Jim Coulston Named Superintendent Of Tahoka Schools, Effective July 1st

The Spectator...
By Mary Brecheen

Tahoka has had a number of students to qualify for the regional Interscholastic League meet, in the literary and athletic events. O'Donnell's 5-Act Play won District 5A competition, thus qualifying them for a regional berth. There are perhaps others of which I am not aware.

In a recent editorial in the Interscholastic Leaguer I said it better than I; therefore, I quote:

"During the next six weeks, thousands of especially gifted boys and girls will enter the academic, drama, literary, journalistic, and athletic competitions, all hoping to progress from district through regional to state meet.

These young people are 'doers.' They put forth the extra effort. They make the sacrifice. They have the initiative to rise above the average.

These young people have to meet the same scholastic requirements for graduation as all other students, but are not satisfied with doing only what is required. They want to achieve beyond the average level. They are not content with being only 'drones' on society. These young people exemplify the American philosophy of free enterprise, since they want to progress, to advance, to make their contribution to society.

We salute these young men and women. They are the 'blue chips' of the academic students. We hope that every community will honor these fine academic, drama, literary, journalistic, and athletic competitors as they deserve. We should congratulate them for their fine efforts and outstanding accomplishment."

More flowers for the living: In a recent conversation, I was told that T. Hale provides fertilizer for the Little League park and applies it with his equipment, this an annual undertaking.

He has no sons who play Little League baseball, but he has an interest in other men's sons—and an interest in what goes on in his community.

Over the years, he has planted many seeds of fitness and unselfishness, the harvest of which amounts to countless numbers of boys who enjoy baseball in Tahoka and who have good memories of adults such as T. Hale who made it all possible.

Question: How do we make sense talking to other nations about fuel conservation when on a hot day, at a specified hour, some five hundred automobiles jam a crowded expressway as the drivers' way of saying "We don't want the war to land at Kennedy Airport?"

We're strange folks.

Pesticide Applicators' Meeting Set For April 26 At New Home

A series of training meetings have been scheduled for farmers and other pesticide applicators, who wish to be certified under a new federal law which goes into effect on August 21 of this year.

County Extension Agent Griffin says the training sessions, though not mandatory for private applicators, will be of considerable help in learning the requirements and uses of pesticides.

Between 50 and 75 Texas farmers are expected to be certified this year, says Griffin. "Under these training sessions, completion of this program we are conducting is the first step."

A local meeting is scheduled on April 26th at 2 p.m. at the New Home National Ag Building.

Griffin said that it is possible for applicators to be certified by reviewing self-study materials and completing a questionnaire for the Texas Department of Agriculture. A third option, he adds, is for emergency situations in which a single-product, single-purpose pesticide is used.

FFA To Have Barbecue At New Home

New Home Future Farmer Chapter's annual barbecue, ice cream supper, and slave auction will be Friday night, April 29, at 7 o'clock in the old gym on the New Home school campus.

Tickets are $3.00 for barbecue and ice cream.

Entertainment will be furnished by Clarence Nieman and band and approximately thirty slaves, both young men and young ladies, will be auctioned. Persons needing a day's work done are invited to come to the barbecue and slave auction.

MRS. VIRGINIA HOUSE, president of the Chamberettes in Tahoka, presents to Mrs. Beth Huffaker, left, a $500 check for the Mini-Park Fund. The Chamberettes had a style show on April 3rd, proceeds from which went to the Mini-Park.

Chamberettes Plan Activities To Coincide With Old Settlers' Day

Nadine Dunlap, projects chairman of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced that persons interested in planning a community family fun weekend in conjunction with the Old Settlers reunion will meet in the Reddy Room at 8 p.m. on April 25.

Tentative plans for the gala summer weekend include a talent show/contest on Friday night, June 24th, and a 3 p.m. parade on Saturday, the 25th, following the traditional Old Settlers get-together in Tahoka. The parade will be followed by sidewalk sales, food booths, etc.

Also, plans are being discussed for a street dance on Saturday night, the 25th of June, and on Sunday afternoon, organizations who wish to do so will again have food booths at a community picnic at the football stadium.

Sunday's activities will be climaxed with a worship service at 8 p.m., this being the 26th of June.

Plans will be further developed at the April 25th session.

Area Receives Ideal Rains; Stormy Conditions On Tuesday

Cotton-planting rains began falling last Wednesday afternoon and continued through Saturday night, producing a total of 1.63 inches in Tahoka and reports of over two inches in the northern and northeastern parts of the county.

Late Tuesday of this week, storm systems developed to the southwest and west and spawned tornadoes in Monahans, Denver City, and Plains with funnel sightings reported southwest and north of Tahoka. Pea-to-marble-size hail fell, along with .97 inches of rain. Some individuals reported that the hail damaged fruit and young gardens.

The moisture was timely in that farmers had begun irrigating to get the ground wet before planting season. The slow rainfall last week, together with the overcast skies much of the time, provided ideal conditions, farmers say.

The county received 3.03 inches of rain in April of 1976.

Miss Lubbock, Kim Miller, Entertains Tahokans On April 15th

Beauty is more than what appears on the surface and winning the Miss Lubbock Scholarship Pageant involves more than "looking pretty."

Those two facts, among others, were gleaned last Friday when the reigning Miss Lubbock, Kimberly I. Miller, made an appearance in Tahoka.

Mrs. Bonnie Askew, proprietor of Bonnie A's in Tahoka, had arranged with Howard B. Wolfe, Dallas manufacturer of ladies' apparel, to present Miss Lubbock in an April 15 Tahoka showing of his garments.

At the Community Center, guests were welcomed by Mayor Mel Leslie and the fashion show was narrated by Joan Thompson, employee at Bonnie A's. Interspersed with the modeling of Howard Wolfe Originals by MRS. BONNIE ASKEW assisted Miss Lubbock in her decision about which dress to model in her style show.

Miss Lubbock, her chaperone, Mrs. Janice Geddes, told the audience of Miss Miller's entering the Lubbock Pageant, things of interest regarding the Pageant itself, and areas needing concentration by the contestant preceding the Miss Texas Pageant this summer.

Kim Miller, who uses her full name, Kimberly I. Miller (initials spell K-I-M, by the way), in the Pageants, is a native of Dallas and graduated from W. T. White High School there. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller and she has taken dance instruction since she was three years old.

When she arrived in Lubbock to attend Texas Tech, she enrolled in the Briarcroft Dance Studio, co-owned by Mrs. Geddes and Mrs. Elsie Jackson, and that was the first in a series of events which led to her becoming first runner-up in the 1976 Miss Lubbock Pageant and then ultimately being crowned Miss Lubbock on January 29th of this year.

She is 5' 9 1/2" tall and wears braces, the latter being painful to her, literally, but she knows it's "bound to make her prettier." Her sponsors are determined that her beauty will be "more than skin deep" and she is boning up on current events and will become even more adept at handling interviews efficiently. The sponsors contend, and rightly so, that personal growth—intellectually, socially, the whole gamut—is what the Pageant is all about anyway.

Miss Miller is a sophomore at Tech with a physical therapy major, but her ambition is to become a professional dancer. She presented her Pageant-winning dance entitled "Summer of '42" for her Tahoka audience and they concurred that it will probably make her a winner in Fort Worth at the Miss Texas Pageant.

In addition to her physical attributes, Kimberly I. Miller is a warm individual—she mainly likes people. And that credential is proven by her interest in correspondence from newly made friends in Tahoka, when she goes to Fort Worth—she even left an address, the Ramada Inn on Beach Street!

JIM COULSTON

Jim F. Coulston, 36-year-old superintendent of Harrold Independent School District, was named superintendent of Tahoka schools, effective July 1, at a meeting of the Board of Education on Thursday night of last week.

Coulston has a bachelor's degree from McMurry College and a masters from Southwestern State in Weatherford, Oklahoma. He has been at Harrold since 1974 and prior to that time was a classroom teacher at Goree for five years and at Throckmorton for three years. He also served as minister of the Elbert Methodist Church from 1962-67 and the Drexel Methodist Church from 1967-68. In addition to his teaching and ministerial work, before becoming a school administrator, he was a life insurance salesman for a year, in Abilene.

At the present, he is president of the District IX Texas State Teachers Association, 2500 members strong, and is an area director for the Wilbarger County Outreach Service Center.

He has been an area director for the Chamber of Commerce at Munday, director of the Brazos-West Development Board, and was president of the Knox County Unit of Texas State Teachers Association. Also, in addition to his membership in TSTA, he is a member of the National Education Association, Region IX of the Texas Association of School Administrators, and Phi Delta Kappa.

Both Coulston and his wife, Nelda, are natives of Vera and they have two small children.

Coulston said, "My basic philosophy, as I become more deeply involved in public school administration, is one of teaching the basic skills of learning with the latest techniques available. To be a leader in my profession, to be involved in my community, church, and state, to be an example and ever conscious of what I

L. F. 'Jake' Jacobs Coming To Wilson School As Superintendent

L. F. (Jake) Jacobs, Bovina school head for the past nine years, last week was elected the new superintendent at Wilson, effective July 1.

He will succeed Bob Spence, Wilson school head the past two years, who resigned March 24 to accept a similar position on July 1 at Booker, on the North Plains.

Jacobs was with the Tahoka schools from 1947 to 1966, serving as basketball coach and teacher, athletic director, and principal. Following two years as high school principal at Bovina, he was elected superintendent of the school. The board there gave him a contract release Thursday night. He stated that one of his principal reasons for leaving that school is a desire to return to the South Plains and Lynn County.

Jacobs received his B.S. degree from West Texas State University in 1947 and his Masters degree in Education from Texas Tech University in 1952.

"I enjoyed my relations with the Wilson schools and community while I was in Tahoka," Jacobs says, "and look forward to being associated with both in a more personal manner."

Mrs. Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, is school librarian at Bovina. The Jacobs have three daughters, Mrs. Dick (Vicki) Taylor of Pampa; Becky, who is with Texas Instruments in Dallas; and Fran, a freshman at West Texas State; and one grand-daughter, Brooke Taylor, age 19 months.

chase, single-use certification is available through TDA.

The law which requires certification of private applicators is the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), which will be enforced by the Environmental Protection Agency. Under this act, all uses of pesticides will be classified as either registered use or general use, and all applicators—both private and commercial—will be certified as a requisite to legal use or supervision of the use of registered pesticides.

To implement the law in the state, the Texas Pesticide Control Act was passed in 1975 authorizing the Commissioner of Agriculture to establish a program whereby private applicators could be certified.

"A private applicator," says Griffin, "is a person who uses or supervises the use of any registered use pesticide for the purpose of producing any agricultural commodity."

Griffin says that all states are required to have enabling legislation and devise their own plan for fulfilling this statute. In Texas, the task of providing farmers with the needed information belongs to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. TDA monitors these training sessions and certifies the farmer as a full-fledged private applicator of restricted pesticides.

The training program prepared by the Extension Service includes a slide-tape presentation, a review of provisions of the Texas-Federal law, pesticide safety, labels and chemical labeling, pest identification and equipment calibration. No formal testing or scoring of papers is involved.

The program requires about 3 1/2 to 4 hours and upon completion and certification, each person will be mailed a certificate and wallet-sized card showing he is approved to buy registered chemicals from his dealer. Dealers must keep such records for two years.

"The best thing a person can do to be certified," says Griffin, "is to attend one of these training sessions and get the benefit of the specially prepared materials."

"For producers who for some reason cannot attend a training meeting, there are two other ways to become certified under the Texas plan. One is a home study course. Under this method, a person can obtain a 'study manual' from the county Extension office with an application and review questions attached. A farmer fills out this application form, completes the review questions and mails the materials to the Department of Agriculture for review and certification."

Griffin says a third way to be certified is under emergency conditions in which instructions can be given to a producer in his home by either a TDA employee, an Extension agent, or by a qualified local dealer.

No fees will be charged, Griffin adds, and no advance registration is required.

The full implementation of the amended Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act is scheduled for October 1977. On this date, barring any changes in the law, producers of agricultural commodities must be certified applicators as a requisite to the use of restricted-use pesticides.

Mrs. Margie Maddox and James McAllister, Lamesa, second; Mrs. Lillian McCord and Mrs. Wilmer Smith, third; and tied for fourth and fifth were Mrs. Winston Wharton and Mrs. Frank Hill and Mrs. Jess Gurley and Frank Hill.

Burney-Adams Vows Are Read In Lamesa Church Ceremony

Marriage vows were solemnized Saturday, April 16, for Miss Betsy Sue Burney of Lamesa and Jimmy Ray Adams. The double-ring ceremony, read by Rev. J. Alvis Cooley of the First United Methodist Church in Lamesa, was held in the First Presbyterian Church in Lamesa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Burney of Lamesa. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adams of Tahoka.

The altar area of the church was centered with a large candle tree holding forty white cathedral tapers and decorated with comador and leather greenery. Two seven-branch floor candelabra, decorated with greenery, stood at each side of the large tree. Twin brass candle trees, decorated with white iris, snapdragons, bridal white roses, gypsophila, and similax were placed on each side of the altar to provide the lighting for the 7:30 p.m. ceremony. A bouquet of white gladiolus, snapdragons, iris, peonies, and greenery was placed on the communion table with two brass candle holders and a brass cross, located beneath a large stained glass window.

Musical selections were played on an organ by Mrs. Elmer Sumrow. "Because" and "Laura's Theme" were played while the mothers and grandparents were seated. Traditional wedding music was played for the processional and the recessional.

The bride, escorted by her father, walked down the bridal aisle which was marked with similax, lace bows, and gypsophila. Upon entering the church, the bride paused to present her mother a long-stemmed coral silk rose. Following the ceremony, the bride presented her mother-in-law with an identical rose.

The bride chose a gown of ivory princess satin designed by Galina. Venice lace outlined the back V-neckline. The long sleeves were enhanced with the addition of lace with a band of satin at the cuff. The carpet-length skirt fell from an empire waist and swept into a chapel train. The train was outlined with the lace forming delicate scallops.

Completing the bridal attire was a veil of imported silk illusion which drifted down from a coil covered in satin. The scalloped veil was outlined with satin and had scattered appliques of lace which matched the gown.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white bridal roses accented with stephanotis, gypsophila, similax, which was tied with lace streamers. The bouquet was carried atop a white pearl Bible borrowed from one of the attendants, JoAnn Brown.

Other traditional items carried by the bride included a blue garter, borrowed from an attendant, Ann Duran. As something old, the bride carried a white linen handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Duran. Something new was the bridal gown and she had the traditional sixpence in her shoe.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Metta Collier of Stephenville. Other attendants included Nita Burney, the bride's sister-in-law from Lamesa; JoAnna Thomas, sister of the groom, from Seagraves; Betsy Mickley from Houston; Marion Knight from Fort Worth; Kathleen Stanton from Waco; JoAnn Brown from Houston; Amanda Alexander from Dallas; and Ann Duran from Lamesa.

MRS. JIM ADAMS
...nee Betsy Sue Burney

Each female attendant was identically attired in matte jersey floor-length gowns of deep coral which featured an empire waistline, a soft bow and spaghetti straps. A matching chiffon capelet was worn over the gown.

The attendants carried elegant semi-crescent bouquets of can-can roses, white pixie carnations, and gypsophila tied with lace streamers. The headpieces of can-can roses and gypsophila were tied with white ribbon.

Ray Adams, father of the groom, served as best man. Other male attendants included Cliff Thomas and Jody Edwards of Tahoka; Edward Smith of Seminole; John Tyler and Randy Hise of Lubbock; Munger Burney, the bride's brother, from Lamesa; Phil Adams, the groom's cousin, from Bryan; and Steve Carnes of Corpus Christi.

The ushers, Tol Thomas of Seagraves, John Sample of El Paso, and John B. Collier of Stephenville, seated the guests which included the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Pennington of Tahoka.

The male attendants, in formal wedding attire, wore lapel flowers of white roses.

The wedding rings were carried to the altar area atop a white satin pillow by Brad Burney, nephew of the bride, from Lamesa.

The bride's mother was attired in a floor-length gown of aqua Qiana knit featuring a street-length overblouse of printed chiffon accenting the kaftan look of the dress. She wore a corsage of butterfly roses and stephanotis.

The groom's mother chose a formal-length gown of apricot chiffon fashioned with a high neckline and an attached classic cape. A full circle skirt flowed from the empire bodice. She wore a corsage identical to that of the bride's mother.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bridal table was draped in white chiffon with silver appointments. The tiered wedding cake was topped with coral roses. Punch was served from a crystal bowl and a silver coffee service was placed on a nearby table.

The table holding the champagne fountain was draped in green antique satin. Bouquets of white iris, peonies, roses, and gypsophila were used throughout the home. Guests were registered in the entry hall where the bride's book was located.

Assisting at the tables were Anne Minnix of Lubbock; Alex Salmons of Mincola; Debra McAllister of Quitman; Bevalynn Dickerson, Linda Branon, Sandra Adams, Hilda Lothringer, Ida Middleton, Eddie Morris, and Francis Bratcher of Lamesa. Members of the houseparty wore corsages of white roses.

The rice bags were carried in white wicker baskets by the nieces of the bride, April Burney of Lamesa and Christi Collier of Stephenville. The girls were dressed identically in full-length dresses of blue taffeta covered in white chiffon. The embroidered yoke was accented with a rounded neckline and short sleeves.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada. The bride wore a two-piece dress of beige knit, accented by beige accessories. Her corsage of white roses was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Schools

The bride is a graduate of Texas Christian University with a B.A. degree in home economics. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and attended graduate school at Texas Tech.

Adams graduated from Texas A & M University where he received a B.S. degree in agriculture economics. He also received a M.S. degree in agriculture economics from Texas Tech and is a field representative for the National Cotton Council. The couple will reside in Lubbock.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adams hosted a rehearsal dinner to honor the couple on April 15 in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Lamesa.

The tables were covered in denim. Centerpieces featured figures of black Angus cattle adorned as a bride and groom.

Individual place cards were miniature cotton bales tagged with the names of the guests. Gifts were presented by the groom to the male attendants of the wedding.

Harold Green Speaks At Rotary Club

The history, objectives, and some of the accomplishments of Rotary was the theme of a talk at the local Rotary Club last Thursday by local attorney, Harold Green.

This, the first of service clubs, had its beginning back in 1905 when Paul Harris, a young attorney from a rural area, and several other professional and businessmen began meeting in rotation at their offices because they were lonesome in a big city.

From this start, they designed plans to help their fellow man and to enjoy fellowship with one another. Soon a second Rotary Club was formed in San Francisco and the service and fellowship idea spread gradually over the nation, then to Canada, England, and other countries. Today, the speaker said, there are more than 17,000 Rotary Clubs around the world in 151 nations and geographic areas, with a membership of 800,000 men.

For many years, Rotary has been contributing to international understanding through exchange of students, programs, and member contracts, as well as rendering service to the communities, states, and the nation.

Vice-president Horace Rogers presided in the absence of the club president, Gerald Huffaker.

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed and in good taste before it will be published; however, the writer may request that his name be withheld. Letters are not edited as to grammar, punctuation, and spelling.

To the Editor:

A recent article in the Avalanche Journal stated that Lynn County as well as some other counties on the South Plains were eligible for federal assistance in obtaining additional physicians.

The article strongly implied that all these counties had to do was apply for a grant that would enable us to secure additional physicians.

The facts are that there is now, nor has there ever been, any government program that would provide Lynn County with additional physicians. Nor are federal funds available to aide us in securing other physicians.

The only possible assistance available would be if a recent medical graduate had received government educational loans. A part of this loan could be foregiven.

The Avalanche Journal implied that they received the information for their article from the South Plains Health Systems. The South Plains Health Systems has denied making these statements. Frankly, I do not consider either party to be reliable or knowledgeable in health care matters.

The Board of Directors of Lynn County Hospital District is presently taking positive steps to secure another physician. The construction of an additional clinic should begin within sixty days. While the Avalanche Journal and the South Plains Health Systems are making misleading statements, your hospital board of directors is making progress.

Sincerely,

/s/ Gerald Moore
Administrator

STUDENTS IN TAHOKA HIGH'S FAMILY LIVING classes used hard-boiled eggs for experimental babies, to learn parental responsibility.

Students Use Eggs For Babies In THS Family Living Classes

A very unusual experiment took place in the Family Living classes at Tahoka High School recently.

Several babies were "kidnapped" and ransoms even had to be paid by some students. Many had to pay babysitters to take care of their babies while they fulfilled other responsibilities.

Another student, Bill Clifton, received a slightly defective egg and made a small styrofoam helmet to protect the baby's little head from further injury. All in all, the experiment was a success. The students learned some of the responsibilities a parent must take and several decided they would wait five or even ten years to have any children of their own.

that it "died." She made a tiny coffin and tiny sprays of real flowers flanked each side.

Mrs. Gay MacLaskey, teacher of the classes, wanted her students to have an idea of the responsibilities of parenthood. Since it was impossible to borrow thirty-five babies, the students undertook the care of "orphaned" hard-cooked eggs for twenty-four hours. Each student decorated his egg with features that he or she preferred. The students were instructed to treat this egg exactly as they would an infant.

The results of the experiment were slightly unusual. Teresa Harrell, a senior, dropped her baby and so severely injured it

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed and in good taste before it will be published; however, the writer may request that his name be withheld. Letters are not edited as to grammar, punctuation, and spelling.

To the Editor:

A recent article in the Avalanche Journal stated that Lynn County as well as some other counties on the South Plains were eligible for federal assistance in obtaining additional physicians.

The article strongly implied that all these counties had to do was apply for a grant that would enable us to secure additional physicians.

The facts are that there is now, nor has there ever been, any government program that would provide Lynn County with additional physicians. Nor are federal funds available to aid us in securing other physicians.

The only possible assistance available would be if a recent medical graduate had received government educational loans. A part of this loan could be foregone.

The Avalanche Journal implied that they received the information for their article from the South Plains Health Systems. The South Plains Health Systems has denied making these statements. Frankly, I do not consider either party to be reliable or knowledgeable in health care matters.

The Board of Directors of Lynn County Hospital District is presently taking positive steps to secure another physician. The construction of an additional clinic should begin within sixty days. While the Avalanche Journal and the South Plains Health Systems are making misleading statements, your hospital board of directors is making progress.

Sincerely,
Gerald Moore
Administrator

Miss Oglesby, Mr. Morris Are Married In Tahoka April 16th

Miss Sherree Lynne Oglesby and Nathan Paul Morris were married in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony on Saturday, April 16, at the Tahoka United Methodist Church with the Reverend Frank Oglesby, father of the bride, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Reverend Oglesby and the late Mrs. Faye Oglesby and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Morris.

Mrs. Sandy Myers of Clinton, Mississippi, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Misses Kim McCarter, Cindy Park, and Sherry Craig were bridesmaids.

Best man was Ronnie Morris, brother of the bridegroom, and groomsmen were Mark Clem, Andy Smith, and Jimmy Fillingim.

Candlelighters were Stefanie Myers, niece of the bride, and Toi Dulin, niece of the bridegroom. Ushers were Terry Oglesby, the bride's brother, Kenny Fillingim, and Rick Clem.

Gary White provided organ music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown of ivory organza fashioned with a deep scoop neckline and full bishop sleeves with a lace cuff and a ruffle at the wrist. The empire bodice had an overlap of re-embroidered Alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls. The full A-line skirt extended into a chapel-length train. A self ruffle formed the hemline of the skirt and train. Large lace motifs accented the front of the skirt and train.

Her headpiece was a matching lace-edged fingertip veil of illusion net.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and gypsophila showered with bridal satin.

Attendants' bouquets were nosegays of white cushion poms and yellow daisies tied with blue satin. The altar arrangement was of mixed flowers flanked by tree candelabra holding white tapers. A unity candle was placed on the altar and hurricane lamps marked the bridal aisle.

The bride's bouquet in a crystal holder was used on the reception table.

SSI Program In 4th Year

The Supplemental Security Income Program has begun its fourth year. Social Security officials believe there may still be some people here who may be helped by the program but have not applied.

The SSI Program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income or limited resources who are 65 or older or blind or disabled.

About 237 people get payments in Lynn County according to Richard McKeel, Social Security representative. "But we believe that there are others who may be eligible, for one reason or another, who have not applied and we like to get in touch with them."

Some people may be that disabled children not eligible for SSI payments if they live with their parents, according to McKeel. Some may be that people 65 or over who are eligible if they live with their daughter or son in an institution.

"But under the law we may be eligible for payments," he said. "People with some other assets and people living in another's home may be reduced SSI payments if the payment is only $35 per month, that can be big help nowadays."

People can get information about applying for payments by calling or writing the Social Security office. The Lubbock Social Security office is located at 1205 Texas Avenue and phone number is 762-7300.

GERALD MOORE SHOWS SLIDES OF HOSPITAL SERVICES AT BREAKFAST MEET

Twenty members of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce attended the breakfast meeting on Tuesday of this week and saw a slide presentation of activities and facilities at Lynn County Hospital, shown and narrated by Gerald Moore, administrator of the hospital and president of the Chamber.

In addition to the impressive picture presentation, Moore told the group that, in the last six months, physicians had performed 95 surgeries in the operating room, had seen 764 patients in the emergency room, and had delivered 51 babies in the hospital's delivery room.

The hospital ambulance, also in the last six months, has made 120 calls, one-third to one-half of which were emergencies.

According to Moore, the hospital board is seeking a third physician for which new clinic facilities will be available.

At the breakfast, Robert Abbe, Sr.'s name was drawn for the $30 cash drawing and because he was not present, the amount will increase to $45 for the breakfast meeting on May 17th.
