In the third quarter, Sudduth scored from the 17. Friona's Davy Carthel sprinted 67 yards to score, first play after TD. But before the end of the period, the Mules scored again on a safety.

No Early Notice Of Wheat Allotment Set

John Fuston, secretary of the Bailey County ASC Committee said there will be no early notice of wheat allotment for 1976. A notice of allotments and yields for wheat, feed grains and cotton will be issued jointly after they are established for all commodities, he said. "The National Wheat Allotment for 1976 indicates an increase of about 15 per cent. So if you want to know what your 1976 wheat allotment will be, you can multiply your 1975 wheat allotment by 115 per cent and be real close to what your 1976 wheat allotment will be," Fuston pointed out.

Fuston said he has been advised that there will be no set-aside or conserving acreage for any crop for 1976. "This means," he said, "that you may make plans now to plant whatever crop you desire in whatever acreage you desire for any crop except the marketing quota crops of peanuts and extra long staple cotton."

He stated that notice of allotments will not be mailed until next spring, but since allotments have nothing to do with the acreage you may plant, this should not change your planting intentions. Any farm that is used for the commercial production of crops will have the allotments protected for the year.

"Your County Committee reserved 30 per cent of the county allocation for cost-sharing this

Any 4-H member is eligible to exhibit his work. Agricultural and Horticultural products must be grown in the exhibitors own garden, farm or yard and all exhibits must be 1975 products. ## Famous Cars Displayed In Muleshoe

A bit of history will be placed on display in downtown Muleshoe on Tuesday, Sept. 23 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. when the original car in which Bonnie and Clyde were shot and killed.

The bullet sprayed car which belonged to Bonnie and Clyde and used in the movie "Bonnie and Clyde" will be on display as will Joseph Stalin's Russian $87,000 limousine. Stalin's car was built in 1950 in Stalingrad, Russia, given to China in 1951 as a goodwill gift and sent into the Korean War by China. It was captured by the U.S. Army.

Lindal Murray, manager of C. R. Anthony's in Muleshoe said it was rather an accident that the cars will be placed on display here. He said the owner of the cars doesn't usually show them in a city smaller than 10,000. However, he was through Muleshoe and was intrigued by the name, thinking that it would sound good in his spiel when he tells where he has shown the cars to say, "the cars have been displayed all the way from Muleshoe, Texas to some town in Canada," he stopped at Anthony's and asked Murray if he thought anyone would be interested in sponsoring the showing.

Murray of Anthony's thought he could find sponsorship and the three businesses, C. R. Anthony's, Rasco's and Western Auto, agreed to sponsor the showing.

The public is invited to see the display. It is free, though donations will be accepted. The donations will benefit the local West Plains Memorial Hospital.

Police Report

Clayton Attends Maize Days

On Saturday, September 20, 1975, Bill Clayton, area resident and Speaker of Texas House of Representatives served as Grand Marshall of the Maize Days Celebration.

The Maize Days tradition was begun about 20 years ago, and is held annually before the harvesting of that crop. The celebration is quite extensive, with area residents participating in such activities as a Queen's contest, Little Miss contest, Carnival and other events.

Topping off the week-long events was the parade, of which Clayton served as Grand Marshall, and the traditional barbeque luncheon.

A special highlight of this year's celebration was Clayton's presentation of donations received in his name to be given to Boys Ranch and Girlstown. Clayton received the contributions as part of the annual Speaker's Day Festivities held in Austin.

In the past, friends and fellow legislators have chosen Speaker's Day as the time to honor the Speaker with valuable gifts. However, Clayton chose to forgo this tradition by asking all those who indicated a desire to honor him to send a contribution to Boys Ranch and Girlstown. When asked, Clayton said, "I Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1.

Thursday, the front dropped temperatures into the 70s and 80s. Lubbock recorded a high of 88 Thursday while Dalhart in the northern Panhandle reached 76 degrees.

No precipitation other than a light drizzle was reported in the Panhandle and South Plains areas.

The front should move slowly south with cooler air behind it and fair hot weather ahead of it according to weather forecaster. No precipitation of any consequence was expected through Saturday.

"Most crops look pretty good in the county as a whole," said John Fuston, ASCS office in Muleshoe, "but the cotton in the north part of the county will be in real trouble if we get more cold weather as it was planted later."

Fuston said the farmers are cutting the dryland grain sorghum south of the Sandhills and it is turning out 2-

Stout Gives Program At Chamber Breakfast

Muleshoe High School Head Coach Chuck Stout gave the program to members of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture during their Membership Breakfast held Sept. 18 at the Corral Restaurant at 6:30 a.m.

Coach Stout spoke about his football team and illustrated on a screen the types of offensive and defensive play fans will see the Mules perform when they attend the games this season. The coach then answered questions about the team. He told those in attendance that he was going to have to cancel the Junior Varsity schedule this year due to lack of participation of players. Those boys left on the Junior Varsity team will be moved up to the varsity and will practice with them.

Gordon Wilson, breakfast chairman gave the welcoming address followed by the invocation said by David Grey, minister

Young Homemakers Active In Community

LADIES NIGHT OUT . . . L to R are Brenda Man, Judy Davenport, Shirley Buns, Doris Jean kelton, Darlene Ruthardt and Sue Rush. The members of the Muleshoe Young Homemakers have a night out once in awhile. They are at a steak house here finishing up what was a plentiful meal.

September 21 through 27 is Texas Young Homemakers Week. The purpose of the Young Homemakers is clearly stated in the creed:

We, the Young Homemakers of Texas, seek to strengthen the bonds of the family with knowledge, integrity, love, understanding, and faith in God. In order that our homes may be established in the firm foundation of our community, state, nation, and the world. Upholding the right of each individual to dream, work, and to assume the privileges and responsibilities of the domestic way of life. According to Webster, a creed is "a statement of belief, principles, or opinions of any subject." Certainly our creed fits this definition, by placing the home as the link between the individual and his role in his community and the world.

The creed of the Young Homemakers begins with a small but important word, "we". In order to fulfill the purposes of our own life, each of us must first recognize that we need others. The Muleshoe Young Homemakers are working together to strengthen the bonds of the family and the home. We have given educational programs to the public schools and also sponsor a "Little Sister" every year with a $100 scholarship. We provide an educational program for children ages 3 to 5 every month at the Public Library for Story Hour. The Muleshoe Young Homemakers are available for community projects through the year.

The Muleshoe Young Homemakers have planned various projects for the 1975-76 Bicentennial year.

To start things off, there was the dinner held for the Nursing Home in June, and the Fourth of July Float on "Peach and Liberty" which contributed to the 200 birthday celebration. Also on the agenda they plan to have a program for elementary grades to help the children to understand the importance of their heritage.

Let's not forget Christmas time for the Senior Citizens. The Young Homemakers plan to help decorate, and bake home made treats for the Nursing Home.

We hope all of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts work extra hard this year for the "Outstanding Scouts of the Year Award."

The bake sales which help to contribute to the various funds given by the Muleshoe Young Homemakers will be advertised on KMUL radio and through the journal. Don't miss the special Valentine and Easter bake sales where you can place your orders.

The Pecan sale will start around September 25, so put your order in now.

These are only a few of the projects the Young Homemakers have planned for their Bicentennial year, so everyone pit in and help the Homemakers help the community.

The Muleshoe Young Homemakers will hold Story Hour every first and third Wednesday, of each month. It is held in the basement of the Muleshoe Public Library from ten o'clock to eleven o'clock. Children from the ages of three years to five years are urged to attend.

At each session the children will first say the pledge of allegiance, as the flag is raised in front of the library. The children will then proceed, to the basement where they will receive name tags, on which a red star will be placed each time they attend. A gold star will be awarded for every five sessions. The children seem to be enlightened with the recognition given to them, each time they attend.

Preceding the program, each child is encouraged to join in a conversation of things they have in common; whether it be their pets, hobbies, traveling, or whatever interests them to talk about. Not any child is ever left out. Eventually, everyone is talking. They are asked to raise their hands to speak, so as not to interrupt anyone else. By joining in the conversation, the children realize they are not with strangers, but with someone they can communicate with. Therefore, the atmosphere is casual and the Story Hour can begin.

Films, games, songs and stories follow. Everyone participates in the activities. They all sing and laugh with one another. Each one is learning more about each other, as we learn about them. They learn to share and take part. Each film, whether it be, "The Three Bears" or "Sleeping Beauty," it has a moral, which the children are urged to talk about.

There is no charge for Story Hour and it gives the children a chance to meet new children and to learn and grow with others their own age. The Young Homemakers do ask the mothers to bring the children and go home. This gives the children a chance to be away from their parents and parents a chance to be away from their children.

The Young Homemakers hope this article has encouraged parents to bring their children, to share in Story Hour and meet new friends.

All the members working together gain many rewarding and successful accomplishments. If there is anyone in Muleshoe or the surrounding area who might like to join contact Mrs. Randy Bush, Mrs. Mike Richardson, Mrs. Randall Copley, Mrs. Wayne Copley, Mrs. Mike Bean, Mrs. Carroll Kelton, Mrs. Brian Noble, Mrs. John Mann, Mrs. Jerry Ruthardt, Mrs. Raymond Davenport, Mrs. Gary Elliott, Mrs. Sandy Noble, Mrs. Don Carver, Mrs. Terry Kemp, Mrs. Larry Kemp, Mrs. Tony Poteet, Mrs. Johnnie Estep, Mrs. Roger Reynolds, Mrs. Dennis Bush, Mrs. Tex McManis or Mrs. Dorine Harbin.

He who labors as he prays lifts his heart to God with his hands.
-St. Bernard.

FOURTH OF JULY FLOAT . . . The Muleshoe Young Homemakers won third place with their Bicentennial float that was entered. With its patriotic colors, it shows the pride the homemakers have in their club and country.

PROCLAMATION . . . L to R are Jean Richardson (center) Mayor Alex H. Williams and Betty Bush, both are members of Young Homemakers, watching Mayor Williams, sign a proclamation declaring

NURSING HOME MEAL . . . L to R are Brenda Mann, Doris Jean Kelton, Margaret Copley, Kaye Elliot and Glenda Copley preparing supper for the residents of the Nursing Home of Muleshoe. This is just one of their projects that the club participates in. They served sandwiches, cokes, and for dessert, home-made ice cream.

STORY HOUR . . . L to R are Thomas Hassel, Kerrie Perkins, Brian Bush, Judy Davenport, sponsor and a Young Homemaker and Rhonda Fuston. These children are participating in Story Hour, sponsored by the Muleshoe Young Homemakers. It is being held in the basement of the public library on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Everyone between the ages of three and five are urged to attend.

"The cotton in the Bula area, in the southern part of Bailey County, is way above average," said Fuston. He pointed out that the farmers there have good crops, "even if we have another cold front move in."

The National Weather Service forecasters have predicted a new cold front will begin to affect the South Plains area by the end of the week, though it should not match the intensity of the system that reached the area last Thursday.

The skies were expected to become cloudy Thursday (Sept. 18) night as the cold front penetrated southward across the Panhandle and South Plains. Lubbock County Extension agent Ken Cook predicted the maturation and growth of cotton will halt if the temperatures remain below 60 degrees. He felt if this cold front hits, it will almost assure that "we're not going to have a good cotton crop." Cook pointed out the cold weather along with excessive rain in the early summer and insect damage prompted his prediction for a below average cotton crop.

Lariat Church Sponsors

Lutheran Hour

ST. LOUIS Mo.—The Lutheran Hour, a worldwide radio ministry sponsored by the International Lutheran Laymen's League, will begin its 43rd broadcasting season on Sept. 21.

About 1,100 radio stations in the United States and Canada carry the English language program. An additional 50 stations in the U.S. and Canada carry Lutheran Hour programs in French, Spanish, Finnish, Slovak, Japanese and Chinese. In his message for Sept. 21, Dr. Hoffman says, "This program could make some kind of claim to be number one. It is not the first program of its kind to be on the air. It was not the first program to be widely heard. But it is probably the most extensive broadcast on the air today. (But) I'm not here to proclaim that fact to you."

"The one great thing about this program is that we proclaim the One who is number one."

"Jesus Christ is the subject of this broadcast. He is God. It should be no surprise that God is number one throughout the universe."

Worldwide, Lutheran Hour programs are carried by about 700 stations, with 18 overseas offices producing programs in 45 languages.

The Lutheran Hour first went on the air over the CBS network in 1930, with Dr. Walter A. Maier, Sr., as speaker. Dr. Maier served as speaker until his death in 1950.

Dr. Lawrence Acker and the Rev. Armin Oldsen served as Lutheran Hour speakers until Dr. Hoffman was named to the post in 1955.

The beginning of the new season will be marked by a Lutheran Hour Rally on Sept. 28 at 3 p.m. in the Springfield (Ill.) Armory. Dr. Hoffman will be the guest speaker.

In addition to the Lutheran Hour, the International Lutheran Laymen's League, headquartered in St. Louis, also sponsors Preaching Through the Pres, an evangelism program utilizing newspaper and magazine advertising, and is co-sponsor with the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod of "This Is The Life," a television ministry.

KMUL will broadcast the program on Sunday at 12:15 p.m. The program is sponsored by St. John's Lutheran Church of Lariat.

Mrs. Sam Oscar Allison

Miss Kelly, Allison Pledge Vows

The First Baptist Church of Earth was the setting for the evening wedding of Miss Kathy Kelly and Sam Oscar Allison. Rev. David Burum, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony, September 13, at 6:00 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kelly of Earth and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Allison are parents of the couple.

The couple stood before an altar, decorated with large white baskets filled with spring flowers, in shades of pink and yellow. Wedding selections were played on the organ by Mrs. Jimmy Craft.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length capen blue chiffon gown accented by wide bands of white lace and long full sleeves. She wore a crown of pastel carnations in her hair. Following a family tradition she carried a lace covered Bible and a handkerchief, belonging to her grandmother Kelley.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Donnie Stephens of Clayton, N.M. She wore a formal length dress of polished cotton in a small floral print trimmed with narrow white lace. She wore fresh flowers in her hair and carried a spray of pink silk roses.

Serving as best man was his brother, Edward Mack Allison of Altus, Okla. Ushers were John Kelly of Earth, brother of the bride and Fred Allison, cousin of the groom.

Registering the guests was Carmen Kelly, niece of the bride. Honored guests were Mrs. Helen Steele of Electra, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Sam McKinstry of Muleshoe and Mrs. Wiley Grizzle of Fort Sumner, N.M., grandmother of the groom.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a hand crocheted cloth, over blue and highlighted, by an arrangement of blue flowers. The wedding cake, accented by a swirl of pink roses was served with punch by Mrs. Theresa Thomas of Lubbock and Miss Linda James of Amarillo.

Distributing the rice bags were Tammy Landis and Amanda Stephens, neices of the bride.

Out-of-town guests were from Altus, Okla., Clovis, Fort Sumner, Lovington, and Los Vegas, N.M., Castle Rock, Colo. and Austin, Lubbock, Amarillo, Denton, Electra, Brownfield and Lazbuddie.

National PTA Opposes Veto

The National PTA is expressing its strong opposition to President Gerald Ford's veto of the Education Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 1976, and will be contacting every Congressman to make its views known, according to Mrs. Walter G. Kimmel, National PTA president.

The Administration's 1976 budget request for the education division was $855 million below the 1975 appropriation; whereas the bill which Congress passed, and the President vetoed, was $255 million more than the 1975 appropriation—an increase of only 3.6 per cent. Compared to the 8.5 per cent increase in the consumer price index, the National PTA believes that this would be a modest increase, and certainly not inflationary.

"In order to maintain even the current level of education for all children," Mrs. Kimmel states, "any loss in federal funds will make it necessary for additional funds to be forthcoming from state and local revenue sources. We believe the veto of federal funds put pressure on approximately 17,000 school districts in this country to increase local property taxes. If additional funds cannot be found personnel and programs will have to be cut. Such cuts would add to the nation's economic woes because 80 per cent of the educational budget expenditures are for personnel, and, therefore, are a direct assist to our economy."

"The National PTA believes that quality education for all children is an investment in the human resources of this nation, and that we cannot afford to neglect or reduce this commitment. Therefore, we are urging Congress to override the presidential veto of the Education Appropriations Act of Fiscal Year 1976."

The bride is a graduate of Springlake-Earth High School and La Plata Beauty School, of Hereford. She has been employed at Joy's Beauty Shop in Earth.

The groom is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and a 1972 graduate of Texas Technological University. He is associated with Worley Mills in Clovis, N.M., where the young couple plan to reside after a short wedding trip to Sante Fe.

ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

NET

One of the definitions for a net is a trap or a snare. A net is used to catch a fish. There are times in every man's life when, like Job, he feels that God has trapped him in a net. Job 19:6 reads, "Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net."

But our troubles and afflictions are never caused by our God. Moreover, His Word says He is ever faithful to deliver His people. The Psalmist asserts: "Mine eyes are ever toward the Lord; for he shall pluck my feet out of the net."

How wonderful are His promises. These promises are proclaimed from the pulpit by your pastor each week for the blessing and edifying of God's people. Won't you attend church this week and partake of this blessing?

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long endure and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

AUSTIN-The State of Texas is served by an outstanding military organization in the Texas State Guard. While most Texans are aware of some of the work done by the Guard, I would like to detail the history of the Guard and the varying nature of its responsibilities.

The Second Amendment to the Constitution says that it is necessary and a protected right for a free state to have a well regulated militia, which is authorized to keep and bear arms, in order to protect its security. This amendment guarantees the right of the State of Texas to maintain the Texas State Guard in order to protect the security of our people.

Our first militia was organized on November 3, 1835 at Gonzales by Major General Sam Houston. This First Texas Regiment of Volunteers was soon followed by the Second Texas Regiment and was the fore-runner of the Texas State Guard.

Our state military organizations were renamed the National Guard in 1903. When the Texas National Guard was called into active Federal service in 1940, the need for a separate military force available to handle State internal security problems became apparent.

After necessary Congressional action, the 47th Texas Legislature passed the "Texas Defense Guard Act" which authorized the formation of a State Guard to carry out the state functions and responsibilities of the federally activated National Guard. Within one year, the new Texas Defense Guard numbered 17,497 which was larger ROTC programs in Texas' schools and colleges.

Certain units of the Reserve Corps were activated into Texas State Guard units during the 1961 call-up of the Texas Army National Guard's 49th Armored Division at the time of the Berlin crisis.

In 1965, to maintain a reservoir of military strength for use by the State of Texas as a supplement to the Texas National Guard, the 59th Legislature abolished the Reserve Corps and created the Texas State Guard. Our new State Guard is an active component of the State Military Forces, along with the Texas Army National Guard and the Texas Air National Guard.

The function of the State Guard is to reinforce the Texas National Guard in state emergencies and to replace National Guard Units called into Federal service.

Our State Guard units render voluntary assistance during periods of disaster. Recent years have seen State Guardsmen serving on brief periods of state active duty in the wake of hurricanes, tornadoes than the maximum strength of the Texas National Guard prior to its mobilization.

In the beginning, Guardsmen furnished their own uniforms, food and transportation. Funds for emergency expenses came from donations by city and county governments. The Guard was a volunteer militia in every sense of the word.

In 1943, the Texas Legislature redesignated the Texas Defense Guard as the Texas State Guard. This organization continued to serve as the active militia of Texas until 1947.

Following the disbanding of the State Guard, many felt that a State Guard Reserve Corps should be maintained for use in future emergencies. The Texas Legislature adopted the "State Guard Reserve Corps Act" and the Texas State Guard Reserve Corps was activated on January 26, 1948.

The Reserve Corps, among its many accomplishments, developed an outstanding statewide communications system and participated in service of their communities in local emergencies.

What impresses me most about the State Guard is the fact that it and floods. Guardsmen have donated thousands of manhours to the has remained a voluntary militia. The members still furnish their own uniforms and equipment although more city and county funds and state-owned equipment is now available.

THAT'S A LOT OF CAULIFLOWER... Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Busby, 813 E. Fir, Muleshoe, have raised cauliflower the last two years and are pretty proud of this seven and a half inch in diameter cauliflower from their garden. They said last year they raised one that was nine inches in diameter. "This year's heat cooked them and reduced their size," Busby said. These were planted the last part of July or the first of August, which was too early this year. The sun turns them a cream color. With the right temperature, cauliflower is white.

Guardsmen double as civil defense volunteers under an agreement between Guard Headquarters and the State Division of Disaster Emergency Services. This agreement enables Guardsmen to participate more fully in local emergency preparedness programs.

The Governor of Texas acts as commander-in-chief of the Texas State Guard. This command function is exercised through the Adjutant General of Texas, who is administrative head of all State and National Guard activities in the state. Adjutant General T. S. Bishop has earned nation-wide respect for the distinguished manner in which he has served Texas as Adjutant General for a total of nearly ten years.

Classes Begin October 1 At New WTRT Center

COLLEGE STATION -- Classes are scheduled to begin about October 1 at the new West Texas Regional Training Center being established at Floydada by the Texas Engineering Extension of the Texas A&M University System.

Massie Community Center and the Floydada Fire Department will provide temporary classroom and office space for initial training center activities, according to James R. Bradley, director, Engineering Extension Service.

"The opening of the West Texas Regional Training Center represents a major step in the expansion of our operations and an opportunity to provide greater assistance to the citizens of our operations and an opportunity to provide greater zens of West Texas," said Bradley.

He said approximately 100 persons per week will participate in training programs at the Floydada center during the first year, with an anticipated 300 persons involved by 1980.

Bradley has headed the Texas Engineering Extension Service since December 1973. Prior to his appointment he served 22 years as head of Texas A&M University's Industrial Economics Research Division, working closely with representatives of cities throughout Texas and becoming keenly aware of their special problems and needs.

The establishment of the West Texas center at Floydada was authorized by the Texas A&M University System Board of Directors earlier this summer. Plans call for a 20-acre tract of land for the center to be donated by the Floydada Development Co. and a classroom and office facility to be built by the Texas Engineering Extension Service.

As part of the public service arm of the Texas A&M University System, the Texas Engineering Extension Service provides training programs on a statewide basis for industry, municipal government, utilities and other trades requiring vocational or industrial training.

During the past year, the Texas Engineering Extension Service has provided occupational training services for approximately 30,000 Texans in 1,200 classes.

Texas Engineering Extension Service activities include specially tailored training courses in fire, law enforcement, municipal codes, and water and sewage operation, as well as training for telephone and electrical linemen, cable television technicians and vocational industrial teachers.

In addition to its functions of a direct public service nature, the Texas Engineering Extension Service also conducts courses which lead to jobs in such diversified fields as electronics, bricklaying, pipefitting and heavy equipment operation. The courses vary in sophistication from introductory programs for beginners to managerial short courses for supervisory personnel.

Administrative offices of the Texas Engineering Extension Service are located on the main campus of Texas A&M University. It also maintains training facilities at two outlying locations: Brayton Firemen's Training Field and the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center at Bryan. Additional training centers are located at Houston, Westlaco and Renner. The new facility at Floydada enhances the Engineering Extension Service's regional concept.

The Texas Firemen's Training School, a division of the Engineering Extension Service, dramatizes its role as a saver of life and money. Participants in three one-week summer sessions serving municipal, industrial and Spanish-speaking firemen learn and practice the best techniques in rescue operations and extinguishing all types of fires.

In addition to the monetary savings resulting from more efficient firefighting operations, Bradley noted Texas property owners also qualify for lower insurance rates if their local firemen have completed such prescribed instruction.

Through the summer program at College Station and the year-round sessions both on campus and around the state, some 6,000 firemen in more than 550 Texas cities receive training annually.

The same help concept is repeated in sessions dealing with various phases of such areas as law enforcement, water technology and building inspection.

TEXAS TALK

Getting it together may be the secret for grain sorghum planting in the next few years. Results from agricultural experiment stations indicate work will probably be intensified toward a grain sorghum which will grow well in rows as narrow as ten inches. Soil fertility scientist Dr. Lawrence Morrill at the Oklahoma Experiment Station says major yield increases are possible with a hybrid developed for the narrow row. Requirements of such a hybrid would be a different leaf angle and tolerance for a high plant population. In experiments with current varieties of sorghum, the extremely narrow (10 inch) rows showed consistently better yield with 40,000 plants per acre than with 80-thousand. The highest yields recorded in the test plots with non-irrigated sorghum involved planting 30-inch rows with 80,000 plants per acre and 120 pounds of applied nitrogen. Tests on irrigated sorghums are underway.
