BULLDOG AND LOBO TIE PUTS END TO LONG LOSING STREAK FOR BOTH CONTESTING TEAMS

The Ranger Bulldogs and the Cisco Lobos, living up to the tradition of friendly rivalry and closely contested games, battled to a 6 to 6 tie at Cisco Armistice Day before a small crowd. By playing a tie the teams each won a moral victory, as it put an end to a long losing streak for each. And, although the game meant little in the Oil Belt standings, as it leaves both in last place in the district, the game was a hotly contested as though the district championship had been at stake.

The Lobos, who appeared to outweigh the Bulldogs more than their weights indicated, pulled two bad plays and got one bad break that kept them from a possible win. An off-side penalty on the kick for point after touchdown was the break, a pass deep in their own territory while leading 6 to 0 was the first bad play and the blocked punt behind the goal line that resulted in Ranger's touchdown was the other. Had the quarterback elected to take a safety Cisco might have won by a score of 6 to 2.

That the game was closely contested is indicated by the fact that the score was tied, Cisco made nine first downs to eight for Ranger and the ball was near midfield a good part of the afternoon.

Cisco's first score came on the ninth play after the second quarter opened and marked the end of a 45-yard march to pay dirt, with Rainbolt carrying over for the score on an end run after good ball carrying by Steyer and Donohue had placed the ball in scoring position. On the kick for extra point Cisco was offside and drew a penalty and the second attempt was blocked.

In the final quarter, with but a few minutes to play, Cisco attempted a pass from deep in their own territory, which was intercepted by Cox, but Cisco stopped the Ranger advance, temporarily, when a pass was intercepted on the Cisco two-yard line. Cisco attempted to punt from deep in the end zone, but it was blocked and recovered by Dudley for a touchdown and Adkins' try for the extra point failed.

Dudley played a whale of a game at guard throughout the afternoon, going down under all Ranger punts and taking the safety man in his tracks, so that no return was made on any Ranger kick. Stevens was outstanding on the defense, too, as were Cox and Adkins, and Stevens did a good part of the passing, the most effective pass combination being from Stevens to Adkins though the order was reversed on one or two occasions.

Outstanding offensively for Cisco were Steyer and Rainbolt, who gained early in the game on a lateral and end run, which backfired after the first few attempts and lost ground. Jones, at end, was instrumental in breaking up a majority of Ranger's plays off right tackle when, time after time, blockers failed to keep him out of the play.

Cisco was rated as being the best passing team of the two, but her passing attack failed to clock. The Lobos attempted 12 passes, seven of which were incomplete, three intercepted and two completed, one for no gain and the other for 18 yards and a first down. Ranger attempted 15 passes, seven were incomplete, two were intercepted and six were completed for a total of 66 yards.

On running plays the Lobos outgained the Bulldogs, gaining a total of 144 yards to 67 gained by the Bulldogs, while Ranger was thrown for a total loss of 18 yards and Cisco lost a total of 23 yards. Penalties were about even with Cisco being penalized 40 yards and Ranger 35, but most of Ranger's penalties came in bunches, the Bulldogs being penalized 15 yards on two occasions.

The game was by far the best played by either team this season, though Ranger was without the services of McKelvain, Hinman and Lingle, who showed up well in the early part of the season, were used but a few minutes during the latter part of the game.

The three highest scoring of the eight will be awarded cash college scholarships of $400, $300 and $200 which are provided with all other prizes in the contest by Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company.

It was Faulhaber's first meeting with the German leader, whose policies he had vigorously condemned.

Mavs Give Lions Run For Money

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 12.—Brownwood's Lions needed all the horse shoes in their new athletic stadium Wednesday afternoon as the pass tossing Eastland Mavericks cut loose with a last quarter aerial attack that gave them two touchdowns to come within six points of overhauling the Lions.

The final score being 26 to 20, Brownwood scored one touchdown in the first quarter, added single counter in the second, third and fourth to lead 26 to 7 all but one minute of the fourth period remaining. With Samuels doing the tossing the Mavericks started marching goalward. Daniels took a pass from Samuels and raced 55 yards for the first score on a pass. Samuels to Garrison, netted the other. And to make the evening complete, Samuels had passed to Cook for the extra point after the final touchdown. Samuels had passed to Cook for the Mav's first score midway in the third period.

James Thomason the Lions' all-district fullback, scored three touchdowns, one a 70 yard run after an intercepted pass. McHorse made the first on a pass from Thomason. The Mavericks completed 25 for a total gain of 234 yards, fourteen being incomplete. Four intercepted, Eastland led in first downs, seventeen to seven.

ARTILLERY IS PUT TO USE IN MADRID AREA

A heavy artillery barrage rocked Madrid today as government and nationalist batteries resumed a fierce cannonade.

With rain preventing operation of airplanes, the leftist artillery began shelling the insurgent positions on almost the entire front and the nationalists quickly responded.

Loyalist militia trapped 1,000 picked rebel storm troops in the western part of the city and expected to annihilate them.

Foreign legionnaires and the rebel soldiers tried a dash into the city last night.

A strengthened militia line was surprised to find the enemy approaching. Militiamen began a quiet enveloping movement and opening fire stopped the nationalists.

There was a growing opinion that the nationalists had lost one opportunity to take Madrid. On Sunday night the loyalist forces were demoralized and close to panic. Two days ago foreign military experts were convinced the city was doomed.

Now thousands of fresh troops have arrived, men with fighting experience. They came from Catalonia and from abroad.

The complete shift in the situation is believed to mean that the first thrust to Madrid has failed.

HENDAYE, Nov. 12.—Spanish nationalists have been ordered to make no further attempts to take Madrid until their present positions have been consolidated. Gen. Gonzalo Llano said today in a radio broadcast.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—The three-power conference of Italy, Austria and Hungary, issued a statement today recognizing Hungary's right to equality of armaments. The announcement was interpreted as meaning Hungary joins Germany, Austria and Turkey in repudiating the peace treaty.

Constable And Justice of Peace Shot in Battle

CENTER, Nov. 12.—Constable Ed. Chapman, 60, was near death in a hospital today as the result of a gun battle in which two other men were shot to death during a dance at the Stockman high school last night.

Justice of the Peace, Albie Gillespie, 50, and Alpus Lillie, 25, were killed. Chapman was wounded five times.

Gillespie and Chapman went to the high school to question Lillie about a disturbance earlier in the evening. Chapman began searching Lillie and the latter drew a gun and began firing.

School Children To Have Special Day at Centennial

A 22-coach passenger train, starting from Cisco Friday morning at 6 o'clock, leaving Eastland at 6:20 and Ranger at 6:40 will carry between 1,500 and 1,800 Eastland County school children to the Centennial at Dallas.

The train will proceed directly to the Centennial grounds, where it will remain all day, leaving that night for the return trip.

Arrangements were made today with J. E. Bass, with the Dallas division of the Department of Education, to have some spot at the Centennial designated as the meeting place for the school children, so that if any become separated from the rest of the group they can return there before train time.

School teachers from the schools in the county will accompany the children on the trip as guardians. It was announced today that the Cisco delegation would be put in the front portion of the train, the Eastland children in the middle section and Ranger children in the back portion of the train. Each town's section will remain locked until the train arrives in that town in order that their seats will not be taken.

All schools in the county will be closed all day Friday in order that the children may attend the Centennial on Eastland county day.

Schoolma'am of Old Worth Tribute, Too

An inquiring reporter who restlessly prowls the streets in quest of news checks in with the pleasing report that the schoolma'am of today is a great deal prettier and snappier than she was in the days when dad went to school.

What set the reporter off on this observation was the fact that he had just returned from a state teachers' convention. There he had mingled with a crowd of stylish and attractive young women who looked more like moving picture extras than school ma'ams, and the fact went at once to his head.

The contrast is probably unfair. Yesterday's schoolma'am lives on in the memory of the restless lads who sat at her feet a generation ago, and it was always an article of faith with them that the schoolma'am could not be anything but a battleax.

They conceived of an eternal antagonism between teacher and pupil, and to have admitted that teacher was a charming young woman would have been to lose half the battle right at the start.

So the memory of today's grown men probably does yesterday's schoolma'am less than justice. But whatever they think of her appearance, most men in looking back will undoubtedly admit that the lady had a pretty tough and thankless job and handled it remarkably well, all things considered.

Any schoolma'am stars her job with two strikes on her. She has a roomful of restless youngsters who would rather be anywhere on earth than in a school room.

She has to keep their attention, arouse their interest, make them behave quell that red Indian spirit that periodically takes possession of healthy youth—and, those things done, give them an education, prepare them for citizenship and instruct them in manners and hygiene.

It's a job big enough to make a strong man quail. But the slip of a girl who hires out as a schoolma'am tackles it without turning a hair—at disgracefully low wages, often enough—and gets away with it.

Looking back, who can't remember a host of things he owes to the overworked misses of his grammar school and high school days?

This one, by some chance phrase or other, snapped him out of a tendency toward selfpity.

That one took a few extra pains and showed him that the mysteries of mathematics were not necessarily insoluble, after all.

Another revealed to him the beauties of English poetry. A fourth somehow showed him that these can be a deep satisfaction in taking on a difficult job and doing it well.

And for reward—what do we give them? We picture them to ourselves as frumps and old maids. We look at today's crop of schoolma'ams and wonder why our own weren't as good-looking and stylish.

We may actually have the crust to feel a little bit sorry for ourselves for having grown up in the era of unattractive schoolma'ams.

And today's youngsters will probably feel exactly the same, 30 years from now.

Professor's Red Tie Is As Famous As His Teaching Is

AUSTIN, Tex.—The brilliant red bow tie of Dr. Henry Winston Harper, dean of the graduate school of the University of Texas, which has become one of the campus traditions in the last 42 years, is being lowered to three-quarter staff.

Dr. Harper has served on the University faculty in many capacities. Beginning as an adjunct professor of chemistry in 1894, he advanced to the position of dean of the graduate school in 1913. He will become dean of emeritus of the graduate school this fall and a professor of chemistry three fourths of the time.

Wearing of the red tie is said to have resulted from a vow taken many years ago. The red material is a special, imported cloth. The ties are hand made.

In 1935, O. O. McIntyre wrote in his newspaper that "Dr. H. W. Harper of the University of Texas in Austin is a red tie fancier." McIntyre immediately was sent one of the special Harper ties.

Dr. Harper's work in chemistry has been recognized widely and his reports have been published in many outstanding scientific journals. Much of his experimental work has dealt with cosmetics. At one time he revised completely the formulas of a nationally known New York cosmetics manufacturer.

Other discoveries of Dr. Harper have included utilization of the barium in mineral barite and the lowering of distillation temperature and reduction of the pressure required in the distillation of bituminous coal. He has succeeded in making the candleilla plant a substitute for canauba wax in the manufacture of floor polish.

Dr. Harper has been honored by many schools and scientific societies, both in America and Europe, and he is listed among 175 outstanding chemists in Cattell's American Men of Science.

He will be replaced by Dr. Albert Perley Brogan. Dr. Brogan has been a member of the faculty at the University since 1914.

Lake Worth Yields Three Alligators

FORT WORTH—Tom Glidden, resident at Lake Worth, pulled his minnow net from the water, blinked and hastily dumped his catch on shore.

The yield was three 12-inch alligators, evidently abandoned by some pet fancier earlier in the summer. The three small alligators were kept, however. One went to Forest Park zoo here, the other two to Glidden's friends in Dallas. Several years ago, a four-foot alligator was caught in a tributary stream to Lake Worth. The tropical water inhabitants must be transplanted to streams and lakes in this area. None propagate naturally.

OLD SHORELINE REVEALED SANTA CLARA, Cal.—The peripatetic qualities of the Pacific Ocean have again been verified by Charles Mendoza who on a trip

Flashing action on a far-flung scale combined with its production in the new perfected Technicolor, make "Ramona" one of the most important pictures of the year, an exciting picturization of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal love story.

Loretta Young is featured as Ramona, with Don Ameche as Alessandro, and the splendid supporting cast includes such players as Kent Taylor, Pauline Frederick, Jane Darwell, Katherine De Mille and John Carradine. In addition, hundreds of persons were recruited from the Mesa Grande district representing settlers and local characters.

The Technicolor is effective because it is absolutely, indisputably true to life. Since a large part of the picture called for out-of-door scenes, the main location for the filming of "Ramona" was a 55,000-acre ranch in the Mesa Grande area of the beautiful San Jacinto Mountains in California, 140 miles southeast of Los Angeles, where the natural beauty of the region made a perfect setting.

"Ramona" is a picture that fairly teems with high romance—fiestas, fandangos, songs, roses, secret trysts, mission bells, stolen kisses, tears, love and laughter. It is one of the greatest love stories ever unfolded on the screen.

Eleven Million Majority; Eleven Million on Relief

The last account I saw of the popular vote for President in the recent election Roosevelt had 27,619,265 and Landon 17,341,339 or about 10,250,000 majority for Roosevelt. I am a Democrat and voted the ticket straight, but when I read these figures and a statement in the same paper that there were 11,000,000 on the relief rolls and getting money from some form of the new deal projects and plans, it put me to thinking. Evidently these relief roll voters are distributed over all the states and have the power to swing any state the way they vote, and this accounts, maybe, for Landon getting the electoral vote of only two small states, and they not very heavily industrialized. These things seem enough to put Democrats to thinking; maybe they are not significant, but they just struck me as unusual.

Signed: Moses Butler, Prescott, Ark.

Harding and Coolidge Had Greater Landslides

To The News:
Much has been written since the election about Roosevelt's landslide being the greatest in history. Final tabulations will give Governor Landon over 16,500,000 votes. This is the biggest popular vote that any defeated candidate ever received.

Then, too, if we look into the figures, we will see that Roosevelt's landslide was not the greatest in history, nor even the greatest in the present generation. In 1920, Governor Cox got only 9,000,000 votes out of over 26,000,000 that were cast. He got only 34 per cent of the popular vote. In 1924, Mr. Davis got only 8,385,000 votes out of more than 29,000,000 that were voted. He got only 29 per cent of the popular vote. Landon got about 36 per cent of the total votes. He ran better than either Davis or Cox.

Outside of the traditional Southern states, President Roosevelt doubled Governor Landon in only six states. In 1924 President Coolidge doubled Mr. Davis in twenty-three states. In 1920, Mr. Harding doubled Governor Cox in eighteen states.

The 16,500,000 who voted for Governor Landon are not composed of such widely discordant elements as are the more than 26,000,000 who voted for President Roosevelt. Some of the former leading Democrats supported Landon, but the vote shows that they did not carry many with them.

The ones who voted for Governor Landon believe in the traditional principles of the American form of government. The ones who voted for President Roosevelt include everything from state rights Democrats, such as Senator Glass, to those who are at least pink if not red, such as Rex Tugwell, Henry Wallace and Felix Frankfurter. Also the new deal vote includes a majority of the colored vote and practically all of the people of foreign extraction who came to this country from Russia and Southern Europe. Surely, "Europe rejoices," as the papers say, over President Roosevelt's re-election. His style of government conforms more nearly to their ideals.

Powell Butler in 'My Man Godfrey' Lake Water Clears After Terraces Are Built by Farmers

William Powell attains the distinction of being a butler for the nuttiest family in the whole country, in the Universal romantic comedy, "My Man Godfrey," which opens at the Conlee theater Sunday. The charming, talented Carole Lombard is co-starred with him in the screen offering, which was taken from Eric Hatch's sparkling, mirth-making novel of the same name.

The gay, laugh-spangled quality of the story was preserved by having Eric Hatch transcribe his own book into the screen play. This he did with Morris Ryskind, noted writer of many screen hits which include "A Night at the Opera." Ryskind is also remembered as the co-author of "Of Thee I Sing."

The screen narrative reveals Powell as a "forgotten man," being brought to a very ritzy party by Carole Lombard, so that she may win first prize in a Scavenger Hunt. Then she engages Powell as the butler and the fun takes on a madder pace.

This balmy family, generally known as "the bally Bullocks," includes: One baffled husband who has been thoroughly gaffed by a slightly daffy wife. He is laughed at by society's riffraff for permitting her to pamper a "protégé of the rich, and for giving him the freedom of the parlor. The husband is further snuffed by the wild expenditures and tall doings of his dizzy daughters. When his fortune is lost in the raffle of the stock market, he is saved by the butler who finally falls for the sweet blandishments of the dizzier daughter.

ject were now completing twenty stone and log cabins that will soon be open to the public for "overnight camps."

While the primary purpose of these projects was to restore the worn-out soil and to offer a demonstration of how similar control may be effected elsewhere, the Resettlement Administration prepared to open these grounds to the public to encourage study of the restoration and use of such types of land.

"Farmers working on these projects, after a few weeks of instruction, were doing stone construction equal to that in fine residences," Tolmie said. "What they learn in building these cabins and building various types of dams and terraces is already being reflected in similar improvements on privately owned land in the vicinity which is being improved in many cases by these farmers who work only part time on their Resettlement job."

Men of the 78 families who were endeavoring unsuccessfully to make a living by farming on this land were doing the construction work, thereby earning a livelihood until new farms were ready for their occupancy in the nearby fertile bottom lands of the Red River. Additional labor will be provided by construction on these new farms which will start soon.

The first large dam to be completed on a Resettlement project in the United States was on the Fannin project, and a still larger dam on this project will soon be completed.

Peak of Gasoline Usage Seen In July

NEW YORK — For the first time in 20 years gasoline consumption in the United States was lower in August than in July, according to reports of the American Petroleum Institute's department of statistics.

Although total sales in the United States for the first eight months of 1936 are estimated at 9.4 per cent over the first eight months of last year, the peak of consumption, ordinarily reached in August, was reached this year in July, and was followed by a decline of 1.2 per cent in August.

It is believed that introduction of new car models in November and the general trend toward earlier vacations may be factors in pushing ahead one month the peak of consumption.

The change, if permanent, will be welcomed by the states, for it will bring in many millions of dollars of gasoline tax revenue earlier in the year. State gasoline taxes amount to about $600,000,000 annually, and if the peak of collections is reached in July instead of August, as formerly, financing by the states should be facilitated by this new trend.

Hitler in Civies? Guess Again!

Looks like Adolf Hitler incognito, doesn't it? That's what officials at the zoo in Vienna thought, too, when this man wandered through the park for several hours. Cowlick, moustache, beetling brows and jutting jaw resembled the German chancellor so much none were sure whether to salute him. His identity never was learned, but it wasn't Hitler.

Automotive Taxes Are Higher Than Levies On Property

NEW YORK—Special additional taxes paid by the American motorist to federal and state governments in 1935 averages 21.8 per cent on his automotive investment as compared with an average real estate and general property tax of 3.1 per cent the country over. The average value of the 26,221,052 motor vehicles operating on the highways in 1935 is estimated at $212. The average tax bill was $42.26, or about one-fifth of the value of the car. This tax cost was nearly seven times heavier than the general levies on property, according to a study made by the American Petroleum Industries Committee.

Variation in the tax levies on automobiles is seen from state to state, the highest rate being found in Florida, where the $75.13 annual tax bill represents 35.4 per cent of the average automobile's value. Other states having automotive levies higher than the national average are: Alabama, 32.4; Arkansas, 29.4; Louisiana, 27.7; Mississippi, 29.0; North Carolina, 31.4; Tennessee, 29.8; Vermont, 29.8; and Virginia, 28.0.

High gasoline taxes account for almost two-thirds of the tax bill on automobiles. Federal taxes on gasoline averaged $10.42 per motor vehicle last year, adding 34.4 per cent to the tax burden already imposed upon the motorist by the states. The federal gasoline tax in 1935 accounted for 63 per cent of all automotive taxes paid into the federal treasury.

Motorists in those states where the tax rate is 30 per cent or more pay out in taxes in about three years an amount equivalent to the value of their cars. In Florida, tax payments in two years and ten months equal the average car value. For the country as a whole the period is four years and seven months. General property taxes equal the assessed valuation in about 32 years.

SILVERWARE SALES UP

Mexican Lion Gets Gonzales Chickens

By United Press
GONZALES — A Mexican lion was believed responsible for recent losses of chickens, poultrymen asserted.

Mrs. Curtis Baker, wife of the county treasurer, reported seeing the huge beast at their home near Gonzales. She said that while out in the back yard of her home she heard the wire fence creak, and looking up saw the lion with his fore paws resting on the fence a short distance away. A later search for the animal was fruitless.

The lion has been reported seen by several persons living near Gonzales.

The pensions are to be financed by taxes on the payrolls of the employers and the wages of the employees, which will start at 1 per cent in January and rise gradually to 3 per cent. Among those not eligible under the plan are farm labor, servants and Government workers.
The employer's form, it is understood, asks only questions as to name and address of the applicant and his employer, date and place of birth and parents' names.

THE COMMON SENSE ATTITUDE

By Rev. Robert E. Bowden, pastor, Church of God, Eastland.

The world is full of talk these days. The political and industrial notes are in high pitch. These would-be leaders are advocating their theory and solution for the world's ills. Much of this talk is inspired by selfish motives. Greed and popularity come in for their part of the inspiration. Can true American leadership be born in such an atmosphere? Never. He who seeks the good of his fellows, considers himself last. That's the common sense attitude, and that's the true spirit of American leadership. The wild and fanciful dreams of our social life make it hard for the masses to settle down to a common sense, contented procedure of living. As far back as history goes, it testifies in red blood, misfortune, broken homes, and corrupted society, as a result of unbridled, loose living, disregard for both written and moral law. Nature proves to be a wise teacher. From the soil can be learned this lesson. If it is misused it becomes unproductive and a heap of waste. The tree has its own natural law and order of life. It will dwarf and eventually die if not allowed its own natural order of life. God has surrounded all nature with laws and order (though unwritten) and when transgressed results in tragedy. As regards the human life there is the law, both moral and written, and to disregard either means that the individual and society in general must reap a deplorable consequence. Life is complex. "No man liveth unto himself." Each and every individual sets in motion an influence that counts for either good or bad. And the society as a whole must always suffer for bad influences, which in all too many instances are eating like a canker at the very heart and life of the community. The written law was given for the protection of the common wealth, and must not be disregarded. When one or more individuals seek to disregard law and order, regardless, then and there such individuals should receive the full justice of the law. If the law is not enforced it becomes the duty of citizens to protest such actions on the part of the officers. It is neither good citizenship or patriotism for the public to stand by and keep silent when law violators go on without respect or regard for the best welfare of the community at large. It has been said, if the officers of any community could have the cooperation of all the citizens they could do much more in their effort to enforce the law. We want to see a sentiment developing generally

We want to see a sentiment developing generally for rigid law enforcement. — We owe it to our individual lives, our homes and the community in general. No community can afford to stand by and allow a group of law violators to destroy or break down the high standard of true citizenship and right living. As citizens we must declare ourselves. We cannot afford to be sympathetic with such actions; to do so is to be disloyal and unfaithful to the community. We urge a bold front to come out against the evils that corrupt our society, and create an unwholesome atmosphere for our youth to grow up in. Let us take time off to think a few serious thoughts and consider well our actions and how best each of us can serve our community. Proper respect and honor for the Sabbath and the House of God will go a long way in helping us to higher planes of thinking and living.

Canning Plant for Valley Is Largest Operated In Texas

McALLEN, Tex.—What is believed to be the largest vegetable and fruit canning plant in Texas, the $100,000 plant being completed by the Riona Products Company of McAllen, was expected to start operations early in November, according to announcement of Lee Akin, president of the concern. Exterior work on the concrete brick and steel structure in complete and machinery for processing the first vegetables to go through the plant is being installed. Four separate canning processes will be used in handling the various products, Akin stated. Vegetables, fruit juices, citrus juice concentrate and citrus by-products will be the four general classes into which the plant's products will be divided, and special machinery had been installed to handle each type. Three of the newest type bean "snipers," machines which cut beans into the proper size for canning, have been installed at a cost of several thousand dollars. Beans will probably be the first of a large group of winter vegetables to be processed at the plant, and other vegetables will be handled as the various harvest seasons arrive. Peas, spinach, kraut and tomatoes will probably follow. Eight large cooking retorts have been installed in the basement, while machinery is located both in the basement, open to the third floor, and on the second floor. All vegetables are cooked in the pressure retorts after canning. Each step in processing fruits and vegetables progresses from the basement and first floor toward the warehouse and loading spaces in the west wing to facilitate production and handling, Akin explained. One of the most unique machines in the new plant is the orange juice concentrator. Akin explained that the vacuum process is used in concentrating the juice at a temperature of about 110 degrees. One gallon of concentrate is equal to five gallons of ordinary juice. The concentrator will manufacture about 2,500 gallons of concentrate daily from 80 tons of fruit. Even the citrus peel, used in small amounts in making candied citrus peel, will be utilized by the new plant, Akin said. The peel will be ground up and sold to feed mills for use in making feed for livestock. Molasses, oats and other edibles are added to the ground peel and make an excellent feed, Akin stated. They can also be used for fertilizer, it was explained.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Armistice Day! A day of sacred memories, resolutions! Greetings to all bowed with sad hearts on this day. We extend sympathy to all remembering and pray that never shall this world experience another such conflict. May this Armistice Day prove of great benefit to the whole world and indeed a blessing to every bereaved heart. To this end we are planning for a special service to be held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in proper observance of Armistice Day with a special message by the pastor. Topic: "After Armistice, What?" We kindly invite the whole community to worship with us at this hour. Members of all wars invited. The Boy Scouts of all troops are kindly invited to come in a body and make this a special feature. Patriotic singing and thinking up on the many memories of Armistice Day. Come and help give the due recognition to the sacred memory of those who reside far away and to those at home as well. DON'T GAMBLE WITH A COLD advertisement. Text: "DON'T GAMBLE WITH A COLD" "FOR HEALTH. Members of the family go from a heated room into a cold hall or adjoining unheated room; then shivering and chilled, they return to the heated room. This is one almost certain way to catch cold. Protect your family against sudden changes of temperature. Give them the benefit of healthful, pure, warm air throughout the home. If you have been heating only one or two rooms, don't go through another winter without complete health protection. If you prefer individual unvented room heaters of the open flame type, be sure to use ONE IN EACH ROOM and provide adequate ventilation from slightly opened windows. Keep connecting doors open from one room to another so that a natural circulation of healthful, warm air prevails throughout the home. Heat your entire house and provide adequate ventilation of pure air... for your health's sake! ... Lone Star Gas System" "COMMON colds are dangerous! Don't gamble with them. You will lose more often than you will win. Even if you are lucky and recover from a cold within a few days without loss of time or money, YOU STILL LOSE. Any illness to a member of the family is definitely false economy because colds create a condition of depressed physical vitality. This is the age of preventive medicine and medical science has followed the formula that "it is better to keep well than to get well." Therefore, don't gamble. Strike at the root of common colds by eliminating conditions that contribute to "catching cold." If the temperature of any room in the house is insufficient for comfort it is INADEQUATE. The common cold germ is a constant threat to your well-being during the winter season. If you do catch cold—don't gamble; consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health."
