NUMBER FORTY-THREE

Scrap Rubber Is Pouring In To Filling Stations

11,000 Pounds In By Wednesday Noon; Drive To Continue

In response to President Roosevelt's call for collection of reclaimable rubber, Mills County citizens began bringing in scrap rubber Monday morning.

E. T. Fairman, Chairman of the Rubber Salvage Committee of Mills County, reports that 11,000 pounds had been delivered to gasoline filling stations by noon Wednesday. Gasoline filling stations are paying one cent per pound. Any citizen, however, who wishes to donate his scrap rubber may do so. No profits will be made in this collection of rubber by any filling station operator or anyone connected with the collection. Any profits made will be equally divided between the USO, Army Relief, Navy Relief, and the American Red Cross.

Scrap rubber being brought in includes worn out tires, tubes, crepe rubber soles, rubber boots and overshoes, tennis shoes, rubber belting, rubber gloves, rubber sheets, pads and matting, rain coats, rubber heels, bathing caps, and hundreds of other articles containing rubber.

This scrap rubber drive will continue through June 30. By that date every available scrap of rubber in this county should have been delivered to some filling station. When this drive is completed the United States will know the amount of reclaimable rubber on hand to be added to the stock of rubber now in storage. This collection will also determine whether it will be necessary to ration gasoline as a rubber conservation measure.

If you have not already searched every nook and corner for scrap rubber and delivered it to your filling station, do so at once. The collection will not be complete without your contribution.

ALL CONOCO SERVICE STATIONS HELPING IN SCRAP RUBBER DRIVE

W. C. Frazier, local representative for the Continental Oil Company, this week announced that all Conoco Mileage Merchants and the Continental Oil Company will pay one cent per pound for any kind of scrap rubber.

Hot water bottles, rubber gloves, rubber hose, rubber heels, overshoes, tennis shoes, tires, tubes, etc., are all needed for recapping and retreading automobile and truck tires.

Mr. Frazier believes that there is enough scrap rubber for recapping and retreading to "Keep our cars rolling." He also believes that if the people will respond to this drive gasoline rationing may be prevented in this area.

Take this rubber to your nearest Conoco Mileage Merchant and receive one cent per pound for it. In doing this you are doing your part in "Keeping them rolling."

Continental Oil Company entered into this campaign to purchase this rubber for the government at the request of the President of the United States. This campaign runs from June 15 through June 30.

Any and every kind of scrap rubber is wanted.

CEMETERY WORKING

GEORGE W. ROLLINS IS CANDIDATE FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

GEORGE W. ROLLINS

George W. Rollins, who recently announced his candidacy for the office of State Representative from the 104th District composed of Mills and Comanche Counties, makes the following statement to the voters of this district:

"I served in the 43rd Legislature. Age 53 years, and have been in Comanche County 30 years, state of Texas 34 years. Most of the people of the district either know me or know of me. Have always appreciated my friends and with the privilege of making new friends throughout the district our association can be broadened over the period of time as we come in contact with each other.

"My first efforts or aims will be co-operation with our present Governor who was Speaker of the House during my term of office in the 43rd Legislature. Our friendship is one of long standing, and there will be no question about our co-operation in measures coming up in the State Legislature. It has always been our practice to consult each other on questions where the citizens as a whole might be affected.

"Believing my experience in the Legislature, as well as out of the Legislature has given me the opportunity to observe and weigh many questions, and the further fact that we are in war, I firmly believe our policy should be to work in close harmony with our government.

"Believing that I can fairly and impartially render the kind of service you have a right to expect, I pledge my best efforts in your behalf. If you believe that I can be of service as a member of the Legislature, I will appreciate your vote and influence.

"It has not been my purpose or intention to make a very extensive campaign of the district, for the reason that the Government, and all of the affairs having to do with the rubber situation urge us to be as conservative as we possibly can, but the facts remain that due to some competition in the race, that I will make every effort possible to see my constituents of the District. However, the time will not permit me to make a very close canvass of the district. Therefore, I must depend on my friends to pass the word along to their neighbors and friends as to my making the race for Representative. I will appreciate very much any help or any suggestion from anyone with reference to any work that you might see fit to do. Realizing that our efforts to win the war must be first; for the further fact that if we do not win the war, and I feel confident we will, but if we do not, then we would have no politics or legislature, or anything else left. Surely, at this crucial time, it behooves all of us to put our shoulders to the wheel and push just a little as it is a job of co-operation for all of us.

BILLIE WILCOX IS A CANDIDATE FOR GOLD STAR 4-H CLUB GIRL

Billie Wilcox is Mt. Olive's candidate for Mills County Gold Star 4-H Club girl. Billie is 14 years old, and has been a club girl for four years.

Over this period she has made many accomplishments, but since January of this year she has completed the following: She made a poultry scrap book, which taught her the proper care of chickens. From this teaching, she has put it into practice by raising 30 Rhode Island Red chickens this spring. She is helping her mother with 36 turkeys.

Billie is aiding in the raising of the family garden, and has helped her mother can 15 quarts of turnip greens. She plans to can all the fruits and vegetables needed by the family with her mother's help this summer.

Since her brother has gone to the army, Billie does field work too, even to driving the tractor. Then comes the milking, and Billie does her part too by milking six cows each night and morning.

Even though Billie has to take her brother's place in the field, she has time to sew. She has made a good shoe bag and a laundry bag for her bedroom. Billie is the bedroom demonstrator for her club, and she plans to paper the room as well as other items. She is now making a dresser scarf for her dresser. Since school was out, she has completed a quilt top. For recreation Billie plays volleyball on Friday nights at the school; so Billie wanted a comfortable dress to wear while she engaged in this sport, and made a most becoming dress from feed sacks. Billie thinks that 4-H Club work is very worthwhile.

YOUNG MEN 18 AND 19 BEING TAKEN IN ARMY

Sgt. William J. Hess, Brownwood recruiting sergeant, said this week that during the month of June young men of 18 and 19 years of age are being enlisted direct for several different branches of the service. Sgt. Enlistments are being made for the Air Corps, Coast Artillery, Field Artillery, Cavalry, Infantry, Engineers, and Signal Corps. Enlistments are also being made of men 18 to 44, if they are qualified, and they will have an excellent chance of getting in any one of the above branches of the service. Young men who are interested in any of the above branches are in making application for Aviation Cadet training, or immediate enlistment, or for the Air Corps Reserve are requested to call at the Army Recruiting Office in the Memorial Hall in Brownwood. ## JUDGE SMITH MAKING STRONG CAMPAIGN FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

JUDGE E. F. SMITH

Judge E. F. Smith of Austin, former first assistant Texas Attorney General and widely-known author of works on law, is continuing his active campaign in the district for the office of Chief Justice of the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

During the past week, Judge Smith contacted citizens in the western part of the Third Civil Appeals district, and at Brady pointed out that his opponent in the race, the incumbent judge, has reached the retirement age set by law for federal judges. Mr. Smith, who is 52 years of age, urged the voters to consider they should have a younger, more vigorous Chief Justice on the bench.

Smith pointed out that the Texas Civil Judicial Council now is preparing legislation for consideration next year which makes the civil appeals courts final in most matters, and emphasized this would put still greater responsibilities upon these courts, and require not only great ability in law but also energy and hard work.

Even at present, Mr. Smith said, an active civil appeals judge will write on an average from 35 to 40 opinions a year; but that a search of the court's records shows that the present Chief Justice, his opponent, wrote but seven opinions in 1941 originally disposing of cases. That made the average cost of these opinions to the taxpayers more than $1,000 each, Mr. Smith pointed out. When a judge writes the average 40 opinions, the average cost is from $100 to $200 per opinion.

Attorney Smith has received testimonials from many lawyers, educators, and businessmen affirming that he has the highest reputation as a good lawyer, a hard worker, a gifted writer on legal subjects, a real Democrat; that he is learned not alone in the law but in government, history, literature and philosophy, a man who will make an excellent appellate court judge.

Judge Smith, at the start of his campaign, visited the Eagle Office and announced his candidacy to the voters of Mills County in this paper. His name has appeared since in the Eagle's Political Announcement Column. Attention of the readers is called to his advertisement in this issue on another page.

NEWS from
YOUR COUNTY HOME
DEMONSTRATION AGENT
TEXAS EXTENSION SERVICE

By FRANCES BRAMMER
Mills County Home Demonstration Agent

SLIP COVERS

Mrs. Ruby Sullivan of the San Angelo Sewing Machine Shop gave a slip cover demonstration for the Home Demonstration Club women of Mills County in the home demonstration agent's office on Friday, June 12. Twenty-five persons attended, and all expressed the opinion that they could make slip covers now.

The season for slip-covers has arrived, and many homemakers have inquired about slip covers to protect their furniture. It's a good idea and right in line with the Victory Demonstrator's pledge to take "good care of everything I use" as one way to help win the war.

Slip covers not only protect good upholstering material from summer dust and wear; they also will dress up a shabby chair or couch and add a touch of gaiety to a room at small cost. Slip-covers are useful as year-round covers for pieces of furniture which get hard wear, because they can be made of less expensive materials than would be used for upholstering. They can be taken off and laundered whenever necessary and in that way always kept fresh. Sometimes old chairs which need it can be re-upholstered in heavy duck or ticking available in the home, and then covered with a slip cover which will harmonize with the furnishings.

Some commercial patterns for chairs and sofas can be bought at department stores, but it is better to make your own pattern by measuring and pinning. Homemakers might consult the home demonstration agent or obtain a copy of Farmers' Bulletin No. 1873, Slip Covers for Furniture, for further information. Single copies of the bulletin can be obtained from the A. and M. College Extension Service, College Station.

TOMATOES—MORNING, NOON, AND NIGHT

Tomatoes can be prepared in so many ways and so easily, homemakers will do well to make them a stock item in the menu for the remainder of the year.

As a beginner, tomato juice is always refreshing, or it can be made into a cold congealed consommé. Use baked tomatoes plain or stuffed, scalloped or stewed. Tomato sauce goes well with all kinds of meats, fish, or beans.

There is no end to the number of salads which can be made with tomatoes. Whatever the salad, choose tomatoes with a deep red color. Attractive salads may be prepared by cutting the tomato in fourths or sixths and spreading it apart in flower-like fashion. Then the center may be filled with cottage cheese, salmon, tuna, raw cabbage, or any food which combines well with tomatoes.

Although the tomato was once the Cinderella of the horticultural world, it is now one of the most important, nutritionally speaking. It provides three vitamins and three minerals. This year's tomato production goal calls for 33 per cent more canned tomatoes and 12 per cent more fresh tomatoes.

Use the hot water method of canning for tomatoes. The hot water method consists of heating the filled cans or jars for a definite period of time in a water boiler. This boiler may be a commercial canner made for such purposes or it may be a wash boiler, tub, bucket, or other large utensil with a well fitted lid or a wooden or wire rack in the bottom to permit the water to circulate under the jars. The rack is needed for even processing and to prevent jars from breaking. The temperature reached is never higher than the boiling point of water.

"Select fresh, firm, red-ripe, sun-sweetened tomatoes of uniform size. Place in cheese cloth bag or wire basket and dip in boiling water for 1 minute or steam them until the skin slips. Remove and plunge immediately into cold water. Drain, core, and peel promptly. Pack in jars or cans as closely as possible. Fill with tomato juice or puree and press down gently until juice covers tomatoes. Season with one teaspoon of salt per quart. Exhaust 10 minutes before sealing. Exhausting means getting all the cold air out of the jar and having the food in the center of the jar as hot as the food near the outside of the jar. Place jars in the cooker, which has enough hot water in it that the water comes within two inches of the top of the jar. When steam fills the top of the cooker, start counting processing time. Remove the jars from the cooker, and seal tightly after shaking out all the air bubbles. Add enough water to the cooker to bring the water to about two inches above the top of the jar. Process quart and pint glass jars for 30 minutes in boiling water. Process plain No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans for 25 minutes. However, tomatoes of excellent quality, free from cracks and bad places, which have ripened evenly on the vine will give a better canned product if processed only 20 minutes. When jars are removed from the cooker, check seal on all jars except those that have the two piece caps, which consist of screw rings and lid with sealing composition attached.

When the tomato juice separates, it has been cooked at too high temperature.

PEN THE ROOSTERS

After the hatching season ends, pen up the roosters, sell them, or can them. A 15,000,000 dollar loss may result from production of fertile eggs during the summer. That sum would buy a lot of machineguns or cannon, but even more serious is the loss of food stocks it represents.

Pen the broody hens. They break eggs and reduce the quality of eggs. A small pen without a nest or roost soon discourages broodiness.

Clean litter, especially in nests, helps to decrease the number of soiled eggs. If possible have at least one nest for every five hens. Gather eggs at least twice a day in a wire basket, which allows air to circulate around them and reduces the internal temperature. Many farm families have built iceless refrigerators for holding eggs to check evaporation and reduce internal temperature. Eggs kept in this refrigerator, plans for which may be obtained from the home demonstration agent, suffer little, if any deterioration in quality when marketed twice weekly.

ONIONS

It is onion storage time. Although it is easy to grow them, it is a different story when it comes to storing them for a long period of time without losing most of them from rot. Let's see what can be done to avoid this trouble.

When the tops have fallen over, the onions are ready for harvest. Plants that have seed stalks will not produce onions suitable for storage, because the seed stalk leaves a thick neck at the top of the onion that will not dry or cure down. Onions of this type should be used as soon as possible after harvest.

When the onions are pulled up they should be placed in a small pile in a shady place. If the ground is wet, or if you live where there are heavy dews, it will be best to spread the onions on some old boards or to tie the tops together in bunches of a dozen or more, and hang them over the fence or clothes line for a few days. When they have dried sufficiently, they will rattle like tissue paper when handled. If you plan to bunch the onions together, they can be hung up in an out-house where it is cool and dark and where the air will circulate.

Onions that are to be stored in a cellar on slatted shelves should have the tops clipped off about an inch and a half, and when they have dried until they will rattle, they can be spread out on the shelf so that the air will circulate through the onion pile, which should not be too deep.

E. F. SMITH
FOR
Chief Justice
Court of Civil Appeals

Thousand Dollar Court Opinions

"The present Chief Justice wrote seven opinions during the year 1941 originally disposing of lawsuits. These opinions cost the tax payers more than a thousand dollars each! Is it any wonder that the Court is so far behind with its work? The people will choose between E. F. Smith and the present Chief Justice. We have made our choice. It is E. F. Smith."—The Holland Progress.

Elect E. F. Smith in the Public Interest

"We make the following statement which we believe to be accurate, for the benefit of the voters: E. F. Smith has a good record as a lawyer, he is an able writer on legal subjects, and has an enviable record in the public service. The Court is about eighteen months behind with its work. E. F. Smith is fifty-two years old and is known as a hard worker. The incumbent has been in his present position for about twenty years and previously he had served on the Commission of Appeals. He will be seventy years old in 1943. The term of office is six years. The incumbent is asking for a fourth elective term of six years at an age which is the retirement age fixed by Congress for Federal Judges."

—Sterling City News Record.

"We agree with President Roosevelt that Judges should retire at seventy years, giving place to younger men who are more familiar with present conditions and who have the strength to do the work that our Judges are required to do."

—Llano News.

"From our exchanges it appears that practically all the sixty-four newspapers published in the twenty-four counties of the Third Supreme Judicial District favor the candidacy of E. F. Smith. This is true because it is believed that this able lawyer and writer on legal subjects can best serve the public interest as a Judge on our Court of Civil Appeals. He has our support."—Hays County Herald.

Comments About E. F. Smith

"Mr. Smith was admitted to the Bar in 1915. He was an Assistant Attorney General in the administration of Attorney General C. M. Cureton and was First Assistant to Attorney General W. A. Keeling. He has engaged in the private practice of law in Austin since 1924. In 1932 he was delegate at large from Texas to the Democratic National Convention which nominated President Roosevelt. He is author of Steek's Corporation Forms and author of A Saga of Texas Law. A review of A Saga of Texas Law written by Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson places Judge Smith among the nation's outstanding authors of legal subjects."

—Austin American.

In this time of national crisis, it is good to have one of the foremost lawyers of the state offer as a candidate for high judicial office. By natural ability, training, experience and temperament E. F. Smith is well qualified for the office he seeks."—Austin Tribune.

"The candidacy of E. F. Smith is most gratifying. He is one of the best lawyers in Texas, a gifted writer on legal subjects, who at fifty-two is in his physical and mental prime, a good man, and a hard worker. E. F. Smith is of the people and believes with his whole heart and soul in protecting all our natural rights according to the guarantees of the Bill of Rights."—Taylor Daily Press.

"Men and women who have known E. F. Smith have a concurrence of opinion, which is that he is both high-minded and honorable and that his ability as a lawyer is unchallenged."—LaGrange Journal.

"E. F. Smith is strictly a lawyer, in no sense a politician."—Wm. M. Thornton, Austin Correspondent of The Dallas News.

The above are but a few of the many testimonials to the character, ability and qualifications of E. F. Smith. Others will be presented during the campaign.

(A political ad paid for by friends of E. F. Smith)

"Fortunately, the present Chief Justice, who at seventy years is asking for a fourth elective term of six years, is wealthy. The Court is far behind with its work and in those troubled times only men who are willing and able to work should be elected to public office."

—Winters Enterprise.

"E. F. Smith did not inherit or marry wealth. He began his career at the Bar, as did most lawyers of twenty-five or thirty years ago, with nothing more than high hopes, ambitions and willingness to work. He has won his present high place among Texas lawyers by a wholehearted devotion to the law and by strict observance of the ethics of his profession."—Temple Daily Telegram.

"Judge E. F. Smith is one of the better lawyers of Texas, and a man who enjoys the respect of those who know him best. He announced for Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals last December. Soon after, the present Chief Justice announced he would be a candidate for a fourth elective term of six years. We are sorry he did this, for we have high regard for the person and character of the present Chief Justice, but believe that at his advanced age, his rejection would be contrary to the best interests of the people."—Georgetown Sun.

Recognizing the unchallenged ability and integrity of E. F. Smith, a majority of the lawyers in the Third Supreme Judicial District favor his candidacy. Ask your lawyer about the ability of E. F. Smith.

"By every test, E. F. Smith is well qualified to make a good appellate court judge."—Lampasas Record.

"E. F. Smith's election will assure the people of a judge whose sole obligation will be to all the people."—Robert Lee Observer.

"E. F. Smith has the highest standing as a lawyer."—Lometa Reporter.

"E. F. Smith is best known in West Texas for the long and splendid fight he made in defending the farm and ranch owners when the attempt was made to take from them the title to the minerals in their lands."—Brady Standard.

"E. F. Smith's experience as a lawyer, his enviable record in the public service and his recognized talent as a writer on legal subjects should enable him to be a good judge."—Texas Posten.

"We like E. F. Smith."—San Saba News.

"I have known E. F. Smith since he was a boy. I respect him for his moral and intellectual honesty, his personal integrity, his wholesome interest in the cause of education, his genuine democracy, his real patriotism, and for his learning, not alone in law, but in the subjects of government, history, philosophy, and all literature."—R. M. Cavness, President, San Marcos Academy.

"The legal ability of E. F. Smith has long been recognized by the lawyers and judges of his acquaintance. A good man, an experienced lawyer and a hard worker, he will, in our opinion, make an excellent appellate court judge."—Lockhart Post Register.

RECLASSIFIED MEN WITH SKILLED TRADES ASKED TO ENLIST NOW

Men who have recently been reclassified for selective service may enlist in the Naval Reserve, provided application is made before call to report for Army induction is mailed, officers at Abilene said today.

Many wait until it is too late and find themselves inducted when, as skilled men, they might have voluntarily enlisted in the Naval Reserve as petty officers at much higher rate of pay, it was said.

Physical standards for Naval Reserve enlistment have recently been lowered and many men previously rejected are now able to meet physical requirements.

Qualified men are urgently needed for operation and upkeep of naval ships and stations. Petty officer ratings are now open to aviation and auto mechanics, bakers, cooks, carpenters, electricians, machinists, metal smiths, painters, pattern makers, pharmacists and hospital attendants, radio technicians and practically all types of experienced construction workers.

Unskilled men, and those skilled in trades not open for enlistment, have opportunity to attend Navy Trade Schools and win promotion in the service.

Jellied Meat Dish to serve on a war work day

Dorothy Greig

Is the day crowded with war work? Is yet there's the family, hungry as usual and expecting good substantial food.

Well, how about whipping together this jellied meat dish early in the morning? Slide the mold into the refrigerator and at lunch or supper out it comes, quivery firm and ready to be sliced down.

For it we use ham, and then add both condensed chicken and chicken gumbo soups for their pieces of chicken, rice and fineokra and that delicious all-through flavor of chicken. We spike it with grated horseradish and pimiento, bind it with eggs and cream. What a treat for a warm day! Coolly refreshing, yet so crisply nourishing. Turned out on crisp greens it's a meat-and-salad combined. Precede it with glasses of chilled tomato juice.

- Southern Ham Mold
- 1 1/2 tablespoons gelatine (softened in 1/4 cup cold water)
  - 1 can condensed chicken soup
  - 1 can condensed chicken-gumbo soup
  - 2 eggs separated
  - 1/2 cup baked ham, ground
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 2 tablespoons horseradish, freshly grated
  - 2 tablespoons pimiento, chopped
  - 1/2 cup whipping cream
- Sprinkle the 1 1/2 tablespoons of gelatine on the cold water and let it stand about five minutes. Heat the chicken soup and the chicken-gumbo soup in the upper part of the double boiler. Pour some of the hot soup on the beaten egg yolks and when add them to the remaining soup, cook the mixture for 4-5 minutes in the double boiler. Pour the hot mixture over the gelatine and stir until the gelatine has dissolved. Cool until the mixture begins to thicken, then fold in the beaten egg whites, ground ham, freshly grated horseradish, chopped pimiento, salt and whipped cream. Pour the ham mixture into a mold which has been rinsed out with cold water and place in the refrigerator. When firm, turn out on lettuce watercress or chloery. Serves 8-10

The Care and Maintenance of Electric Ranges on the Farm

It is easy to keep clean every part of a modern electric range.

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

TIME passes quickly, and I find that it was about a year ago that I told you what to look for when buying an electric range and how to manage it to obtain the best results. Today, war needs prevent the manufacture of any more new ranges for general sale until peace comes again. Also, because of the critical materials involved, repair and replacement parts for existing units may become increasingly difficult to obtain. Accordingly, if you are the fortunate owner of an electric range, I want to give you some suggestions for keeping it in top operating condition.

Wash the outside enameled surface of your range, when cool, with warm soapy water each week—immediately wipe off all fruit juices and other acids. Do not wash the heating units. Unless it is extremely dirty, you need not use soap and water on the bright metal trim—if it is chromium, merely rub with a clean dry cloth, using no polish or abrasive of any kind; if it is nickel, as on older ranges, use a good metal polish.

Avoid letting spilled food dry or harden on your range—wipe it off at once. Should it fall on open-type surface units, allow it to burn off—do not use a stiff brush or sharp instrument to remove it. Closed surface units may be cleaned with steel wool or other abrasive, provided very little water is used. Although most closed units can be raised to permit removal and cleaning of the drip pan or reflector, you should be guided by the manufacturer's recommendations in that regard.

After each use, and as soon as the oven has cooled, all spilled food should be removed and the lining wiped with a damp cloth. To clean the oven, first take out the heating units if they are readily removable (your instruction book will tell you). Then wash the lining with soap and water, using a mild abrasive if necessary. Keep the oven dry and do not use it for storing food.

An electric range requires little maintenance. However, it is good insurance to have it checked once a year by a competent serviceman who will make certain that the heating units and thermostats are working satisfactorily, that the vents are clean, that the wiring is in perfect condition and that the range is level.

If your range is several years old, it probably has open-type surface units. Your serviceman undoubtedly can replace them with the newer enclosed type and thus make your range more efficient and modern. If timing devices are out of order, he can either repair or exchange them for rebuilt units. Broken or worn door catches are easily replaced, and it is not difficult for him to neatly patch—with one of the synthetic porcelain preparations on the market—even severe chips in the enameled surface.

Mr. Tieman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Tieman of Priddy. The ceremony was held in the Lutheran Church of San Diego, Calif., at 7 p. m. June 6, 1942.

Ferns were the only decorations. The bride wore a navy blue redingote suit with pink accessories. Her flowers were white gardenias. Attending the groom as best man was John Spitzberg of Pottsville, Tex. The single ring ceremony was read by the pastor of the Armistice and Lutheran Church of San Diego.

After the ceremony a joint reception for Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwartz, whose marriage followed the Tieman wedding, and the bride and groom, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bosse and Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Bosse in San Diego.

A three-tiered wedding cake, sandwiches and punch were served to fourteen Texans who were present at the wedding.

Nabors Creek H-D Club

The Nabors Creek Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Johnnie Wolf Thursday, June 11. There were eight members, one visitor and Miss Brammer, our home demonstration agent, present.

The house was called to order by our president, Mrs. J. M. Wrinkle. As our secretary was absent, Mrs. J. H. Plummer called roll, and read the minutes of the last meeting. Most of the committees gave a short report. Our council delegate was absent. Mrs. J. M. Wrinkle and Miss Brammer gave a report on the last council meeting.

The meeting was turned over to Miss Brammer and she demonstrated how to can tomatoes by the hot water bath method. She also explained how to can berries by the same method. Miss Brammer discussed many other topics of interest of the club members and Miss Greta Sue Hines, who the club enjoyed having with us.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. H. B. Curtis July 2 at which time the club will demonstrate making slip covers. So all members are urged to be present, and all visitors are welcome.

Those present were Mesdames J. M. Wrinkle, J. R. Parker, H. S. Davenport, Johnnie Wolf, E. G. Lettetter, J. A. Stark, E. C. Curtis, J. H. Plummer, Miss Greta Sue Hines, and Miss Brammer.—Reporter.

All this, together with lemonade, was served by the hostess on a decorated table most pleasing to the eye.

Lesson for June 21

THE TASK COMMITTED TO THE DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 28:16-20; Mark 16:14-20; Luke 24:46-53. GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

Witnesses of the resurrection—that privilege of the disciples carried with it the responsibility of declaring the good news of completed redemption to all the nations of the earth. In doing so they were destined to meet opposition and unbelief, to feel weariness and to know discouragement. So the Lord, before leaving this world for His present ministry at the Father's right hand (Mark 16:19; Heb. 7:25), prepared them by giving them a divine commission, which they accepted and acted upon with the assurance of His power and blessing. The lesson is summarized in the words, "Go ye" (Matt. 28:19); "They went forth" (Mark 16:20); "And He . . . blessed them" (Luke 24:50).

I. "Go Ye" (Matt. 28:16-20). God's plans are never small plans. World evangelization, nothing less, was the goal He had in mind, and to which Christ commissioned this little group of humble folk who were His disciples. It was not only a great commission, but a daring one.

Back of such marching orders there must be authority and power—and Christ had them (v. 18)—all power and all authority. No need to measure or compare, for His is the ultimate and complete authority. This is the One who said, "Come unto me"; then, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men," and who now says, "Go." If we heed one command, should we not absolutely obey the others?

The message is His message, the gospel (Mark 16:15). It is the only message! The witnesses of Christ are not called to educate and civilize the heathen without winning them to Christ. To do so is only to prepare stronger and more skillful enemies of all that we count holy.

But a great program means nothing if it is not carried out; a great commission is only words unless it is accepted and obeyed. We read of the disciples that—

II. "They Went Forth" (Mark 16:14-20)

The call and command are given in this passage. The power is made clear and somewhat in detail, but the significant thing is that they actually went forth to preach.

The response of these early Christians was immediate and enthusiastic. Would that such a spirit had characterized the church through all the generations since then, for if it had, the commission would long since have been carried out. Dr. R. A. Torrey has estimated that if everyone in a church of 2,000 were to win one soul a year, and each convert win one soul each year, the world would be evangelized in less than 35 years.

But while on the whole the church has failed, there have been valiant souls all down through its history who have given themselves to the business of soul-winning. With them, as with these of the first century, the secret is ever "The Lord working with them." We read that as He was leaving this earth and His disciples, He lifted up His hands—

III. "And He . . . Blessed Them" (Luke 24:49-53).

God has always honored those who in faith have obeyed His command. The whole history of missionary endeavor bears eloquent testimony to that fact.

Sometimes we marvel at the success of a great movement, such as that founded by John Wesley. The answer is that God found a man, or a little group of men or women, willing to take Him at His word and step out in earnest purpose to obey Him. "For forty years John Wesley carried on his mission of canvassing for Christ as a parliamentary candidate canvasses for votes in his constituency in the strenuous three weeks before an election" (Arnold's Commentary). Little wonder that with the blessing of Christ upon his work brings joy to many even to this day.

Note that the disciples who had been made sad and despondent by their parting with Christ at Calvary now went away in joy. The joy of the Lord is the strength of the Christian worker. It gives him abundant grace and power in the hour of need and makes him a fruitful servant.

A Warm Soul

I saw once lying side by side in a great workshop, two heads made of metal. The one was perfect; all the features of a noble, manly face came out clear and distinct in their lines of strength and beauty; in the other, scarcely a single feature could be recognized; it was all marred and spoiled. "The metal had been let grow a little too cool, sir," said the man who was showing it to me. I could not help thinking how true that was of many a Canon more precious than metal.—Canon Teignmouth Shore.

SUCCESSFUL PRICE CONTROL

By GEORGE C. HESTER

More and more the effects of the war are being felt in every phase of American life. Life as usual is on the way out. A regimented life is on the way in. Millions of Americans for the first time have had the experience of standing in line for ration books and ration cards.

Far more extensive rationing is in the offing. Announcement comes that the office of Price Administration will employ nearly 100,000 people to enforce the price controls and price ceilings. This great army of officials will inspect, advise, and otherwise supervise the multitude of price controls and rulings that business men are facing.

The fact is that all of American life will be changed. There will be changed social habits, changed buying habits, and changed business methods.

Unfortunately, many painful and unpleasant things will happen. Many forms of small business is already on the way out. The situation in all probability will grow worse instead of better as the war continues. By another year the present inventories of many retail stores, for example, will be eaten up, and they will face increasing difficulties in replenishing their supplies. As a result, 1942 will likely see a terrific slump in retail sales. The price ceilings imposed over increasing production costs will narrow still further the profit margins along many lines.

The economic straws in the wind indicate that many forms of business are in for hard sledding in the months ahead. Rationing will reach into every household.

The American people generally are prepared to make the sacrifices that are necessary for war. Unfortunately, the feeling is growing that much of the governmental planning and regimentation is ill-advised in conception and hap-hazard in its operation. The conflicting official statements coming out of Washington only tend to compound the confusion. The fact that the government itself refused to go on a war basis by streamlining its own organization and procedures is most discouraging. The vast personal force for the O.P.A., for example, bids fair to constitute one of the greatest systems of official bureaucracy the modern world has ever known.

In the hands of these officials will rest the power to make endless decisions on complex questions of price control that may involve the very existence of countless business concerns. This is a responsibility of astounding magnitude. This rapid thrust into government regimentation of our economy raises questions of profound importance to every American citizen. That extreme measures will be necessary to prevent run-away prices is admitted.

Whether price control is going to be really effective is still uncertain. As this column has stated, several weeks ago, any system of price control that does not include the control of all factors of costs, can at best be only partially effective. Never in the history of the world have even the most powerful and ruthless governments been able to prevent price inflations where there are a combination of natural causes operating toward such effects in the price structure.

This is going to be a difficult task in America. The success of such a program will depend largely on two things. One of these is directly the responsibility of the O.P.A. In the first place, this agency must build its field force on a carefully selected basis. Already charges are being made that the O.P.A. field force is weak, largely political in its make up, which is incurring public suspicion of graft and favoritism. This may not exist, but such suspicion is inevitable if local politicians with their cliques are to appoint the personnel and thereby control the machinery of the O.P.A.

Then, too, the O.P.A. should proceed carefully and tactfully in the exercises of such extensive powers. After all, the preservation of the average business man is the very warp and woof of this American democracy. The health and security of the American economy is a defense question second to none in terms of preserving our future democracy.

The second thing most essential for success of price control is the proper degree of public co-operation. In the final analysis, public understanding and public support are the only things that will make price control work. In short, the public must be "in" on price control. If chiseling and evasions become rampant, public confidence so necessary to sustain it, will be destroyed. In fact, the supreme test of both governmental officials and the public is rapidly approaching in this country. It represents a fight against some of the most dangerous and destructive forces that are released by war.

These are the forces that disrupt the price structures, destroy monetary values, and leave in their wake the wrecks of disordered finance. We are now proceeding into this fight and from which there is no turning back. Every official and every private citizen must realize that fact.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

(From Eagle Files June 23, 1917)

State Department Health Notes

Are you a citizen of the United States? Can you prove it?

The easiest and sometimes the only way you can definitely prove native-born citizenship is by a birth certificate showing that your birth is on record at the State Department of Health.

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, this week re-emphasized the importance of every American citizen being in possession of his birth certificate and outlined the simple procedure for obtaining this vital record.

"Requests for certified copies should be made direct to the State Health Department, Bureau of Vital Statistics," Dr. Cox said. "There is no charge except the fifty cents necessary to pay for making a search of the records and a photostatic copy if the record is on file."

Birth certificates are doubly important in the national emergency, serving as proof of citizenship which is necessary for entrance to our armed forces or for employment in any national defense industry. A record of birth is also useful in establishing the time and place of birth as well as parentage and can be of great assistance in the settlement of estates and other legal matters.

"American people are beginning to realize the importance of birth records since our entry into the war," Dr. Cox declared. "In the month of March alone, the Bureau of Vital Certificates received 19,810 requests for copies of birth records; and in April and May the requests have continued to increase steadily."

AVIATION WEEK

WATCH INVESTMENTS SAYS ROGER BABSON

By ROGER W. BABSON

New York City, June 19.—Once a year I like to give readers a brief resume of some of the various leading industries. I am arranging these, however, alphabetically rather than in accordance with their immediate importance as they are changing their relative position each month. Following are my condensed analyses:

Industries For Consideration
Agricultural Equipment—An essential industry. Profits satisfactory, dividends liberal. Farm prosperity should maintain post-war sales.

Automotive—Practically entirely converted to war production. Profit margin down. Taxes up. War-end outlook favorable.

Aviation—Outlook for manufacturing companies poor. Planes will be "a dime a dozen." Transportation units should boom after the war.

Banks—Assets approaching new highs. Low rates and government holdings make earnings moderate. Prices low in relation to book values.

Building—Slump in residential construction and inability to convert to war work has caused severe inflation. Should boom at war's end.

Chemicals—Vulnerable to excess profits tax. Industry in growth period aided by research. Has inflation merit. Subject to competition.

Dairy Products—Aided by government and Lease-Lend orders. Noted for stability, income and increasing volume. Post-war exports uncertain.

Department Stores—Shortages, rationing and price freezing offsetting large consumer demand. Immediate outlook poor. Peace would reverse picture.

Electrical Equipment—Sales at record highs. Earnings good but subject to excess profits taxation. Capitalization increasing. Renewal of appliance business and post-war exports will help cushion after-war adjustments.

Finance Companies—Hard hit by elimination of consumer goods and restrictions on credit. Post-war outlook favorable.

Fire Insurance—A basic necessity. Not materially affected by wars, booms, or depressions. Conservatively managed. Excellent dividend record.

Gold Mining—Suffering from government control of money, high taxes and operating costs. Immediate outlook clouded; but should come back with after-war inflation.

Machinery—A real "war baby." Record outputs and earnings. One of the first to benefit from war; but one of the first to deflate with peace.

Mail Order—Sharply deflated due to war. Financial position strong. Long term outlook excellent.

Meat Packing—Sharply higher demands reflect higher profits. Stable earnings. Low invested capital. Immediate outlook good.

Motion Pictures—High wages increase attendance. Producing companies in good shape. Near term and future outlook okay.

Paper—Prosperous due to war. Has been aided by high demand and low imports of pulp. Backlog orders now on downside. Doubtful if demand in future can match recent requirements.

Petroleum—Inflation type industry. Research minded management. Taxes of little consequence. Long term outlook excellent; but immediate outlook uncertain.

Railroads—Helped by war. Sheltered from high taxes. Improving financial position. Current favorable position will not last.

Rayon—Unhampered by restrictions but hurt more than helped by war. Tax situation now bad. Development of new products may make outlook promising.

Shipbuilding—Obviously booming. Submarine menace calls for sharply higher tonnage.

Steel—War's key industry. Output greater than ever. Earnings always erratic. Book values to decline as new government financed plants are written off. Cannot now foretell after-war conditions.

Sugar—Pacific war plus shipping shortages have temporarily helped earnings. Beet companies should have best season for many years. Strict price control may be bullish post-war factor.

Utilities: Government break-up orders are hamstringing the holding companies. Operating units in better position. Both hurt by war taxes.

Readjustments Advisable
At the moment the four industries which are prospering most are shipbuilding, meat packing, sugar, and paper; while the four that are least prosperous are utilities, gold mining, finance companies, and building. One is taking more or less of a risk to invest in any of the above eight groups at the present time. Rather, he should consider one of the average groups, such as fire insurance, dairy products, and banks. Certainly, it would be wiser to take those that have suffered most, rather than those that have suffered least.

Latest On Rubber

Readers will remember that in previous columns I told of experiments which were being made on tires to apply some asphalt gum or other mixture which required no rubber. (This is entirely different from retreading by cementing camelback on to an old tire.) Thokol accomplishes exactly what I have in mind. The cost should be $6 to $8 per tire with a mileage of from 3,500 to 5,000 miles at a speed of 40 miles per hour. The material is made from caustic soda, chlorine, thylene, and sulphur. Caustic soda comes from salt; ethylene from corn, wheat or any agricultural waste; while Texas has a surplus of sulphur. Chlorine is now being allocated but the production can readily be increased. No adhesive material is needed or no natural or reclaimed rubber will be required. The plan is identical with my original forecast and should permit 1,000,000 tires a month being treated.

SAD BUT TRUE

Please do not scatter roses upon my lonely grave,
If in my life one single rose to me you never gave,
And do not sing a lovely song my senses cannot hear
If while I lived you would not sing the songs I loved to hear.
Please do not utter praise of the life that I have lived
If all my life was starved for praise you did not give.
A few words, a cheery song, a flower or a tear,
Would do ten thousand times more good while I'm living here.

Lometa evidently turned in her entire week's rain cards for since our last issue we have had rations of rain. We don't know just how much but it must have been nine inches. Last Friday morning, afternoon and night it rained some three inches. Then after a long dry spell lasting until Monday it started again, and possibly two or more inches fell.

On this week-end the U. S. Army will assign 200 soldiers from Camp Hood for recreation in our city. This is the first assignment. Each week-end a different group will be assigned to Lampasas.—Record.

Santa Fe and your WINTER WHEAT
● Once more the miracle of the winter wheat harvest is with us. Nature has been kind, in Santa Fe territory, and another bumper crop is indicated. Prices, too, are good.
That is a happy prospect, but it brings serious problems with it—both for you who raise the grain, and for us who move it.
You face a shortage of harvest labor, and a serious lack of storage space, at terminals and in rural bins, because of the unprecedented carry-over of old wheat. We face the job of moving a vast grain tonnage, in a short time, on top of the greatest railroad traffic load in history.
For example, in April, 1941, Santa Fe freight cars moved 108,131,891 miles. In April, 1942, that mileage had leaped to 142,823,878. A great part of that 32% jump represented war freight, that must move first.
Santa Fe pledges every possible help in moving 1942 wheat to points where it can be accepted and placed for use. Of you we ask prompt loading and unloading, and that no car be used for storage, even temporarily. Let's pull together and whip this war-born transportation problem, as we have so many others in the long years we've worked together.
AT YOUR SERVICE—Talk over your transportation problems with your Santa Fe representative. He'll be glad to help with practical suggestions.
