

The President of the Pennsylvania railroad has a salary of $100,000 per year; the President of the Baltimore & Ohio $50,000, and he of the Erie railroad $40,000, while the poor train hand risks life day and night for the princely sum of $450 a year.

The Atchison Champion characterizes the last election as "the embodiment of crankism and smart Aleckism—a kind of bugaboo, ring smashing idiotic reform year, in which Republicans, individually and collectively, have made bald headed idiots of themselves.

The type made us say, last week that it was on November 3, 1881, that a Leader Extra was issued in the interest of S. N. Wood defending him in the Rice county school bond transaction, while we should have said that said "extra" was issued November 3, 1874, on election day.

The earth has just passed through the meteoric zone. Nobody saw the meteors, with the naked eye, but we are to sail through the group again in 1899, and then the astronomers say, there will be amusements. The erratic particles will fall from the skies like golden snowflakes, and the glittering stars will seem to be involved in a general conflagration. Eighteen years from the 13th inst. the show will begin.

PROTECTION TARIFF.

About thirty five years ago, when the writer was 15 years of age, he made the following comparison: His father was a mechanic. In the family were the father the mother and eleven children. The father, mother, and older brother, and the writer, supported themselves and nine younger members of the family. The gross earnings of the four productive members of the family were about $300. Since everything was purchased for the support of the family, about $500 was paid out for articles, the price of which was affected by the tariff. On some articles the tariff was 50 per cent; on some as low as 10 per cent. A low average would be 20 per cent. It appeared to the writer that his father's family paid $100 to support the National Government; that the four productive members of the family paid $100, or $25 apiece to the National Government, besides supporting themselves and the nine non-producing members of the family. In the same town there was a State Senator. He was worth in real estate and money loaned out $30,000. His family consisted of the father and mother, two sons who were men, and one young daughter. One son assisted the father in the legal business, the other was a teacher. The gross income of the family was at least $3,500. I heard him say that he bought about $240 worth of articles, each year, on which there was duty. It appeared to the writer that the Senator's family paid $50 to the National Government, or that the four productive members paid $12.50 and supported themselves and one non-producing member of the family. The writer made these comparisons: Our family without one dollar of property, except household stuff and clothing, pay $100 National tax. Senator B's, with $30,000, pay $50. Each productive member of our family supports himself and two and one-quarter helpless persons and has no property to help in doing it, and pays $25 National tax. Each productive member of Senator B's, family supports himself and one fourth of a helpless person, has the fourth of the income of $30,000 to help him do it, and pays $12.50 National tax. Is such taxation just and equal? Did the fact that in our family there were nine helpless persons render it our duty to pay twice the tax? Did the fact that we had no property and Senator B. had $30,000 make it our duty to pay twice the tax the Senator's family paid? Is such taxation just and equal? I remember another incident. A prosperous neighbor, who was a high tariff man, was discussing the question with my father, a free-trader. Father had just purchased a dress suit. He took a pencil and paper and handed Mr. S. the following statement:

Cost of cloth in England.....$19
Tariff, 50 per cent..... 8
Importer's expense and profits..... 4
Total.....$28

"Now," said he, "I had to pay $8 tariff on that suit. I could of got it for $20 with no tariff. I had to pay $8 for it. I can see easily what the tariff cost me on that suit. Now, will you set down a like bill of benefits and show me where the tariff returns to me $8 or even 8 cents?" Mr. S. began to talk of protection to home industry, home trade, home markets, higher prices for home products, and higher wages and increased prosperity, etc. "Mr. S.," said father "set down what each item would be without tariff, what it is now under tariff, show the amount each is increased; prove your figures to be facts, not fancies—that they are undeniable mine. as Then, when you have done that, prove that myself, or any other laboring man, or ordinary farmer, or mechanic is benefited 10 cents in a year by 'protection' as you call it. Give me the facts and figures, not assertions, theories, and loose declamation." "Well," said Mr. S., "have you any objection to supporting the Government?" "No," replied father, "I have not. I want burdens to be equal. I pay $100 tariff, and support a large family out of my wages and the wages of my wife and two sons. You pay about $20 and have a good property, and your family are all producers. Is it just? I still want to know if I did not pay $8 bounty out of my pocket to American manufacturers? I want to know why I should do it, and what I get for it? I have never heard his queries answered. Can you do it?—C. B., in New York Times.

This Will Pay.

We consult the best good of our readers in recommending them to now secure the valuable and important information and most interesting reading matter, including a thousand or more of pleasing and instructive Engravings and sketches, that can be obtained at trifling expense in the American Agriculturist. This is not merely a farm and garden Journal, but is very useful to every House-keeper and to every household in Village or Country. It has an entertaining and useful department for the Little ones. It is a journal that pays to take and read. Try it, and our word for it, you will not be disappointed. Its constant, persistent exposures of humbugs and swindling schemes are worth far more than the cost of the paper. The 41st Annual Volume begins January 1, but those subscribing now for 1882 get the rest of this year free. Terms; $1.50 a year; four copies $5 (English or German edition); single copy, 15cts.

N. B.—Those desiring can get an extra or double specimen number post-free for 10 cts., by addressing the Publishers, Orange Judl Co., 751 Broadway, New York.

A $20.00 Bible Prize.
We have received Rutledge's Monthly for December, and find it a bright, interesting little magazine. Its prize puzzle department is something new and interesting. Among other prizes its publishers offer the following:
To the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures, by Dec. 10th, 1881, we will give $20.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15th, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cents with their answer, for which they will receive the Christmas number of the Monthly, an excellent Magazine of 32 pages, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Address, Rutledge Publishing Company, Easton, Pa.

The boys at Diamond Center have organized a literary society, and they make it entertaining.
The Courant failed to make its appearance here last week. We think that somebody wanted to see news in them. I hope they will send them along as soon as they are done reading them.

CARD OF THANKS.
COTTONWOOD FALLS, KANSAS, }
Nov. 24th, 1881. }

Miss Cora Blacksheer:
The undersigned, appreciating the skill displayed by you in the riding contest at our late County Fair, and as a modest tribute to your conduct on that trial, very respectfully present to you the saddle herewith, as a pleasant memento, hoping you will accept the gift in the same spirit in which it is so heartily given.

M. BROWN, J. D. MINNICK,
P. J. NORTON, FRED. SHIPMAN,
ED. PRATT, A. FRIEND,
W. H. SHAFF, FRED. PERRIGO,
W. H. HOLSINGER, W. H. CARTER,
S. T. BENNETT, W. P. MARIN.

GENTLEMEN: I accept the present of the beautiful saddle, in the same spirit in which it is tendered, and desire to thank you, and express my appreciation of the handsome, but, I fear, unmerited gift.

CORA B. BLACKSHEER.

BLOOD! BLOOD! BUT THERE WAS NO BLOOD!

Last Saturday about noon, a casual observer on the streets of this city might have seen two of the prominent citizens of this county, one a resident of this city and the other a farmer, with blood in their eyes, and revenge in their hearts, each seeking to get the drop on the other; but as no blood was spilled, and the affair was submitted to arbitration and amicably adjusted, and the parties concerned thus far being the only interested parties in the matter, we shall not mention any names, hoping that a like occurrence may never again happen here.

Joint Committee Meeting.
The Greenback and Democratic County Central Committees, together with the candidates on the late Peoples' Union Ticket, will meet at the Courant office, in this city, at 1 o'clock, p. m., Saturday, December 3, 1881, for the purpose of transacting important business; and it is hoped every committeeman and candidate will be present.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1882.
THE SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and gracious, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. THE SUN'S light is for mankind and mankind of every sort; but its general warmth is for the good; while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.
THE SUN of 1882 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconvoluted way all the news of the world. It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN'S example.
THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.
By liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.
We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or in Bokhara.
The politics we have decided upon; and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN'S political course.
THE WEEKLY SUN gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.
Who does not know and read at least THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a Golconda of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor, matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book big or little?
If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.
Our terms are as follows:
For the daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, 55 cents a month, or $5.50 a year; or including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price by mail, post paid, $7.70 a year, postage paid.
The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year postage paid.
The price of THE WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

FOOD ADVANCING IN PRICE.

The Cost of Living a Great Deal More Than It Was a Year Ago. Housekeepers are complaining that the cost of living is from 15 to 25 per cent more than it was a year ago.

than it was. Lard is cheaper, because less is now exported, and bacon and choice small Jersey pork remain the same.

"Beef has risen in price during the past three months," said a Washington market butcher. "We used to sell prime ribs for 18 cents a pound, but now we have to charge 20 cents. Pork hocks cost 28 cents, a rise of 3 cents. Sirloin steak brings 20 cents, an increase of 2 cents. Veal is very high, loin has gone up 8 cents and cutlets 5."

HOFFENSTEIN ON WOMEN.

His Opinion of Them, and His Advice to Them. "Herman," said Hoffman, as he noticed the gloomy look of his clerk, "dere was something de matter mit you, vas you sick?"

"No, sir?" "Veil, vat vas, den?" "I don't like to say any ding about it, Mister Hoffman, but I made a brobos at Rachel Goslinsky de oder day, ven she tells me dat I can come around again ven business vas better."

"Cheep butter is always cheap," said a Washington market butter dealer and prime dairy butter is always hard to get, and always has to be well paid for.

"Fresh pork costs 12 cents a pound, or 2 cents more than it did three months ago," said a pork butcher in Washington market "and, hams are cheaper, because the summer demand is over."

Circumlocution.

The following amusing anecdote is related to show how red tape regulation may hamper an army. The French cavalry in the province of Oran in Africa required provender, the intendant bought a supply in the surrounding country, and it conveyed to the town of Oran, and shipped thence in three sailing vessels to Marseilles in order that the intendant's chief of the Fifteenth corps might duly examine and approve the purchase.
