Middle West Looms Major Battleground Next November War and Peace Since 1917 Have Cost U. S. $806 Billion

Special to Central Press Association WASHINGTON—The Middle West looms as the great battleground of next November's presidential elections, whether or not President Eisenhower is a candidate.

It is in that region of farms and factories that the economic issues on which the campaign will be fought are certain to be most keenly felt.

Middle West farmers are suffering from the price-cost squeeze which the Republicans are attempting to ease, without much hope of dramatic results, between now and election day.

Also in the Middle West, auto workers are being laid off as production falls below last year's record rate. Should the layoffs become sizeable, other industries will be hit.

The Democrats, of course, will seek to exploit the situation, while the Republicans will strive to convince the farmers that their problems are in the process of solution and to find some pump-priming device for the auto production centers.

WAR COSTS—Rep. Lawrence Smith (R), Wisconsin, has figured out that it has cost the United States $806 billion to wage war and maintain a precarious peace from 1917 to 1954. During that period, he says, the United States has given other nations more than $129 billion, almost $100 billion since 1940.

Smith estimates that the American aid bill since World War II totals $51 billion, of which $1 billion 325 million has gone to Russia and other Communist nations in the form of direct aid, gifts, bank loans and gifts from private agencies.

In addition, the congressman says, America has spent more than $677 billion on national defense and preparedness from 1917 to 1954.

SECOND VICE PRESIDENT—The proposal of former President Herbert Hoover to cut down on the burdens of the presidency by giving him power to appoint an "administrative vice president" is gaining support in Congress.

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen (R), New Jersey, already has introduced several bills designed to meet the problems spotlighted by President Eisenhower's heart attack and among them was the Hoover proposal.

Furthermore, Senator John F. Kennedy (D), Massachusetts, who is chairman of a government operations subcommittee, says his group intends to hold hearings on the subject of easing the President's job. It is understood that Kennedy will seek the opinion of Mr. Eisenhower himself about the idea of a "second vice president." Ike may lend his full support to the idea since he is a firm believer in delegation of powers and now relies heavily on White House aides.

TV QUIZ FOR ALL—Senator Estes Kefauver has a pet idea that he will press should he ever become President. It is to bring the people and their government closer together by having a televised question-and-answer period in Congress.

During stated periods, Cabinet members and heads of various federal agencies would have a chance to explain their problems, report their progress and then be questioned by members of Congress.

Kefauver says: "Under my proposal, the question-and-answer periods would be fully covered by newsmen, radio and television. This would enable 155 million Americans to sit in on what you might call a town meeting on a national scale."

The senator believes such a program, giving the people an insight into the workings of government, would stimulate popular discussion of issues and leaders.

WAR COSTS—Rep. Lawrence Smith (R), Wisconsin, has figured out that it has cost the United States $806 billion to wage war and maintain a precarious peace from 1917 to 1954.

Smith estimates that the American aid bill since World War II totals $51 billion, of which $1 billion 325 million has gone to Russia and other Communist nations in the form of direct aid, gifts, bank loans and gifts from private agencies.

VIC'S . . . SOLILOQUY

This IS something new. In Kansas City, a labor union leader has announced that arrangements have been made with the University of Kansas City for a special course to be conducted for members of the building trades union members to study loafing—and ways to prevent it. The ten week course tackles among other things, the foreman's problems in getting top performance out of their crews. Some 50 members have enrolled.

Andrew Harvey, president of local No. 124, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers explained that productivity in the construction industry is low. "Some projects," he said, "Are more like a convalescent home than a construction job." He added: "If a worker dogs it, doesn't give a full days work for a full days pay, he is multiplying the costs of the employer."

The union official declared a "constant education program" is needed to "impress on construction workers the necessity for increased productivity. Our course is part of such a program."

Harvey cited figures indicating that today's new houses may cost up to 25 per cent more than it would if all workers on the job put forth their best efforts.

"If they don't give it, they are unfair to themselves, their employer, and trade unionism," he said.

WHO IS HIT HARDEST The federal income tax begins at 20 per cent, on the lowest taxable incomes. From there on it rises fast until it reaches 91 per cent in the high brackets.

You might logically judge from this that people of large means, because of progressive taxation, pay most of the tax bill. But they don't. Eighty-four per cent of all individual income taxes collected come from the basic 20 per cent rate—and only 16 per cent from the surtaxes.

As Graham Patterson puts it in Town Journal, "So the high rates are actually more destructive of income than productive of revenue."

Excessively costly government hits everyone—and it hits people of moderate means hardest. There aren't enough rich people to carry the load.

PAMPERING BREEDS WEAKNESS The Sherman County Journal, of Moro, Oregon, stated a very big principle in a very small space when it said: "A government that protects the weak will always have lots of that kind of people; a government that lets the strong develop will have that kind."

It is a law of nature that pampering breeds weakness. The pen-raised bird, loosed in the wilds, has small chance of survival, as many state game agencies have learned from experience. The parallel to the human individual, whether the results are about the same, comes from a dotting of a paternalistic government.

IT'S THE PUBLIC'S MONEY For many years the Press Association—of which newspaper, along with a majority of all Texas newspapers, is a member—has laws that would require opening bodies of the state districts, and municipalities open their records to the public.

In many instances, public minutes would be made and in the case of handling public funds, the would be mandatory.

Some progress has been in these efforts, but not as much as the importance of the project justifies. There has been a great deal of position to the TPA press. But they have been aside for other matters.

Apathy—not opposition—kept them off the state. Now all Texas is over the numerous, circumstances that have light the past few years have been the Dural revelations; the U. S. and other insurance to say nothing of instances of corruption abuse of public trust at there have been many.

Men who are in a position—such as the General of Texas—say these things could have gone on for long had been adequate laws. PUBLIC NOTICE It is ful that any of them have been attempted, there been requirements official actions be made lic.

Proper public notice will prevent such things future. Such laws usually lead to good government.

This is an election year you think public business be made public, ask each date for the legislature feels about secrecy in government affairs. Vote for port men who pledge to help pass legislation quiring publication of reports by insurance county treasurers, and all persons who handle funds.

Hillside Mission By LIDA BYRNE

Gods laws are in the Bible for our acceptance or rejection. It is our own volition whether to choose them or reject them, and reap consequences. If we accept them we find consolation in Isaiah 41:13: "For the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee."

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes on Temporary Home in El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

While my chance for at-
the ACC Bible Lecture-med quite unlikely. Some hopes vanished. But ing Sunday I kept
around asking different Mrs. King, who works in church office, said she
he preachers were going
me to call Bro. Ward.
he preachers were going
me to call Bro. Ward.
he preachers were going
me to call Bro. Ward.
he preachers were going
me to call Bro. Ward.

Thursday he called. He said if the weather permitting three ladies were going in a car and there would be room for me
with them and for me to call Mrs. Choate. She said if the car went, I could go with them.
Bro. Ward also said that if the weather was too bad, he still thought I could go with the preachers. That eternal hope began again to spring up.

Friday at noon I had to hurry to fill a baby-sitting date for Mrs. La Rock. Johnny went along with me to play with Rocky. When we got back, there was a card from my niece, Ma-lie Wilmeth, inviting me to stay with her for the Lectureship. Also a letter from granddaughter, Carol Jean saying she was keeping her fingers crossed for me,
and if I came, she would see that I enjoyed every moment.
Monday Mrs. Choate called me and said they would be by for me Saturday morning between 7:30 and 8 o'clock. This is only Thursday and from reading the evening paper I'm still keeping my fingers crossed about the weather.

A letter from Mrs. Flora Gatlin Bowles of Fort Worth came this week. Mrs. Bowles is writing a history of Mills County and she wants us to contribute a brief history of our section.
She recalls our first acquaintances. We met on the train enroute to San Antonio to attend
our first State Teachers' Association Christmas 1905. I had attended North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton that summer. It was Mr. Butler's first summer in the college. He asked us all to meet him at the State Teachers' Association at San Antonio.

Mary Hennington of Brooke-
smith and I were roommates.
Her sister, Mrs. Wade Parks, lived in San Antonio. We planned to go. I was to come to her house for Christmas dinner,
then we would take the train
that evening at Brooksmith.
Christmas morning my brother and I set out in the buggy to find Brooksmith. We got lost and did not get there till nearly train time. Mary had backed out. I was so disappointed. But she had a Bible to send by me
to her sister and brother-in-law for their Christmas present. I boarded the train and went on alone. At Goldthwaite Mrs.
Bowles (Miss Flora Gatlin), her brother, and Miss Dilla Burks got on the train. I never met them before, but was I glad to meet up with them! I stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Wade Parks and they were lovely to me. I fell in love with the State Teachers' Association and thereafter through all my teaching
years I rarely missed a meeting.

Farmers Urged To Maintain Adequate Records

Farmers should keep adequate records in order to be able to file complete tax returns, J. R.
Cheatham, announced today.

"By all means keep a complete record of all your income, and all your expenses from your farming operation," Mr. Cheatham continued. "Keep your records up to date by recording daily each sale of a farm product and each expense for feed, fertilizer, and other farm expenses. Personal living expenses, such as your own food, clothing, and the like, are not considered farm expenses. This record of your farm expenses
and income will make the job of filing tax returns at the end of each year easy."

THE HOUSEWIFE'S BUYING HABITS

What is the deciding factor for the Texas housewife at the supermarket produce counter—
economy or quality?

The Texas Department of Agriculture is conducting a series of surveys to find out. For after all, the housewife's buying habits have a profound effect on the farm economy in the state.
Is she a thrifty shopper? Does she consider price first and quality second, or vice-versa? Is she a selective buyer, disregarding both factors and picking
"what looks good to her"? Preliminary survey results are surprising!

In an East Texas suburban supermarket recently, the first test was arranged to study the average shopper's purchase methods. Since it was a "locally grown" product, the sweet potato was used as a guinea pig product.

Department inspectors arranged three bins of potatoes, clearly labeling each one according to grade and quality. The U. S.
Number 1 grade potatoes were marked at 10¢ per pound, U. S.
Number 2's at 8¢ per pound, and the unclassified potatoes at 6¢ per pound.

"Many more tax returns from farmers will be received this year," Cheatham added. "This is true because the coverage of farm operators by social security will require a tax return from every farmer who nets as much as $400 from his farming, even if no income tax is payable. Tax return forms for farmers may be secured by writing the District Director of Internal Revenue.

"If you are a farm operator,
whether you raise peanuts, popcorn, pigs, poultry, or other farm product, you are obligated to pay self-employment tax and thereby earn social security credit, provided, of course, that you net $400 from your farming in the taxable year," Mr. Cheatham said.

Definite conclusions cannot be drawn from this one test but one fact was clear—the housewife is influenced a great deal by the grade of a product. Most of them stated that they preferred that produce by pre-graded so she could be certain of what she was getting. And in a realistically inexpensive commodity like sweet potatoes, she wants the best.

This test was only the first of a series on a large variety of Texas produce. From these,

the Texas Department of Agriculture will be able to offer greater assistance towards improving the marketing of farm goods.

Misses Wanda Kelly and Janet Hunt, students at ACC spent the weekend with Mrs. Aline Kelly and Brenda.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Horton and daughters of Waco were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.
F. Horton Sunday.

Calves on the ground are like MONEY IN THE BANK

It costs a lot of money to keep a cow. A lot of that money is lost if she fails to settle or drops small, weak calves that die or develop into "tail-enders."

BIG CROPS of husky calves are a must, if a fellow is going to make money ranching. This is especially true when the price of cattle is off.

Your range needs help. It takes more than grass alone to give your cows what they need to grow and drop the kind of calves that will bring top prices next fall.

PURINA RANGE CHECKERS have proved their worth in research tests and on thousands of ranches. This favorite range supplement has what it takes. Cattle love Checkers, do well on them. Cows stay up in good shape at calving time, have lots of milk for the calves, too.

Feed for big calf crops the Purina Way. Purina Range
Checkers can help you keep your operation on the profit side of the ledger.

Purina Range Checkers and

Fresh Produce Found In Markets All Year

By ALICE DENHOFF

THERE was a time when lettuce was unknown except in spring and summer. Avocados were unknown altogether. Citrus fruits was so rare that it was a traditional Christmas stocking filler.

Today, thanks to modern methods of cultivation, transportation and storage, most fruits and vegetables are available right through the year and at reasonable prices, too.

For Added Vitamins

Salads should be served frequently during the winter months to take care of the extra vitamin and mineral quotas we all need to ward off infections. For a Tossed Fresh Vegetable Salad, to serve 8, toss together 1/4 lb. shredded, uncooked spinach, 1/2 medium-sized head lettuce, torn into bite-size pieces, 1 c. diced, cooked potatoes, 1 c. shredded, uncooked cabbage, 1 c. shredded uncooked carrots, 1/2 c. shredded uncooked turnip, 1/2 c. thinly sliced radishes, 1/2 sliced, medium-size onion, 3 tbsp. fresh lemon juice, 3 tbsp. salad oil, salt and pepper to taste.

Saled Dressing

A fresh grapefruit salad dressing really does things for avocado. Try this one and see!

To serve 4, cut 2 medium-sized avocados in halves and remove seeds. Peel and slice 1/2 in. thick. Place lettuce on 4 salad plates over which arrange avocado slices.

To prepare the dressing, mix 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. celery seed, 1/2 tsp. paprika, 1/2 tsp. ground white pepper, 1/2 tsp. chopped onion, 1/2 crushed garlic clove, 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 c. salad oil, 1/4 c. fresh lime juice, and 1/2 c. fresh grapefruit juice and grapefruit segments broken into pieces. Mix thoroughly. Chill and serve over the halved avocados. Makes 1 c. dressing.

For a Citrus Salad

In the following recipe, avocado serves as the basis for a fine dressing. Use this one with a citrus salad.

For 6 servings, peel 1 large grapefruit and 3 oranges, cutting all into sections. Place crisp lettuce on 6 salad plates over which arrange citrus sections. Top with dressing.

To prepare 1 1/2 c. of dressing, mix well 3/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. paprika, 1/4 tsp. powdered dry mustard, 1/2 tsp. ground white pepper, 2 tsp. sugar, 1 crushed garlic clove, 1 c. salad oil with 1/4 c. avocado puree and 1/4 c. fresh lemon juice. Serve chilled.

Census Bureau To Count Household TV Sets In Survey During February

Up-to-date national figures on the number of television sets in households will be provided through supplementary questions to be asked in the February Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Walter A. Freeman, Jr. of the U. S. Census Bureau's district office at Dallas, Texas, which will participate in the survey.

The survey will furnish information on the number of households which have television sets and also the total number of sets in households. Television sets in commercial establishments will not be counted. Statistics will be published for the Nation, for urban and rural areas and by size of city.

Similar questions asked in connection with the June 1955 Current Population Survey revealed that two-thirds of the 48 million U. S. households had television sets compared to about one in eight households in 1950. An estimated 32 million households had television sets in June last year compared to about five million with television sets five years previously.

The television questions to be asked this month will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey. The information will be collected locally by Nella P. Casbeer of Lampasas.

Public Schools Week Proclamation

GREETINGS:
The greatest source of assurance for the future of the American way of life is our Public School System, which enables our youngsters to become familiar with the magnificent history of men and events which has made our Republic the most powerful, respected and favored country the world has ever known.

The public schools provide the tools of knowledge which will equip our young men and women to become constructive and responsible citizens in this land of freedom.

We have a great responsibility to maintain and advance the ideals and standards which our people have come to expect of their public schools. We must keep pace with the growing needs of our schools by providing new classrooms, improved methods and by encouraging loyal, able, qualified men and women to adopt teaching as a lifetime career.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 5-10, 1956, as

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK
in Texas, and urge every citizen to visit at least one public school during this period and to become personally acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of our educational system.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 10th day of January, 1956.

ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Locklear and children of Brady and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams were dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear last Saturday night.

WARDROBE PLANNING CUTS COST-ADDS SATISFACTION

Now is the time to check family clothing needs for spring and summer. An attractive wardrobe is within the reach of everyone. It is not necessary to spend a lot of money in order to be well dressed. The important thing is to plan well and choose wisely.

Begin planning long before you shop. Keep your present wardrobe in mind as you make each new purchase. This will buildup a real wardrobe instead of merely a collection of miscellaneous items. The "misfit" in your closet are the most expensive items.

At least twice a year check the clothes you have; include your accessories. Decide which ones you will continue to use and which you will give away. Make necessary alterations, bringing garments up to date or putting them in first class condition. This will extend your clothing budget.

Now plan what clothes you need to go with what you have. Consider your activities. Included in what you already have or in what you plan to buy should be one outfit for each activity or to save money, an outfit that can be accessorized or changed to go many places.

Make a plan and stick to it. Ask yourself these questions before you buy:

1. Do I really need it?
2. Does it go with what I have?
3. Can I afford it?

Social Security For Farmers

Thousands of farmers have not paid their 1955 self-employment tax in filing their 1955 income tax return, according to Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr. District

Can't Get Rid of Your Cold?

Then try 666, the wide-activity medicine, for greatest effectiveness against all symptoms of all kinds of colds. 666 combines 4 potent, widely-prescribed drugs and gives positive dramatic results in a matter of hours. Its combined therapy covers the complete range of all cold symptoms.

No other cold remedy can match 666 liquid or 666 Cold Tablets. 666

Director of the Dallas District of Internal Revenue Service. Farmers became subject to paying the self-employment tax during 1955 for the first time. Mr. Campbell stated that it appears that many farmers feel that self-employment tax coverage is optional for farmers. This is not true. Under the provisions of the new self-employment tax law, the farmers became subject to this tax on the same mandatory basis that they are subject to income tax. Farmers should carefully read the instructions before filing tax returns. These instructions require careful study before a farmer can determine whether he is subject to self-employment tax and, of course, whether he will eventually be eligible for Social Security benefits under the law.

Remember the old-fashioned ice box — the huge blocks of ice required to keep it cold — the overflowing drip pan to be emptied every day? Looking back, you wonder how you ever got along without an electric refrigerator.

Just as the refrigerator preserves food for a short time, the home freezer provides longer storage at lower temperatures. And with both in your kitchen, how much easier is the job of meal planning and preparation!

Both refrigerators and freezers are indispensable for good food preservation. Each supplements the other. When you have both, it's twice as nice!

Approximately $5,130,000 or 48 percent of the production and subsistence loans obtained by farmers in Texas from the Farmers Home Administration during the past year were used to purchase equipment, livestock and make similar investments, Walter T. McKay, State Director for the agency said today.

Farmers are making these investments to set up the kind of farming systems that will make the most of their labor, land and other resources.

Production and subsistence loans are also made for fertilizer, seed, tractor fuel, insecticides and other farm and home operating expenses. The loans bear 5 per cent interest and repayments are scheduled in accordance with the borrower's ability to repay. Loans for crop production are repayable when income from the crop is received. Loans for capital investments are repayable over periods up to 7 years. The maximum loan is $7,000 and total indebtedness cannot exceed $10,000.

Several steps are taken by the Farmers Home Administration to assist farmers in making the best use of their loan funds. Before a loan is made a complete farm and home plan is prepared by the farm family with the assistance of the agency's local supervisor. The plan shows how the farm will be operated, estimated yields and income, and budget for farm and home expenses. Provision is made for the production of a large portion of the family's food supply and provision is made in the budget for household expenditures and medical care.

No loan is made unless the farm and home plan shows that the farm when properly operated under normal conditions will produce an income that will provide the family a good living and enable them to repay their debts.

Guides have been established with the aid of the Extension Service and other agricultural agencies that show desirable combinations of enterprises, the amount of land, quantity of livestock, amount and quality of pasture, and feed, acres of cash crops, and the yield per acre and production per animal that are needed for the successful operation of family-type farms in each given area. These guides are used in developing the farm and home plans.

In addition at the end of the crop year a complete review of the year's operations is made by the farm family and the Farmers Home Administration supervisor to determine which farm enterprises were the most successful—and what further improvements are to be made in the coming year.

Credit is also extended by Farmers Home Administration for financing annual operating expenses. These loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Annual production and subsistence loans may be made by farmers provided there is a sound basis for credit. This means that the anticipated gross income from farming and other sources must be sufficient to repay the loan, meet farm and home expenses not provided for in the loan and provide a reasonable margin above such amounts. This type credit is in addition to emergency loans available to farmers or ranchers primarily engaged in farming, McKay stated.

Real estate credit for purchase and development of family-type farms for financing soil conservation measures, and for the development of water systems for farm home, livestock and irrigation are also available.

Mrs. Walter J. Cartwright Guest Speaker For Art And Civic Club

Mrs. Milton Schwartz was hostess to the Art and Civic Club at their regular meeting, Tuesday afternoon, February 7.

Mrs. Walter J. Cartwright was guest speaker and gave a very interesting discussion on "Club News and Your Newspaper." Some of the phases of reporting which she discussed were:

Simplicity; Conciseness—short enough to attract attention, yet long enough to cover the subject; Interest: stimulate the emotions and mind of the reader. The two main parts to a story; lead or introduction which emphasizes the news feature and the body which consists of the events in the order of interest.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of pink and white carnations. Delicious refreshments of mints, toasted nuts, pimento cheese sandwiches, angel food cake and coffee was served to the following guests and members:

Mrs. Walter J. Cartwright, Mrs. Wallace Johnson, Mrs. James Cooper, Mrs. M. T. Burnham, Mrs. Marvin Hodges, Mrs. Ben Egger, Mrs. Charlie Schwartz, Mrs. Milton Schwartz, Mrs. E. Schuster and Miss Florence Whitehead.

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—President Eisenhower jerked the platform out from under the Republican Party in Texas, and his Democratic supporters in the Lone Star State, when he vetoed the now famous natural gas bill.

"To sign the bill," said the President, "would risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes." This statement referred to a $2,500 campaign contribution offered a Senator, presumably for his vote favoring the measure.

Strong support was given Ike in Texas, when the native son ran for President, because of his State's Right stand. Another factor was his expressed belief in the private enterprise system of free competition. This stand made Texans feel the President would sign the bill.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel said "The President has made a great mistake."

Gov. Allan Shivers, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and members of the State Railroad Commission joined in criticizing the President's action.

Jack Porter, the Republican party's national committeeman from Texas, said that he disagreed with the advice upon which the President's action was based. The veto will make Porter's job in Texas more difficult.

Public officials and oil men in general seem in agreement that passage over the President's veto was impossible. Therefore, Texas' next move may be a campaign to bring industries to Texas. This, because gas produced in a state and used by manufacturers located within that same state is not subject to control by the Federal Power Commission.

Ike's veto was a set-back to Senator Daniel who promised to report his future political plans by March 1. "Delay in passage of the farm bill, and the Presidential veto of the natural gas bill, may mean that I will not be able to reach a decision as early as I had planned, regarding the governorship race," said Daniel. "But we may have to fight this out on the home front in Texas," he added—still paving the way for entry in the governor's race.

TWO QUESTION MARKS

Two big question marks remaining in Texas' current political scene are the intentions of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey. No one seems to know what either will do.

Shepperd, only recently regarded as definitely planning retirement to private business, again is being discussed as a possible candidate, either for re-election or for governor. His only comment has been that, "The frost is still on the dogwood,"—interpreted as "it's too early for political announcements."

A growing number of editorials urging him to continue in public office have appeared in several Texas dailies. The latest have been in the Lufkin Daily News and the Cuero Daily Record. It was the latter newspaper that broke the veterans' block-land-sales story. The Cuero Record commended Shepperd on his work in the veterans' land investigation.

For Ramsey the suggested possibilities include: (1) running for governor, (2) running for re-election, (3) waiting for a possible U. S. Senate race, or (4) retiring to San Augustine. He has given no public hint.

INSURANCE STORY

Texas' once-explosive insurance story is beginning to lag. Industry spokesmen hopefully termed the new stage a "curative period."

Both legislative investigating groups have adjourned. Though more hearings are expected, predictions are that they have about run their course in making headlines.

Carbons of 11 letters written by A. B. Shoemaker, head of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty Co., to the then Insurance Commissioner Garland Smith, made headlines. However, the commissioners had reported earlier that they knew the firm was selling securities. What they didn't know was how to get them stopped.

Insurance commissioners are urging companies to file replies to solvency questionnaires ahead of the May 31 deadline if possible. Those passing the test will be announced in groups, perhaps in March.

One company, which failed before the test, Texas Union County Mutual of San Antonio, was placed in permanent receivership by an Austin district court.

Newest name in the insurance picture is that of State Treasurer Jesse James. He is reported to be "dumping private ventures for which he might be criticized." He owns 1001 shares of stock in the International Life Insurance Co., which leases the major part of its building to the state. He also has been criticized for selling boats to the state.

James says he knew nothing about the International lease; and that he already has sold his boat dealership to his daughter and her husband.

According to the State Treasurer, he now can afford to get rid of all his private ventures since the legislature increased his pay from $419 a month take home to an annual $17,500.

LEGISLATIVE CODE SOUGHT

Former Gov. Dan Moody of Austin heads a special state bar committee named to work out a code of ethics for lawyer-legislators. Serving with Moody will be Bill Kerr of Midland, Page Keeton, dean of the University of Texas Law School, and probably three others.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, chairman of the house investigating committee, requested the bar study. He also suggested the Texas Legislative Council do similar research, including an evaluation of lobby laws and whether lawmakers are paid in proportion to their responsibilities.

San Antonio wants an appropriation of some 100,000 acre feet of water per year from the proposed Canyon Dam and reservoir near New Braunfels. Officials in communities in a 10-county area in the Guadalupe River basin have organized an opposing campaign.

A hearing on the San Antonio application is scheduled by the State Board of Water Engineers for March 26.
