

Jim Evetts Won't Seek Re-election Due To Low Pay

In a forthright statement that pointed to the deplorably low salary of his office, Jim K. Evetts, District Attorney for the 27th Texas Judicial District, announced this week that he will NOT be a candidate for re-nomination and election.

Mills County, along with Bell and Lampasas Counties, comprise the 27th Judicial District. In his statement, Mr. Evetts said:

"The office of District Attorney for this district is an office for which the State of Texas sets and pays the entire salary. The office is now in the incongruous position of being the lowest paid office in the Bell County Courthouse except for the County Treasurer and precinct officers."

"For obvious reasons it is not my intent to again seek the office. I have held the job for the past sixteen years with the exception of three and one half years spent in the Army during World War II. At all times I have deeply respected the great obligations and responsibilities of the office and have done my best to protect the life, limb and property of the law abiding people of my district with every ethical and honorable resource at my command. I point with pride to the fact that a great number of the most important criminal cases of Texas have been moved to this district for trial. I received no extra pay for the trial of these cases sent from other counties."

"My plans for the immediate future are indefinite. I will either run for higher office or will retire to private practice. In either event I will finish my term as District Attorney and I am making this announcement in order that others who may desire to make the race for District Attorney may have ample time to formulate their plans."

Wiles E. Wooten Wins Precinct 3 Commissioner Run

A third candidate for County Commissioner, Precinct 3, was announced this week when Wiles E. Wooten said he would enter the contest for the post that is being vacated by K. B. Fry. Previously, W. T. "Son" Fry and A. A. Downey had announced that they would like to be Precinct 3 Commissioner.

Mr. Wooten, a rancher, lives about five miles west of Mullin. He has lived all of his life in Precinct 3. Mr. Wooten is married and has a daughter, Mrs. Earlene Ervin of Sulphur Springs. Mr. Wooten never before has been a candidate for public office.

All Taxes Due

Many Mills County citizens have not yet paid their poll taxes and so, with 1952 a big election year, Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield and his Deputies, L. Patterson and Clyde Brumley reminded everybody last week that the deadline for tax payments is Thursday next week. The men in the sheriff's office urged not only poll tax payments so as to avoid a last-minute rush, but they also issued reminder beginning with Friday of next week payments of County State taxes will be subject to a penalty charge of one per

Citizens Here Make Welcome Real As Soldiers Start Maneuver Duty

Volunteer Help Asked In Effort To Aid Soldiers

Harold Yarborough of the committee of Goldthwaite citizens who are extending hospitality to men in the Armed Services engaged in the Army-Air Force maneuvers, Exercise Longhorn, said this week that voluntary cooperation on a community-wide basis is needed.

Mr. Yarborough said that for the recreation center at the American Legion Hall the committee would like to borrow games such as chess, checkers, dominoes, parchesi, cribbage and other means by which men off-duty may while away the time.

A nickel music box and a "coke" machine have been set up in the Legion Hall, Mr. Yarborough said, but volunteers also are needed to man the Hall and the shower arrangements in the field house at the Goldthwaite Schools.

Help from the ladies will be most welcome, Mr. Yarborough said. An information center has been established at the Eagle office for the aid of soldiers who come to Goldthwaite and Mr. Yarborough would appreciate having a list of ladies who will volunteer to take charge of the information desk, especially on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and nights.

Reading material also is needed for soldiers who come into Goldthwaite. All persons who are willing to lend magazines or books are asked to telephone to Mr. Yarborough at Goldthwaite 42 or 258 either to volunteer services or to lend games, books and magazines.

"With everybody pitching in we can be sure that Goldthwaite will meet its obligation to extend hospitality and to provide recreation facilities for the men who are in the uniform of their country and who will be on duty in this area during the next few weeks," Mr. Yarborough said.

Weather Report

Shirt-sleeve weather prevailed in Mills County during the past week until a mild norther moved in early Wednesday morning. There has, of course, been no rain beyond a mere spatter that came from some clouds that were in a big hurry to go somewhere else.

Army signal corpsmen and engineers, who are camped off the Lometa highway and who were a bit on the chilly side last Tuesday night may be cheered to know that on Wednesday Mrs. C. F. Stubblefield, wife of the Sheriff, received in the mail some blooming pansies. She is looking, gentlemen, for somebody to help her to plant the pansies right now. She will probably do the planting herself. Meanwhile, Mrs. Stubblefield is all steamed up over the news that her son, Bill will arrive on February 1 from Washington, where he is Director of Station Relations for the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters.

All persons who have complaints about Mills County weather—the drought expected—are referred to the bad news weatherwise from practically everywhere else in the United States. Mills County still has blue skies and bright sunshine.

That's all about the weather this week. That's enough.

Public-spirited and patriotic citizens of Goldthwaite and Mills County met this week and laid the ground work for plans to see to it that troops participating in the Army-Air Force maneuvers, Exercise Longhorn, will find a reception here going beyond mere words and gestures of welcome.

Plans have been made to make available to troops rooms for reading and writing. In addition, tables for games such as checkers, chess and dominoes have been provided at the American Legion Hall and will be provided at other centers to be designated later.

An information booth has been established and there will be hospitality arrangements for soldiers who will have time out from working on military problems and who will come into Goldthwaite for rest, recreation and a change of scene.

Comforts, such as shower bath arrangements at the Goldthwaite gymnasium and at the Mills County Youth Center of the First Baptist Church have been or are being arranged.

A committee to see to it that Goldthwaite will do everything possible in behalf of the fighting men in the uniform of their country and who will participate in Exercise Longhorn in this area has been created. Its members include:

Harold Yarborough, M. Y. Stokes, Jr., John L. Patterson, E. B. Gilliam, Jr., Grady Carothers, V. A. Hudson, Howard B. Campbell, Brian Smith, Milton Tate and W. C. Barnett.

"Many others will be enlisted to work with us and we expect that we will have the wholehearted cooperation of the ladies of our community," Mr. Yarborough said after his committee had met this week.

The committee will follow through on welcomes that already have been made in writing to Exercise Longhorn troops by Mayor Loy Long, the Goldthwaite Lions Club and the Men's Downtown Bible Class.

"Some fine suggestions were made at our meeting during the past week and we shall be glad to give consideration to any other suggestions," Mr. Yarborough said.

He indicated that as time for the maneuvers draws closer members of the committee will ask citizens to lend checker boards and checkers, dominoes and reading material. The committee will work in close cooperation with military personnel and with national organizations, such as the American Red Cross and the United Service Organizations, and with local groups, including Churches, clubs and even individuals who are interested in the welfare of the men whose assignment is the defense of the United States.

Starting last Saturday afternoon Mr. Yarborough conveyed soldiers to the showers at the School and made them welcome to Goldthwaite. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Yarborough, Mr. Stokes and Mr. Gwin visited the officers and men of the signal and engineers companies that now are encamped just off the Lometa highway south of Goldthwaite and told them of the arrangements that have been made to make them feel at home in Goldthwaite. A truckload of soldiers used the School showers last Sunday afternoon and some of them were entertained in Goldthwaite homes. The signal and engineer companies, both of them totaling 370 officers and enlisted men, pitched camp in this area last week. The signal corps men came from Camp Polk in Louisiana and the engineers came from Fort Sill, Oklahoma,

EDITORIAL ON PRICE DANIEL

In a splendidly organized and well delivered radio address, Texas Attorney General Price Daniel last Monday night broadcast his announcement that he is a candidate for nomination and election to the United States Senate.

From start to finish, the address by Price Daniel was a scathing but wholly just indictment of the Truman Administration. Mr. Daniel pledged himself to work for a foreign policy that would command respect for the United States, to combat the "spend and spend and spend" spree of the "Queer Deal," to root out corruption in government and to work to rectify the grave injustice that has been done to Texas in the big steal of the tidelands.

There was none of the hokum in Price Daniel's speech that Senator Tom Connally is dishing out. Price Daniel can be trusted to speak in Washington just as he does at home. Any statements by Senator Connally that he, too, recognizes the failures and iniquities of the "Queer Deal" can be taken as uttered for political purposes only. Any of Senator Connally's attempts to hit the sawdust trail that is being taken by those who recognize the Trumanites as a liability are too late. For far too long Senator Connally's eyes were closed and his voice was stilled against the clear and clean-cut outline of the peril in which we find ourselves that was made by Price Daniel last Monday night.

We are proud to be among Price Daniel's supporters. We hope that he will be nominated for the U. S. Senate by a whacking big vote in the primary election of July 26. We hope that many of our readers will write to him in care of the office of the Attorney General in Austin and give him the encouragement of their support.

Mr. Daniel will broadcast again on Thursday night of next week. All of those who are concerned over the welfare of both our nation and of the State of Texas ought to make it a point to listen to him.

Between now and then, please be sure to pay your poll taxes so that you can vote on the issues that were stated so clearly by Mr. Daniel last Monday night. And, please, write to Mr. Daniel and assure him that you are with him in his courageous effort to restore integrity to government, to continue the fight in behalf of the Texas tidelands, to reduce the yoke of taxation that bears so heavily upon the citizens and to help to give the United States a foreign policy that is worthy of the name to replace the ineptitude and costly errors by the State Department.

With Price Daniel in the United States Senate in Washington Texas would have a straight-forward fighter instead of the apologist that we now have in the person of Senator Connally. Price Daniel has asked for the support of those who believe that a change is in order.

We believe not only that a change is in order but that it is essential for the welfare of our country.

Telephone Co-op Acquires Deeds To 13 Exchanges

Further progress by the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative was announced this week by Secretary Ernest E. Wilson, who said that deeds have been acquired for exchanges that will be absorbed by the Co-op and that engineering for the organization that will provide modern, dial telephone service in rural areas of nine Counties has been nearly completed.

On Friday of last week, Mr. Wilson said, officers and directors of the Co-op conferred at Goldthwaite headquarters with E. G. Ammons, field representative of the telephone division of the Rural Electrification Administration with headquarters in Stephenville; Hugh O'Hara of Washington, Assistant Chief of REA Region 10; and G. D. Force of Brownwood, technician with the applications and loans division of the REA.

"This Cooperative has advanced faster and is in better shape than any other organization with which we have had experience," Mr. O'Hara said after the conference. He praised the work of Co-op President Willis A. Hill and other officers and directors of the organization and he was especially praiseworthy in his comments on the complex legal work and preparation of papers that had been done by William G. Yarborough, Counsel for the Co-op.

The exchanges that have been acquired, Mr. Wilson said are those at Priddy, Star, Caradan, Lohn, Bend, Cherokee Voca, Rochelle, Trickham, Melvin, Doole, Millersview, and South Bennett.

The deeds and final papers concerned in the acquisition already have been forwarded to the REA Administrator in Washington for his approval. Mr. Wilson said that with preliminary engineering almost finished the staking of lines will start in the very near future.

BLEMISHES ON A PROUD RECORD

Many patriotic citizens of Mills County have gone all-out to cooperate with the Army and Air Force in making the great maneuvers, Exercise Longhorn, a success. Permits for military use of land, if necessary, have been granted readily and willingly. Officials, such as Mayor Loy Long of Goldthwaite, and organizations, such as the Goldthwaite Lions Club and the Men's Downtown Bible Class, have put into the record their desire to help in the defense of their country. Public-spirited citizens are working to make available in Goldthwaite such facilities for troops as writing and reading rooms and places in which to relax and play games. We are proud that so many persons in Mills County have recognized that they have an obligation to the Armed Services of their country.

We are NOT proud, however, that a relatively few land owners have not been willing to extend the cooperation that the military authorities have requested. We are NOT proud that in at least one case, a land owner said that he did not want any troops around his place. In the event of attack by an alien power—something that is not beyond the realm of possibility—he doubtless would be among the very first to want to have the American Army around, quickly and in force.

From the time that planning for Exercise Longhorn began, the Army and the Air Force have gone all the way to establish good public relations and to give absolute and forthright assurances to all concerned that full and speedy restitution would be made in the case of any damage. Our citizens have had an opportunity to meet the military authorities at least half way, and most of them have done so. But there have been and still are others who have placed their own interests ahead of the welfare of their country. They have overlooked the fact that their own interests are bound up inextricably with the very existence of their country and that if it were not for the men in Uncle Sam's uniform they might not have ranches to be marked "off limits" to troops.

There is not much time left in which to meet our obligations to our country in the matter of Exercise Longhorn. General Canham will arrive from Germany at the end of this month to command the part that the 82nd Airborne Division will play in Exercise Longhorn. Before February 25 the 82nd Airborne Division will be operating in force south of Goldthwaite. And the maneuvers will occur in March—for the purpose of training troops and to test Staff work.

The Eagle hopes that the Army will not have to post "off limit" signs anywhere in Mills County and we hope that it will not be necessary for the military authorities to resort to condemnation proceedings so as to acquire for temporary military use land that cannot be obtained by voluntary cooperation.

Repeatedly, in print, in conference and in private conversations, the military authorities have given assurances that during the maneuvers, property will be respected and compensation will be paid promptly for whatever damage may be done. There has been courteous, patient and considerate negotiation with land owners who have withheld voluntary cooperation. May it turn out that those who have been withholding voluntary assistance will recognize their patriotic duty—and that they will remember that in no other country could they have acquired the property rights by which they set such precious store. In other countries, they would not even be consulted under similar circumstances.

Since last August the Eagle has been publishing news of Exercise Longhorn. We feel now that with the record so complete, there can be no reason for withholding civilian cooperation other than pure, downright selfishness. We hope that what selfishness remains will vanish and that ALL of Mills County will have seized the opportunity to render service to our country.

Service to country is not something just to be talked about or to be left to the other fellow. It should be regarded as a privilege and we find it most difficult to believe that anywhere among the citizens of Mills County there would be anyone who would reject an opportunity to help his country, especially in time of need. THIS IS A TIME OF NEED.

GUEST EDITORIAL

(Editor's Note: Marshall McNeil of the Washington bureau of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance has written a letter to his editors in Texas on the subject of tidelands legislation. The letter, as it was published in the Fort Worth Press, one of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, is reprinted below.)

Dear Boss:

People tell me that this new push in the Senate to get a states' rights tidelands bill passed at this session of Congress may turn into one of the oddest parliamentary tricks of the decade, with Southern and Southwestern senators the victims of their own tactics.

If the story comes true, Senator Tom Connally of Texas might find himself the butt of a very sharp parliamentary joke, which he wouldn't find funny.

Now, I'm not vouching for the story, but here it is, and in many respects it certainly sounds reasonable.

Connally, as you know, has introduced a resolution to force the states' rights tidelands bill to the floor—the bill which would give Texas and other states quit-claim title to the submerged lands along the coasts. This bill has already been passed by the House.

The Connally resolution is directed at the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. That committee might, instead, report out a bill which would give the federal government interim rights to administer the tidelands, sovereignty over which has been granted the U. S. by the Supreme Court.

Well, with Connally about to be opposed for reelection by Attorney General Price Daniel, the senator is agitating for the House-passed measure to come to the floor for a vote. But, it really doesn't matter if the committee reports the other bill, and the Senate considers it, for in any event, the states' rights bill will be offered as a substitute.

Now, here's where the story gets better.

The President once vetoed a states' rights tidelands bill. Friends of Mr. Truman say he is certain to do that again. So the question is: Could a vote be sustained, as it was before?

It is reported that those who favor the states' rights tidelands bill now have all but two votes to over-ride a presidential veto.

So, if, when the time comes for the Senate to vote on the states' rights tidelands bill, it appears to opponents of that bill that the two votes have been secured by their opponents, and there is sufficient strength to over-ride a veto, then the opponents of the states' rights bill will have to do some quick thinking and planning.

(Incidentally, it takes two-thirds of the senators present to over-ride a veto. Since 49 senators constitute a quorum, theoretically, it would take two-thirds of 49 senators to over-ride a veto.)

Well, if this situation develops, I'm told, and supporters of the President's views feel that they might lose to those favoring the states' rights bill, then they might start themselves a filibuster.

And, against whom would this filibuster be aimed? Why against such senators as Tom Connally, for example, or Russell Long of Louisiana.

The Eagle's Aery

By The Editor

A number of Eagle readers who missed seeing the first, famous "Dear Virginia" letter about Texas have asked that it be reprinted. Here goes, with some explanatory background.

Back on January 10 the Associated Press distributed to all of its members a feature story that had been written by Ed Creagh. It took the form of a letter and it was a reply to a trusting little girl named Virginia. Virginia probably will not be so trusting any more. Here is what Virginia wrote and what started all the fuss:

"Dear Sir:

"I have been hearing for a long time about what a big place Texas is and what wonderful people Texans are, and I have started to wonder.

"So I am counting on you to set me straight. Is there any such place as Texas?

"Trustingly, Virginia."

In his reply from Washington Mr. Creagh of the Associated Press, battling for Hal Boyle, wrote as follows to poor, trusting little Virginia:

"No, Virginia, there isn't any Texas.

"Texas is just one of those good-natured American myths—like Paul Bunyan, George Washington's cherry tree, or Brooklyn—that have been handed down generation after generation, until many people have come to believe that they are true.

"It would be nice, wouldn't it, if there really were a Texas? A thundering day-and-night rodeo, with oil gushing from every hoof-print? A Valhalla (that's a sort of Hot Springs, Ark., for the gods, Virginia) of the tallest, bravest hombres ever to whip out a 45? And the sweetest, prettiest women this side of Mary Martin?

"But you're getting to be a big girl now, Virginia, and the truth must not be kept from you. Don't tell your playmates, but there isn't a thing between Oklahoma and the Gulf of Mexico, between Louisiana and Arizona, except sand and sagebrush, swept ceaselessly by howling winds that sometimes sound like human voices.

"Figure it out for yourself, Virginia. There couldn't be a Texas. No nation on earth, not even this rich and powerful land of ours, could afford a Texas. If Texans really existed, there wouldn't be room for the rest of us. Before you knew it, the whole country would be overrun by Texans. And that way madness lies.

"How did this Texas legend get started, then?

"Well, years ago a couple of pioneers, real put out because a stranger had poked his nose into their private bailiwick of Arkansas, stood staring moodily out at the west, wondering if it wasn't time to push on.

"Sure is a big place," one of them—and might affect Connally's reelection campaign—what would they do about closure? Would they favor it? Or would they oppose it?

So, you see, this could turn into one of the oddest parliamentary fights of many years.

I don't know that it ever will. I'm just telling you a sorry I hear here.

Sincerely,
MARSHALL McNEIL,
Your Washington Correspondent.

them said.

"'Hmmpf,' said the other, 'Nothin's sure 'cept death 'n' taxes.'

"'Haw - haw - haw,' chortled the first pioneer, who was hard of hearing, "that's a good one, nothin's sure 'cept death 'n' Texas."

"His friend looked at him sharply, saw his chance and took it. He shot the first pioneer, moseyed back East and sold the joke (for that kind of thing was regarded as a joke in those days) to a magazine called the New Yorker for $3.

"Americans are great ones to go along with a gag, and the story spread. People started pretending there really was a place called Texas. They invented imaginary Texans, like Davy Crockett (who really was a Texan), and make-believe cities like Dallas and Fort Worth.

"That's the story, Virginia, and I hope you'll keep it to yourself. Let the other children believe in Texas. It will do them good. Somebody, pretending to be a Texan, once said that if Texas didn't exist, it would be necessary to invent one. Well, Texas doesn't exist, so—

"Sweet dreams, Virginia. The eyes of Texas are upon you."

When the "Dear Virginia" letter about Texas was first distributed a great many newspapers in Texas did not print it. But soon they were deluged with letters from Texans who live in other States and in order to print the letters and to write about them, the newspapers that originally had not used Ed Creagh's story had to dig it up and run it, after all.

Most of the letters on the subject, including a few to the Eagle, have been highly indignant. That, possibly, is because the times are hard and loyal Texans overlooked the idea that Mr. Creagh might have been writing with his tongue in his cheek. After all, there is such a place as Texas, and the whole world not only knows about it but has been hearing about it—hearing a great deal about it—for many, many years. Around the world, Texas is even more famous than Kilroy. There are people who have heard Texans brag about Texas and who have managed, all the same, to maintain their sense of humor and to extend human understanding, one man to another.

The "Dear Virginia" letter idea is not new. Many years ago a little girl named Virginia wrote to the editor of the New York Sun and asked him to tell her truly if there were a Santa Claus. His reply was a classic. He told Virginia that in very truth there was a Santa Claus and that he could be identified by the good and the generosity and the wonderful spirit that is to be found in the hearts of so many people.

If the 1952 Virginia is a smart little girl she will write back to Mr. Creagh and tell him that there is a Texas, just as there is a Santa Claus. Sweet dreams, Mr. Creagh, the eyes of Texas are upon you.

Bradford And Toby Bryant Pour At An Exclusive Social Function

This is a very serious story in which, by solemn agreement, there is to be no ribaldry about V. C. Bradford being a cowpoke, a gay ranchero or even a man who sells all the Pontiac auto-

V. C. BRADFORD

EAGLE PHOTO BY WICKER STUDIO. He can get. The story, in which the words "el vaquero" are NOT to be used, is about a party at which Mr. Bradford and Mr. Walter A. "Toby" Bryant poured on a sunny afternoon last week for 466 Angora goats, one registered Hereford bull, ten Hereford cows, some of them registered, and eight Hereford calves, some of them registered, too.

Except for the goats, the bull, the cows, the calves, Mr. Bradford and Mr. Bryant, there was nobody present except a reporter who was not supposed to be reporting. That is why the story has to be written under wraps. "Purely a social hour," Mr. Bradford described the occasion. "No publicity, please, and don't write about my goats riding in Pontiacs because they are able to walk."

The party was held on Mr. Bradford's 553 1/2 acres on the Caradan Road. The table was overlaid with Buffalo grass and there were some fine mesquites for center pieces. The arrival of the guests of honor presented a striking sight as 466 goats, looking more like 466,000,000 goats, arrived from all directions. They looked like an army advancing on an objective as they responded to the honking of the horn in a red vehicle that definitely was NOT a Pontiac. Kelly and Spot Saylor please note that it was a Chevrolet. Waiting for the hosts, rather in the manner of a reception committee, were the bull, some of the cows and some calves.

The reporter, who has a record for having been chased by more bulls and cows than he cares to remember, was scared out of his dim wits during the opening phases of the party. He stuck close to the pickup so as to be able to clamber aboard in a hurry if necessary. His worst scare came when, while trying to make two goats take their noses out of his pocket, he found out the bull had sneaked up and was eating out of his hand! Now the reporter is planning to take off for Mexico City where he aims to win renown as a Matador.

Mr. Bradford and Mr. Bryant did NOT pour tea. What they poured was corn out of one sack (no, not a jug) and cake out of another. For the benefit of slickers who live in cities, the cake was not angel food; it was made of cotton seed and since it comes in nicely-shaped little cylinders, it pours easily.

Mr. Bradford and Mr. Bryant poured all over the "table cloth" but they had one dickens of a time making the goats stick to the corn and the cattle to the cake. Mr. Bryant was philosophical about the difficulties involved in being a host but Mr. Bradford flapped his arms and made strange noises, to which the goats paid no mind whatsoever. The main refreshments were from Blackwells and Harpers, two famous names in feeds, and they were topped off by a delicious mixture of malt and salt. It was all right to serve malt, Mr. Bradford said, so long as it was not mixed with hops.

While the party was in progress W. W. "Bill" Fox and Carl Wharton methodically went about the laborious business of tearing the roof off the former Edd Randles' residence so they could proceed with the building of a salon designed to house 1,000 goats. It is due to be ready in time for a shearing party. Should the weather be inclement, Mr. Bradford wants his guests to be comfortable after they have been well plucked.

While the party was in progress, John Elliott back in Goldthwaite started an anxious wait—fearful that there might be some more publicity about his boss being a cowpoke. His worry was unnecessary. After the party Mr. Bradford and Mr. Bryant took the reporter on a ranch-wide tour. They drove him over boulders, shook up his liver, chattered his teeth and in various and sundry other ways resorted to intimidation of a sort that would make violation of any agreement unthinkable.

P. S.—This story was not written by Miss Earlene Nix. SHE would have insisted on including the name of who kept the guest book. There was NO guest book, Miss Nix.

P. P. S.—Mr. Bradford has acquired a horse from Pony Barnett but nothing more will be printed about that Palomino until Mr. Bradford rides the horse around the Square at least ten times on a Saturday afternoon.

ENGAGED

JUNE M. TYSON, USN

Mrs. Frankie Tyson of Goldthwaite has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, June Marie, to Robert E. Benjamin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Benjamin of 4518 Cushman Street, Flint, Michigan.

The wedding will be solemnized February 16 at Great Lakes, Illinois. Miss Tyson is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School, Class of 1950. She enlisted in the U. S. Navy in September, 1951, and took her basic training at Great Lakes, Illinois. She is now working at B. O. Q. at Great Lakes.

Mr. Benjamin graduated from the Northern High School in 1948 and enlisted in the Marine Corps. He was in Korea for 7 months and is a survivor from the Death March. After being wounded December 9, 1950, he was returned to the states and is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill. He will receive a discharge in February.

The couple plan to make their home in Detroit, Michigan, where he will attend Wayne University.

Methodist Clubs

The Men's Club of the First Methodist Church of Goldthwaite was scheduled to meet at 7:00 o'clock on Thursday night of this week and at the same time the newly-organized Wesleyan Service Guild was scheduled to meet at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Steen, President.

Miss Thelma Casey and Miss Marsalete Summy of Mullin were visitors in Goldthwaite last Saturday.

Story Telling Hour Tuesday.

Goldthwaite HD Club Donates To Worthy Causes

Generous donations of $60.00 to the current March of Dimes campaign, $20.00 to the American Red Cross, $15.00 to the American Cancer Society and $5.00 to the American Heart Association were voted by members of the Goldthwaite Home Demonstration Club at a meeting that was held on Tuesday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. T. Floyd Sansom.

Mrs. A. L. Cole, Reporter, said that the donations by the Goldthwaite H. D. Club were made possible because the recent baked goods sale conducted by the Club at the auction barn resulted in proceeds of $98.75.

At Tuesday's meeting, when eleven members and two visitors were present, Mrs. Dutch Smith was elected Vice President of the Goldthwaite Home Demonstration Club and Mrs. Earline Harris was elected Assistant Reporter.

Mrs. Tom McArthur gave a demonstration of pictures painted by hand on glass and several members displayed their aptitude at the work. Those who were present answered the roll call by describing "a new shrub that I would like to have for my yard."

The next meeting of the Club will be held on February 12 with Mrs. Oscar Burns as the hostess. The program will be on landscaping with Mrs. Philip Nickols as the guest speaker.

Mrs. Henry Bowden and Jessie Robertson were the guests who attended last Tuesday afternoon's meeting.

New Progress On Garden Club Work At Cemetery Here

Another big step toward beautifying the eastern approach of the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery was completed this week when work was finished on two massive stone end posts under the auspices of the Cemetery Committee of the Goldthwaite Garden Club.

Mrs. John G. Berry, Chairman of the Committee, said that when possible the rows of stone posts that now have been erected along the entire eastern edge of the Cemetery will be "tied together" so as to present an appropriately attractive appearance.

Much of the work that has been done has been made possible by the sale of wastepaper that has been collected by the Boy Scouts. Many tons of wastepaper have been trucked to Waco by Jesse Moreland without charge. After his last trip to Waco, Mrs. Berry said, Mr. Moreland brought back $31.46 for the Garden Club's Cemetery Committee.

Mr. Moreland estimated that as the result of several trips to Waco with newsprint that had been picked up for the benefit of the Goldthwaite Garden Club proceeds of approximately $150.-00 had been realized.

At a date to be announced soon, Mrs. Berry said, there will be another pickup of wastepaper, such as newspapers, magazines and unbound books. Accordingly, all householders were asked to save such material for the Garden Club so that it will be ready when a date for the paper pickup has been set.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dellis visited the Omar Harveys in San Antonio last weekend.

Never did the office of Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield look so good as it did this week when Mrs. James (Betty) Miller joined the staff. She made Deputies Clyde Crockrum and John L. Patterson wear perpetual smiles and she made life pleasant even for those concerned with the usually grim business of law enforcement and taxes.

Mrs. Miller joined the Sheriff's staff on Monday. Since she was not wearing a badge and appeared not to be a Deputy, she was asked for her title. "I am President around here," she said, "although the Sheriff tells me that I am to be chief slave driver when he is not around."

Mrs. Miller is the wife of James Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller. Her husband is in Officers Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla. He was home last weekend.

We surely have had some beautiful weather. It just makes us want to plant flowers and garden seed, but at present about all we can do is turn the pages of our seed catalogue and just wish for a big rain.

We are happy to learn that all the sick folks are better. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ledbetter and family have recovered from influenza, as have Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford and William G. B. J. Crawford, who was on the sick list a few days last week, was able to go visiting Sunday.

Others who were on the sick list included Mrs. Hugh Nowell and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Karnes and children.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Stevens were called to the Lampasas Hospital during last week to visit their grandson, Sonnie Fisher, who suffered a fall. We were glad to learn that Sonnie is back at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Fishers, and his little sister, with no broken bones, but a very sore lip and blue nose.

Chester Powell and Bernie of Priddy took a trip to Arkansas during last week. They were accompanied by Billy Barr of Brownwood. Mrs. Barr stayed with Mrs. Powell.

B. J. and Pearl Crawford were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford and William G.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Burdett were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burdett.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bramblett have been enjoying some 42 parties. At last report, Mr. Evans and Mrs. Bramblett were the ones who won.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans and Mrs. R. J. Schindler of Bangs were guests in the B. J. Crawford home during last week.

Miss Buchannon of Dallas and L. C. Knowles of Fort Worth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith during last week.

L. Stahnke and Walter Weatherby were at the ranch Saturday looking after livestock.

News Of Scallorn

By ORA BLACK

General topic of conversation from out our way for the past two weeks seems to be the flu rather than who is going somewhere, and why.

At this time, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Burk, Layton Black and Mrs. Thurman Head are still victims of the disease. Others are up trying to carry on where they left off.

Sunday was a nice day at the Church. The Mission Band from Howard Payne College had charge of an all-day program. Pablo Davila brought the eleven o'clock message, while the others filled in with their different parts throughout the remainder of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan and her daughter of Goldthwaite were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines and Greta Sue.

The Welner Roast at the tabernacle Saturday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes, drew a large crowd of friends to wish the happy couple many years of married life.

Due to the fact of so much sickness now prevailing through out the country, the musical scheduled for the evening of January 26 at the home of Mrs. Ora Black will be postponed

Conservation Experts Advocate Clover For Best Of Cover Crops

By CHARLES O. HAENISCH

Farmers who did not get a winter cover crop planted this fall on account of the dry weather will probably want to sow Hubam Clover or Madrid Clover this spring. Both of the sweet clovers have been proven to be adapted to this area and both can be planted in February and March successfully.

Cooperators with the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District who have continued to try Hubam sweet clover are beginning to appreciate its value and it is gaining in popularity. Hubam sweet clover is an annual which is planted in the spring and makes an abundant seed crop in the late summer.

Madrid sweet clover has been successfully grown from spring plantings in this area. It is possible to overseed fall sown small grain with sweet clover in February if the stand of small grain is thin. Better still would be the sowing of small grain and sweet clover together in the spring. The clover will do much better if phosphate fertilizer is used.

Cecil Partin, of Washboard, has been growing Madrid Sweet Clover with small grain for a number of years. He has had good results from this combination. After combining his grain, the gates are opened and the oat stubble and Madrid Clover grazed. Good gains from his livestock have been obtained and he is sold on the importance of Madrid for grazing.

Sudan and Madrid Clover is another combination that can be sown together in the spring for grazing and soil improving. A few farmers in the District have tried this combination and are well pleased with the results obtained.

Farmers interested in planting Madrid or Hubam Sweet Clovers and are in need of a combination fertilizer and grain drill should contact the local headquarters of the Soil Conservation Service for information.

The Rev. Charles Chaney Ordained At Service At Liberty Last Sunday

With his father as a member of the Ordaining Council, Charles Chaney of Mullin was ordained as a Minister of the Baptist Church at solemn services last Sunday at the Liberty Baptist Church in Coleman County. Brother Chaney also had the distinction of having his uncle, the Rev. Leonard Chaney of Alexander, as a member of the Council. Brother Chaney's father also was elected to serve as Clerk. He is a deacon in the Mullin Baptist Church.

Brother Chaney is the Pastor of the Liberty Baptist Church, which called him to its pulpit last November. He is married to the former Fannie Ingram of Mullin. They live in Brownwood, where they are students at Howard Payne College. Brother Chaney was licensed to preach by the Mullin Baptist Church about a year ago.

At the ordination last Sunday the examination of the candidate, Brother Chaney, was conducted by Dr. W. A. Todd, Professor of Bible and Greek at Howard Payne College. The ordination had been called for by the Liberty Baptist Church. Dr. Todd has conducted or assisted at more than 400 ordination examinations, which is believed to be a record.

Fourteen ordained Pastors and deacons sat on the Presbytery for last Sunday's ordination of Brother Chaney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith of Abilene were guests Sunday of Minister and Mrs. James A. Fry. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rhodes of Belton visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rhodes, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones and daughter, Lena Mae, of San Antonio were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hancock last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Horton and Kathryn Ann visited Mr. and Mrs. Allan Horton in Waco Sunday.

Goldthwaite Is Featured In Poop To Troops To Engage In Maneuvers

Specific, separate information about Goldthwaite and Mills County has been sent to troops of the 82nd Airborne Division, which now is stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, but which soon will be deploying in this area as "aggressor forces" in the Army and Air Force maneuvers, Exercise Longhorn.

"An article on Goldthwaite covering its facilities and the attitude of Mills County toward the maneuvers was sent to the 82nd Airborne Division because it will be the major unit that will operate in the area for the longest time," Major Bruce C. Clarke, Commanding Officer at Fort Hood, said this week.

Plans now provide that on or about February 25 the 82nd Airborne Division will move into areas south of Goldthwaite. General Canham, who now is in Germany, will return to the United States to command the 82nd Airborne Division during Exercise Longhorn. He is expected to arrive at Fort Bragg from Germany on or about January 31.

Brigadier General Joseph P. Cleland, Assistant Commander of the 82nd Airborne Division, conferred recently at Fort Hood on plans for Exercise Longhorn and especially regarding precautions that have been worked out to respect the property rights of residents in the areas in which the maneuvers—the largest since World War II—will be conducted.

Recently reconnaissance parties from the First Armored Division, which General Clarke also commands, have been seen in and around Goldthwaite but since they will be the backbone of the defending forces in Exercise Longhorn their places soon will be taken by men of the 82nd Airborne Division, who will be recognized by their green uniforms with red tabs and silver markings for insigna.

Ft. Hood Conference

Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield and County Clerk Earl Summy went to Fort Hood on Monday night of this week to participate in a conference led by Major General Bruce C. Clarke on relations between the military authorities and law enforcement officers during the impending Army-Air Force maneuvers, exercise Longhorn. Sheriffs and other officials from the area in which the maneuvers will be conducted attended the conference.

Also present at the conference were Mayor Loy Long, County Attorney A. M. Pribble and City Utilities Manager W. C. Barnett.

Our Chester Passes

The Eagle's Chester Edward Brooks this week became the proud owner of an automobile and, what is more, on his first try for a driver's license, he made the grade. That is more than some other persons who clutter up the Eagle shop were able to do. Texas Highway Patrolmen Jess R. Askey and Billie R. McElroy please note: Our Chester does NOT have a Smitty on his car. He is NOT following completely in the footsteps of Our Franklin Dew Weathers.

Andrew Baxter Carves Sheriff And President Truman -- But On Soap!

Andrew Baxter, formerly of Greenock, Scotland, but now firmly rooted in Goldthwaite as a commercial sign painter, has been whiling away what little spare time he finds available by carving on soap.

This week Mr. Baxter was carrying in his pickup two cakes of soap on one of which he had carved a remarkable likeness of President Truman, done from a photograph.

Mr. Baxter also had carved a likeness of Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield on another cake of soap. That one will require some retouching because, as it turned out, Mr. Baxter made the Sheriff look like a Scotsman!

"I had no trouble carving the President because he sat so still in the photograph," Mr. Baxter said. "In the case of the Sheriff I started his likeness from a photograph, too, but then I decided to work from real life. I tried to carve while the Sheriff was on the bank corner but he kept moving about and so now I have to make him look a little less grim."

Anytime anybody sees Mr. Baxter with a cake of soap and some sculpting tools, watch out. He may have some more carving in mind.

In all probability the fact that 1952 is a big political year and that Mr. Baxter has carved Sheriff Stubblefield and President Truman on soap is a mere coincidence.

Next week's Eagle will report the glad news that Our Mrs. Clementine Wilmett Briley of Ebony had a new grand daughter, Margaret Jan Mitchell, who was born in Beaumont on December 28. That is why our readers have been missing Mrs. Briley's column.

No Action On Buses

Nearly two weeks after Associate Commissioner of Education L. P. Sturgeon had put it up to the Mills County Board of School Trustees to make new recommendations regarding the operation of Goldthwaite and Priddy school buses in Mt. Olive area, no action had been taken by the Board as the Eagle went to press this week. The next regular meeting of the County School Board is scheduled for February 4.

Mrs. Oran W. Carothers is planning a trip to Fort Worth for the coming weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue Thompson of Ebony went to Brady last weekend to attend funeral services for Mr. Thompson's aunt.

A son, Robert Wayne, was born on January 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Taylor in Fresno, California. They have relatives and friends in the Ebony community.

Mrs. Tom McArthur, who always is doing good things to help other people, would like some help herself in finding a single strand pearl necklace, about 18 inches long, that she lost in Goldthwaite on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Mrs. McArthur believes that she was wearing the necklace when she went to Gwin-the-Cleaner. Then she went to the Virgil Geeslin home, to the Loy Long Grocery and to the home of Mrs. W. B. Wooster. Somewhere along the way the necklace was lost.

The necklace, Mrs. McArthur said, had great sentimental value to her since it was a gift and she will appreciate having the finder return it to her.

HERE'S WHY - you see more every day!

EVER stop to ask yourself why you see more and more husky GMC's on every highway every day? Why so many cost-wise buyers are singling out GMC's as their first choice?

The answer is, "GMC" spells profit to the man whose business depends on the performance of his trucks.

To light-truck users, "GMC" means the highest horsepower in its class—for GMC 1/2- to 2-tonners are second to none in pulling power.

And to commercial haulers, "GMC" means America's most popular Diesel —for efficiency, for long-lasting, fleet-footed power and lowest operating cost.

And in between, throughout the GMC line—from the smallest gasoline-powered pickup truck to the largest Diesel—the story's the same:

Power, brakes, comfort, safety and stamina—the right combination of everything essential to low-cost hauling—in the right vehicle for your loads.

Before you buy another truck—come in. See for yourself why GMC is the best truck buy you can make today.

General Services held Monday For
E. Fesler

General services were conducted last Monday afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Goldthwaite for Joy E. Fesler, who died in hospital at San Antonio last Saturday as the result of injuries suffered on January 14 while he was working as a lineman at Floresville. Services were conducted by the Rev. Ed H. Lovelace, and the Rev. Paul A. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Goldthwaite. Interment was in the Pleasant Cemetery.

Fesler was born in Riverton, Iowa, on January 17, 1893. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fesler, he came to Texas as an infant and grew up in Mills County where he was two years old.

During World War I, Mr. Fesler served for about four years with the United States Marine Corps. On June 1, 1918, he was married to Mrs. Edith Smith, who survives. Surviving are three step-ity for his mother and even an older brother.

"He was the guiding hand in the family of his parents and he was the guiding hand in his own family throughout his life," Ernest W. Jackson, one of his sons, said.

Mr. Jackson was a farmer until his retirement. His first home in Mills County was a typical pioneer's log cabin. After living for more than a decade east of Goldthwaite, the children, Sammie Smith of Houston, Joe Bill Smith of Dallas, and Mrs. Wesley Krueger of Midland; a brother, Ray Fesler of Evant; and three sisters, Mrs. Ada Ward of Cleburne and Mrs. Jewel Partridge and Mrs. Ethel Roach of Goldthwaite.

During the Pastorate of Brother Weiss in Goldthwaite, Mr. Fesler joined the First Methodist Church here.

Pallbearers for the funeral were Brian Smith, Walter Featherston, Jack Shaw, Ansel Morgan, Will Moreland and Neal Ross, all of Goldthwaite; and H. H. Henry of San Antonio and Carl Featherston of Brownwood.

Jacksons moved to the present site of the family homestead south of Goldthwaite.

Throughout his life Mr. Jackson had an abiding distrust of debt and during periods of difficulty, such as the prolonged drought of 1901, he and his family lived on meager rations, on what their own farm could produce and what could be gathered in the fields rather than run accounts — which would have been available readily because of his excellent credit.

In his farming practices, Mr. Jackson was progressive. He was a staunch advocate of soil and water conservation and he was quick to adapt new methods of farming to his own operations.

For many years he rendered great service in the Baptist Church. He was a Deacon and then for many years he was Chairman of the Board of Deacons. He was a Deacon-emeritus at the time of his death. For more than 20 years he was Moderator of the Mills County Baptist Workers' Associational Conference.

Throughout the final years of his life, Mr. Jackson's constant companion was his daughter, Miss Fannie A. Jackson, who in 1948 set aside a teaching career to care first for her mother, and since then for Mr. Jackson.

In tribute to Mr. Jackson, the Deacons of the First Baptist Church were designated Honorary Pallbearers for his funeral.

Designated as Pallbearers were E. D. Hamilton, Carl Kauhs, Will Woody, John A. Hester, E. B. Gilliam, Jr., and R. V. Littlepage.

Eddie Lee Green

Twin sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Green at Big Spring on January 11. One of the infants, Eddie Lee, lived only a few hours but at last report Freddie Dee and his mother were in good health. Mrs. Green formerly lived at Lamesa. Her husband, William "Pete" Green, has many friends at Mullin and in the Duren community.

"The occasion will be a fellowship dinner to underline our welcome to our newer members," Brother Lovelace said.

SHEEP MARKINGS IN "SCABIES" CONTROL ARE DESCRIBED BY SANITARY COMMISSION

Harold Johanson, an Inspector for the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, this week announced the paint marking schedule and other regulations governing the movement of sheep from auction sales rings and public stockyards to Texas ranges.

Mr. Johanson, who lives in Mills County west of Goldthwaite, said that strict enforcement of regulations is necessary as part of the effort to control sheep scabies, an infectious disease that now exists in Texas.

Of special importance, Mr. Johanson said, is the paint marking schedule for dipped sheep. The paint to be used must be green and it must be applied carefully on the portions of the bodies of sheep as designated by the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas.

Between February 3 and February 9 sheep dipped must be marked in green paint on their right ribs.

Between February 10 and February 16 the marking in green paint must be on the right hip of the sheep.

From February 17 to February 23 dipped sheep must be marked with green paint on the left shoulder and between February 24 and March 1 the green paint must be applied to left ribs.

(At a later date the Eagle will publish the markings that must be applied during March and April.)

All sheep sold for immediate slaughter to establishments maintaining Federal or Municipal post mortem veterinary inspection are not required to be dipped before movement from stockyards or sales barns, but must be identified with red paint mark on top of loin.

The proclamation by Governor Allan Shivers providing the requirements governing the movement of sheep from auction sales rings and public stockyards to Texas ranges follows:

WHEREAS, it has been determined by investigation and inspections made by regularly employed representatives of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas that sheep scabies, Psoroptes Communis Ovis, a serious, contagious and infectious disease of sheep, exists in the State of Texas, and

WHEREAS, sheep infected with or exposed to scabies, Psoroptes Communis Ovis, are being assembled at Community Sales Rings, Public Auction Sales and Stockyards for sale, trade and barter as a result of which the disease, Psoroptes Communis Ovis, is being disseminated to the farms and ranches of this State with serious consequences to the economy of the sheep industry, and

WHEREAS, it is imperative that control measures be instituted to protect the sheep industry of Texas from the ravages of this disease,

THEREFORE, for the purpose of preventing the spread of this disease, the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, by virtue of the authority vested in it by law, hereby declares that all Community Sales Rings, Public Auction Sales and Public Stockyards in the State of Texas are classed as infected with, or exposed to, sheep scabies, Psoroptes Communis Ovis, and are hereby quarantined

NOW, THEREFORE, the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas has adopted the following regulations governing the removal of sheep from said quarantined Community Sales Rings, Public Auction Sales and Public Stockyards

No sheep shall be moved intrastate therefrom (except for immediate slaughter purposes) without first having been dipped one time in a wettable Benzene Hexachloride solution containing a gamma isomer concentration of not less than 0.06 percent, under the supervision of a representative of this Commission or of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry and accompanied by written permit or certificate, issued by a representative of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas or of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry.

At the time of dipping, all sheep shall be counted and paint branded for the purpose of identification and shall be held separate and apart, in non-infectious pens from sheep that have not been dipped.

It is further provided that sheep shall be removed within ten days following the date of dipping.

Sheep sold for immediate slaughter purposes, and consigned directly to slaughtering establishments, maintaining Federal or Municipal post mortem veterinary inspection, shall be exempt from this regulation.

It shall be the duty of the owners, operators or managers of Community Sales Rings, Public Auction Sales and Stockyards to provide necessary dipping vats and pens, together with dipping fluid and materials for dipping said sheep, and to provide sufficient help in order that sheep required to be dipped under this regulation, may be dipped in a manner calculated to eradicate infection or exposure as the case may be.

It is also provided that owners, operators or managers of Community Sales Rings, Public Auction Sales and Stockyards are to clean and refill vats when deemed necessary by the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas or its authorized representatives, provided however, that no dipping solution shall be used which has been mixed and in the vat more than ten days.

These orders and provisions have been adopted by the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas on the 3rd day of January A. D. 1952, and are hereby transmitted to the Governor of the State of Texas with the request that he proclaim them to be in effect on and after the 4th day of February A. D. 1952.

WITNESS OUR HANDS at Fort Worth, Texas this the 3rd day of January A. D. 1952.

77 Obenhaus Candles

When the birthday anniversary of Justice of the Peace E. A. Obenhaus was celebrated on Wednesday night of last week all precedent was shattered because there were 77 candles on the birthday cake! It is customary in such cases to keep the number of candles to a minimum of 21, as Sam Rayburn did recently, but for Justice of the Peace Obenhaus the number of candles on his cake tallied exactly with the years that he carries so well. At the birthday supper that Mrs. Obenhaus served the celebration was made just right by the presence of the Curly Howard and Odie Daniels families from Brownwood.

Pink, Blue Shower

Mrs. Leon Johnson of Scallorn entertained 25 guests on Wednesday of last week at a pink and blue shower in honor of Mrs. Ernest Pankhurst.

Jamie Brown Home On Leave With Promotion And New Hitch In Navy

With a higher rating than he had when he was home on leave last autumn, Jamie Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown of Rt. 3, arrived in Goldthwaite for another furlough on Friday of last week. Just after his furlough last autumn he was promoted to Electrician's Mate, 2C, by the United States Navy, and just before his present leave he "shipped over" for another six years. He already has 5 1/2 years of Navy service.

When Jamie Brown first arrived home last Friday he was really sea-going, what with his uniform, complete with rating insignia and hash mark. A few hours later he turned out equally spic and span in "civilian's." After the Eagle's recent experience with our Franklin Dew Weathers, the obvious question to Jamie was whether or not he had a wedding coming up NO wedding, Jamie said—he just wanted to show the Square how the well-dressed man-around-San Francisco looks. Looked nice too, he did; very, very nice in a gray double-breasted suit.

Jamie Brown's present leave, which will expire on February 11 when he reports back to duty at the Vallejo Naval Shipyards near San Francisco, coincided with home leave for one of his cousins, Joe Neal Kelly, PN3C, who is stationed aboard the U. S. S. Falcon at Newport, R. I. Joe Neal Kelly is a son of Joe Kelly of Brownwood.

Both Jamie Brown and Joe Neal Kelly are cousins of the Eagle's Arnold Kenneth Kelly. When they got together at the Eagle office during the past week it was decided not to attempt to list all of their cousins and other relatives, because they have so many.

Joe Neal Kelly, who has been in the Navy since September of 1948, also has "shipped over" for another two years.

Sherwoods Settle Happily On Old Wooster Place

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sherwood and the members of their family now are happily established in their new home on the "old Wooster place" south of Goldthwaite after having sold all of their holdings in the Valley.

Mr. Sherwood has been a land holder in Mills County for some time but until recently he maintained residence at La Feria. Now the Sherwood operations have been concentrated in Mills County.

Mr. Sherwood, who came to Texas originally from Central New York, had been in the Valley since 1932. Mrs. Sherwood originally came from Oklahoma but she, too, had lived in the Valley for nearly three decades. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood have four children. They are Neida Jean, 12, Charles Arthur, 9, and twin daughters, Darleen and Darlain, who will be six next March.

Completing the Sherwood household are Mrs. Sherwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Walk, who also came to Mills County from La Feria.

Mr. Sherwood reported this week that his children, having always lived in a town, are most enthusiastic about living "out in the country." He said also that some members of his family know which twin is Darleen and which is Darlain.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burk and their children of San Angelo were guests last Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Burk of the Scalhorn community.

Herman Johnson of Tarleton State College spent last week-end in Scallorn with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson.

Lewis At San Diego

Seaman Recruit Frank Winston "Nubbin" Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis and husband of the former Kathleen Kemp, now is in boot camp at the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Cal. Before he entered the Navy, Seaman Recruit Lewis was employed by G. L. Kemp.

Mervyn Lee Hale To Be Graduated

Mrs. Oran Hale is in Fort Worth this week. On Friday right her son, Mervyn Lee Hale, will be graduated with honors from the North Side High School. He will speak at the commencement exercises. During Mrs. Hale's absence her mother, Mrs. Scott Thompson, will be cared for by Mrs. Joe Hoppe of Dallas. Mrs. Thompson has been seriously ill.

BASKETBALL

On Thursday night of last week the Goldthwaite basketball team of the Goldthwaite High School lost what Coach Jack Locklear described as a "heart breaker" to the Mullin girls by only one point. Last Friday night, however, the Goldthwaite girls staged a come-back to win against Marble Falls by a score of 28-17.

On Thursday night of last week the Goldthwaite boys defeated Mullin 30 to 28 in what Mr. Locklear described as a "thriller." Last Friday night Marble Falls defeated the Goldthwaite boys 28 to 24. That, Mr. Locklear said, was "a hard tussle."

Mrs. Ola Howell and brothers, Roy Lee and Truman Hill, visited relatives in Pidooke Sunday afternoon and went sight-seeing at Camp Hood and Killeen.

The outlook for a new Mexican labor agreement, and what it may have in it if one is worked out, remains uncertain. The present agreement expires on February 11.

Last week a Special Farm Labor Advisory Committee to the Farm Placement Service, met in Washington to study the problem and make recommendations concerning the terms of a new agreement, if one is made.

On that committee are two Texans—Kirkland of Pecos and Sam Reed of Haskell County. Upon invitation, Ernest Williams and Willie B. Wilson, of San Angelo, attended the meetings and presented the view of sheep, goat, and cattle raisers.

They insisted that any new agreement include ranch as well as farm labor; that the contracts be simplified, with more choice by employers in selecting experienced men, and more latitude be given in fixing incompetencies. It was urged, among other things, that work contracts be lengthened and that wages, etc. be no higher for ranch than for farm work.

I joined the Texans in urging that these and other views be included in recommendations to those who do the negotiating for our Government.

In the meantime, on Capitol Hill the House Judiciary Committee was busy drafting amendments to the present immigration laws with the view of meeting President Truman's demand for tighter anti-wet-back laws.

Early in January at my suggestion a member of the press asked Mr. Truman what his attitude was regarding the renewal of a labor agreement to replace the present one when it expires. The President said he had promised the President of Mexico—at the latter's insistence—that drastic laws would be enacted controlling the working of so-called wet-backs in this country before any new agreement is negotiated, and that he would insist upon that being done.

When asked for my comments on that development, I stated that in my judgment the matter of what immigration laws are enacted in this country should be decided by the Congress—not by the President of Mexico. I pointed out that there's a simple solution to the so-called wet-back problem; simply work out a sensible and workable labor agreement, free of so much red tape and discrimination against employers, so Mexican workers can be processed to work on our farms and ranches where adequate domestic labor is not available. If that is done there will be little reason or incentive for the Mexican nationals to seek employment on this side of the Rio Grande without first being processed.

Our fear is that certain proposed amendments before the Judiciary Committee will be violative of fundamental protection to our farmers and ranchers against unreasonable searches of their premises. In other words, the proposal that immigration officers have free access to premises without first obtaining search or arrest warrants would be a dangerous invasion of personal rights of people, and would undoubtedly cause much dissension and possible trouble. Such searches cannot now be done, without warrants, with respect to narcotics, stolen property, etc; so why give immigration officers such blanket rights with respect to search for wetbacks?

We need laws against illegal aliens, but such laws should apply over all the nation and should recognize the rights of the people as against invasion of their premises by officers, with or without reason. If they have good reason, they can obtain authority from Magistrates to make any necessary searches for proper arrests.

On the Judiciary Committee, now studying this phase of the proposed legislation is Congressman Wilson of Dallas and Pickett of Palestine. They are both fighting for reasonable laws that will be adequate but which will not be violative of fundamental rights.

It now appears likely that a new immigration law will be enacted within the next few weeks, but probably some time after the February 11 deadline. Just what it will provide remains to be seen. It also remains uncertain at this time whether the present agreement may be extended pending passage of the legislation on the subject insisted upon by the President. If and when negotiations are begun on a new agreement with Mexico, it is indicated that they may be held in Washington this time.

Lost Dog Story

Wayman C. White of P. O. Box 113, Llano, lost a little white dog with brown spots named "Dick" on the highway between Goldthwaite and Llano last Saturday and he hopes that if somebody found his pet he will communicate with him at once. Mr. White has had "Dick" for ten years. "This dog is a child's pet," he wrote to the Eagle, "and since the child has had the dog all of his life we are most anxious to have him back." The dog wears a Llano tag and answers readily to his name.

Scientist From Texas Research Foundation Describes Progress

Fred M. Shaw, educational director of the Texas Research Foundation at Renner, addressed an audience of ranchers and farmers, students of the Mills County Vocational School and visiting groups from San Saba, Lampasas, Comanche, Coryell and Hamilton Counties at the Goldthwaite Grammar School auditorium on Wednesday night of this week.

"Summer and winter grasses; legumes and fertilizers," was the subject of the address by Mr. Shaw, who is widely recognized as an outstanding authority in his field. He brought to his audience the benefits of research that has been done at Renner on an all-season pasture system. The research has revealed that certain perennials will make good yields of nutritious forage from November to June and that other perennials provide fairly continuous growth from April through October.

The cool-season perennials, it has been found, become semi-dormant during the summer months but survive prolonged droughts if they are protected from grazing during the hot season. The best warm-season perennials it has been found, are deep-rooted and show more sustained growth in summer than bermuda grass and other similar species. By planting each type of grass on different land it is possible to have forage growth on a nearly continuous basis, and to provide a fairly constant supply of feed by moving grazing animals from one type to another in accordance with seasonal growth.

In addition to describing the all-season pasture system, Mr. Shaw on Wednesday night said that research at the Texas Research Foundation has indicated methods of fertilization that will support good pastures, even though the land has been depleted by long continued cropping.

Linda Ruth Geeslin Leaves Her Appendix In San Saba Hospital

Linda Ruth Geeslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Geeslin, was a very happy little girl this week because she was home safe and sound from the San Saba Memorial hospital where on Friday afternoon of last week, Dr. Fred W. Farley relieved her of a "hot" appendix.

Linda Ruth, who is 4 1/2, enjoyed the San Saba Memorial Hospital. Dr. Farley rates in her esteem and so do Mrs. Alfred Carter and Mrs. Adrian Long, nurses at the San Saba Memorial Hospital who were so kind to her. But much as she liked hospital after Dr. Farley got rid of that awful pain, Linda Ruth wanted to come home to be with her parents and with her sister, Virgilene, who is 11, and her brother, Lester Paris, who is 14.

For several days last week Linda Ruth was a very sick little girl and the pain down there kept getting worse and worse. So Dr. M. A. Childress told her Daddy to hurry up and take her to San Saba. Right away Dr. Farley knew what to do and he did it and what with her fine care and her bubbling good spirits, she was able to come home to Goldthwaite last Monday.

Callers who went to see Linda Ruth said she was "bouncing around all over the place" because she was feeling so good. Her Daddy, who had a very anxious time, along with her Mommie, last Friday, said the reports from the well wishers were quite correct.

M. R. Ethridge, father of Mrs. R. G. Blackburn and Mrs. Henry Blackburn, both of Goldthwaite, is critically ill at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Otho Reeves of Brownwood.
