President Loubet a Nimrod.

President Loubet of France, is, like President Roosevelt, an enthusiastic hunter, but he confines himself to small game. Now he is hunting in the famous forests of Rambouillet and Mardy, once the hunting grounds of the French kings. "Papa Emile," as the French president is familiarly called, is described in this manner: "Rifle in hand, pipe in mouth, wearing an old blue velvet coat, with his stout yellow gaiters drawn tight over the solid, square-toed, heavily nailed shoes, a dilapidated, easy fitting soft hat thrown in picturesque disorder on his head, he looks more like a benevolent poacher than a president bound normally by a rigid protocol. When he leaves Paris he slips off his presidency and becomes again the peasant of Montehimar."

Unwearying Trust.

I will not ask to have my cross removed Thou knowest best the weight my heart can bear—
But give me strength unwearying to go,
And happy still some pilgrim's load to share.

I will not ask continual ways of peace,
Unfalling good—nay, rather to be tried,
And in affliction's furnace lose my dross,
If only as I may be purified.

I will not ask great gifts of tongue or pen:
Only inspire me with unwearying trust,
That though I plant the tiniest seed for Thee,
Thy love shall raise it, blooming, from the dust.

—Lulu Whedon Mitchell.

Rain that Does Not Reach Earth.

In the Colorado desert occur rain storms during which not a single drop of water touches the earth. The rain can be seen falling from the clouds high above the desert, but when the water reaches the strata of high, dry air beneath the clouds it is entirely absorbed before falling half the distance to the ground.

Spanish Pride.

Nearly one-half of the 19,000,000 population in Spain, or, to be exact 8,727,519 persons, according to the last census, declare that they have no occupation, and they are proud of the fact.

South African Education.

Prof. Hele-Shaw of the new University of Liverpool, is in South Africa to organize scientific education and prepare a university scheme for the Transvaal and Orange River Colony.

Undoubtedly.

A mouse club has been formed in London with 400 lady members. Club business is probably transacted with all the members standing on chairs.—Denver Post.

Regulate Korean Clothing.

The Korean government has ordered that all Koreans, without regard to rank or class, should not wear clothes except of a blue or dark color.

Daily Newspapers.

The daily newspapers of the United States use in a year $29,197,000 worth of paper; in weight nearly 100,000,000 pounds.

To Rebuild Campanile.

It will take five years to rebuild the Campanile of Venice. The new tower will probably have an elevator.

Average Age of Senators.

The average age of senators is 59 years; eight are less than 45.

To Cure Sneezing.

A medical paper says a sneeze is instantaneously dispelled by pressing the finger upward against the division of the nose at the point where the upper lip inside joins the gum. Another plan is to exhale all the air possible from the lungs the moment you perceive indications of a sneeze.

The "Spitz" Dog.

The Spitz dog got its name from its sharp pointed nose. "Spitz" means "sharp point" in German and the Spitz was a favorite German breed before he became known in England and America. The Spitz is known also as Dalmatian dog, because his native home is in Dalmatia.

The Bee in Harness.

The French army has discovered that bees can be used as messengers in time of war. One has flown four miles in twenty minutes with a message. When liberated they will return to their hives, just as a carrier pigeon will return to its loft.

Do Not Urge Your Child.

If your child cannot concentrate its mind or commit to memory without great difficulty, or if it seems backward, do not urge it to study. No development which is forced is natural or normal. The mind may be developing unevenly, says Success. When the brain cells are more fully developed and the nerve cells more mature the faculties will balance and the child will become normal, evenly developed. But he must be encouraged instead of being discouraged, for otherwise the result may be disastrous. It is cruel to keep telling a child that he is dull or stupid, or that he is not like other children. The discouraging pictures thus impressed upon his plastic mind will cling to it and become indelible in the brain of the man and handicap him for life.

The Planet Venus.

The conditions of the planet Venus are most like those on the earth, but there is a strong suspicion that Venus has no night or day, but always keeps the same side toward the sun. If this is really the case, then the sunny side must be always burning hot and quite dry, while the opposite side must be always incased in ice—nay, more, in a mixture of ice and solidified atmospheric gases. The life of such a world must be very different from any that we know.

Unique Wedding Party.

A short time ago a wedding took place at St. Luke's church, Reddall Hill, Cradley Heath, England, at which a man named John Hill was married to a young woman whose name was also Hill. The fathers of the bride and bridegroom were each named John Hill, the witnesses were all named Hill, and both the bridegroom and bride resided at Old Hill.
