Two Accidents Reported in County During June

The Highway Patrol investigated two rural traffic accidents in Foard County during the month of June, according to Sgt. D. R. Dowdy, Patrol supervisor of this area.

These two wrecks accounted for one injury and an estimated property damage of $900.00.

The rural traffic accident summary in Foard County for the first six months of 1965 shows a total of 13 crashes resulting in no deaths, 12 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $20,155.00.

"As of the first of this month, there had been a total of 1,040 fatal crashes in Texas taking lives of 1,261 persons," the sergeant stated. This is approximately two per cent less for the same period of 1964; however, if past trends continue, we will in all probability exceed the all-time record high of 3,006 persons killed in traffic crashes experienced in Texas last year.

"Texas was fortunate over the 4th of July week end in that the predicted number of persons were not killed, but we cannot brag, as 25 persons were killed over the holiday while in the rest of the nation we experienced a great increase over last year, and set a new all-time record for deaths over the 4th of July holiday just as we did during the previous Memorial Day holiday."

The veteran patrol supervisor concluded that with the vacation season well underway more vehicles will be traveling streets and highways, and he called on all motorists to become more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws in an effort to reduce the rising trend of traffic crashes.

Rev. Robert O. Cooper Heads SMU Wesley Foundation

Rev. Robert O. Cooper, a 1952 graduate of Perkins School of Theology, has replaced Rev. G. Paul Blanton as director of Southern Methodist University's Wesley Foundation, it has been announced.

Rev. Blanton resigned his position to enroll at Claremont Graduate School, Claremont, Calif., where he will pursue a doctorate.

Rev. Cooper, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cooper of Crowell, previously was director of the Campus Christian Fellowship, an ecumenical campus ministry representing the Christian, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, at Texas College of Arts and Industries in Kingsville.

As director of the SMU Wesley Foundation, previously known as the Methodist Student Movement, Mr. Cooper will bring the Methodist ministry to the SMU campus, to both its students and its faculty.

A native of Crowell, Mr. Cooper earned his B. A. degree from Texas Technological College in 1949. This June he received his master of sacred theology degree from Drew University in Madison, N. J. His master's thesis was entitled "The Development of Reinhold Niebuhr's Theology and Ethics Concerning War and Peace."

After receiving his bachelor of divinity degree, Cooper served four years as associate director of the Wesley Foundation in Denton, leaving in 1956 to serve a year as director of the Wesley Foundation at West Texas State University in Canyon.

He was associate director of Texas A&M's Wesley Foundation in 1957-58 and at the same time was state director of the student program for the Texas Methodist Student Movement. In 1958, he became director of the Foundation at A&M.

Mr. Cooper's wife, the former Miss Shirley Burns, is a native of Dallas and a graduate of Highland Park High School and SMU. They have three children.

Project Head Start Pupils Take Field Trip to McAdams Ranch

On Thursday morning, July 15, the students of Project Head Start, accompanied by their instructors, Mrs. Lewis Sloan and Miss Evelyn Fuske, took a field trip to the McAdams Ranch west of Crowell.

A tour of the ranch was made so that the children could see the Hereford cattle, the quarterhorses, the corals, the windmills, and the ranch headquarters. Upon their return to the ranch house, Mrs. Otis Gafford and Mrs. Leslie McAdams conducted the students on a tour of the home. They were shown many Indian artifacts, including arrowheads, headaddresses, moccasins and dolls. They also viewed with interest a collection of rattlesnake rattlers collected by Mrs. McAdams. After viewing the Indian relics, the group was then served refreshments by Mrs. Gafford and Mrs. McAdams.

Mothers who accompanied the group were Meses. Tommy Reynolds, S. W. Nichols Jr., Martin Quintero, Ernest Tucker and Sammy Neal. Marcus Mills drove the bus for the tour. Upon their return, the chaperones and bus driver were luncheon guests at the cafeteria.

LITTLE LEAGUE TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD IN CROWELL TONIGHT

Crowell will play host to Knox City in a Little League area tournament tonight (Thursday) on Foard County Little League field, with starting time at 8 p. m.

This will represent a duplication of last year's pairings, with the site of the game to be here in Crowell instead of at Knox City and will be the first Little League tourney in history for Crowell.

Knox City defeated Crowell last season by a top-heavy score. The local team, under the direction of Bill Bell and Floyd Thomas, hopes to avenge that loss tonight, as local youngsters have shaped up nicely in nightly practice sessions.

Knox City All-Stars familiarized themselves with the Crowell field on Tuesday night with a snappy workout that gave local fans a preview of Knox County talents.

Local Boy Scouts Spend Last Week at Camp Perkins

Ten members of Troop 49, Boy Scouts of America, of Crowell and Scoutmaster Ray Shirley returned home last Saturday after spending the week at Camp Perkins near Wichita Falls.

In addition to earning many merit badges, the Crowell group won the campsite award for having the neatest campsite of any of the six troops represented, and a team composed of Larry Hughston, Gary Eddy and Billy Hord won first in the camp swim meet.

The ten Scouts attending were Barry Branch, Gary Eddy, Ronny Naylor, Edward Mechell, Larry Hughston, Billy Hord, Mike Clifton, Marvin Machac, Bob Shirley and Fred Vecera Jr.

All ten of the boys earned their Indian lore merit badge, and Naylor, Branch, Eddy, Clifton and Machac passed all their requirements for becoming First Class Scouts except one. Machac earned his soil and water conservation merit badge, and Mechell, Vecera, Shirley, Eddy, Hughston and Hord were awarded the forestry merit badge. Earning their reptile study merit badges were Shirley, Hord, Hughston, Vecera and Mechell.

A total of 78 area Scouts were at Camp Perkins last week.

WORK NEARS COMPLETION ON GRADE SCHOOL RENOVATION

Remodeling and refinishing the Grade School building of the Crowell School System is about ninety per cent complete, with the "face lifting" gives the building a bright, airy look.

New fluorescent lights have been installed throughout the building, and the painting of the walls and ceiling is complete. The rooms are painted in various light pastel colors, and the ceilings have been painted white.

New steel frame windows are being installed in two of the rooms and the floors throughout the building have been sanded and finished which will make a light-colored floor.

New furniture and desks have been ordered for the building and a new filing cabinet will be provided for each of the teachers.

The north portion of the building—containing 10 rooms—is the primary department, and large new bulletin boards have been made for each of these rooms. Built-in storage facilities for the children's coats and caps, and also storage facilities for the teachers have been built in each of these ten rooms.

The extreme northwest room in the building is a teachers' work room for the primary teachers, and this room will also provide additional storage facilities for the primary department teachers.

Seven new evaporative coolers have also been purchased for the building.

The east-west portion of the building houses the junior high department. New rest room facilities have been built in this area, and a teachers work room for junior high teachers has been provided.

In the high school building, all the floors have been sanded, the cracks in the plaster patched and new fluorescent lights are now being installed.

Colors for Fall '65

Fall 1965 presents great freedom of color. There is no limit to the extent of color planning, color scrambling to generate fashion news and excitement. Colors run the gamut from winter pastels, glowing jewel tones, vibrant hat spots, to elegant darks. Pastels artfully combine with brights, darks or neutrals for flattering new effects. For further fashion impact, team the brights with dark hues or other bright shades.

Gray will become vitally important as a color this fall. It serves as a pivot shade around which all other colors revolve. Highly promotional and particularly effective with gray are the harvest tones of amber, squash, pumpkin and burnt orange. Clear, vivid carrot, orange and mandarin, new this fall, are young and lively. They offer considerable competition to the long favored pink family.

The reds this fall range from a true scarlet preferred by the children's and junior markets, to the blue berry and wine tones of cherry, claret and garment so rich in woollens and velvets. Pinks may be soft and dusty as bois-de-rose or hot as fiesta and cyclamen.

Greens will take on a yellowed look this year, whether shays as Blackeye, cream and purple pens are plentiful. Tomatoes, plant, radishes, green onions, ery and carrots are good vegetable choices. There's plenty of corn for boiling or roasting. Tupe heads are running small, the quality is improved. Beans are nice in quality, prices are relatively high. Squash and cucumbers are in limited supply.

Some locally-grown produce continues to come to market. Fresh vegetables are of good quality.

Survey Board County Published

Scientists with the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District began a soil survey of Polk County in 1959 and completed the field work in 1961. The report has now been published. A number of the publications are available at the Soil Conservation Service in Crowell. The report is of interest to landowners, operators and interested in agriculture in the county.

the properties of each layer such as the color, texture, reaction and other characteristics affecting soil behavior and productivity. They recorded such features as soil slope, losses of soil by erosion, salt accumulation, and evidences of poor drainage.

Soils that did not have differences that were significant in soil use or soil genesis were placed together, given a symbol for the map and the boundaries outlined on the map. Additional information shown on the map includes the location of natural drains, creeks, rivers, rock outcrops, lakes, ponds, roads, railroads and houses.

Each farmer or rancher cooperated in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District is given a copy of the soil map of his farm or ranch as a part of his soil and water conservation plan.

How soil surveys are used: Soil surveys have many uses as they furnish basic data for all land uses. Farmers use soil surveys to learn the extent and location of the different kinds of soil they have, the ability of these soils to grow plants, and their response to use and management.

Soil surveys are used in applying the results of research and experience to individual fields or parts of fields. By using soil maps, the results of experiments on a given soil, can be applied directly to other areas of the same kind of soil with confidence.

Some users of soil surveys want more general information than that of the individual mapping unit or kind of soil. For their use, the soils are grouped into land capability classes, range sites, pasture or hayland groups, wildlife sites and other suitability groupings.

Conservation engineers use soil surveys to find out how fast water will enter a soil and how fast it passes through the soil. They use such information to lay out terraces, irrigation and drainage systems, and to determine the size of dams needed to retard floods.

Soil surveys are used for locating pond sites for livestock water, for evaluating wildlife habitat, and in locating recreation, hunting or fishing sites.

Investors, bankers, insurance companies and loan companies find soil surveys helpful in determining the soundness of proposed investments in land. Land buyers use soil surveys to look at the soil and its potential productivity. Land appraisers use soil surveys as a source of information on which to base land values.

Organizations such as soil conservation districts, water conservation districts and drainage districts use soils information in developing district programs.

Research workers use soils information to set up crop and fertilizer studies. Extension workers and teachers use soil maps to help inform farmers and students about soils and how to do a better job of farming using soils information. City planning officials use soil

Panhandle Lakes Catch Good Rain

Record high late June rainfall totaling 10 1/2 inches in the Amarillo area has swollen Meredith Reservoir on the Canadian River to 6,413 surface acres, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Most other Panhandle lakes, largely without sufficient run-off since 1961-62, are now full and overflowing because of recent rains.

Lake Meredith, the site of recent walleye releases by the department, is the Panhandle's newest and largest lake. The newest reservoir, destined to cover 20,000 surface acres when full, has already become one of the major centers for water-oriented sports in northwest Texas.

GREAT dreams often die for want of enough hope and enough hearts to make them work.

Fortunately, the dream of electricity for rural America didn't die because enough people had strong enough hope to work for it. And people throughout the nation elected a government with heart enough to supply the incentive.

Long term, low interest loans harnessed to the hopeful work of volunteers organized electric co-ops to do a job some said would never work. Some even said the loans would never be paid back!

But the loans are being paid back on schedule and with interest. What's more important, these rural electric systems have helped build a strong America through the better use of its rural resources and rural people.

The job still isn't complete because the demands for more electricity grow with each day. It's our job to keep this system able to meet the electrical needs of the area we serve.

Water Toll Claims 24 More Texans

The outdoor water recreation fatality rate as reported to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department was marked by 13 Fourth of July deaths to increase the season's toll to 134.

Oddly, according to J. B. Phillips, coordinator of law enforcement, no fishermen, for the first time since the "death watch" was initiated as an accident deterrent, were numbered among the 24 victims during the last two-weeks period.

Four of the dead were involved in boating accidents. One perished when a 12-foot boat capsized as it was being launched. Another died when he vainly tried to disentangle a ski rope from a boat propeller. Falling from the prow of a veering motor boat cost another life. A Dallas man gave his life to save a woman who had fallen from a boat.

Another heroic incident proved fatal to a Cleveland man who drowned after rescuing his two daughters and another small girl who stepped into deep water. He pushed one child to a sand bar and then shoved the other to within in grasp of boat occupants, before sinking.

Phillips noted that although countless thousands frolic in the surf along the 600-mile Texas coast line, only two persons drowned during the last two weeks, one off Galveston and the other off Corpus Christi.

The law enforcement coordinator said wardens helped in several water crises and reported that life preservers were conspicuously absent among the victims and observed that at least one person was saved by wearing a life belt. This was one of the boys hurled from the prow of a veering speed

Quail Crop Likened to Farm Growth

Producing a covey of bobwhite quail is just like producing any other farm crop, says Biologist Joe Davidson of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

To sustain birds, he says, plan to produce winter food for them, plan patterns of escape, roosting, loafing and nesting cover, and set a specific time to do the work.

Davidson also advises leaving strips of brush along fence rows and streams, and the carefully controlled burning of sedge grass areas. Plowing will help produce food as it stimulates weed growth.

Edge cover produces the game, so travel lanes should connect with motts and thickets. Also, Davidson notes, food patches of lespedeza, peas and millet and many other plants will attract and hold the birds.

When spraying or mowing weeds, leave strips adjacent to woody cover unmowed and unsprayed. After this type of planning the assures, there's little left to do but get ready for the sport of harvesting.

97 Pounder Nabbed, But It's a Turtle

The thing on A. L. Lambert's trotline weighed 97 pounds. Just one thing wrong; it wasn't a fish; but a monster 97 pound, alligator snapping turtle.

On the heels of a 65 pound turtle from the Sulphur River and last week's catch of a 91 pound turtle in Lake Tawakoni, the giant from Caddo topped them all.

All hands and the cook wrestled the thrashing snapper ashore where they contacted Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists.

Sid Knight and Joe Toole, biologists, inherited the huge 9 1/2-inch skull and promptly got busy with hydrogen peroxide to bleach and preserve the specimen for laboratory study.

The catch approaches the world's record of 114 pounds for this species.

It's basic economics, you know... some 30% of the price tag on goods is community overhead expense — city, county, school services, and the development of better job and business opportunities for the exclusive benefit of the people who live in the community where the purchase is made.

Miss Ina Joy Statser Becomes Bride of Donald Edward Curry

Miss Ina Joy Statser of Wichita Falls and Donald Edward Curry of Dallas exchanged wedding vows in an impressive double ring ceremony at 7 p. m. July 10 at the Missionary Baptist Church in Paducah with Rev. Richard Bolt, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Inez Statser of Wichita Falls, formerly of Crowell, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Curry of Quanah are parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her half-brother, W. F. Statser of Crowell, the bride was attired in a gown which she made herself of white taffeta with white organza overlay. White embroidered flowers accented the hem line and neck and were spaced around the cummerbund which was tied in a bow in the back. Tiny buttons adorned the bodice back and pointed sleeves. The embroidered flowers were spaced in the veil which was held in place by a bow of taffeta and organza matching the one on the gown.

Her bouquet was composed of white rosebuds surrounded by blue carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Joyce Roller of Lubbock, wore a two-piece blue dress with white blouse and carried a blue and white bouquet of carnations. The flower girl, Karen Statser of Crowell, wore a white dotted swiss dress and carried a basket of blue flowers with a white bow. Her wristlet was of blue carnations. A. L. Roller of Lubbock was best man and Don and Dicky Statser of Crowell were ushers and candle lighters.

The vows were repeated before an arch of ferns and white bows with the candelabrum of fern and white candles completed the scene.

At the reception following the wedding, Miss Kay Ann Taylor registered the guests. Miss Taylor caught the bride's bouquet. The table covered with white lace over blue was centered with the basket of blue flowers carried by the flower girl. Misses Linda and Glenda Curry of Quanah, sisters of the groom, presided at the serving table.

For going away, the bride chose a three-piece suit of blue metallic with white accessories. Her corsage was of white rose buds and blue carnations.

The couple will be at home at 111 Winnetka, Dallas.

"Which Are You?" was read by Mrs. Virgil Johnson for opening exercise. Seven members answered roll call with "my favorite style and my favorite TV program."

LITTLE LEAGUE NEWS

by Marion Crowell

Well, this is the re-a-l-l-y big one! This is what so many fans have hoped for: a tournament played in Crowell. Nothing spices up a tourney like having the local team win it. I'm predicting a Crowell victory!

Thanks to Bill Nichols, official scorer, for the following information on the All-Stars: (list is alphabetical):

Jessie Barrera, 40 times at bat, 14 runs, 13 hits, 5 home runs, 21 walks, 20 runs batted in, .325 average.

Pat Cates, 51 times at bat, 18 runs, 15 hits, 1 home run, 8 walks, 15 runs batted in, .294 average.

Bill Erwin, 46 times at bat, 21 runs, 13 hits, 1 home run, 7 walks, 9 runs batted in, .283 average.

Billy Hollenbaugh, 43 times at bat, 22 runs, 10 hits, 9 walks, 11 runs batted in, .232 average.

David Myers, 58 times at bat, 6 runs, 9 hits, 4 walks, 9 runs batted in, .155 average.

Danny Naylor, 55 times at bat,

22 runs, 17 hits, 4 home runs, 7 walks, 12 runs batted in, .309 average.

Buff Nelson, 56 times at bat, 15 runs, 12 hits, 7 walks, 8 runs batted in, .214 average.

Ken Sellers, 54 times at bat, 29 runs, 20 hits, 1 home run, 10 walks, 14 runs batted in, .370 average.

Frog Smith, 53 times at bat, 22 runs, 21 hits, 2 home runs, 4 walks, 16 runs batted in, .396 average.

Jackie Thomas, 46 times at bat, 13 runs, 10 hits, 9 walks, 10 runs batted in, .217 average.

John Urquiza, 62 times at bat, 16 runs, 13 hits, 6 walks, 14 runs batted in, .210 average.

Junior Urquiza, 51 times at bat, 20 runs, 21 hits, 3 home runs, 13 walks, 15 runs batted in, .412 average.

Mike Weathered, 46 times at bat, 22 runs, 14 hits, 1 home run, 20 walks, 23 runs batted in, .304 average.

Lee J. Whitley, 49 times at bat, 25 runs, 11 hits, 19 walks, 10 runs batted in, .224 average.

A composite, overall picture of the All-Stars: fourteen youngsters who've batted 710 times, have hit safely 199 times in scoring 265 runs, hitting 18 home runs, walking 14 times, driving across 186 runs, and having a batting average of .280. Yessir, that represents a lotta ball playing... and a good All-Star team!

The last minute rush on All-Star birth certificates is sometimes an extremely difficult thing requiring quick phone calls across the nation or across Texas (about the same thing!). Last year an interesting thing happened. Jessie Barrera needed a birth certificate; he was born here in Foard County, so it appeared to be no problem. His manager, Baylor Weathered, picked up a birth certificate at the clerk's office. We included it with the other thirteen and sent it in to the district representative.

Back came the affidavit with the notation: your Jesus Barrera is not old enough to be an all-star! Knowing full well that something was wrong, we went into some feverish activity, finally unearthing the facts:

Our "Jessie" Barrera has officially (on the birth certificate) the name Jesus Molena Barrera, son of Nevis Moya Barrera (we call him "Snow") and Sally Molena Barrera. The girl at the clerk's office had made a certified copy of another Jesus Barrera, one with different parents and who was only ten years old.

This year I started digging through records to find something for Billy Hollenbaugh. A lot of records can stack up in a seven-year period. A man without a birth certificate, Billy Hollenbaugh had been helped at the last minute last year by a wire to and from Williamsport, Pa. L. L. headquarters. I knew the telegram of authorization couldn't be used again this year, so the digging process began.

Finally I found what we needed. Williamsport had mailed it out to me about a week after last year's tournament. A big, fine, important-looking certificate, showing that William Hollenbaugh had presented acceptable documentary proof of age in accordance with Regulation III of Little League Regulations, and for the purpose of participating in Little League Baseball, such documentary proof had established his date of birth as November 2, 1952, etc., etc., etc.

As we go to press on Monday, all birth certificates are in except one... and Bill Erwin only lives a block away... and he was born in Vernon... so we have no major problems on birth certificates for 1965. The die is cast.

New Crop Peaches, Plums Are Arriving

Supplies of new crop peaches and plums are beginning to arrive at the supermarkets. Prices are expected to decrease on these products during the next few weeks.

Santa Rosa plums now on the market have a good flavor and are of excellent quality. Prices are expected to decrease on these products during the next few weeks. The peach crop was approximately two weeks late in maturing in many growing areas, but supplies are now on the increase, reports Mrs. Gwen Clayatt, Texas A&M University extension consumer marketing specialist.

Fresh vegetables now available in ample supply are tomatoes, blackeye peas, purple hull peas, green beans, eggplant, carrots, Bell peppers and hot peppers, radishes and green onions. Head lettuce prices are somewhat lower and the quality is good.

Fryer prices declined slightly during the past week, and there are good buys on the whole birds and fryer parts. Although the broiler output is about 6 per cent ahead of that for the corresponding period a year ago, higher beef and pork prices now are stimulating demand for poultry and providing less meat-counter competition.

Retail beef prices are steady with prices for the past couple of weeks. Look for best beef values on round steaks and roasts, ground beef, chuck roasts and steaks. Some stores are featuring beef "specials" at quite a saving.

Two Minutes With the Bible

Peace and Access

"Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; by whom also we have access..." (Rom. 5:1,2).

"Being justified... we have peace with God! What a price-less blessing! We believers are prone to take this blessing altogether too much for granted."

Since the day we trusted Christ and the burden of sin rolled away, most of us have never had another question about our eternal destiny, and we have begun to take it for granted. We fail to appreciate sufficiently what it means to be able to arise in the morning, go about our business during the day and give ourselves up to unconsciousness at night, always assured that through our Lord's redemptive work we have "peace with God" and our eternal destiny is secure. Surely this knowledge should overwhelm our hearts with constant gratitude and have a profound effect upon our daily conduct.

The companion blessing to "peace with God" is our full and free access into His presence; another blessing of grace far too little appreciated. Think of the wonder of our free access to God; how He the Ruler of the Universe, invites us to come confidently before His "throne of grace" at our convenience—"in time of need."

"Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need" (Heb. 4:16).

The forests of Texas, in addition to providing labor and producing products used in our daily life, have many other values. They help regulate stream flow and aid in erosion control; provide food and habitat for wildlife; furnish recreation opportunities for picnicking, hiking, camping, fishing and bird watching; and provide scenic beauty, conducive to better living. The Texas Forest Service, through its many activities, helps make these benefits available.

Historical Survey Committee Seeking List of 20 Foard County Landmarks

The State Historical Survey Committee has requested that the local committee submit a list of at least twenty landmarks, buildings or sites, that would merit historical markers to be placed in the next five years.

The state offers help for marking sites of significance to state history, others must be acquired by local donations. The following is a list of temporary selections discussed at the last meeting.

Directional markers needed to the Pease River battlefield monument and to the old Margaret marker, both north of the Margaret farm to market road.

A recordation marker on the Quanah highway for the old copper mines.

A site marker for old Pease City and first post office in old Hardeman County on the Quanah highway.

A marker for the Black school house children's cemetery, which also might designate the old wagon road leading from Margaret to Childress. This road is supposed to have crossed Pease River near the Talking John Creek.

Canal Creek headquarters of the old R2 ranch, which later became the Joe Johnson ranch should be remembered as a part of the earliest ranch in the area.

Sloan Springs marks the home of an early rider of the Chisholm Trail. A marker on Highway 70 west of town could become the center of a landscaped rest area.

Bolling Springs, Monument Hill, and tracks of the old stage road on the Leslie McAdams land are of importance to state history of old stage trails.

The Ula postoffice on the old Witherspoon ranch was a stop of importance on the road from old Margaret to Benjamin.

The Minnick ranch was the first "dude" ranch in this area.

"K" Ranch recalls the history of one of the oldest cattle brands.

People of Thalia might want to mark the old postoffice.

The Minnick ranch was the first watering place in early ranch history.

The Allee homestead — original home still standing — was home of the first sheriff of old Hardeman County.

A memorial marker for G. T. Crowell, for whom the town is named. This marker to be placed in the Crowell park.

Sandrock, early community. A memorial marker or markers for the first elected officials of Foard County.

A memorial marker for J. G. Witherspoon, "founder of the county."

Discovery wells in oil fields of other counties in Texas are being marked.

Pealorville or Vivian postoffice might be marked in the west side of the county.

Yamparika, Diantha, Wynema, Gambleville, Catesville, and Banister Chapel are other historical sites in this county.

Historical medallions are needed to mark the Thacker stone building, the oldest permanent business building in town, and The Foard County News office which is beginning its 75th year of publication.

Old timers are urged to call to the committee's attention any other community or historical location which may have been overlooked.

Texas Agribusiness Is Big Operation

The often sleepy atmosphere of the Texas countryside is an economic paradox. Behind this traditional rural facade is one of the state's largest industries, one which reaches from the remotest cotton patch to the city's fine cafes and fashion centers.

They call it agribusiness, and each year it pumps about $6.3 billion worth of prosperity into the economy. What's more, that figure is on the increase.

Agribusiness is defined as the sum total of farming and ranching, manufacture and distribution of farm goods to farmers and ranchers, and the processing and distribution of agricultural commodities to consumers.

The business of raising raw products from farming and ranching amounts to about $2.4 billion per year and is the state's second largest industry. Only one product—oil at $3 billion a year—tops agriculture.

The picture is even more imposing on a national scale. Although the United States is becoming less and less a farming society, agribusiness is still the Number 1 industry by a considerable margin.

R. B. Tootell, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, says the steadily declining number of farm workers has not hindered agricultural growth. Agribusiness still employs more people than, for example, the steel, automobile, transportation and public utilities industries combined.

Back in Texas, statistics are proportionally similar to those of the entire nation. John G. McHaney, extension service economist at Texas A&M University, says about 40 per cent of the state citizenry is engaged in some phase of agribusiness. A mere 8 per cent is in actual farming and ranching, but the commodities are being produced in larger quantities and of better quality than ever before.

He said that 8 per cent represents approximately 800,000 persons, compared to a farm and ranch population of 2.4 million in 1934.

"This migration from rural to urban areas in Texas has been made possible because of increased efficiency in farm and ranch production," McHaney emphasized. "For example, in 1930 one farm worker produced enough agricultural products for 10 people. Today, one farm worker produces enough of higher quality products for 31 people."

A result of this trend, he says, is that more labor has been released from farms and ranches to help provide the many other items of everyday living which help Texans enjoy one of the highest living levels in the world.

He added that although farmers and ranchmen have decreased in number, they buy and use larger amounts of equipment and services from the businessman on Main Street.

"These people are big spenders," McHaney said. "They annually release about $1.8 billion for goods used in raising agricultural products. This doesn't include money spent for consumer goods in family living."

The economist also explained that the annual value of total agricultural production in the state exceeds either the total manufacand will at such time let a contract therefor if any bid be accepted; all such bids to be made as required by law, but the Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids received. The successful bidder shall be required to execute a good and sufficient guaranty as to the uniform fitness of such machine and its soundness, and if required, to furnish a good and sufficient bond, executed by some surety company authorized to do business in this State, in accordance with the provisions of Article 5160, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, 1925, and amendments thereto.

The Court offers as a trade-in and as part payment one used Huber-Warco Motor Grader which may be inspected at the County Warehouse in Crowell, Texas; if any bid be accepted by the Court, it is the intention of the Court to pay a portion of the purchase price in cash and the balance to be represented by a Lease Contract, provided said lease contract shall not exceed the sum of $15,000.00, payable in an amount not to exceed the sum of $3,000.00 per year, and to bear interest at a rate not to exceed five per cent per annum. Such lease contract shall extend over a period of time not to exceed five years and the last payment due on such contract shall not be later than December 31, 1970.

Early Soil Tests Urged for Fall Crops

Soil samples should be collected now and submitted for testing in preparation for fall planting, advises C. D. Welch, extension soil chemist, Texas A&M University.

Early soil sampling and testing is encouraged to avoid the fall rush that crowds the state's three testing laboratories. Also, early sampling is important if lime is needed. Since lime reacts over a long period of time, it is important, explains Welch, to make the needed application two to four months before planting legumes.

Established legume pastures and hay crops are among those which will be needing fertilization and possibly limestone this fall, points out the chemist. An increasing number of acres is being seeded to vetch, crimson and white clover, and since fertility and lime needs of these crops vary, soil tests will help in developing a profitable treatment, says Welch.

For information on soil testing and instructions on collecting samples and mailing them, Welch to make vast contributions to economic growth in the state," McHaney said.
