

It was curiously wrought, of a substance resembling in texture and color a well-burned brick.

A smile lit up the ragged, weather-seamed face of the old trapper as he gazed long and musingly at the short pipe he held in his hand.

"It ain't no Injun pipe," he began, "though it is made of pipestone same as the whites found in use by all the tribes of the northwest when they first came among 'em.

enough, I can tell you, until I had taken a good peep all around. Nary a red war in sight, and I knew they hadn't seen me from their camp.

Like a flash I wheeled over on my back and made ready for him; and I wasn't a mite too soon, either, for the minute I dropped he let off a whoop that you could have heard half way to the Canada line.

"I struck out to the northeast from my camp one mornin' intendin' to circle round to the north and west to look at some ponds and lakes that I couldn't well get at with my canoe.

"Keepin' carefully under cover, I crept near enough to see the poles of three or four teepees peepin' up through the tops of the willows, and quite a band of ponies brownin' along the creek.

"The discovery so upset me that I came pretty near forgettin' that Sioux camp in the willows just below. I'd learned from the Winnebagos along the Mississippi that the quarry was located somewhere out on these prairies between the two 'Big Waters'.

DISREPUTABLE TACTICS.

Employed by Protected Manufacturers to Make Republican Votes—Numerous Instances of Mills Closed and Wages Reduced for Political Effect.

It is almost inconceivable that any considerable number of well known business firms would resort to the shameful expedient, to produce republican votes, of closing their factories for several weeks before election and abnormally depressing wages for a year or longer.

The firm of Seabury & Johnson, 59-61 Maiden Lane, New York, are manufacturers of medical, surgical and antiseptic specialties.

"To Our Employes—A reduction in wages took place in 1903. Soon after the election of President Cleveland, the apostle of theories and misery, the nation was plunged into commercial and financial depression.

It then tells of the return of the foolish voters to "the party of patriotism, protection and prosperity" on November 6, which will restore public confidence and revive trade "as if by magic."

One of the firms told a Herald report that wages were reduced "from ten, fifteen to twenty per cent." in 1903. He admitted that neither the Wilson nor the McKinley bill made much difference to them and made the astonishing statement that during the panic they had bought more cotton goods—cotton is used in plasters—than they had done before or since.

The Herald mentions many other manufacturers who have been engaged in the disreputable business of closing mills and temporarily reducing wages for political purposes.

On December 29, 1903, every employe of the Southington Co., Cutlery Co., was told, in his pay envelope, that "owing to the prospects of the Wilson tariff bill we are compelled to reduce the price of labor on January 1."

The Atwater Manufacturing Co. and the Peck, Stow & Wilcox Co., both in Connecticut, explained their reductions in the same way.

Nearly all of the refineries of the sugar trust were closed for several weeks before, and started up within a week after, election.

PHILOSOPHY.

The Soliloquy of a Tariff Reformer—His Conclusions.

It is a good time for democrats to soliloquize and philosophize. Here is the way an active member of the tariff committee of the Reform club was heard to size up the situation a couple of days after the recent backslide:

"By Jove! It's awful. It almost looks as if the people were done with the democratic party—and I don't blame them much. Besides being most unfortunate in having a republican panic left at its door it has made many serious mistakes. With conditions so ripe for a panic, no president coming into power on the 4th of March, 1893, could have averted a panic, but prompt and vigorous action on the tariff and silver questions, in accordance with the Chi-ago platform, would certainly have allayed the evil effects and have shortened the duration of 'hard times.' If Cleveland had resisted the pressure of the office seekers and had called congress together in March, 1893, before the panic had really begun and before democratic congressmen and politicians had grown timid by listening to the awful republican calamity wail that came with the republican panic, the Sherman silver law might have been repealed and a simple tariff bill—like the one suggested by the Reform club—passed before July 4, 1893.

"Instead of promptness there was delay and lack of decision and leadership—especially in the senate. The house bill was bad enough and slow enough in coming, but it was perfection compared with the Gorman-Brice bill, which, after months of delay, of distress, of praying and cursing, was dragged from the slime and filth of the trust-corrupted committee rooms of the senate.

THE PEOPLE RULE.

The Result of the Election Shows Their Spirit of Independence.

The most remarkable feature of the elections in recent years has been the wide fluctuations in the party vote.

These fluctuations are not due to a development of mugwumpery. The mugwump is a man who boasts that he does not belong to any party. These vast variations are the work of partisans—of voters strongly attached to their party, but who stay at home or vote against it out of disgust or dissatisfaction with its leaders.

This development of independence produced the great republican reverse in 1890. That party promised in 1888 to correct the tariff, to practice economy and to reform the civil service.

The lesson is a wholesome one to both parties. It shows that party ties do not hold voters as strongly as they are used to. It teaches the leaders that they cannot disregard their pledges with impunity.

Security in power begets contempt of the people. It breeds corruption. Insecurity reminds the bosses that the people are their masters. It keeps them on their good behavior or relegates them to the rear. Frequent elections are the safety-valves and governors of our political machinery.

The warning of 1890, 1892 and 1894 is the same. It says to party leaders: Be true or you will be punished. The people rule; they are not ruled.—N. Y. World.

Improvement in the Carpet Trade.

"We noted in our issue of the 1st instant," said the Carpet and Upholstery Trade Review recently, "a marked increase in retail trade, and this activity continues, the volume of business being considerably greater than most dealers had anticipated. The indications of a great spring trade are unmistakable. Stocks in retailers' hands are light, the effects of the tariff changes are slow evident, and the demand for carpeting for the spring trade is certain to reach great proportions. The heavy and absurd taxes on the carpet manufacturers' raw material have been removed, and the cost of carpets to the consumer has thereby been reduced.

Not Feeling Well.

The democratic party is not dead there will be no obsequies, no inquest, no funeral. It is only sick from having indulged in too much Hill-Gorman Brice-Murphyism. With good physicians and careful watching it will be in prime condition in 1896.

HOW THE CAT FALLS.

The Animal Goes Against the Laws of Nature.

A select company of the savants of mine why it is that when a cat has to execute a fall it invariably falls upon its feet. To this end the society has subjected a subject to a series of falls from a height of some eight-and-forty inches.

"—The oil of tobacco, found in the stems of long-used pipes, or obtained by distillation at a red heat, is one of the most active and powerful poisons known to the chemist. A single drop will often cause death in the case of a dog or cat.

Dizzy Spells

Mr. E. Stiff, proprietor of the Centennial Rolling and Flour Mills, Dalesy, Mich., tells the following story of his troubles and the relief afforded by Hood's Sarsaparilla:

"Six months ago I was in very poor health. I had stomach-ach and bowel trouble, dizzy spells, also very sick turns of stomach, with beating and throbbing of chest and head. I was Nearly Deaf in the right ear. It seemed like a saw-mill running in my head. I used two and one-half bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla when I felt a change for the better. My hearing has been restored and all the other troubles have vanished, so I feel like a new man. I keep Hood's Sarsaparilla on hand, also Hood's Pills." E. STIFF, Dalesy, Mich.

The Chase County Courant.

W. E. TIMMONS, Editor and Publisher. Issued every Thursday.

The Emporia Democrat claims that as Jerry Simpson lives at Madison Lodge he will not have hard work in taking his medicine.

The official returns from Ohio show that the vote fell short by 94,669 from that of last year. The Republicans lost 19,384 votes and the Democrats 76,385.

A great many Republicans affect to believe the Democratic party is dead. Before 1896 they will be manifesting a great deal of anxiety and nervousness in passing the graveyard.

The McKinley bill is not now a law all the factories that are starting up will work under the operations of the Democratic tariff measure for more than two years at least. And they will make money and prosper.

An Emporia merchant advertises twenty-five pounds of granulated sugar for $1.—Strong City Derrick.

And still Republicans will argue that the Democratic law is increasing the price of sugar and everything else.

Just on the eve of election a Republican paper in Indiana published a story that a petrified snake thirty feet long had been discovered in an old quarry near Eaton, that State. We firmly believe that the yarn was sprung to defeat the Democratic party in that State.

The Republicans have elected a majority of the members of the 54th congress, and now the question is what are they going to do? They can not change the tariff law as long as President Cleveland is in the chair, and he will remain there until March 4, 1897. By that time the new law will be so popular that no one will ask for its repeal.

The counties in the Strip that were alphabetically named when the country was opened were changed as follows, at the recent election:

- Q—Pawnee. P—Noble. K—Kay. O—Garfield. L—Grant. M—Wood. N—Woodward.

The Louisville Courier Journal hits the nail on the head as follows: "It will no longer do to tell the people who read the newspapers and do their own thinking that the fear of tariff revision caused the panic and hard times. The tariff has been revised and business has begun to improve. To deny that the hard times resulted from Republican legislation is rendered difficult when hard times begin to disappear as soon as Republican legislation begins to be undone."

The following timely and sensible paragraph is taken from the Neodesha Register: Partisanship should be sunk now in an effort to make a tariff bill that will as nearly as possible suit the largest number of our citizens, and then let there be an agreement between the leaders of the parties that it shall not be tinkered with for a given period of years. Then will the business interests of the country be enabled to figure upon something certain, and confidence will be maintained.

EAT APPLES. The Practitioner says apples have many good medicinal qualities. Chemically they are composed of vegetable fiber, albumen, sugar, gum, chlorophyll, malic acid, gallic acid, lime and much water. Furthermore, the German analysts say that the apple contains a larger percentage of phosphorus than any other fruit or vegetable. The phosphorus is admirably adapted to renewing the essential nervous matter of the brain and the spinal cord. It is perhaps, for the same reason, rudely understood, that old Scandinavian traditions represent the apple as the food of the gods, when they felt themselves to be growing feeble and infirm, resorted to this fruit, renewing their powers of mind and body.

The acids of the apple are of singular use for men of sedentary habits, whose livers are sluggish in action, those acids serving to eliminate from the body noxious matters, which, if retained, would make the brain heavy and dull, or bring about jaundice or skin eruptions and other allied troubles. Some such experience must have led to the custom of taking apple sauce with roast pork, rich goose, and other like dishes. The malic acid of ripe apples, either raw or cooked, will neutralize any excess of chalky matter engendered by eating too much meat.

It is also the fact that such fruits as the apple, the pear, and the plum, when taken ripe and without sugar, diminishes acidity in the stomach rather than provoke it. Their vegetable juices and acids are converted into alkaline carbonates by the chemical action of the stomach juices, which tend to counteract acidity.—Scientific American.

A REPLY.

EDITOR COURANT:—My attention has been called to an article published in your paper, Nov. 22, 1894, signed by J. C. Davis. Among other things the article reads: "If there was no trade made, how does it come that Sid Breeze invited W. L. Wood up into his office and told him that they had 25 votes to trade for Robinson, anything you (the Pops) want. Ask W. L. Wood and satisfy yourself. Why did they propose trade to Jeff Dougherty?"

Now, the foregoing is without the slightest foundation, so far as I am concerned. I never proposed to trade 25 votes, or any other number of votes, to W. L. Wood, or to any other person or persons during the last campaign. No word spoken by me to any one could be construed as an offer to trade votes with any Populist or Democrat; nor did I intimate to W. L. Wood that any Republican votes could be secured for him or any other Populist candidate; nor did I give him to understand that I would vote for him; nor did he ask my vote or support.

I had no conversation with Jeff Dougherty, in reference to politics, during the campaign; nor do I remember to have even met him at any time for three months prior to the last election.

I do not believe that W. L. Wood, Jeff Dougherty or any other Populist has ever made a statement that any trade was proposed by me, and, if so, such statement is false.

Much has been said and written concerning "bolters" and "bolting," should this refer to me personally, I will state that my first vote was cast in Chase county, in March, 1859, and since then I have never voted but once outside of this county; have always voted the Republican ticket straight, except upon two occasions I "scratched" one name, for what seemed to me good and sufficient reasons. If two "scratches" in 35 years renders me a "bolter," so mote it be. Certain it is I did not vote the opposition ticket. At the last election I voted for every candidate on the Republican ticket, and worked for the success of the entire ticket. I made no unkind or defamatory statements concerning any of the opposition candidates of their supporters.

THIS SHOULD INTEREST YOU. It is just as necessary for a man to get good reading matter as it is to get good food. We have just made arrangements which may be of interest to you, dear sir, who are glancing down this column of type. The arrangement is this: We will give you that greatest of all Democratic papers, the New York Weekly World, and this paper, both for one year each, for $2.15, or we will send you this paper for one year and the Weekly World for six months for 35 cents in addition to the regular yearly price of this paper alone. The campaign now begun is going to be a very important one. Here is the opportunity to get your own local paper and the leading metropolitan journal of the country at extraordinarily low rates.

Does this interest you? If it does, and you think it worth while to take advantage of this great special offer while it lasts, send $1.85 and get The Weekly World six months and the Chase County Courant for one year. Address CHASE COUNTY COURANT. SEND FOR A COPY. The subject of Irrigation is attracting unusual attention. At the Hutchinson (Kans.) Irrigation Convention, held Nov. 23-24, there were more practical irrigators in attendance than ever before assembled at an irrigation convention in the United States. The discussions were all very practical and instructive. They will be reproduced in full in the December number of the Irrigation Farmer. Every farmer in this country should have a copy of this paper. It is the only paper that is devoted wholly to the subject of irrigation farming. It costs only $1 a year, and whether you expect to irrigate or not you can not afford to be without it. Send to the Irrigation Farmer, Salina, Kansas, for a sample copy and examine it for yourself.
