

LAST PAYMENT IS MADE ON BAPTIST CHURCH BUILDING

$65,000 EDIFICE CLEAR OF 11 YEAR-OLD DEBT; NEW PEWS AND CARPETS TO BE INSTALLED

Final payment on the debt incurred when their $65,000 church was constructed 11 years ago was made by members of First Baptist church Monday morning.

Announcement that funds were on hand to clear the debt was made by Joe H. Smoot of the finance committee during a special church conference Sunday morning.

During the same conference the church voted to finance a number of repairs and improvements to the building and to install new pews, carpets, and draperies in the auditorium.

On hearing the announcement that the debt would be cleared the church gave a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. C. H. Lasky for the $8,800 worth of notes, which she cancelled in May, 1937, thus making clearance of the debt possible by this time. Mrs. Lasky and her late husband also gave generously to the church building fund in the beginning. They loaned the church $30,000.

The church building was built in 1928 and formally opened on Nov. 25 of that year. Rev. W. C. Ashford, now pastor of South Side Baptist church in Abilene, was pastor at the time. The finance committee included J. A. Sadler, J. H. Smoot, P. B. Whipkey, G. B. Slaton, J. H. Greene, and Dr. T. J. Ratliff. Trustees of the building were and are Slaton, Smoot, and Ford Morris.

Plans for the building were drawn by E. W. Van Slyke of Fort Worth and W. W. Whipkey of Colorado City. Whipkey was supervising architect.

The Colorado Construction company was contractor.

Present pastor is Rev. T. A. Patterson, who came here from Hollis, Oklahoma, in August, 1937. The present finance committee includes Slaton, Smoot, Whipkey and Truett Barber. Mrs. Lasky's $8,800 gift was made during the ministry of Rev. P. D. O'Brien, now pastor of First Baptist church at Stamford.

No definite plans for a dedication service have been announced, but it will probably be held after the planned improvements have been completed.

The present church building stands on the same site where the first Baptist services were held in Colorado City in 1881. At that time a one-room mission served other denominations as well as the Baptists. This building was destroyed by a cyclone in 1885, and was replaced by a temporary boxed house.

The building which served until torn down to make way for the construction of the present edifice was dedicated in April, 1897, and was enlarged by the addition of Sunday school rooms in 1912.

AFTERNOON TRAINS STOPPED; TRUCKS TAKE UP SERVICE

Both trucks connect with trains in Sweetwater, one to deliver mail to the train, the other to bring mail from the train to towns as far west as Big Spring, former terminus of the trains.

WESTBROOK SENIORS VISIT GOVERNOR'S MANSION ON TRIP

Work was started this week on 3rd street south of courthouse 65 payments made.

Sixty-five Colorado City property owners had made payment in full on their part of paving costs Wednesday afternoon as the city-wide paving program got off to a good start on Third street south of the courthouse.

Payments indicated strongly that Tenth street would be the first to get paving after the courthouse unit is completed. Mayor J. A. Sadler and other city officials have said from the beginning that those units paid up first without any skips were to be paved in the order of payment.

The paving now underway on West Third street south of the courthouse is involving the movement of a great amount of dirt because it is being so constructed as to provide adequate drainage for the area around the postoffice and city hall, where water has always backed up several feet deep during heavy rains.

Nick Jordan of Plainview is acting as supervisor of the work. Lamar Cunningham, formerly of Midland, is city engineer on the job.

Property-owners who had paid their 30 cents per foot to City Secretary Ford Merritt by Wednesday afternoon were:

SOIL CONSERVATION DELEGATES ELECTED AT COUNTY MEETINGS

Precinct representatives meeting to name man who will represent county in district.

Precinct conventions were held in Mitchell county Saturday and Monday for the election of delegates as required under the State Soil Conservation law which recently went into effect.

Delegates chosen at the four conventions were as follows: Precinct Two, T. R. Haggard; Precinct Three, E. Barber; Precinct One, Tom Goss, Sr.; Precinct Four, J. C. Hall.

Twenty-five farmers attended the Precinct Two meeting held in Westbrook Saturday afternoon, while 29 were at the Precinct Three meeting at Spade that night. Forty attended the Precinct One meeting at Colorado City on Monday afternoon. The Precinct Four meeting at Loraine on Monday drew an attendance of 56.

Joe C. Williams, county agent, attended all the meetings and assisted the landowners.

These four precinct delegates are meeting Thursday (today) to select one of their number to officially represent Mitchell county landowners at the 51-county district meeting to be held in Fort Stockton on May 22.

At this district meeting one man will be selected to go to Temple on May 29 and serve on the state board, which will be organized at that time.

Working of the soil conservation law has been explained as follows by Victor H. Shoffelmayr, agricultural editor of the Dallas News:

"When the machinery has been set up, each district is ready to engage in necessary research in the field of soil erosion, conduct demonstration projects, undertake preventive and control measures, enter into contracts with farmers or give them financial and other assistance toward solving the district's soil erosion problems, buy land for retirement or for project purposes, make loans and gifts for equipment, machinery, seed to farmers, take over and operate state and federal erosion-control projects and recommend land-use plans. In fact, the law gives each district powers to carry out such projects upon private lands, but with the consent of the owner."

"Supervisors of districts will have large powers to enforce land-use practices and formulate regulations and procedures, provided that nine tenths of the landowners vote favorably. Regulations which have been adopted can be amended or repealed through another vote. Upon practically general agreement in a community or district the supervisors can undertake soil conservation works of major importance, such as engineering projects involving the construction of dams, terracing, lister furrowing, contour cultivation, strip-cropping, planting of trees and grasses, tillage and rotation practices and retirement of steep land from cultivation."

SEARCH WARRANT FOR BOOTLEGGER SIGNED IN PULPIT

Bearing an Austin dateline, this Associated Press article appeared in state newspapers this week:

The pulpit is a good place to sign a search warrant against a bootlegger, in the opinion of A. D. Leach, Colorado City Justice of the peace and Baptist minister.

State liquor inspectors George W. Connell and L. L. Martin reported today they obtained one—and used it successfully—from Leach while he was preaching a sermon.

The officers arrived at the church and sent word of their mission to the pastor. He interrupted his sermon, signed the warrant before the congregation, and expressed a belief there was no more proper place to do so.

PROSPECTS STILL GROWING BRIGHTER WITH EACH SHOWER

Prospects continued to brighten in Mitchell county this week as more rains fell to bring the May total to 2.09 in Colorado City and vicinity and to more than that in some portions of the county.

From Monday until Wednesday 43 inches of rain fell. Hard showers also fell late Friday and at other times during the latter part of last week. Heavy rain and some hail were reported in the McKensie area on Friday, while showers fell at Longfellow, Bauman, Westbrook, and Loraine.

Tumbling temperatures accompanied the rainy weather on Friday and Saturday. Mitchell countians ran their heating stoves at mid-May for the first time in several years. The mercury got as low as 49 on Saturday night.

The cold snap caught many ranchers of the county with hundreds of freshly-shorn sheep on their hands, but no heavy losses were reported.

While ranchers unreservedly welcome every drop of rain, farmers have been wary for heavy rains because many crops are just coming out of the ground and a beating rain would mean re-planting in many cases.

The 2.09-inch total already chalked up for May is nearly an inch more than the May total for 1938, when 1.23 inches fell. Total rainfall for the year, however, is still far behind that for the same time last year, this year's total being 6.70 as compared with 9.97 at the end of May, 1938.

Doris Marie Randle and Doris Ann Coffey acted as ushers. After the parents and friends were welcomed by Mrs. Coffey, the recess scene was given by using the childhood name, "Pleased and Displeased." James Moody Dickerson, son of the Moody Dickersons, had charge of the game.

After welcoming their parents in song, both collectively and individually, the children presented their numbers as "forfeits" in the game, as follows: Ben Kirby Rector, son of the Johnny Rectors, reading; Mary Jan Geer, daughter of the A. L. Geers, song; Barbara Ann Moore, daughter of the R. A. Moores, a reading; Billie Lee Mooser, daughter of the Bill Moosers, and Melton Willbanks, son of the E. B. The closing number featured Billie Lee Mooser singing "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" while Jerry Richardson, son of the Jack Richardsons, handed out large colored balloons to all the children.

For their closing meeting of the year the members of the Leut. Wm. Hubert Chapter, D.A.R., met in Sweetwater May 13th with Mrs. Catherine Morgan of that city as hostess.

With retiring regent, Mrs. Arlie Martin presiding, final reports of the retiring officers were heard. As is the custom a bride's spoon for the former Miss Elizabeth Terrell was ordered. The Good Citizenship medals were reported ready to be presented.

ON MT. LOCKE—TEXAS EYE SEES MORE AND FARTHER

AUSTIN.—Why did astronomers choose 6,791-foot Mount Locke for the site of the University of Texas's McDonald Observatory, 400 miles west of its parent institution at Austin?

For near-perfect starlight reception the requirements were: no vibration, no glare, no dust, no clouds.

So in his search for an observatory location, astronomer-in-charge Dr. C. T. Elvey found the Davis Mountains, with peaks of around 7,000 feet, to be most ideal.

Although the 75-ton telescope itself is firmly mounted on gigantic concrete piers, Dr. Elvey had to take into account proximity of railroads and other sources of vibration. The Texas and New Orleans is the nearest railroad—40 miles away.

Unshielded street lights, which would make a disturbing glare, are no closer than Fort Davis, 16 miles from the Observatory. Extra precaution was being made in 1936 that no filling stations would ever be erected anywhere within five or six miles of the plant.

Dr. Elvey preferred Mount Locke to a neighboring peak because Mount Locke was covered with more foliage, which helps keep down the dust on the wind-swept mountain. Too much dust in the air is a serious obstacle to good vision, he pointed out.

With a rainfall of only 15 inches per year, the area is unclouded approximately 300 days of the year.

Then too, more than 50 per cent of the stars and nebulae which will be objects of scrutiny are seen better from positions nearer the equator. Thus the southernmost vantage point in the United States was selected.

The 200-acre site, with an adjoining 200-acre tract, was given to the University in 1933 by Mrs. Violet Locke McIvor of Concord, N. H., whose grandfather, G. S. Locke, founded the U-Up and Down Ranch there. The land is now valued at $4,000.

DALLAS—The oil map of Texas was further intensified last year by new oil field discoveries in seven additional counties, bringing the total number of oil and gas producing counties in the State to 134, according to a survey recently completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. Constant search for new sources of oil supply in Texas resulted last year in the discovery of 117 new fields throughout the State. These new oil fields not only brought new taxable values to the seven counties in which no oil had previously been produced, but also provided increased tax revenue to many counties where oil already furnishes the principal source of tax revenue to local sub-divisions of government. Geophysical exploration and geological knowledge indicate that many potential oil fields remain to be discovered in Texas. If economic conditions permit, additional billions of barrels of future oil supply will be added to present known underground reserves. Today's known underground oil supply in Texas constitutes over half of all the known supply in the United States. In view of this knowledge it is definitely certain that Texas could enjoy the income created by oil over the next hundred years, at least, provided that taxes and operating costs permit the continued development of this industry throughout the State.

Heroine Re-Enacts Rescue

1400 S. BUNKER ST.—Mary Ellen Davis, 13-year-old heroine, re-enacts the rescue of her brother, Vyron, which won her the President's Medal and the Life Saving Certificate of the American Red Cross. Publicity commended and honored. Mary here shows photographs of Look Magazine how she did it.

CAR SKID PUTS THREE PATIENTS IN HOSPITAL

Skid of a car on rain-wet pavement a short distance east of Colorado City Tuesday noon put three women in C. L. Root Memorial hospital. Two of them were still there Thursday morning.

Mrs. E. J. Teague of Venus was perhaps the most seriously injured of the trio. She has a badly broken right hip, hospital attendants reported. Mrs. Earl Vest of Venus has a broken knee cap which will require surgery. Mrs. C. M. Jones of Kermit sustained a broken right arm, but was able to get into the hospital. Mrs. J. H. Kuenstler, also of Venus, was traveling east west out of control and skidded on the wet pavement into the path of the other car, which was traveling west. Kuenstler, who was driving, was not injured. The westbound car was driven by Mrs. Vest, who was returning from Fort Worth with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Halley of Kermit, and her 4-year-old son. The son was not injured. Mr. Halley, said to be a former county judge at Kermit, sustained an injured shoulder but was not hospitalized. He is 78. Mrs. Teague and Kuenstler were brought to the hospital in a passing car, the Halleys and Mrs. Vest in a Pyland ambulance.

Camel were once introduced into the American southwest as beasts of burden for the army, but the experiment was not a success.

CONSERVING OF SOIL AND WATER WILL BRING 'MIGHTY CHANGE' TO WEST TEXAS

With the state's new soil conservation law about to be applied on West Texas acres and with current interest running high in soil and water conserving methods, the following story from the Abilene Reporter-News should prove of general interest: A mighty change is being wrought in West Texas. Within a generation or two West Texans, along with all other Americans, have been thrilled and awed by great changes—in industry, in transportation, in other phases of life. But the greatest and most momentous change of all is coming to pass in every county, in every neighborhood. The very nature of that change is such that it is difficult to dramatize and to flash before the people sitting on one audience before one great stage. It is taking place over there on the neighbor's farm, out yonder on the next ranch—on many thousands of farms and ranches. It is the great, surging, spreading soil and water conservation movement.

BURIAL HERE FOR YOUTH FOUND DEAD NEAR BIG SPRING

From Big Spring Herald Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Nalley chapel for Morris Alton Yater, 15, who was found dead at the family home 10 miles north of here at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

The body of the boy, student in Big Spring high school, was found hanging by a rope from the barn. A short time before he had been playing with his brother and sister, Justice of Peace J. H. Hafley held an inquest but returned no verdict.

Following last rites here, the body was taken overland to Colorado City where the family resided for 25 years before moving to Howard county two years ago.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yater, one brother, Arles, 17, a sister, Dora Marie, 6, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Yater of Big Spring and Mrs. W. E. Clardy of Clyde.

He also leaves 12 uncles, six of whom served as pallbearers.

FORMER STEPHENVILLE MAN OPERATES RANCH

From Stephenville Empire-Tribune Sam Thompson, who was formerly employed with the highway department in Erath county, left recently for Colorado City to take over the management of a 6,000 acre ranch located 4 1/2 miles from that city, assuming his duties there the latter part of April. Mr. Thompson's cousin, Charles Thompson, of Colorado City, owns the ranch, which is one of the best improved, stocked and equipped small ranches in Mitchell county.

He will be joined there the first of June by his wife and their daughter, Mary Sue, who remained at their home here until the close of school. Mrs. Thompson was formerly Miss Linnie Lee of Chairette. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and daughter have lived in Stephenville for several years and have made many friends in the city during their residence here.

SEVEN WELLS SCHOOL OUT

In behalf of the Seven Wells and Payne community we want to state that during the four years that Mrs. David C. Russell has been our principal we have never had a better school or a better principal than Mrs. David C. Russell.

The attendance at our school has been larger than ever before. The morale of our school has been 100%. The State and county inspection of our school has been 100%. Last year our school won the first prize in the district contest for having the best floor exercises—$55.00. This year our school won the highest number of points in the district contest. The school was the only one in the district to win the first prize. We do hope that our school will retain the high regard that Mrs. David C. Russell has obtained for it through her untiring efforts.—Contributed.

COLORADO CITY HAD ITS ONLY REAL HORSE RACING ERA 50 YEARS AGO; '80 GRAY' WAS FAMOUS ON TRACK

SCORES OF COLORADOANS ATTENDED WTCC CONVENTION EARLY THIS WEEK

Scores of Coloradoans were in Abilene during a portion or all of the first three days of this week attending sessions of the annual West Texas chamber of commerce convention.

The convention closed Wednesday noon after selecting Big Spring, whose bid Colorado City supported, as its 1940 convention place. E. K. Fawcett of Del Rio was elected president to succeed H. S. Hilburn, Plainview publisher.

Among those who went over Monday were H. B. Spence, manager of the Colorado City chamber of commerce; Harriette Ann Pritchett, Colorado City sponsor, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Bun Pritchett, and her escort, Bunkie Girvin; Dell Barber, WTCC director from Colorado City; Mrs. James Payne and Mrs. E. B. Willbanks, who furnished a program number on the outdoor amateur hour Monday evening; J. T. Williamson, My Home Town speaker; E. B. Willbanks, James Payne, Harry Ratliff, Chester Jones, Bill King, and others.

Before leaving here, Dell Barber was re-elected Colorado City WTCC director for another year. Escorted by Mr. Girvin, Miss Pritchett attended a buffet dinner given for sponsors on Monday evening. She also attended affairs honoring Joyce Whaley of Sweetwater, who was named Miss West Texas Tuesday evening.

Colorado City's biggest delegation went over on Tuesday. At the Tuesday luncheon for chamber of commerce presidents, secretaries, and newspaper men, Colorado City talent furnished two of the seven program numbers. Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Willbanks did one number, the Colorado City Cowhand band the other.

Members of the Cowhand band going over Tuesday were Paul Kniff, Harry Ratliff, L. B. Elliott, Chester Jones, and Mrs. Payne. The director, Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, was unable to attend.

A. B. Kyle and R. L. Thigpen of the local soil conservation office were in Abilene Tuesday afternoon for the soil conservation parade and program. Among other Coloradoans glimpsed Tuesday were Ben Smith, Bill Brookover, "Doc" Wimberley, Oscar Price and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Williams, Mrs. Pearl Wood, Marion Chapman, Willis Shropshire, Joe Earnest, Craig Porter, Curtis Erwin, Louis Latham, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Thompson, Mrs. Chas. Smith, and others.

The closing session of the convention also saw the Thomas Ehrlich loving cup awarded to Jack Terrell of Monahans as the winner of the "My Home Town Contest" sponsored by the regional chamber. In winning the finals in the contest Wednesday morning Terrell defeated two girl contestants, Mona Lee Modisette of Quanah and Madeline Keathley of Mineral Wells.

A bronze plaque was presented to retiring President Hilburn fitting him as the "top West Texan of 1939."

Certificates for meritorious service also were awarded to C. W. Sadler of Weatherford as the outstanding director of the year; to S. R. Pinkston of Wellington for the best membership town; to A. B. Davis of Lubbock as the most valuable chamber of commerce secretary; and to Miss Ollie E. Clark, secretary of the Albany chamber of commerce, and C. B. Downing, WTCC director of Albany, for the best activities town.

Title of "official WTCC band" was conferred on the Sweetwater High school band.

A. F. Ashford of San Angelo, a veteran in the WTCC service, was named first vice president and J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls was re-elected second vice president.

Also re-elected were M. M. Meek of Abilene as treasurer and D. A. Bandoan as general manager.

Wheeler county was named first in the soil conservation and water utilization contest. Val Verde county was second and Fisher county third. County agents of the winning counties are Jake Tarter, Wheeler; G. B. Kidd, Val Verde, and T. H. Roenssch, Fisher.

Sweetwater walked off with two of the convention's major trophies when its band was declared the official W. T. C. C. band for the ensuing year, and its sponsor, red-headed Joyce Whaley, was chosen "Miss West Texas" of 1939.

THREE PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS ALREADY IN OPERATION; TOURNAMENTS PLANNED

Three of the public playgrounds to be maintained for Colorado City during the summer months by the city recreational department in charge of Truett Fulcher are already in operation. At least two others are to be opened later on.

One of the playgrounds is located east of the grammar schools, being known as the East playground. Another is located on Chestnut street between Eighth and Ninth and is called the Central playground. The South playground is located near the mission tabernacle in South Colorado.

A miniature golf course is near completion on the Central playground. Golfing instruction will be given free and all play will be supervised, according to Fulcher. Donation of old golf balls and putters for use on the golf course is being sought.

A number of age-division softball teams have already been formed on the various playgrounds and several inter-playground games have been played. Tournament play on a large scale is planned as soon as all the grounds are open.

In games already played the Midgets (up to 11 years) from the East playground beat the Midgets from the Central playground; Midgets from the South playground beat Midgets from the Central ground; junior girls (up to 14) from the South ground beat junior girls from the East ground, 25-22; senior girls from the South ground lost to a city team of senior girls; senior boys from the South have won a game and lost a game with senior boys from high school; Mexican junior boys won a game from Sweetwater junior boys, 15-13, in a game played here and won again, 15-11, in a game played there.

The playgrounds are to be open to children and adults each afternoon during the summer months. Hours will be announced later.

TRAINING SCHOOL HELD AT MITCHELL WPA SEWING ROOMS

Training schools have been conducted in Mitchell county WPA sewing rooms for the past several weeks, slowing down production somewhat but increasing efficiency.

In spite of the lowered production, rooms of the county put out a total of 1,029 garments during the past month. These included 276 for infants, 222 for girls, 257 for boys, 150 for women, 114 for men, and 16 household articles, mostly quilts.

The normal output is about 1,150 garments. Since the present project began on Jan. 5, 1939, the rooms have made 18,273 garments, using 35,947 1/2 yards of material.

A list of measurements on standard garments has been received from the state office and through these measurements all sewing rooms in the state can make garments of uniform size.

ROBERT STAFFORD, FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN ANGELO

News of the death of Robert E. Stafford, 39, former employe of the Shell Pipe Line company in Colorado City, was received here Friday. Stafford died at his home in San Angelo at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

Born at Sulphur Springs on March 29, 1900, Stafford went to work at an early age for the T. & P. railroad at Texarkana. He came to West Texas to work for the Shell Pipe Line in August, 1928, being station first at McCamey and then at Colorado City as dispatcher. He continued to work for the Shell until bad health forced him to resign in January, 1938.

Funeral service was held Saturday morning from the Vautrain Funeral chapel with Melvin Wise of Big Spring officiating. Stafford had been a Mason for a number of years and a member of the Church of Christ since April, 1937. Two Coloradans, E. G. Stafford (no relation) and L. H. Fitzgerald, were among the pallbearers.

Survivors include the wife and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Hooker of El Paso and Mrs. Frank Barr of Waco. Two former fellow-workers of Stafford's have issued the following statement concerning him:

"Bobbie, as he was better known among his fellow employes, was well liked by everyone. He used every waking moment to make his fellow man's troubles less burdensome. His love for mankind not only extended to his fellow workers, but to all he knew. His benevolent spirit caused him to share with those less fortunate all his worldly possessions. He took their troubles as his own and used his time and money to better their position in life. To these hosts of friends his passing was truly a great loss, compensated only by a knowledge that their loved one has climbed the troublesome hill of life, passed through the shadows and into the sunlight of a happier home where he shall reap the rewards of his many benefactions in this life."

BUFORD SCHOOL, TRYING FOR PERMANENT STANDARDIZATION, FINISHES GOOD YEAR

Trying for its third consecutive year of standardization in order to make the rating permanent, Buford consolidated ward school this week completed another year's work. Closing exercises were held on Wednesday night.

If the standardization is maintained this year, the school will have the same status as a regularly affiliated ward school, according to J. E. Coles, principal.

The history of this school, now in its third year, has been one of progress since the beginning. Harmony and cooperation have been features of its operation before and after its consolidation. When Buford decided over three years ago, to build a new school, tax-paying citizens of the district voted $6,000 worth of bonds without a single dissenting vote. Later, when Little Sulphur district indicated its willingness to consolidate with Buford, the two districts just as unanimously voted $9,000 more in bonds. People of the two communities are justly proud of their ability to get along.

In its progressiveness and harmony the school is a true counterpart of the community in which it is located. Buford farmers are prosperous, thrifty, forward-looking. They are active in county advancements and in

Writing Home From Austin

By R. Temple Dickson

This week the house was thoroughly but rapidly considering the bill appropriating expense money for state departments for the next two years.

The huge bill will appropriate about $29,000,000—a saving of $3,000,000 over the previous two years. Few amendments are being made to it on the floor, the committee on appropriations having given it fairly thorough study.

Attempt was to be made sometime this week to secure adoption of an amendment giving the railroad commission an extra $17,500 during each of the two years to finance a fight on unfair freight rates prevailing in the nation to the detriment of the southwest. At last report, 66 members of the house had signed this amendment—enough to assure its passage if put to a vote.

Both house and senate have passed a proposed constitutional amendment giving cities the right to keep employes hired through civil service on the payroll without reappointment each two years.

As the constitution now reads, all public offices must be refilled each two years and this includes such jobs as firemen and policemen hold. The amendment would correct this point. It will be submitted to a vote of the people August 28.

The house of representatives last week killed a proposed amendment to the constitution to abolish the courts of civil appeals.

If civil appeals courts were eliminated, cases could be appealed directly from district courts to the Supreme court. Idea of the amendment would be to speed up litigation.

Fly-by-night newspapers which spring up in election years to "put pressure" on candidates for political advertising will be a thing of the past in the event Governor W. Lee O'Daniel signs a bill now on his desk.

The bill provides that to accept advertising from more than one political candidate, a paper must have been published and generally distributed for at least twelve months prior to the acceptance of the advertising.

The bill will not apply, however, to any newspaper which has, prior to the acceptance of political advertising, been published and circulated generally, in the event it can be shown that the paper owns its physical plant and that rates are in proportion to the amount and kind of circulation.

The house has passed to third reading a bill which would remit all ad valorem taxes to the counties of the state for the next five years.

Fighting for the bill were a group of West Texas representatives, who said that southern and southeastern parts of the state were getting out from under the burden of ad valorem tax remissions by securing tax remissions for their sections.

For a long time tax remissions have been made, as provided by the constitution, but only a part of the state had been helped.

TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPT. SURVEY IS ANNOUNCED

Insufficient roadway excavation was blamed for the majority of restricted sight distances on State highways of Texas by Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer.

The State Highway Department, cooperating with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, has just finished a survey of potential danger spots on all State highways. This survey disclosed 2,357 important intersections where there is insufficient view of the intersecting road, and 27,948 points at which there is inadequate view of the roadway ahead.

Of all the restrictions to sight, 6,023 were caused by trees, bushes, and weeds; 236 were caused by fences or roadside signs; 570 were caused by buildings; 160 were caused by roadside structures; 20,967 are due to insufficient roadway excavation.

These excavations were regarded as adequate at the time of construction, according to Montgomery, but the higher speeds of present-day vehicles have turned them into danger points.

"While the exercise of caution in passing and driving at reasonable speeds will reduce the number of accidents at these points, it is evident that greatly increased expenditure of money for highway construction is necessary in order to eliminate permanently these hazards to the driving public," Montgomery stated.

NYA ENABLES STUDENTS TO REMAIN IN COLLEGES

AUSTIN.—A peak employment load of over 16,500 young people were enabled to continue their education in Texas schools and colleges during the past month through part-time employment on NYA Student Aid jobs, J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, has announced.

Only thirty-seven students were unable to comply with the recent act of Congress requiring that an affidavit be executed as to citizenship, Mr. Kellam said.

Mr. Kellam also announced that questionnaires were mailed this week to the 2,343 institutions participating in the Student Aid program relative to local operation of the program during the current scholastic year.

HERE'S HOW FIVE-STORY U. T. OBSERVATORY LOOKS

AUSTIN.—McDonald Observatory, a 71-foot silver derby crowning semi-bald 6,791-foot Mount Locke, has been described as a near-perfect astronomical laboratory.

The West Texas peak, barren except for a few scrubby bushes, is dotted with cottages of the staff astronomers, dwarfed by the huge dome, itself equivalent in height to a five-story building.

On the inside of the steel shell one finds the telescope, a 75-ton precision instrument of carefully milled steel and glass. At its base are two control tables which, with four auxiliary portable push-button controls, manipulate the telescope and the movable roof of the observatory. One of the tables is mounted on the platform beneath the telescope. This platform can be lifted like a filling station grease rack.

Slung from the dome above the telescope, is a "pulpit" that may be lowered or raised at will to follow the movement of the giant mass of steel framework in its path along the 18-foot-wide "window" in the roof which cracks the shell in half from the bottom of the upward curve to the very top of the observatory. It is through this slit that the "eye" peeps at the stars.

Lateral movement of the 26-foot telescope is allowed by revolving the 125-ton dome, mounted on heavy locomotive wheels. The largest electric motor of the observatory, ten horsepower, is used for this job.

It makes us MIGHTY HAPPY to hear from you

THAT'S the reason why we put Service Check Cards in every Humble Service Station. Humble customers are invited to use these cards to tell us what they think of the service rendered, whether it's good, bad, or indifferent, which particular items please or displease. You'd be surprised at how many worthwhile suggestions come to us from customers who use these cards... And they make it possible for us to give you, through Humble Service Stations, the kind of service you want... In other words, we carry on a continuous study of what motorists need and want to make driving an automobile more pleasant, and then we try to give it to them... Do we succeed?... The check cards say we do, and their opinion is verified by the increasing number of Texas motorists who make it a regular practice to stop for service where they see the Humble sign... Seeing is believing, so we suggest that the next time your car needs a tankful of gasoline, you stop at the nearest Humble Service Station and check the service for yourself... Then, if you care to, fill out one of the Service Check Cards you find and send it to us (no postage necessary). It will make us mighty happy to hear from you.

"EAST SIDE OF HEAVEN" PEAK SUCCESS FOR BING CROSBY AND JOAN BLONDELL

Headed by Bing Crosby and Joan Blondell, one of the most capable casts ever found in a single picture was assembled for Universal's "East Side of Heaven," which shows at the Palace theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, May 20, 21 and 22.

Bing and Joan are co-starred in this film which features hit songs, romance and comedy against a strong human background. And they are surrounded by a galaxy of players who already are knocking at Hollywood's carefully guarded portals leading to stardom.

Mischa Auer, often referred to as the mad Russian, tops the supporting cast. "Sandy," 10-months-old baby of a Los Angeles milkman, does such a surprising job that studio executives already have the parents' signature on a long term contract.

Irene Hervey, who portrays Sandy's mother, is one of the film colony's most rapidly ascending young actresses. C. Aubrey Smith is a veteran of many extraordinary films. Jerome

Cowan gives further proof of why Hollywood won't let him go back to Broadway.

Others in the cast include J. Farrell MacDonald, Mary Carr, Robert Kent, Douglas Wood, Arthur Hoyt, Jackie Gerlich, Jack Powell, Russell Hicks, Dorothy Christy and Edward Earle.

The picture was directed by David Butler, a film pilot with some of Hollywood's best-remembered hits to his credit.

SWARTHOUT, LLOYD NOLAN IN "AMBUSH"

A pretty stenographer caught in the net of crime, a fiendish master mind who directs a gang of ultra-modern bank robbers, a two-fisted, battling truck driver are the dramatic personalities in "Ambush." A thrill and chill story presenting Gladys Swarthout in her first straight drama role. It comes to the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, May 21 and 22.

With Ernest Truex cast as the brains of the bank-robbing mob, the story gets off to a flying start when a California bank is robbed of $93,000 under cover of a smoke screen. Gladys Swarthout, the bank stenographer, pursues the mob because she knows that her brother is implicated in the crime. Captured by Truex, she becomes his unwilling accomplice when he threatens torture to her brother.

Lloyd Nolan is brought into the fast-moving tide of events when he is lured to the bandit hide-out by Miss Swarthout, forced to smuggle the robbers out of the state in his truck.

There is crashing gun-fire and a hair-raising chase as the members of the gang are picked off one-by-one by the police. And a smashing climax enables Miss Swarthout and Nolan to turn the tables on the wily Truex, and clears the road for their romance.

"Ambush" features William Henry, William Frawley, Broderick Crawford and Rufus Davis in the leading supporting roles. Directed by Kurt Neuman from a screen play by Laura and S. J. Perelman, the picture was produced by Paramount.

MORE TEXAS FARMERS SIGN UP WITH THE AAA

COLLEGE STATION.—More Texas farmers are going to participate in the AAA farm program this year than ever before, according to reports here from AAA field workers who have been gathering factual data from prospective cooperators and who have commenced to check compliance with the 1939 program. Ralph Price, field man at large, estimated approximately 85 per cent of all Texas farm and ranch families will receive benefit payments for the contribution to the conservation of agricultural resources in 1939.

Approximately 95 per cent of all farm land and about 90 per cent of all active range land in the state will be in the Agricultural Conservation Program of the AAA this year, he said.

There are about 3 million fields of all grades and sizes in the state, and each one must be measured and classified before the 1939 payment process can begin. To avoid delay and confusion, producers are urged to be present at the measuring, so they can catch mistakes and be certain they are corrected before the program progresses too far.

Measuring farms has begun in South Texas, and in other early planting sections of the state. The work is being sped through the use of aerial photographs now covering approximately seven-tenths of the state. About 370,000 farms have been photographed from the air, and such maps will be used this year in 178 counties.

A small gadget called a planimeter, which does arithmetic in its head, is used to measure the photographed farms. A county AAA worker can run the point of this little instrument around the picture of a cotton patch as it appears on the aerial map, and the planimeter will record the size of the plot to a tenth of an acre. It's three times as fast and a third as expensive as running a surveyor's chain around a field.

"SERGEANT MADDEN" COMING TO THE PALACE THEATRE
SON OF A POLICEMAN, WALLACE BEERY NOW ENACTS ONE IN PULSE-RINGING DRAMA OF COP WHO IS FORCED TO TRAP HIS OWN SON IN LINE OF DUTY

Son of a Kansas City policeman, Wallace Beery plays his first police characterization in the title role of "Sergeant Madden," story of the New York police which shows Friday and Saturday at the Palace theatre.

With Beery typifying one of "New York's Finest," Alan Curtis appears as his son, a rookie cop who attempts to win promotion by "smart" short cuts and thus runs afoul of the law he is sworn to represent. Then it becomes the father's duty to put a halt to the criminal career of his own son.

Tom Brown is seen as Beery's adopted son who idolizes his foster-brother but is true to the ideals of his foster-father. And Laraine Johnson is the Irish wife whom Beery makes his adopted daughter. After she marries Curtis she finds herself unwittingly sharing the life of a criminal.

In the supporting cast are a host of outstanding featured names, among them Fay Holden as Beery's wife, Marc Lawrence as racketeer "Piggy" Ceders, David Gorcey of the "Dead End Kids" as a young petty thief, Marion Martin as Gorcey's sister, Donald Haines, Ben Welden and Etta McDaniel.

Adapted from an original story, "A Gun in His Hand," by William A. Ullman, Jr., "Sergeant Madden" was given authentic backgrounds of New York's lower west side and pictures in detail the work of the New York police department, taking audiences behind the scenes to show the training given. Val O'Toole, for sixteen years a member of the department, served as technical adviser.

Mother's Day - 1939

"QUEEN MOTHER"

A gracious queen upon your throne,
You reign throughout the day;
All nations are your subjects,
Our hearts, you'll rule for aye.
Our silken hair, a coronet,
Upon your lovely brow;
We offer you our homage,
As, at your feet, we bow.
Your quiet smile, a jeweled robe;
Your voice, a sceptre tender;
All hail to MOTHER,
QUEEN OF THE WORLD,
Our devotion, we render.

The Great Creator took of his finest clay to fashion a MOTHER. No other word in any language is so dear and tender as the word MOTHER.

Mother is the first word that a baby voice learns to lip, and to Mother, he runs with his joys, his sorrows, his fears, and his bumps, and Mother tries to shield him throughout life from the bumps and the rough places that he is bound to encounter.

A great man, who has accomplished good in the world, will attribute it to the finer principles instilled into his heart and mind at his Mother's knee.

The most hardened criminal will break down and weep at the mention of his Mother for he knows that, although the rest of the world may stand afar off and sneer, his Mother will rush to take him in her arms with all the tenderness that she showed when he was a babe.

Although our neglect of Mother may cut her heart to the quick and cause her endless tears in the quiet of the night, the outside world will never gain knowledge of it from her, nor will her love ever falter. Mother believes in us, sacrifices for us, rejoices with us, sorrows with us, and will stand by us until her very last breath is drawn.

Is it any wonder that a day has been set aside as "MOTHER'S DAY," that she may reign queen in our hearts, whether we wear a red carnation for the Mother who is still with us, or a white carnation for the Mother who has gone to her reward?

A good farmer friend of this column writes in on the subject of: CASE OF HOME-MADE SOCIAL SECURITY

In most papers, the majority of the vox pop letters discuss the question of old-age pensions. Gradually the thought has developed in my mind that many of the contributors have a selfish personal reason for writing as they do.

The writer of this letter has passed his seventy-third birthday and had by no means built up any lavish wealth. I have raised a family of three on the root hog or die plan, and I can vouch for the fact that this is the best method of rearing a family.

I knew very early in life that I had to save a part of my income for the rainy day that makes its regular appearance from the cradle to the grave.

The habit of thrift grows constantly, and the man of average health that gives his employer a little more than he pays for, will frequently discover that the boss is watching him for the better job that his record warrants. My two positions, each covering twenty years, of well-paid service, are my basis for this statement.

We had one positive rule that was never violated in my home. We were and are to this day on a pay-as-you-go plan. Frequently we needed things as all families do that bring up children, and as these youngsters went to school we had to withstand considerable pressure when they asked for things that other children had as a regular thing.

When we purchased our piano for the girls, we started a fund for that purpose. The pressure time-payment salesman had us on his list. When we were ready to invest we made the piano man pay through the nose for the strictly first-class instrument that he asked $850 for on the pay out of income plan. We saved $219 on this, and when it was moved into our home we took great pride in the fact that it was our piano. As the years went by, and the automobile, radio, electric refrigerator and other modern advantages developed, we waited until we could pay for them before investing. Our children are steeped in this habit of thrift and as their youngsters grow up they will show these tendencies unconsciously.

I have a deep sympathy for deserving old folks that need help through no fault of their own, but I have a contempt for children who can and will not aid their parents who have done their duty by them. I hate to think that our laws now are helping to destroy the great inheritance of the American—the initiative to fight back against adverse conditions. We see it on every hand.

A good farmer friend and reader of this column sent in the following letter to this column:

An article I read the other day stated that the farmer worked four months and spent the rest of the year bellyaching, riding around in an old automobile and blowing in what little money he made. Well, that got me plumb riled up and boiling over. Folks, things like that is enough to drive a farmer to eating black-eyed peas, drinking tomato juice and going berserk. Landsakes, says I, if the farmers can work one third of the time and pile up these surpluses of corn, cotton, wheat, oats, potatoes, tomatoes, black-eyed peas, sugar and 'terbacker', what in the heck would they produce if they worked all the time?

It is true some farmers don't work very much, but an overwhelming majority of them are hard-working fellows. Now, I have been pegging along down this farming road for a long time. I haven't found any easy streets, a Timbuktu or big Rock Candy Mountains on it yet. When I made a good crop, the price was low. When the price was good, I didn't make any crop. I remember one year I made a good crop and had to give most of it to the cotton picker. He only had his labor invested. I had my labor, feed, equipment and land invested. Another year I saw my crop dry up and blow away. Then there was the year the wet weather got it and one year it washed away. Besides all of that I was pestered with boll weevils, bollworms, leafworms and grasshoppers. If things like that weren't enough to cause a farmer to do some bellyaching, I don't know what would.

It is strange to me why some people don't want the farmer to ride around in an automobile. He has just as much right to do so as the banker, merchant, lawyer, doctor or any high-salaried government official. Give the farmer a good market and a good price for his stuff and these farms all over the United States will hum from morning until dark. There will be sunshine, joy, laughter and gay merriment in these farm homes. Worry, doubt, old-age pension talk, government help and the bad wolf will slink and fade away.

DON'T LIE

The chief drawback to lying is that nobody believes you when you are telling the truth. Logically, this should be retroactive and work both ways, but it doesn't due to the idiosyncrasy of human nature which generally prefers to believe the evil and doubt the good. Witness, for example, the rapidity with which a scandal will spread by word of mouth. Wildfire is slow by comparison.

EDITORIAL IN DALLAS NEWS

The Manger! the Cross! the Tomb! Resurrection! Ascension! Here are the five most meaningful words in any language. They tell of the advent of Deity to earth, of His persecution and crucifixion, of His burial and resurrection of His ascension. They answer the two most important questions man ever asked himself, which are:

1. Is there a God? Shall man live again?

Job seemed to have no doubt as to the answer to the first question, but asked the second, "If a man die, shall he live again?" The coming of the long-heralded Messiah, His life, death and resurrection answered both in a manner that made doubt and uncertainty no longer reasonable. His teachings, works, crucifixion, death, resurrection and ascension dissipated doubt and confirmed belief.

Is there a God? He proved His Divinity by His works. If a man die, shall he live again? He proved man's immortality by his own Resurrection, and Ascension, for He was both God and man, mortal and immortal—flesh and Spirit.

For centuries the prophets had foretold the coming of One who would conquer death and the grave. Hosea had said long before he came who was to make man sure of his own immortality, "O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction."

After His coming crucifixion and death the Apostle who asked, "Have I not seen Jesus Christ the Lord?" also exclaimed, "O death, where is thy sting! O grave, where is thy victory?"

Before the coming of the Son of God death was indeed the king of terrors. Notwithstanding all that had gone before, all that had been said by the prophets, all the intuitive and instinctive hopes and beliefs of man as to life beyond the grave, he still was made to doubt by the death of things about him.

Man wondered and trembled, hoped and feared, believed and doubted.

But with the death and resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth his fears disappeared. He no longer trembled with doubt. He no longer feared and hoped, for fear had grown into courage and what was hoped for became a reality. He showed by His death and resurrection that He was life and truth incarnate, and why He said, "No man cometh unto the Father but by me."

"In the Cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime."

THE BIG BOSS

Several weeks ago we decided to quit this column as a columnist but they told us down at the office we could not quit, raised our wages and made us the big boss (of this column).

Folks who think I'm not the boss
Should see me get on a high-hoss
I have been known to yell and roar
And have a fit upon the floor
There have been times I'd fume and fret
Then grab my hat and quickly get.

There is an old saying that if you want to find out who is boss around the place, just go out in the back yard and look at the flower bed and especially the mint bed. If there are just a few sprigs growing, that indicates that the husband is the boss, but if the mint grows thick and lush, the wife rules the roost.

Every place I have ever lived the mint has always flourished. There have been places where the soil would not sprout goobers, but the mint has literally taken the place, all of which shows who is boss.

The first few years I was so ashamed for the neighbors to see our mint bed that I would spend hours working on it, but after the time that I dodged into the mint bed, and hid when the wife was very much displeased with me, I just let it alone and grow. Yes I have lived to learn that when the wife said anything she always meant what she said. At first, I thought perhaps she was just bluffing, but the light really dawned upon me the time she hit me on the head with an electric lamp.

You may get the impression that I am afraid of my wife—I am. Just one word from me and she does exactly as she pleases, in fact, we both do. Only the other night when the electrical storm was at its worst, the wife became very much displeased (with me, and started in my direction.) I felt that if I could go outside into the elements that she would most certainly be afraid to pursue, but I soon learned that I did not know my elements. She came right on. We had not covered many yards when I saw a blinding flash of lightning and heard a terrific crash of thunder. I looked back over my shoulder at that very moment and saw that the lightning had struck the wife and I want you to know that it really made her mad. She just reached up and broke off about a yard of lightning and before I could reach the dog house she gave me a resounding whack upon the bald spot of my head with it.

When I came to I was in bed with the doctor standing over me. I heard the doctor say that I seemed to be suffering with a stroke of brain fever.

I heard the wife ask the doctor if he could give her any hope and when the doctor told her that he was sure that he could pull me through the wife asked the doctor if he thought I'd be able to use my brain if I recovered, and the doctor told her that he was sure that I could.

"I am glad of that," said the wife, "for he has never been able before."

LOCAL FISHERMEN

May is fisherman's month. When the fishing season opened May 1st it was reported that J. A. Pickens, Tom Russell, Ed Jones and several other parties were lined up ready to go. This columnist didn't see the performance, but according to current reports, soon as the clock struck 12, several mattocks, spades and other rusty implements were put to use in search of bait, and all roads leading out toward creeks, rivers and lakes were soon lined with courageous anglers seeking places where the finny tribe were hungry and in great numbers. So far however, all the fish stories reaching us are tinged with last year's or other back models too much to be very interesting. A very interesting fish story for an editor and a letter we have been looking for would be something like the following.

"Well, Mr. Editor, we just returned from a fine fishing trip. We drove by your place and left you a real fish. It is not the largest one we brought in but it will weigh five or six pounds and we trust you and your family will enjoy it very much."

Now that sure would be a real interesting story but we doubt if such a one will ever happen, especially to this writer.

COTTON SEED BEING TREATED TO CONTROL CERTAIN DISEASES
Reports from county agricultural agents in the Southern sections of the state indicate that more farmers than has been the case in the past are treating cottonseed with chemicals to control certain diseases and to get a better stand.
E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, sees in the reports a trend on the part of farmers to make every effort to produce the greatest possible amount of cotton per acre through disease and insect control in order to cut down cost of production per pound.
The treatment is designed to reduce damping off, sore shin, bacterial boll rot or angular leaf spot, and similar seed borne diseases, Miller said. The recommended chemical is ethyl mercury chloride dust, which is sold commercially under the popular name of two per cent "Ceresan."
Test of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that the treatment resulted in an increase of from 11 to 65 per cent in the number of seedlings that came up—resulting in a greatly improved stand—and that yields were increased from 4 to 25 per cent at various points including College Station, Lubbock, Temple and the Brazos Bottom. Results varied greatly in different years depending upon the amount of disease bacteria on the seed and in the soil, indicating that the greatest returns may be expected during wet and cold seasons which are unfavorable for quick germination.
The cost of the treatment is around 10 or 15 cents a bushel. The

SCHOOLS OF COLORADO CITY CLOSE ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

HARMONY, PROGRESS, ECONOMY CONTINUE TO FEATURE OPERATION

REWARDS DUE TO COME AS SYSTEM EXPANDS INTO ITS NEW JUNIOR HIGH BUILDING NEXT YEAR

This week marks the close of another year of harmony, progressiveness, and economical operation in the Colorado City school system.

With a $150,350 junior high school building due for completion during the summer and with two modernized and improved ward school buildings acquired since the first of the year, the schools will embark on a new era next September.

Indicative of the harmony which prevails among the faculty and school board members and between the two groups are the facts that nearly 100% of the teachers have been re-elected for next year, that John E. Watson will begin his 10th year as superintendent of the system in July, and that the school board, headed by J. W. Watson for the past 11 years, remains practically unchanged from year to year.

The school's progressiveness is shown in several ways. One is the fact that the high school has been retained "unreservedly" as a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, a standing which it has held since 1928.

Progressiveness is further shown in the fact that the school was the only one chosen as a laboratory for curriculum revision in a territory bounded on the west by Midland, on the east by Abilene, on the south by San Angelo, and on the north by Lubbock.

Successful economy in operation has brought the school system multitudinous rewards. The new $139,350 junior high school building has been under construction since late in November is one of these. Improvements and repairs totaling $10,000 were recently completed in two buildings which are being used by the first five grades of the school system.

For all these improvements the school district voted bonds of $90,000 to be supplemented by a PWA grant of $74,250. The district's financial condition is so sound that even school board members were surprised at the discounts offered by bond buyers.

It might be said that the Colorado school system came through the depression virtually unscathed because of economical operation practiced in previous years. The bonded indebtedness had been handled in such a way that the school was never crowded by its bondholders.

Board members are justly proud of the fact that no Colorado teacher ever failed to get his or her pay at any time during the depression. No vouchers were ever issued and no discounts made.

Those who keep in close touch with school affairs render special tribute to J. W. Watson, president of the school board for the past 11 years, for the time, effort and good judgment which he has given to the operation of Colorado schools. Watson was on the board five years before becoming president, making his total service 17 years.

Frank Kelley, vice-president of the board, has been a trustee next longest to Watson. Joe B. Mills is third in tenure of office. Other members are E. J. Wallace, J. W. Randie, and J. M. Doss.

The district now has a full-time secretary and treasurer, J. Lee Jones, who has an office in the city hall and serves as tax assessor and collector in addition to his other duties.

LIFE LIKENED TO SHIP VOYAGE BY REV. A. L. HALEY AS HE ADDRESSES SENIORS IN COMMENCEMENT SERMON

The life which lies before high school graduates was likened to a sea voyage by Rev. A. L. Haley of First Christian church as he delivered the commencement sermon to Colorado High school's graduating class in a packed auditorium Sunday night.

Importance of making the necessary preparations, having a goal, and taking along the right kind of cargo were stressed by Rev. Mr. Haley in drawing the comparison. He pointed out that the voyage must be made whether one likes it or not, and that the voyage is best made when a course is charted and a worthy cargo planned.

"We should take nothing but these things which will be of use to us," the speaker pointed out. "Don't be like the tramp steamer, just picking up one cargo here, another there, and disposing of

After spending the first six weeks of the summer in the University of Texas, Buck Wheeler of the commercial department will divide time between Santa Anna, where his people live, and Albany, where Mrs. Wheeler's people live.

John P. Mason of the English faculty will teach summer school here for six weeks. He is planning to camp out by "an East Texas lake" the rest of the time.

Velma Barrett, high school librarian, will deliver her mother, Mrs. Maudie Barrett, to their former home at Morris Ranch as soon as school is out. Then she will go to TSCW at Denton and enroll for both summer terms.

O. W. Cline will teach summer school the first six weeks, and then he and Mrs. Cline will visit his mother in Bonham and her mother in Greenville the remainder of the time.

Teaching summer school here will take care of Baron Smith's first six weeks of "vacation." After that he'll divide time between Colorado City and his original home in Richland Springs.

Keeping his Future Farmers at work on their field and crop projects and helping them where help is needed will provide summer "pastime" for F. C. Shillingburg, head of the vocational agriculture department. Shillingburg plans to attend a three-week session of summer training in his work at Sonora.

TRIPS TO WORLD FAIRS ADD INTEREST TO USUAL SUMMER PLANS OF TEACHERS

Color is added this year to the usual going-to-college or staying-at-home summer plans of Colorado City's nearly 40 school teachers by a sprinkling of world-fair trips, both east and west. Some of the trips may not materialize, but others are already definitely planned.

High School
Lea Swope of the English department will go to Texas Technological college as soon as school is out and will receive her degree during commencement week there. Afterwards she will go to her home at Killeen, and on or about August 1 she will be heading for the New York World's fair.

World's fair plans of Lenora Cook, also of the English department, are still "hopeful," but they are in the making. Miss Cook will spend most of the summer at her home here.

Although warning that her plans are "very indefinite," Gladys Miller of the English and speech department, confesses that she and her mother, Mrs. W. M. Miller, may get to visit both the San Francisco and the New York fairs in the course of their summer travels.

Study and work will fill most of the summer time for Vada Cole, head of the high school home economics department. She plans to attend the first six weeks of summer school at the Colorado State college in Fort Collins, Colorado. She will be back in Colorado City about July to check up on the summer projects of her girls, and after that will be at her home in Lubbock most of the time.

Chas. Brazil of the vocational commercial department will teach vocational classes here for about ten weeks and after that will "cut the grass."

Work for her degree will be completed by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins as she attends the first six weeks of summer school at McMurry in Abilene. She will receive the degree with the August graduating class. After summer school she and Sonny will visit in Stephenville, Borger, Ozona, Lubbock, and other points. While she is in school, Sonny will stay with her sister near Stephenville.

Beatrice English will go home to Crosbyton as soon as school is out. She has indefinite plans for a trip.

Hattie Tankersley will attend the first term of summer school at McMurry, completing work for her degree, which she will receive in August.

Mabel Ratliff Majors, who is completing her first year in the school system, will be here most of the time but is planning several visits with college friends, several of whom are getting married.

Mrs. Farris Lipps, who teaches public school music in the entire school system, will be at her home here most of the summer.

Mrs. Floyd Quinney, principal of the ward school building, will be in summer school at McMurry the first six weeks, and will complete work for her degree. When summer school is over, she and her husband and daughter, Nina Katherine, plan a trip to the San Francisco World's fair.

Primary Grades
Mrs. J. L. Killian will attend Texas Tech, Lubbock, either the first or second terms of summer school. The rest of the time she will be at her home here.

Inez Butler will spend most of the summer at her home in Abilene.

Home will likewise be headquarters for Mrs. Dene Headstream. She lives here.

Alice Blanks hasn't any definite plans for the summer. She may be here most of the time.

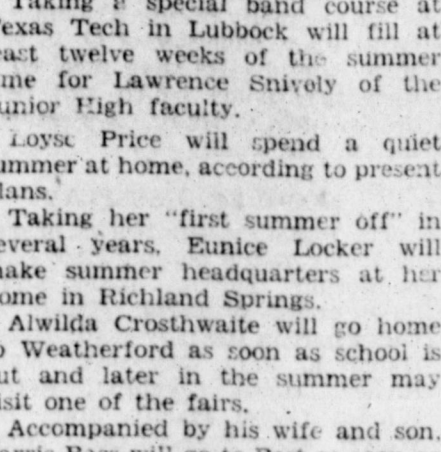

Mrs. Rees Jones has no plans that she is announcing. Her home is here.

Pearl Traylor, principal of the primary school, will teach summer school for six weeks, and after that is over she will be at her home in Santa Anna.

PEARL TRAYLOR WILL TEACH SUMMER SCHOOL

Summer classes for first to seventh grade students will be taught by Pearl Traylor, beginning May 29. Classes will be held from 7 to 12 each morning in the primary building.

ASSISTANT COACH

NEWBY PRATT

Taking her "first summer off" in several years, Eunice Locker will make summer headquarters at her home in Richland Springs.

Accompanied by her wife and son, Farris Bass will go to Post as soon as school is out and spend most of the summer there.

Mildred Whitaker is making "indefinite" plans to attend the New York World's fair.

The same is true of Florence Neal, who will be at her home in Westbrook what time she isn't traveling to and from the fair—if she goes.

The summer will bring Pauline Jones a visit with her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Graham, in Washington, D.C., with a swing by the New York World's fair.

James K. Poik will enroll at Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene, for the first six weeks. He and Mrs. Poik and their infant daughter will spend most of the summer in Abilene, with probably a trip to Houston and other points.

J. V. Glover, junior high principal, says that if he goes to summer school it will be for the first six weeks, but he is not at all sure there will be any summer school for him this year.

Work for her degree will be completed by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins as she attends the first six weeks of summer school at McMurry in Abilene. She will receive the degree with the August graduating class. After summer school she and Sonny will visit in Stephenville, Borger, Ozona, Lubbock, and other points. While she is in school, Sonny will stay with her sister near Stephenville.

Colorado High School, where commencement for the school's largest graduating class will be held Friday night

SERVES ITS FINAL YEAR

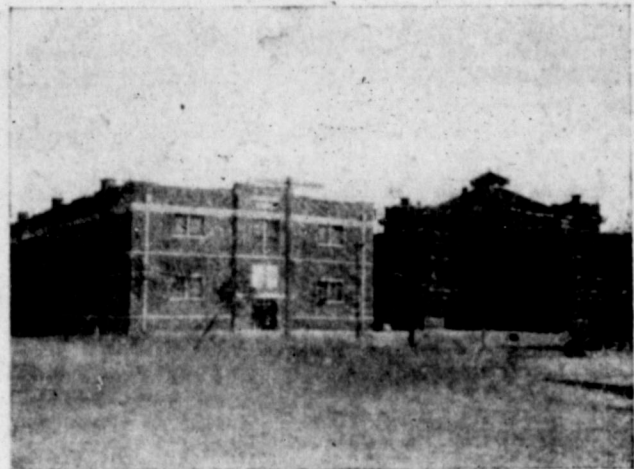

Except in case of emergency, this building which has been known for years as the Coleman building and which housed, until recently, the first and second grades, will not be in use again in its present condition. When the new junior high school building is completed, it will not be needed. It will be held in reserve, however, for future expansion of the school system. It is the oldest school building in Colorado City.

NEW JUNIOR HIGH BUILDING

The new $139,350 junior high school building now under construction is to look something like this when completed in time for next year's school term. This drawing was made from the original plans, and a few changes were later made, slightly affecting the building's outward appearance.

HOUSING FIVE GRADES

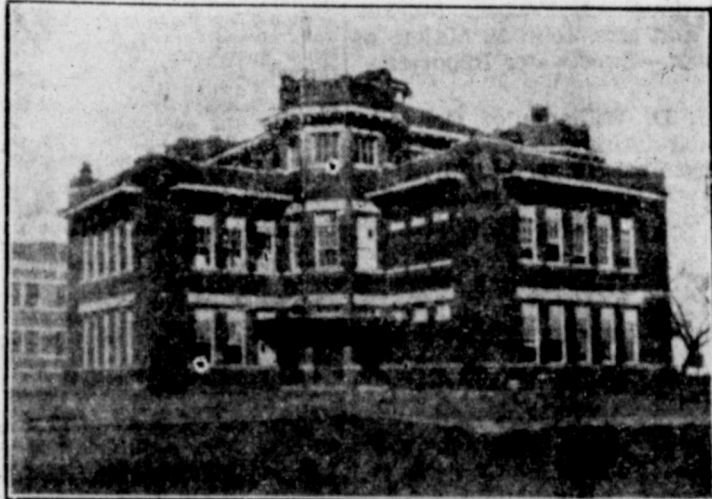

Time was when these two buildings were ample for all grades above the second. In recent years they have sheltered the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh grades. When the new junior high school goes into use they will be used for the first five grades. Both have been remodeled throughout since the first of the year.

Building operators in Juneau, Alaska, exceeded $1,000,000 in 1938. The 16th decennial census of the United States will be taken in 1940.

THIS USED TO BE 'HIGH SCHOOL'

This building, although much changed in appearance by the removal of its third story in a complete remodeling process this year, still claims the high school memories of more than a score of Colorado High school graduating classes. It served as high school, sheltering in its early years all the grades above the third, until the present high school building was constructed about 12 years ago. Before it was remodeled it was junior high school. In its new form it will serve the primary grades.

MUSEUM—THEN OBSERVATORY; U. T. NEARS RESEARCH GOAL

AUSTIN.—McDonald Observatory has been added to the already imposing array of research laboratories through which The University of Texas serves science, industry and commerce.

With research listed as the institution's Number One objective by President-elect Homer P. Rainey, the University points to its present facilities as a sound start in the direction of placing the school among the front rank universities of the country.

A more concerted attack on this front would mean the saving of thousands of lives.

In every case, when a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an investigation of the physical condition of the other members of the family should follow. It cannot be too emphatically stated that tuberculosis runs in families solely because it is communicable, the disease being usually transmitted through intimate and prolonged exposure to the 'open' case.

of the sources of infection, application of hygienic living principles, periodic examination for all adults, and a careful check-up by physicians and trained workers of all known active cases and contacts represent an invaluable defense against the spread of tuberculosis.

TUBERCULOSIS IS STILL BIG KILLER

AUSTIN.—"Tuberculosis no longer ranks first among the major killing diseases—a position it formerly occupied not only in Texas but in the entire country. However, despite its now being seventh on the list in 1938, it continues to kill more persons between fifteen and forty-five years of age than does any other single disease. And this is in the face of definite evidence that the majority of tuberculosis patients can be cured if the condition is detected early and proper treatment and living rules maintained," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the treatment of the individual early case is of great importance, it is of equal moment, from a public health point of view, that the spread of infection to others be prevented. Such prevention is possible.

Boy Scouts Building World's Fair Camp

Layout of the two-acre Boy Scout camp at the New York World's Fair, to be used by 3,000 different Scouts and leaders from all sections of the United States during the Fair season.

Any qualified member of the Boy Scouts of America may apply for an opportunity to take part in a unique demonstration and service camp at the New York World's Fair. Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced.

The plan for a Scout camp of approximately 150 different Scouts and leaders each week, on a two-acre site within the Fair grounds from April 30 to October 31, was approved by formal action of the managers of the World's Fair Corporation and the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

have produced outstanding articles of handicraft and campcraft to have them shown in this tent at the World's Fair and the exhibit will represent the finest craftsmanship so far developed by Scouts.

Near this tent there will be an open area for flag ceremonies, together with a rustic campfire amphitheatre for dramatic and other spectacular demonstrations and a dining hall with full equipment.

Totopole at Gateway

The gateway is to be an imposing one with a 40-foot totopole. The headquarters building will serve as the administration center for the camp, and a stockade will surround the entire camp area. In line with the symphony of colors of the World's Fair the Scout camp will be most colorful with the flying flags of all Scout nations waving aloft, a symbol of Scouting including woodcraft, handicraft and campcraft. There will be opportunity for Troops that

Contacts with Officials

Service projects will be an important part of a Scout's program during four or five hours each day. This will put Scouts in touch with the management of the enterprise, and they will have many occasions to meet the distinguished persons involved in the Fair.

There will be accommodations for only 3,000 of the 1,271,000 present registered Scout membership, most of whom, judging from requests already on hand, would like to avail themselves of this privilege. The opportunity will be open to Scouts in any part of the United States who meet the standards prescribed by the National Council, and preference will be given to applications in the order of their receipt.

All camp reservations must be made through local Scout Councils and not directly with the National Council.

FORMER COLORADOANS ARE PLANNING TRIP

From the Monahans News

Dr. and Mrs. Y. D. McMurry and son, Freddie, will leave June 9th for the East where Dr. McMurry will take an advanced course in treatment of pyorrhea. The University of New York offers the course which is open to only fifteen men. Since the course was first opened in 1934 Dr. McMurry is the only Texas man to enroll. Distinguished men of Dentistry from all over the world will conduct the course which opens June 19th and last for thirty days.

The McMurrays will be joined in St. Louis by Mrs. McMurry's mother, Mrs. T. Jack of Texarkana, who will make the trip with them. Leaving St. Louis after a short visit with relatives, the party will go on to Toronto, Canada, and will be there when the King and Queen of England are scheduled to make their appearance.

They also plan to see the Dionne quintuplets while in Canada. Mrs. McMurry and Freddie will spend some time in New York, but will also make trips to Washington, Baltimore and visit West Point and Annapolis before going to Richmond, Virginia, to visit Mrs. Judd Robertson, an aunt of Dr. McMurry, who visited in Monahans last fall.

One way to prevent the bottom crust of custard or pumpkin pie from becoming soggy is to brush it all over lightly with beaten egg white before adding the filling.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Each spring, come the Maytime, we fortify ourselves with a this-is-our-job-and-after-all-they-can't-kill-us philosophy and venture forth to seek all the poor school teachers that are going to do during the summer, where they're going to do it, and sometimes why, if we don't remember our manners in time...

"Mr. Charlie," that cunning Peke dog of Margaret and Farris Lapps, sickened and died last week. Not long ago the Harry Razans' beloved Boston bull died the same. Dog deaths don't usually rate news stories, but if story values were always gauged on the emotions involved, they'd be near the top of the list...

In perusing our "exchanges" we are more or less accustomed to finding strange folks in other towns bearing names just like those by which we know folks here. But think of our own Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bibb with their daughter named Dora Jane and see if you don't find this squall from the Stephenville Empire-Tribune downright tantalizing: "Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bibb and daughter, Dora Jean, were here from Big Spring last weekend."

Two very life-like white cranes add considerably to the beauty of the lily-covered fish pond in the front yard of the Methodist parsonage where Rev. and Mrs. Clift M. Epps and their young son reside. Being a great admirer of the birds and the fish pond and the parsonage yard in general, we noticed on several early morning occasions that the birds were missing. Naturally, we thought they were being taken in at night to a neat job of swiping...

Smatterings: George Black has an uncle in Hanford, California, who is growing almonds on his palm tree, according to an Associated Press News article. Bob Rose, local band director, went over to Sweetwater the other Sunday afternoon and got special mention for his part in the Music week concert given by Jack Armstrong's municipal band in the Sweetwater auditorium. As we passed the Raymond Gary car the other morning, two young desper-of our world fair visitors got back last week. Mrs. Will Berry of Fairview returned from the San Francisco fair, the Jim Watsons and the O. C. Coxes from the New York fair. Mrs. Berry described the exposition from San Francisco's fair as being "about like our Centennial," but she was very enthusiastic about the flowers. Thousands and thousands of roses and pansies, she said, and then the 23-acre "magic carpet" of ice plants in all shades. The Watson-Cox party found the New York fair a little disappointing because so much of it isn't yet ready, and they, too, described it as "about like the Centennial."

A poem by Leila Roddy, better known hereabouts as "Babe" Roddy, appears in the May issue of The Southwester, official publication of the Texas poetry organization. Title of the poem is "Shining Love."

In fashion jottings made by an Abilene Reporter-News reporter at a buffet supper given for WTCC sponsors on Monday evening, Colorado City's sponsor was described thusly: "Deep blue taffeta, made with fitted bodice and accordion pleated skirt, worn by Harriet Fritchett of Colorado City, who was escorted by Bunkie Girvin."

New nicknames for Mrs. James Payne and Mrs. E. B. Willbanks are "Large and Active." We were so informed by no less an authority than one of their husbands. And it's all The Record's fault. Last week the story about Colorado City's part in the WTCC convention at Abilene was continued from the front page with this notation: "See Large and Active, Page 4." The guide-line were "Mrs. James Payne used to identify the continued portion and the first words under that guide line were 'Mrs. James Payne and Mrs. E. B. Willbanks,' who were just about to sing on the front page when the story had to be continued."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County, Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon Francis Thomas Pfeiffer and wife, Ethyl Margaret Pfeiffer, if they be living, whose residence is unknown, and the Unknown Heirs and Legal Representatives of the said Francis Thomas Pfeiffer and Ethyl Margaret Pfeiffer, if they be dead, whose names and residence are unknown, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mitchell County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the City of Colorado, Texas, on the 15th day of May, A.D. 1930, the same being the 20th day of May, A.D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 22nd day of April, A.D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 5826, wherein Jerold Kinton is Plaintiff, and Francis Thomas Pfeiffer and wife Ethyl Margaret Pfeiffer, if they be living, and the Unknown Heirs and Legal Representatives of the said Francis Thomas Pfeiffer and Ethyl Margaret Pfeiffer, if they be dead, are Defendants, and said petition alleges that, on May 28, 1922, plaintiff was the owner in fee simple of the following real estate: All of Lots Nos. Nine (9) and Ten (10) in Block No. 134, and all of Lots Nos. Nine (9), Ten (10), Eleven (11) and Twelve (12) in Block No. 136, in the Garrett & Montgomery Subdivision of Blocks Nos. 134, 135 and 136 of Brown's Extension of the Town of Colorado in Mitchell County, Texas. That on or about May 31, 1922, plaintiff and his wife, Sallie Hordan, made, executed and delivered to defendants Francis Thomas Pfeiffer and wife Ethyl Margaret Pfeiffer a general warranty deed, conveying to them the above described real estate, in consideration of the assumption by the grantee of all the outstanding indebtedness against said property, including the 1922 and 1923 taxes and against said lots. That the assumption of said indebtedness by said defendants was the sole and real consideration of the execution to them by plaintiff and his wife of said deed, and nothing was paid to plaintiff by said defendants therefor, other than the assumption of such taxes and paying liens upon said property.

That, on the date of said deeds there was a paying lien against each of said lots in the sum of $343.72, represented by Certificates of Special Assessment therefor, issued by the City of Colorado, Texas, to West Texas Construction Company said certificates, each being in the sum of $343.72, Certs. Nos. 58 and 59, dated May 28, 1929, upon Lots 9 and 10, respectively, in Block No. 134, and Certificates Nos. 25, 26, 27 and 28, dated February 10, 1930, upon Lots Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 12, respectively, in Block No. 136; said liens being further evidenced and secured by Mechanics' Liens, contracts, upon each of said lots, for $343.72 each, dated November 21, 1922, and recorded in Vol. 4, on pages 73, 74, 75 and 76, respectively, and in Vol. 2, page 588, of the Mechanics' Lien Records of Mitchell County, Texas. That by said assumption of said debts and taxes, the assessments and said mechanics' liens, contracts therefor, and the said deed, were created and fixed against each of said lots a valid and enforceable statutory and constitutional lien, and became the real, true and only consideration of the execution of said deed to them by plaintiff. That said deed and the said liens were a balance due and owing on said paying liens of $1718.59 with accrued interest at 6% per annum thereon, in which plaintiff was liable, and the said sum was less than the value of said lots, being the amount only of the indebtedness against said lots, and plaintiff agreed to convey said lots to said defendants in consideration of the assumption by them of said indebtedness and taxes on said property, and said defendants agreed to assume said indebtedness and taxes, and plaintiff thereupon executed said deed to said defendants in consideration of the assumption by them of said indebtedness and taxes on said property, and said defendants accepted said deed and took title thereby to said property. That such assumption of said paying liens and taxes on said property was the real, true and only consideration for the execution of said deed and no other consideration was paid by them to plaintiff therefor. That said assumption by said defendants was made and fraudulently made by said plaintiff to convey to them the said lots for less than the real value thereof and for the purpose of the indebtedness against said property, and said defendants, and no intention of paying such indebtedness assumed by them and the said mechanics' liens upon such property, or any part thereof, and have allowed the same to go delinquent.

Plaintiff alleges that the consideration for the execution and delivery by him to said defendants of said deed has wholly failed; and that said deed being wholly void and unenforceable, and that said defendants have also failed and refused to pay any of the indebtedness against said property assumed by them, plaintiff is entitled to have said deed cancelled and rescinded, and to recover from the defendants the title and possession of the property conveyed thereby. That, by operation of law there was created and fixed against all of the property conveyed by said deed, a lien to secure the payment of the paying liens and taxes on said property assumed by the said defendants as a part of the consideration therefor; and that plaintiff having, on April 24, 1925, paid the balance of $2275.00 due upon said paying liens thereon, and established a lien on said property, and to have such lien foreclosed and said property sold, plaintiff is entitled in satisfaction of such implied vendor's lien.

Plaintiff prays for citation and for judgment against the defendants for cancellation and rescission of the deed executed by plaintiff to defendants, and that he recover from defendants the title and possession of the property conveyed thereby; and, in the alternative, if it be found that he is not entitled to have said deed cancelled and rescinded, and to recover the title and possession of said property, that his implied vendor's lien upon said property for $2275.00 with 6% interest thereon against said property, that said lien be foreclosed, and for order of sale, with of possession, general and special relief, etc. And plaintiff further prays in the alternative, if it be found that he is not entitled to cancellation and rescission of said deed, and to recover the title and possession of the property conveyed thereby, and that he is not entitled to have his implied vendor's lien established, fixed and foreclosed against said property, and the same sold in satisfaction thereof, that, on November 21, 1922, plaintiff executed a deed conveying to them the above described property in consideration of the assumption by said defendants of the taxes and said paying liens on said lots, which were a valid, subsisting express contract, constitutional and statutory mechanic's lien against each of said lots for the sum of $343.72, with 6% interest thereon, which liens are still due, subsisting and unassailed. That, by said assumption by said defendants of said taxes and said paying liens, plaintiff became lawfully bound and obligated to pay said paying liens assessments as they became due, and the taxes on said lots, but that they have wholly failed to pay any of said indebtedness, or any part thereof. That thereafter, on April 24,
