VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

When the cold front moved in to Central Texas early Wednesday morning and weather reports talked about the pending freezing temperature for Wednesday night it gave a number of folks some concern about young plants and flowers which they were trying to protect.

Dave Shaw, who lives on North Fisher Street, was primarily concerned with protecting the 100 strawberry plants which he had just set out a few days before. When he spoke about the matter he said: "Editor, those plants are sure pretty and just growing to beat the band." We talked about how to cover them to keep them protected from possible frost damage. He reported he was using paper.

We told him that it was our understanding that straw-berry plants can stand a good deal of cold weather before getting hurt. And then we suggested that he get a bale of straw and cover them lightly. He said: "Yeah, straw is good alright, but my friend, with this wind, what are you trying to do to me, get me run out of that part of town?"

I had a letter a few days ago from a friend of Mills County, C. O. Norton who operates the Green Oaks Jersey Farm up at Weatherford, Texas. He gives the customary needling to a few of his local friends, namely, Bob, Everett, Bill, Willis, Hobert, Dow, Luther, George and the old gang.

He comments very highly of his friend "Fesser" Mr. Holland Frizzelle, in whom Mr. Norton says he has the utmost confidence. I'll wager a little that "Fesser" and C. O. are on the same side of the political fence—they just about have to be in order to be the type of friends that would express complete confidence in one another. Then on the other hand may be they never let politics enter the picture. If that is the case it's a good policy, 'cause politics can sure ruin a fine friendship, sometimes, even for those who are not in the game as such.

Mr. Norton wrote a few words of glowing tribute to the work that has been done by Mills County 4-H and FFA members and to those who have played the important part of supporting and promoting the work in this county. Since he was a long time resident of this county and well known by many local folks we are presenting his remarks, which follow:

"Hats off to Mills County for its many accomplishments in 4-H and F. F. A. Clubs. I doubt very much if there is any one that doesn't live in Mills County, that is made any happier than I, to have one of your 4-H or F. F. A. boys or girls develop in any show, and especially the Houston Fair Stock Show. Those boys and girls are near and dear to me. I know the many efforts that have been put forth in their behalf, but in my opinion everyone that ever had a part in your club activities, has been repaid, many times over. No one has kept a closer check on your club work than I have.

"There was a time when Mills County was a training ground for County Agents and Va. Teachers (and they really trained some of the best). No one could exist on the salary, so as the opportunity afforded they went to counties that paid a living wage. Finally your county woke up, raised the salary to where they could live. Now you are reaping the results of same.

"I don't think there is any work, outside of the church, that can do more to make good citizens out of our boys and girls than our 4-H and F. F. A. clubs, when handled as intended. We have so many county agents in our state, who are not paid enough salary and don't have the help to do the job as they would like to do. It has been my privilege and pleasure to be acquainted and associated with a number of county agents. They are the kind of folks who like and enjoy that kind of work, but very few ever get enough salary to ever get ahead.

Why do we try to employ our county agents as cheap as possible? Look at the number of boys and girls they come in contact with, and you don't find any boy or girl who has been active in 4-H or F. F. A. work that doesn't make good. What is one thousand or fifteen hundred dollars per year extra pay for your VA. teacher or county

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Veto of Natural Gas Bill Affects Legislative Program Congressional GOP, Demo Leaders Irked by Rejection

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's veto of the natural gas bill will have far-reaching implications on his legislative program for 1956. In rejecting the measure to free gas producers of strict federal price controls, Mr. Eisenhower incurred the wrath of both Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress.

Foremost among these are House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, both Texans and strong backers of the gas bill. Another is Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland.

Heretofore, Johnson and Rayburn have been willing to go along with many of the administration's legislative proposals. However, Capitol Hill observers say they now are so riled with the President that the picture is changed.

In other words, the "honeymoon"—at least, the period of relative peace between Congress and the White House—is over. From now on, the President is going to have to justify fully everything that he expects to get out of Congress.

MCCARTHY MISCUE—The veto will have its effect in another quarter. Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, may find himself in trouble in his home state over his vote in favor of the natural gas bill. Even his staunchest supporters were dismayed by the fact that McCarthy has let himself be linked with influential oil and gas interests, including acceptance of free plane transportation by the Superior Oil company of California.

It was the latter firm which provided the $2,500 campaign contribution offered to Senator Francis Case (R), South Dakota, during debate on the gas measure.

While McCarthy voted for the bill, almost every prominent Wisconsin Republican was opposing it, including firm McCarthy friends. The fact that Wisconsin's other GOP senator, Alexander Wiley, for whom McCarthy has never lost any love, voted against the gas bill hasn't helped the junior senator's standing in the state either.

REALISM—A striking example of congressional candor emanated recently from the pen of Rep. Craig Hosmer (R), California, obviously a man with a sense of humor.

Hosmer noted that election year brings more and more news (?) releases from members of Congress. "A quick glance at some of these reveals that the republic is truly on the brink of chaos, disaster, destruction and oblivion," he remarked.

"However, don't be too alarmed," he added soothingly. "A similar glance at others reveals the nation is truly entertaining a veritable wonderland of never-ending good things for its citizens. It all depends on who is talking—the 'ins' or the 'outs.'"

Hosmer has this word of advice for John Q. Citizen: "Keep your sanity firmly in hand and don't let the politicians snatch it away from you before the Nov. 6 elections."

TALKING MACHINES—The Postoffice department admits it's been getting uncomplimentary comments over its plans to buy seven $4,000 automatic stamp-vending machines that say, by recording: "Thank you for buying stamps."

However, officials explain that the talking part of the machine is its least important feature. They point out that the device will automatically make change for stamp purchasers at any time of the day or night.

All this, the officials claim, will actually save the Postoffice money through improved service. Besides, they say, the recording gimmick is being installed almost entirely at the manufacturer's expense for experimental purposes.

Safety Council Warns Motorists About Inspections

The Highway Safety Council of Texas today warned Texas motorists that they face the "longest waiting lines in four years" if they postpone inspection of their automobiles nearer the April 15 deadline.

State law requires every motor vehicle in Texas—passenger car, truck, and bus—to pass an annual check-up on mechanical safety. It is unlawful to operate a vehicle which has not been inspected after the deadline.

Highway Safety Council Executive Director G. C. Morris said today:

"For the past two years, 1954 and 1955, the bulk of private passenger cars have been inspected well ahead of the deadline and there have been no bothersome delays or snarls at the last-minute. This year, however, inspections are far behind schedule and auto owners who wait beyond March will probably have to buck the longest waiting lines in four years to comply with the law."

Morris estimated that more than 150,000 automobiles a week would have to be inspected during the next five weeks to complete check-ups before the April deadline.

Cage Layers On 28-Day Basis Recommended After Experiments

Layermen are beginning to realize that their old severe culling methods have been too quick to the ax to some hens, and if severe culling might not be profitable. Hens in cages can't fool the layerman about production, and individual daily records kept. Many cage operators have been culling birds that drop below 50 per cent production for a period of 14 days. Under this system if a hen lays less than 7 eggs in any two-week period she is culled and a replacement pullet goes into her cage. Research information now indicates that a good hen may have a bad month yet still come back to high production at less cost than it would take to fill her cage with a replacement. A culling experiment was conducted in the cage layer unit at the Ralston Purina Research Farm near Gray Summit, Missouri, involving 2000 birds. The cages were all filled at the same time with pullets grown in the same flocks. The birds were of a heavy producing strain. After they had been in production two months, 1000 were culled under the 14-day system, while no culling was done in the other 1000.

The group culled under the old 14-day system showed no production advantage over the nonculled group for the first several months of production. In other words, it appeared that good layers might drop below 50 per cent production for 14 days, but come back to good production inside of 28 days.

This culling work, which is still continuing, emphasizes that good culling is still vital to egg profits. It has also resulted in Purina's recommendation to cull birds that drop below 50 per cent production for at least 28 days, rather than 14. Even then a previous record of high production may justify a few extra days grace for the hen.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Durham of San Angelo spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. L. J. Teague and Mr. Teague.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Weathers of Brownwood spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. J. W. Weathers.

News From Your COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

By LUCY MAY BURRUS

ARE YOU DRINKING ENOUGH MILK?

It's hard to get enough calcium or riboflavin into your daily diet without using a good deal of milk. In a nutrition class in college, we checked the day's menu and concluded that it was almost impossible to get enough calcium without milk.

From infancy all the way through the teens, it takes large amounts of calcium to keep up with the growing body's calcium needs.

Nutritionists recommend three or four cups of milk per day for children; one quart or more for teen-agers; two or more cups for adults; one quart or more for expectant mothers and six cups or one and one-half quarts for nursing mothers.

In diets for losing or gaining weight, milk is considered a basic need. When reducing, milk is good because it contributes generous amounts of protein and calcium per calorie. Skim milk provides all the nutrients in whole milk, except fat and vitamin A.

Whatever your age or weight, be sure to include enough milk in your daily diet.

CUTTING FOOD COSTS

If you're an average American, you ate your way through $435 worth of food in 1954. And chances are, you'll spend the same or more this year unless you plan carefully to cut food costs.

The fact that we're eating out more than we used to, and buying more highly processed and more expensive foods accounts for the increase in family food costs in the last ten years. Here are some ways to cut food costs: Buy the "makings" instead of ready-baked and ready-cooked foods—unless time is more important than money.

Grow some of your own groceries in a garden. If you live on a farm, produce your own meat and milk, poultry or eggs. Freeze or can fresh vegetables and fruits for use when the price of fresh produce hits a seasonal high peak. Prevent food waste.

If you need more detailed suggestions for planning the food supply, planning meals, growing a garden, or freezing and canning, contact your county home demonstration agent.

ARE FARM TAX RATES

It's income tax season again, and some farmers may have received some net income above expenses in 1955. If you're one of these, here's a suggestion for some self-education in tax policies which may catch in tax policies which may some people are so willing to make big cash contributions to the election campaigns of some Congressmen and Senators. You must report your income, and pay the tax on it, before April 15. As soon as you have filled out one set of blanks, start over again on the other set. But this time, instead of figuring your tax as you did on income that you earned by working for it, figure it as if you had received it all in the form of dividends from corporations.

You will discover that the tax law enacted in 1954 gives about a 25% saving to people who don't work for a living. For example, a farmer and wife with two dependent children and the standard deductions would have to pay a tax of $416 on an income of $4,999. (That's the top income for which the tax can be computed by the tax table.) But another man and wife and 2 children who got their income from corporation dividends instead of by milking cows and mowing hay would have a tax bill of only $317. That's a penalty of $99 which the farmer has to pay for living on the wrong side of the economic tracks and having to work for his income instead of getting it from investments in corporations. A stockholder without children gets an even higher premium to reward him for not having to work for his living. A playboy bachelor stockholder who clipped $4,999 last year on the General Motors stock his daddy left him would pay $164 less in tax to Uncle Sam than a bachelor farmer who dug an equal $4,999 out of the cotton field. (Reprinted from Washington Newsletter Feb. 24, 1956)

"We wish every citizen in the community would visit us at noon time and enjoy a meal with us. Charges to you will be what each teacher pays each day and you may learn first hand if the meals are good. If you have not been with us this year, please arrange to do so." "If you find our schools to be as good as expected, please tell everyone you see. If you find weaknesses please tell me and I will tell others of the weaknesses and endeavor to correct them," Mr. Jones concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brown and daughter, Dianne of Waco spent the weekend in the J. B. Burnett home.

Supt. Jones Invites Patrons To Visit Schools At Any Time

Last week was visitation week in Texas Public Schools and was observed in Goldthwaite Schools without special emphasis being placed on the school program. At that, 208 visitors signed the registers in the various rooms with two elementary rooms not yet reporting.

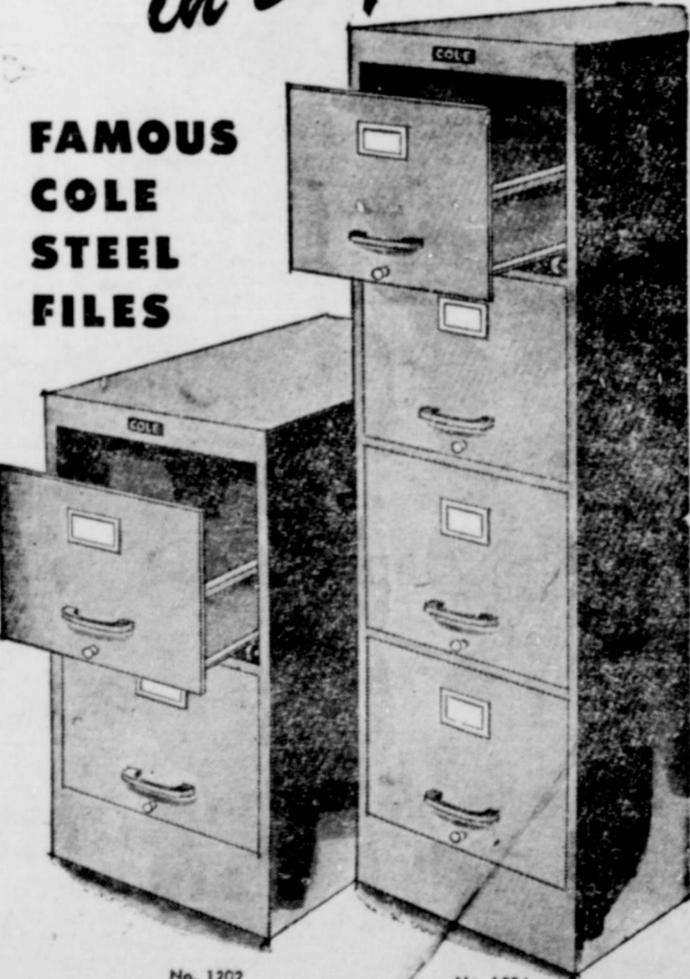

Supt. Jones declares: "It is our aim to make our schools truly an example of Democracy in action. The many compliments that came from visitors is indeed encouraging and every teacher feels better by patrons having attended. We know that if you detected a weakness or an evil, that you will report to us. We want you to visit us at anytime. The invitation is everlasting. If you hear a complaint, visit the situation and make up your mind if it is justified."

Memorial Planned To Signers Of Texas Declaration Of Independence

The Goldthwaite Eagle has joined with the other 500 members of the Texas Press Association in an appeal to the people of Texas to contribute one million dollars with which to build a great memorial to the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence. The monument will be in the form of a museum of Texas history and will be located at Old Washington-on-the-Brazos where the declaration was signed. This is a state park located in Washington county, 20 miles northeast of Brenham.

Present plans call for a building shaped like the Lone Star of Texas with a tower rising several hundred feet into the air. It will be topped by a powerful searchlight visible over several counties, and to be known as "The Light of Texas Freedom". An elevator will take visitors to the top for a fee and thus provide maintenance funds.

The Eagle will receive contributions to the fund, sending them on to the Texas Independence Day Organization at Brenham, sponsors of the project. The Texas Press Association has endorsed the project and asked its members to take part.

At the conclusion of the campaign, this newspaper will publish a list of individuals who give $5.00 or more and business firms which send in $10 or more. The page containing this list will be treated for permanence and will then go on permanent exhibition in the museum. Thousands of persons of both present and future generations will thus be able to learn the names of those in each community who have helped erect the museum.

"This is the closest thing to immortality a few dollars can buy," Tom S. Whitehead, executive director of the campaign said. Whitehead is publisher of the Brenham-Press.

Many civic and patriotic organizations are co-operating in the campaign to raise the million dollars needed. These include the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas, the Texas Heritage Foundation, the Texas Historical Survey Commission, The Texas Historical Society, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Texas Education Agency, Texas State Teachers Association, Daughters of 1812 and others. Individual Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and other civic clubs are assisting.

Governor Allan Shivers is honorary chairman of the advisory commission, and has issued a proclamation suggesting that Texans give to this worthy cause through their local newspapers during the period from March 2 to April 21.

A coupon appears elsewhere in this issue for convenience of those who wish to send their contributions to this newspaper.

Pvt. James E. Kemp Receives Special Praise From General

FORT BELVOIR, Va. (Spec.)—Fine appearance, soldierly conduct and military bearing on the part of Private James E. Kemp drew praise from Major General Louis W. Prentiss, Commanding General, The Engineer Center and Fort Belvoir, Va., recently.

Pvt. Kemp, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Kemp of Route 3, Goldthwaite, Texas, was selected from The Engineer Center Guard Mount as the outstanding soldier of the day and was awarded the honorary post of "General's Orderly". He reported to General Prentiss, accompanied him during the day, and performed duties as directed by the Fort Belvoir Commanding General. General Prentiss extended his congratulations to Pvt. Kemp in a letter of commendation citing the Goldthwaite serviceman for his high standards as a soldier.

Pvt. Kemp is a member of Company D, The Engineer Center Regiment, 9829th Technical Unit, where he serves as an instructor.

He entered the Army in April 1955, took basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., and was assigned to Fort Belvoir in July 1955. He studied at Goldthwaite High School.

Scouting Exposition To Be Staged In Brownwood On Saturday, March 24

The Annual Spring Activity for Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in the Comanche Trail Council will be a Scouting Exposition to be held on March 24.

Hundreds of boys will exhibit and demonstrate "Scouting in Action" in Memorial Hall in Brownwood beginning at 2:00 P. M. and lasting until 9:00 P. M. This is a walk-around show and people should feel free to come and go at will.

More than thirty Scouting Activities will be demonstrated and displayed in booths-county fair style. "The Exposition will be the biggest boys' show in our area. It will feature boy activities and all sorts of displays which depict skills and hobbies staged by the boys" stated Lee R. Tesson, Chairman Camping and Activities for the Comanche Trail Council.

Exhibits already entered include cooking, bridge building, tent pitching, handicraft and nature study. The animal show includes dog care and rabbit raising. This will be a most interesting activity with the boys working in the booths.

Tickets may be secured through the boys and each Scout Unit will receive a percentage from the tickets the boys sell.

The Scout Officials urge the public to secure tickets and attend the show.

There will be stage attractions which will give the show added appeal. Awards will be presented to all units participating in the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cornelius and daughter, Margaret, of Fort Worth visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Auto Safety Inspections Are Falling Behind

Safety inspections of the nearly 4,000,000 motor vehicles registered in Texas is "falling seriously behind schedule" with the official deadline only five weeks away.

This was reported today by the Highway Safety Council of Texas after a spot check of authorized inspection stations for the week ending March 3.

Executive Director G. C. Morris of the Council said that inspections had "held to a satisfactory pace until January, but inspection stations—particularly in metropolitan areas—report that the required safety checks have been falling seriously behind schedule during the past six weeks."

"In some areas," Morris reported, "motorists seem to have forgotten about inspections altogether and activity has come to a standstill."

Deadline for the inspection of vehicles registered in Texas is April 15.

Franklin Williams of Houston, grandson of the famed Sam Houston, poses before the smithy shop at Old Washington on the Brazos, where the Texas Declaration of Independence from Mexico was signed March 2, 1836, by his illustrious ancestor and 58 other early Texans. A campaign to raise one million dollars to build a memorial to them is under way by the Texas Press Association.

FROM EXPERIENCE COMES FAITH

The woman who has used an electric clothes dryer would never think of hanging her wash on a line again.

She has learned that she can do her washing in any kind of weather, with a minimum of work and trouble. She knows that clothes dried electrically are cleaner, without smoke or dust to soil them.

She has found, too, that the clothes dryer is easier on her family's clothes. They wear better and hold their color better, when wind and sun cannot damage them.

She knows all these things, because she has learned from experience.

Research facts bear out her experience. The Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station found that "white items dried in the dryer 50 times were as white as those dried outdoors. As for holding color and preventing fading, the dryer excels. All colors—even those washed 50 times in hot detergent water—remained deep and clear except one unstable blue dye. All items faded in the outdoor drying, even though they were in partial shade."

School Program To Be Led By Navy

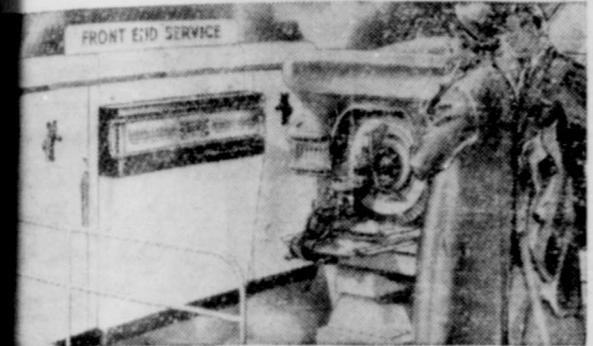

Result of the enthusiasm given the Navy's school program by last year's school seniors, the program is being extended this year. The recruiting office in the Navy reported today that it is very pleased with the response of the recruits under this program. Qualified high school seniors are guaranteed a trade in the field of their choice. It is felt that a high percentage of the Navy's future petty officers will come from the men enlisted under these programs.

Qualified graduates under this program are given a choice of four different fields in which to receive technical training. These fields are: High School Seaman Recruit, High School Airman Recruit, High School Hospitalman Recruit and Electronics Field Seaman Recruit. After completion of this technical training they will be assigned to ships or units operating all over the world.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Lighting Birthday candles, more than two and a half million Girl Scouts will celebrate the 44th Girl Scout Birthday on Monday, March 12, the anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A.

Girl Scout Week Is Observed Here With Special Activities

By ROBBIE DALTON
During the week of March 11 to 17th, the Girl Scouts of Goldthwaite join with almost 2,000,000 sister Scouts throughout the nation in the annual celebration of Girl Scout Week and their 44th birthday. The late Juliette Gordon Low organized the first Girl Scout troop of eight little girls on March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia. Thus was founded what has become a nation-wide organization spreading over every state, territory and U. S. A. possession, and is now the largest organization of its kind for girls in the world.

One out of every ten girls in United States between the ages of seven and seventeen is a Girl Scout. For every three girl members there is an adult member, more than 400,000 men and women volunteers who serve as troop leaders, committee and council members, advisers, and in many other capacities. There are 20,000 men who are registered members of the Girl Scout movement in the United States. The Goldthwaite Brownies and Girl Scouts began their celebration by attending church last Sunday morning together at the First Methodist Church. The Brownies will have a Play Day, Friday, March 16, at 3:45. This is a special activity for Brownies and will be held at the Youth Center with Mrs. Ray V. Mayfield in charge. Saturday, March 17, at 10:00 o'clock the Girl Scouts will be hostesses to Brownwood and Brady Troops in an Intermediate Rally. This is one of the outstanding events of the year for the Intermediates and will come as a climax for activities for Girl Scout Week. This program will take place at the Youth Center and Mrs. L. V. Bearingfield will be in charge.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Our backyard promises to be beautiful this summer. The only trouble is that the flower beds and garden spot take up so much room there is hardly space enough left for Billy and his gang to play their games of Robin Hood, Cops and Robbers, Korean War Soldiers, Texas rangers, etc.

We've had weather in El Paso this week. Tuesday the wind ripped and roared and the dust flew high. Three days there was a cold wind blowing. And we have had at least two nights of below freezing temperature. I had hopes for a good fruit crop at home this year, but my hopes may be blighted. And too I have listened for reports of rain in Central Texas, but have heard none.

Cowden of North Carolina, is the center of attraction in El Paso this week. She is really bringing cotton into prominence. About 500 cottonmen and their wives are hosts to her tonight (Friday) at a gala reception in the Hilton Hotel ballroom. She is wearing a dress made from Supima cotton, a long staple variety grown almost exclusively in the El Paso area. The plant looks quite different from the cotton plant we have always known.

About 25,000 school teachers are attending Trans-Pecos Teachers' Association, meeting here this week. Today (Friday) the kiddies stayed at home while the teachers went to school.

The evening paper gives talented Mrs. Baxter Polk as the Woman of the Week in El Paso this week. Mr. Polk's mother was Mamie Baxter, daughter of the Mr. Baxter who gave to Coleman County its first school house, the Baxter School house. As I have said before, my father taught here. And for awhile we lived in one end of the school house which was curtained off from the other part. The Baxters were good friends of my parents. And though I was not quite three, I can still remember living in the Baxter Schoolhouse.

Mrs. Jessie Guthrie Linden called us this week and said they have moved into their new house and they want us to come to see them. And we can hardly wait for a chance to go.

Mr. and Mrs. Oma Robertson, Miss Clara Karnes, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Barnett and family visited their brother and uncle, Joe B. Karnes, who is a patient at Scott & White Hospital in Temple, and Mrs. Karnes last Sunday.

TODAY'S Menu

Morning, Noon Or Night

By ALICE DENHOFF

SOMETHING good and different for breakfast is Cinnamon Apple Toast.

To prepare 3 servings, 2 slices to a serving, combine 2 tsp. sugar and tsp. cinnamon. Spread each of 6 toasted bread slices with tsp. butter and sprinkle with sugar-cinnamon mixture. Place toast, sugar side up, on an ungreased cookie sheet. Toast at 350° F. for 5 min.

Hot Applesauce

To serve, spoon ½ c. hot applesauce on each of 3 slices of cinnamon toast. Cut remaining slices in diagonal halves and arrange in pairs over servings. Grilled sausage goes well with the above.

Shrimp New Orleans makes a fine luncheon or supper dish.

Raw Shrimp

To serve 4-5, clean and peel 1½ lb. raw shrimp. Boil shells in 3 c. water to make stock for sauce.

Melt ¼ c. butter in frying pan. Add shrimp and ½ medium onion that has been chopped fine. Let cook gently until shrimps change color.

Add stock from shells, 2 small green peppers that have been cut fine and parboiled, ½ bay leaf, pinch of thyme, tsp. salt and ½ tsp. black pepper. Let cook 5 min.

Thicken With Cornstarch

Thicken with 2 tsp. cornstarch mixed to a paste with a little cold water. Add tsp. soya sauce and 3 tomatoes, peeled and cut into eighths. Simmer gently 6-8 min., or until tomatoes are tender but firm.

Serve with rice pilaf or plain rice.

Nice, too, for luncheon or supper is a spicy egg curry.

Add Curry Powder

Cream together 2 tsp. each butter and flour. Add tsp. curry powder, ½ tsp. paprika, ½ tsp. finely chopped onion and ½ tsp. salt. Stir well.

Add 1½ c. scalded milk and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly.

Chop whites of 4 hard-cooked eggs and add them with 1 c. cooked rice to the above mixture. Serve in patty shells garnished with the 4 egg yolks, crumbled.

TPA Board Votes Confidence In Manager Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex.—Directors of the Texas Press Association, meeting here in a special session Saturday, adopted a resolution expressing "complete confidence" in Vernon T. Sanford, the association's general manager.

Sanford was indicted at Waco last week on two counts of "unauthorized contributions to a political campaign." He is charged with personally placing two advertisements for more than $25 each in Waco newspapers on behalf of the candidacy of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, back in 1954. One of the ads ran $35. The other $41.25.

In their resolution, the TPA board recounted that Sanford had displayed "dedicated allegiance and devotion to his job as general manager of the Texas Press Association since he assumed that position in 1947."

It further stated that he has done "an exemplary job of developing, for the daily and weekly newspapers of Texas, an efficient organization which has won statewide and nationwide respect and esteem."

Directors did not announce any course of action as to the section of the Texas Election Code which prohibits the making of any contribution in excess of $25 to any individual's campaign for office, except to the candidate or his campaign managers.

In placing the ads, Sanford says he acted as an agent for the newspapers, merely forwarding the ads to the publications, and did not spend any of his own money.

Texas Business News Released By T U Bureau Of Business Research

AUSTIN, (Spec.)—Texas farmers' cash income continued to decline as the figures for the first month of 1956 were reported. Farm cash income for the year 1955 dropped 4% (from $1.89 billion to $1.82 billion) from the level of 1954. So far (i. e. through the month of January), farm cash income for 1956 is trailing last year by 17%.

Of the 16 major farm commodities reported, only 5 registered increases in the January 1955-January 1956 comparison: milk and milk products (plus 3%), corn (plus 4%), mohair (plus 8%), grain sorghum (plus 16%), and peanuts (plus 159%). Decreases were made by eggs (-7%), sheep and lambs (-13%), cotton (-12%), poultry (-17%), fruit and vegetables (-22%), wool (-24%), hogs (-26%), calves (-32%), cattle (-34%), oats (-46%), and wheat (-69%).

PRICES RECEIVED BY FARMERS. The index of prices received by farmers (compiled by the Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture) also shows a decline in its January 1955-January 1956 comparison. Crops were down 3% and livestock and related products were down 3%; overall, the decrease was 6%. As compared with December 1955, though, the prices farmers received in the first month of this year were more encouraging. Overall, the change was less than one-half of one per cent; crops declined 3%, but livestock and related products were up 2%.

CARLOAD SHIPMENTS. A third weather-vane of the state of agriculture in Texas is the carload shipments of farm commodities. In the January 1955-January 1956 comparison, livestock decreased 51% but fruits and vegetables increased 5% (shipments of fruits were down 55%, but this was more than offset in the calculation of total shipments of fruits and vegetables by the 9% increase in vegetables). In the livestock comparison of January 1955 with January 1956, sheep (-24%) calves (-31%), and cattle (-56%) declined. Hogs however, increased 200%. In the fruits and vegetables comparison, lettuce (-17%), carrots (-18%), endive (-50%), miscellaneous (-53%), and grapefruit (-81%) declined. Mixed vegetables (plus 17%), spinach (plus 50%), cauliflower (plus 65%), greens (plus 70%), sweet potatoes (plus 280%), beets (plus 750%), and mixed citrus (3,150%) all increased.

TEXAS WEATHER. Snow storms, sleet, and icy rains moved downstate in early February, bringing far mwork to an abrupt halt over most of the state. The near record snowfall gave wheat prospects a boost in the High Plains country south of the Canadian River. However, although the snow and rain brought small grains up to a good stand in February, damp weather also increased the infestation of the red spider mite. The rainy, cool weather in North Texas has been ideal for mite development, according to Dr. H. L. Chada, Department of Agriculture entomologist at the Denton Experiment Station. Dr. Chada said that the mite population of that area are likely to increase during the next month.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES. Farmers in East Texas are abandoning the growing of tomatoes because the crop is ceasing to be profitable. In 1944 a total of 13,130 growers planted 33,592 acres; but by 1954 there were only 4,794 growers and 8,852 acres. Although fewer boxes of oranges and more boxes of grapefruit were harvested in Texas during 1955, total citrus production of 4 million boxes in the state remained unchanged. Production of winter vegetables is expected to be 7% above the 1955 crop and 20% above the 1949-54 average.

TEXAS ENTERS BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM. The Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission signed an agreement with federal officials in late February to take part in a brucellosis control program. Texas was the last state to sign the cooperative agreement. The government will provide money for the state to start controls in areas of the state that have a heavy population of dairy cattle. Brucellosis is a livestock disease that results in undulant fever when transmitted to humans. Pasturized milk is not supposed to transmit the disease.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Possibility of convention harmony in the Texas Democratic party has taken on a new aspect. House Speaker Sam Rayburn has proposed that U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson head the Texas delegation to the national convention.

At the same time, Rayburn suggested that Johnson be designated the state's favorite son candidate for president.

The former proposal brought conservative leaders up short.

Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin already had proposed that Gov. Allan Shivers head the state delegation.

Liberal-loyalists immediately lined up behind Rayburn's plan which seemed design to freeze out conservatives. Johnson himself said the suggestion came as a surprise, but promised to "consider it carefully."

Sen. Price Daniel joined in boosting Johnson as Texas' favorite son candidate, but passed the choice of a delegation head on to the people. "I would not undertake to suggest what the people of Texas should do in the May conventions," he said.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, who had the support of both Shivers and Rayburn in becoming national committeeman last fall, gave cautions, limited approval. He said he favored the favorite son part of the proposal, and "if Johnson were selected by the delegation as chairman, I would be happy to cooperate with him."

LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY NOT OVER

Most explosive stage of the house-senate inquiry into US Trust and Guaranty may be yet to come.

After a two-day hearing, the house committee voted to "invite" senators who received fees from US Trust to appear before it. Subpoenas were not mentioned. Chairman Wade F. Spilman of McAllen did say, however, that senators who appeared would be put under oath and cross examined.

This action defied the long-standing tradition that each house shall investigate only its own members. It seemed to make pointed reference to the fact that the senate committee neither questioned nor put under oath senators who came before it.

Senate committee hearings also will start again soon, said Chairman William S. Fly. He declined comment on the house move to question senators.

"More than six" legislators will be asked to refund fees they received from US Trust, State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler told the house panel. He noted that two, Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano, and Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi, already have made or offered restitution.

Meanwhile, the insurance commission announced that 85 companies, first to qualify under the statewide solvency survey, had been given renewed licenses. Of these, 23 were Texas-based companies.

But another company, John L. Hammond Life of Dallas, was given notice of the commission's intention to revoke its license on grounds of incompetent management. Hearing was set for March 22.

ETHICS CODE SUGGESTED

A 46-point code of ethics for state officials and employees and a three-member commission to enforce it has been proposed by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd.

Gist of the plan is to pay legislators substantially increased annual salaries and to outlaw fees, gifts or favors from outside interests for use of a state employee's official position.
