East Texan Has List of Things He Has Never Done

JASPER, Tex. — The life of George Glenn, 77, farmer of the Temple community, 42 miles south of here, is crowded with things he has never done. He and his 75-year-old wife, Miranda, live quietly on their farm contented and satisfied with their job of rearing a family of seven children, six of whom are living. Glenn, as is his wife, is a native of Newton County, where they lived in one home for 44 of their 56 years of married life. Glenn lives within 20 miles of the Neches river, but never has seen the stream. He never has visited a large city. A 25-mile radius covers the extent of his travels. He has never seen any towns except Jasper, Newton, Burkeville and Kirbyville. He has never seen a movie, silent or talkie, never visited a county fair or show of any kind. He has never owned an automobile — does not like them because they frighten his horse. He has never been injured severely — suffered no broken bones and has been only slightly ill. Glenn has ridden only one train — from Kirbyville to Jasper to serve on a jury. Mrs. Glenn, ill and with eyes failing her, is the traveled member of the family. She has visited Houston and Beaumont. Five of their children, three sons and two daughters, live in Jasper County near the couple. The sixth, a son, is a barber in Houston.

Youths and Agent Rent Residence as A College Home

Initial arrangements for a cooperative housing project of Eastland county youths who will attend Agricultural and Mechanical College were made Monday at College Station when three who are participating rented a residence. County Agent Elmo V. Cook accompanied Wesley Lane of Eastland, Jack W. Morris of Ranger and Billy Jake Joyce of Rising Star to College Station, where they conferred with Dr. Daniel H. Russell, head of the rural sociology department. The home was rented in Bryan, six miles from College Station. Fifteen youths have announced they will participate in the project which is expected to save half the expenses of attending the school. Last year, County Agent Cook stated, there were 43 similar projects sponsored by groups which ranged from 12 to 30 boys.

COLONY WILL OPEN SCHOOL AUGUST 31ST

The opening date for Colony School has been set for Monday, August 31st. All patrons of the community are urged to start their children into school the very first day, as all registrations and classifications can be made at that time and the regular class room work taken up the following day. The people of Colony community feel that the school is making wonderful progress. Additional credits are being affiliated each year as well as improvements from a physical standpoint. The school is classified by the State Department of Education as a four year high school. At present 12 units are accredited and the school authorities feel confident of securing five additional credits this coming school term, thus making the school fully accredited.

"The entire Acker school district and a part of the Oakley district are transferred to Colony for this school term. We wish to welcome these people into our community and want you to feel that you are a part of our community," stated Guy T. Smith, superintendent of the school. Mr. Smith continued: "A number of persons have asked about children under six years of age attending school. Of course, in order for a child to be a scholastic he must be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1936. But the local school board has passed a regulation that if a child is six years of age by January 1st, 1937 he may attend free of tuition for the school year 1936-37, if the parents are desirous of sending him; provided the child starts into school during the first week of school, and provided further by permitting the above the school does not become too crowded. Under no condition will a child who is not six until after January 1st, 1937, be permitted to attend. We are anticipating an enrollment of about 180 students this year."

Teachers of the Colony school this year are as follows: Guy T. Smith, Supt.; Carl E. Johnston, Prin.; May Hays, English; Aleene Fitzgerald, Home Economics; Cecil Townsend, 5th, 6th and coach; Nell Waters, 3rd and 4th, and Cassie Williams, 1st and 2nd. Breckenridge, said the speaker, raised the rate from $1 on the $100 valuation to $1.50. Only 20 cents of the extra 50 cents was needed by that system, however, Walton said he had been informed. The superintendent pointed out the hardships thrust upon board members in schools which receive an influx in scholastics, as in East Texas and those whose enrollment decreases after the moving of many citizens as in Eastland County. Salaries in Eastland County schools, said Supt. Walton, are below what is considered an equitable standard. He warned the employment of teachers at a low figure usually proves a false economy and commented on the fortune of many systems of the county to retain able instructors because of their associations and willingness to work. At Carbon last year, the speaker continued, employees of the system worked the final month free of charge to enable students to have a full nine-month term. Walton drew a contrast of the average per capita apportionment of $19 to grade and high school students and the estimate that the state spends from $200 to $400 for each pupil in Agricultural and Mechanical College and the University of Texas.

After two years, scrip is redeemable in good Canadian dollars. Mrs. Edith Gustak, member of the provincial legislature from Calgary, is shown buying groceries with one of her certificates issued.

Ranger Superintendent Tells Club of County Schools' Plight

"A more fair and equitable support of our schools" is needed to remedy the financial insecurity plight of many Texas institutions, Ranger Superintendent W. T. Walton told members of the Rotary club at Eastland Monday. Pointing out the condition of schools in Cisco and Eastland is similar to that in Ranger, Supt. Walton stated the only ways officials can see a solution to the financial problem is either the state assume a portion of the indebtedness of the local tax rate is hiked. Breckenridge, said the speaker, raised the rate from $1 on the $100 valuation to $1.50. Only 20 cents of the extra 50 cents was needed by that system, however, Walton said he had been informed. The superintendent pointed out the hardships thrust upon board members in schools which receive an influx in scholastics, as in East Texas and those whose enrollment decreases after the moving of many citizens as in Eastland County. Salaries in Eastland County schools, said Supt. Walton, are below what is considered an equitable standard. He warned the employment of teachers at a low figure usually proves a false economy and commented on the fortune of many systems of the county to retain able instructors because of their associations and willingness to work. At Carbon last year, the speaker continued, employees of the system worked the final month free of charge to enable students to have a full nine-month term. BLASTS WRECK TWO FT. WORTH NIGHT CLUBS

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19.—Dynamite blasts damaged to popular Fort Worth night clubs early today, leaving police puzzled as to the cause. Two theories were offered that the explosions were the work of anti-vice crusaders or a flareup in a local slot machine war. Five employees in the Ringside club were uninjured as successive blasts tore a large hole in one corner of the building, breaking windows and wrecking the manager's office. Police believed the charge that broke nine windows at the Oasis night club northwest of town, was set before that of the Ringside. The Ringside explosions occurred at 4.15 a. m., however, and at the Oasis 12 minutes later. Remnants of a 20-foot fuse from the road to the front of the Oasis club indicated that the dynamite there was timed to explode before that at the Ringside club.

Control of Soil Erosion Adds to Reservoir Life

WASHINGTON — Water and power reservoirs in many parts of the country, representing several billions of dollars in investments, are being endangered by excessive silting, according to the Soil Conservation Service, in a new bulletin, "Siting of Reservoirs," just issued by the Department of Agriculture. Cleaning a reservoir, the bulletin emphasizes, is usually too expensive and the only way out is to stop erosion and keep out the mud. The problem of protecting these reservoirs from destructive silting goes hand in hand with the problem of saving farm and ranch lands from ruin by uncontrolled soil erosion, according to Henry M. Eakin, in charge of sedimentation and hydraulic studies for the Soil Conservation Service, author of the bulletin. The main reliance for permanent conservation of reservoir resources, he says, must be found in the control of silt production at its primary sources—in the fields, pastures and watershed areas behind the reservoir. This can be done, according to Eakin, by more widespread and effective application of established erosion control methods. Information presented in the new bulletin is based upon studies of 25 reservoirs throughout the country, and represents the beginning of the first nation-wide survey of this kind. Studies will be made of additional reservoirs, to find out how silting can be reduced. Mr. Eakin points out that although certain supplementary practices of debris disposal may be employed to guard reservoir storage capacity against silting, they are generally subject to prohibitive difficulties and limitations. He also states that hydraulic dredging and the mechanical removal of silt from reservoirs would generally cost from 5 to 50 times as much as the original investment. "Siting of Reservoirs" is Technical Bulletin 524. Copies may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., at 40 cents each.

Thomp. Reviews

"Wish I could see you and talk over some things."
"And I will try to do so soon."
"With kindest personal regards, I am,
"Yours truly,
"Hon. A. Smith,
"Commissioner."
"Now, isn't that a humdinger?" Thompson asked. "That's what the matter with old Lon. That's why he's mad. Who do you think is in bed with the big boys, old Lon or me?"

Thompson scored Smith's action as meaning a "forgotten public trust" and a "sinister effort to defeat his colleague because he has had the courage to stand for real utility regulation."

Thompson charged Smith and Morris were the "puppets" of a small group of individuals who would have the railroad commission operated for their special profit or gain.

Thompson denounced Morris' promise to allow a minimum of 50 barrels per well in the East Texas field if he is elected.

"Such a program," Thompson said, "would mean that the East Texas field would produce all the market demand for Texas oil and there would be nothing left for the rest of the state. The price would be so low that the wells in other parts of the state would have to be shut in and new development would be stopped. Besides all that, it would ruin the great East Texas field and leave millions of barrels of oil in the ground never to be recovered."

That program, if put into effect, Thompson asserted, would mean an economic tragedy for the state as well as for the schools and institutions of the state which get most of their revenue from oil.

The oil conservation policy he has fostered during his term, Thompson said, has meant the stopping of waste of oil and gas, the slowing life of the great East Texas field for years and would result in the recovery of two billion more barrels of oil from the field than it was first expected to yield.

The oil business is in its most stable position in years, and at the same time the gasoline consumers of Texas are enjoying the lowest prices on earth, Thompson asserted.

Thompson strongly proclaimed his belief that every man has a right to drill for oil on his tract, no matter how small that tract may be and reviewed his steadfast opposition to the acreage basis of prorating oil wells, so strongly sought by the major companies.

In reviewing other accomplishments of his administration, Thompson declared that:

A carload rate on cotton had been instituted for the first time in the history of the state, to save the farmers of Texas millions of dollars annually by cutting the cost of shipping a bale of cotton to the ports in half; freight rates on livestock, feed and other farm products had been reduced; and the motor carrier laws so well enforced that accidents last year from operation of trucks and buses operated for hire were reduced to five and highway safety greatly increased.

Thompson challenged a recent statement of Morris that gas utilities rates had not been reduced during Thompson's term on the commission.

"Morris says that I haven't reduced any gas rates during a six-year tenure on the railroad commission. The only thing the matter with his statement is that it is one hundred per cent wrong," Thompson declared.

"In the first place I have been on the commission only four years, having been elected to fill the unexpired term of Gov. Pat M. Neff, when he resigned to become president of Baylor university, after having been appointed to the commission in May, 1932.

"And in the second place the records of the railroad commission bear out the fact that gas rates during the four years I have been on the commission, Morris is either grossly ignorant, or he is guilty of spreading malicious misinformation, either of which makes him undesirable in such an important office as railroad commissioner."

Thompson pointed out that during his term the railroad commission had been investigated by state, federal and legislative bodies and each time has come thru with a clean bill of health and a commendation for its work.

Wants to Drop Hubby's Name

Only a few days ago, he reminded his listeners, the hot oil investigating committee of the state house of representatives in a public statement declared it had traced all the rumors against Thompson being told in the campaign against him to a finality and had found them to be baseless, and that Thompson had nothing in either his business, personal or public life to be criticized.

She was wearing the new military style hat as her name was legally made Katherine G. Francis.

Mr. L. R. Higginbotham, Kokomo Boys' 4-H club sponsor, believes that if tumble weeds will keep in a trench silo in west Texas that "Iron Weeds" and cockle burrs will keep in a trench silo in Eastland County. Just to prove what he believes, Mr. Higginbotham in constructing on his farm in the Kokomo community a small trench silo to be filled with "Iron Weeds" and cockle burrs this week. Mr. Higginbotham states, "I do not have any feed stuff to put in my silo, and I believe that even though I am going to fill my silo with weeds, that it will feel much better in my cows' stomachs this winter, than the cold North wind."

Mr. E. E. Walker is helping his son Jack, who is a member of the Alameda Boys' 4-H club, construct a small trench silo on their place in the Alameda community. Jack recently purchased a Registered Jersey Heifer, and he expects to use the silage from this trench silo to help hold his heifer's milk production up, after she calves in December.

Joe Don Meroney, member of the Ranger Boys' 4-H Club, recently bought a Registered Jersey Heifer from the Montgomery Dairy of Ranger. Joe Don expects to exhibit his heifer along with the other 4-H Club boys at the Eastland County Fair in September and the Cisco Livestock Show in October.

Vehicle Taxed $49 During Past Year

The average motor vehicle operator in the United States last year paid special automotive taxes aggregating $49.06, or 24 1/2 per cent on the value of his $200 car, figures compiled by the American Petroleum Industries Committee from official sources show. The amount paid was approximately one dollar per vehicle more than the average tax paid in 1934, the year before.

Gasoline taxes again constituted the largest item in the automotive tax budget, the average motor vehicle operator paying $30.10 through federal and state levies on motor fuel. Of this total, $23.53 on an average was paid to the state and $6.57 to the federal government.

Registration fees, drivers' licenses and similar fees amounted to $12.31, while federal excise taxes on lubricating oil, new automobiles and trucks, tires and tubes, parts and accessories, amounted to $3.85 more.

Although no accurate statistics are available on the amounts paid by motorists in personal property taxes and local levies of various kinds, the Committee estimated that they cost motorists $73,500,000, or $2.80 each.

Mr. Watson, President of the exposition company arranging the exposition, has been in business in Detroit for 21 years. Andrew M. Child Growing Up Rather Rapidly

FORT WORTH—John Douglas Jackson, one-year-old son of Mrs. Georgia White Jackson of Fort Worth, will be grown before he knows it.

When 26 days old, the youngster's hair was so long he needed the attention of a barber. At 11 months, John Douglas chewed with 16 teeth, and now he has 4 new ones—enough for the average 2 1/2-year-old.

Dates Are Set For Six More Fairs

Regardless of rainy, dry hot or cold weather during the months of September and October, it will be "fair" or rather "fairs" in Eastland County because at least nine fairs are planned during that period.

To date at least six community fairs have been scheduled as follows:

- Sept. 4—Colony.
- Sept. 9—New Hope.
- Sept. 10—Flatwood.
- Sept. 11—Morton Valley.
- Sept. 12—Grandview.
- Sept. 15—Shady Grove.

"OUT OUR WAY" - - - - - By Williams

Other community fairs will probably be planned during the next two weeks and dates set.

The Eastland County Fair opens its gates on Wednesday, September 16th and closes on Saturday, September 19th.

The Rising Star Fair begins on Thursday, October 8th and ends on Saturday, October 10th, drawing exhibits from parts of Eastland, Brown and Comanche Counties.

Cisco is holding its annual Eastland County Livestock Show on October 16 to 17.

With the rapid improvements that are being made on breeding stock and planting seed in Eastland County all of these fairs are expected to draw higher quality exhibits, than ever before shown in the County under present weather conditions.

Diphtheria Toxoid Saves Child Life

AUSTIN — Education of the public to the value of diphtheria immunization has resulted in lowering the incidence of this dread disease, but Texas still loses over 400 of its future citizens each year from this preventable disease, according to records in the Texta State Department of Health.

"It is a generally accepted fact among public health authorities," Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, said, "that any community may control its death rate from diphtheria. Immunization has been proved a safe and effective preventive measure. Wherever immunizing treatment has been extensively used, diphtheria has steadily decreased."

"The most forceful weapon in the control of diphtheria is prevention through immunization, rather than cure of the disease after it has developed. Children can be protected against diphtheria by the use of what is known as toxoid. Young children are particularly susceptible to the disease. Accordingly, as soon as a baby is six months old, the parents are advised to take it to the family physician and have it immunized—protected, by the use of toxoid. Older children in the family who have not had the protective treatment, should be immunized also, and this should be attended to now before the school season begins. This immunizing agent is absolutely safe to administer; there is only a slight local reaction, and practically no constitutional or troublesome after effects. It confers a lifetime immunity in the majority of cases. To be certain that immunization is complete, however, the child should be taken back to the physician six months after the toxoid was administered, and given the Schick test.

"It is within the power of the parents of this state, cooperating with their physicians and public health departments, to eliminate diphtheria from Texas."

Centennial Ads Bring Inquiries Of Foreign Nations

DALLAS—The half-million dollar advertising campaign being conducted by the Texas Centennial Commission of Control has proven its international scope, according to a recent survey of inquiries made by the state organization here.

Thirty-eight foreign countries have responded to the Centennial advertising which has appeared in leading newspapers and magazines published in the United States and circulated throughout the world. The campaign was launched the first of the year and will continue for the remaining five months of 1936.

Canada leads the list of foreign inquiries with approximately 2000 letters requesting information about the Centennial on file. England is second with several hundred. A collection of other foreign postmarks includes Philippine Islands, Brazil, Holland, Peru, Venezuela, Denmark, Italy, Costa Rica, Trinidad, Algeria, Uruguay, Portugal, San Salvador, Belgium, Poland, France, Bahamas, Newfoundland, Honduras, Bolivia, Czechoslovakia, Nigeria, Canal Zone, China, Chile, Spain, Ecuador, Cyprus, Mexico, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Russia, Germany, Cuba, Egypt, Argentina, Dominican Republic, Norway, Colombia, South Africa, Switzerland, Ireland, Estonia, Scotland, Dutch West Indies.

Rice Farmers Plan To Increase Crops

ORANGE, Tex.—Rice farmers of Orange county plan to increase their crop from 9,000 acres this year to between 20,000 and 22,000 acres next year through use of the county irrigation system.

The system, which includes 80 miles of canals, was expected to serve to irrigate only 18,000 acres from the upper Sabine river. Flumes and siphons carry the water over streams or under them to prevent mineral contamination from other sources. The lower Sabine river is contaminated with salt from the Gulf of Mexico and unsuitable for irrigation purposes.

Backward, far backward, turned time in his flight for Senator James J. Davis when he returned to Sharon, Pa., scene of his toiler days, to speak at a city celebration. Here he is, in overalls, with sweat towel wrapped turban fashion about the senatorial head.

Quick Chave And Haircut Quicker In Eastern Shops

ALBANY, N. Y.—Albany barbers believe they have something to brag about.

Members of the Albany Barbers' Association have taken some speed tests to see how they compared with the times reported by the Wisconsin Journeymen Barbers' Association. Their principal discovery was that it takes almost three minutes longer to get a haircut in Milwaukee than it does in Albany.

The Albany barbers are faster by almost two minutes for a shave, Joseph C. Papa, president of the association, reported. He contrasted Albany's time of 15.4 minutes with Wisconsin's 17.2 minutes. The shave also requires less time in Albany—7.5 minutes, as compared with 10.9 in Wisconsin.

But the shampoo is different. Wisconsin barbers report 16.7 minutes, while in Albany it requires 17 minutes flat.

Comparison of the times led to a discussion of Papa's philosophy on modern barbering. Papa suggests that customers should relax in the barber's chair.

"The barber," Papa said, "shouldn't talk to the customer except when necessary. Nor should he discuss such complicated questions as the political situation at home and abroad, or the pennant race in the big leagues.

"Neither should the barber make any suggestion of treatments except those which he feels the customer needs. It is his work to serve the patrons, and their needs alone."

Experts Offering Suggestions on How One Can Keep Cool

NEW YORK—As the country swelters in the height of the mid-summer heat, results of a survey on what to do and what not to do to keep cool, are announced by The American Magazine, which explodes some of the old ideas on the subject.

The first theory to be blasted is the one which involves shutting all the windows and pulling down the shades, to keep the heat out. It's all wrong, say the experts. The ideal setup is to open the windows both top and bottom and all the doors.

In regard to meals don't eat too many chilled or frozen foods, say the experts. They put a burden on the stomach muscles which makes a person feel hotter than ever. At least one hot dish with each meal is recommended. In fact, army doctors in the tropics recommend hot corn bread, as nourishing and easily digested.

As for thirst, doctors recommend at least 16 glasses of water a day, with a dash of vinegar or lemon juice in it. The British in India find hot tea ideal for hot weather. The reason is that tea draws from the surface of the skin, where people are most conscious of the heat. Also they say, hot drinks, like hot baths, tend to

Hawaii Is Warned Of A Lava Flow

HONOLULU — Sunset colors and planetary positions, as well as movements of the sun and moon, hold the keys to weather and seismic disturbances for Brother Othmar of St. Louis College, Honolulu.

Brother Othmar, who seems headed for a reputation as great as that of Father Ricard, late famed "padre of the rains," at Santa Clara College, Cal., already has listed a probable series of events for Hawaii this year. He predicts a major eruption of the volcano Manna Loa on the island in February, 1937.

He also has predicted a flood in the Nuanuu Valley above Honolulu in September, and continuation of rainy weather in Honolulu proper all summer.

Next February the planets Jupiter, Saturn and Venus will be in superior conjunction, with only the moon between them and the earth.

"There is going to be a lot of fun when this happens, and Hawaii can expect another major eruption," he says.

A fiery, blotchy-red sunset in Hawaii may be followed shortly by typhoons in the distant Philippines, according to Brother Othmar. He said that "red" sunsets seen for five months in Hawaii in 1853 likewise followed a terrific earthquake in Japan.

"The stars can talk if you can only listen long enough," he cryptically contends.

Jupiter controls earthquake movements, he insists. Once, he says, he noticed the Pleiades were shining with unusual brilliance. Within a short time a severe storm struck, and after the storm had passed the constellation could be seen but dimly, indicating the storm originated in its direction.

EUROPE LIKES GROUNDHOG

cool rather than to heat. And they point to the hot, spiced foods popular in tropical countries.

At night, wet sheets hung at the head and foot of the bed help. It's the evaporation which does it. In clothes, linen is the coolest, light in color but not white.

Weed Growths Are Menace To Health

AUSTIN.—Texas has been fortunate this year in having beneficial rains in many parts of the State during the hot summer months. The rains, however, have made the weeds grow faster and left water standing in secluded places and has created an unsightly and insanitary condition in many communities.

"While many places are well kept, there are some individuals who do not realize the necessity of keeping the weeds down and eliminating the standing water so that mosquitoes cannot breed," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"An appeal to the civic pride of the citizens in a community will often result in a clean-up campaign with astonishing results. Each individual can help by inspecting his premises to see that all nuisances are eliminated.

"The inspection for conditions which might need correction should include:

1. Weeds and long grass which spring up almost ever night this time of year.
 2. Cans and other rubbish which might furnish a sufficient amount of water for mosquitoes to breed. Inspection of fish ponds.
 3. Garbage should be disposed of in such a manner that flies will not be attracted.
 4. Out-door toilets should be made sanitary.
 5. Wells and cisterns should be inspected to see that the family water supply is free from contaminated material.
- Every member of the community should do his part to remove potential disease and death breeders."

Diversion Issue Taken To Polls In Maine - California

NEW YORK—The question of whether highway funds may be diverted to other uses or will in the future be used only for highways will be decided by the voters of Maine and California this fall.

On September 14 Main will hold a referendum on the issue, while in California signatures of more than 200,000 voters have been obtained on an initiative petition permitting a popular vote on a constitutional amendment prohibiting any diversion of gasoline tax revenues. After a scrutiny of the signatures of the petition by the Secretary of State, as required by law, the amendment will be placed on the ballot to be submitted to the voters in November.

The anti-diversion amendment to the California constitution is being sponsored by the California Highways council, and the efforts of the council have been endorsed by the directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In a statement sent out by the club, Standish L. Mitchell, secretary and general manager, said, "The only way effectively to stop diversion is by action of the people. The club unqualifiedly recommends adoption of this anti-diversion measure."

According to the bill to be voted on in Maine all revenue received by the state from registration fees, drivers licenses, gasoline taxes and other highway fees would be allocated solely to the general fund and used solely to meet highway bond payments and to defray the costs of the state highway department. Neither the general highway funds nor any other fund derived from direct taxation imposed for highway construction, bridge construction, or for the improvement or construction of roads and bridges may be diverted or expended either temporarily or permanently for any other purpose than those set forth in the bill.

You Can't Advertise Today and Quit Tomorrow

You're Not Talking to a Mass Meeting . . . You're Talking to a Parade . . . !

BRUCE BARTON

Ceaseless hammering on the same spot helps win prize fights . . . it is the essence of advertising success. Not until enough individuals in the same neighborhood have been sufficiently saturated with a certain slogan, say, to cause them to react on one another does advertising become a social phenomenon.

The modern business man realizes that his best customers wear out at a rate of nearly 3 per cent a year. Advertising-made prospects disappear far faster. Casual impressions, however favorable, dry like dew in the heat of competition.

"Cumulative" effects of advertising come not from one advertisement paving the way for another. This is negligible, to say the least. Cumulative effect, on the contrary, comes from salvaging as customers half-finished prospects.

Each advertiser is in much the same plight. If he quits successful, he loses money. If he quits unsuccessful, he tosses away an equity in public recognition far more valuable than the money: So many thousand partly manufactured customers. The second group are spending as little money as they can and still keep their names before the public. They believe themselves wise spenders because they spend so very cautiously—or perhaps reluctantly is a better word . . . THE BALD TRUTH IS THAT THESE RELUCTANT SPENDERS ARE, AS A CLASS, THE REAL OVER-SPENDERS IN ADVERTISING!

The picture tells the love story of Magnolia and Ravenal on a Mississippi show boat. Irene Dunne, the star, and Allan Jones, capture the imagination in these romantic singing roles. Charles Winniger plays Captain Andy, genial river showman. His straitlaced wife is portrayed by Helen Westley. "Show Boat" is filled with music and dancing and heart throbs. The popular Helen Morgan, as Julie, sings several delightful songs. Paul Robeson, noted baritone, gives resonant voice and robust life to his role, with a chorus of 20 singers providing magnificent musical effects in the background. A cast of 350 people gives reality and sweep to the production. Besides the surefire songs that are inseparable from "Show Boat" there are three new Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein tunes. High stepping boatmen in a dozen captivating dances give further rhythmic charm to the picture, directed by James Whale. At the Arcadia you will be enchanted by "Show Boat" music. You will be enthralled by its romance and thrilled by its drama. "Show Boat" will echo in your thoughts as the most glorious offering that ever floated on the river of memory. Names on Capitol Floor at Austin Puzzle to Visitors

AUSTIN—Names placed in the floor of the state capitol have sent many usually well informed persons on a history hunt. Palmito and Coletto stump most people. Palmito might register with more Texans if its full name were used—Palmito Hill. It was at that spot in Cameron County that the last battle of the Civil War was fought in Texas. In these days of rapid spread of information it seems strange that this battle between the Blue and the Gray could have taken place 34 days after the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee at Appomattox Court House in Virginia.

Coletto Creek was the place where Colonel Fannin and his men surrendered to an overwhelming force of Mexicans. They were taken from there to Goliad, more generally associated with Fannin's name because of the execution of the Texans. By United Press

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Everett of Ranger were the guests Thursday of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Baily Stark. They were just returning from their vacation, having been to Carlsbad Caverns and to visit their friends Mr. and Mrs. Cowden at their ranch near Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Gallagher and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cutting of Cisco, came down Friday to the homecoming and also to visit a number of old friends.

Scout Radio Club
Berl Martin, charter member of Cisco Boy Scout Radio club, was recently notified that he had been granted his amateur radio operator's license by the Federal Radio Communication Bureau, following his application to the Washington office more than a month ago.

Since its organization more than a year and a half ago, the Radio club has turned out four licensed operators. The radio minded Scouts plan to increase the power of "output" in their present transmitter by adding another tube to the set. This addition they think will increase their sending power to about 30 watts, enough to contact stations anywhere in the United States, Canada and Mexico, if conditions are favorable.

Ranger Citizens Purchase Total of $100,000 In Federal Savings Bonds, Postmaster Here Reports

Mrs. Martha Davenport, postmaster of Ranger, has announced that the $100,000 mark in the sale of United States Savings Bonds, popularly known as Baby Bonds, has been reached by the Ranger postoffice, while a similar announcement for the nation states that $500,000,000 worth of these bonds have been sold over the nation.

The Ranger sales represent an actual investment of a little more than $85,000, it was pointed out, while the maturity value of the bonds is slightly more than $100,000.

Sales in the State of Texas have totaled more than $679,687.50, as that was the amount sold in the state at the last report of the assistant secretary of the Treasury, which was made in May of this year.

Savings bonds were first made available on March 1, 1935. For the 10 months period from that date to the end of the year, 1935, purchases amounted to a maturity value of $259,000,000 or an average daily sale for each business day for that period of approximately $1,000,000 maturity value. Purchases from January 1, 1936, to July 6, represent maturity value of $241,000,000 or an average daily sale of approximately $1,535,000 for each business day, reflecting a 50 per cent increase in the average daily sales for the year 1936 over 1935.

Purchases for the new fiscal year beginning the first day of July are at an increased rate over crating a daily maturity value of $1,823,700, which is in excess of 80 per cent increase over the daily average sales for the year 1935. Average daily sales in July, 1936, were approximately 75 per cent ahead of average sales for July, 1935.

United States Savings Bonds may be purchased at all post offices of the first and second class, at most of the third class, and at some of the fourth class offices, or direct-by-mail from the Treasurer of the United States, or any Federal Reserve bank. The direct-by-mail sales have likewise shown a consistent ratio of increase during the last several months. The upward trend of sales is apparently due not only to increasing numbers of new purchasers but to the purchases made by present owners at regular intervals.

To date there have been issued approximately 1,700,000 Savings Bonds. As the limitation of individual ownership is restricted by law to $10,000, maturity value, issued during any calendar year, the

Goes High for Weather Lowdown

Going the legislators one better, this investigator is up in the air over charges of broken promises by Old Man Weather. The gadget he is handling is the anemometer, which measures wind velocity. Still higher is the wind direction indicator. After consulting maps and records, the investigator, Edgar C. Horton, who conducted his probe at Birmingham, Ala., indicated the best we can expect of the Weather Man is a mere hint, now and then, of what he's going to surprise us with next.

Parole Conference Creating Little Interest In Texas

AUSTIN—Parole officials are preparing a program for the Southwest Parole Conference at Galveston in September with confidence. There is one topic considered important, but they are hesitant about broaching it.

This is the problem offered by the release of men prisoners after a term of sex repression. W. W. Halcomb, supervisor for the state parole boards, admits that in a reaction from sex starvation many released men fall into companionship with women of loose morals and get into influences that hamper their efforts to reform.

A frank discussion of the situation would be welcomed by parole students, if anyone has the courage to tackle the topic in the conference.

Halcomb is noticeably proud of the record being made by the volunteer parole board of Texas. He believes they have solved one of the hardest problems that formerly faced released prisoners. If ex-convicts applied for positions and revealed their prison record, they didn't get the jobs. If they concealed records, they were discharged for not telling. Under the volunteer parole board system the board members make the first contact with possible employers and give the ex-convict's history.

In money, Halcomb says, the system has saved the state hundreds of thousands of dollars. Albert Stevens, head of the San Antonio board, estimated the saving in that county's paroled men at $100,000.

The cost of keeping the prisoner is only a small part of the saving. A typical case is that of an ex-convict employed so that he no longer remained a charge of the state, but was able to take off relief his mother and sister.

Europe's Latest 'Strong Man'

Newest of European dictators is Gen. John Metaxas, above, who, with approval of King George II, has assumed control over Greece. In a series of decrees following a Communist "threat" to the nation, Metaxas declared martial law, dissolved Parliament, postponed elections, and mobilized workers.

4-H Members Hear District 7 Agent

An estimated group of forty 4-H boys and girls attended special services designated for them Sunday at the Presbyterian church in Eastland.

Following a special sermon at the church by Rev. Charlie W. Estes, pastor, the group adjourned to the city park for the meal and talks by district 7 Extension Agent, C. E. Bowles of College Station, and Assistant County Agent Hugh F. Barnhart. Reports were heard on the short course trip to College Station.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoons daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

On the back the sender attempted to write a return address, didn't quite succeed, and wrote below the words "bad pencil." Laughing clerks, certain of the kind of crudely written, misspelled letter they would find inside, opened the letter. "And would you believe it," a clerk said, "he didn't misspell a word or make an error in his punctuation."

Races Of World Growing Taller

By United Press LONDON.—The human race is growing taller.

That conclusion has been reached after a study of human growth over a number of years, details of which are given in the current issue of the "British Medical Journal."

Children of today, according to the experience of many countries, it is said, compare favorably with children the same ages before the war; and a tendency to increase of growth long has been observed.

Figures for measurements of recruits in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland and Italy over a period of years all show an increase in weight also. Even in Japan measurements on students record increases of growth, while it is recalled that in the United States there has been a slight increase in growth during the last 80 years.

"In general, however," it is stated, "the bodily build of both sexes has tended to become slimmer, especially for women in the region of the hips, an observation also made in Germany."

This change is attributed primarily to environmental influences including general improvements in hygiene, improvement in average diets and the result of sports and gymnasium work. "It is noticeable," adds the report, "that the inhabitants of cities in general are bigger than countrymen. Those of the North bigger than those of the South. Hence one can hardly attribute the change to the effect of sunlight, which some have occasionally regarded as the primary factor of growth."

Coach Wright Will Issue Uniforms On Monday Afternoon

Word was received from Coach Baker Wright, who is attending the coaching school at A & M College, stating that he would be in Ranger Monday and would issue uniforms and equipment for the football team at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

The card which contained the information did not state when actual football practice would begin, but it stated that he was "getting a lot of good stuff from the coaching school."

Plans have been made to conduct the practice sessions for the team on the soft ball field, beyond the left field because the sod will be too new and soft on the new football field, with water being run on the grass 24 hours out of each day.

Department Mail Furnishes Chuckles

AUSTIN, Tex.—The arrival of the day's mail furnishes clerks in the State Department of Public Safety many laughs.

Many of the letters which fall into their box, have been put there because it was addressed to a non-existent state department, and postal authorities thought it might be for the safety department.

"Or at least they figure we could send it to the right department if it wasn't for us," commented one clerk.

A sample of this type of error was a recent letter from a young married couple who "would like very much to get a list of institutions in the state where a baby can be adopted. We want to adopt one." The letter was sent to the Bureau of Child Welfare.

There are letters, mailed to the proper department, which supply some of the chuckles.

Sometimes it is the address on the letter; sometimes the content or the handwriting.

One in particular attracted a lot of attention when it came with the rest of the mail. The letter was crudely addressed in pencil, and for the address of the department the sender had copied the entire top half of the application for a driver's license. This covered the entire front part of the envelope.

Race Question Injects Self Into Olympics

The man who said that international athletic competition and harmony among the nations must have been entirely ignorant of the things that happen at the Olympic Games.

Judging them strictly on form, these games would seem to be about as fertile a source of international dislike as anything that man's inventive brain has yet devised. If the jars which they create weren't so funny, all hands would presently be landing their marines and taking strong measures.

The all-time high water mark seems to have been reached in Berlin. Herr Hitler, flanked by his official muscle men, beams down from his box, prepared to extend the right hand of good fellowship to the winners — and right away the show is stolen by a young American colored boy named Jesse Owens, ably seconded by other America neolegged boys named Metcalfe, Woodruff, Johnson, Albritton, Williams, LaValle and Robinson.

At this point high comedy enters. Herr Hitler owes his career to the thesis that blond Nordics are, ipso facto, superior to all other breeds. But he hardly gets his chair warm before it is clearly proved that there isn't a blond Nordic on earth who can give the completely non-Nordic Mr. Owens a real race.

Thus Jesse Owens puts the dictator of Germany on the spot. The dictator departs hastily, the world treats itself to a chuckle at his expense and the most sensationally athletic of the Olympics turns out to be the very one who can't receive the personal congratulations of Der Fuehrer.

Yes it is all pretty ridiculous. But we Americans might do a little bit of thinking before we laugh too hastily. After all, we are hardly in the best of all possible positions for pointing the finger of scorn at anyone who gives way to race prejudice.

The race problem is a knotty one, and it probably will have to work itself out over many generations. Getting sentimental over the athletic prowess of Jesse Owens isn't going to show us how white and black men can live in eternal amity.

Bpt it might at least remind us that the problem is there to be solved. And we'll be in a better mood to try to solve it if we give our whole-hearted acclaim to the young Negroes who put the Stars and Stripes at the top of the Olympic flagpole.

Campaign Hits Stride In News Columns

There is blood on the moon in any election year, and the makers of medicine have many a sign and portent to take into account. So it begins to look as if the present campaign would be remembered as the great year of free-for-all propaganda.

Propaganda is expected from party leaders, especially from national chairmen. If Messrs. Hamilton and Farley, for instance, on the same day issue diametrically opposite statements about the same thing, that is just one of the little vagaries of the game and is only a sign that everything is proceeding normally.

But that kind of propaganda never fooled anyone who did not want to be fooled. The business gets more serious when it moves into the regular channels of information and takes on the guise of unbiased news.

Here is a sample case.

On Aug. 6, two Washington correspondents sent out stories about the same news event—the schism in the ranks of organized labor which has John L. Lewis heading in one direction and William Green heading in another. The opening paragraphs of their stories are presented herewith:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Republican Nominee Alfred M. Landon will gain thousands of votes as a result of the crack-up within the ranks of organized labor. This stood out clearly today through the welter of charges and counter-charges hurled by labor leaders following the suspension . . . of John L. Lewis . . . and the ten "rebel" unions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. — Hostile organized labor groups v . . . not let their feud interfere with their promise to help re-elect President Roosevelt, leaders indicated today. A truce between A. F. of L. leaders and those of the left "rebel" unions ordered suspended has been declared until after the November elections.

Now the thing which stands out like a brick corner in a fog is that here we have two Washington correspondents, entrusted with the task of telling the people what is going on in their national capital, taking the same set of facts and drawing diametrically opposite conclusions.

One of them is positive that the labor split will not hurt President Roosevelt's chances in the least; the other is even more positive that the split will hurt the president's chances very badly.

Obviously, one or the other, if not both, of these gentlemen has been writing propaganda, rather than news.

What is the innocent reader to do in a case like that? How is he to tell propaganda from news?

Skull Fractured In Gorman Train and Auto Mishap

CISCO, Aug. 19.—Mrs. H. D. Gorham and daughter, Miss Frances, 15, were resting well at their home after a narrow escape Sunday night when the car in which they were riding was struck by the M. K. and T. southbound motor car on a crossing near the M. K. and T. station at Gorman. They were en route to College Station to visit Drew, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gorham and student at A. and M. college. They were riding with A. F. Schaefer, longtime friend of the Gorham family, who was driving to Austin on a business matter.

Schaefer suffered a skull fracture for which he received treatment in a Gorman hospital before being removed yesterday to Abilene.

Going by Bryan

Mr. Schaefer came by Cisco Sunday evening and invited Mr. and Mrs. Gorham and their daughter to accompany him as far as Bryan, returning with him as he came home. Mr. Gorham could not go, but Mrs. Gorham and Miss Frances accepted the invitation.

Mr. Schaefer said he stopped at the crossing over the tracks at Gorman, about 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, but heard no sound of a train. As the car drove on the tracks, however, the motor car struck the machine, a Studebaker, throwing it a considerable distance and practically demolishing it. Gorman citizens and members of the train crew picked up the three. Mr. Gorham was notified by telephone and drove to Gorman, bringing his wife and daughter to Graham sanitarium for treatment. Their injuries were found to be confined to bruises and abrasions.

WHAT The Chronicle of Arlington, Va. says about Thomas L. Blanton

Arlington, Va., Friday, August 7, 1936

CONGRESSMAN BLANTON

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, who has done more for the District of Columbia than any member of the lower house of congress, is being bitterly assailed by two Washington newspapers who could not use him or swerve him from the path of duty and honor. Even the enemies of Judge Blanton in congress say that he is the most valuable man in that body. He is a tireless worker and could be found at his office in the House Office Building from 8 A. M. to midnight every day of the session, when not on the floor or attending the meetings of the important committees that he headed or served upon.

It was Congressman Blanton who discovered the robbery of insane World War veterans and who put through legislation that would save their estates, and protect their families. He discovered where one attorney had gotten more out of the estates of 155 insane World War veterans than they got from their own estates.

Judge Blanton's whole long life in congress has been marked by efforts to protect the U. S. Treasury from raiders. He has been a terror to corrupt and venal politicians, and being a master of parliamentary law and procedure he has killed more bad legislation than any other man in congress. If he were not respected and looked up to by democratic leaders in congress he could not have accomplished anything. That is a sufficient answer to those who abuse him.

The people of his congressional district ought to know that he has during this administration caused to be spent by the federal government in the counties of his district more than thirty-five million dollars. His entire record in congress is clean, as is his public and private life, and although he has been much abused by self seeking Washington newspapers, not one of them ever could point to a stain upon his character.

Texas never sent a braver, or manlier soul to Washington to battle for the right. There is not a yellow streak in Thomas L. Blanton and in his long career no enemy has ever charged him with dishonesty. Measured in usefulness he is ten congressmen in one.

New Deal Saves Bank Depositors Survey Reveals

NEW YORK—The friendly hand of Uncle Sam was stretched out last week to rescue thousands of bank depositors from the effects of two bank failures in eastern states. Had it not been for the protection afforded by the Roosevelt Administration, through passage of the bill providing insurance for bank deposits up to $5,000, every one of these depositors would have watched his life savings disappear when the bank went to the wall. Instead, they were paid off at the rate of 100 cents on the dollar within two weeks after the banks closed their doors.

The first failure was in the little town of East Hampton, in Connecticut. The local bank and trust company, with several thousand poor depositors, was the victim of dishonest officials and was obliged to close. It was one of the few bank failures in America since President Roosevelt took office. The little community was panic-stricken at the disaster, but calmed down when agent of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation appeared and took charge of the bank's tangled affairs.

Two weeks after the agents announced their readiness to pay off. The first to have her claim honored was a six-year-old girl, who only the week before the crash had entrusted her precious savings of twenty-five cents to the teller in charge of Christmas accounts. A joyful smile brightened the child's face as Uncle Sam's agent handed her a shining quarter. She quickly hid it in her little purse and romped out of the bank.

Then, all day long, lines of depositors pressed toward the paying teller's cage. They received the full amount of their savings.

The other bank collapse was in Newark, N. J. There the D'Auria Bank and Trust Company, in a crowded Italian neighborhood, crashed a few weeks ago. As in the Connecticut failure, most of the depositors were poor working people, who had placed all their meager savings with the institution. After the bank was closed officers were arrested, charged with making false statements to the banking authorities. The wildest excitement prevailed in the Italian quarter of Newark, but the soothing influence of Uncle Sam was soon felt. Agents arrived and took charge. Last Thursday FDIC checks were ready and hundreds called to receive payment due them. Watching them (as they stood in line, was Simon Kesselman, formerly general secretary of the United States Depositor's Committee of the Bank of the United States, which went to the wall in Manhattan several years ago with staggering losses to more than 40,000 depositors. "If we only had had that Federal Insurance of deposits when the Bank of United States closed up!" he wailed.

Most of the depositors of the Newark bank probably had no clearer conception of the operation of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation than their fellow sufferers in Connecticut. They did not seem to know where the money to pay them was coming from. In fact, they did not appear to care. They only knew that they were getting every cent that was due them. With that they were content.

Actually, however, the money paid out will not be a dead loss to Uncle Sam. As the law operates, the Government takes an assignment of depositors' claims and collects as much as possible from the bank's assets to reimburse the Federal Treasury. In the meantime distress of depositors is relieved and confidence in other banks maintained. Thus, bank panics, which frightened the whole country during the Hoover regime, are stopped before they start. If this were the only accomplishment of the Roosevelt Administration, it would be sufficient to constitute a valid claim upon the nation's gratitude.

Ready to Sail Ocean in Barrel

The three men in a tub were pikers alongside Ernest Bieganski, 45, Buffalo, N. Y., war veteran, who plans a yachting trip across the Atlantic in the oversized barrel with which he is shown above. The huge keg will be equipped with radio, a keel, sail, and 60 days' supply of food and water for the ocean crossing. Married and father of two, Bieganski spent his $1000 bonus money for the barrel, hoping to make inquisitive Europeans pay to see it.

WHEN GOOD FELLOWS GET TOGETHER

It's always fair weather when fair fishermen get together. Vice Pres. John Nance Garner, left, beams a conclusion to the tale of his four-pound catfish that didn't get away while Col. Ernest O. Thompson, center, strokes his chin in doubt. To the right Gov. James V. Allred respectfully listens while he thinks up one to tell. It all happened on the lawn at the governor's mansion where the vice president and Mrs. Garner spent Tuesday night en route to Dallas to be feted Wednesday at the Texas Centennial.

TO THE PEOPLE OF RANGER:

R. V. (RIP) GALLOWAY

Words cannot express my appreciation for the wonderful vote you gave me in the first primary. I consider this home vote a greater honor than being elected to any office within the gift of the people.

A heavy vote in Ranger on August 22, will do more than anything else to elect me to the office of County Clerk, and I appeal to you again to go to the polls and do me this favor, and it will be appreciated by my entire family as well as myself.

Labor A Unit In Backing Roosevelt

Evidence accumulates that the ranks of labor will march solidly behind the banner of President Roosevelt.

The recent action of the United Hatters, Caps and Millinery Workers' International Union in endorsing the candidacy of the President for re-election at its quarterly meeting in New York City, marked a sharp departure from the policy of the organization.

Heretofore it has taken no part in politics and has refused to endorse candidates for any party. This year, however, leaders of the Union took the stand that if the progress of labor has made during the last three years is to continue, President Roosevelt's re-election is of paramount importance. Officials of the Union stated that introduction of the labor issue by the National Association of Manufacturers, the American Liberty League, Chambers of Commerce and industry in general forced the Union to line up with the President against his industrial foes.

Major George L. Berry, president of the Pro-Roosevelt Non-Partisan League, recently announced that he would mobilize all labor in support of President Roosevelt. He declared that he would perfect "a working, fighting organization in every Congressional district in every State and Territory." He added that labor's struggle was with the "great exploiters" and not with the public.

"Governor Landon's acceptance speech statements," he said, "are entirely in harmony with his labor record. Out of that record we could expect nothing except the claptrap and weasel words of the Topeka speech. It bulwarks industrial Bourbonism. It denies labor's aspirations. It points backward to industrial despotism. American labor today faces forward—forward with Roosevelt."

War Is Started On Bondsmen

HOUSTON, Tex.—Police Chief B. W. Payne has declared war on "professional" bondsmen who solicit business at the police headquarters.

Payne demoted Desk Sergeant A. C. Staine to a City "beat" because the officer released a prisoner to a bondsman who netted a $3 fee, in the first move of this war.

Staine failed to search a man who was arrested for drunkenness. He permitted the man to walk into the front of the headquarters office and speak with the bondsman, Payne said.

"Bondsmen are not going to be permitted to promote business in the halls of the police station," Payne said. "If they get a call at their office, that's different."

OTTAWA, Ont.—Mrs. Isabella Hannay, 48, plunged 40 feet from a cliff here and escaped with a scratched nose. She was fined $10 for drunkenness.

Let's Re-Elect and Send CECILA LOTIEF

BACK TO AUSTIN
As Your Representative
EASTLAND AND CALLAHAN
COUNTIES
107th District

CECIL A. LOTIEF

In soliciting your vote in the run-off primary, I wish to briefly state what I stand for and why:

As I have stated before in my campaign speeches, one member cannot dictate what shall be done at Austin. The governor can't do that. And personally, I was not only disappointed when the legislature failed to provide for ample funds for old age assistance, but was likewise displeased with certain apparent defects in the bill. The House, in fact, passed a measure that would have raised the needed revenue. But after its passage in the house it was filibustered to death in the senate.

I stand for the administration of the Old Age Pension by the County Commissioners' Court of each county. The Commissioners are already on the pay roll and I see no reason for adding hundreds of political employees to the population at Austin.

I am against new taxes for any purpose other than the Pension. Recovery and business are being retarded by too many taxes.

I am for a drastic reduction in the Auto License Fees. Automobiles pay four cents a gallon tax or about thirty dollars apiece. This is enough tax for the automobile owner to pay.

I stand for equal justice in all matters to rich and poor; labor, farmer and capital; landholder and renter with no discrimination against any of them.

I believe in a Legislator attending all Sessions of the Legislature every day and every hour. Things can happen to hurt his District if he does not stay on the job. My record shows I have attended and I pledge you faithful attendance all of the time, if you will send me back.

I stand for an enlargement of the Public School System to give the rural boy and girl the same advantages that the city has.

I stand for no reduction of the School Appropriations or the payments by the State on a Scholastic basis and will increase them when revenue permits.

I would appreciate your vote in the Run-Off Democratic Primary on August 22, 1936, and your influence with your friends and relatives.

Respectfully,
CECIL A. LOTIEF

State Representative, 107th District
