STRAIGHT TALK FROM A FARM LEADER

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation has something of top importance to say about rural electrification co-ops. Here are some quotes: "Will the rural electric cooperatives be privately owned and controlled by rural people, or will they be a part of a huge federal public power system? . . .

"If we want true farmer ownership and control, we should take a good look at our source of capital funds. As long as we depend upon direct government loans, we are subject to the whims of Congress. We lay ourselves open to restrictions on capital funds determined by political expediency. . . ."

"If we are sincere in wanting a farmer owned and controlled electric cooperative system, we will work aggressively for changes in the legislation which will provide for gradual assumption of farmer ownership. . . . It is time for rural electric cooperative leaders to make a decision. Do they believe in private enterprise and farmer owned and controlled cooperatives which are a part of the free enterprise system, or do they prefer government ownership and control of power production and distribution facilities?"

Mr. Shuman has asked a potent question indeed. There can be no doubt that a strong effort exists to use these co-ops as instruments that will help bring about a huge tax-subsidized, tax-favoring federal power monopoly. And that, to quote Mr. Shuman once more, is ". . . the greatest threat to the future of our rural electric cooperatives. . . ."

WHAT HAPPENED TO SCHOOLROOM CRISIS?

The proposal that the federal government underwrite scientific education is running into strong opposition—and some of it comes from top educators. They see federal aid as an open sesame to ultimate federal control of education. They want to get the needed money from industry, foundations and individuals.

The situation caused the Wall Street Journal to make an apt observation: "This year we are told that unless Washington spends $1 billion more on science education we will never catch up to the Russian Sputniks and education is doomed."

"Last year we were told that unless the Federal Government came across with billions of dollars to build schoolrooms across the country education was doomed. But hardly anybody mentions that these days.

"Is it fair to ask the Federal aiders what happened to the schoolroom crisis?"

Those who want the federal government to become a dictator of education will use any excuse to get their foot in the door. That is happening now. It amounts to arguing that we must ape the Russians in order to keep pace with the Russians. If that is true, free and representative government is dead. One of the great paradoxes of this age is that we could destroy ourselves from within even as we gird mightily to guard against attack from without.

PRICED OUT OF THE MARKET

A leading newspaper recently carried two important stories side by side on the front page. One was headlined: "Labor to seek higher wages, shorter week." The other headline read: "November jobless highest since 1949."

This puts one in mind of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Labor can press for higher wages and shorter work-weeks, and very likely it can get them. But labor can't make people buy goods and services that keep the labor force employed.

A worker, like a product, can be priced out of the market. There is plenty of evidence that this is beginning to happen now.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas says: "I know that talk about eliminating extravagance, waste and nonessential expenditures in government is an old, old theme. It is something about which we have talked a lot but about which we have done very little."

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wheeler visited relatives and friends here last weekend.

If there is such a thing as a lucky break, one happened at Hudson Brothers Drug Store this week, when the frigidaire ice cream cabinet developed a leak in the gas line. This put the cabinet out of use for a couple of days while repairs were being made, but as the days were the coldest of the year when people were trying to keep their cream from freezing at home instead of buying ice cream down town, the inconvenience was slight.

"If it was going to break some time it sure picked the right time for it," commented Blake Hudson while the repairs were being made.

Mrs. G. C. Ivins is reported on the sick list this week.

50 YEARS AGO—

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Gruenther Looking Into Armed Forces Rivalries? General Held in Great Esteem By the President

By HENRY CATHCART Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther reportedly is making for President Eisenhower an intensive study of measures to crush, once and for all, missile-age rivalries among the armed forces. The chief executive makes no secret of his great esteem for the retired general, who now heads the American Red Cross and who has found time to undertake a number of hush-hush White House assignments.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther

Gruenther's recommendations are expected to be the basis for the Pentagon reorganization plan which the President, in his State of the Union message, said he would soon submit to Congress. During his military career, Gruenther was known as a profound student of command and general staff procedures. There are, incidentally, increasing indications that Gruenther may soon be brought into administration in a top official capacity. One report is that if and when Allen W. Dulles succeeds to return to private life, Gruenther may be named him as chief of the Central Intelligence agency.

BATTLE OVER FOREIGN AID—Although the major emphasis in Congress this year will be on missiles, the biggest fight probably will come on the issue of foreign aid. Congressional sources say that the administration's expected $4 billion foreign aid request may be cut in half by the legislators in a drive to channel more funds directly to U. S. weapons.

Overseas aid definitely will be continued but there will be more criticism of the form that it takes and the administration of the program. Many Democrats feel that more emphasis should be placed on the so-called Point Four program for helping underdeveloped areas, with less money going in economic aid to foreign nations.

In addition, there undoubtedly will be demands that the foreign assistance program be put more on a basis of loans rather than grants to other nations. Sentiment also is strong for channeling more aid to the uncommitted nations of Asia and the Near East and less to America's European allies.

First, the Eisenhower spending program allows a very narrow margin for a hoped-for surplus of less than $500 million and that can be wiped out by only a few hikes voted by Congress.

Secondly, the budget is based on anticipated higher tax revenues of $2 billion a year while many experts doubt that business will recover that much by the coming fiscal year. Some observers express the fear that the boost in the debt ceiling—from $275 to $300 billion—requested by the administration will not be temporary. If inflation and defense demands continue at their present rate, they say, it may prove impossible to lower the ceiling without a substantial tax hike.

GOING BROKE?—The Social Security trust fund is losing money, and some lawmakers are getting upset about it. Rep. Dan A. Reed (R), New York, ranking minority member on the House ways and means committee, is preparing a warning about going faster than the income.

The business downturn is the main reason for the decline in the fund. As companies lay off more employees, they tend to let go the older ones eligible for Social Security. As a result, more people are beginning to draw benefits.

In addition, as unemployment rises, the income goes down, and Social Security taxes can't be deducted from non-existent wages. Don't look for Congress to increase your Social Security tax to make up the deficit any time soon, however. Such an unpopular action isn't likely in an election year.

However, if the situation gets too bad, a move may be made in the session to raise the tax effective as of Jan. 1, 1959.

STRAIGHT TALK FROM A FARM LEADER

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation has something of top importance to say about rural electrification co-ops. Here are some quotes: "Will the rural electric cooperatives be privately owned and controlled by rural people, or will they be a part of a huge federal public power system? . . .

"If we want true farmer ownership and control, we should take a good look at our source of capital funds. As long as we depend upon direct government loans, we are subject to the whims of Congress. We lay ourselves open to restrictions on capital funds determined by political expediency. . . ."

"If we are sincere in wanting a farmer owned and controlled electric cooperative system, we will work aggressively for changes in the legislation which will provide for gradual assumption of farmer ownership . . . It is time for rural electric cooperative leaders to make a decision. Do they believe in private enterprise and farmer owned and controlled cooperatives which are a part of the free enterprise system, or do they prefer government ownership and control of power production and distribution facilities?"

Mr. Shuman has asked a potent question indeed. There can be no doubt that a strong effort exists to use these co-ops as instruments that will help bring about a huge tax-subsidized, tax-favoring federal power monopoly. And that, to quote Mr. Shuman once more, is " . . . the greatest threat to the future of our rural electric cooperatives. . . ."

WHAT HAPPENED TO SCHOOLROOM CRISIS?

The proposal that the federal government underwrite scientific education is running into strong opposition—and some of it comes from top educators. They see federal aid as an open sesame to ultimate federal control of education. They want to get the needed money from industry, foundations and individuals.

The situation caused the Wall Street Journal to make an apt observation: "This year we are told that unless Washington spends $1 billion more on science education we will never catch up to the Russian Sputniks and education is doomed."

"Last year we were told that unless the Federal Government came across with billions of dollars to build schoolrooms across the country education was doomed. But hardly anybody mentions that these days.

"Is it fair to ask the Federal aiders what happened to the schoolroom crisis?"

Those who want the federal government to become a dictator of education will use any excuse to get their foot in the door. That is happening now. It amounts to arguing that we must ape the Russians in order to keep pace with the Russians. If that is true, free and representative government is dead. One of the great paradoxes of this age is that we could destroy ourselves from within even as we gird mightily to guard against attack from without.

PRICED OUT OF THE MARKET

A leading newspaper recently carried two important stories side by side on the front page. One was headlined: "Labor to seek higher wages, shorter week." The other headline read: "November jobless highest since 1949."

This puts one in mind of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Labor can press for higher wages and shorter work-weeks, and very likely it can get them. But labor can't make people buy goods and services that keep the labor force employed.

A worker, like a product, can be priced out of the market. There is plenty of evidence that this is beginning to happen now.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas says: "I know that talk about eliminating extravagance, waste and nonessential expenditures in government is an old, old theme. It is something about which we have talked a lot but about which we have done very little.

WHEN THE OLD BIRD WAS YOUNGER

10 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from the Eagle Files of February 13, 1948)

David Straley, Wednesday announced the sale of the Magnolia Service Station at Fifth and Fisher Street to George Gilbert.

Clayton Egger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Effie Egger of Ebony and a native of Mills County, has accepted a position with the Veterans Administration as Training Officer for Part 7 and Part 8 on-the-job veterans and for Checking Vocational schools in a district in which Brownwood is headquarters and which includes Mills County.

Plans to move two surplus buildings here to serve as agriculture buildings for Mills County were altered this week due to weather conditions, according to Bob Steen, president of the Mills County Breeders' Association.

At the home of Mrs. F. K. Jones, a birthday dinner was given in honor of her mother, Mrs. Emma Oltrogge, on Feb. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meadors of Goldthwaite celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently with a reception attended by members of their families and friends from Spur, Abilene, Crane and Dallas, as well as Goldthwaite neighbors.

Word was received here this week that Mrs. R. H. Patterson, Enterprise editor, was in a Temple hospital for a check up and possible treatment.

Brian Smith left Wednesday for Dallas where on Thursday and Friday he is in attendance at a Red Cross Disaster Clinic for chapter personnel over the state.

Miss Alta Williams of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, was called last week to be with her mother, Mrs. C. F. Williams, who has been quite sick, but is now somewhat improved.

Edward Eugene Palmer of Ballinger was home for the weekend visiting his family who are here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Palmer.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from the Eagle Files of February 10, 1933)

Joe Tom Weston and Miss Lena Lee Demere were married at the Primitive Baptist Church in Tuscola, February 4, Elder E. P. McNeil officiating.—Mullin Enterprise.

Last Friday Gloria Armstrong invited sixteen of her little friends to a slumber party at her home, in honor of her birthday.

The friends of the A. H. Miller family here were shocked Sunday to learn of the death of Mrs. W. W. Condon, formerly Miss Maude Miller, after a brief illness at her home in Abilene.

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Vaughan at Trigger Mountain, was opened last Friday night to the neighbor girls in honor of their daughter, Ella, who is expected to leave soon to accept a position in the University of Texas.

Miss Beatrice Hendry of San Angelo spent a few days visiting here before going on to Corpus Christi where she will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wheeler visited relatives and friends here last weekend.

If there is such a thing as a lucky break, one happened at Hudson Brothers Drug Store this week, when the frigidaire ice cream cabinet developed a leak in the gas line. This put the cabinet out of use for a couple of days while repairs were being made, but as the days were the coldest of the year when people were trying to keep their cream from freezing at home instead of buying ice cream down town, the inconvenience was slight.

"If it was going to break some time it sure picked the right time for it," commented Blake Hudson while the repairs were being made.

Mrs. G. C. Ivins is reported on the sick list this week.

50 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from the Eagle Files of February 15, 1908)

George Smith and Miss Minnie Seabourne were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in this city.

Mr. Daniel C. Goode died at his home in the Shaw Bend community at an early hour Tuesday morning. He was one of the oldest citizens of this section, but had been so feeble the last few years that he has not been able to mingle with the people much.

Bruce Perry and family have moved from Runnels County and located on Mrs. J. A. M. Johnson's place. We welcome them back to "Old Mills County."

Miss Lula Sanders returned to her home at Mullin Wednesday, after a visit to her sister, Mrs. Summy in this city.

The election last Saturday to determine whether or not the city incorporation of Goldthwaite should be continued resulted in votes being polled, 158 of which were favorable to the incorporation and 49 against it.

Mrs. W. R. Smith and her son, W. H. Smith are in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Harrell and family.

Dick Brinson and family now occupy the Eubanks residence, west of Fairman's gin.

Major Trent's fine new residence will soon be completed.

Bert Fletcher, who left Mills County four years ago and who has been living in California, returned last week with his family and I think contemplates settling again in Mills County. A welcome awaits our prodigal boy.—Mullin News.

Mrs. U. E. G. Dyer of Houston arrived Tuesday morning for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Triplett, in the Center City community.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I have been receiving social security old age insurance benefits for two years. I have been supporting my son, age 40, all of his life because of his mental condition which dates from his childhood. Can I receive additional benefits for my son?

Answer: Yes, provided your son's disability started before age 18 and is so severe that he cannot do any substantial work toward an income for himself. Contact your nearest social security office for full information to apply for the benefits for your son.

Question: My husband died in 1943. I received social security benefits for myself and my daughter until she became 18. A friend of mine told me I can now qualify for benefits because I am 62 years of age. What I have to do to get these benefits?

Answer: The law was amended in 1956 permitting widows to qualify at age 62 instead of 65. When you call at our office bring with you your husband's social security card, your marriage certificate, and some proof to prove your age.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Gruenther Looking Into Armed Forces Rivalries?
By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther reportedly is making for President Eisenhower an intensive study of measures to crush, once and for all, missile-age rivalries among the armed forces. The chief executive makes no secret of his great esteem for the retired general, who now heads the American Red Cross but who has found time to undertake a number of hush-hush White House assignments.

Gruenther's recommendations are expected to be the basis for the Pentagon reorganization plan which the President, in his State of the Union message, said he would soon submit to Congress. During his military career, Gruenther was known as a profound student of command and general staff procedures.

There are, incidentally, increasing indications that Gruenther may soon be brought into administration in a top official capacity. One report is that if and when Allen W. Dulles decides to return to private life, Gruenther may succeed him as chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

BATTLE OVER FOREIGN AID—Although the major emphasis in Congress this year will be on missiles, the biggest fight probably will come on the issue of foreign aid. Congressional sources say that the administration's expected $4 billion foreign aid request may be cut in half by the legislators in the drive to channel more funds directly to U. S. weapons.

Overseas aid definitely will be continued but there will be more criticism of the form that it takes and the administration of the program. Many Democrats feel that more emphasis should be placed on the so-called Point Four program for helping undeveloped areas, with less money going in economic aid to foreign nations.

In addition, there undoubtedly will be demands that the foreign assistance program be put more on a basis of loans rather than grants to other nations. Sentiment also is strong for channeling more aid to the uncommitted nations of Asia and the Near East and less to America's European allies.

First, the Eisenhower spending program allows a very narrow margin for a hoped-for surplus of less than $500 million and this can be wiped out by only a few hikes voted by Congress.

Secondly, the budget is based on anticipated higher tax revenues of $2 billion a year while many experts doubt that business will recover that much by the coming fiscal year. Some observers press the fear that the boost in the debt ceiling—from $275 to $300 billion—requested by the administration will not be temporary this time. If inflation and defense demands continue at their present rate, they say, it may prove impossible to lower the ceiling without a substantial tax hike.

GOING BROKE?—The Social Security trust fund is losing money, and some lawmakers are getting upset about it. Rep. Dan A. Reed (R), New York, ranking minority member on the House ways and means committee, is preparing a warning about outside going faster than the income.

The business downturn is the main reason for the decline in the fund. As companies lay off more employees, they tend to let go the older ones eligible for Social Security. As a result, more people are beginning to draw benefits.

In addition, as unemployment rises, the income goes down, since Social Security taxes can't be deducted from non-existent wages. Don't look for Congress to increase your Social Security tax to make up the deficit any time soon, however. Such an unpopular action isn't likely in an election year.

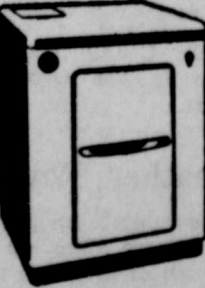

However, if the situation gets too bad, a move may be made in the session to raise the tax effective as of Jan. 1, 1959.

Farmers To Be John Deere Day Guests At Free Show Tuesday Night

Three handsome stock horses step out in unison in the western musical comedy, "The Ace Ranchero," which will highlight the forthcoming John Deere Day show. "The Ace Ranchero," an original musical comedy having its setting in the West and filmed specially for John Deere Day audiences, will feature the well-rounded program to be given by Harper Implement Company Tuesday night, February 18th, at 7:30 p. m. in the Melba Theatre.

A natural for this age of adult western, the "Ace Ranchero" spans in interest the age spread from 6 to 60 and features the antics, acrobatic and otherwise, of a typical easterner who inherits a western ranch. Indians, gunsmoke, music, and badmen are neatly tied in a delightful package of entertainment. The feature film, however, is only part of the full program that includes colorful pictures on the unusual in farming and a parade of modern farm equipment destined to open a new era in lowered farm production costs.

NO TICKETS NEEDED

In announcing plans for his John Deere Day show, Mr. J. D. Harper emphasized that this year no tickets will be required for admission. All farmers and their families are invited—and it's all free. He urged, however, that it is important to remember the time, date, and place, because he feels confident that attendance at the show will be both entertaining and profitable to all farmers of this area.

That Refund Check For Income Tax

"Just because your neighbor and you filed your federal income tax returns on the same day doesn't mean that you'll both get refund checks at the same time."

V. W. Newman, of Internal Revenue Service, Brownwood, revealed that "the average taxpayer's return goes through many human hands and a number of machines before the coveted refund check can be sent the taxpayer."

He explained that some returns are checked more closely than others. "Your taxpaying neighbor may have claimed different deductions than you did; his handwriting may have been easier to read, or one of you may have neglected to sign a return, or attach necessary W-2 forms."

"Already some refund checks have been mailed district taxpayers and we're right on schedule. In fact, if you are eligible to receive a refund on that 1957 tax return you should have it in time to celebrate July 4," Mr. Newman promises.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

BY HUBERT L. BERRY

What is the best grass to plant? This is a question which is being asked frequently by farmers and ranchers of the Mills Soil Conservation District. The A-3 practice which applies in the Mills County ACP book provides cost sharing for the following grasses: sorghum alnum, blue panic, perennial sweet sudan, sideoats gramma, buffalo, K. R. blue-stem, and bluestem mixture. These grasses were chosen for their adaptability, suitability, and availability of seed. Sorghum alnum and blue panic seed seem to be fairly plentiful; however seed from native grasses are extremely scarce and

'DEAD' MAN LIVES AGAIN—Velden Averett, 37, whose breathing, pulse and heartbeat had ceased, and who had lost nearly 75 per cent of his blood, is shown in a San Francisco hospital after returning from the "dead." should be obtained immediately. The best grass for any particular farm depends on the type of soil, other pastures available, and the farmer's needs. Many farmers say that they want to plant the best grass possible and never put a plow into the soil again. This is all right provided adequate preparation is taken in advance. Grass is a crop and must be considered as such before good results can be expected. Many have planted haphazardly and have been disappointed in the results. If you prepare to plant grass as you would prepare to plant corn, then success stories will be more numerous. Possibly there is no best grass. Nature in its virgin state provided a mixture of grasses with each serving a useful purpose.

With the exception of sorghum alnum, blue panic and perennial sweet sudan, all of the grasses grow slow and require adequate time in getting established. This sometimes requires two or three years even when good stands are obtained immediately after planting.

Because of the nature of their growth sorghum alnum, blue panic and perennial sweet sudan are recommended in rows and should be cultivated once or twice each year. The other grasses except for buffalo can be planted either way; however row plantings have proved more successful in most areas. The ASC Committee through the ACP provide approximately 70% of the cost of establishing these grasses. The conservation reserve part of Soil Bank pays approximately 80% and includes a few additional grasses. Soil Conservation Service technicians are interested in helping you get perennial grasses established as this is a very important step in soil and water conservation.

Before white men settled this country and built fences, nature protected the slopes from erosion with a dense cover of grass and conserved moisture for maximum production. Man with all his science and inventions has not learned a better way to conserve soil nor a cheaper way to produce meat than by the protective covering of the earth which man has chose to use unwisely.

Landowners Asked To Help Quail Spread

Austin, (Spec.)—A committee of members of the Game and Fish Commission will begin an early campaign to get more landowners to join in the state's quail rehabilitation program, according to the Assistant Secretary.

The committee is composed of Frank Wood, Wichita Falls; Robert Carr, San Angelo; Howard Carney, Atlanta; and J. W. Elliott, Mexia.

As a quail development committee, they will institute a program of interesting more landowners in providing cover and feed for quail. Nearly 35,000 bobwhites and some 10,000 cottontail quail were produced at the State Quail Hatchery at Tyler during 1957. They were sold to landowners at 50 cents each, about half the cost of production.

Landowners desiring birds should make their applications early to the Commission. Their land will be inspected and helpful information given as to cover condition requirements. No birds will be authorized for land that does not contain suitable cover and sufficient feed possibilities.

"The solution of the quail problem depends more upon the landowner than anything else," the Assistant Secretary said. "These birds require proper cover conditions, and assurance of a good food supply."

"Through efforts of Game Commission workers, thousands of Multiflora roses have been planted, along with such foods as partridge pea, dove weed, Kobe lespedeza and many other well-known varieties that produce seeds."

The development committee expects to make direct contact with landowners in an effort to get additional acreage made ready for this year's birds.

Highland Lakes Being Featured In Travelguide

The Highland Lakes of Central Texas are featured in a one-page travel guide being mailed this week to 100,000 motorists in Texas and New Mexico.

The travel promotion piece, prepared by Humble Oil & Refining Company, invites motorists to visit "the six magnificent lakes in the Texas highlands." It points out the recreational features of the area—fishing, boating, water-skiing, camping and guest ranches. Water-color illustrations by E. M. Schiweitz, noted Texas artist, picture the outstanding attractions of the lakes, and the region is outlined on a state map.

Humble has prepared similar travel guides to highlight Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle, the Lower Rio Grande Valley, the Texas Gulf Coast, the Dogwood Trail of East Texas, South-eastern New Mexico and the Santa Fe Basin above Albuquerque.

The purpose of the guides is to stimulate motorists to travel to interesting and scenic points on weekends, holidays and vacations.

EGG LAW ENFORCEMENT BEGINS

Only a few more days before the Texas Egg Law becomes effective.

On Monday, February 17th, official enforcement of the new law is inaugurated by the Texas Department of Agriculture. After that date, Texas will no longer be the only state in the Union without legal protection for the egg industry.

The new egg law is essentially a grading and labeling act. Briefly, it requires all eggs sold within the state to be properly marked as to its grade—and the eggs must meet the specifications indicated on the carton or crate whenever inspectors from the Department makes one of their frequent spot-checks at any level of trade.

The end result of this new law will benefit all persons connected with the industry. The producer is given an incentive to market high quality eggs that bring a premium price. The better his eggs, the more his profit and his good quality product will not have to compete on the same levels with inferior eggs.

The housewife, too, will be relieved of the hit-or-miss methods of egg buying. No guesswork is involved when she picks her eggs at the market. The grade on the box is the grade of the egg inside and she still will have a wide choice of quality and price according to her cooking needs.

The entire egg industry can expect a boost, also. For years, Texas eggmen have been plagued with false or misleading labeling methods within the trade. Various phases were used in advertising which lead to confusion in trying to buy high quality eggs. Now the trade has a uniform system of grading on which to base their price.

In addition, egg handlers can buy and sell Texas eggs of a known quality without having to rely on out-of-state purchasers for accurately graded eggs. This will help to keep Texas money in Texas.

When the Legislature passed the egg law, it also set up a Texas Egg Marketing Advisory Board to aid in policy making and enforcement problems. Agriculture Commissioner John White is chairman of this board, with D. W. Reneau of Seguin serving as vice-chairman.

Other members of the board are: T. D. Craddock, Hamilton; G. F. Siebel, Burton; Jim W. Whitaker, Paris; Jack Dubose, Gonzales; Marvin Glibreath, Weimar; Dewey Stringer, Houston; Tom R. Boothe, San Antonio; and Frank Ehrle, Childress.

Mrs. Ruel DeWolff of Arlington is staying with her mother, Mrs. Mattie Keese, who is ill at her home.

Back The Attack On Traffic Accidents On Statewide Basis

The statewide Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents drive to make 1958 a decisive year for traffic safety will be given added impetus during the coming months when the Texas Safety Association, newspapers and local safety groups join hands in a Signs of Life campaign.

TSA is also developing final plans for full cooperation with the Boy Scouts of America in the Spring traffic safety phase of their Safety Good Turn—1958, which kicks off during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7-13.

The Signs of Life program, specially highlighted in February, is a continuing campaign to encourage recognition and strict observance of the basic traffic signs, signals and pavement markings. Observance of grade crossings, warning signs and signals is particularly stressed.

Both the Signs of Life and the Boy Scout Safety Good Turn programs are extended efforts to heighten public interest in—and support for—the basic goals of traffic accident prevention.

J. O. Musick, TSA's General Manager, recently stated that "Improvement of driving standards, increased voluntary compliance with traffic laws, cooperation with traffic officials and support of local safety groups are the principle means by which the traffic toll will be reduced."

"The Back the Attack banner, originated by the National Safety Council, unites all state safety programs into one mass effort to help America turn the tide and make 1958, truly, traffic safety's decisive year," Musick said.

Community News From Mullin

By MRS. JOHNNIE HOLLAND

Our boys and girls played the Star boys and girls in basketball at Mullin last Tuesday night.

Our girls were able to get in the lead early in the game, and to continue in the lead throughout the game. Several of the second team girls played and they did some good work.

Our boys trailed behind the Star boys about ten points until the last quarter when they brought the score up to within two points of the Star score.

The last quarter provided some very good entertainment for the spectators. At the end of the game Star was ahead two points. Scores were 38-36.

We also played Sidney at Mullin Friday night.

Our girls did some very good playing—they seemed very determined to win this game. It was a hard fought game from start to finish. When the last whistle blew we were ahead one point.

Some of our boys were away at the San Antonio Show. Just two boys on the A string were here to play; however, all the boys played a good game, and they weren't so badly defeated by the Sidney boys.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cason Jr. have just completed a new three bedroom home at Early.
Mrs. Cason is the former Virginia Aldridge, and she is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs.
A. H. Pickens of Mullin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosier visited several days last week in Carlsbad, New Mexico with three of their children who live there.

Mrs. George Golightly of Hamilton and Mrs. Ralph Hull of Comanche were here a day last week to visit with Mrs. L.
J. Vann and Mrs. Jewell Ivy.

They all made a business trip to Brownwood.

Mrs. Maggie Toliver was a visitor in Brownwood a day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Chesser and family of Fort Worth were recent weekend visitors here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Ernest Chesser.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Vaughan Sr. of Goldthwaite attended the ball game here last Tuesday night when our boys and girls played Star.

Patsy Singleton, who works in Brownwood, was a weekend visitor here with her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Otto Singleton.

Mr. Sid Beshears who lived near San Antonio passed away recently. He was a former citizen of Mullin and was an uncle of Mrs. Dew Shelton and Mrs.
Raymond Black of Mullin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grady and son, Kim, of Brownwood have been here visiting her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Fowler White, and Jimmy.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Baptist Church for Gerald Chesser, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Howard Chesser of Mullin. Gerald had been in a critical condition since having a relapse with the measles several years ago.

He was seventeen years of age
at the time of his death.

Mrs. Ollie Carroll has returned home from a visit with her sister who lives at Grand Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Vann of Goldthwaite visited last Sunday here with Mrs. L. J. Vann and Mrs. Jewell Ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob White and family of Midland visited here last weekend with his parents,
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Egger and family of Gatesville were recent visitors here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wilkins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mathews of Wingate spent last week with his sister, Mrs. Nancy Self.

While here Mr. Mathews became ill and his son, J. F. Mathews, Jr., of San Angelo came and carried his father to the hospital at Bronte, Texas. At last report he was at home and resting comfortably.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

I was thrilled to read in last week's Eagle that Annette Duncan's Delaine Merino lamb had been declared the fine wool champion at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. I was also thrilled to read that she is making top grades in the 7th grade at Mullin and that she is accumulating her flock of fine ewes to send herself to college. When I am at home, Annette is my next door neighbor.

The Southwestern Livestock Show and Championship Rodeo is the main attraction in El Paso this week, notwithstanding the Convention of the Pan-American Round Table (a woman's organization), with delegates from Mexico, Central America, and South America is also making front page headlines. Representatives for the livestock show are here from Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma and Texas. We went to the coliseum Tuesday night to see the fat calves and other livestock. I notice the paper says, "West Texas Animals Named Best." A Fort Davis girl showed the

A letter from Mrs. Edna Ber of Victoria yesterday said the weekend of Jan. 31, 1958, Caywers dropped her off at home at El Paso while they on to Abilene to see their granddaughter, Sheridan Pett. She said the weather was fine except that it was too cold to work out Saturday. Shrubs looked good and mandinas were more gorgeous than ever before. Her turn had made big, nice turnips. The ones our father used grow in the river bottom. Greens were waist high or more. She says that it has rained much that everything is wonderful and the ground is mass of weeds and winter grass. She phoned her friends, Effie Egger and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reeves, and they came to see her for a little while early Sunday afternoon. Stan brought her two plum trees which he set out in her yard while he was there.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

wintry day many years ago was fishing on Elephant Lake in New Mexico. His companion was a retired man who had the reputation of bringing in some very big fish. His motto was "fish and hit 'em hard."

It was long before we learned how to use some of the tackle available today. Most lures weighed an ounce. Lures were short with stiff and the reels were not too heavy. However, we caught good ones by fishing deep and hitting hard.

Walt Willman, of Heddon's research staff, has a new name for an old method. He calls it bottom scratching. He says it's the cold method he uses to out-bait fish which have been scratching him.

HOW WALT DOES IT
Using two outfits, he ties a lure on each. That's the lure that makes a noise in the water. He makes a long line with each lure and lets both settle to the bottom. Then, picking up one rod, he reels in the slack line, and the rod tip low over the water. He makes a sharp sweep of the rod. This makes the lure jump violently off the bottom, making a noise that fish hear, and a commotion they

If he doesn't get a strike with the first rod he puts it down and repeats the maneuver with the second.

Big fish, he says, often refuse to hit a lure retrieved steadily during the cold winter months when their reflexes are slow. But when a lure settles to the bottom they watch it. When it jumps into noisy flight, whammo!

DAWSON USES MINNOWS
E. T. Dawson, director of information and education of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, has another way of catching big bass deep. He uses big minnows.

His favorite spot is on Lake Travis, where the water varies in depth from 10 to perhaps 60 feet. There are several ledges under the water and Dawson knows where they are.

He gets the largest, friskiest minnows he can find. Using a light line he tosses them out and lets them swim around. He has just enough weight on his line to move the minnow slowly toward the bottom. As it hits each ledge the minnow swims off and heads for deep water. Somewhere on the way down it passes a lunker that's hungry. As a result Dawson usually comes in with a half-dozen baking-size bass.

BIGGEST FISHING EVENT
When it opens this year the Sheldon Reservoir, near Houston, will provide the biggest fishing event in Texas.

During the past three years this fine lake has been completely renovated. The Game and Fish Commission cleaned it of undesirable fish and undergrowth. Biologists then stocked it with bass and crappie. About May 1, it will be thrown open to controlled public fishing.

Bass in the lake now weigh from 1½ to 4 pounds. They are ready and hungry. The game department has built fishing piers for the benefit of the fishermen, and ramps for docking boats. This will be a wonderful example of what science can do to improve fishing conditions under heavy population pressure.

FISHING RODS IMPROVED

to this improvement in rods, even in the conventional line. Fishermen have learned the importance of a light action rod in sport fishing. Manufacturers have recognized this trend and have offered a line almost equal to custom rods.

A fellow over at Fort Worth by the name of Charlie Pritchard, however, wasn't entirely satisfied with production line rods. He has spent a half-dozen years in perfecting a rod blank with balanced action which can be made into a rod of the fisherman's choice.

These shafts are made completely by Pritchard, with the use of fiberglass, in a very interesting plant operation. He has the blanks in all weights, from heavy salt-water rods to featherlite kits. With these blanks almost anyone can wrap his own rod, to suit his own taste in both weight and action.

The Makit Rod Co., of Fort Worth is another of those Texas industries which have come along since World War II, made necessary because of our increased fishing pressure.

We have several of these rods, made from the kits, and have given them the severest test. Last summer in the Gulf of Mexico this writer landed a 42 pound amberjack on one of these light weight, two-piece, homemade jobs, after a 30-minute struggle.

WILDLIFE WEEK BEGINS MARCH 16

March 16-22 will be observed throughout the United States as National Wildlife Week. During that week we'll hear much about the necessity of wise management of public land resources.

Keep in mind that the same practices urged for public lands also will pay off big dividends for the individual land owner.

After all the future of wildlife depends more upon the land owner than all other factors combined. We can have abundant rainfall, but without the proper use of land it will not restore or even maintain wildlife.

On the other hand, we have learned in recent years that wildlife may be increased despite long periods of drouth, if proper land management is practiced.

In commemoration of Wildlife Week, the Federation has announced the issuance of six-color lithographed stamps, showing 30 species of animals and a half-dozen scenes from some of our national parks. Wildlife stamps have been issued annually since 1938, when the first series was painted by J. N. (Ding) Darling, noted newspaper cartoonist and one of the greatest conservation leaders of all time.

The 1958 stamps now are in the mail. You'll see some of them reproduced in the newspapers during the coming weeks. When you get yours you'll be proud of them, and also proud to participate in this program of wildlife management.

Questions And Answers About Veterans' Affairs

Q—I meet eligibility requirements for both disability compensation and disability pension. May I receive both?

MILLS COUNTY STATE BANK
GOLDTHWAITE, TEXAS

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.—One of the hottest topics at next July's precinct conventions likely will be whether such conventions should be held any more.

Gov. Price Daniel has suggested abolishing the precinct conventions. His premise is that much of the infighting that afflicts the Democratic Party in Texas originates in these neighbor-against-neighbor squabbles. He proposed instead the electing of delegates (one per precinct) to the county conventions by direct vote at the primary.

Governor Daniel pointed out that the convention, sometimes controlled by a minority group within the area. Many more people, generally, vote in the primaries than bother to come back to the voting place a second time in one day for the precinct conventions.

Electing delegates by direct vote, contended the governor, would do away with "rump conventions" and contests over which precinct delegation is entitled to seats at the county conventions.

Governor Daniel's recommendation, made at the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting, came as a surprise counter-offensive to the DOT's "code of ethics" campaign. DOT (Democrats of Texas) is a liberal group, openly backing the governor for control of party affairs. Spearhead of its drive is the "code of ethics" proposal designed, according to its sponsors, to eliminate much of the fighting and give everyone a fair shake at conventions.

DOT members were immediately critical of the no-precinct convention plan. It would eliminate "grass roots" gatherings, they said, the only chance every citizen has to get up and speak his piece. But the governor had an answer for that too. He suggested that the new law provide that any qualified party member could propose a resolution at his county convention.

Both the governor's and the DOT's suggestions are to be studied by the SDEC. Governor Daniel said if his plan meets with approval within the party, he will submit it to the Legislature next year.

TAX FACTS—Texans paid $2,600,000,000, or one-fourth total income, in state, federal and local taxes in 1956.

In a fact-packed report (its first), Texas State Tax Study Commission traces the history of Texas' taxing patterns from 1932 to 1956. Next in an expected series of about 10 reports will compare Texas taxes with other states'. Findings are to be presented to the Legislature in 1959 to serve as background for revenue-wrestling.

At present, says the report,

Texas Taxes are derived 45 per cent from property; 22 per cent, sales; 16 per cent, severance; 17 per cent, all other sources. Basic pattern has not been changed since 1941, but all categories except the property tax have increased at least 10 per cent since 1950.

PRICE OF PROGRESS—Relocating utilities in the path of the new interstate highway system is going to cost Texas cities more than most officials had originally thought.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that state-federal funds may be used only in a limited way to pay for utility moving. Specifically, said Wilson, they may be used to pay for relocation of sanitary sewers and for other utilities, such as water and power lines, only if they must be moved completely outside the road right of way. Cost of relocating water, power and gas lines within a right of way must be paid for by the city or utility company.

Texas League of Municipalities protested the interpretation, said it would cost Texas cities as much as $20,000,000 to comply. Chief source of disgruntlement to the city officials is that under the same federal building program, cities in other states are not required to meet this cost.

NO PRICES FOR SPECS—No mention of price can be made in an advertisement for eyeglasses until the State Supreme Court clears up questions about the new optometry law.

High court turned down the request of an optical company to suspend the temporary injunction against price advertising until the test case is heard on March 5.

Rival groups of optometrists are at odds as to what kind of advertising should be permitted. One group contends the law passed last spring clearly prohibits certain types of solicitation. Another agrees with the Nov. 18 Attorney General's opinion that the law is unconstitutional because improperly drawn.

CONTESTS QUESTIONED—Texas merchants who like to conduct contests or drawings as business builders, were set back, temporarily, by an opinion handed down by the Attorney General's department. Based on the state's laws governing lotteries, the opinion, at first glance, seemed to rule out any type of drawing for prizes.

However, Assistant Attorney General Cecil C. Rotsch, who wrote the opinion, says that the ruling does not change, in any way, the law as it always has been interpreted in Texas. He merely cited earlier court opinions, Rotsch pointed out. And his recent opinion does not alter what always has been considered the accepted procedure in connection with drawings or contests.

TRUST LOSS CUT—Net loss to creditors of US Trust and Guaranty Co. will be $1,987,886, reports State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

US Automotive Service had assets of $4,893,269, said Cavness, partially offsetting the $6,881,155 in US Trust liabilities.

Cavness' audit of the liquidation division of the State Insurance Department suggested some tightening of methods of handling and selling property in receivership.

US Trust creditors still cannot be paid. Suits filed by groups seeking preference have not been settled.

GENTLER SLIDE FOR TEXAS—In a year of predicted recession, the dip in Texas business will be less noticeable than for the nation generally.

This prediction is made by the University Bureau of Business Research on the basis of figures for past recessions. In 1948-49 national figures dropped 19 per cent; Texas, 6 per cent. In 1953-54 the national drop was 11 per cent; Texas, 8 per cent.

P.T.A.'s to Celebrate Founders Day 11-Million Members Mark Organization's 61st Year

On February 17 the world's largest voluntary service organization will celebrate its 61st birthday. This is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, whose nearly eleven million members are active today in P.T.A.'s throughout the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii. They are celebrating their organization's Founders Day with a variety of activities aimed at strengthening and expanding parent-teacher work in their own communities.

Mrs. Rollin Brown of Los Angeles, president of the National Congress, points out that these 43,000 P.T.A.'s have set the pattern for parent-teacher associations in areas where U.S. armed forces have established American communities overseas. And parents of school children in other nations have sought help from the National Congress in forming similar groups to promote education in their countries.

Founders Day activities, scheduled for February 17, will honor two women whose imagination and concern for children planted the seed for this still-growing organization. It was in 1897 that Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst conceived the idea of a National Congress of Mothers to promote the health and welfare of children by helping their parents learn more about how to fulfill a child's physical and spiritual needs.

They worked hard to interest other women in their aims and approached the date they had set for the organizing meeting with hopes of seeing a hundred or so delegates arrive at Washington's Arlington Hotel. But "if only twenty-five are there," admitted Mrs. Birney, "I shall be satisfied."

More than two thousand men and women turned out! Their enthusiastic reception of the aims, as outlined by the Founders, and of the lectures, discussions, and conferences that made up the first meeting set the pace for a great national movement. Soon state congresses were founded, and before long the original "mothers' congress" was broadened to include the
