Mills County Teachers Institute Holds A Profitable Session

MANY TEACHERS ATTEND

On September fifth and sixth the County Institute for the teachers of Mills county was held in Goldthwaite, at the school building. There were seventy-two teachers enrolled and also a number of visiting teachers attending sessions.

An interesting program was rendered throughout the two days. Many interesting talks were made by Mills county teachers, which shows that this county has some of the best talent in the school teaching profession that can be found anywhere, and it is unnecessary to go elsewhere for our institutes.

The director of the institute was I. I. Nelson from State University. Very seldom, if ever, is an institute so fortunate as to secure so able a speaker as Mr. Nelson proved himself to be. His lectures were both inspirational and educational, and as a result of them the teachers of this county should go to their respective communities better qualified and more enthusiastic.

Goldthwaite responded readily with several speakers and musical numbers for our opening exercises.

On Thursday afternoon the Lions Club entertained the teachers at the Melba Theatre.

HOMER JONES DEAD

Homer Jones died at his home in Clovis, N. M., Saturday, Sept. 7, after a long continued illness. He was a son of the late Mr. Cicero Jones and a step son of Mrs. Anna Hill Jones of South Bennett community. Mrs. C. L. Featherston of this city is his grandmother. He leaves three brothers and two sisters in Clovis. He was buried Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the cemetery at Clovis.

SCHOOL BOARD PLANS LAYING OF CORNER STONE

CEREMONIES ON OPENING DAY

The cornerstone laying at the Grammar and Junior High School Building will be Monday, September 23rd, at 9 a. m. Churches, Sunday school classes, Clubs and citizens who have small articles to be placed in the receptacle are requested to have them ready and filed with Mr. F. F. Henderson, secretary of the school board, at some time prior to above date.

The program for cornerstone laying will be announced later.

O. H. YARBOROUGH,
President Goldthwaite School Board.

SELF CULTURE CLUB

Taking advantage of the fact that a few former members of the Self Culture Club were in town and perhaps would not be here Thursday, the Club's regular day for meeting, the Self Culture Club had its first meeting of the club year in the club room at the court house on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. J. C. Evans, the president, in the chair. It might be of interest to the many friends of the Self Culture Club to know that this is its twenty-fifth year of service, it having been organized in 1905, with a membership of five ladies, three of whom were present Tuesday afternoon.

The business of the club was attended to first. The program was in the nature of a re-assembly meeting and many topics of inspiration for the work of 1929-1930 were discussed. Mrs. W. S. McCall, a prominent club woman of Waco, giving the club some very interesting suggestions. An hour of sociability was enjoyed after the program.

Other than active members two associate members, Mmes. O. H. Yarbrough and S. P. Sullivan, were present. The guests for the afternoon were: Mmes. W. S. McCall of Waco, J. C. Hicks of Fort Worth, M. Y. Stokes of Houston, E. B. Gilliam, Jr. of Brownwood, and Misses Dera Humphries and Vivian Campbell.

COMMISSIONERS COURT

Commissioners Court met in regular monthly session Monday, with all members present. Ed Dearson was appointed constable for the Priddy precinct, the number of which is 6.

H. M. Weston resigned as live stock inspector, the duties of the position having been practically completed and J. B. McCasland remaining in office to complete the work.

The tax rolls were approved and will be submitted to the comptroller and then turned over to the tax collector's department to be ready for taxing, which begins Oct. 1.

Warrants aggregating $6.00 were drawn in payment for rattlesnake rattles, on which there is a bounty. No wolf scalps were presented, although there is a liberal bounty on them.

Highway money collected during the past month was divided according to the precincts from which payments were made: No. 1 received $22.74; No. 2, $6.96; No. 3, $22.24; No. 4, $5.51.

The report published some time ago that Live Oak school district had voted an added special tax was declared to be incorrect.

The court transacted considerable routine business, such as auditing accounts and approving reports.

Some Early History of Mills County Recalled

ANOTHER NATAL DAY

Mills county was created by an Act of the Twentieth Legislature, which was passed March 15, 1887. The Act provided that the commissioners court of Brown county should take proper steps toward organizing the new county and named R. P. Conner, county judge of Brown county, as organizing officer.

The court divided the territory into four commissioners precincts and eight justice precincts, named a convenient number of voting places and designated election officers.

Judge Conner ordered the election to be held on August 30, and that returns should be made to him at Brownwood. No county office went begging and some of the contests were quite interesting. The returns were slow in reaching headquarters, as there were no telephones, and some embarrassing mistakes were made. One candidate thinking his election sure, had his bond ready for approval. Another was declared the winner, he, by the way, had given up hope and engaged a school in Lampasas county. The organizing officer notified the winning candidates and asked them to meet him in Goldthwaite on Sept. 12, for the purpose of qualifying and assuming the duties of their respective positions.

The meeting was held where Mr. Burch now has his tailor shop. J. B. Head as county judge, G. H. Dalton, D. S. Kelly, and S. M. Moore as commissioners, and P. H. Clements as clerk, presented acceptable bonds and took the official oath. Judge Conner informed the new officers that this concluded the formation of the county of Mills and instructed the court to proceed under the law to transact such business as should properly come before it. The next two or three days were spent in fixing and approving bonds, and fixing dates for holding justice courts.

George Cunningham was sheriff, James Ewing, treasurer; J. A. Mohler, assessor; C. Rawls, district clerk; W. Livingston, surveyor; Deed H. Mayer, Justice of the Peace.

It looked like an unfavorable time for launching a new enterprise and especially a new county, as we were just at the end of two year's drought, but it can be truthfully said that our affairs were well managed and our people were well pleased to have a county government nearer home.

A GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Wallace of Mullin celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home last Sunday, by having with them a large number of their relatives, for whom they spread a delightful dinner and at the table the elder children sat on a bench that was used for a seat at the table in the family's first home and upon which they had sat in their early childhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace moved to Mills county from Louisiana in 1885 and have always been reckoned among the best of citizens. They are the parents of ten living children, seven of whom were present at this celebration, together with seventeen grand children, among them being one set of triplets, Ray, Rob and Roy, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wallace of Sterling City. Their children present were Prof. and Mrs. Boyd Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, he being cashier of the Leander bank; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Favors of Paint Rock, Mr. Favors being tax assessor of Concho county; Mrs. Dorsey Read, wife of the editor of the Rowena Reporter; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McCullough, Tom Wallace of Mullin, Mrs. Gena Johnson of this city. Mrs. Leon Wallace and children were present, but her husband could not come. The children who could not be with them at this time are Grady of San Angelo, Mrs. Gaudie Lonis of Seagraves and Leon of Sterling City.

The children and grandchildren showered the couple with presents of various kinds, among which was a five dollar gold piece for each. It was indeed a delightful gathering and it would have been a pleasure to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace to have invited their friends, but the number was so great their house would not have been adequate and they could not find a place to draw a line among their friends and neighbors. They, therefore, confined their guests to the members of the family.

After dinner Mr. Crawford of Goldthwaite came with an electric phonograph and assisted in entertaining for some time the honored couple and their descendants.

LAKE MERRITT LEAGUE

Some of the people of the Lake Merritt community met on Sunday, Sept. 1, 1929, and organized an Epworth League. The following officers were elected:

President, Gladys Brown; secretary, Lois Booker; reporter, Marie Stuck.

The following program was rendered on Sunday, Sept. 8, 1929:

Subject—Where does Christ come in Art and Music.
Leader—Mable Lillian Graves
Song—"Since Jesus Came Into My Heart."
Scripture: Luke 1:2; Acts 1:2—Mable Lillian Graves.
Preparation—Tom Graves.
What is literature? — Marie Stuck.

Bible literature — Gladys Brown.
General literature—John C. Price.
Song—"Gathering Home."
Benediction.
We met last Sunday night at 8 p. m., but next Sunday and from then on we will meet at 3 p. m. Sunday evening. Every one invited. REPORTER.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Mr. Baptist said, "Preacher, I don't have to go to church to know what you are doing." And the reply was "And I do not have to go to church to know what you are doing." This Baptist was like the old gentleman who said "We killed a bear."

The ladies had their meeting Monday afternoon in the parlor. This preacher stayed until twenty-four had arrived, but on looking out and seeing half a dozen more coming he made a hasty retreat to the sheriff's office, where he would be assured of protection. Generally speaking, when such social meetings take place at the pastor's home many good things are left over that are nourishing and appetizing, but this is one time that there was not even a little "diluted" water left. But come back ladies, the sheriff has promised to furnish his deputy next time.

The pastor and his wife were guests at the Athens class social on Monday evening at the Fair park. Some one had prepared a wonderful lot of eats, and after feasting sumptuously on these delicate edibles, a splendid program was rendered which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Jim Cokrum, in her usual pleasing manner, presided to the delight of all. Mr. Jim Cokrum says his wife ought to make a good President as she has been using those presiding tactics for most half a century. Frank Taylor said he had a good speech in his system, but could not deliver it for his wife speaking. Floyd Henderson says he can't get off to a social without his wife, and Floyd Jackson says his wife wants to go if he does. Both these gentlemen have my sympathy. Mrs. Laceywell seemed to be the most popular lady present, while Haynes Harrison was the biggest eater, his wife after him continually not to eat so much. Mr. Harry Palmer, a recent member of the Athens Class, gave one of his past experiences that created quite a little laughter. All in all, this was a good hour and the Athens that missed this meeting missed some real fun. But the best part of the program was the reading of the secretary's report, showing what had been done during the last six months. This class has made a notable record in being a friend to man, and in their serving humanity joy has been brought to their hearts and help has been given to mankind.

Prayer meeting was well attended last Wednesday night, fifty being present, and this is as it ought to be. No church can prosper as it should without resorting to prayer and Bible study. Here are some of the subjects that will be discussed during the fall and winter months: "Creation," "Sin," "Fall of Man," "God's Remedy for Man," "Punishment Here and Hereafter," "Heaven" and others too numerous to mention. Everybody is invited to come on Wednesday night and bring their Bibles. These prayer meetings last only 45 minutes, after which the choir will have their rehearsal, and if you can't come to the prayer meeting and can sing, come to the rehearsal. Summer is gone and the vacation period is over. Let's get down to business. Let every one be found in their respective places pulling

METHODIST NOTES

This autumn weather reminds us that summer is no longer ahead of us. The winter winds will whisper thru the cracks to us ere long, "What have you done with your long summer months?" The reckoning time is not far off. We should be too busy improving our time to complain of the weather. Some day when the spring and cheering sun of summertime is over and we are shut in from the outside communications, may no regrets haunt us. But we have heaped to ourselves stores of friendship and multitudes of friends—and folks I know no better place to accumulate and collect wealth that is more imperishable than in service at the church of your choice. It's not all done in a minute either, but is a gradual accumulation of a life well spent; but those who know anything about it say it is worth while. We welcome you to our fellowship and we promise you a chance to worship God and serve men. If the pastor or church can help you we shall be delighted and gladly answer any call at any hour.

A cordial welcome awaits you, "where you are a stranger but once."

S. D. LAMBERT, Pastor.

PORTER REUNION

Sunday, September 8, was held the Porter annual reunion in honor of the 73rd birthday of A. B. Porter, at the Indian Gap picnic grounds, on Cow House creek. All arrived early with well filled baskets and at the noon hour a bountiful lunch was spread, and there was an abundance of ice cold lemonade, all of which was enjoyed by the 36 people present, the weather preventing more from being present.

In the afternoon some time was spent in a social gathering and in kodaking. Finally, each one wishing Mr. Porter many more happy birthdays, returned to their homes.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Porter, A. B. Kelley and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Porter, all of Mount Olive; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Odonnell, S. R. Kirby and family of Pottsville, R. A. McDonald and family of Gustine, Miss Mae Featherston, Miss Jessie Featherston and Miss Nellie Joe Lightfoot all of Hamilton, Miss Lee George Meares and Webb Meares of Lott, and L. B. Porter and family of Goldthwaite. ONE PRESENT.

TERRACING SCHOOL

The fall terracing drive opened Tuesday on the Burkett farm near Mullin. Floyd and E. L. Burkett have bought a farm level and will construct terraces on all their fields.

Tuesday, the County Agent instructed them in adjusting the level and in laying off the lines. They will do their own work and will lay off lines for their neighbors who have no level.

Wednesday, the County Agent assisted Tom House and sons to locate lines on the Weathers' place, which they recently purchased.

Other terracing schools are to be held soon.

or pushing for the greatest year in the history of our church. If you have not already started, start Sunday.

G. C. IVNIS, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Tate spent Sunday in Brownwood.

Miss Alta Gray left Sunday for Coleman, where she will teach school.

Jack Perkins of Duren visited in the homes of A. D. Karnes and E. L. Pass last Monday.

Oliver Carothers has gone to Waco to enter Baylor University for the beginning of the fall term.

F. R. Hines and family were visitors to the city from Scallorn Tuesday and he made the Eagle an appreciated call.

Herman Rudd left Sunday for Brownwood, to enter Howard Payne college at the beginning of the term.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Starnes returned to San Marcos last Saturday, after spending most of the summer here.

Joe W. Morgan of Scallorn one of the Eagle's most appreciated friends, had business in the big town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chriswell of Ogles spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. A. D. Karnes, and family and other relatives.

Mrs. E. B. Gilliam of Brownwood visited her parents, Judge and Mrs. E. B. Anderson, and other relatives in this city the early part of the week.

Mrs. John C. Hicks and her son and daughter returned to their home in Fort Worth Wednesday, after a visit to her sister, Miss Dera Humphries.

The light northern this week was a gentle reminder that winter was approaching and folks had better get ready with their fuel and heavier clothing.

O. E. Greathouse and family will occupy the Luther Rudd residence on Fisher street, which is one of the most attractive and comfortable homes in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Kemper spent the first of the week with their daughter, Mrs. H. G. Starnes, at San Marcos and their nephew, Garland Barrett, and wife of San Antonio.

Marvin Rudd visited Arlington the first of the week, where he placed his son, Marvin Spence, in the Junior College. The young man is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School.

Mills county has been placed in the game warden district with Lampasas and San Saba. The warden, Mr. Egger, was a visitor to this city Wednesday and made the Eagle an appreciated call.

M. G. Cline returned Wednesday from a protracted stay at Lubbock. He reports a heavy hail storm between Post and the foot of the plains a few days ago and crops in that section literally ruined. Mr. Cline says he is back home to stay.

Mrs. W. C. Dew and Mrs. R. M. Thompson returned Wednesday morning from a protracted stay in Colorado. Miss Virginia Kerfoot, who was with them on their summer trip, stopped in Oklahoma City for a visit before coming to Goldthwaite, where she will teach in the High School.

If you have visitors, go on a trip, get married or die and no report is made to the Eagle it is likely no mention of the important fact will appear in the columns of this paper. The editor is always glad to receive information regarding local happenings, but can not be all places at the same time, hence misses a lot of items.

Luther Rudd and family left yesterday for their new home in Ballinger, where he owns the Buick agency. They will remain in Ballinger until the end of school, and we fear permanently. They have lived in Goldthwaite a long time and have the friendship and good wishes of everybody and the announcement of their move is received with genuine regret.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

CURRENT SPLASHES

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce will intervene in behalf of the Ballinger and Southern Railroad in its fight for extension of its line from Ballinger to San Angelo, directors of the organization decided Friday.

Only physical incapacity of Albert B. Fall to make the trip to Washington will be accepted by Leo A. Rover, Federal District Attorney, as a reason for delaying after Oct. 7 the trial of the former Secretary of the Interior on a charge of bribery in connection with the Elk Hills naval oil reserve leasing, says the prosecution.

Hearing will be held at Austin Tuesday, Sept. 17, by the State Railroad Commission on the application of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railway to move its district headquarters from Smithville to Waco. Smithville will contest the application, it is understood. The Katy does not seek to move its roundhouse and shop from Smithville.

Henry Helms was electrocuted at the State penitentiary early Friday for participation in the "Santa Claus" robbery of the First National Bank of Cisco, Dec. 23, 1927. Helms was said to be the first white man electrocuted without any outside witnesses and also the first man sent to death in this State on a charge of robbery with firearms. Three men were killed as a result of the hold-up of the bank.

The Soviet government of Russia has abolished Sunday as a regular day of rest by inaugurating in scores of Soviet trades and other institutions what is known as "the continuous production week." The move is calculated to quicken the pace of industry, increase the productivity of labor and relieve unemployment. Each employe will be required to work the usual number of hours, which now range from 39 to 46, however, will have a day of rest after every five or six days of labor. In this way, while one group is resting, another batch of employes will be carrying on the full activities of the factory or institution. Thus something approaching a "continuous chain of work" will be achieved.

A remarkable case of restoration of memory comes from Oklahoma. W. H. Yarnall, Exeter, Mo., business man, who has lived in Oklahoma City for two months unable to remember his past beyond an automobile accident in which he was injured, left Saturday for his home, his memory recovered. Mr. Yarnall left Exeter more than two months ago on a business trip to St. Louis, Mo. His wrecked automobile, found on a roadside, led to conclusions he had met with foul play. Two months ago he registered at a hotel under the name of "E. Garber" and had worked as night watchman for a construction firm. He recovered his memory after being found by a son, whom he at first did not know. His memory gradually came back after associating with his son a week. He remembered, he said, that after recovering in a hospital from the wreck injuries he obtained employment as a train "news butcher" and went to Oklahoma City.

Henry Ford says that gasoline and booze don't mix. Henry is right. It only mixes with wild parties, wild women, gamblers and wrecked homes. Tell us some more truths about booze, Henry.

In the Doran-Ritchie debate, Governor Ritchie seems to take the position that the Constitution can not be changed so as to give the State and Federal authorities consistent jurisdiction over liquor violations. It has always been the writer's impression that a two-thirds majority of the qualified voters of the United States could put any thing into the Constitution they pleased. Really, States' rights in prohibition would be about as inconsistent as States' rights in slavery. Lincoln said of slavery: "A house divided against itself cannot stand. We can't be part slave and part free." Every prohibitionist knows that the same truth applies to prohibition. We can't be part 'pro' and part 'anti'. We have tried it. It works no better than the part free and part slave of Lincoln's time.

Under the headline, "Sayings of the Times," John J. Rascoe says, "I have all the money I want." This starts us guessing. Did John J. hold out on the Democratic Executive Committee, and was that what caused the deficit? Now John J.'s statement is entirely responsible for our guessing. The Executive committee did not have as much money as they needed, we are told.

"I have become a jack of all trades," said Alfred Smith. (Under same headline above)

On President Hoover's birthday, a mountaineer boy came to his fishing preserve on the Rapsdan River, in Virginia, and presented him with a fat, young coon. The President was very sociable with the young mountaineer, and when he left the camp handed him a crisp five dollar bill. In a few days the young mountaineer appeared in the camp again with two young fat coons, but the coon market had broken so badly that the President didn't buy, we are told.

From press reports, it seems that President Hoover is passing up the trained diplomats or career men, as they are sometimes called, and when a diplomatic vacancy occurs, he appoints some noted business man to the vacancy.

PRISON LOCATION

Although funds for a new state prison plant and site will not be available for a long time—a year or more—the contest for the location began in Austin Friday along with the conference of the Legislative Prison Commission. Huntsville and Austin are "candidates" for the project, the former town sending to Austin representatives armed with maps and data. As members of the commission gathered it developed they all realize a special session of the Legislature could not make the necessary appropriations, so the plan is to recommend a "piece meal" or unit construction, which would require smaller appropriations over a period of years. The 30 per cent ad valorem tax levy just meets present State Government expenses and no new levy can be made until next July.

A few days ago the Navy department launched the first all-metal dirigible ever constructed. The trial trip was said to be perfectly satisfactory. It is egg-shaped and only about twice as long as it is around the middle. Its outside covering is "alclad," an alloy of copper and aluminum, which is said to be almost as strong as steel.

"Public Service Corporations Must Be Controlled." (Headline) This means government price fixing. Say, the right thing for we farmers to do is to get our business in shape that we will have to be put under government control to keep us from charging the corporations too much for our farm products. The government is generally liberal with the corporations in its control, possibly it would be liberal with we farmers.

Ruth Bryan Owens' Congressional seat is being contested by her Republican opponent, because, he claims, she married a foreigner. Ruth, a daughter of the late William J. Bryan, married Maj. R. A. Owen, an engineer in the British army, and under the expatriation act of 1907, then in force, lost her citizenship and became a British subject. In 1922 the Cabel act was passed to aid American women who had married foreigners, to regain their citizenship. The contest will come before the regular term of Congress this fall, but it seems generally conceded that Mrs. Owens' seat is in no danger. She was elected from a district in Florida in the recent National election.

PHILOSOPHER.

VERSATILE COW

Sang Stevenson of his truly bovine acquaintance: "The friendly cow, all red and white, I love with all my heart; she gives me cream with all her might, to eat with apple tart." She also gives, unless the Federal Research Laboratories are spoofing, cuff-links, dominoes, dice, combs, cigar-holders, pipe-stems, waterproof glue, radio parts, leather polish, paint, paper-sizing and spectacle frames. That is, she yields all those products with the aid of the chemist, who takes a quantity of skim milk or whey, does a few things to it and has a nice batch of casein. It is his substance which can be moulded and ardene and mixed with other material to make the various products by the laboratories. Such resourcefulness in an humble domestic animal is to be highly recommended. For it makes the ingenuity of the Swiss Family Robinson appear dull and obvious. With the family cow and a few test tubes, future castaways on desert isles should lack for nothing.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

CAR TURNS OVER

Mrs. John Elledge, 1319 Avenue B, was in the Central Texas Hospital Monday suffering from broken ribs, a broken left shoulder and possibly head injuries as a result of an automobile accident about 4 p. m. Sunday ten miles south of Goldthwaite.

Her husband suffered scalp wounds and a grandson, Van Mitchell, 15, escaped with but bruises when their heavy coupe, driven by Mr. Elledge, turned over four times after hitting some loose gravel on the side of the road.

The extent of the injuries to Mrs. Elledge's head were not known by the doctors Monday morning, though they think possibly she has concussions.—Brownwood Bulletin.

LOOKING BACKWARD

The world lives in the present and looks to the future, but for recreation it turns back to its own past. Newspaper reports of events are read by the man who wants to keep up with the news, but the report that is perused with the keenest enjoyment is that by the eye-witness. When the columns of a newspaper recite at great length the costumes worn by the ladies at a big social event, you might think that nobody is going to read the account. But you would be wrong. It will be conned from top to bottom by the ladies who were on hand. Same way with the news dug up from the files of yesterday. The folks who were living ten, twenty, thirty years back like to compare their mental notes with that the cold type records. History is the record of what has occurred, not what is going to occur. But it is worth less than nothing to us except by way of precept. So with the newspaper files. They form a record of what has happened and a lesson in day-to-day living. A comparison, too, for the Texas of 1929 is not the Texas of 1909 any more than the young galoot of that distant year bears any resemblance to the sober family and business man of twenty years' maturity. The world is in a constant process of growing up and getting old, for no matter how many millions of years it may have stowed away in its calendar, the world to all of us is just what we see of it from the cradle to the grave. And we like to have the industrious shears and clipper man drag through the files to remind us what the world—our world—was twenty years ago.—State Press in Dallas News.

94% OF THE TIME IT'S UNSAFE TO TRUST THE WEATHER

Study of U. S. Weather Bureau Reports Shows Only 19 Days a Year Average in United States When Outdoor Temperatures are Safe for Food Preservation

Mother Nature is a poor guardian of perishable foods. Back-porch and window-sill makeshifts for food preservation are unsatisfactory, insanitary, unsafe. Study of United States Weather Bureau reports shows that only 19 days a year on an average in the United States afford outdoor temperatures that are safe for perishable foods. Ninety-four per cent of the time it is too warm—too cold.

Trusting to these makeshifts is not an economy. The food spoilage—a little here, a little there—amounts to a staggering loss at the end of a year. And the menace to health lurks always in these perishables that are improperly preserved.

Health Authorities, everywhere, recommend adequate artificial refrigeration the year around as the only safe and satisfactory way to preserve perishable foods. Take this step now to save money and safeguard the health of your family.

MODEL HOME

To set the nation thinking on this vitally important topic of proper food preservation—to glean new ideas, new facts and figures concerning food preservation in guarding health and preventing economic waste, the National Food Preservation Council offers prizes to the value of $25,000 for the best essays in a National Idea Contest.

The capital prize is a Model Home; or $10,000 in gold. The second prize a 1930 five-passenger Cadillac Coupe, selling at $3,595 F. O. B. Detroit; the third prize $3,000 in gold—and so on down the list of 832 other big cash awards. Ask us for your free copy of the booklet "How to Safeguard Your Family's Health". This tells you the rules of the contest, the names of the judges and gives complete list of prizes.

KILLING THE GOOSE

Unless legislators use a little more common sense there will be a reaction against the gasoline tax, in the opinion of experts.

In the space of about 10 years we have seen this new form of "special" taxation come into existence and grow to the point where it is of serious economic and social significance. A short time ago two and three-cent taxes were considered high; now four to six cents are becoming common. In two States, counties are levying a gas tax and in three states cities are imposing such a tax.

A fair gas tax is a good thing when applied entirely to road building and maintenance. An exorbitant tax, or one which applied, in whole or in part, for other purposes, is the rank-est kind of unequal taxation.

The gas tax situation is causing millions of citizens to think about the general tax problem and the dangers which are inherent in class or special taxation. Unless the present trend of lawmakers piling up special axes on a helpless public and industries, is changed, it is safe to say that a wave of public disapproval must eventually manifest itself to protect individual and property rights.

PINK BOLL WORM

Announcement has been made at Austin by J. M. Deleurto of the Texas department of agriculture and R. E. McDonald, of the United States department, that a crew of 20 scientists would start investigation in Mexico and the Southwest looking toward the eradication of the pink boll worm. Ten scientists are being furnished by Mexico in the co-operative research work.

This announcement was made allowing a diplomatic trip by Deleurto and McDonald to Mexico recently to make arrangements for the work. Deleurto said the Mexican government was glad to enter joint work for the eradication of the pest.

"Our recent trip to Mexico had for its prime purpose inquiring about further co-operative investigation on the pink boll worm," McDonald said. "Both departments desire detailed information about the distribution of the pest, both on domestic cotton and wild host plants." Because of inaccessible conditions in the mountainous regions of the Southwest, the scientists do not know how long a work will require.

SEVEN HUNDRED SUITS ARE FILED

Over five hundred delinquent suits were filed with the district clerk Monday by County Attorney Tom Reese, who said that nearly a thousand more would be filed within the next fifteen days, the law requiring that those involving suits on real estate be filed in the district court and those on personal property alone where the tax is less than $200 must be filed in the justice court.—manche Chief.

CRIME REFORM

Most crime reformers are trying to kill an elephant with a pop gun.

At the present time in this country crime is an organized "business" of the first importance, with clear-sighted executives, high-priced lawyers, and almost endless resources in affiliations.

To attempt to fight the underworld by prohibiting law-abiding citizens from owning pistols and guns, is nothing short of absurd. It would be like fighting out of season fishing by prohibiting all fishing.

Basic reasons for crime, such as public apathy, graft, antiquated judicial procedure, the power wielded by sentimentalists, a burden of laws and red tape, are commonly overlooked by well-meaning reformers.

Without an aroused public consciousness against the menace of the criminal, nothing can be done. Once that consciousness is aroused, the day of the prosperous criminal will be over, and when crime is not prosperous it will not flourish.

The more laws, the less criminals punished, is a proven axiom. Clever lawyers, taking advantage of technicalities, can twist evidence out of all semblance to reality. Sob-sisters sway juries and pardon and parole boards. As a result, more criminals go free in this country than in any other civilized nation.

To reduce crime we must strike at the root of the evil, i. e., conditions which encourage crime.

AMAZING FACTS

When one visualizes a railroad grade crossing accident, it is to see a gigantic, speeding locomotive crash into a small automobile destroying the car and maiming the occupants. But this is not always the case.

Last year more than 25 per cent of all grade crossing accidents resulted from automobiles running into trains, either standing or in motion. The increase in such accidents was several times greater, when compared with 1927, than the increase in accidents caused by trains striking cars.

The public, in spite of intensive accident prevention efforts by the railroads and others, grows steadily more careless and indifferent to danger.

It is an economic truth that to eliminate all grade crossings would be a financial impossibility. The taxpayers and the railroads have spent tremendous sums reducing grade crossings, only to have more grade crossings demanded than ever before.

The railroads have spent millions installing safety devices to warn the public. Courts have now held that responsibility for seeing that a train is not coming at a railroad crossing, rests on the driver of the automobile. A little care on the part of motorists and all such accidents would be prevented, and thousands of lives saved each year.

FAILURE OF ATHEISM

Those people whose faith in religion is so small that they look with apprehension at the endeavors of atheists to "banish religion", should buttress their faith by glancing at Russia.

Never since the French revolution has there been such a determined effort on the part of so many people to stamp out religion.

The Soviet government has conducted, for more than ten years, and "anti-God" campaign that has been cunning, that has had tremendous impetus, that has been conducted with intelligence and foresight.

All the resources of despotism have been brought to bear on the Russian people to force them to believe that God and religion are myths, that the church is an evil, and that it is childish to believe in God and life hereafter.

And the Russian people still believe in God, still believe in religion, still believe in a life hereafter.

A decade of effort to bring millions of people to atheism has been a failure.

The Soviet leaders have been forced to admit defeat. They have abandoned official efforts to spread atheism, have lifted the ban on religion and the religious customs of the people. Bitter though defeat is, they are putting the best possible face on it. The Soviet Congress is shortly to be called upon to ratify an amendment that will grant all citizens the right of religious practice. This grant will be formality only, for the people themselves have openly defied the law for a long time.—Danbury News.

COTTON STOLEN

Last Friday night thieves stole 600 or 800 pounds of seed cotton from Fayette Alldredge in the northern portion of the county, east of Zephyr. The cotton was picked and in two piles in the field and it was evidently taken by persons who came from the direction of Zephyr and went back in that direction. The tracks of a truck could be clearly seen in the road and where the turn was made and the tracks of a man, woman and a bare foot boy can be seen about the places where the cotton was taken. The theft of cotton from the field is a very unusual occurrence in this county, while it is very ordinary in some of the more populace counties. It is hoped the officers will succeed in catching and punishing these thieves.

LANE-RYE

Will D. Lane and Miss Annie Ruth Rye were married at the residence of Rev. Bedford Renfro in Big Valley last Thursday night, Mr. Renfro officiating. The young couple were accompanied by their friends Clarence Newcomb of this city and Miss Annabelle Rhodes of San Saba, who together with Mrs. Renfro witnessed the ceremony. After the nuptial vows had been taken the young couple came to Goldthwaite, where they are at home at the residence of the groom's mother on Sixth street, at Reynolds. The groom is a well known and popular young barber of this city and has recently embarked in business for himself. He was reared in Goldthwaite and has the friendship and good wishes of all who know him. The bride was reared in San Saba, where she has a wide circle of friends. She is not well acquainted in Goldthwaite, but she has a hearty welcome from the friends of her husband and other members of the family.

ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE

J. B. Nance, 73, of Hesses was taken to a Brownwood sanitarium Tuesday night for treatment for knife wounds, self inflicted, which may prove fatal, according to physicians.

Mr. and Mrs. Nance had been sitting on the front porch of their residence talking for some time, according to relatives, when Mrs. Nance went into the room about 7:30 to attend to some work, returning a few minutes later to find Mr. Nance gone. Calling for him, Mrs. Nance heard him answer from the barn, where she went and found him lying prostrate in the cotton seed pen, he telling her to get a lantern and call for help as he had tried to kill himself.

The wound, which was just below the ribs on the left side, more than an inch wide was made with a long bladed pocket knife, according to relatives.

Mr. Nance apparently had been in good spirits during the day, but had been worrying lately because of ill health.—Comanche Chief.

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. Entered in the Postoffice at Goldthwaite as second-class mail.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Toland accompanied by Mrs. G. A. Swain of Amarillo, made a visit to Dallas this week.

Mesdames W. H. Thompson and W. M. Trent of Brownwood, accompanied by Mrs. J. D. Gober of Beaumont, were visitors in this city Monday.

Good progress is being made in the modernizing of the front of the Hester Variety Store building. It will be quite an addition to that part of town when completed.

Mrs. E. M. Simpson and her daughter, who live on the Canadian road, a short distance east of the city, were appreciated visitors at the Eagle office a few days ago.

Some of the roads were made pretty bad by the rains and a few places were rendered impassable for a few hours. The rain was mighty fine, however, and the inconvenience was but temporary.

Dr. Godbold, president of Howard Payne College, and Prof. Rex Gaither, director of the Gray Mare band of Brownwood, were business visitors to Goldthwaite last Saturday and made the Eagle a pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Peak have had as guests in their home Mr. and Mrs. P. Applewhite and children of Imperial, Cal.; Mrs. J. D. Applewhite of Mullin, and Miss Helen Applewhite of Tahoka.—Lampasas Leader.

W. C. Johnson of the Pompey Creek section, was a business visitor to this city Monday. Mr. Johnson served the county as commissioner for his precinct for a number of years and made a fine record as an officer.

R. S. Crain of San Saba was meeting with his friends in this city Monday, while on his way home from a business visit to Brownwood. Mr. Crain formerly lived in Goldthwaite and he and his good family are kindly remembered by the people of this city.

Hicks Read of Rowena, formerly an employe of the Eagle office, was a visitor to the city Saturday. He is now engaged in the newspaper business at Rowena in connection with his brothers and he and his wife were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Williams, near Mullin.

R. V. Littlepage and family returned Friday night from an extended trip thru the Southwest and into Mexico at Matamoros. They visited in Corpus Christi and Mrs. Simms, mother of Mrs. Littlepage, came home with them, she having been visiting in that city. They had a delightful trip, but were glad to get back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ford and two daughters were visitors to the city Monday, preparatory to leaving for Austin, to spend the fall and winter. They recently purchased a ranch in the Scallorn community, but will continue to make their home in Austin until their children complete school. They formerly lived here and have a great many friends in this city and throughout this section.

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Bynum left last Monday morning for Elida, New Mexico, for a visit with their daughter and family, and with friends, Rev. Bynum was pastor of the Elida Baptist church for several years, and he and his good wife have hosts of friends there to give them welcome. They will spend a week's vacation very pleasantly in that former home town.—Hamilton-Herald Record.

Forty-two persons were killed and 188 injured during the week of Aug. 16-23, according to reports compiled by the Texas Council of Safety. This brought the number of persons killed in accident in Texas for the year up to Aug. 23, to 1,720, as compared with 1,142 killed for the same period in 1928.

ROCK SPRINGS

Our B. Y. P. U. program Sunday night was fine. All on the program had their parts up well. There was just one teacher present at Sunday school, but we had a good lesson and the assistant teacher for the adult class, Mrs. McClary, was present, so we had a teacher after all.

Everybody you meet since last Thursday wears a smile, as we were blessed with a wonderful rain. Now we can sow turnips and break land.

Mrs. J. C. Stark is still improving at this writing.

Miss Ethel McClary and Miss Fay Coekrum had business at Trigger Mountain Monday morning.

Sam Self and wife entertained lots of company Sunday afternoon. Ben Forehand and family, J. M. Traylor and wife, J. O. McClary and wife, J. F. Davis and wife.

Geo. Bohanan and family and Ashley Weathers and family from on the Bayou, attended B. Y. P. U. Sunday night.

W. J. Stark and wife, J. O. McClary and wife and Eula Nickols and Miss Nellie D. Cooke visited in the J. C. Stark home Sunday afternoon.

Beryl Turner from Richland Springs, visited his friend, Miss Oneta Traylor, Sunday.

Mrs. Clyde Bates and little daughter left Tuesday morning for their home in Amarillo.

Last Friday night Oneta and Waldine Traylor, Oleta and Walton Daniel and Sherrel Robertson enjoyed an interesting forty-two game at Woody Traylor's. There were some champion players in the bunch. James Nickols ate dinner with Hardy McClary Sunday.

Mrs. Lula Gatlin of Goldthwaite bought Mr. Self's sheep and goats last week.

Three has been several on the sick list this week, but since the fine rains we hope all can get to feeling better.

Dwight Nickols likes his work at Big Lake.

Last Tuesday night, Mrs. Nickols chaperoned a bunch of the youngsters down to Mr. Ellis' one the river. Those in the crowd were: Florence and Ray Stark, Horace and Nellie D. Cooke, Ethel McClary, Jaunita Marburton, Philip and Shirley Nickols. After they took their swim, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and Collier Ballard had three gallons of cream ready to eat. They reported the swim and the cream as being the finest they have enjoyed in years.

Mrs. Till Warburton and her daughter, who have been visiting J. C. Stark and family, left Friday night for their home in Yoakum.

Glenn and Philip Nickols sheared John Edlin's goats last week in the Center Point community.

There was quite a picked crowd at Woody Traylor's Saturday night. If you can't play "42" do not let Glenn Nickols or Oneta Traylor teach you, but ask Ashley Weathers and

The Electric laundry owners moved their business into the new building on Second street Monday and have everything arranged to give their patrons prompt service, including delivery, in all kinds of weather. They have a modern drying room and other convenient arrangements to expedite their business.

Woody Traylor, for they know how.

Ray Davis and family from Big Valley sat until bedtime with J. C. Stark and family Saturday night.

John Parker and family of Bulls Creek spent Sunday with Will Stark and wife.

Ray Stark left for Norton, Texas, Sunday morning, where he began his second term of school.

Mrs. Jno. W. Roberts and grandson returned Sunday night from Dallas. She thinks her sister, Mrs. Fowler, is some better. We are glad Beryl Vann is doing all right since his operation.

Mrs. J. W. Roberts spent Monday at her son, Joe Roberts, home at Bulls Creek.

Mrs. J. M. Traylor and her daughter had business in town Monday morning.

J. T. Robertson and family spent Sunday with Marion Robertson and family in Big Valley.

Miss Mae McNutt has been visiting in San Angelo. She came home Sunday night.

Joe Davis and wife dined in the J. C. Stark home Sunday. Glenn and Philip Nickols sheared Mrs. Gatlin's goats last Monday.

Mrs. Eula Nickols spent last Tuesday in the McClary home. P. H. Clements from Goldthwaite spent Monday with Mrs. Nickols and boys.

Mesdames Roberts, McClary McNutt and Nickols attended the W. M. S. program in the city at the parsonage Monday afternoon. They said the program was fine from beginning to end.

Mrs. J. O. McClary's sister, Mrs. oats and family, visited Mrs. McClary last week.

The Workers Meeting this month was to meet with this church, but on account of illness in the community, it was postponed until October 7th. We will look forward for the time. We hope to have the largest crowd yet.

Miss Nellie D. Cooke spent last Friday in the McClary home.

Ben Forehand and wife were in this community last Friday afternoon. They didn't find everyone at home, whom they went to see.

J. O. McClary is doing quite a bit of improving along the water line. He has a nice cistern and a new storage cement tank. He don't intend to be short of water again next summer. He also has a new car shed. Such improvements are needed. BUSY BEE.

O. K. NERVE IMPULSE!

A Discovery

I take this opportunity to thank the Associated Press, the New York Times, New York Evening Post and various other newspapers throughout the country for the fact that they have finally verified the fundamental of Chiropractic. What the eye sees, the heart must feel and the mind believe. On this principle the medical profession likewise places its stamp of approval on Chiropractic.

Do not think, dear reader, that all this has come out of the goodness of heart of the Associated Press, the newspapers or the esteemed medical profession. On the contrary, Chiropractic has not been mentioned in connection with this sweet confession of the soul. All those beloved friends of Chiropractic, however, inadvertently let the cat out of the bag in the publication of an Associated Press dispatch from Boston which says, "A device which makes visible the impulse, or message, travelling along a nerve, was described to the Thirtieth International Physiological Congress at Harvard Medical School today by Dr. Joseph Erlanger and Dr. H. S. Gasser of St. Louis. The usefulness of this new scientific instrument lies in that it enables science to LEARN MORE ABOUT SOME OF THE LITTLE UNDERSTOOD ACTION OF NERVES." Scientists have known for some time that when a nerve is stimulated artificially so that an impulse travels along its length, delicate modern instruments will register the passage of the nerve message. Some of them have been studying these impulses with the idea that the nerve message, if not electrical, may be closely associated with minutes electrical effects. The St. Louis physiologists have made these impulses visible on a cathode oscillograph, an instrument so sensitive that it photographs lightning striking wires and gives a picture of how far the electrical surge travels in a millionth of a second. To register the minute electrical charge transmitted over a nerve, it is necessary to amplify the current coming from the nerve by 100,000 times. The oscillograph transforms such electrical impulse into a point of light or a wavering line of light."

What a grand opportunity these great agencies of public information have passed up in the last thirty years, in refusing to learn something about Chiropractic and in refusing to publish to mankind the benefits of Chiropractic that can be obtained by releasing life's fullest expression in the nerve impulse. It is idle to contemplate that the nerve impulse is merely electrical or a "message," because electricity of itself has no intelligence and man admittedly is no automaton. That it is a FORCE which animates the human body is certain. In addition it is also certain that the nerve impulse is an INTELLIGENT LIFE FORCE. It is, therefore, something more than a message. It is God's GIVEN LIFE ACTIVITY WITHIN THE BODY OF MAN. It was intelligent enough in the creation of all things—all the vital organs, the bones and tissue—it is intelligent enough, therefore, to repair them. If it does not, there is a cause, and that is the Chiropractor's business to remove it. It is gratifying to know that Dr. Enlanger and Dr. Gasser have acquainted the Physiological Congress at the Harvard Medical School with the fact at least that there is no doubt that man actually possesses a nerve impulse. It is regrettable, however, that it required 6,000 years for the medical profession, this so-called "science of medicine" to discover this truth. In another 6000 years perhaps medicine will discover that this nerve impulse is an intelligent force emanating from the brain of man, passing through his spinal cord and over the entire nervous system to perform nature's only sure way of curing human afflictions, just as Chiropractors have done.

We cannot be too optimistic, however, that this will come to pass, for even with photographs of the nerve impulse on hand, there are very few of the 168,000 medical doctors in the United States who will be willing to surrender their pills and squirt guns for the use of the life force which God gave to man. Read 1 Jno. 4:4.

"Do thy duty, that is best. Leave unto thy God the rest. THERE'LL BE NO REGRETS LATER ON

The youngster of school age might veto this, but here are my three cheers for the Rotary "back to school" campaign. Personally, I have always doubted that the kid dislikes school as much as he is supposed to. There are any number of interesting things to do. Not all of them are listed as corricula, it is true; but one can gain a vast amount of education from extra scholastic subjects. Even so, the kid who gets no fun at all out of going to school would do well to plug along and take whatever he can in the way of an education.

Later on—when he is grown—he will appreciate the opportunities that were his and missed.

There is no thought in my mind here that one must attend classes and bury one's nose in a book in order to acquire an education.

Some of the best educated persons I know never had the opportunity to get a college education (so-called) and some of them did not even finish high school.

But it comes harder that way. It requires more in the way of application . . . of toil and labor.

If there are any doubts in your mind as to the value of going ahead with your school work, ask the man who was forced to quit school. — The Fort Worth Press.

TEXAS

Wet wood will burn... certainly so will wet gasoline

... but for a quick hot fire there is nothing like dry wood. And for a quick response to the spark there is nothing like dry gasoline.

Such a gasoline is the new and better Texaco. It forms a completely vaporized mixture of gasoline and air, a dry gas, which ignites instantly and burns completely. It releases all the power designed into the engine of your car, yet costs no more than ordinary wet gasoline.

It's better because it's dry!

1. A wet gas is an atomized mixture of gasoline vapor in which are suspended drops of raw gasoline.
2. These drops of raw gasoline form an uneven mixture which resists the action of the spark.
3. Result: Destructive crankcase dilution, difficult starts, slow acceleration, sluggish motor.

1. The new and better Texaco vaporizes so readily that it forms a dry gas, an active mixture of gasoline and air.
2. This pure, dry gas responds instantly to the action of the spark.
3. Result: Lightning starts, rapid acceleration, smooth action, power!

RECKLESS DRIVERS

In Texas, at least, the reckless driver—the driver who ignores stop signs and signal lights and jeopardizes both life and property through his indifference to the rights of others—may be fined for the violation of traffic rules, but he can keep right on taking chances. In some States every driver must carry a license and must show it to any officer who makes the request. Continued violation of traffic laws, careless and reckless driving forfeits this license for varied periods of time and driving without a license means going to jail.

Farm and Ranch has advocated the drivers' license system for Texas. We do not suggest that drivers must be examined, nor would we sponsor a license fee of more than nominal size. We believe automobile owners are over-taxed as it is. Yet, something must be done to save the lives of our citizens and to prevent the crippling of hundreds of other citizens through fault of their own. We know of no better way than to take away the right to drive a motor car from persons who do not display ordinary common sense when at the wheel.

We would suggest that the first conviction should carry a fine as a minimum punishment; but a second conviction, forfeit a driver's license for not less than three months nor more than six, and that a third conviction forfeit the license for not less than one year or more than three. With such a law on the statute books and diligence on the part of officers in making arrests, drivers could soon learn to have more consideration for others. Many men or women can find the money to pay a fine, but there are many who will take chances of being prohibited from driving the car.—Farm and Ranch.

ALL IN THE MIND

Few men reach middle age without being assailed by doubts as to what life offers them. By that time experiments are practically ceased. They are settled definitely in some line of work, in the vast majority of cases, where they must remain until the end. Then they come to the realization of the opportunities they have missed to grasp, and of the mistakes they have made, whose consequences it is too late to evade. Again doubts arise as to the real value of what life is offering them, and usually they conclude that their wives and children are the best things in their lives.

Success in some degree comes to the majority in the United States, we incline to believe, and content with life to those whose philosophy enables them to center their thoughts on the things they enjoy rather than on the greater material success of others which they would like to have, but can not. But riches and great success do not shield those who have acquired and on them, from the sorrows and regrets common to all human life. Many a man who has all his needs require and more, still finds content. There are skeletons dangling in their closets to disturb them, as they contemplate the responsibilities and cares wealth and success have piled upon their shoulders. The man in comfortable circumstances who can train himself to be grateful for what he has, and shut out desire to double it, gets more joy out of life than one who never satisfied with his fortune.—G. Sibley in Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in cut does not mean that it is clean, you cannot see germs. The only safe way to do, is to thoroughly wash every part, no matter how small, with Liquefied Borozone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borozone powder, to hasten the healing. Liquefied Borozone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borozone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at

THE BURDEN OF TAXES

Many experts have repeatedly called attention to the rising costs of government, and national governments throughout the international world are piling down expenditures so as to ease the burden of general taxes on their citizens.

But the chief sinners in the United States are the States, counties and the many grades of municipalities. These for the most part are multiplying taxes far beyond their needs, spending recklessly, levying taxes heavily, and piling up bond issues for the next generation to pay.

Admittedly, taxes should be heavier than they were in the days of our fathers for the simple reason that the demands on government are much greater than formerly. But greater governmental activity multiplies administrative departments and officials, and unless these are carefully organized they multiply waste.

The cities are slowly working out their own salvation through planning, zoning and city manager organization. The states and counties, however, are still in the "stone age" of development and are sadly in need of reorganization. Fortunately, such reforms are on the way, and some states, Virginia for example, are making rapid improvement.

Texas has 254 counties and nearly 2,500 cities, towns and villages. No one can honestly claim that most of these, or even many of them, are efficiently and economically administered. All citizens, of course, admit that there is great room for improvement in the administrative organization and system of expenditures of the State itself. Yet, like Mark Twain's remark about weather, though all complain about the shortcomings of government, no one does anything about it.

Texas needs a new policy of diversification. It needs to diversify its crop of perennial politicians and embryonic statesmen. There are too many of the sort and not enough variety. Too few know what is doing in the field of progressive government in other parts of the United States and so few have vision enough to plan broadly for the future. Many are purely local in their point of view and do not know Texas.

Is it not about time that the citizens of Texas take their obligations of citizenship seriously? Within the next twelve months they should plan to put their best representatives into office, and should then back them up in plans for the improvement of politics and the reorganization of the systems of taxation and finance.—Dallas News.

Run-Down

"About seven years ago, I was all run-down, worn-out and never felt good," says Mrs. Harry Cantrell, of Cape Girardeau, Mo. "A chair would be more welcome any time than my work."

"I was so tired when I would arise in the morning. Instead of being rested, I felt terrible."

"At last, mother told me to take Cardui, and I did. After the first bottle, I could tell a difference, and when I had taken five bottles the tired feeling was all gone. I felt like a different person, thanks to Cardui. I hope that other mothers will try Cardui. I have been wonderfully benefited by it."

WACO DRESSMAKER OUT WITH FACTS

"Was Losing Weight, Strength and Energy, But Orgatone Did Wonders For Me," She Says.

"When I tell you I have been actually relieved of months of awful suffering, and have actually gained in weight and strength, you can readily understand why I'm so strong for Orgatone," was the remarkable statement of Mrs. J. F. Williams of 614 South Tenth St., Waco, Texas, a well known dressmaker of this vicinity.

"I had a very bad sluggish liver, that put me in a very badly run down condition, and I just seemed to go from bad to worse," she continued. "I was going down hill so rapidly, and was losing weight, strength and energy, but could not find anything to relieve me of all my troubles; I couldn't eat the things I wanted and had to be very careful of my diet; I had a bad case of constipation, and had to take strong laxatives most all the time. Gas formed and pressed against my heart and at times I could hardly breathe. Besides, my terrible suffering, I had an awful tired feeling and would wake up in the mornings feeling so no account I could hardly do my work. I didn't have any vim or energy and I hated to move."

"Orgatone was highly recommended for troubles such as mine, and I thought one more medicine wouldn't hurt to try, so I began taking it. I began to improve right from the start, and now since taking one bottle I am relieved of my troubles. Orgatone is certainly a wonderful medicine, it has relieved me of all my liver troubles, and my liver is back to normal. I have more vim and vigor and enjoy doing my work. I eat most anything I want, without the slightest trouble. I'm not the least constipated, and sleep fine every night. Orgatone has done so much for me. I feel that it will help others, so I am willing to make this statement, and hope they will profit by my own experience."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Goldthwaite at Hudson Bros. Drug Store. (Adv.)

CO-OPERATIVE DAIRYING

In surveying the problem of bringing farm production and marketing onto a satisfactory co-operative stage, the Federal Farm Board, according to its reports, has found dairy interests more advanced than any other branch of agriculture, and, consequently needing less but promising better results from Federal assistance. Particularly in the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa is the dairy industry organized on a co-operative basis.

This is not surprising, since co-operative creameries are a natural development. But creameries, whether co-operative or not, co-operate among themselves. The butter industry is well organized outside of co-operatives, but in the States which the Farm Board regards as most favorably situated the dairy farmers sell less cream to the industrial creamery organizations than to their co-operatives. Last January, the board says, there were 2,479 dairy associations with a membership of 60,000. In the three States cited 60 per cent of creamery butter is manufactured co-operatively, and these States are said to produce 41 per cent of both cream and butter manufactured in the United States.

Since 1915 the aggregate business of dairy associations has increased five fold and in 1928 came to $640,000,000. They handle approximately one-third of the creamery butter and cheese of the country and two-fifths of the milk purchased by urban consumers. In the three States named there are now some 1,200 co-operative creameries. Here the co-operative idea has been extended to co-operation of co-operatives. It has been found that a group of creameries by co-operative marketing get better results than if each creamery operates independently. Some of the benefits of co-operative marketing by creamery associations are the employment of chemists and bacteriologists for the whole group, reduced selling costs in large domestic and foreign markets, advertising of the trade

GRAPES AND PROHIBITION

The tribulations of the California grape growers were not brought forcibly to public attention until the Federal Farm Board announced that it would advance $9,000,000 to that industry. Few in this part of the country realized that the grape growers needed aid. Their difficulties have not been given prominence in the prolonged discussions of the farm problem and of over-production of wheat and other major crops. The idea persisted, indeed, that the grape growers were drinking the wine of prosperity which they quaffed just after the prohibition law went into effect.

On the contrary, prohibition is now declared to be the ruin of the grape industry. The affluence that resulted from the heavy demand for grapes by home wine makers back in 1919-1920 was ephemeral, it is said, the price of wine grapes, which reached $75 a ton in 1920, having fallen into a tailspin.

The grape growers blame prohibition, but there is no indication that prohibition has destroyed the market of grapes or that the home wine makers have developed a taste for soft drinks. Overproduction is the real cause of the price depression, the high prices of eight and nine years ago having encouraged the vineyardists to double their acreage.

With this insight to conditions in the California vineyards, it can be easily understood why this industry received the first large advance by the Farm Board. It is suffering intensely from the same ailment that afflicts the principal farm crops, but overproduction in grapes in a section of one State should be more easily remedied than overproduction of other farm products harvested from a much larger acreage in many States.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

'An Unpleasant Subject'

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from

The Return
I'm broke and tired,
My health's a wreck;
Oh, joyful recreation!
In debt I'm mired
Up to my neck—
I've been on my vacation!

Look at the ceiling in the new school auditorium. It is really pretty, isn't it? Yes that ceiling was fixed with Cel-o-tex.

A man went into Cohen's Book Store and asked: "Have you Jerome K. Jerome's 'Who's Who and What?'"
Cohen replied: "No, but we have 'Who's He and Vats He Got' by Bradstreet."

Ed Schrank of Priddy is building a goat shed. These people who are continually improving their places have money in their pockets and are prosperous.

Clerk: "I'm not feeling well, Sir."

Boss: "Why don't you get a bottle of ink to make you write."

If you are troubled with cold during the winter, line the inside of your home with Cel-o-tex.

Adam no doubt would have made some progress in dress, but Eve seems to be getting right back where she started.

If you get too hot in summer, line your home with Cel-o-tex.

The number of college students that own fur coats is not equal to the number that wish they did.

If your home needs to be painted, paint it with Du Pont paint, and there will be no regrets.

The woman whose face is her fortune goes broke eventually.

BARNES & McCULLOUGH
—Lumber—

Among the Folks in History who would have liked YARBOROUGH'S service for men of unusual size

NAPOLEON — Short of neck and short of stature could have been fitted perfectly in CURLEE clothes in our specialized departments.

BISMARCK — Tall and gaunt would have been easily fitted here.

ROTUND HENRY THE VIII — Might have knighted us for our ability to fit him.

"LEAN AND HUNGRY" CASSIUS — He would have had suits galore to choose from—in his size.

And so it goes—no matter how you may be built—we guarantee to fit you. Unusual sizes are usual with us.
