Southwestern Completes Survey

The area development department of the Southwestern Public Service Company has recently completed the first phase of a survey of industries in the area served by the electric company.

The announcement was made by Larry Milner, area development manager for Southwestern. The survey was made in all of the towns that SPS serves in Texas except Amarillo and Lubbock. The second phase of the survey will cover these two metropolitan areas.

The purpose of the survey was to assemble information that would aid in the design of programs to assist existing manufacturers expand their production facilities, Milner said.

Industries from twenty-one area communities are represented in the survey which shows that 49 percent of the existing industries plan future expansion while another 23 plan expansion in the next 5 years.

The survey also revealed that 20 of the industries surveyed also plan to expand employment during the near future.

The survey covered general manufacturing, agricultural, and oil and gas related industries, with a total employee representation of almost 6,000. Of this number, about 4,200 were production workers, 450 were management employees and the others worked in clerical or administrative jobs. In discussing the survey, Milner said, "Some of the reasons that keep our industries from expanding are labor supply, reduced sales, resources, financing, lack of technical information and air pollution laws.

Our area development department is dedicated to helping all the towns in our service area with new and existing industries. We feel the information gained in this survey will aid us in providing that help", Milner concluded.

Farmers Urged To Return Census

American farmers are being urged to do themselves a favor on the right kind of day, the Bureau of Census says. March 24 is mail out day for sending letters from the Bureau to farm operators who have not yet returned their completed report forms for the 1974 Census of Agriculture.

Its also American Agriculture Day, an occasion sponsored by the National Agri-Marketing Association (NAMA). The purpose of National Agriculture Day is to call attention to all Americans - urban and rural alike to the contributions of agricultural producers to the well being of the Nation. Agriculture is the Nations biggest, most basic industry, and NAMAs theme for the occasion is Almost everything starts on the farm.

The Bureau (part of the U. S. Department of Economic Statistics Administration) joins NAMA in recognizing the American farmer on National Agriculture Day and suggests that no more fitting day than March 24 can be found for returning report forms not yet mailed back to the Bureau. Enclosed with the Bureaus reminder letter will be a second report form in case the original has been lost or mislaid.

Bureau officials say that collection of census data cannot be phased out until every report form is accounted for. Late reporting adds to the cost of the census and delays publication of census results.

from Texas Farm Bureau

FOOD AID
United States of America during the period 1960-1969 contributed $8,815,400,000 worth of food to the world. This represents 80.15 percent of the total food produced in the world.

This is a cooperative project between USDA and the U.S. Department of Interior. These eight week jobs are to start in mid June in Youth Conservation Corps camps located on federal, state and territorial land. The basic pay rate is $12.00 per day, but this amount can be reduced when food and quarters are provided. Young people from 50 states, the District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and trust territories are eligible if they meet the age requirements and have no history of serious criminal or anti-social behavior, have a Social Security number and possess work permits in states where these are required.

SUMMER JOBS
Reports that there are approximately 8,500 summer jobs for girls ages 15 to 18. These jobs are for work on conservation projects under the authority of the 1975 Youth Conservation Corps program.

Applications for these jobs can be obtained by writing Glen McAllister, Office of Youth Opportunity, Department of Community Affairs, P.O. Box 13166, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, or United States Youth Conservation Corps, Box 2975, Washington D. C. 20013.

can be obtained by writing Glen McAllister, Office of Youth Opportunity, Department of Community Affairs, P.O. Box 13166, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, or United States Youth Conservation Corps, Box 2975, Washington D. C. 20013.

This program is financed by $10 million in Federal funds, $3 million which goes to states as matching grants to conduct Youth Corps Conservation projects on non-Federal lands and waters. The Federal camps will be located on lands managed by the Agriculture's Forest Service and on lands of Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Reclamation, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Services, or National Park Services.

FOREIGN TRADE
Recent figures released by USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service reveals that the dollar export of agricultural commodities during the calendar year 1974 accounted for 22.66 percent of all exports compared to 26 percent in 1973; 19 percent in 1972; 18 percent in 1971 and 17 percent in 1970. In summary, beginning in 1930, the dollar value of U. S. agricultural exports as a percent of all exports trended downward from 32 percent of the total to a low of 13 percent in 1940 and 1941.

Dollar values of agricultural imports for the calendar year 1974 was 10.24 percent of the dollar value of all imports compared to 12 percent in 1973 and 1974.

In summary, the dollar value of agricultural imports as a percent of the dollar value of all imports has trended downward since 1930 to 10.24 percent in 1974.

FEED SITUATION
Feed grain domestic disappearance in October - December 1974 was 46.3 million short tons and exports were 9.3 million tons, each 18 percent below a year earlier. Thus, disappearance has begun to decline in line with this year's smaller supply.

Reductions will continue in order to stretch supplies until the 1975 crop harvest this summer and fall. Total feed grain supplies for 1974-75 were 188 million tons, 21 percent smaller than last season. Domestic use for feeding is projected at 123 million tons, a fifth less than in 1973-74, and exports are projected at 34 million tons, down 24 percent.

Feed grain prices have declined from last autumn's highs due to sharp reduction in domestic feed grain disappearance. Feed costs have been high in relation to market prices of livestock, poultry, and dairy products. Also, the possibility of record feed grain production in 1975 tends to hold prices down.

Export demand continues at a strong pace. But as supplies are used up, substantial price fluctuations are possible.

Unfavorable feed cost-product price relationships have sharply reduced the number of cattle on feed over the past year -- to 26 percent fewer on January 1 than a year earlier -- and have forced hog producers to curtail production, as of December 1 they said they would have the smallest spring pig crop in 40 years.

Because of relatively short time spans required to feed poultry and hogs to slaughter weights, October - December broiler and egg production were 8 percent and 3 percent respectively, below a year ago, and pork production has recently begun to run below a year earlier. These reductions in production have not yet resulted in much price strength for the products, and feed cost price relationships continue below those that have encouraged larger output of livestock and poultry in the past. In spite of the reduction in cattle feeding, beef production is running ahead of a year ago because of heavy slaughter of cattle off grass, and this is expected to continue throughout 1975. Recently fed cattle prices have declined respectively more than corn prices.

October - December 1974 feed grain usage for food, industry and seed was slightly more than a year earlier. The volume used for these purposes is less sensitive to price changes than is feed usage and is expected to total about 18 million tons in 1974-75, about 3 percent more than in 1973-74.

On January 1, farmers had planted or expected to plant about 4 1/2 million more acres grains, soybeans, and upland cotton (combined) in 1975 than in 1974, and intended to shift some acres among the crops. The biggest shifts indicated (on a U.S. basis) were a reduction in upland cotton acreage of 4.4 million down to 9.5 million acres and an increase of 4.1 million in soybean acreage to 57.7 million. Intended corn acreage of 77.4 million down 0.3 million from 1974, and oats acreage at 17.5 million was down 0.6 million. Intended sorghum acreage of 19.4 million was up 1.7 million and intended barley acreage of 9.8 million was up 0.7 million. If these plans were carried out, farmers would plant about 124 million acres to feed grains in 1975, only 1 1/2 million more than in 1974.

Given acreage planting and growing conditions in 1975, the plantings in prospect would produce a record corn crop, and production of all feed grains could exceed 1974's 165 million tons by 25 to 40 percent. Feed grain prices may moderate enough to encourage expansion in feeding industries. But if poor weather strikes the crops again, small supplies and exceptionally high prices would continue to have serious repercussions on U.S. livestock industries and

NATIONAL COTTON ACREAGE ALLOTMENT:
The United States Department of Agriculture has divided the nation's base acreage allotment of 11,000,000 acres of upland cotton among the states as follows: Alabama, 643,585 acres; Arizona, 229,065 acres; Arkansas, 916,880 acres; California, 509,639 acres; Florida, 20,448 acres; Georgia, 556,827 acres; Illinois, 1,915 acres; Kansas, 8 acres; Kentucky, 4,655 acres; Louisiana, 383,622 acres; Mississippi, 1,053,129 acres; Missouri, 246,778 acres; Nevada, 2,420 acres; New Mexico, 118,685 acres; North Carolina, 296,207 acres; Oklahoma, 511,121 acres; South Carolina, 452,657 acres; Tennessee, 364,892 acres; Texas, 4,677,073 acres; and Virginia, 10,394 acres.

PETROLEUM PRODUCTION

Production of crude petroleum (including lease condensate) in the United States during October averaged 8,568,000 barrels per day, a decrease of 53,000 barrels per day below the September level, reports the Bureau of Mines, United States Department of the Interior. Compared with October of last year, this represented a decrease of 656,000 barrels per day. The total disposition of crude oil in October averaged 12,314,000 barrels per day. This represented an increase of 163,000 barrels per day when compared with the previous month. Stocks of crude oil at the end of October totaled 269,437,000 barrels compared with 266,726,000 barrels at the end of the previous month and 246,297,000 barrels at the end of October 1973. Gross input to crude oil distillation units averaged 12,849,000 barrels per day during October compared with 12,665,000 barrels per day during September 1974.

No Gas Supply Problems For Irrigation This Year

"Pioneer Natural Gas Company irrigation customers should have no gas problems this year," K.B. Watson, Pioneer President, told a group of irrigation farmers meeting here today.

The Federal Power Commission ruling, changing the priority on natural gas for irrigation from Category 2 or Category 3, should not affect our customers. However, it is a dangerous precedent and all effort should be made by citizens of West Texas to try to have the ruling reversed. The change in classification should be of concern to all citizens, because the agricultural activities, of this area are important to every citizen, not just the farmer, Watson said.

In his discussion with the farmers, Watson said that last year Pioneer provided a record amount of gas for irrigation during July and August. He pointed out that since new gas for irrigation since new gas acquisitions by the company during 1974 exceeded gas sales for the year should assure the irrigation farmer in Pioneer's service area that he can plan for adequate watering this year.

Watson went on to say that he anticipated that the cost of gas to the customer will continue to rise because of the higher cost in the field. Pioneer is paying more for new gas than the average it receives from any class of customer. He said that the latest forecast indicated that the increase would amount to approximately one and one-half to two cents per MCF a month during 1975.

Watson concluded his discussion with the farmers by saying that Pioneer Natural Gas Company is in an excellent position with regards to gas supply for the farmer, as well as for the domestic consumer and industrial use. Without additional intervention and regulation we feel that Pioneer will have the gas energy we need today and in the future, Watson said.

If you have a trash compactor, operate it less frequently by saving up garbage until you have a full bag. This will save small amounts of electricity -- but it will add up over a year's time.

Use light-colored interior whenever possible. You'll find you need fewer lights, or lower wattage bulbs -- and save energy.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS . . .

By keeping a few points in mind when fertilizing with nitrogen, producers can increase crop yield and fertilizer efficiency.

Be careful not to over or under fertilize. A higher or lower rate than is needed will result in reduced fertilizer efficiency.

Try to prevent nitrogen loss due to leaching or volatilization. Nitrogen is also lost due to tie up by plant residue or weeds, so these materials should be cleared out.

Griffin stresses the importance of an even crop distribution for top nitrogen efficiency. A uniform crop stand is important in getting an even relationship between plant roots and fertilizer distribution.

Winston Redwine Receives Award

Mr. Winston Redwine, Tahoka Music teacher, has been awarded his professional recognition as teacher by the Certification Board of the Music Teachers National Association (MTNA).

Mr. Redwine was recommended for the MTNA National Certification by the State Music Teachers Association on the basis of outstanding achievement and high professional standards in the field of music pedagogy. This includes adequate teaching preparation, consistent and continual in-service training, and a highly successful teaching experience record.

Odell Hogan

The National Certification Plan, adopted in 1967 by MTNA, is the first of its kind as a required standard for evaluation and recognition of qualified teachers. A bachelor's degree is the basis for certification, although a privately trained teacher can establish basic qualification by passing an extensive examination specially prepared by MTNA.

Every five years certificate recipients must renew their National Certification. MTNA requires renewal to insure high standards and to make sure that teachers have kept abreast of the ever-changing advances in the art which they teach. Renewal is granted based on the teachers professional activities during that time, in addition to demonstrating a continuing professional growth.

MTNA is the oldest professional music association with a national membership of over 14,000, representing music teachers in studios, conservatories, music schools, private schools and institutions of higher learning. Its primary goal is to raise the level of musical performance, understanding and teaching in America.

at which time he returned to Sundown, this time as local office manager.

He stayed there until 1967. Illness forced him to give up that position. After recuperating, he came back to Tahoka where he became a maintenance lineman.

Born March 13, 1913 in Gorman in Eastland county, Odell is married to the former Dorothy Lucas of Cisco.

Iron low temperature fabrics first. This will save energy by reducing the warm up time needed to iron linens and other fabrics requiring higher ironing temperatures.

Carolyn Haley Says . . .

Washing fiberglass products can be disastrous if recommended care procedures are not followed. Fiberglass products should always be laundered separately since fiberglass fibers are released during washing.

These fibers will become embedded in the fibers of any other fabrics in the same wash. If these garments are washed with the fragments will irritate the wearer's skin.

A load of clothes is normally washed with a detergent containing fiberglass, there is no known way to remove the fragments.

Washing simply removes the fragments further.

It is advisable that after washing any fiberglass fabric, a load of old rags should be run through the washer and dryer to absorb the fragments. Products containing fiberglass should have labels warning customers about the dangers of washing fiberglass with clothing items.

Super consumption of Vitamin C has become common in the U.S. now, but is it really necessary? The recommended Dietary Allowance for Vitamin C is 45 milligrams for adults, 60 milligrams for pregnant women, 80 milligrams for nursing mothers, 35 milligrams for infants and 60 milligrams for children.

Studies show that much higher than recommended amounts of Vitamin C have been found to destroy Vitamin B 12, which is necessary for the proper assimilation of iron.

Even 250 milligrams of Vitamin C with a meal moderate in Vitamin B 12 des-

Easter Seal Reports on Appeal

Lynn County's Easter Seal Representative reported today that the 1975 Easter

Seal Appeal of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults is going well but urged all citizens who have not responded to do so.

W. H. Eudy, of Tahoka, serves as Easter Seal Appeal Treasurer for the County.

The 1975 Easter Seal Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for crippled children and adults in Texas. Last year the society helped 20,152 persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families. The Easter Seal Society helps support 17 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults not eligible for other assistance are treated. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives. The Easter Seal Representative is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at First National Bank for the request form to be sent to the Texas Easter Seal Society to determine the needs of the disabled person. The Society will provide the services or will direct the handicapped person to the best resources available to help him.

Contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent as soon as possible. The Annual Spring Appeal continues through Easter Sunday, March 30.

USDA Decreases Loan Interest Rates

Acting Secretary of Agriculture, J. Phil Campbell today announced a decrease effective April 1, in the interest rate on U.S. Department of Agriculture price support commodity loans and storage facility and drying equipment loans. The decrease, from 9.375 to 6.125 percent per annum, reflects a decrease to the Commodity Credit Corporation in the cost of money that it borrows.

The decrease rate of interest will apply to outstanding loans for which applications have been received on or after October 1, 1974, and to the new loans disbursed on and after April 1. The adjustment of the interest rate on outstanding loans is in accordance with the policy announced last October 1.

TEXAS TALK

By Fred Myers

Q: How much water is needed for the production of good cotton crop?

A: In most areas of Texas, the exception of a couple of times of the year, the most valent answer would be "As much as you can get". More specific authorities now estimate the weight of water evaporated from an acre of cotton during typical summer day to be as much as 68,000 pounds. That equivalent to more than a quarter of an inch of rainfall day. Considerably more than we can count on having. Irrigation supplements the rainfall wherever possible to provide an effective 20 inches of moisture during the average growing season.

In some areas of the really Southwest, farmers sometimes irrigate enough to provide an equivalent of 32 inches of rainfall through the course of a year.

Rainfall can be most harmful just after planting when the water may lower the soil temperature below 58 degrees.

SAYS

In this day of wild economic theories, corrupt politicians, pressure groups and fast buck promoters its very reassuring to live in a small town.

Sometimes I think if we could just take all those characters out in the Gulf of Mexico past the 200 mile limit and drop them all overboard we would be a lot better off.

In the meantime until this golden day comes we are going to make the best photographic portraits possible, and do it all by ourselves. Possibly because we are past 21 we have a certain amount of pride in our craftsmanship and hope you take advantage of this and have a portrait made of your family and give it to your Mother on Mothers' Day.

We would be very happy to come to your home and make this portrait in the midst of all your cherished belongings.

Have a nice day.

Talk At Rotary
on C. C. Slaughter

Some history pioneer rancher, Col. C.C. Slaughter, his ranches in this area, and his impact on the development of the South Plains area was related at the Rotary Club last Thursday by David Murray, assistant archivist of Texas Tech Southwest Collection.

Col. Slaughter, who lived from 1837 until 1919, started with a few head of Longhorn cattle and ultimately became one of the biggest ranchers in the Southwest, his controlled acres running into the millions.

He first came to Borden County in the late 1870's, extended his holdings into Dawson, Lynn and other South Plains counties, established another ranch in Cochran and Hockley counties and still another west of Plainview.

In 1897, he came in control of about 140,000 in Lynn County a small portion of which is owned outright and some leased, and the late Jack Alley of Tahoka was manager of the Tahoka Lake Ranch.

He also told of J. E. Ketter, a pioneer, Lynn County settler who filed on some of Slaughter's leased land east of Tahoka Lake, whose test case broke the "lapse lease" practice of ranchers and thereby opened the South Plains to settlement.

Col. Slaughter in 1893, bought a championship Hereford bull, Ancient Britton, for $3,500, and in 1898 another Sir Bredwell, for $5,000, both a record price at the time, and New York artist was brought to Big Spring to paint their pictures.

J.D. Atwell arranged the program and introduced the speaker.
