Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson sand farm on Sandy Acres speculates on some Russian goals this week, in his own way.

Dear editor:

The way it looks from out here, if the Russian leaders' goal is to become an outlaw nation, shooting down passenger planes is one sure way to do it.

And judging from the way they handled their account of the slaughter, they must have another goal: becoming the world's most asinine government. As you know, at first they said it didn't happen; then if it did they didn't have anything to do with it; then that it was just a lot of hoopla over nothing; then that its interceptor fighter plane warned the airliner and it flew off and disappeared.

Finally, after six days and clear proof they'd deliberately shot it down, the Russians said 'yeah, we did it and furthermore we'll do it again if a passenger plane strays into our air space.' They added that the plane carrying 269 men, women, children and babies from 16 different countries was a spy plane sent out by President Reagan. This would be the first time in history spies have been disguised as one year old babies.

The more you think about it the more insane it becomes. I don't suppose there's a country on earth whose air space hasn't been flown over by airliners off course. Russian planes have flown over U.S. air space frequently un-shot-at.

To bring this down to earth, if my neighbors shot every one of my cows that strayed into their pastures and I shot every one of theirs getting into mine, and if the practice was followed all over the country, we'd have the biggest shortage of beef in history.

Moreover, I should add that any neighbor sending a spy plane over my place to photograph my cattle operation would be wasting his film.

I do have one thing though I'd like to keep secret, but not for military reasons. It's my system of fence maintenance, where the wires hold up the posts instead of the posts the wires.

Your faithfully,
J.A.

Athletic Boosters Update
by Donna Shaw

The Muleshoe Athletic Boosters met Tuesday, September 27 in the high school cafeteria with a good crowd present.

Booster made plans to erect signs on each of the five highways entering Muleshoe displaying the fighting Mule head with the words: "Entering MULE Territory."

The knee machine recently purchased for the athletic department by the boosters has been put to good use, with several of our boys using it daily. Boosters were also busy planning the Homecoming activities for this week.

A big Muleshoe has been built by Larry Rasco to be used for members of the team to run through when they come on the field for a game. Our appreciation to Larry. Also, Marilyn Cox has made a black cape to be given to the 1983 Homecoming Queen at the coronation.

It was noted by Booster members that Coach Roy Donaldson is doing a great job with the junior high program.

A regular Booster Club meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 4 in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. and all parents and boosters are urged to attend.

Ag Vehicle Width Ruling Is Amended

Recent controversy over House Bill 1602, passed during the last session of legislature, was settled on Wednesday, when the Texas Highway Commission, meeting in Austin, ruled that farm equipment would be exempt from the width restrictions previously imposed. The bill, if enforced would have meant that farm equipment owners would have to purchase an annual $480 per vehicle permit to drive their over-sized equipment on any public road. This would have included farm to market and county roads.

Highway commissioners maintained that the bill was not intended to exclude the incidental use of the highways by farm equipment, to begin with.

Prior to June 19, Texas laws had an exemption from vehicle width requirements on Texas public highways for transportation of ag implements at a distance of not more than 50 miles, allowing farmers to carry out agricultural operations. However, effective June 19, it was made unlawful for any vehicle to operate on a public highway in Texas if the total outside width, including the load exceeds 102 inches (8.5 feet), unless the vehicle is operated on a highway specially designated.

The Wednesday session of the Texas Highway and Public Transportation Commission, however, reinstated the agricultural exemption, enabling farmers to drive overwide equipment from farm to farm.

Two particular types of equipment will remain regulated according to TDA spokesman, Leland Beatty. "On designated national defense roads, cylindrical hay bales may not exceed 102 inches, and cotton modules may not exceed 108 inches without permits," Beatty said.

National defense roads on the High Plains, include U.S. Highways 84, 62-82 and 87.

If the farm equipment exemption had been excluded, farmers who owned and operate four wheel drive tractors, those with dual wheels, four row cotton strippers, combines and any tractor pulling implements would have been forced off of public roads unless they had a special permit.

The exclusion law was termed as ambiguous and therefore, legislative intent was used to determine how it would be enforced. A spokesman said "it was not the intent of Congress to exclude the incidental use of such highways by farm equipment."

Children Must Be Taught Self-Care Skills

Thousands of Texas school children are home alone each day after school. The increasing number of employed mothers and lack of supervised after-school programs means that more and more children will be involved in self-care, says home economist Diane Welch.

Bryan Curt Turnbow

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Turnbow of Lubbock are the proud parents of a son born at 11:12 a.m. Sept. 26 in the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

The young man weighed six pounds 12 ounces and was 20 and a half inches long. He has been named Bryan Curt. He will be joined at home by his brother, Steven, who is one year old.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waggoner of Bledsoe and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turnbow of Muleshoe.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Black of Muleshoe, Mrs. Alpha Waggoner of Tuscola, Mrs. J.L. Scott of Muleshoe and Mrs. Winnie Turnbow of Anton.

Karen Owetha Mayse

Mr. and Mrs. Max Mayse of Lawrence, Kansas are the proud parents of a daughter born at 10:59 a.m. Sept. 29 in Lawrence Memorial Hospital at Lawrence.

The young lady weighed six pounds and eight ounces and has been named Karen Owetha.

Grandparents are Clifton Finley of Muleshoe and Maxine Mayse of Wichita, Kansas.

"After school self-care beginning at age nine or ten is not necessarily a bad thing, if children are adequately prepared and ready to function on their own," says Welch, a family life education specialist with Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service.

Many working parents feel guilty about having a "latch-key" child, yet fail to realize that all children need to learn coping skills at some point. Even the children of full-time homemakers must sometimes stay by themselves while their mothers keep appointments, do errands, or attend adults-only activities, she notes.

Both employed parents and full-time homemakers, should teach coping skills to their children before allowing them to stay by themselves, says the specialist.

Welch suggests that parents preparing a child for self-care do the following: --Teach the child basic safety skills including how to use emergency phone numbers, perform first aid for minor home accidents, escape the house or apartment in case of fire, and handle incoming phone calls or strangers coming to the door.

--Have your child practice emergency situations and test him or her periodically to make sure basic skills have not been forgotten.

--Set clear-cut rules that will guide the child toward responsible behavior. Children need to know what they can or cannot do when it comes to cooking, using appliances, playing outside or having friends over to play.

--Help your child fight boredom and avoid excessive television watching by encouraging hobbies and providing plenty of alternative after-school activities, such as reading, a pet, or arts and crafts projects.

--Set expectations about homework, chores or music practice to help your child learn to manage time and develop self-discipline.

--If possible, arrange for the "indirect supervision" of a relative or neighbor who is willing to take phone calls or help your child with a problem.

--Stay in contact with your child by making a regular phone call every day and occasional unscheduled phone calls, if at all possible. Make sure the child knows the number where you can be reached.

New process takes 'beany' flavor out of soybean protein

COLLEGE STATION—A process that takes the 'beany' flavor out of soybean protein products used in baked goods, ground meats and other foods has been patented by a Texas A&M University researcher.

"Flavor has been cited as one of the main factors limiting wider use of soybean protein products in foods," explained inventor Jim Lawhon, a veteran oilseed protein researcher with the Food Protein Research and Development Center of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station.

"We believe this process may be the long-awaited 'missing link' in development and marketing of vegetable protein products without objectional flavors," said Dr. Ed Lusas, director of the food protein center.

Water institute seeks well-managed brush program

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Water Resources Institute has posted "wanted" signs for rustlers that annually steal millions of acre feet of water each year from along river banks, springs and reservoirs.

Heading the most-wanted list are saltcedar and mesquite, but also included are willow, cottonwood, hackberry and elm trees that, along with other plants with little or no economic value, consume 37 percent of all the rain which falls on the Lone Star State each year.

Your Image Flattery is the art of describing others as they see themselves.

College Studies Sign on dorm door: If I'm studying when you enter, wake me up.

Each artist will be responsible for manning their booth and selling their own products. Publicity and security during the sale will be provided.

All the proceeds from this sale goes back into the community, either by donation, or by Jaycee Women sponsored projects for charitable organizations. "We want to especially emphasize this because we are able to help so many with your help and participation," says Nina Allen, parliamentarian.

In prior years, the proceeds went to: Multiple Sclerosis (South Plains Chapter), Foster Parents Association (Lubbock Child Abuse Center), March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon and Mother's March and Children's Christmas Shopping Tour (Lubbock Children's Home and Texas Boy's Ranch).

In addition, the Texas Jaycee Women judged their project as a First Place Project, placing them in a very elite category in the State of Texas. It was noted that they are able to help not only needy people, but they also provide a means for area artists to display their art work making this a total community commitment.

Look Up and Live!

Cotton harvest is here and the Coop urges extreme caution when operating farm equipment near electric lines.

In recent years, many incidents have involved cotton module builders. The extended portion of the cotton module builder can easily come into contact with overhead electric lines if the operator is not careful. The same problem exists with overhead baskets on cotton strippers.

We urge farmers and their employees to be alert to these potential hazards and take every possible precaution to avoid serious injury or death. When moving a module builder, be sure the packer arm is lowered as far as it will go. When using a stripper with an overhead basket, be sure to check for overhead lines before dumping.

If some piece of equipment does contact these 7200 volt overhead lines, it's important that you or the operator not try to simply back away. The line could break, or if it's already broken, it could tangle in the equipment and break again, compounding the problem and increasing the danger.

Jump clear of the machine, being sure not to touch the ground and the machine at the same time. Move quickly away at a right angle to the power line. Then call Bailey County Electric Cooperative at (Area Code 806) 272-4504 whether the line is broken or not.

Lower packer arm as far as it will go before moving module builder.

The Varsity Mules first district game will be on Friday, October 7th, at Abernathy. As with all district games, kick off will be at 7:30.

Coaches

Comments

This week's comments come from Coach Jerry Robinson who characterized the Muleshoe-Idalou football game as, "a classic defensive battle." He said, "Both the Mules and Wildcats had averaged well over 300 yards per game total offense in previous games, but neither team had as much as 150 yards at the final gun. The Mules defense played an excellent game and is to be commended."

"While the Mule defense played well, the offense played well too," continued Coach Robinson. "The Mule offense moved the ball well for most of the game. Inopportune penalties and a stubborn Idalou defense kept the Mules from scoring."

"Although the game was tied at zero, we can be very proud of our Mules for tying a team that is still ranked number 8 in the state," concluded Coach Robinson. "If the Mules continue to improve there will be many more victories to make up for the tie."

Firefighters Report

By Wayne Peterson

Recently the department received five new pagers and a dozen carrying cases. Chief Dunham inspected the purchase, handed out the cases and put the new monitor receivers under lock and key. He figured they would last longer and receive the same call response to fires. The Chief makes every dollar go as far as possible.

The fire meetings are either getting more exciting or Fred Clements' blood pressure high and blood thin as first aid was used to bring bleeding under control, caused by non combat wounds.

Fires have not been a major problem this month, this we are glad to report. The equipment is still getting its checkups and repairs. Keeping the fire fighting units and equipment in safe, ready condition is a never ending job. So if you need something to do in your spare time come down to a Wednesday night meeting, you may want to help your community by becoming a fireman.

Canyon Fire fighting training field September 14 and 15. This school is sanctioned by the Texas Engineering Extension Service, A&M University Systems Fire protection training division. Other Muleshoe firemen attending this school were Billy Tosh, Eugene Maxwell, Johnny Ziegenfuss and Mark Tutt, each receiving three hours credits training.

Two facilities were inspected this month by Fire Marshall Owen Jones, Mrs. Rowena Meyers Counseling Service located at 211 East Ave. B. and the Texas Migrant Council, head start located at 101 East Ave. B. Both facilities passed inspection by meeting the minimum fire and safety requirements in the City of Muleshoe.

The proper use and care of Scott Air Packs was the subject of training Wed. 28th. These fresh air units which are carried on the firemen's back have probably saved and extended the life span of firemen more than any other one piece of equipment to date.

Frank Ellis offered his services to J.O. Parker, training officer for the department, in demonstrating the Scott Air Pack but was refused as it was expected he only wanted a fireman's cap. After the meeting was adjourned Frank left for the funeral home and asked James (Smoky) Martin to join him, but the last we've seen of Smoky he was seen three blocks away still making tracks.

National 4-H Week Observation Set

4-H has a proud 75-year heritage that forms the basis of this year's National 4-H Week theme, "4-H: Building on Experience." National 4-H Week, Oct. 2-8, is a special time for 4-H members and leaders to promote the nation's largest youth organization and to bring some recognition to its contributions, points out Kirby Rankin, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Over the years millions of 4-H'ers have gained valuable leadership experiences and learned practical skills that have improved their quality of life, notes Rankin.

Today almost five million youth across the nation between the ages of 9 and 19 are gaining valuable learning experiences through 4-H--187,000 of those are in Texas, and 150 live in Bailey County. The Bailey County 4-H program reaches boys and girls through community based clubs and short-term project groups.

4-H'ers are engaged in some 50 different project areas in which they gain lifelong skills through the program's "learning by doing" concept, points out Rankin. These projects had their beginning 75 years ago when special Corn Clubs were organized for boys in Jack County. First focusing on such traditional areas as crop and livestock production and canning and sewing, 4-H projects now deal with a wide range of subjects, including small engines, rocketry and veterinary science--even the use of computers.

The 4-H program is conducted in each county through the Cooperative Extension Service and is backed by the state's land-grant university (Texas A&M University for the Texas program) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Adult and teenage 4-H leaders shoulder much of the responsibility for the 4-H program in Bailey County says Rankin.

Mule Homecoming

Ronald Kuehler took it on over for the second Indian touchdown, putting them up 15-0 after a good PAT. The play went about the same through the rest of the first half, with Morton pulling new tricks out of their bags almost every time. The Mules played some good defense, but had some missed assignments and confusion due to the Indian's own particular style of ball-playing.

Just into the second half, several officiating calls were made - or not made, which might have made some difference in the game; however, the Mules came back in with a little more fire in their eyes after some shots they didn't deserve.

Morton's third score in the game came just a few minutes into the second half after a "short" Mule drive from the 41 yard line. Hamilton fired to Norman who picked up 7 yards and then to Hysinger for a couple. On the next play, in a punt situation, the barefooted Hamilton put a foot into the ball and it was blocked by Indian Terry Lynch, who returned it 60 yards for the Indian touchdown. The PAT was no good, but the Indians were up 21-0.

The Mules were virtually penalty-free until the last part of the third quarter when they began drawing some motion penalties. Super coverage on pass receivers for the Mules put a halt to the passing attack and a couple of passes which could have made a difference were dropped.

Late into the third quarter, the Mules started a drive which put them on the 29 yard line of the Indians. They had to give the ball up here - but just for one play. On Morton's snap to the quarterback, the ball was fumbled and the Mules recovered, stunting on defense. This led to the Mules lone score of six points, as the PAT failed. With the help of the McCarty boys, Gleason, Norman, & Moton, Hysinger battled the ball over the goal line from about a foot out to score the six points for the Mules. Hysinger rushed 17 times for 54 yards in the game; Moton rushed 10 for 43 yards.

The rest of the fourth quarter was well-controlled by the Mules, but receivers just couldn't get a handle on the ball and a couple of receivers were hit before they could get a hand on the ball. Hamilton was also taking some pretty good licks. The Indians were beginning to wear down in the fourth quarter, but it was just not soon enough and the Mules were unable to pull this one out, with the score being 21-6 in Morton's favor.

In the last few seconds of the game, Hamilton hit Shaw for two perfect passes of 47 yards and 13 yards, but to no avail. The game ended with Morton taking possession and falling on the football to run out the clock.

During the sentencing, Hensley told Flores that "at some point, you've got to realize you can't kill." Flores was sentenced to the maximum nine years on the charge, plus an additional three years due to "aggravating circumstances."

According to reports, the sentencing was held under tight security, with Sheriff's officers checking spectators with metal detectors before allowing them in the courtroom.

Flores had been in Roosevelt County jail under $100,000 bond since the night of his arrest on March 20. He was charged with the stabbing of Reyes, 31, in the Casa de Los Arcos Lounge. Boosters Plan

Annual Carnival

The Fine Arts Boosters annual Halloween Carnival is planned this year for October 29, Saturday from 6 to 10 a.m. in the Bailey County Coliseum. As in the past, the Boosters use the benefits from this and other projects to benefit the fine arts classes of band, speech and art in Muleshoe's high school and junior high.

The coronation of the Halloween Carnival Queen will be held at 9 p.m. that night. Contestants are selected by each fine arts class in both high school and junior high, as well as their escorts. Candidates are already planning their fund raising projects, since each penny earned is a vote for the candidate who raises it. The candidate who collects the largest amount of funds will be crowned as Queen.

Booths will be available to any organization at a fee of $25 each for the night. To reserve a booth for the carnival, call Renda Logsdon at 272-3845. The deadline for booth reservation is October 22.

The film, shot behind the walls of New York's Attica prison, is hosted by Art Linkletter.
