

CRUCIAL CONTEST ON CARD FOR CHRISTIAN GRIDSTERS AT LOCAL STADIUM FRIDAY

Midland Bull Dogs To Invade Wolf Rendezvous For First Home Game Of Season; Kick-Off At 8 O'Clock

The charges of Jack Christian and his assistant, Adrian Clark, are facing a crucial battle Friday night at Cantrill Field when they meet the Midland Bull Dogs in initial home game of the season. Both teams are in excellent condition for the fight and reports from the opposing camps indicate that fans are to be awarded with a pigskin melee crammed with sensational thrills.

"Colorado is out to win this contest from Midland and the men to defend Colorado high school in that gridiron battle are determined to put out all they have in order to realize such a goal," an official of the school told The Record Tuesday morning. "Midland, however, is coming to Colorado equally determined to take the laurels of victory from the field."

The Wolves are doing double field work in preparation for the game. The boys are joining with school officials and fans in the urge that local citizens boost them by taking up their places in the grandstand and along the sidelines. "The inspiration that ever comes to a team when supported by an enthused home-town aggregation of fans should count in this instance," Principal Wilkins stated Tuesday morning.

The kick-off is scheduled for 8 o'clock. Advance ticket sales, including ducats for season reserved seats, indicates that a large number of Colorado people are to witness the game. The schools, including the pep squads, are to be there in large number.

This is to be first for the Wolves to play in their new uniforms. The suits were not used in game with Snyder Saturday night due to excessive mud on the field. "We did not wish to spoil the suits at very beginning of the season," was reason assigned by Coach Christian. "The Wolf-Midland bout is to be a non-conference game."

North gate to Cantrill Field is to be opened to permit parking motor cars inside the field. The admission will be 25 cents for school students and 50 cents for adults.

Christian is to have twenty four men in uniform as the game is staged.

Colorado School System Named As One Of Eight Laboratory Schools In District

Evidence of the leadership which Colorado schools have maintained in revising their curriculum in line with the new unit system of teaching is the fact that Colorado has been named one of the eight laboratory school systems in district 8 to try out a new proposed course of study. Selection of Colorado and the seven other schools in the district was made by the curriculum committee of the state board of education. In reality, Colorado schools have served as a curriculum revision laboratory in this section ever since the revision movement was begun. Supt. John E. Watson and other leaders of the local school system were among the first educators to recognize the fact that curriculum revision was coming to stay. Under the revised, or unit, system of teaching, the object is to create real life situations so that learning will be made more practical than theoretical. The various subjects which are taught the child are coordinated instead of standing as separate studies as they once did.

Freight rates on carload shipments of hay and other livestock feeds into Mitchell county have been reduced, effective September 26, since the county was certified as an emergency drought area. The conference, attended by 15 leaders in the Boy Scout organization in this county, was held at the Colorado hotel with W. W. Porter, district chairman, in charge. An inspirational address was brought to the gathering by President Paxton. He painted a vivid mental picture of Scouting as a builder of character and true American ideals in the youth touched by the organization and bid the Scouters present to redouble their efforts in "making a hand at one of the most noble jobs an American citizen could become identified with."

Alfred J. Stiles of Sweetwater, area executive for the council, was also present and addressed the meeting. Finances of the council, he stated, are in stable condition and the Boy Scout program is gaining new friends in all parts of the territory represented, he stated. Paxton announced that a field representative had been employed to assist the council executive. Mrs. J. G. Curry, mother of Jeff Curry, and W. L. Doss, Jr., have been taking the serum since the discovery of the first rabid animal nearly three weeks ago. That animal, a stray dog, attacked a pet dog in Mrs. Curry's front yard and she pulled the animals apart. Mr. Doss helped treat the animal before its rabid condition was discovered.

The remaining seven persons are taking the serum because of having come in recent contact with Pete Smith's dog, which was found to have rabies last week after being sick for several days.

MERCHANTS REPORT BRISK TRADE WITH PROSPECT OF BEST SEASON IN 5 YEARS

Business Good In All Lines, As Patrons Visit Stores In Larger Numbers; Stocks Ample For Every Need

Business with Colorado merchants is good and they are noting a gradual upward trend in this trade volume daily, statement given The Record Thursday by managers of several of the business enterprises indicated. Some of the stores have recently added additional clerical help in order to handle the growing patronage.

Colorado business men are launching upon the best business season experienced during the past five years, manager of one of the larger department stores declared. Demand for practically every line represented in the city's retail industry is brisk with promise that this condition is to develop more favorable as the cotton harvest progresses, he went on to suggest.

Some of the local merchants are buying additional stocks to maintain their offerings up to standard. Most of them bought heavily in Fall and Winter merchandise a few weeks ago, during time when the crop outlook was flattering. Now they find that even those purchases are to prove inadequate to meet demands of their customers.

Quick to take advantage of the increased business opportunity local business men are offering Nationally advertised lines at reduced price quotations. They are doing this in the effort to induce citizens of a wide territory to inspect the merchandise offered here and make comparison of prices before buying their current needs.

A novel feature attending the spurt of better business here during the present week is in fact that cotton picking has practically been at a standstill for several days, due to continued rains. Only a small percentage of the estimated county yield for this year has been harvested and sold.

"If I can be said to have a main objective," Mrs. Sadler told the club representatives gathered for the meeting, "it is library work. Colorado and Mitchell county have a real need for a library containing newer and better books of the day."

"The only reading center now afforded in the county is the library which the federation sponsors here at the city hall. It contains nearly 1500 books of good fiction and is patronized by a large number of people, but we have never been able to afford the current, outstanding books of the nation while they were new. I want our federation to work out some plan for buying a number of these new books, as well as much popular fiction, this year."

The women present were requested by Mrs. Sadler to contact their clubs and discuss ways and means by which the federation can be of community service during the year. The hope that the federation can enlarge its health work in the county during the year under leadership of its health chairman, Mrs. Jeff Dobbs, was expressed by Mrs. Sadler.

Reports were given by representatives of the art club, the Zetagathian club, the Self Culture club, the Hesperian club, and the Daughters of the King Sunday school class. The library report was given by Mrs. Jewel Barrett, librarian. She told of the Boy Scout books which are being handled through the library for benefit of local Scout troops.

The federation's next meeting will be on the fourth Tuesday in October.

More than 17,000 Texans died unnecessarily during 1934, according to a report just issued by the Texas Planning Board's public health committee. In each instance death was caused by a preventable disease.

The report states that the state spends 10.73 cents per capita to protect domestic animals from disease but spends only 3.65 cents per capita for disease control among human beings.

Screw Worms In Livestock Have Been Menace To Cattlemen For Many Years

Cases of screw worms in livestock have been known in the United States since 1843, according to Joe E. Clayton, district screw worm supervisor, whose headquarters are at Gail, who spent Friday here in conference with the county farm agent. Authentic cases with positively identified specimens date back to 1882. The screw worm fly inhabits the southern United States, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies and South America including Uruguay and Argentina.

The pioneer cattle raisers of Texas recognized the screw worm as a serious pest of livestock, and there are many references made by the early entomologists and veterinarians to it in literature. One of the first materials recommended for treating cases was calomel, which was placed directly in the wound. Later, the use of chloroform and carbolic ointments was adopted. None of these substances is now recommended.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, recommends "the present methods of treatment and control as the result of research work conducted by Dr. P. G. Bishop, Entomologist, and his associates of the Division of Insects Affecting Man and Animals. Other important contributions have been made by entomologists and veterinarians of various state agencies."

In 1916, Mr. D. C. Parman, Entomologist at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Uvalde, Texas, began studies of benzol, this present accepted material for screw worm case treatment. At the same time he and his associates developed the use of pine tar oil as a wound dressing and fly repellent.

In 1933 a contribution of great importance was made by Emory C. Cushing, Entomologist, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, when he discovered that there were two

PRESIDENT WOULD HELP FINANCE TENANT FARMS

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt is concerning himself with plans for a recommendation to the next congress that, if adopted, would enable thousands of tenant farmers to buy farms of their own.

On the heels of two other announcements of plans for agricultural reforms, he revealed through release of the text of letters written to Sen. John H. Bankhead, D., Ala., and Rep. Marvin Jones, D., Texas, that he believes the federal government should finance, at low interest rates and with long term notes, the purchase by reputable tenant farmers of the land they farm.

He asked Bankhead and Jones to help him frame a concrete proposal of legislation to effect it.

"Any long time improvement of the welfare of the nation and of farm people involves improvement of the tenancy situation," he said.

Yesterday he created a committee to study a crop insurance plan and another body to plan for rehabilitation of drought victims.

The communications to Jones and Bankhead were sent at the same time that Mr. Roosevelt dispatched letters to 18 men and women representing labor, agriculture, home economics, industry, education and vocational rehabilitation, requesting a review by a disinterested group of the measure providing for additional appropriations for federal aid for vocational education.

The president said "it is my thought that such a group should study the experience under the existing program of federal aid for federal vocational education, the relation of such training to general education and to prevailing economic and social conditions, and the extent of the needs for an expanded program."

Coaches and School Officials Make Plans For Basketball League In District

Three Colorado High school representatives, Coach Jack Christian, Assistant Coach Adrian Clark, and C. A. Wilkins, high school principal, were in Sweetwater Wednesday night to attend a meeting of coaches and school officials of football district 6-B.

Schools represented at the meeting, which was held mainly to select officials for football games in the district during this season, were Colorado, Snyder, Roscoe, Merkel, Loraine, Roby, and Rotan.

Those present voted to form a basketball league including the schools in District 6-B to further interest in basketball between the closing of the football season and the beginning of county and district matches. This league will in no way take the place of or interfere with the county, district, and state basketball set-up, it is pointed out.

C. A. Wilkins of Colorado and I. R. Hutchinson, superintendent of Roscoe schools, were named by those present to draw up plans for the basketball league organization.

Plans for an aerial map of Texas at an estimated cost of $1,500,000 are being considered by the Texas Planning Board's mapping committee which estimates that such a map would take about ten years to complete.

THE origin of the word "candidate" goes back to ancient Rome. When a man campaigned for public office among the Romans he wore a white toga and was called "candidatus," meaning one "clothed in white." Our word "candidate" derives directly from the Roman "candidatus."

"Lend" is the verb; "loan," the noun. Care should be taken to avoid confusing them:
Right: Will you lend me a dollar?
Wrong: Will you loan me a dollar?
Right: Thanks for the loan.

Colorful Career Of '80 John' Wallace Is Given Space In West Texas Magazine

The colorful career of D. W. (80 John) Wallace, Mitchell county's leading negro citizen and the oldest pioneer of the county in point of residence, was given nearly two columns of space in the West Texas chamber of commerce publication, West Texas Today, this month.

The article about Wallace was written by John M. Hendrix along with other articles under the general title, "Dusky Riders of the Range." What he wrote was as follows: "One of the most interesting stories of the negro cow hands who came west, and a story of achievement as well, is that of D. W. '80 John' Wallace, who lives three and one-half miles south of Loraine in Mitchell County. Not only is it a story of achievement, but an example of what cows and the cow country can do for one who handles them as they should be handled. The '80' prefix to Wallace's name comes from the fact that he came into that section of West Texas riding in the dust of the drag of a herd of Clay Mann's cattle which had burned on their sides the numeral 80 from backhome to be billy.

"Born in Victoria County of slave parents in 1860, Wallace knew little from birth but cow work, and began drawing wages as a cowboy when fifteen years old. When seventeen years of age, he made the four-hundred mile ride alone from Victoria through Indian country to the corners of Runnels and Taylor Counties near the present town of Buffalo Gap, which, in the days of the buffalo and open range, was a frontier outfitting point. He came to work for the late Sam Gholsen, veteran Indian fighter and cowboy. He worked for him one summer, and began working for the N. U. N. outfit, who were claiming a range and running some eight thousand cattle on the head waters of the Clear Fork of the Brazos River. With them six or seven months, he joined Clay Mann's outfit, which was locating South Texas cattle on a range centering where Colorado City is now located and which were the first cattle to come into that section of West Texas.

"During the fourteen years that he worked for the Manns, he saw every phase of open range cow work, saw the last of the buffaloes disappear, and with his outfit, the band of Comanche Indians that had stayed from the reservation and stolen the saddle horses of the Manns, back to their reservation at Fort Sill in the Indian Territory.

"With the trail boys, he made long trips to Abilene and Dodge, the well known marketing centers in Kansas. He saw the Texas and Pacific Railroad come into the section, and the town of Colorado grow into a thriving rail head city and cattle center. He worked with and for cattle barons who have made history in the Southwest—Winfield Scott, Gus O'Keefe, the Slaughters, Bush and Tiller, Sug Robertson, the Elwoods of Spade Ranch fame, and the managers and ranch bosses of the Scotch and English owned ranches to the northwest.

"In 1885, he began to hear talk around camp fire and shipping pen that the days of free grass and open range were nearly over, and that a man who expected to stay in the cow business would have to buy and fence his lands. Acting on this information, he put his accumulated savings into the section of land on which he now lives, and continued to ride with the cow outfits until the country passed from the cowboy to the stock farmer. Since the original purchase, he has added twelve and one-half sections of good land to his holdings. Five to six hundred good Hereford cattle are on his grass land, the kind that the J. H. Club boys look to for their feeder calves. Twelve hundred of his acres are planted to cotton and feed each year, and a high percentage of his pasture land is subject to cultivation. His ranch home of eight rooms is modern in every respect, and his barns, lots and corrals are of the best. When John Wallace tells you that he owns twelve and one-half sections of land and six hundred head of cattle, he means it literally, for no liens, mortgages or past due tax bills overshadow his ownership. He has not received government aid in any form during the depression, nor has he signed waivers on his cotton crop. During the depression, Wallace added two sections of land to his holdings, for which he paid cash.

"At seventy-five years of age, Wallace is hale and hearty and attends to his own affairs. He has not forgotten his days in the saddle, and in his seventy-fourth year rode a high bucking dun pony down the streets of Loraine.

"They tell you around Colorado that as the years passed, Wallace has almost unannually kept track of financial affairs of certain white friends who assisted him in his earlier days, and that when their affairs have fallen in need of ready cash, he has unostentatiously called them aside to proffer financial aid.

"He is held in high esteem by the citizens of Mitchell County. At each meeting of an organization of pioneers of the section, he is called on to say a few words, and in manner deferential and in language wholly lacking in Uncle Remus dialect, he tells them of their country as he first saw it more than half a century ago, unsmiled by barbed wire and train smoke, a cowboy's paradise of running water, grass covered hills and wide fertile valleys, where antelope played, and the South Texas crows of Mr. Clay Mann grazed among the still fresh carcasses of the slaughtered buffaloes."

COY HARRIS ELECTED AS GOAT OF COLORADO CLUB

Coy Harris is the official "goat" of the Lions Club. The local wholesale oil distributor was elevated to that position Friday under recommendation by Doyle Williams, formerly holding the office. Harris will be continued as the club goat until he brings a new member into the organization. He has been presented with the regulation medal of his office.

ONE ADDITION AND SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN FACULTY

Readjustments in the faculty of Colorado schools as work got underway last week resulted in one addition and several changes in faculty placement.

Juan Mason of the Junior High school social science faculty was transferred to the high school to teach English.

Howard McLaughlin of Abilene was elected to take Mason's place in Junior High school. McLaughlin is a former student of Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene and North Texas State Teachers' college at Denton.

In the Coleman school four divisions of the first grade were made with Miss Pauline Traylor, Miss Alice Blanks, Miss Inez Butler, and Mrs. Dean Headstream as teachers. Then the second grade was divided into three sections with Mrs. Rees Jones, Miss Hattie Tankersley, and Miss Opal Davidson as teachers. Miss Davidson taught in the Hutchinson school last year. Her division of the second grade is in the Hutchinson instead of the Coleman school because of crowded facilities in the Coleman school.

Mrs. C. A. Wilkins is now teaching a third grade division in Hutchinson school instead of a fourth grade. Other third grade divisions are taught by Mrs. Floyd Quinney and Mrs. J. G. Killian. The two fourth grades are in charge of Mrs. Farris Lipps and Miss Beatrice English.

Taxes Must Be Boosted, Representative Tells County Officials At Convention

M. McFarland, representative from district 111, phase 1, told the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association at Big Spring Friday that "Texas faces the absolute necessity of providing additional revenue."

The Wichita Falls representative said the state is operating under a so-called deficit in two of the funds and the people having adopted an old age assistance plan, which will inevitably cost many million dollars, adds greatly to the difficulties confronting the Legislature.

"Since I have been a member of the Legislature, I have made an exhaustive study of the ad valorem tax situation and published my findings in a little book called 'Texas Taxation Tangles,'" he said. "By this study I have found there is no semblance of uniformity in the assessment of taxes, and this results in many evils.

"My conviction is we are not over-taxed, taking into consideration the benefits the people are receiving from government. The only trouble is the unequal distribution of the tax burden. It is my further conviction Texas needs an additional source of revenue, or any newfangled system of taxation, in order to obtain the necessary revenues.

"We have the ad valorem and gross receipts laws firmly established in our fiscal system, and these sources, properly administered, together with the other business taxes, licenses, etc., are amply sufficient to supply all our state needs."

McFarland said if approximately all the state's estimated taxable wealth of 12 billion dollars was rendered for taxes, "we would, with a very low rate, be enabled to get all the revenue the state needs." He said he was convinced Texas would be vastly benefited by following the law and assessing property at its full value, with the taxes that necessarily would follow.

He said his proposed plan would mean an increase in the assessed value of property from five to more than ten times as much as now, and the sale of property in others. In illustration, he cited one county that assessed 100 horses and mules at $600,000 and paid a state tax of $4,920, and another with more horses and mules that assessed at $18,000 and paid the state $138.60.

He said many of the counties are taking more money out of the available school fund than they put into the state treasury for all governmental expenses, and in many instances, he said, the available records show such conditions are unjustified.

"In order to cure these evils," he said, "I think it is absolutely essential some means be devised whereby the rendition of property in the various counties can be co-ordinated and rendered on substantially the same basis of value so that each county will know it is not being penalized. I am urging a measure of state control tax renditions to the end that reasonable uniformity may be had as required by the constitution."

"I believe the Legislature should strengthen the full rendition law by providing tax assessors definite yardsticks by which to measure values in your respective jurisdictions, and require those yardsticks be used under state supervision."

EARLY RIPENING PECANS PUZZLING TO PUBLISHER

Just why that pecans should ripen and burst from their hulls at this season of the year is puzzling to Walter Whipkey, publisher of The Record. Two of the nut bearing trees in front of the Whipkey Printing company building on Walnut street are already shedding their ripened fruit. Normally the pecan does not ripen until after frost.

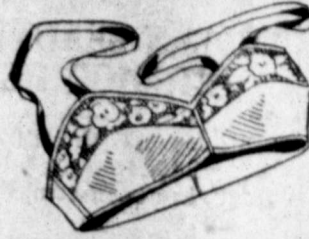

FATHER OF COLORADOAN DIES AT MERKEL HOME

He established the Barnes Lumber company at Merkel many years ago, later selling the business to the Burton-Lingo Company. He was the father of Joe Barnes of Colorado.

 In Statement Issued This Week At Austin

The headquarters of the National Youth Administration at Austin has issued a statement of conditions to be met in applications from secondary schools in Texas for student aid allotments during this school year. Lyndon B. Johnson, state director, announced, "Last year exactly 1,500 Texas secondary schools received allotments which enabled the principals to assign certain needy students to socially desirable work. The students received a maximum monthly wage of $6. This money provided lunches for many students who otherwise might have gone hungry," Mr. Johnson said. "Other students were able to buy school supplies they needed or to have clothing they might not have had. The students were enabled to continue their school work through their own efforts."

Both public and private schools are eligible to receive funds for employing students, but private schools approved are limited to those operating on a non-profit basis and paying no taxes. Funds for this youth program are allotted through county superintendents' offices. J. C. Kellam, assistant state director, said. Mr. Kellam is in charge of the education program of the National Youth Administration in Texas.

"Each county superintendent is told what allotment of jobs and money his county may expect, calculated on a basis of youth population and need," he explained. "The superintendent is asked to appoint a Placement Committee which recommends quotas of jobs for the schools within the county, again on a basis of youth population and need. The committee recommendations are submitted to the state NYA headquarters, and when approved, become the schedule for the work within the county."

A student seeking employment must apply to the principal of his school, Mr. Kellam said. School officials are responsible for selecting eligible applicants and for placing them on socially desirable work.

Additional Topics Studied By Allred For Special Term

Legislature To Be Converted Monday To Consider Aged Pensioners, Other Items

Two additional topics for possible submission at the special session of the Legislature starting Monday were studied Tuesday by Gov. James V. Allred but there was no definite indication that either would be offered. Allred called the session for the prime purpose of raising old-age pension revenue. He has manifested a determination to hold legislators to the main point until it is settled.

Others under consideration are enabling legislation to make available to Texas the benefits of the unemployment insurance phase of the social security act and expansion of state hospital facilities to remove the insane from jails.

J. R. Anderson, Tax Commissioner and chairman of the Governor's special committee studying unemployment insurance, made a preliminary and informal report to the Governor. Anderson will complete this week an analytical report on the committee's findings.

If unemployment insurance is to be submitted, Allred said, it will be offered at the start of the session. That would eliminate uncertainty as to a special session's course, which usually exists soon after its start.

Answers are arriving to the Governor's questionnaire to county officials on the status of persons adjudged insane and those held for trial. It was obtained to determine the need for emergency action after charges were made that hundreds of insane were confined in jails because State hospitals were crowded to capacity.

The decision of submitting that topic will not be made until answers from the county officials have been tabulated and analyzed.

In the meantime the Governor received from Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Old-Age Assistance Commission, a detailed report on the condition of pension finances. He said he might withhold the report for inclusion in his tax message which will be delivered to the Legislature at its opening.

Hoping to shorten the Legislature's session, the Governor said he would not submit such controversial subjects as repeal of the horse race wagering law, strengthening the driver's licensing act and other matters for which there has been some agitation for immediate consideration. Also, he said, he has not committed himself to submit local bills, several of which have been urged.

REMAINS AT BEDSIDE

Mrs. Jack Smith continues to remain at the bedside of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bounds, in Fort Worth. Mrs. Bounds is said to be somewhat improved but Mr. Bounds seems to be growing gradually worse.

MRS. SAM WOMACK MOVED

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Womack have received word that their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Samuel Womack, has been moved from the Elberton Georgia hospital, where she has been a patient since being injured in a car wreck near Elberton several weeks ago, to a hospital in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Womack were returning to their home in Washington after a visit in Texas when their car overturned, inflicting severe injuries on Mrs. Womack, who was driving. Mr. Womack sustained only minor injuries. Mrs. Womack is said to be making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

REDUCE THE BOLL WEEVILS

COLLEGE STATION. — "To reduce the number of boll weevils in the cotton fields next year every farmer should plow up all cotton growth as soon as cotton picking is complete," says R. R. Reppert, Extension entomologist. "Cotton boll weevils feed only on green cotton and develop only in green cotton squares or bolls. Killing cotton growth early thus removes the food of the weevil. If the growth is entirely killed as early as two weeks before frosts, practically all weevils will starve before going into winter quarters."

"Absolute lack of food for only a short period during the active season, that is previous to killing frosts, will cause death from starvation. If allowed to reach the dormant state, weevils can live several months without food, and it is these over-wintered weevils that breed and supply the next season's hordes," he added.

"A total destruction of the plant substance is not necessary nor desirable," Reppert warned. "All our soils need this organic material returned for continued profitable production. It is enough in the matter of weevil control that the plant merely be killed."

"Often a plow set shallow to clip the top roots just below the surface of the soil is a successful practice. Merely chopping or clipping the stalks will not answer, because the stumps will throw out new growth ideal for weevil food," he concluded.

RED CROSS LEADERS PLAN FOR MITCHELL ROLL CALL TO BEGIN ARMISTICE DAY

County's Quota Of 500 Has Been Accepted, Chairman States; 'Over The Top In Few Days,' Is Slogan

Plans for launching annual Red Cross roll call in Mitchell county were mapped at conference of citizens held recently at the chamber of commerce with R. H. Barber, roll call chairman, in charge. The quota of 500 members was accepted and enlistment of members for another year is to open on Armistice Day. Officials of the benevolent organization expect to complete the drive before Thanksgiving, the closing date.

Other executive committeemen selected to work with Barber in directing the drive include Dr. W. B. May, John Diefenbach, and Judge B. L. Templeton. The first two assistant roll call chairmen are to devote their attention to Colorado; the other two have been assigned to duty in the rural districts.

Mitchell county citizens designated to serve on special committees in their respective communities, follow:

Roy Edwards, Frank Crowner, Mrs. J. Hahn, Roy Davis Coles, Mrs. J. A. Sadler, Ben J. Baskin, J. V. Glover, O. F. Jones, U. D. Wulfjen, J. L. Strain, J. W. McGuire, T. A. Reese, Earl Jackson, Van Boston, Mrs. R. H. Looney, J. E. Watson, J. A. Sadler, Miss Emma Gunter, L. L. Bodine, J. S. Boyd, A. K. McCarty, Mrs. O. L. Simpson, J. H. Humphreys, and Earl Gunn.

All these committee men, including personnel of the roll call directors, and officials of the county chapter, have been called to meet at the chamber of commerce Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider such final details as may be proper for launching the drive. Drive captains are to be elected at the meeting.

Chairman Barber is anxious that every Mitchell county citizen listed above attend the conference Saturday afternoon. "The appeal in this worthy campaign has gone out to every Mitchell county citizen and we are accepting that our people will, in other years, go over the top in a short time, once the drive is opened," declared Jim Green, chairman of the county chapter.

AMERICAN RED CROSS IS QUICK TO BRING RELIEF

Immediate relief for all flood victims at San Angelo, Water Valley and other communities swept last week by the worst flood in history was brought to those sufferers by the American Red Cross. Robert Bridge of St. Louis, field representative of the Red Cross, arrived in San Angelo late Thursday, as crest of the flood passed to personally direct attention to the hundreds of homeless.

CANTRILL FIELD SHOULD BE IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Cantrill Field should be in excellent condition for the Wolf-Bull Dog clash Friday night, school officials here believe. The field is well sodded and the sandy soil underneath the turf is not holding much moisture from the recent rains.

'Beat Midland,' Is Slogan As Initial Home Game Nears

School Students and Others Enthused Over Battle Set For Friday Night

"Beat Midland!" That is the slogan being heralded from throats of a thousand school boys and girls as they lead Wolf fans into final stage of enthusiasm over the first home game for the Wolves set for Cantrill Field Friday night. The locals are to engage the Midland Bull Dogs, one of the most formidable Class B outfits in the district.

"If an enthused student body is to account for much, Colorado should take victory in this her initial home contest of the season, representative of the high school classes told this newspaper Tuesday morning. "We have faith in our Wolves and believe they are going to emerge victorious in this game—and, they will, if Colorado brings up the support merited by the team."

"Let us dedicate this game to the Wolves in the definite proposition that Colorado is going to win," said an ardent Wolf fan as he entered the Record office. "Cantrill Field ought to be jammed to capacity as the game opens Friday night. This town owes the Wolves just that."

PUBLISHER SENDS MOTOR BOAT TO SAVE STRANDED

Bolton Head and Gene Horton of Sweetwater were in Colorado Friday morning en route home after rushing to flood area near Water Valley the night before to rescue people stranded in trees after Grape Creek had gone on rampage with flood waters.

Three of the victims had been taken to safety when the party arrived. The other seven were taken to places of safety during early hours of Friday morning. The motor boat was sent to Water Valley by Millard Cole, publisher of the Sweetwater Daily Reporter.

TRENT FARMER INDICTED FOR KILLING 2 PERSONS

James Trent, 28, Trent farmer, was grand jury indicted this morning with the death of his former wife, Mrs. Mary Duncan, whose charred body was found in smoldering ruins of their home on April 10, 1935, and of G. H. Jones, Trent filling station operator, whose body was taken from waters of Lake Sweetwater a few weeks ago.

The wife killing charge was returned in Abilene district court while the other indictment was voted by the grand jury at Sweetwater.

NEGRO SENT TO PRISON FOR STEALING CURRENCY

Charley Ringo, former janitor at the West Texas National bank in Big Spring was assessed a five-year term in prison Monday after his confession to stealing $1,250 in currency from the bank in 1933. Another black, friend of the accused and to whom $1,000 of the loot had been given for safekeeping, lost the money in a dice game according to evidence heard during the trial.

TOURIST BUSINESS IS ONE OF BEST DIVIDEND PAYERS AVAILABLE, CITIZENS TOLD

C-C Luncheon Club Urged To Build For Greater Nation Wide Appreciation Of This City and Section

"The tourist business being brought into Colorado every day of the year by reason of the fact this city is located on the Broadway of America, is to be reckoned as one of the best dividend payers available to this community," a speaker addressing the chamber of commerce luncheon club Tuesday noon declared.

Courtesy and that manner of business dealing, "whether the tourist calls to buy a five-cent cigar or a motor car," to impress that Coloradans believe in Colorado and are always pleased to have the visitor within their gates, was urged.

"Statistics recently issued by the AAA of Southern California gave the startling information that the tourist business in that State was today the biggest dividend producer the Golden State possesses," the speaker went on to say.

"Income brought into business marts of that state is greater than gross revenue from the fruit industry, the oil industry or the motion picture production industry. One out of every ten tourists entering that State eventually return to become permanent citizens."

Jim Greene, secretary of the chamber, and Chas. C. Thompson, president of the organization urged the business men present to pay quota of $30 assigned Colorado by the Broadway of America association for national advertising outlay. A committee composed of A. C. Connell, E. R. Bibby and Lee Carter was appointed and directed to "go out and raise this quota as quickly as possible."

Earl Cybert presided at the meeting. Entertainment features, consisting of a five-round boxing bout with local negroes the contenders, was enjoyed by the men. The fight, refereed by Lee Carter, was declared a draw.

Among visitors introduced were Dick Knox of Midland, scout for the Magnolia Petroleum Company; Minister Harvey Childers of the Church of Christ; and G. F. Bass who recently came to Colorado from Chicago to accept position in Junior high school faculty.

DROUTH OF FIFTY YEARS AGO RECALLED BY PAPER

The drouth in West Texas had extended to such proportions as to become serious, the Dallas Morning News for Tuesday recalls in its "Fifty Years Ago" column. Fifteen cars of provisions were being moved into the area weekly by the Texas & Pacific and Missouri Pacific lines. "Winfield Scott, president of the First National bank at Colorado City, is one of the largest cattle owners in that section," the half century old news story stated.

OPTIMISM IN DISASTER SEEN IN ANGELO FLOOD

San Angelo is finding compensation in the recent destructive flood, according to press reports out of the debris strewn city. "There are no unemployed here. Wages are higher than at any time during the past five years. Stores are doing a capacity business. Lambs have advanced to six cents and there is an abundance of surface water on the range." Such is typical of the dominating West Texas spirit.

CABLES BEING REPLACED BY TELEPHONE CO. HERE

Extensions and replacements are being made to cables of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Colorado, under direction of S. L. Stewart, of Fort Worth, of the maintenance department. A new cable tunnel alley between First and Second streets is among the improvements authorized by the company. Cable splitters detailed here were transferred to San Angelo last week after floods had damaged properties of the telephone company there.

Features Given At Ruddick Park Will Long Be Recalled

Thousands Of Citizens Were Attracted To Amateur Hour Programs There

Amateur hour programs given at Ruddick Park amphitheatre during the recent past are long to be remembered by the citizenship of this county as an attraction universally appreciated. The novelty entertainment features were sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Through these weekly entertainment bills, Jim Greene, chamber secretary, discovered a number of boys and girls—and adults, too—who have strong talent as singers, dancers, musicians and specialty performers. As a rule there were outstanding amateur stars presented on every program.

Attendance and reception given the programs reflected that the people appreciated this effort to bring wholesome entertainment to their door. On more than one occasion the attendance was reckoned at over 4000.

Final of the amateur hour attractions for Colorado this season is to be given at high school auditorium on Tuesday evening of next week. Opening program in the park theatre was staged two weeks ago this Friday night.

ATTENDANCE AT RALLY FOR METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE CUT BY RAINS

Although rains cut attendance below the expected figure a great deal of interest was manifested in the quarterly rally for Methodist young people of the Sweetwater district here Saturday night and Sunday. About 30 out-of-town young people were registered.

Saturday night supper was served in the basement of First Methodist church instead of at Ruddick Park as previously planned. Afterward 42 was played.

Taking the place of Congressman George Mahon, who had been unexpectedly called out of town, Lloyd Crossin taught the rally's Sunday school lesson Sunday morning.

Freddie Adkins of Big Spring, district director, presided at all business sessions. The consecration service which closed the meeting Sunday afternoon was conducted by Franklin Weir of McMurry college, Abilene, president of the young people's organization of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference.

Big Spring was chosen as the January meeting place.

INITIAL CONTEST OF YEAR LOST BY LOCAL GRIDSTERS TO SNYDER SCHOOL SQUAD

Tigers Take Victory By One Point Lead In Dedictory Game Staged Saturday At Their Home Stadium

While outplaying their antagonists in several phases of the game and chalking up four first downs to one by the enemy, the Wolves lost by one point in their initial contest, staged Saturday night at Snyder against the Tigers. The game was played on a muddy field, a condition that slowed both technique and brawn upon part of both elevens. The score was 12 to 13.

The game was called following dedicatory rites for the new lighted stadium at Snyder high school. King Sides, principal of the school, presided as master of ceremonies. J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado chamber of commerce, delivered an address in behalf of his community and the school here. Snyder was represented on the speaking program by Jake Smythe, editor of the Scurry County Times.

All of the touchdowns resulted from breaks. Colorado got the first counter near end of the half, after a Bar Kick by Snyder gave the ball to the Wolves on Snyder's twelve-yard marker. Captain Rankin, playing at fullback, pushed across for the six points.

In the third period Quarterback Smith of Snyder passed to Morrow to take the ball for a material gain. He was downed on Colorado's one yard stripe. Morrow scored on a line plunge and Captain Boren kicked goal for the extra point to put the Tigers ahead. Tate, Snyder left Floyd Hill, 26, arrested in Fort Worth late on the afternoon of September 4 in connection with robbery of the Loraine postoffice early that morning, has been delivered to Federal authorities at Abilene by Sheriff R. E. Gregory. Hill had been held in the Mitchell county jail since his capture.

Complaint charging Hill with robbery of the office has been filed in Federal court at Fort Worth.

The accused youth has maintained innocence of the Loraine job consistently since taken into custody. His car, however, has been identified as one seen in Sweetwater a short time before the robbery and coins said to have been identified as property of the Loraine postmaster found on his person.

tackle, intercepted a pass and ran 62 yards in the fourth period for the second Snyder touchdown.

Colorado counted again just before the game ended. The Wolves got the ball on Snyder's ten yard line when the Tigers fumbled, and Wright passed 15 yards to Cox for the score.

A delegation of local citizens attended the game from here. The game, a non-conference contest, had previously been set for the Friday night before but postponed twenty-four hours on account of rain.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

The lurking cold germ is waiting for your defenses to be lowered. Leading doctors tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, strikes with such viciousness that sixty per cent of the population has three or more "colds" each year. Think of this startling total of over two hundred million illnesses—many of which could be avoided with adequate heat and proper ventilation throughout the home.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

A trip aboard the Queen Mary, England's mammoth luxury liner ship built in competition with France's Normandie, was an unexpected treat for Miss Mabel Smith while she was in the East this summer. . . . The only way you get on the Queen Mary is by having a card from someone who is sailing on the ship, and Miss Smith got such a card through Dr. and Mrs. Reeves Coleman, whom she visited in Washington, D. C. . . . The ship, Miss Smith says, is as huge and as luxurious as everything you read says it is, and that's plenty huge and plenty luxurious. . . . The Queen Mary, as you know, is the largest ship ever built. . . . And it makes the trip across the Atlantic in four days. . . .

Wonder if the Fielding Lee's aren't awfully proud of three children with "hair like that" . . . Personal nomination for a very likable and very attractive youngster—Dick Lowe Jones . . . Speaking of children—what's nicer than a brother and sister who share fun and work as Charles Edwin and Julia Mae Root have always done? They're seniors together at the University of Texas this year.

Among Coloradans who had folks in San Angelo to worry about during the flood was Mrs. James Logan. . . . Her immediate family, the M. J. Askeys, weren't at their home in San Angelo at the time of the flood, being on their ranch near Sterling City. . . . However, their home wasn't destroyed, and neither was that of Mrs. Logan's aunt. . . .

Smith Ballew, the well-known orchestra leader who played a featured role in "Palm Springs" at the Palace theatre Tuesday and Wednesday nights is a cousin of Thos. R. Smith, Miss Mabel Smith, and Mrs. R. O. Pearson of Colorado (and will Miss Smith give me the deuce for dragging her name into this column a second time at one sitting?)

Skipping subjects back to the San Angelo flood—Mrs. Virgil Moser's sister, Mrs. Kruse of McCamey, was a patient in Shannon Memorial hospital at San Angelo during the flood. . . . She had been there about 10 days. . . . Water rose 9 feet in the hospital basement, and Mrs. Moser quotes her sister as saying the patients got "rather excited". . . . The hospital was without lights and water several hours. . . . Mrs. Moser visited her sister Sunday. . . .

So anxious about the welfare of their relatives in San Angelo were Mrs. Henry Doss, Sr., of Colorado, and Mrs. H. S. Beal of the White Elephant ranch that they went over to San Angelo Sunday, remaining until Monday morning. . . . Until the flood was over Mrs. Doss thought that both her sons, Patsy and John, were in it, because Patsy had gone to Midland to join John and go as far as San Angelo with him on his way to school at Kingsville. . . . But both men were waterbound in Midland and missed the flood. . . . The home of John Doss and his wife was not damaged. . . . Mrs. Beal found her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Cummings, safe and untouched by the flood. . . .

All the Coloradans who visited San Angelo Sunday to view the flood ravages came back saying that news accounts of the disaster haven't been at all exaggerated. . . . Among those glimpsed in Colorado cars during the day were Mrs. Doss and Mrs. Beal; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Randle and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Latham; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Millington, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Baskin; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, Sonny Wilkins, and Mr. Wilkins' mother, Mrs. W. I. Wilkins; the Hope and Aubrey Herringtons; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hale and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hale, the latter couple from Big Spring; T. J. Goss, Eddie Moeser, and party; the J. J. Billingsleys and the Frank Kelleys; the Virgil Mosers and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brownfield from Snyder. . . .

Flood waters in San Angelo completely covered the home of Mrs. Landon Dorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Durham. . . . Mrs. Dorn, the former Katherine Durham and well known here, was in San Angelo visiting them during the flood. . . . The Durham home was not washed away, it is understood, but everything in it was ruined. . . . The Dorns now live in Abilene.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"What does a Bank mean by 'Uncollected funds'?"

THIS question can best be answered by an illustration. Suppose you receive from John Jones a check for $10 written on a bank in another city. You bring the check to us, endorse it, and deposit it in your checking account here.

Your account is credited with $10 on our books. This $10 then becomes "uncollected funds" until we send the check to the bank on which it was drawn and receive the money or equivalent credit. You do not have the money in your account to draw upon until we collect it, for the money belongs to John Jones.

Through the American system of correspondent banking we are able to handle the collection of checks from one city to another with ease and rapidity for the convenience of our customers.

POLITICS

We asked our friend (1) W. H. Garrett to fill this column for us this week and this is what he wrote:

Why He Opposes President

To The Columnist: Eighteen reasons why Democrats should not support Candidate Roosevelt for re-election:

Confiscation—Mr. Roosevelt forced the owners of gold and gold certificates worth 100 cents on the dollar to part with them and accept scraps of paper worth 50 cents on the dollar. The difference amounting to $2,800,000,000 (billions) was confiscated by the Government. American citizens at large have never heretofore and do not now approve of confiscation as a matter of principle.

Reputation—The United States Government, both before and after Mr. Roosevelt's inauguration, issued and sold bonds to the people, promising in writing to pay the bonds in gold. Although the Government had the gold in abundance, this promise was repudiated and payment in gold refused. Some years ago the people of Texas voted to validate void bonds rather than profit by repudiation. President Roosevelt's is the first and only national administration to adopt, teach and practice repudiation.

The Tariff—From its enactment, Mr. Roosevelt and the Democratic leaders denounced the Smoot-Hawley tariff law as everything bad in tariff legislation. They affirmed that it was the cause of the depression and the ruin of the country. To them it was a Republican monstrosity. Yet for more than three years he and Congress have persisted in maintaining this asserted, obnoxious and wicked Republican tariff law. They seem to love it, they nurse it, support it and mother it as a Democratic measure.

Reciprocity—James G. Blaine, the arch Republican of all time, more than 50 years ago originated the idea of reciprocity. William McKinley, the high priest of protection, on the day he was shot and killed made a speech advocating reciprocity. President Taft, a high tariff Republican, forced through Congress a reciprocity treaty. The Democrats fought and condemned this treaty and policy. It was endurance vito to them. Mr. Roosevelt has now seized this Republican policy in a loving embrace. He has made it a Democratic policy.

A Standing Army—The people and Democratic doctrine have stood with Thomas Jefferson hostile to a large standing army in time of peace. Mr. Roosevelt led his Congress in passing the largest appropriations for the Army and Navy known in the history of the world.

Prohibition—The people of the South and West generally favored the dry laws. They voted for them and adopted the policy of total prohibition of the liquor traffic. But Franklin D. Roosevelt led them back to the manufacture, sale and drink of liquor as pigs are tolled to the swill trough.

Governmental Expenses—Mr. Jefferson wrote, "I am for a government rigorously frugal and simple; applying all the possible savings of the public revenue to the discharge of the public debt." Acting in the name of this great statesman and Democrat, Mr. Roosevelt's taxation, expenditures, extravagance, waste and increase in the public debt is beyond human comprehension.

Bureaucracy—His party has continuously denounced governmental bureaus and commissions at Washington—bureaucracy. We have been taught that such are very undesirable. Democrats have affirmed that they oppose such for many years. Mr. Roosevelt has added 54 bureaus to the 36 that already existed at Washington, and 233,529 employees to the 572,091 that were already employed by the Government at Washington.

Monopolies—It has been a prevailing principle and a sound Democratic doctrine that a private monopoly was indefensible; that all monopoly was oppressive of the people and destructive to democracy. Mr. Roosevelt had his Congress enact the NRA and repeal all antimonopoly laws. Since then monopoly has run riot to the injury of the people. But Mr. Roosevelt and the Democratic leaders have been as silent as the tomb about monopoly.

Taxation—Unjust taxation is confiscation. Taxes should be levied only for the support of the Government, economically administered. When levied beyond necessity and/or for other purposes, taxation is a crime against the taxed and subversive of government. Mr. Roosevelt in addition to maintaining the highest tariff tax, levying the highest tax rate known in time of peace and borrowing beyond human comprehension, now proposes to redistribute wealth, coerce objectors and regulate industry by taxing one group for the benefit of another group.

Free Speech and Free Press—From the enactment of NRA, persistent efforts have been made by the New Deal personnel to restrict and control the public press. Individuals finding fault with any measure of President Roosevelt's New Deal have been denounced, castigated and condemned. This includes such eminent Democrats as Governor Smith, John W. Davis, Senator Reed, Newton D. Baker, Secretary Colby, Governor Bithie, Governor Ely, Lewis Douglas and all others. A character assassination committee has been kept ready to attack any individual, his reputation, his character, or any organization that felt impelled to disagree with Mr. Roosevelt. Though he slay me, yet will I serve him has been the only permissible attitude for any Democrat or other citizen.

Civil Service—From the days of President Cleveland to March, 1933, Democrats have favored the civil service laws. At the time of the President's inauguration 81 per cent of the Government's employees were selected after taking examination, showing qualifications. Under Roosevelt the civil service has been practically destroyed. Now only 57 per cent of the employees are required to take examinations and show qualifications.

Equal and Exact Justice to All; Special Favor to None—This was Mr. Jefferson's sum of good government. Mr. Roosevelt's AAA levied taxes on the necessities of life, raised the cost of living, added misery to the poor, deprived tenants of a home, left share-croppers to seek miserable quarters or live in a tent, paid the big man thousands to millions and put the little man on relief and starvation.

State's Rights—The right of the States to manage their own internal affairs has been an all-time, fundamental, Democratic doctrine. On April 25 at New York President Roosevelt said, "Nation-wide thinking, nationwide planning, and nationwide action are the three great essentials." With this attitude of mind he had his Congress enact and he tried to put into effect laws that would have, in the words of the Supreme Court, "obliterated" the States and the state lines.

Centralized Power—Hamilton's doctrine of a strong, centralized government was obnoxious to Jeffersonians from the beginning to March, 1933. Then Mr. Roosevelt began to regulate business, employment, wages and prices; kill and destroy pigs, cattle, sheep, cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts, tobacco and potatoes; dictate and restrict crops and production; provide private crimes and penalties; manage every detail of economic life. With NRA and AAA he had and maintained an economic dictatorship equal to Hitler, Mussolini or Stalin. He has not given up power willingly but continues to grasp for more power.

The New Deal—The New Deal is a pink Socialist theory that plenty may be had by producing less and dividing more; endless borrowing leads to prosperity; reckless spending ends in riches; thrift, economy, hard work, earning and saving are foolish, antiquated ideas; that individual effort is wicked; that passing huge tax bills is a sign of wisdom, something to celebrate and chuckle over; that national indebtedness is a haven of salvation.

The New Order—The old order is Americans enjoying all the civil liberty not granted to the Government. The New Order is Americans enjoying only the civil liberty granted to them by the Government. The old order produced Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Lee, Houston and Hogg and the greatest people and republic known to man. The New Order is a mystifying maze called New Deal, New Frontier, More Abundant Life, Social Discipline, the New Democracy, Social Economy, Planned Economy, the Third Economy, Economic Autocracy, the Third International. The old order frees man; the New Order enslaves man. Mr. Wallace says, "We will not be Socialists, Communists or Fascists but plain men trying to gain by democratic methods the professed objectives of Communists, Socialists and Fascists." Mrs. Roosevelt says, "On Our Way."

The Democrat Party—There is now no Democrat party. It has been assimilated. Mr. Roosevelt has a great aggregation of people goosestepping his "must" orders. Formerly we had government by laws; we now have government by a President. However long and great the service, however honorable the name, whatever prestige the Democrat if you differ with Mr. Roosevelt you are slandered, shamefully abused and expelled from those who follow in his train. Mr. Leakes exclaims, "They must be stamped out regardless of their origin or status."

Any one of the above 18 "reasons" is sufficient to justify the Democrat in "taking a walk" on election day. But the real and main reason why he should not be re-elected is Franklin D. Roosevelt. He has no steadfast political principles. Mr. James F. Warburg says Mr. Roosevelt don't know what he wants. Recently in a speech in New Jersey the President said, "Do something; if it helps, do it some more; if it does something else." A man that emits such silly twaddle as that after being President of the United States for three years should be retired until he grows up.

Colorado, Texas. W. H. GARRETT.

To which we add:

There seems to be some contention about personal or human rights and property rights. People fear that property rights are receiving more consideration than human rights. They say so.

Property has no rights. A man may own a cow, a farm or a bank. The rights of property is the right of individuals to purchase, own and dispose of property. And if you deprive people of these rights you are limiting personal or human rights. You are not hurting property rights. Property has no rights.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

There is only one defense against evil, and that is to conquer it with good and win your enemy for a friend. There is only one salvation for the countries of the earth, and that is the ethics and the example of Jesus Christ.

All wisdom doesn't die when we die, but our own wisdom does. So do our errors. When the dust returns to dust another chapter has closed. The new chapter will be unlike the other, but brighter in a grander environment, we hope. Many seek in these new times to substitute philosophy for religion and draw spiritual comfort from intellectual thinking. But it does not offer the solace that the wise old people found. There is more consolation in a crude hymn than in a treatise by a professional astronomer or a monograph by a humanist careful of his rhetoric.

One of the stenographers over in the Chamber of Commerce office, after a hard days work, approached Mr. Greene, the secretary and said, "I think I deserve a raise in salary." Mr. Greene said, "I can't afford it, but you can call yourself a private secretary instead of a stenographer."

Where there is no gossip the people perish.

One of our readers, after hearing one of Dick O'Brien's sermons and brooding over the matter said to his wife, "I wonder what we shall wear in Heaven." She replied, "Well, if you are there John I imagine most of us will wear surprised looks."

WHEN YOU COMPARE "TRADE-IN" ALLOWANCES—

COMPARE DELIVERED PRICES TOO!

TUDOR SEDAN WITH TRUNK $725 DELIVERED IN COLORADO

The delivered price of this or any other new Ford V-8 includes all the following at no extra cost:

- V-8 Engine, 85 horsepower
- Welded Steel Body
- Safety Glass throughout
- Shockless steering
- Silent helical gears in all speeds
- 17 Plate Battery, 96 ampere capacity
- 112-inch wheelbase 123-inch springbase
- Choice of 3 colors (6 on de luxe cars)

WHEN you get a "trade-in" offer for your present car, ask for the full delivered price of the new car you are considering. Subtract the trade-in allowance from this. The resulting difference, including financing charges, is the sum you will actually pay for your new car. And most of the time, regardless of comparative allowances—you will find that it costs you less to own the Ford V-8.

This is because cars with FOB prices that are very much the same frequently have widely different delivered prices—and the difference between FOB and delivered prices of a Ford is almost always smallest.

Remember, too, that every Ford V-8 gives you every one of the features listed at the left—without a cent of extra cost.

RETURNS FROM MARKET

J. P. Summers has returned from the Dallas markets where he purchased additional Fall and Winter stocks for his stores at Colorado, Odessa and Kermit.

Passengers in the smoking compartment on my train were arguing about why railroad business is picking up.

A factory owner said it was because of this new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight. This is door-to-door service with no extra charge added to the freight bill.

A traveling salesman said it was because so many passenger and freight trains now run on faster schedules.

There was a school principal in the group and he said it was because train travel is so much cheaper for passengers. He said passenger fares are at the lowest point in history, with substantial reductions if you buy a round-trip ticket—and no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

One man, a farmer, said he liked something he could depend on, that's why he was traveling by train.

Another man, a newspaper reporter, said people were in favor of railroad travel because it is by far the safest. He quoted a lot of statistics from a book called, "Live and Let Live."

A banker we all know by name said railroad tax payments mean a lot in this state.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

Cost Of Operating Schools Declined As Rural Students Transferred To District

The annual cash outlay to be paid by property owners within the district has gradually declined during the past few years, as students from the rural districts were transferred into the district.

This acceptable condition has been realized through liberal attitude of the State department of education as affecting transfer of rural scholastics to larger schools. A lesser budget in local tax income was made possible when the State advanced more money into the local school fund as credits on an increased scholastic enrollment.

For the school year 1933-34 local taxes amounting at $41,004.55 were collected by the school district. Allocations from the State for that year totaled $31,177.71. The next year, 1934-35, local taxes totaled $39,363.62, as compared with $32,446.77 received from the State. Last year the local tax total was $37,440.65 and the State allotment $35,258.66.

During the three-year period local taxes for operating the schools decreased $8,563.91, while allocation from the State advanced $4,080.95. Total cost per pupil per year during the first term noted in this comparison was $55. For the year, 1934-35, it cost the district $51 per year per student and last year, 1935-36, the cost was $57.

Good textbooks are of little value to a student unless conditions are favorable for studying. This means a room where the student is free from interruptions and where he has a GOOD LIGHT.

Good light makes it easy to read or study for long periods of time without unnecessary strain on the eyes. With school starting again, you owe it to your children to provide the right kind of light to make studying easier.

DISTRICT MISSIONARY ELECTED BY BAPTISTS; MAY MAKE HOME HERE

Members of the Baptist executive board of District 8 met in Big Spring last Thursday and elected Rev. J. J. Strickland of Luling as new district missionary, succeeding Rev. Willis J. Ray of Big Spring, who resigned some time ago to become pastor at Littlefield.

Rev. Dick O'Brien of the First Baptist church, a member of the board, attended the meeting.

There is a possibility, or even a probability, that the Rev. Mr. Strickland will make his home in Colorado, the Rev. Mr. O'Brien says. The new missionary has been pastor at Luling for 10 years. His duties in this district will begin October 15.

District 8 includes three Baptist associations—the Lamesa, the Mitchell-Scurry, and the Big Spring.
