Mills County Farm Bureau Plans Full Scale Drive For Members

Kick-Off Banquet Monday Night For Drive Chairmen And Workers

MILLARD SHIVERS
Farm Bureau Federation

The Mills County Farm Bureau is staging its first membership drive February 24 through March 3. During this drive all farmers and ranchers in Mills County will be given an opportunity to join their neighbors in the Farm Bureau.

As an individual, a farmer or rancher has no voice in helping run his industry, joined together with his neighbors in a strong organization, his "voice" is magnified many times. The Farm Bureau offers the farmers and ranchers of Mills County the opportunity to solve the many and complex problems beyond the "fence rows." All are urged to join their neighbors in Farm Bureau. It doesn't cost to belong to Farm Bureau, it pays, say local officials.

The county will be canvassed by precincts. Homer McCasland, General Membership Chairman, announced the following chairmen: William Bishop, precinct No. 1; Homer McCasland, precinct No. 2; Glynn Sanders, precinct No. 3; and Andy Rowlett, precinct No. 4. One of the chairmen or their workers will make every effort to contact each one. If for any reason some are not home when the workers call, they are invited to become a member and can do so by seeing one of the chairmen or their workers.

There is to be a big "Kick-Off" banquet for the chairmen and their workers at McLean's Cafe on Monday night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Millard Shivers of Waco will be the guest speaker.

Mr. Shivers, Director of Organization for the Texas Farm Bureau, heads the 12 man Organization department which carries on organizational and membership acquisition work for Texas Farm Bureau. Shivers, 38, assumed his duties with TFB in March 1955, leaving a similar job with the Tennessee

Western Auto Store To Hold Open House Saturday, Feb. 22

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wesson are announcing their grand sale beginning today at the Wesson's Western Auto Associate Store. Open house will be held Saturday, February 22, with three free prizes given away at the opening. Registration will begin at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

A new 1958 Ford will be given away later and anyone may register for it on Saturday or any time until the 29th of March. Mr. Wesson purchased the Western Auto Associate Store from Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Bradford recently. They had been in business at the same location for almost 20 years. J. C. had worked for the Bradfords for several years and he states that he will continue to give the customers the very best of service as the store has done in the past.

Feb. 20 Deadline For Cancelling Cotton Agreements

February 20 is the deadline for cancelling or changing 1958 cotton Acreage Reserve agreements as well as for filing new ones. E. L. Burkett, Chairman of the Mills County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reminded farmers Feb. 5. The deadline has been moved up several weeks because of the unexpectedly large program sign-up in some areas. Indications are that producers will participate to the full extent of the allocated funds for the cotton Acreage Reserve program during the shorter sign-up period.

Chairman Burkett emphasized that farmers who wish to cancel their 1958 cotton Acreage Reserve agreements must file a written notice of such termination with the County ASC Committee not later than the February 20 closing date. After that date, no withdrawals may be made, and the farmer must comply with all provisions of the agreement in order to receive the entire payment specified in the agreement.

Failure to comply with some provisions of the agreement could result in a reduction or forfeiture of the payment. Violation of any one of a limited number of the agreement's provisions may make the farmer subject to a civil penalty and the loss of the payment.

While February 20 is the last date farmers may file, terminate, or change a 1958 cotton Acreage Reserve agreement, Mr. Burkett points out that March 7 remains the deadline for similar agreements for tobacco and rice.

Cloyes McNeil Is Still With ASC

The news report last week, of the ASC office moving to their new home and having open house on Friday, failed to include Cloyes McNeil as a member of the staff.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

Nationwide observance of Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, is being held February 16-23. President Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the observance. Louis B. Seltzer, Editor, Cleveland Press is national chairman.

The 1958 theme is Brotherhood for Peace and Freedom — Believe It! — Live It! — Support It! — that people shall live as one family of man.

Special events in more than 10,000 communities throughout the United States will mark Brotherhood week. Programs will extend the work of the National Conference which stimulates year-around programs in schools and colleges, churches and synagogues, labor-management and community organizations, and in newspapers, magazines, motion pictures, radio and television.

The purposes of Brotherhood Week, according to Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference, are to give people an opportunity to re-dedicate themselves as individuals to the ideals of respect for people and human rights. "We try to dramatize the practical things that people can do to promote understanding and realization of those ideals. Brotherhood Week is essentially a campaign against the prejudices and bigotries that disfigure and distort religious, business, social and political relations."

The big promotion during Brotherhood Week, according to Dr. Clinchy, will be to urge people to do more than give the principles of brotherhood mere lip service. "By getting to know the other fellow, the one who has a different creed, race or national origin than yours, by understanding his viewpoint, his ambitions and goals, you will find old prejudices disappear. You'll find that we are all one family made strong and great by the very differences that so many times divide us as individuals and groups. You'll learn to accept or reject a person strictly on his merits as a human being and not because he happens to be different from you."

"We hope that during Brotherhood Week people will begin to get to know and appreciate each other — to make Brotherhood a year round practice."

Many observers expect a rough, no-holds-barred battle between the "big three" car makers and the United Auto Workers union when new contract negotiations take place this year. Victor Riesel writes of the possibility of the companies stockpiling as many as 4 million cars and Walter Reuther building up a $50 million strike fund. Then both sides would be ready for a prolonged shutdown.

HOLDER OF THE KEY

Will the current decline in business continue? Or will it level off? Or will a new upward surge set in?

To a very great extent, the answers to these and other such questions will be found in the state of retail trade during the months ahead.

This, in effect, was what Professor Malcolm T. McNair, the distinguished Harvard University authority on retailing, told the recent convention of the National Retail Merchants Association. In his words: "The consumer holds the key not only to the fortunes of retail business in 1958, but in a larger sense to the fortunes of the total economy."

This view has become a generally held one. The heavy stress used to be laid upon production figures. But consumption figures are equally important, and some think they are more important. It's obvious that production in any line can't hold up long unless people buy the goods. So the volume of retail trade directly determines what goes on in the factories.

Retailers know that competition will be tough this year. They know that consumers are doing more shopping around and more planning before buying. Every merchant will do all he can to offer the most attractive inducements and the best buys possible. And, it is good to report, most retail spokesmen seem reasonably optimistic about the sales prospects.

POWER OF THE PRESS

A leading association of retailers recently held a convention. And one of the highlights developed, according to an Editor & Publisher account, is that "Newspapers remain tops among retailers as the prime implement for moving goods."

That speaks well for the power, prestige and durability of the press, in this era when all manner of media are scrapping for a share in the advertising dollar. The printed word, in regularly-issued periodicals, has not lost its magic.

New Record with Southdowns at International

Tenth win in 12 years with the Grand Champion carlot of lambs was registered with these Southdowns at the 1957 International Livestock Exposition in Chicago by H. C. Besuden, Winchester, Ky. In 1956 he tied the 19-year Southdown win record of W. J. Brodie, Stouffville, Ont., and now is out front as the undisputed international champion. Official records show that Southdowns have won the championship in carlot entries at the International every year for 40 years beginning in 1918, a tribute to the uniformity, carcass and quality of Southdowns. Besuden lambs won the International carlot championship in 1946 and 1947, also each year from 1949 to 1954, inclusive, and again in 1956 and 1957.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

Nationwide observance of Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, is being held February 16-23. President Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the observance. Louis B. Seltzer, Editor, Cleveland Press is national chairman.

The 1958 theme is Brotherhood for Peace and Freedom — Believe It! — Live It! — Support It! — that people shall live as one family of man.

Special events in more than 10,000 communities throughout the United States will mark Brotherhood week. Programs will extend the work of the National Conference which stimulates year-around programs in schools and colleges, churches and synagogues, labor-management and community organizations, and in newspapers, magazines, motion pictures, radio and television.

The purposes of Brotherhood Week, according to Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference, are to give people an opportunity to re-dedicate themselves as individuals to the ideals of respect for people and human rights. "We try to dramatize the practical things that people can do to promote understanding and realization of those ideals. Brotherhood Week is essentially a campaign against the prejudices and bigotries that disfigure and distort religious, business, social and political relations."

The big promotion during Brotherhood Week, according to Dr. Clinchy, will be to urge people to do more than give the principles of brotherhood mere lip service. "By getting to know the other fellow, the one who has a different creed, race or national origin than yours, by understanding his viewpoint, his ambitions and goals, you will find old prejudices disappear. You'll find that we are all one family made strong and great by the very differences that so many times divide us as individuals and groups. You'll learn to accept or reject a person strictly on his merits as a human being and not because he happens to be different from you."

"We hope that during Brotherhood Week people will begin to get to know and appreciate each other — to make Brotherhood a year round practice."

Many observers expect a rough, no-holds-barred battle between the "big three" car makers and the United Auto Workers union when new contract negotiations take place this year. Victor Riesel writes of the possibility of the companies stockpiling as many as 4 million cars and Walter Reuther building up a $50 million strike fund. Then both sides would be ready for a prolonged shutdown.

HOLDER OF THE KEY

Will the current decline in business continue? Or will it level off? Or will a new upward surge set in?

To a very great extent, the answers to these and other such questions will be found in the state of retail trade during the months ahead.

This, in effect, was what Professor Malcolm T. McNair, the distinguished Harvard University authority on retailing, told the recent convention of the National Retail Merchants Association. In his words: "The consumer holds the key not only to the fortunes of retail business in 1958, but in a larger sense to the fortunes of the total economy."

This view has become a generally held one. The heavy stress used to be laid upon production figures. But consumption figures are equally important, and some think they are more important. It's obvious that production in any line can't hold up long unless people buy the goods. So the volume of retail trade directly determines what goes on in the factories.

Retailers know that competition will be tough this year. They know that consumers are doing more shopping around and more planning before buying. Every merchant will do all he can to offer the most attractive inducements and the best buys possible. And, it is good to report, most retail spokesmen seem reasonably optimistic about the sales prospects.

A leading association of retailers recently held a convention. And one of the highlights developed, according to an Editor & Publisher account, is that "Newspapers remain tops among retailers as the prime implement for moving goods."

That speaks well for the power, prestige and durability of the press, in this era when all manner of media are scrapping for a share in the advertising dollar. The printed word, in regularly-issued periodicals, has not lost its magic.

Tenth win in 12 years with the Grand Champion carlot of lambs was registered with these Southdowns at the 1957 International Livestock Exposition in Chicago by H. C. Besuden, Winchester, Ky. In 1956 he tied the 19-year Southdown win record of W. J. Brodie, Stouffville, Ont., and now is out front as the undisputed international champion. Official records show that Southdowns have won the championship in carlot entries at the International every year for 40 years beginning in 1918, a tribute to the uniformity, carcass and quality of Southdowns. Besuden lambs won the International carlot championship in 1946 and 1947, also each year from 1949 to 1954, inclusive, and again in 1956 and 1957.

The success of the sale is vital to all of us, and through the Sale our daughters and all Girl Scouts will benefit," stated Mrs. Dyas.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

According to the radio, snow is still making records in Florida, and snow in Georgia is keeping President Eisenhower from his anticipated golf and hunting. Today a letter, dated Feb. 12, from my sister, Mrs. J. L. Bateman of Fort Worth, said there the ground was covered with an inch of snow, dazzlingly beautiful in bright sunshine. Temperature was 24, with a promise of 18 that night. She said El Paso and Laredo were reported to be the only places in Texas without snow. She extended her sympathy at our having missed such a rare pleasure. But really, hearing of so much severe weather over the nation, I thought we were fortunate to escape.

I hear Victoria had 3 inches of snow. Perhaps those Mitchell children at Beaumont, who had never seen snow, have had that opportunity by now. El Paso hasn't entirely escaped the cold. Monday was warm and pleasant. Tuesday was also a balmy day until about two o'clock in the afternoon when a dark, angry cloud appeared in the north. Soon a cold wind began blowing violently, and presently there was a terrible dust storm. Soon a little rain knocked the dust out of the air, but the temperature fell 11 degrees in about an hour, and we've been freezing nights ever since.

Wednesday night we went to prayer meeting. Bro. F. F. Conley of the North Loop Church of Christ preached for us. About 1935 we knew Bro. Conley when he preached in Brownwood. He would come out Sunday afternoon and preach for us at Ebony. He also held a meeting for us at Ebony and stayed part of the time at our house. So we are happy to again be associated with him, and his nice family, after these many years. He preached on "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." And as he quoted and read from the Bible all the passages which speak of the pure heart and how the heart is purified, it made one feel that there is nothing better than to be pure in heart.

Grace talked with our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Mobley at church. They spent last weekend at Brownwood visiting her sister, Mrs. Coffee, wife of Dick Coffee, soil scientist there. They went to church at Austin Avenue Church of Christ, and they met up with my brother, Jim Wilmeth, and talked with him. It was good just to see someone who had talked with him. Mrs. Mobley said they wouldn't want to live at Brownwood, because it was too cold. All the time they were there it was misting and freezing, and when they left it was snowing some.

I know how cold it can get there at home sometimes. I guess I can be glad that we don't have to get out in the cold and milk the cows and tend to the stock and the chickens and turkeys. Here, beside the mild climate, the houses are heated by a central heating system. They never get cold. We never have to cut off the water. If we go somewhere, we just go out and get in a warm car if it is cold, we don't have to be out in it. These unpleasant days are hard on the garden, who sees so much that has to be done outside.

This is Valentine's Day when Bill came home today he not only brought Grace usual, large, beautiful, heart-shaped box of chocolates, he also brought a box each Johnny, Billy, and me. It was heart-shaped and wrapped in red cellophane with a beautiful red satin centered with a white candy. It was filled with the best chocolates.

Walter J. Cartwright, Pastor
Goldthwaite Methodist Church

Like the story of the young man who "thrilled" his congregation with his first sermon—a challenge to "gird their loins for Christian living and service. And then, to their dismay, he preached the same sermon the following Sunday afternoon. But when, on the following Sunday, he confronted them with the same ringing message, something just had to happen.

"Don't you have more than one sermon?" blurted the chairman of the committee on pastoral relations when that group met upon the minister Monday evening.

"Oh, yes," he said quietly, "I have quite a number. But you haven't DONE ANYTHING about the first one yet!"

Perhaps this is something of the reason we need to come back to the message of Christ repeatedly. In Christian history, many persons have observed Lent (beginning this year on February 19) as a holy season before Easter in which they seek to become more holy! Certainly once a year is not too often for this! Even better would be the observance of each Sunday as an Easter-in-miniature, a recognition that He who was crucified is the power of God to overcome death and the grave.
Let a man feel that he has heard all this before, he needs to be challenged by the fact that "You haven't done anything about it yet!"

The central fact of the Christian story is that "God so loved the world that He gave His only son . . . that we might have life." (John 3:16). While this is an historical faith "rooted in recorded events, it should never be a matter of ancient history only. Yet it will be only ancient history until we individually find that life which the early Christians and succeeding generations have found in Him. It

"Son, there goes one of our town's most important citizens."

Santa Fe

Long before you were born Santa Fe helped build this town. It brought some of our first citizens and the materials they needed to build and create this community. Today, Santa Fe delivers freight and food to us straight from America's manufacturers and produce centers to keep our stores and homes full of the good things we take for granted. Yep, Santa Fe is mighty proud to take part in the development of this fine community.

Take one of the Gospels in the New Testament (perhaps the short Gospel of Mark) and re-read it as if you had never seen it before. Stand aghast before what it tells you; and we will be closest to these events by reliving in present experience these past experiences that are the most precious heritage we have.

Reduce Delinquency VI
LEARNING CRIME?
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)
By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

Gatesville, as you know, is the state school for delinquent boys. Only the worst offenders should be committed there, but unfortunately many counties do not have facilities for handling boys who cannot be rehabilitated on probation. Many others do not have probation officers, paid or voluntary.

The result is that in some instances small boys 10 to 13 are sent to Gatesville simply because the county doesn't know what else to do with them. They may have committed only minor offenses and have no home.

Too Young
Such boys are really dependent and neglected rather than delinquent. They should never have been sent to Gatesville and it is not good that they are there.

These 40 to 50 younger boys sleep in a separate cottage. But otherwise—at meals, in school, and at play—they mix with older boys who have longer and more serious criminal careers and are good instructors in the ways of crime.

Too Little Remedy
The last regular session of the Legislature did not provide a separate school for younger boys but did remedy the situation in PART. Dormitory and eating space were provided away from the main campus. In many activities, however, the younger boys WILL CONTINUE TO MIX WITH THE MORE HARDENED OLDER BOYS, and only when the schools are entirely separate can the facilities be considered adequate.

Eaglettes 9-1 Winners In District As Regular Basketball Season Ends

Regular basketball season ended Tuesday night in the local gym in a double conference game against Cross Plains. The near capacity crowd witnessed much good basketball but experienced some disappointment in our inability to hit the basket from the free throw line and also off on shooting from the floor. The girls' team had played nine of their ten conference games without tasting defeat but the Cross Plains lassies were successful in solving our offense to the extent that they walked off with a victory over the Eaglettes by a score of 43 to 40. This gave our girls a 9-1 record in conference play and left three trailers with a standing of 7-3.

This game followed a close one in Mason last Friday night which our girls won by a score of 59 to 53 after trailing the Mason girls into the last two minutes of playing time. The interesting thing of the girls team is that Virgilene Geeslin shifted to forward position and hit the basket consistently thus giving us added scoring potentialities for our Regional playing. Our girls, being District Champions again, will meet Clyde in the first round in Brownwood.

This final game of the season came as a climax to the boys that saw six seniors take the floor for their last time. The boys without height have made all games played interesting contests even though they have won only three out of their ten games. They were successful in making this game a see-saw affair and it was in the last 55 seconds that they went to work and scored from the field and free throw line consistently and came out winner on the big end of a 62 to 56 score. Four men were able to score double figure scores. Edgington was unlucky again and with two referees having their eyes trained on him, was fouled out but left with his consistent hustle that accounts for his being one of the best floor men in the conference.

The boys were proud of the victory since the six are seniors and leave a nucleus of four good men with some experience to open with next fall and with a host of materials that should make a good team. Their hard luck in the Mason game was due again to lack of height to compete with the tall lads of Mason and lost to them by a score of 40 to 54. The interesting thing of the boys was that they never gave up and continued to do their best through the entire season.
