A fund for Marty Long has been set up at the Muleshoe State Bank. You may make your contributions there to the Marty Long Family.
At presstime, Marty was still a patient in the Pediatrics ICU at Lubbock General Hospital, with his condition virtually unchanged.

Muleshoe native Kevin Smith, son of Agnes Smith, was among 27 Wayland Baptist University students inducted recently into the Texas Alpha Eta chapter of Alpha Chi, national honor scholarship society.
The senior student at Wayland maintains an average of 3.67. He is pursuing a degree in history.

The Third Annual Sandhills Arts and Crafts Show, sponsored by the Olton Young Homemakers will be held Saturday, November 28 in the Olton School cafeteria.

Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus will make a special appearance 1-3 p.m.
The show will be held 9 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday, November 28, in Olton.

After serving as manager for KMUL for eight years, Gerald Reid has resigned the position, said KMUL news director, Rhonda Carpenter.

Everyone at KMUL will miss him and wish him the best in his new endeavors, she said.
Meanwhile, Leola Randolph, is filling in at the station.

Named students of the week at Watson Junior High School for last week were Ana Loewen, sixth grade; Stacy Langfitt, seventh grade and Billy Williams, eighth grade.

Each of the three students received the Principal's Award from WJHS principal, Bob Graves.

Fine Arts Boosters will meet Monday, November 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the 16th and D Church of Christ.

Parents and others interested in speech, art and band at Muleshoe High School and Watson Junior High School, are invited to attend the meeting.

The American Business Women's Association of Plainview will be holding their Fifth Annual Arts and Crafts Fair on December 5-6, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. at the Hale County Ag Barn in Plainview.

Many prizes, as much as $6,000 is expected to be given away during the December MAC drawing, which will be the last MAC drawing to be held in downtown Muleshoe. After the first of the year, the method for giving away MAC Bucks will be changed.

MAC will be giving $2,000 in MAC Bucks. Other items will include a 37 inch TV to be given by the Rotary Club; A Santa Claus by Fry & Cox; Luggage by Anthony's; and eight-foot Christmas stocking filled with toys by Harvey Bass Appliance; 1 10-speed bicycle by Ben Franklin; a gift certificate by Lookin' Good and a satin jacket by Trophies 'N More.

The drawing will not be the first Saturday of the month, but will be Saturday, December 19.

THIS TRAILER HATES BANKS--About a month ago, a trailer came loose and slammed across a flowerbed and into a post at First Bank. Thursday afternoon, Muleshoe City Police Officer Gary Maddox is standing by the same trailer, after it came loose from a pickup, and slammed across flowerbeds and into a pole at Muleshoe State Bank. This time, the trailer that likes to assault banks was hauled away by a wrecker service.

EMS' Seeks Names For 'Toy Project'

With Thanksgiving almost upon us, it is time to start thinking about Christmas!

In this instance, it's time to think about the 100+ children who cannot expect to have Christmas without your help!

Last year, volunteer from the Bailey County Ambulance Service accumulated toys, fruit, nuts, candy, clothing and food-stuffs which were delivered to more than 125 children in over 80 families.

Richelle Watkins, director of the Bailey County Ambulance Service, said the volunteers from Bailey County EMS are starting the toy project somewhat earlier this year, and in fact, some toys are already coming in.

She said that especially needed will be such things as jewelry, wallets, bath oils and salts, men's cologne, ladies' cologne, dresser sets, caps, and all items of that sort, including records and cassettes for the young teenagers whose names will be submitted from many of the family information sheets.

The EMS director said they have larger facilities this year to receive the donated items, but any and all items may be taken

Chamber Selling

Greeting Cards

At Special Price

"The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is offering the Muleshoe occasional cards now for a special price," said Toni Eagle, manager. "The cards included are all the holiday cards, as well as the birthday and anniversary cards."

For a single card, the price is 50 cents each, a package of eight is priced $3.50 and a package of 16 cards is $6.50.

She added, "now is a great time to buy your Thanksgiving and Christmas cards as well as stocking up on cards for 1988. Come by the Chamber office and buy your cards for all the occasions in the coming year."

Mrs. Eagle said the special sale price will be through December 31.

to the Bailey County Ambulance Service building at 715 West Second Street.

"People were very generous with their contributions last year," said the EMS director, "and we fell they will be just as generous again this year."

Both the Journals and the Ranger will have coupons to be clipped out and filled in designating families, with children, who are in need of the Toy Project Service this year.

Please help the Bailey County Ambulance Service make Christmas possible for the many local and area children who will not have Christmas without your contributions and aid.

South Plains Cotton Crop Best 'In Years'

The 1987 cotton crop is shaping up as one of the best on the High Plains in several years. While enjoying this year's harvest, there are several things cotton farmers can do to improve next year's prospects, says a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Barring unforeseen weather problems, yields of both lint and seed are expected to be good this year," said Dr. James R. Supak, Extension cotton agronomist. "The favorable seed production outlook is important because much of next year's planting seed will have to come from this year's production."

The quality of planting seed is affected by several pre-harvest, harvest, and post-harvest factors, Supak noted. Producers and seedmen who will catch seed they produce for planting must be mindful of these factors, he stressed.

The quality and vigor of the seed was determined during the enlargement, filling and maturation phases of plant growth, the Extension specialist said. The best quality planting seed usually comes from fields that were planted early, fruited uniformly, weren't overly stressed for moisture or nutrients, and had 80 percent or more open bolls prior to termination with chemicals or by a freeze, Supak said. "Frequently, the best yielding fields don't produce the best quality seed," he cautioned. Plants that support large numbers of bolls tend to produce smaller, lighter seed, presumably due to competition for photosynthate.

"Where possible, avoid catching seed from late-planted or non-uniform fields that obviously failed to reach maturity, or from fields prematurely terminated with harvest-aid chemicals," Supak said. Low micronaire values indicate the crop failed to reach an acceptable maturity. "Seed from such crops are more likely to be poorly developed and of low vigor."

As a rule, Supak said, the sooner a field is harvested after reaching maturity and being properly conditioned, the better the yield and quality of both lint and seed. Delayed harvest results in weathering and deterioration of both lint and seed. "Moisture from dew, rain or snow will hasten deterioration of seedcotton on the stalk," Supak stressed.

Proper desiccation prior to harvest is important in preserving cottonseed quality. All plant components--lint, seed, burs, stems--must be dry before harvest. Conditioning time after chemical desiccation or a freeze can vary from 10 days to three weeks, depending on temperatures and humidity. Studies have shown that for proper field storage and ginning, the moisture content of stripped cotton should be 8 to 12 percent.

Sticks and green bolls often add to the moisture content of stripped cotton, the Extension specialist noted. He said the use of strippers equipped with narrow paddles, an inch in width, will help reduce the levels of foreign matter in harvested cotton. Such machines are also more "sensitive" to damp cotton and won't operate efficiently until cotton is properly dried, Supak added.

"Daily harvesting activities should be halted until morning dews completely evaporate,"

EMS, Police Set Another Turkey Shoot

Following the successful turkey shoot recently held jointly by the Bailey County Ambulance Service and the Muleshoe Peace Officers Association, two more turkey shoots have been scheduled.

On Saturday, November 28, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m., they will be conducting a shoot at the police shooting range, just north of the railroad tracks at the Muleshoe east city limits. Parking will be to the south side of the railroad tracks, with access to the range just under the tracks.

This will be followed by a shoot on Sunday, December 6, 12 noon to 5 p.m. at the same location.

Only shotguns may be used, and ammunition will be available. Ear protection is required.

Cash prizes will be given. For additional information, call the Bailey County Ambulance Service, 806/272-4390 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

ASC Committee Election Scheduled This Month

Danny Noble, executive director of the Bailey County office of the ASCS, has released the following report for November, 1987.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

For 1987, LAA-2, Community B, will elect Community Committeemen for a three year term. A County Committeeman and two alternates will also be elected for a three year term. The 1987 Election Calendar is as follows:

November 27 - Ballots mailed to eligible voters.

December 7 - Final date to return voted ballots.

December 9 - Ballots counted at Bailey County ASCS office.

December 16 - County Convention at Bailey County ASCS office.

Low-Income Get Grant For Housing

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm of Texas has announced the award of $119,170 in grants to help as many as 24 Bailey County families build their own homes.

He said the funding will provide low interest loans to help low income people to pay for building materials and other assistance.

The Lower Valley Housing Corporation, headquartered at Fabens, will supervise the program.

Low income individuals who lack safe and sanitary housing may apply for loans under the program from the FmHA office in Muleshoe. FmHA is an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It operates a broad range of programs, with low interest lending in many areas to help improve the economic climate of rural communities.

ROTARY GUEST SPEAKER--Tuesday at noon, Mark Heidel, left, band director for Muleshoe High School, was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary Club. In charge of the program for the day was Dr. David Hamblen, right. Heidel brought the Rotary Club up to date on band activities, and goals.

Arthritis Affects Clothing Choices

For people with arthritis and other conditions that effect movement, good clothing choices can mean the difference between needing assistance and independence in dressing.

"With the variety of fabric and clothing styles available, most people who have special requirements for ease in dressing need to select carefully when they shop," says Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing and textiles specialist.

"Light weight clothes are easier to put on and take off without tiring the wearer," she points out. "Many light weight fabrics are available in winter and summer colors, and can be worn more comfortably in two light layers than one heavy layer when warmth is needed."

Beard, who is a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, says that fabrics with give or elasticity are also more comfortable to wear and easier to put on. She suggests choosing single and double jersey knits, fabrics containing spandex and fabrics made of textured yarns that have stretch.

"Since the effort required to complete routine tasks may cause people with arthritis to perspire more heavily, choose absorbent fabrics and those which wick moisture away from the skin. Cotton, linen, ramie, rayon and blends containing these fibers are among the best choices," she adds.

Beard says that texture is important, since it can cause skin irritation, especially if the clothing is difficult to put on. Stiff, unyielding fabrics, such as sailcloth or denim that has not been prewashed, are generally not good choices.

"Look for clothing designs that are becoming but also allow for ease of body movement and are easy to manipulate," she remarks.

The home economist suggest checking for the following features that allow for minimum difficulty in dressing and great freedom of movement:

- Front opening clothes, including wrap style skirts and dresses and front-opening lingerie.

- Wide V-neck or U-neck shaped openings.

- Short sleeves or long sleeves with elastic at wrists.

- Back fullness, such as action pleats, gathers, or gussets in skirts and bodices.

- Elastic waistbands, beltless styles or belts attached to clothing.

- Permanent clothing decorations, such as pre-tied bows ribbons and ties.

- Pressure tape fasteners, large snaps and zippers rather than buttons.

According to the specialist, these guidelines can be helpful when you're shopping for an elderly friend or relative, as well as those who may have arthritis or other physical limitations.

Set the table with thanks.

MARY McKILLIP

'Artist Of Month' Named At Library

Mary McKillip of Bovina has been named Artist of the Month for November at the Muleshoe Public Library. Some of her paintings will be on display at the library all during the month. She stated that she had been painting since childhood becoming serious about painting approximately 12 years ago. Some of those she has studied under are Virginia Gregory and Carol DeFoor, both of Clovis, N.M. Mrs. McKillip is a member of the Muleshoe Art Association and Pintoris Art League of Clovis. She and her husband, Thurman, have two children, a daughter, Diann, who is a student at Amarillo College, and a son, John, who along with his wife reside at Bovina. Although Mrs. McKillip paints in all media, she stated that pastels is her favorite. "I paint some every day" she stated. "If you want to be a good artist you must paint every day."

Confident

 "Does your wife always get her way?" one husband asked another. "Let me put it this way," came the reply, "She writes her diary two weeks ahead of time."

RESIDENTS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS---(L-R) Mary Sisemore, Cordelia Cochran and Johnny Chappell, all residents of the Muleshoe Nursing Home celebrated their birthdays in the month of November and were honored with a birthday party Thursday afternoon. Mary Sisemore was born on Nov. 10, 1901; Cordelia Cochran, born Nov. 23, 1900; Johnny Chappell, born Nov. 27, 1915.

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Information on seafood cookery and hints on furniture repair will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 24 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, November 28 at 2:00 p.m. on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain). Marilyn Rose is with the Florida Department of Natural Resources Seafood Marketing Bureau, and she is going to discuss and demonstrate some of the major cooking methods for seafood with emphasis on steaming, grilling and microwaving seafood. She will explain the "10-minute" rule about cooking seafood and show a fish measuring instrument. Ms. Rose is from Plantation, FL.

Homer Formby, one of the country's best known authorities in the area of refinishing furniture and care of fine wood will be on the show and will share some very simple furniture repair hints. Formby is a third generation furniture restorer, and all of his tips and hints have come from years of personal experience. He lives in German Town, TN. On Tuesday, November 24 at 9:30 p.m. "Creative Living" will present ideas to make holidays more exciting in terms of food and entertaining. Dian Thomas will share some clever tips concerning recipes and entertainment ideas. Dian appears regularly on the Today Show and resides in Salt Lake City, UT.

Connie Myers, Marketing Home Economist with Southwestern Public Service Co., Clovis, will discuss new appliance trends on the market. She will discuss costs, advantages and disadvantages of some of the newest appliances available.

Lynn Gerhart, Boynton Beach, FL., will demonstrate how to protect wooden furniture from scratches and stains and show a new product her father, Ron Hack, created. The product is called QRB, which stands for Quickly Restores Beauty. Information on cooking with brown rice, a discussion on the visual approach to design and suggestions for extended uses of salad dressing mixes will be presented on "Creative Living" on Thursday, November 26 at 12 noon.

Amy Lloyd is with the Rice Council in Houston, TX and she's going to discuss and demonstrate cooking with brown rice. Brown rice is the whole grain rice from which only the inedible hulls have been removed. It is not polished and therefore retains a natural coating of bran. Brown rice provides slightly more fiber, vitamin E, protein, phosphorus, riboflavin and calcium than white rice.

Fashion designer, Ann Hyde will be another guest and will discuss where designers get their inspirations, tell why designer originals cost more, and show several examples of beautiful fabrics ready to be fashioned into designer garments. Ann Hyde is the founder of the Ann Hyde Institute of Design in Denver, CO. Susan Howe is with Hidden Valley Ranch from Pleasanton, CA and she is going to share some extended uses of salad dressing mixes. Most cooks today want convenience without sacrificing quality and by using products on the grocery's shelf, we can have both convenience and quality. "Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO.

Lazbuddie Girls Conduct Nursery School

Lazbuddie's Homemaking III class recently held a nursery school for preschoolers in the home economics room at Lazbuddie High School. The nursery school was held for five days for an hour and a half each morning.

The girls who planned and carried out the project were: Linda Flores, Connie Gonzales, Sandra Martinez, Virginia Marrofo, Maria Martinez, Viki Moore, Molly Nelson, and Tammie Vise. Girls who helped with the project during the last half hour each day were: Stacie Hodges, Britt Engelking, Elsa Mendoza, and Jana Vise.

Lazbuddie's home economics teacher, Mrs. Barbara Lust, helped her students set goals and objectives for the project. She gave guidance throughout the nursery school project. The girls observed the children's interaction, their different personalities, coordination, and levels of learning.

The homemaking girls provided activities and snacks for the children attending. They set up three centers: art, math and science, and reading. Lazbuddie junior, Connie Gonzales reported that "the children read stories, identified colors and shapes, had art lessons, counted blocks, and had nutritious snacks all week long."

Connie, who is the president of Lazbuddie's FHA/HERO, said, "We would like to thank the mothers for allowing their children to attend, along with everyone who gave their resources to help out, and everybody that helped to make the nursery a success. We especially thank the children who participated. We enjoyed it very much and we learned a lot!"

Children who attended the nursery school were: Kayla Copp, Kyla Elliott, Kendra Gallman, Kelsey Jones, Eric Magby, Brady and Katie Mimms, Trey Nickels, Tobin and Shannon Redwine, Jay Kelly Seaton, and Riley Willingham.

BURNING CROP RESIDUE
Deliberate burning of any annual crop residue, unless waived by the County or State Committee, could be considered as defeating the purpose of the program. In these cases, all or any part of the cost-shares that was paid under the ACP program or would otherwise be due under the program during the year in which this action was taken may be required to be refunded or forfeited.

INTEREST RATE
The loan interest rate for November is 8.0000%.

ACR AND CRP MAINTENANCE
Weed control measures MUST be carried out on acreage designated as ACR throughout the calendar year. Weed control measures on CRP land MUST also be carried out throughout the lifespan of the CRP contract. Failure to control noxious weeds could result in total loss of the farm program benefits and/or your CRP contract.

OFFICE CLOSED
This office will be closed Thursday, November 26, 1987, in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

FARM CHANGES
Any changes in operator, owners, acreage, or mailing address should be reported to the ASC office so they may keep their records current.

1988 FARM PROGRAM PROVISIONS

(1) Wheat - Maximum for harvest is 72.5 percent, 27.5 percent ACR requirement.

(2) Feed Grains - Maximum planted is 80.0 percent, 20.0 percent ACR requirement.

(3) Cotton - Maximum planted is 87.5 percent, 12.5 percent ACR requirement.

(4) ACR and CU Eligibility rules will be the same as 1987.

A. ACR acres may be grazed from October 15 through May 14 (no haying).

B. CU acres for payment including the required eight percent may be grazed (no haying).

C. CU acres may be hayed and grazed, if designated for planting and considered planted purposes only.

(5) Limited cross compliance requirements will be in effect for the 1988 program crops. Exception: a producer can plant and harvest oats in excess of the farm base providing the farm does not participate in the barley/oat program.

(6) No decision has been made as to a paid diversion on feed grains. There will not be a paid diversion for wheat.

(7) Target price: Wheat, $4.29; Grain Sorghum, $2.82; Corn, $2.97; Barley, $2.55; Oats, $1.57 and Cotton, $0.77. National Loan Rate: Wheat, $2.17; Corn, $1.74; Grain Sorghum, $1.65; Barley, $1.42; Oats, $0.89 and Cotton, $.518.

Maximum deficiency: Wheat, $2.12; Corn, $1.23; Grain Sorghum, $1.17; Barley, $1.13; Oats, $.68 and Cotton??

(8) Sign-up date will be announced at a later date.

(9) the 50-92 provision will apply for 1988.

Cotton Crop

Supak advised. "Cotton is usually dry enough to strip when biting down on the seed results in a sharp, cracking sound."

Proper handling of seedcotton after harvest also is critical in maintaining planting seed quality, Supak said.

Stripped cotton with a moisture content of 12 percent or less can be modulated without incurring loss in lint or seed quality. To be safe, the Extension agronomist said, the internal temperature of modules should be monitored daily for a week or so with a longstem thermometer made for this purpose. If the temperature reaches 110 to 120 degrees Fahrenheit, the module should be sent to the gin as quickly as possible--and the seed to the oil mill, Supak said.

Modules which remain in the field for extended periods should be covered with tarpaulins. Rainfall and melting snow can penetrate deep into unprotected modules and cause overheating internally, Supak cautioned.

Supak said producers and seedsmen can help the ginner and minimize mixing problems by blocking up cotton from seed fields. After ginning, fuzzy seed should be protected with traps or stored in a weatherproof building.

Producers should give the delinter as much information about the seed as possible, Supak said. "For example, if the seed came from a field that produced low micronaire fiber, let the delinter know what could have cause the problem; thin stand, late watering, or whatever. Possible heating problems during field storage should always be brought to the delinter's attention," Supak added.

The delinter can't improve the inherent quality of the seed, but he can remove a fairly high percentage of immature and damaged seed from the lot. Up to a point, a higher cleanout usually results in better quality planting seed," the Extension specialist said.

Once the seed is delinted and bagged, it should be tested for viability and vigor, Supak said. He recommended use of the Cool-Warm Vigor Index test. "The results of this test can be used as guidelines for establishing seeding rates and possibly planting dates," he said.

This test can be obtained for a nominal fee by submitting one to two pounds of delinted and treated seed to the Texas Department of Agriculture Seed Testing Laboratory. "Each seed lot should be sampled and tested, and be sure to ask for the Cool-Warm Vigor Index test," Supak urged.

Tactless

Two Air Force men watched a plane unload at a South Korean air field. "Look at the terrifying insignia on the side of that plane," one exclaimed.

"Shhh. Not so loud," the other warned. "That's the squadron commander looking out the window."

Touch Of History

Muleshoe Would Never Grow, They Said, But Were Wrong!

By LEE R. POOL

In the summer of 1924 my father, W.M. Pool, Sr., my oldest brother, Myron, and my cousin, Eldon Smith, came west on a prospecting tour.

They wandered around to various spots west of Lubbock, which wasn't much more than a wide spot in the road. However, it was growing since it had been selected as the site for Texas Technological College, and several buildings were being erected.

The area around Littlefield, Dad advised was nothing more than a patch of blueweeds.

Dad was looking for a good sandy loan farm, similar to the one we had in Dickens County, out of the Matador Ranch. Land prices around Lubbock had advanced to as much as $30 to $50 an acre, so they came farther west to Bailey County to find just what he was looking for 11 miles south of Muleshoe and contracted to purchase it.

Dad almost had to eat his contract when Mohler found that there was no high school nearer than Sudan.

MULESHOE IN SANDS

Muleshoe was 15 miles across the deep sand and was almost inaccessible. Consequently, Dad had to build a house and settle his family in the bustling town of Littlefield where the wagon yard, operated by a Mr. Parcha, was doing a land-office business.

On Jan. 21, 1925, we left our home in Afton where we had lived since 1910 loading our belongings in covered wagons. It was difficult to move household goods, machinery and livestock.

"NORTHER HIT"

To make matters worse, they had hardly started when one of those "blue northers" struck, the worse of the season. I've heard Dad say that he doubted that he ever thawed out.

I drove the family touring car, a 1924 Model T, loaded to the 'gills', with Mother, the younger children and everything else we could pile in. By getting an early start, we made the 125 miles in one day, even though we could not make the top speed of 35 miles in our loaded condition, to travel in those days.

We must have been ahead of the weather, because I remember Jan. 21, 1925 as a beautiful day. We didn't even have to put up the curtains.

Dad preferred the touring car to the sedan, because the sedans were top-heavy and the touring car was better air conditioned.

MODERN HOME

Our new home was quite modern to us. It has 5 rooms and a bath, but we had an electric light in the center for the ceiling of each room, with a string to pull it on, and running water in the kitchen (the running water we had in the country was the kind we kids had to run after.)

We also had a new kerosene cook stove, and a coal burning heater, because there were no mesquite stumps or shinary roots to burn in the city.

On weekends my brother, Harvie and I would come out to the Bailey County farm to help Dad and Myron.

MEMORABLE TRIP

I'll never forget our first trip to the farm. The Model T made it fine to Sudan, the graded road turned to little more than a trail. I remember the grass being as tall as we were. We finally came to a house where the Berrys lived (Tom Berry's father) and they told us to go back north two miles to a gate, to two miles west, about two miles south and two miles west. We finally arrived at the farm about dusk.

The next day, Saturday, we boys thought it would be fun to come to the county seat, Muleshoe. When Myron told us that this was strictly out, we couldn't imagine why, until he said it would be an impossibility to get the Ford, as modern as we thought it was, across the sand hills. It would have been the same with an Essex, Star, Dart or Hupmobile. We had to accept the situation until about six months later, when we came out of the farm after a good rain.

WET SAND NEEDED

My brother told us that we could go to Muleshoe because the sand should be wet enough to cross. We made it fine until we reached a point about one mile southeast of town and we got stuck in the sand. We gathered some brush and "chugged" it under the back wheels to get out. A few hundred yards farther, out across the Brazos river basin, we saw Muleshoe. There were lakes of water, and I remarked that it must have really rained; but Myron told me that the water stood there the year round.

He said "Well, this is what you have been wanting to see." I remember saying "Well it isn't much but it ought to grow since it is on the Santa Fe Railroad, and there seems to be plenty of water."

We visited the business houses, which didn't take very long. We even visited the old wooden structure courthouse. The two people I recall meeting on my first trip to Muleshoe was Ray Griffiths, at the Griffiths Grain Elevator (I was quite impressed with Ray) and on down the street, realtor R.L. Brown, who began to brag on the possibilities that Muleshoe had, including plenty of shallow water. I didn't doubt that because as we gazed down main street, about all we could see was puddles of water (and thanks to our good Lord we still have an abundance of good shallow under-ground water.)

MORE HERE IN '32

In 1932, I first made Bailey County my home, when I was elected as principal of Longview School system, along with my brother, Harvie, Mrs. Winifred Young, and Mrs. Earl Edwards. We were advised that we would be paid in vouchers and that we might be able to cash them at 10 percent discount by E.R. Hart Co. However, the board had made arrangement with the Muleshoe State Bank to pay us our first month's salary in cash. I drew the handsome sum of $125.00, one teacher drew $90.00, and the other two $85.00. At the end of the month, I went in to cash the vouchers. The banker asked me if I knew what the school ought to do, and when I asked "What" he said, "They ought to close that damn school." I asked him if he really meant it and he said, "I sure as hell do," but he gave me the cash.

RECORD COLD

The coldest weather I have ever seen occurred during Feb. of that school year at Longview when the thermometer dropped to 25 degree below zero. This cold spell blew in on Monday and the school buses didn't run for the rest of the week. My brother, Harvie and I were living in the teacherage and "hatching" three of the neighborhood boys, Clyde Galigher, Fayne Cash, and Dooye Scott, had come by to go to a "42" party at Willie Ellis, with us. We hadn't gone far before my '28 Chevy froze up, and we hardly made it back to the teacherage. After thawing out and playing a few hands of "42", the boys began to talk about going home. All of them living as much as three miles or more away. I told them that we had only one bed, but I had rather sleep five in a bed than to attempt to take them home.

FIVE IN A BED

We pulled the bed into the living room and kept a fire going all night, taking turns adding coal to the stove. The next morning there were 8 - 10 inches of snow on the ground, and it was plenty cold. For two days and three nights we didn't see another soul and we really caught up on our "42" playing. Finally, about noon of the third day, one of the boys father's came looking for them. During the spell we five boys had eaten our two weeks supply of groceries, and burned a good portion of the school's supply of coal.

The next October, before school started, my new wife and I both resigned our positions in the Longview schools, because I had accepted a job as county agriculture agent, and could make more than both of us could make at teaching.

In 1945 when I decided to go into business for myself, I picked Muleshoe as the most promising town I could find, and joined Myron in the Insurance business. The highway sign showed the population of Muleshoe to be 1337, but I believe they got that figure from R.L. Brown, one of Muleshoe's biggest boosters.

Our house and R.G. Spences' house were the only houses south of Green Hospital where Dr. L.T. Was the town's only doctor and Dorothy was his Girl Friday. Gatewood was our next nearest neighbor until the Thurman White house, and Findley house were built.

The ranch fence was within throwing distance. Roy Jordan's house was about the last house to the west, and, of course, there was nothing across the tracks, or down the Sudan highway.

What is now Mary DeShazo was the only school building and there were no beautiful church buildings. There was no funeral home, but Steed's kept an ambulance in alamo type building where our office now stands and Howard Cox ran it.

BOUGHT FIRST LAND

After our first year in business I told Myron that we should invest in some land around Muleshoe, but he advised me that Muleshoe was hemmed in by the Muleshoe Ranch, owned by the Warrens of Three Oaks, Mich.; and handled locally by Mrs. Stone who wouldn't sell an acre of the land. It had already been tried. I told him I was going to make friends with Mr. Stone and try to buy some of the land. It wasn't long until we bought 30 acres of the land, south of the hospital, and soon had an opportunity to buy 20 acres on the Clovis Highway, about where the Legion Hall is today, but was advised that the town would never go that far! I've been kicking myself ever since, as well as others who didn't share my enthusiasm.

I still believe Muleshoe and Bailey County is one of the most promising and substantial areas in the nation.

I think it will continue to grow and prosper. I don't believe any area can be better than its citizens, so let us make great strides in the next 50 years.

G/T Teacher At New Orleans For Convention

Alice Liles attended the 34th Annual Convention of the National Association for Gifted Children held in New Orleans November 10-11, 1987, taking part in a variety of workshop sessions and activities designed to help teachers, parents and administrators better meet the needs of gifted children and youth.

Mrs. Liles attended presentations on topics of importance to those working with the gifted, including identification, curriculum and instruction, guidance and counseling, underachievement, special populations and many more.

Mrs. Liles is a teacher at Watson Junior High where she teaches sixth, seventh and eighth grade gifted students as well as seventh grade reading.

Alice Liles is the first recipient of the MultiPro Grant offered by the Muleshoe I.S.D. This grant provides supplementary funds that a local campus committee can disperse to teachers for professional development.

"The Special Project Fund is designed as an individualized incentive program. It is founded on the belief that the support of activities which lead to professional development or enhanced job satisfaction should ultimately result in improved student performance," concludes H. John Fuller, superintendent.

Some Thoughts On A Newspaper's Role

(Editor's Note: Alan Blanchard, managing editor of The Clovis News-Journal, seems to say it very well in explaining the role of a newspaper. His column Casually Speaking, carried the following item on Tuesday, November 17.)

"The job of the newspaper is to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable."

"F.P. Dunne
"American Journalist
(1867-1936)"

The newspaper's role in society, as expressed by Mr. Dunne, applies as much today as it did in younger years. Or does it?

While I operate on the assumption that this principle is still a valid one for the 1980's others can and do disagree. Good news is the only news fit for publication, some argue.

As coincidence would have it, I was recently given advice along similar lines by two local citizens, Len Vohs and Clint Tidenberg. The counsel, sincerely and separately offered on different days, came to me in this clinche: "If you cannot say anything nice, do not say anything at all."

Misters Vohs and Tidenberg told me they were taught this saying from childhood. The teaching was also included in my rearing. And it is a good one that promotes good will among individuals.

However, I question the logic behind the thought that a general circulation newspaper should report only "Good news." It conflicts with the concept of a newspaper mirroring or reflecting life in the communities it serves. The so-called good and bad.

While crime stories published in the News-Journal are sometimes characterized as "negative news," these stories represent a small portion of this newspaper's coverage.

Most of what we publish is what one might refer to as good news. The majority of what we publish includes things like: wedding stories, anniversary stories, engagement stories, birthday announcements, women's club news, civic club news, sports events, sports feature stories, human interest stories, stories on our city and our area schoolchildren, stories on our city and area churches, stories on our city and area industry, stories on local citizens with terminal illnesses that always result in an outpouring of assistance from generous residents, photographs of local people, places and things.

Put in perspective, the News-Journal publishes a greater percentage of so-called "Positive news" than it does of any other kind. But human nature, being what is, probably notices and remembers the exceptional and occasional crime story more.

A newspaper also catches flak from government and chamber entities when it expresses an opinion different from theirs. Our newspaper's stance on things like a proposed civic center and library are but two examples.

We praise some things and criticize others. We formulate our opinions based on the facts as we see them. However, we restrict our opinions to the Opinion Page. Because we make our own mind up on the stances we take, we cannot be a booster for any governmental or quasi-governmental entity. But then that is fodder for another column.

The bottom line is this. A newspaper exists to dispense two kinds of news. News that you want to know about. And news that you need to know about because it will affect you in some way.

Joe Gresham Funeral Service Set For Today

Funeral services for Joe D. Gresham, 54, of the Morton area, will be held at 3 p.m. today, Sunday, in the First Baptist Church at Morton with Rev. Richard Grisham, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bovina, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. Garland Stewart, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bledsoe, N.M. Interment will be in Morton Memorial Cemetery, under direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Morton.

He died at 12:31 p.m. Friday in Cochran Memorial Hospital, after suddenly becoming ill.

Joe D. Gresham was born September 20, 1933 in Brownfield, and had lived in Cochran County for the past 19 years. He was a farmer. He was married to the former Necie Cooper on May 10, 1952 in Morton.

He was a member of the Bledsoe Baptist Church at Bledsoe.

Survivors include his wife, Necie, of the home; a son, Kirby Joe Gresham, Levelland; a daughter, Tamara Dee Wishard, Alvarado; his mother, Mrs. T. A. Gresham, Morton; three sisters, Dean Haywood, Brownfield; Juanita Click, Grapeland and Evelyn Patton, Price, Utah; one brother, Wayne Gresham, Albuquerque and six grandchildren.

SPS Files For Fuel Cost Credit

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) Tuesday filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) for approval to credit its Texas retail customers about $11 million for fuel-cost savings. The "typical" residential customer, based on monthly usage of 600 kilowatt-hours, will receive about a $10 credit.

The proposed refund includes interest at an annual rate of 11.7 percent. Most SPS customers will receive the one-time credit in their December bills. The remaining consumers will receive their refunds in January.

Students Invited For European Trip

Johanna Wrinkle is planning to take a student group to England and Europe next summer with the American Institute of Foreign Study.

A 10-day June trip is planned.

The students will see the birthplace of English Literature in England and historical sites in Europe.

If you would like to give your child or grandchild a gift that would be a 'dream come true,' said Mrs. Wrinkle, plus great educational value, contact Mrs. Wrinkle at 272-3673 after 5 p.m.

A parent-student meeting will be held the week after Thanksgiving. A date and time will be announced later this week.

School Board Makes Decision

On Two Meetings

During a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District at 7 p.m. Monday night, one of the items to be considered will be to approve two regular meetings a month for the Board of Trustees.

Since about three-four months ago, the board has been meeting twice a month to see if it would be feasible to continue meeting twice monthly.

Other items under business include to consider request from Randal Long to De-Annex land; approval of the audit following presentation from Sudduth-Field & Co.; request to purchase two new school buses; policy approval for open forum; approval to appoint career ladder committee for the 1987-88 school year; approval to appoint committee to study sex education program and ratifying appointments to Textbook Committee.

Personal considerations will be made during the executive session, along with an information item concerning a student.

Special reports will be given by the board president and the superintendent of schools.

"Several factors made this refund possible," said Sam Hunter, SPS vice president of rates and economic research. "We purchased coal and natural gas, which are major costs in generating electricity, at lower prices. Additionally, the mild summer allowed us to operate only our most efficient power plants, and SPS has continued to improve the efficiency of its generating units."

Hunter pointed out SPS recently was cited as seventh best among the 100 largest investor-owned electric utilities in the United States, in terms of generating efficiency.

Lazbuddie Student Reports On Girls State

Miss Amy Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roy Daniel of Lazbuddie was selected by her teachers to represent Lazbuddie High School at Girls State during June of last summer. On her return, Amy delivered the following report:

"I remember being told that I was chosen to attend Girls State. I was excited, but confused because I didn't know quite what to expect. After getting there, I realized what it was and how things worked.

I arrived at the Amarillo airport on Tuesday morning, June 16th, to find girls there who were just as confused as I. I realized then that it would be an experience never forgotten. There were twenty-eight girls there from the Panhandle that helped to make up the 588 girls at Girls State.

We arrived at three in the afternoon at Texas Lutheran College in Sequin. We were met by Miss Goff, our director, and girls singing and dancing. These girls were to be our junior and senior counselors during our stay at Girls State. As time passed, I found out that they were just as special as us because they had once attended Girls State also.

After our arrival, we received our name tags and were assigned to a city, a political party, and the House or the Senate. I was a Nationalist, a Representative, and a citizen of City L, which was in Jejas County. The girls from City L were better known as "the Letric Ladies of Lightning Lane."

We deposited money in the Girls State Bank. We were informed that we could write checks if we needed to buy anything. On Wednesday, June 17th, we held city elections. Then on Thursday, June 18th, we held party elections. Afterwards, they announced our party platforms. The Nats were for proposal of a state lottery, prison reform, stricter penalties for child abusers, and the revision of House Bill 72.

On Saturday, June 19th, we held state elections. The Nats took most of the positions. Sheila Hayre, from Houston, took the Governor position, and Glenda Clausell, also from Houston, took the Lt. Governor position.

On Monday, June 21st, we left from Sequin in twelve yellow school buses for the State Capitol. The Girls State officials were inaugurated by the Lt. Governor and other state officials. The Honorable Ann Richards, Secretary of State, spoke with us. She was a very good speaker and inspired us all.

During our House and Senate convenements at Girls State, we debated bills, and decided whether or not to pass them. If they were passed, they went to the Senate, and if they passed there, they went to the Governor. It was just like our real state government.

At first, I thought I wouldn't like Girls State. After the first day, when things got started, I knew I would never forget the experience. I met friends I will always remember, and every one of the counselors, staff members, and speakers were unforgettable. I learned a lot of things I never knew that will affect me for the rest of my life. I recommend Girls State to any girl who gets the chance to go. Don't pass up this opportunity."

Bring back the "Good old days" ... with GTE CLASSIC SERVICE.

GTE TURNS BACK THE CLOCK WITH CLASSIC SERVICE.

Remember "the good old days?" Whatever problems you had with your phone service, you'd just call GTE and we'd take care of it. No second thoughts. No repair bill. Your regular phone bill covered everything.

Now, under recent FCC rulings, you're responsible for the cost of repairs to the wiring and jacks inside your home or business. This makes things a little more complicated.

CLASSIC SERVICE HELPS KEEP THINGS MORE LIKE THEY USED TO BE.

We can't bring back "the good old days" entirely but, with new CLASSIC SERVICE, we can make things more like the way they were.

With CLASSIC SERVICE, you pay only $1.25 per month to have GTE repair your telephone wiring and jacks during normal working hours, at no additional charge.

Just $1.25, per telephone number, on your monthly phone bill (about 4¢ a day) covers you, no matter how many jacks you have. And if you sign up before JANUARY 1, 1988, you can avoid the one-time sign-up charge.

Here's how you'll save with CLASSIC SERVICE ...

NO SERVICE CALL CHARGES

Without CLASSIC SERVICE, if you have a problem with your phone service, and a GTE service call is needed to locate the trouble, you will be charged for the visit if the problem turns out to be in your wiring, jacks, or telephone instrument.

With CLASSIC SERVICE, there is no service call charge during normal working hours.

GTE CLASSIC SERVICE

NO REPAIR COSTS

With CLASSIC SERVICE there is no additional charge for repair or replacement of inside wiring and jacks*. If you elect not to subscribe to CLASSIC SERVICE and need inside wiring or jack repairs, you have three options:

- As a full-service telephone company, GTE will be happy to make the repairs. But under the new FCC ruling, if you have not subscribed to CLASSIC SERVICE, you will be charged.

- Or, you contract with a third party for repairs, but rates and qualifications vary widely.

- Or, you can make the repairs yourself, but you'll have to supply your own materials. With CLASSIC SERVICE, there is no service call charge. No repair charge. No worry. That's why we call it "CLASSIC."

HERE'S WHAT CLASSIC SERVICE COVERS ...

- Service call charges
- Identification of the problem.
- Repair or replacement of inside wiring and jacks.

Like anything else, your telephone wiring can deteriorate with age and exposure to air and humidity. CLASSIC SERVICE covers this damage, as well as damage caused by natural disasters such as floods or lightning.

*Coverage does not include ...

- Willful damage
- Damage due to negligence
- Telephone instrument repair

AND NOW, NO SIGN-UP CHARGE UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1988.

Whatever problems you may encounter with your phone service, we urge you to call GTE first, even if you don't have CLASSIC SERVICE, because in many cases we can correct the problem from "our end." But if the problem does turn out to be inside your premises, won't it be nice to have CLASSIC SERVICE protection?

Sign up for CLASSIC SERVICE before JANUARY 1, 1988 and avoid a sign-up charge.

Sudan News
by Evelyn Ritchie

Bonnie Sutton of West Virginia visited in Sudan Monday and spent the night with Mabel Reed. She also visited Mickie Stephens and other friends. She had broken her wrist a few days prior to her visit here while she was in Lubbock.

Visitors in the home of Wayne and Gil Rogers from Monday until Wednesday were her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J.T.Baird, and a sister-in-law, Bessie Baird, all of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Doty were in Littlefield Tuesday night to attend a birthday celebration for their granddaughter, Crystal Doty, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Doty. Also present were Daniel Doty, Tracie Dolle, Paul and Mary Galvan, and Crystal's other grandparents, Ray and June Smith. Cake and ice cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick West were in Canyon Sunday to visit their daughter and family, the Gary Kellys. They also visited her mother, Stella Chester, in Hereford.

It was reported that Sudan residents taken to the Amherst hospital during the week were Otis Wiseman, Bud DeLoach, Mrs. Roy Graves, and Mrs. I.M. Lambert.

Louise Parrish has been a patient this week in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

We really appreciate the nice bags that were decorated and brought to us by Mrs. Kenneth Precure's young people of the First Bapt. Church.

We are so pleased with our new drapes that were made possible for us by the Jenny-slippers. They are just beautiful! If you haven't seen them come by for a view. We love to show them off.

We are now the proud owners of a nice aquarium. We are sure it will bring a lot of enjoyment. Thank you Gerald and Lula Maye Shanks for this gift.

Our thanks to Ruth Riley who did a wonderful job of keeping things going while I was off a week.

Among those visiting this week were Lena Hawkins and J.E. Embry, Lona Embry.

Curtis Shelburne visited Monday and played Skip-Bo with the residents. He also brought several issues of The Appeal Magazine, for interested persons to read.

EMS Educator From Lubbock 1987 Honoree

The South Plains region's EMS Educator was recently voted the 1987 Texas "EMS Educator of the Year." Ms. Bonnie Jackson, the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center EMS Training Program Coordinator, was awarded at the recent State EMS Conference in Austin. The award is based on votes cast statewide by EMS personnel and volunteers.

Jackson, EMT-Paramedic, has taught EMS for 13 years as an Advanced Care and Basic Care Life Support instructor. Also she has coordinated the EMS Training of many South Plains students in ACLS, BCLS and Prehospital Trauma Life Support.

Most South Plains EMS services are staffed by Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) trained by the TTUHSC EMS Training Program which Jackson coordinates. She also serves on the South Plains EMS Executive Board as well as the State Advisory Council Educators Committee.

FB Membership All-Time High For This State

Membership in the Texas Farm Bureau has reached an all-time high of 334,162 member families, according to S.M. True, president.

True said tabulations just completed for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 showed that the Texas organization gained 10,363 member families over last year, marking the 35th consecutive year to show a gain.

Don Neumann, director of field services for the TFB, said a total of 159 county Farm Bureaus showed an increase in members. There are 216 county Farm Bureaus in the state.

Texas Farm Bureau has been the largest state Farm Bureau in the nation for the past five years. The American Farm Bureau Federation has a membership of 3.5 million in 49 states (all except Alabama) and Puerto Rico.

The 20 largest county Farm Bureaus in Texas, listed by size, are: Harris, Collin, Fort Bend, Brazos, Ellis, McLennan, Bell, Jefferson, Houston, Brazoria, Fayette, Tarrant, Bexar, Van Zandt, Hidalgo, Wharton, Washington, Starr, Denton, and Dallas.

The Farm Bureau is an independent general farm organization financed by voluntary membership dues.

BIBLE VERSE

"We know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose."

1. Who made the above statement?
2. To whom was he writing?
3. What character trait does an acceptance of this statement develop?

- Answers to Bible Verse
1. Paul the great Apostle.
 2. The Christians who were then living in Rome.
 3. Faith in the goodness and wisdom of God and his plan for one's life.
