Mavericks Set For Major Test In District 8-A Dublin Game

Who Will Win? Eastland or Dublin?

Turn to the sports page of this issue of The Eastland Daily Telegram and read The Maverick's Corral column in which The Wrangler makes another of his amazing predictions.

During the past two weeks, the Wrangler has picked the winner in every game in District 8-A and in several instances the exact score or close to it.

Just for good measure, the Wrangler displayed his uncanny ability, by declaring that Rice would upset Southern Methodist University.

Passes Seem Biggest Threat Against Mavs' Victory Hopes

The blue chips will be down when Eastland plays Dublin there Friday night at 8 o'clock, in the first major District 8-A contest of the season for the Mavericks.

Pre-game dopsters rate the contest as a toss-up, with the challenging teams evenly matched in weight, experience and season records.

Coach Wendell Siebert's Mavericks will enter the fray, fresh from a 12-6 non-conference win over Winters last Friday, while Coach Dillard Adair's Lions fell 25-7 to a strong Ranger delegation. For the season, Eastland has three wins and two losses, while Dublin has won three and lost three.

Here's how the teams stack up for the season:

|---------------------------|
| Eastland 0, Coleman 19. |
| Eastland 0, Albany 26. |
| Eastland 20, DeLeon 7. |
| Eastland 26, Graham B 13. |
| Eastland 12, Winters 6. |

Cotton Still Rolling Into Gin

Cotton from the field of farms surrounding Ranger continued to roll into the Ranger Gin today as the wheels of the once silent gin hummed with the pressure of work to be done.

T. D. Lauderdale, operator of the gin, stated that in the eight days of operation of the gin, 104 bales have been turned out. He said that early this morning farmers had notified him by telephone that they would be in today with more cotton.

The gin actually opened for operation on October 10 but actual ginning operations have been going about eight days. On the opening day five bales of cotton were brought to the gin. Lauderdale expects to gin anywhere from 300 to 500 bales of cotton during the season.

Pressure of cotton farmers from the area led to the opening of the gin this fall and installation of new equipment was rushed in order to accommodate the farmers of the area. All required sterilization machinery was installed and repairs made to other equipment.

SENATOR MYERS PRAISES WORK OF 81ST CONGRESS

By FRANCIS J. MYERS
 U. S. Senator From Pennsylvania;
 Democratic Whip
 (Written For The United Press)
 WASHINGTON Oct. 20 (UP)—
 Has the 81st Congress "made good?"

Of course I may be a little prejudiced on that matter, but— even allowing for that, and even considering all of the many things we have not accomplished in this first session but have postponed until next year— I think this congress has done a generally excellent job, a simply amazing job.

No, we have not yet passed in full the Truman program. We haven't, it's true written into law every one of the planks of the Democratic platform adopted at Philadelphia in 1948.

But we have made a start— in most cases a pretty solid start— on nearly all of those planks in our platform and in the Truman program and we have already enacted into law extensive portions of that program, including some which have been blocked and killed in a succession of previous congresses.

The congress which was elected in 1948 was selected for two years. The platform which we drew up at Philadelphia in 1948 was to chart our party's program— project it— over a period of the four years of the Truman administration.

Looking at the record of this first session, we find that the most important single phase of our program—the achievement of a decent world of free peoples at peace— has been adhered to by this congress with a devotion, an intensity and a willingness which has seldom been equalled by any congress in our history.

Programs like the Marshall plan, reciprocal trade, United Nations participation, voice of America, and others— which were fought over bitterly in the 80th congress, attacked ferociously, nibbled at, and in fact, were almost destroyed— were pushed through the 81st congress this session in full vigor, and for one reason only: Because the Democratic majority which believed in these programs held together and pushed them through. And then we followed through, with the North Atlantic Pact and the arms program.

Perhaps we cannot in these two years accomplish all of the legislative goals we have set. We do not admit that, however, and we have no intention of slackening our efforts. On civil rights, although we have now been saddled in the senate by a Bi-Partisan coalition of Republicans and anti-civil rights democrats with a horribly retrogressive rule for attempting to shut off filibusters, we are going to fight down the line for the passage of the bills we promised in our 1948 platform.

Yes, I firmly believe this congress has done a good job— a simply amazing job when compared to the 80th, and when compared to the erepe-hanging predictions last spring of our "failures."

Next year, and next year's achievements will give the final standards by which to gauge the 81st congress. In the meantime, don't let the republicans fool you with their howls. Look at what they did.

Dwarf Cattle Just A Stunt Trainer Admits

JAMESTOWN, N. D. Oct. 20 (UP)—Animal trainer Gene Holter admitted today that he bought five head of dwarf cattle from a stockman who didn't want to be known as a breeder of stunted animals.

His story about finding them in a "lost canyon" was started at the stockman's request, Holter said. He said he paid $170 for the five under-size Herefords, averaging 200 pounds. They are 24 to 28 inches high.

L. Cadieux, a local photographer who took pictures of the tiny animals, viewed the whole affair as a "stunt."

"People are saying it's the best stunt that's been pulled off around here for years, but it got a little bit out of hand," Cadieux said.

Meanwhile, midget cattle turned up in normal channels at Marshalltown, Ia.

Ochoa Indicted In Laredo Murder

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—A Webb County Grand Jury indicted George W. Ochoa, Debon air customs broker, for the July 31 murders of two men in a Laredo hotel.

But scar-faced Ochoa still had his freedom. He vanished into Mexico shortly after the slayings, and there his trail was lost.

He was indicted yesterday in the deaths of Henry D. Whittenburg, Jr., a prominent Rio Grande Valley cotton ginner, and ex-air force Cpl. James Lindsay, of Ft. Worth, Tex., and Onelda, Tenn. Twenty-six witnesses appeared before the grand jury.

Among them were Rose Mary Cruse, San Antonio, who was in Whittenburg's hotel room when the killer walked in and abruptly opened fire, and Armando Jalomo, a bellboy at the Hotel Plaza.

Jalomo has said that he directed Ochoa to Whittenburg's room shortly before the fatal shooting.

Both Miss Cruse and Jalomo are under bond, as material witnesses for the state.

Police Chief David O. Gallagher said that both Lindsay and Whittenburg were acquainted with Ochoa's wife, who has remained at the Laredo home while the search for her husband goes on in Mexico. Mrs. Ochoa an attractive brunette, declined to talk with reporters yesterday.

Carbon Wolverines To Play South Taylor Here Friday

The Carbon Wolverines will play South Taylor on Maverick Field in Eastland Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in a 10-B District game.

Coach Brandt said the Wolverines will be playing again without the services of their backfield ace Gene Clark, who dislocated an arm in practice two weeks ago. Clark was unable to play last week in the drubbing given Carbon by Clyde, because of the injury.

The Indians of Todos Santos, Guatemala, could pose for "Uncle Sam" cartoons. In their red and white striped trousers and blue jackets, the men of this isolated highland village lack only the familiar tall hat.

DRUGS TO CURE FUNGUS DISEASES DISCOVERED

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (UP)—Several "highly promising" new drugs have been discovered and are now undergoing tests on human beings, a chemist disclosed today.

The new drugs include fungistatin and bacillomycin which, according to Dr. Peter Regna, have activity against some of the fungus diseases. Athlete's Foot is among the fungus diseases.

Regna, who is affiliated with the Charles Pfizer & Co., Pharmaceutical house and a large manufacturer of penicillin, said that the scientists today are broadening their search for new drugs to find agents that will go after the viruses, such as cause polio and the common cold.

In a report to the American Chemical Society, Regna said "several highly promising antibiotics (drugs) which may fulfill some of the needs, have been isolated and are now being evaluated clinically."

The most valuable drugs isolated in the last two years, he said are polymyxin, aureomycin, chloromycetin and anti-fungal agents, such as fungistatin and bacillomycin.

"While the administration polymyxin has been observed to produce certain toxic manifestations (unfavorable side reactions)," he said, "it has been used with success in the treatment of whooping cough, colon bacillus infections

A LONG WAY HOME, BUT JEWELER ENJOYED IT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(UP)—John Williams had a lesson in geography today and a new excuse for coming home late.

The spry 74-year-old jeweler flew from Newark, N. J. to Dallas and back to La Guardia field in New York in an attempt to reach his home at Fall River, Mass.

It was just a cross-country mix-up, red-faced American Airlines officials apologized. Williams boarded an airliner at Newark Tuesday night and took off for what he thought would be the short flight to Providence, R. I. He parked his car there earlier in the day before flying to New York on a buying trip.

When he heard passengers around him looking forward to sights in Mexico City, he just flipped the pages of a magazine contentedly and mused on the idiosyncracies of people who fly.

Five minutes after departure a hostess looked at his ticket. "She just seemed startled and left right away," Williams said. F. J. Robinson, an airlines official came up to him.

"Where are you going, sir?" Robinson asked.

"Providence," came the reply. "Well, your next stop is Dallas," Robinson answered.

He explained the plane Williams had boarded mistakenly was on a special flight, taking travel agents to Mexico for a convention.

When the plane landed after midnight at Dallas American arranged a hotel room for its unexpected guest. The Airline also bought his meals yesterday, took him on a tour of the city and reissued tickets for the trip to Providence.

His return flight got Williams into New York last night. He planned to take another plane at 12:50 P. M. EST today—in another try to get to Providence.

"They told me not to worry about anything," Williams laughed. "Well, I didn't. I enjoyed it. That was my first trip west of Washington. Maybe I'll tour the whole country next year—by car that is."

Railroad To Use Trucks

SPRINGFIELD, O. (UP)—The New York Central Railroad announced that trucks will supplant trains for a new type of service. The co-ordinating rail-truck service will be used for transporting small packages or shipments known as "less than carload freight."

An electric clock-radio is on the market. The compact plastic-encased combination can be stood on its base or hung on the wall.

The cost of the Alaska Highway was $138,000,000.

THE FROG BOMBERS—This trio will be shooting at putting T. C. U.'s 1949 passing total past the 1000-yard mark this week when the Frogs play host to Ole Miss, one of the top ten teams of the nation for 1948, at 8 o'clock Saturday night at T. C. U. Stadium. Already they have to their credit more 1949 pass completions for T. C. U. (70) than for any other team in the nation. They are, left to right, Roy Bassinger of Hillsboro; Lindy Berry of Wichita Falls; and

Texans To Offer New Plan For Support Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—A committee of West Texas farmers, ginners and oil mill operators were in Washington today to present a new plan for handling cottonseed support prices to officials of the production and marketing administration.

Members of the committee, who were to be given a hearing by PMA officials this afternoon, said they would urge authorization for ginners to buy seed at the prevailing market, with the farmer receiving reimbursement of the difference between that price and the government support of $45.50 per ton.

At a meeting in Lubbock, Tex., recently, representatives of the oil mill operators, ginners and farmers agreed that the present cottonseed support program was "unworkable and has cost the cotton-belt millions of dollars."

Here for the conference were George A. Simmons and Roy B. Davis, Lubbock cotton oil men; Ray Grisham, cotton oil man from Abilene, Tex.; W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock county ginner and farmer; Logan Sowder, Idalou, Tex., ginner and farmer, and G. L. Jackson, Abernathy, Tex., farmer.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: After Tod Duncan's fiancée, Liz Conover, elopes with another man, Tod turns to his old friend Jenny Fairbank. A quick courtship results in marriage for the rebounder, although Tod tells Jenny and tries to convince himself that it is all over with Liz. Tod has not told his family that he has married Jenny because, he explains, "they'd raise such a fuss."

VII
JENNY and Tod had planned to settle down in the house on Catalpa street, at least until they were adjusted to each other. But they returned from Chicago to find the final eviction notice waiting in the mailbox.

"Well," Tod said lightly, "if worst comes to worst we can always live in Ma's apartment. I'm buying the rent for it anyhow till they can find something cheaper. After all, Joe could sleep on the couch in the living room."

"But Tod, you know what they say about living with your in-laws."
Tod laughed and gathered her in his arms and kissed her. "Gooose," he whispered, "what difference does it make where we live as long as we're together?"

"No difference," she whispered back, the words coming out muffled. "I'd live in a tent."
"Maybe it's a good thing," he pointed out. "I'd hate to live here anyway. It's an undesirable neighborhood."

Jenny stiffened ever so slightly. "Well," she admitted, "perhaps it is, but Pop and I lived here so long it seems like home to me."
"That's just it, darling. You're used to it and don't really see how sordid and shabby it really is. I'd hate for any of my old friends to find me living in a joint like this."

There was a short silence, and Jenny, realizing they could very easily quarrel, put her hands on either side of his face and said softly, "It's silly to discuss whether we should stay here when we can't anyway."
It was the first hint of a certain firm look on Ma's face stopped her.

"You might as well get it straight right now, Jenny," she said. "Tod made a perfect fool of himself gettin' married just to spite Liz Conover."

"Now Ma," Tod's face turned crimson.

"You know it wasn't a thing else than that," Ma went on. "You just wanted to show Liz you could get married too. But I never thought a son of mine would be dumb enough to cut off his nose to spite his face."

Harriet paused in her work, and there was a smug expression on her dark face as she put in her nickel's worth. "Liz probably won't even see that little old notice stuck in with all the other marriage licenses, so I don't know what good it does you."

"Cut it out!" Tod said. "I didn't marry Jenny to spite Liz. This is certainly a fine way to welcome us."

THERE was a long chilly silence. Harriet began twisting strands of Ma's gray hair into pin curls again. After a moment or two Ma spoke again sullenly. "Put your stuff in the bedroom. Joe got his things moved out. Where he's going to hang his clothes I don't know. 'Less it's in the pantry."

Ma ignored him. "I ain't got time to get any fancy breakfasts for anybody either. It's enough to get my own and Harriet's and Joe's 'fore I go to work."
"I expect to help around the apartment with the work," Jenny said, her first words.

Ma's plump face didn't soften in the least. "I don't want anybody messin' in my kitchen neither, after I've got things red up and gone to work!"
"Come on, Jenny," Tod said. She followed him into the living room where he picked up their suitcases. He motioned her into the bedroom, set the suitcases down and shut the door, and then turned to her.

"Tod we can't stay!" Jenny whispered.

"They'll get over being hateful. Don't pay any attention to 'em."

The Jay Parker Co., are still bringing in oil wells in the area, even though most everyone else seems to have folded up and slipped away, except the Parker Co. and C. W. Hoffman. The Jay and Parker No. 2 Daniels has just gauged 43 bbls. of 40.3 gravity crude on its potential test. C. W. Hoffman's outfit drilled this for the Jay and Parker boys.

The gin owned by Mr. Key is breaking out in the news this year here at Gorman. For five years the institution has not paid Mr. Key enough for him to feel he has pocket change. Now they are bringing the lint in from as far away as Cisco and the gin is having maintain 2 crews to run day and night. It seems that far West Texas is not the only one who is raising cotton this year.

Milliner Claims She Married Oil Man 43 Years Ago

HAYS, Kan., Oct. 20.—(UP)

—A prominent milliner here claimed today that she had been married secretly to Mark Hadley, wealthy oilman and rancher, for 43 years and said she would contest his will.

Hadley died of a heart attack last week, leaving his entire estate to local institutions.

Decilia Deane said she and Hadley were married in a Catholic Church in Damar, Kan., in 1906.

"The marriage was kept secret because I would not have been welcome in the Hadley home," she said.

The estate's worth is indefinite, based on oil royalties from the Hadley pool which has produced for more than 20 years.

The will provided that 85 per cent of the estate go to trustees of Hadley Memorial Hospital and 15 per cent to the retired minister's fund of the Methodist Church here. It also provided for a $20,000 cash gift to the local Methodist Church for purchasing a pipe organ. Hadley left no known survivors, his lawyer said.

An electric fan does not actually cool the air but sets it in motion. As the moving air passes across one's body, it increases evaporation from the skin, which causes a sensation of coolness.

In 350 B. C. the famed Greek physician, Hippocrates, "Father of Medicine," used a leather-soled boot in the treatment of club-foot.

The nation's annual milk supply is 57,000,000,000 quarts a year. It is valued at $8,000,000,000 a year.

Truman Looks To Mediation To Settle Strikes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(UP)—President Truman said today he still is relying on mediation and bargaining outside of the White House to settle both the soft coal and steel strikes.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that he has no plans at the present time to intervene in either dispute.

He said he is in close touch with settlement efforts in both disputes and is hopeful mediation and bargaining would settle the strikes in the near future.

The soft coal strike is a month old; the steel strike 20 days. Both are beginning to eat deeply into the nation's economy.

Mr. Truman said he has no plans to seize either the coal mines or the steel mills.

The President added sharply that the sooner Labor and Management in the coal and steel industries reach agreement on new contract terms, the better it will be for the country and themselves.

Federal mediators are continuing conferences in New York with officials of the U. S. Steel Corp., and the United Mine Workers met once again at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with northern and commercial coal operators.

THAT'S WHAT I CALL REAL SERVICE
And You ALWAYS Get It When You Use McCormick Equipment

One day, right in the middle of harvest, a customer hurried in and asked for a replacement part for his 10-year-old combine. I went to the parts bin, and as I came back and plunked the part down on the counter, he grinned and said: "That's what I like about using McCormick equipment. When I do need a part, you always have it or can get it right quick." He started to walk out, and I said, "How about letting our service man put that part on for you? Your machine might need a little adjustment here and there, and he can do that at the same time." He thought it over for a minute, and laid the part back on the counter. "Go ahead," he grinned. "I've got a couple of other things to take care of here in town anyway. The combine is standing in the field south of the house." He turned to go, and I mentioned, "If you're not at home by the time he puts on the part, I'll have him try the combine and look it over thoroughly and give you a report. Maybe we can get together and arrange to fix it ahead of time for next season and save you time and trouble." "Go ahead," he agreed again. "That's what I call real service!" We're Sure That Millions of Farmers and Consumers Feel Just as You Do!

One of the wonderful things about Americans is their great sense of fair play. Ever since the anti-trust lawyers announced their intention of putting A&P out of business, tremendous numbers of people like Mr. & Mrs. N. M. Davies of Congers, New York, have deluged us with letters, wires and phone calls. These people are telling us, as Mr. & Mrs. Davies do in the following letter, why they like A&P and why they don't want to see this company destroyed.

Gentlemen:

We have been distressed by the possibility that the A. and P. stores, because of unfair accusations, may cease to exist. I wonder if you will see that our letter reaches the proper source, if there is one.

We are farmers, as you know, and not only sell our products, but buy necessary food from local A. and P. stores. We deliver farm produce, daily, to approximately eighteen stores in nearby villages. This includes two A. and P. markets, whose managers very wisely buy on-the-spot, thus saving deterioration due to excess handling, transportation and longer time from the farm to store. Our price to sixteen stores is the same as we get from the two A. and P. stores.

We wondered whether the low prices we see all the time in A. and P. stores might mean that sales people were underpaid. Evidently not, for we have noticed that the same employees stay on year after year, and we know high-school students in our town who have started at the bottom with A. and P. and risen to responsible positions.

Then what is this all about, if the consumers, the salespeople, those who manufacture your brands, the truckmen, the laborers and the farmers are ALL satisfied?

We believe the answer is simple. The A. and P. has developed an organization whose efficiency should be an example to all stores handling food. If this were so, independent grocers could well expect larger profits. The solution is not in destroying something that has taken years to build, but in encouraging all merchants to still further improve the efficiency of their operations.

Very sincerely,

Niles M. Davies
Eunice Davies

For 90 years this company has tried to build a sound business on the basis of giving consumers more good food for their money and giving farmers better markets for their products.

It is heartening to know that the public approves of the job we have done... to know that our policy of fair, honest dealing has won us the friendship of millions of consumers and farmers.

We will always be grateful to all our good friends who have offered us their help. We are proud to live in a country where such things can happen.

EM Hamilton 42, DeLeon 6. Ranger 36, Comanche 7. Eastland 13, Dublin 7. Please pardon us while we pat ourselves modestly on the back. Cut three out of three last week. As predicted, the Mavericks were one touchdown better than Winters, tho the score was 12 to 6 instead of 19 to 13. And say, the crystal ball was really working on the Ranger-Dublin affair. We said the score would be 26 to 7 in Ranger's favor, while it was 25 to 7. Missed the score on the Hamilton-Comanche game considerably. Predicted 32 to 0, while it was 46 to 12. Hamilton and Ranger, top foes of District 8-A will have limbering up exercises with DeLeon and Comanche, respectively, before the BIG game Oct. 28 at Hamilton. Both Hamilton and Ranger coaches should be nice & let their opponents make at least one TD. The Eastland-Dublin affair is a different matter. Boy, is this going to be a close 'un. But the Eastland-Winters game was supposed to be close also, and the cotton and red-headed Mavs should be one TD better than Dublin.

Let us quote from last week's Corral: "Wouldn't be surprised if Rice should beat SMU Saturday in a major upset, but the crystal ball is cloudy on this one." Well, we just thought the crystal ball was cloudy. The outcome of that game and the way the Owls rose to greatness to down the mighty SMU team AND Doak Walker is history now.

Maverick Training Notes: The Mavs became basketball fans Tuesday night. Don't know if they were so much interested in the sport as the fact that some of the lovelies of Eastland High were playing similar lovelies of Ranger High. At anyrate, they formed a mighty cheering section for the girls, who really cheer for the boys when they are playing a football game. Monday night, the Mavs took in the Band Boosters skating rink out at Morton Valley and some of them also made a scout weiner roast, which about accounts for their social activities to date.

But late of an afternoon, they are at one place and that is Maverick Field and they haven't been going to a "tea" either. Coaches Siebert and Alexander have been putting their all in getting the boys ready for Dublin. Seems like it's about time the businessmen went back up to the high school and join the pep rally before the Dublin game. This is the crucial stage of the year for the Mavs and they need all the moral support they can get.

Let's back our Junior High team. If you want to see some football, where the boys really have the pep, go out to Maverick Field and see the Dogies play Comanche at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

'Family Affair' In District 8-A Set This Week

Reprinted From Abilene Reporter-News

It's strictly a "family affair" this week end in the six-team District 8-A. They tangle with each other in the second round of district play.

Eastland, Ranger, and Hamilton currently are tied for the lead in district competition and there is little indication that their standing will be changed after Friday night's game.

The Eastland Mavericks go to Dublin for a joust with the so-so Dublin eleven; the Ranger Bulldogs are host to the Comanche's inadequate Indians, and DeLeon plays at Hamilton.

District observers are of the opinion that the title will be decided next week end when Ranger and Hamilton tie into each other. In district competition to date, Eastland holds a 20-7 win over De Leon; Hamilton defeated Comanche 45-12; and Ranger bested Dublin, 25-6.

For the season, Ranger and Hamilton have the more impressive records. Ranger's record includes: An 18-6 win over Olney, a 20-13 victory over Stephenville; a 25-0 triumph over Burk Burnett; and the 25-6 decision over Dublin. Ranger's only loss was a 13-26 set back suffered at the hands of the Bowie Jackrabbits.

Hamilton, likewise, has suffered only one reverse for the season, a 14-19 loss to Brady. Hamilton wins include a 36-0 rout of Goldthwaite, 19-13 victory over San Saba, a 27-0 shutout over Coleman, and a 45-12 district win over Comanche.

Eastland has the third best record of the district. Eastland Mavericks won 20-7 over DeLeon, 26-13 over Graham "B" team; 12-6 over Winters.

The Mavericks lost 0-19 to Cole man and 0-26 to Albany.

Following are the season and district records of 8-A teams:

"For those extra years of reliable, trouble-free and economical refrigeration, Servel Gas Refrigerator is the only refrigerator to buy."

Proof: Servel Gas Refrigerator Stays Silent Lasts Longer

Mrs. Mabry, who bought her servel Gas Refrigerator in 1935, says, "It has never cost me even one cent to maintain my Servel. The one or two service calls in all these years have been cheerfully taken care of by the Lone Star Gas Company at no expense to me. I have used my Servel on both town and country gas and it has done an equally excellent job on both."

"This long life," Mrs. Mabry continues, "doubles the value of Servel due to its economy in operation. Many are the summer months when my gas bill has been less than two dollars for cooking, water heating and refrigeration.
