the market has been laser focused on discussion from oil producers, including Russia, that they will act to raise production. OPEC meets in early December, and any official increase in oil production could go a long way to temper concerns of shortcomings in the market."

GasBuddy is available on all mobile platforms. The app and website have the most accurate and real-time fuel prices at over 140,000 unique stations in the United States, and is the most comprehensive money-saving companion while on the road. For more information, visit www.gasbuddy.com marriage of the Governor of New Jersey, the love affairs of four beach-bound high school crushes, a lively crew of fairies and the staff of the local beauty salon (run by Patti Quince and Stylist Nikki Bottom). The night takes a magical turn when Oberon and the impish Puck arrive on the scene armed with a powerful love potion and a desire for mischief making. With several weddings and the acting careers of six beauticians hanging in the balance, the lovers take to the boardwalk, backed by pop music and an iPhone-obsessed wood sprite.

Being that November is BLAZE COFFEE ACCIDENT AWARENESS Month, we would like to share our story...

In August 2009, our son, Blaze Coffee, was in an accident while working with heavy equipment. He was rushed to the hospital where a surgeon was awaiting his arrival. Blaze was taken to surgery immediately. After what seemed like an eternity, the doctor came to talk to us. The doctor informed us that Blaze had sustained a terrible trauma and that his injuries were life-threatening.

When they let our family see Blaze for the first time after the surgery, it was then we noted the large number of blood components that were being used. This day was the start of our twenty-eight day stay in the hospital. Each day, Blaze would overcome one crisis and then another would arise. He required blood products daily - platelets, plasma and red blood cells. We quit counting how many he was given at about 68 yet the transfusions continued. Through all of this, Blaze demonstrated a remarkable will to live and a fighting spirit that astounded those around him. Thanks to donors that responded, we never worried that blood would be available...and we never lost hope!

On September 8, our hometown of Panhandle pulled together for one of the biggest single blood drives for an individual. The communities of Booker and Darrouzett held drives in Blaze's honor as well. The drives brought in about 140 units of blood thanks to the community of Panhandle, to our friends and neighbors and to the other communities who showed their support.

Our story is a little different from those usually shared with Coffee Memorial. Blaze did not receive an earthly healing, he passed away on the very day the blood drives were held in his honor - September 8, 2009. He was 20 years old. We wanted to share our story because the blood products Blaze received gave us 28 extra days with our son to say the things we needed to say. That is why we contacted Coffee Memorial (name is just a coincidence) to ask if we could obtain sponsors and host blood drives in our son's honor. With generous support from our friends, family and area businesses, the Blaze Coffee Memorial Drives have grown so much that we are now able to sponsor t-shirts for the entire month of November in Blaze's memory.

Blaze truly lit up his little corner of the world during his 20 years. We may no longer be blessed with his physical presence, but his flame still burns brightly through all of those who have already donated blood in his memory, and those who will do so in the future. Because of the gracious donations from strangers every day, families in crisis do not have to worry about blood being there for their loved ones.

We want to extend our most sincere appreciation to each of you!

Parmer County Commissioners Court Adoption

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE ADOPTION OF THE PARMER COUNTY MULTI-JURISDICTIONAL HAZARD MITIGATION PLAN

The Parmer County Commissioners Court will conduct a public hearing before considering final adoption of the recently completed 2018 Parmer County Hazard Mitigation Plan Update on November 13, 2018 at 9:30 a.m. in the Commissioners' Court Chambers of the Parmer County Courthouse located at 401 3rd St. Farwell, Texas. This plan incorporates mitigation actions intended to minimize the impacts of certain natural hazards on the residents of the County.

The Disaster Mitigation Act of 2000, as amended, requires that local governments, develop, adopt, and update natural hazard mitigation plans in order to receive certain federal assistance. A Mitigation Action Team ("MAT") comprised of representatives from Parmer County, the City of Bovina, City of Farwell, City of Friona, Bovina ISD, Farwell ISD, Friona ISD and Lazbuddie ISD, was convened to assess the risks from and vulnerabilities to natural hazards that are endemic to the Parmer County area, and to make recommendations on mitigating the effects of such hazards. The original Hazard Mitigation plan was adopted in 2006 and in order to maintain its approved status by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), it has to be updated every five (5) years.

A copy of the Parmer County plan update is now available for review in the Parmer County Judge's office, each City Hall, ISD Superintendent Office or it may be reviewed online at:

<https://prod.i-info.com/document/Home.aspx?pid=002Y>

The meeting is open to the public and members of the community are encouraged to attend to offer feedback and comment.

Kiki and the History of Red Ribbon Week

Enrique (Kiki) S. Camarena was born on July 26, 1947, in Mexicali, Mexico. He graduated from Calexico High School in Calexico, California in 1966, and in 1968 he joined the U.S. Marine Corps. After serving in the Marine Corps for two years, Kiki was a Calexico fireman, Calexico police officer, and an Imperial County Deputy Sheriff. Kiki joined the Drug Enforcement Administration in June of 1974. His first assignment was as a Special Agent with DEA in a familiar place - Calexico, California.

In 1977, after three years in Calexico, he was reassigned to the Fresno District Office in Northern California. Four years later, Kiki received transfer orders to Mexico, where he would work out of the Guadalajara Resident Office. For more than four years in Mexico, Kiki remained on the trail of the country's biggest marijuana and cocaine traffickers. In early 1985, he was extremely close to unlocking a multi-billion dollar drug pipeline. However, before he was able to expose the drug trafficking operations to the public, he was kidnapped on February 7, 1985. On that fateful day, while headed to a luncheon with his wife, Mika, Kiki was surrounded by five armed men who threw him into a car and sped away. That was the last time anyone but his kidnappers would see him alive.

It is believed that Special Agent Camarena's death actually occurred two days later, but his body was not discovered until March 5, 1985. He was 37 years old and was survived by his wife Mika and their three children—Enrique, Daniel, and Erik. During his 11 years with DEA, Kiki received two Sustained Superior Performance Awards, a Special Achievement Award and, posthumously, the Administrator's Award of Honor, the highest award granted by DEA.

Shortly after Kiki's death, Congressman Duncan Hunter and high school friend Henry Lozano launched Camarena Clubs in Kiki's hometown of Calexico, California. Hundreds of club members including Calexico High School teacher David Dhillon wore red ribbons and pledged to lead drug-free lives to honor the sacrifices made by Kiki Camarena and others on behalf of all Americans.

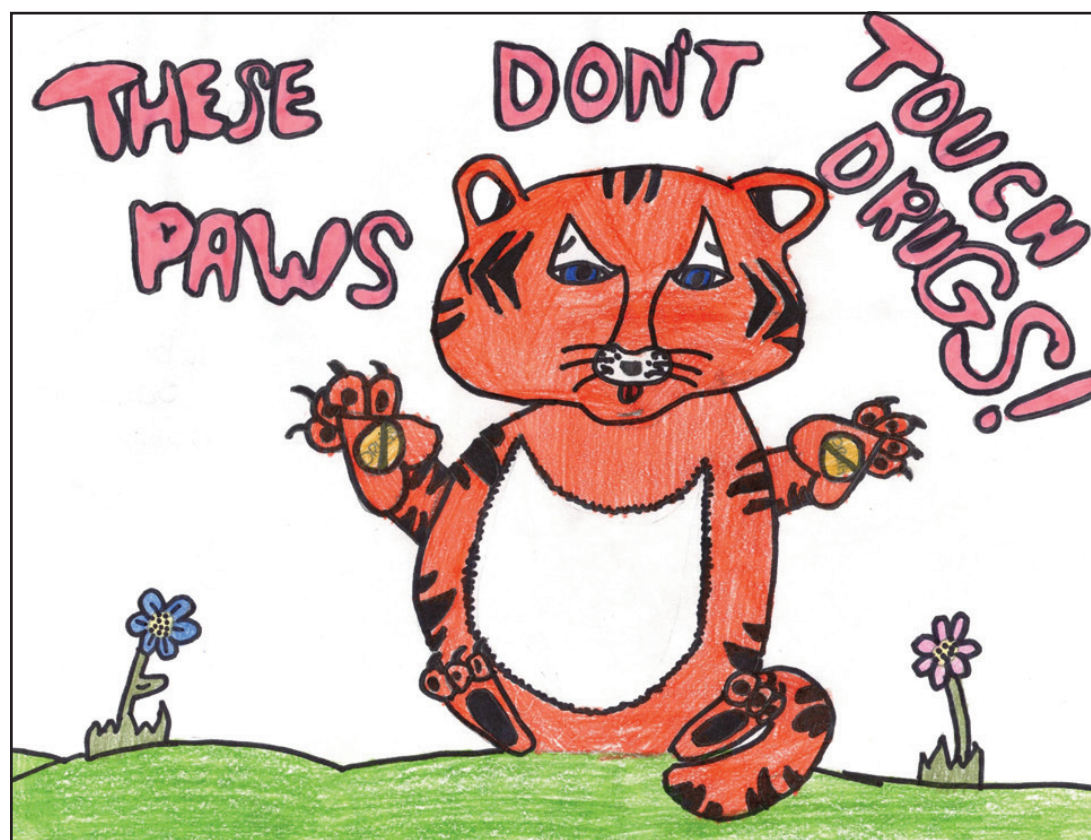

Red Ribbon Week eventually gained momentum throughout California and later across the United States. In 1985, club members presented the "Camarena Club Proclamation" to then First Lady Nancy Reagan, bringing it national attention. Later that summer, parent groups in California, Illinois, and Virginia began promoting the wearing of red ribbons nationwide during late October. The campaign was then formalized in 1988 by the National Family Partnership, with President and Mrs. Reagan serving as honorary chairpersons. Today, the eight-day celebration is an annual catalyst to show intolerance for drugs in our schools, workplaces, and communities. Each year, on October 23-31, more than 80 million young people and adults show their commitment to a healthy, drug-free lifestyle by wearing or displaying the red ribbon.
