We've been dieting off and on (mostly off) for a year or two, but so far the results have not been very pleasing. We weigh something less than a ton—really not too heavy, but the wife thinks we are and her vote is the only one that counts. We will continue to diet even though we gain in length, breadth and weight. It makes her feel better to think we are starving. And if we depended on what she feeds us we would starve.

However, since moving to Eastland we have discovered a lot of loop holes, and we have taken advantage of them. Monday we wine and dine with the Rotarians, and Tuesday the Lions Club slips us a first class Methodist feed over at the church. Then all through the week we have little feeds, big feeds and banquets. Jim Horton and his antelope barbecue, Cattle growers and their barbecue, Texas Electric and their barbecue. Why at the end of each month we could easily put on 10 pounds weight. We are sure doing alright.

Then comes the Methodist Ladies and their Turkey Dinner. We came very near missing this for lack of funds but about 11:30 on the day of the dinner Doc Davis sent us a ticket, and we just had to quit work and go. The ladies didn't make anything on us, for we sure got our money's worth on a little more. Also we gained 3 pounds that day. Don't let this bother you however, if you have any unused "feed" tickets just bring them over. We will not neglect them no matter how busy we are.

We wondered for a while what prompted Doc to be so generous, but when we learned he had been in Dallas for a week taking Scottish Rite degrees of Masonry, we knew. They had just worked the appetite out of him. Pretty soon he will go over to Fort Worth for the Shrine, and even though he lives to tell the story, he probably won't be able to eat for a week, and while in that condition he might by chance slip us his Christmas turkey. If he doesn't we are giving notice to turkey growers right now—better watch your pens—we are going to have a gobble either by fair means or foul, so let's hope you are not the unlucky "furnisher."

We got a postal card Saturday from J. L. Dick of Olden. It seems we have another pleased customer for this column. He says he reads it every day, and likes it, because it takes the blues away. It so happens that Mr. Dick is the father of one of our bosses, and we hope he doesn't forget to praise the column in the presence of his son. Might have a good influence on him about the time he writes our weekly check. And if we know that we are grossly over paid now, we have never known to turn down a bonus or raise. We are just not built that way.

We though there was something wrong. It's to quiet around here. It's ten o'clock in the morning and we are the only employ on hand. O, yes it's Armistice day and we are closed. What a fool we have been for working. Two perfectly good hours lost. Right now we start for the creek. See you after the holiday.

Moroccan Given Sentence For Inciting Speech

RABAT, Morocco, Nov. 13 (UP)—Mahjoub Ben Seddik, prominent member of the Moroccan Independence Party and secretary-general of the Railroad Workers' Union, began a two-year prison sentence today.

He was convicted yesterday of inciting to murder and disturbing public order by telling a Moroccan audience that "we will have to kill . . . in order to achieve independence."

Horace Walker Case Called For Trial; Witnesses Begin Testimony

The first criminal case styled The State of Texas vs. Horace Walker, of Dallas, was called for trial in Breckenridge early yesterday, the jury was chosen and the taking of testimony began shortly after noon.

Walker is charged by indictment with embezzling funds from Eastland county. The case was transferred from Eastland to Stephens county.

He is being defended by the law firm of Erwin and Erwin of Dallas, Jimmy Martin of Dallas, and Ben J. Dean Sr., of Breckenridge.

The prosecution is being led by Elzo Bean, district attorney of Eastland, assisted by Frank Sparks of Eastland and E. H. Griffin, district attorney at Breckenridge.

Walker was originally hired as

Little Items Of Local Interest

Thirty some-odd years ago we lived in Amarillo, and while in that city we made the acquaintance of Omar O. Mickle. At that time we were editor of the Amarillo Daily News, and he was Drum Major of Khiva Shrine Drum Corps. When he walked in to this sanctum Monday and made himself known, an enjoyable hour was spent talking old times. We did not recognize him, but this Irish mug of ours is so ugly he said he never could forget it.

Joe L. Ward of Coleman and Eastland visited in our office Saturday afternoon. He is the father of Jesse L. Ward of 213 S. Maderia and a life long family friend of ours. Fact is we can't remember when we didn't know Mr. Ward. Sometimes we feel old, but that must be a kind of joke. Mr. Ward was a grown man with a family back in 1898 when we were in the second grade. He is now enjoying pretty fair health despite his 85 years. We have good health but haven't gained on him in age.

These few lines from the "Gay Philosopher" in Cisco Daily Press may be of interest to our readers:

NOTES ON THE football game at Eastland: If you ever start to build yourself a stadium, go over to Eastland and get a lesson on where not to build one. Getting out of the stadium grounds takes nearly as long as it does to play a game. Located just off busy Highway 80, it takes five or six policemen to keep the traffic moving and the system they use to park the cars lets about one car at a time out. They park three or four deep and you can't move until the man behind you is out of the way.

Wonder if the school officials hadn't ought to give some thought to scheduling football games after November 1 for Friday afternoon instead of nights. It was chilly at the Friday night game but not nearly as bad as last week or last year. It's hard on the players as well as fans. It's hard to throw or catch footballs with cold hands.

The hands of Cisco and Eastland high school looked very good indeed. They marched on the field together at the start and formed a huge USA and played the Star-Spangled Banner. Then, each team started halftime programs. Very good.

Train Collision Kills 20; Injures 49 Others

SIX VICTIMS TRAPPED UNDER FIVE LAYERS OF WRECKAGE

By CLIFF A. MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

EVANSTON WYO., Nov. 13 (UP)—Railroad crews today worked to separate a pile of wreckage "five layers deep" to reach six bodies trapped in the remains of two Union Pacific steamers that crashed yesterday, killing 20 persons and injuring 49 others.

A giant railroad crane, bulldozers and tractors tugged and hauled the mound of ripped steel on a snow-covered wholery. The pile of wreckage was moved clear of the three-way tracks. The eastbound line on which the crash occurred was cleared at 3:15 a.m. (MST) (5:15 a.m. EST).

Railroad officials said the bodies still in the wreckage were badly mangled. They were sighted near the center of the mound of debris.

"The wreckage is in layers," a worker said. "So far we've got down past two—there are three to go yet."

Lights were rigged at the wreck scene and snow—which caused the City of Los Angeles to slow down just before it was struck by its sister train the City of San Francisco—swept down from the surrounding hills.

The temperature was below zero.

Meanwhile, authorities planned to question a badly injured fireman to learn the cause of the crash.

John Branstetter, 38, Evanston, was the only survivor of the three men in the four-unit diesel engine of the City of San Francisco that plowed through the rear four cars of its sister east-bound train, the City of Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles to Chicago train had halted briefly at the Wyuta siding, four miles west of Evanston, so its engineer could determine if a snow-covered signal indicated he should proceed.

The City of Los Angeles had just started up again when the City of San Francisco smashed through the silver-painted observation car, ripping it apart like a tin can, and telescoped on through three pullmans.

Witnesses said there were several moments of horror-filled silence before screams of the injured rose from the snow covered wreckage.

A woman who saw the scene described it as looking "like my boy's train when he goes to bed at night."

All the passengers who were killed were on the City of Los Angeles. So were most of the 49 who were injured, 10 seriously.

The Los Angeles' rear brakeman, two porters and the observation car steward were killed.

Witnesses said that the fact the City of San Francisco was moving relatively slowly because of poor visibility prevented the casualty list from being much higher.

The trains smashed at 11:32 a.m. (MST) (2:32 p.m. EST) yesterday. They left their namesake cities on the west coast at 5 p.m. Sunday, carrying slightly more than 200 passengers—an extraordinarily light load. Normally, they run 10 minutes apart from Ogden, Utah, 70 miles west of Evanston, to their terminals in Chicago.

U. S. Delivers Stinging Rebuff To The Russians

PARIS, Nov. 13 (UP)—The United Nations delivered two stinging rebuffs to Russia today in key areas of the cold war—Germany and China.

First, the General Assembly voted 30 to 8 with 13 abstentions to debate Nationalist China's charge that the Kremlin is threatening China's independence.

Second, the assembly agreed by a vote of 47 to 6 with abstentions to discuss the establishment of a UN commission to determine the possibility of all-German elections to unify the split nation.

Russia fought bitterly against both moves.

On the German issue, which was the first step in the western big three's peace plan, Israel sided with the Soviets, but for different reasons. Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharet charged "the Nazi spirit has risen from the ashes of the Hitler regime" and any thought of German unification or rearm-

UN Rejects Red Cease Fire Bid

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Nov. 13 (UP)—The United Nations rejected today a virtual Communist demand for an immediate cease-fire in Korea.

A UN communique said acceptance of the Red proposal at this point might delay if not forestall the release of thousands of Allied war prisoners in Communist hands.

The UN will not agree to end the shooting until the disposition of war prisoners and enforcement of the truce have been assured, a UN spokesman said.

The showdown came during a marathon five-hour meeting of the joint subcommittee seeking to trace a cease-fire line and buffer zone across Korea. The subcommittee will meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

The UN communique said the Communists made it clearer than ever before that they want a cease-fire to take effect as soon as the truce line has been agreed upon "rather than when other essential matters are settled and an armistice is signed."

"Today's stand by the Communists was virtually a renunciation of their previously stated position that hostilities should continue during the armistice talks," the communique said.

"They would thus obtain success from the UN military operations. Agreement on other agenda items, including the question of prisoners of war, which is viewed with extreme importance by the UN command, could be delayed thereby, if not forestalled."

The Communist proposal specifically called for the cease-fire line to be based on the present battleline, with each side withdrawing two kilometers (1 1/4 miles) to form a buffer zone.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, the UN spokesman, said the Reds previously had tried to give the impression they were willing that the cease-fire line should move forward in accordance with the shifting battleline during the remainder of the truce talks.

But on Tuesday, he said, they "made no attempt to hide" their desire for an immediate de-facto cease-fire.

OPS Will Use The Singing Squibs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (UP)—The government is going in for singing commercials.

The Office of Price Stabilization revealed today that OPS officials in New York are lining up "name" talent to record squibs plugging price controls for use on radio and television station breaks.

In possible deference to listeners who don't like singing commercials, OPS said the idea would be tried out in the New York area before the squibs are aired nationwide.

Boy Scout Finance Drive Begin November 28; Committees Chosen

Mr. W. B. Pickens, Eastland Finance chairman for the Boy Scouts, has announced that the annual campaign for the Comanche Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America will be formally launched with an "Early Bird" breakfast on the morning of Nov. 28. Mr. Pickens said a number of the chairmen for the drive have already recruited and that the others will be in the near future.

This is the second Scout campaign held this year. The campaign held during the Spring was for the 1951 funds. This drive will be for the 1952 funds of the Council. Mr. Pickens said all of the towns in the whole Comanche Trail Council area are changing over to a fall campaign.

Mr. Grady Pipkin, Finance Chairman for the whole Council, said that the reasons for the change to a fall campaign are many. The principal reason, he stated, is to avoid conflicts with the many other drives held during the Spring of the year. Other reasons is that in the past some of the money of the Council was being spent before it was actually raised. The fall campaign will allow the Comanche Trail Council to know exactly how to plan its budget because the money will be raised before the financial year starts. Mr. Pipkin said that in the future all campaigns of the Council will be run in the fall of the year.

Chairman already recruited for the drive include the following men: H. J. Tanner, Prospect and Rating Chairman; Bruce Pipkin, Advance Gifts Chairman; Dr. Jim Whittington, Cyrus Frost, Jr., H. C. Westfall, members of the Advance Gift Team. O. H. Dick, Publicity Chairman, and Earl Woody, Auditor.

Methodist Men Plan Banquet For This P. M.

When the Cisco District Conference convenes at the Eastland Methodist Church this evening and Wednesday morning delegates will be coming from forty Methodist Churches in this district representing seven thousand two hundred and thirty-seven members. Twenty-one pastors serve these churches under the superintendency of the Rev. Leslie W. Seymour. The pastors will make individual reports to the conference regarding each church.

A Methodist men's banquet will be held at 6:30 this evening in the banquet hall of the First Methodist Church, Jarrard Street, an attorney from Temple, Men of the local community are invited to hear this prominent layman of the Methodist Church.

The chancel choir of the First Methodist Church of Ranger will present a special musical program at the 7:45 worship service, the Rev. J. Morris Bailey, local pastor announced.

The Wednesday morning session of the District Conference will open at 9:00. Dr. Harrison W. Baker, superintendent of the Dallas Methodist Churches will preach at the eleven o'clock service on Wednesday.

Elected delegates from the Eastland Methodist Church are Ed F. Willman, T. L. Fagg; W. L. White, Neil Moore, N. P. McCarty; Turner M. Collier, J. P. Kilgore. Alternate elected delegates are W. F. Davenport, Homer Smith, Frank Crowell, Mrs. Frank Castleberry, Mrs. W. P. Leslie. Members of the district conference by virtue of the office they hold are: J. Morris Bailey, W. J. Cloud, Robert M. Collier, C. G. Stinchcomb, Jr., Mrs. H. L. Hassell, Grady Pipkin, Jack W. Frost, Henry Van Geem.

Animals will be all over the place, with perhaps the most stirring collection that of Prof. George Keller. Tigers, lions, leopards, jaguars, pumas and a rare black panther are put through their paces by the professor.

What's unusual about that? Quite a bit, for the professor does not use a gun, whip or chair as his less staidward contemporaries do.

And to clinch their claim to producing circuses of professional caliber, the Shriners cite you the fact that the Big Top—the Ringling Brothers Circus—studiously has avoided Fort Worth while pitching their tent in many other Texas cities. Could be, the Shriners say, that the Ringlings have heard of the 70,000 Texans who prefer the Shrine spectacle each year.

Red Fox Killed In Chicken Yard By Mrs. Van Geem

When these predatory animals begin swarming into the city limits, it's time to dig out the firearms. And that is just what Mrs. C. M. Van Geem did early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Van Geem resides at 501 North Dixie right here in the very heart of civilization, and nobody would suspect she would have to guard her home with wolf traps, shot guns and atomic bombs. Well, she does. Seems that they raise quite a few game chickens down her way, and though they are the fighting kind (pit games) they are not tough enough to protect themselves.

Each morning for weeks has found her flock reduced. Steel traps were used but to no avail. Friday night she substituted a large wolf trap, and here ends episode 1. Next morning she greeted a big red fox. He was still living but the wolf trap was too much for him. She got her gun and ended his crime wave.

Home Haircut Coming Again

DETROIT, Nov. 13 (UP)—The home haircut was on its way back in Detroit today.

Detroit department stores reported a rush for home haircutting equipment. The largest department store in the city said it had only two sets of clippers left while another store said it was sold out. A third store said the rush was the biggest it has ever seen for such items.

Behind the rush was an announcement by Detroit barbers two weeks ago that the price of a haircut probably would be raised 25 cents to $1.50 before Christmas.

Big Crowd Seen For Shrine Circus

FORT WORTH, Nov. 13 — Advance ticket sales for the annual Shrine Circus, to show at Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum November 16-25, indicate the biggest attendance ever, Roscoe L. Carnrike, general chairman of the circus, said today.

"And that's the way it should be because this year's show will be the absolute best we have presented," Carnrike added.

There will be 10 night performances and six matinees. Cream of the circus crop, assembled by Shriners include:

The only woman in the world who walks a wire from the ground to the high wire will do so at the coliseum.

She is Josephine Berosini, and when she arrives at the high wire other feats are in store.

A Czech, Josephine is the fifth generation of a circus family. Not long ago she was in a family act, but disaster struck a brother. His fatal injuries on a high wire caused the act to disband. Josephine continued as a solo.

Stellar attractions are many. The Aerial Histrionics engage in the odd occupation of acrobatics atop a 132-foot pole that sways 30 feet or more.

The Great Barton, whose services could be put to good use in Washington, is a balancer. As a climax, he balances—on one finger—aboard a street light globe.

Animals will be all over the place, with perhaps the most stirring collection that of Prof. George Keller. Tigers, lions, leopards, jaguars, pumas and a rare black panther are put through their paces by the professor.

Truck Load Of Evidence For Breckenridge

There are important cases in court, and then there are bulky cases. And judging from the amount of written evidence in the Horace Walker case, now on trial in Breckenridge, this case may be considered both bulky and important.

A large moving van was backed up to the west door of the Eastland court house Monday morning, and for a while it seemed the courtroom interior was being moved. Books, dockets, files cabinets, legal papers etc. were being loaded in the van wholesale style. The District Clerk and Tax Assessor-Assessors' offices were stripped. The shipment represented Eastland county's evidence in the Walker trial. In order to have it on hand when needed it was necessary to open up branch offices in Breckenridge.

Prison Breaker Caught Despite His Boasting

LAREDO, Nov. 13 (UP)—An Omaha prison breaker, convicted of the kidnap-assault of a 14-year-old girl, was to face a judge here today for the second time since he boasted he never would be taken alive.

Federal officers indicated a hearing would be held for Raymond Clifford Ellis, 28, who escaped Oct. 11 from the Omaha, Neb., county jail while awaiting sentence.

FBI agents arrested Ellis yesterday as he started across the international bridge into Mexico. Special Agent F. H. McIntire, in charge of the FBI's South Texas District, said Ellis offered no resistance.

The convicted kidnaper had boasted before his arrest in Indianapolis last June on the assault charge that no jail in the country could hold him and that he would never be captured alive, McIntire said.

Marines Land In Mock Fight

CAMP LEGEUNE, N. C., Nov. 13 (UP)—Waves of Marines slashed ashore at Onslow Beach today to grapple with "defensive" forces in the final phase of operation "Lantflex '52," largest Atlantic fleet maneuvers since World War II.

Warships, standing off the beach, blasted shore installations and carrier planes bombed and strafed the beach as the first wave of "attackers" splashed through the chilly surf at 9 a.m. (EST).

An armada of more than 200 ships carrying 18,000 men maneuvered into attack formation several miles off the beach. Officers called the formation "something entirely new, designed to minimize the effect of an atom bomb blast."

The landing climaxed Lantflex, which designates Atlantic Fleet Exercise, Fiscal, 1952. The maneuvers started in the Caribbean in the vicinity of Puerto Rico and moved up the Atlantic seaboard. The troops are members of the Second Marine Division.

Underwater demolition teams made up of the Navy's famed "Frogmen" paved the way for today's assault by destroying simulated beach obstacles set up by the "defenders."

Battle conditions were simulated as nearly as possible without actual shooting. Artillery and small arms blasted away with blank cartridges. Smoke bombs and amplified recordings of actual battlefield noises created a bone-shaking roar around invading landing craft.

More than 1,200 umpires stuck with both invading and defending forces to evaluate the Marines' readiness for combat.

Prison System Manager Gets Re-Appointed

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 (UP)—O. B. Ellis, General Manager of the Texas Prison System, was re-appointed yesterday to another 4-year term by the State Prison Board at a meeting here.

There was not a dissenting vote cast and B. A. Stufflebeme, Grand Prairie board member, apparently summed up the feeling of the seven members present when he said:

Tenant Farmer Faces Assault Case For Look

YANCEYVILLE, N. C., Nov. 13 (UP)—A Negro tenant farmer faces trial here tomorrow on a charge that he assaulted a 17-year-old white girl with intent to commit rape by merely looking at her improperly.

A grand jury indicted Mack Ingram, 44, yesterday on the charge, arising out of Willie Jean Boswell's accusation that Ingram started across a corn field "looking at me funny."

Superior court was to hear Ingram's appeal tomorrow on a recorder's court conviction of assault on a female. But Solicitor W. B. Horton said the trial would be on the more serious charge specified by the grand jury.

At the earlier trial, quickly dubbed the "assault at 75 feet case," the girl testified Ingram got out of his car and stared at her as he walked across the field. She said she fled and Ingram chased her until she was in sight of her father and brothers.

Horton explained that Ingram can be tried on the assault with intent to rape indictment because the grand jury's action was based on the warrant under which Ingram was tried originally.

"But I don't believe the evidence will warrant conviction on the more serious charge," he said. "I think the charge will have to be reduced just as it was in the lower court trial."

What does oil mean to me?

The development and conservation of the oil resources of West Texas mean a lot to every American, but a lot more to you.

Yes, you.

To the average American, oil means gasoline for his car, power for his factory, strength in the sinews of national defense. It means all of that to you, too.

But it also means to you, and to everybody living and working in West Texas, some of the money you pay the grocer, the doctor, the landlord; some of the money to send your sons and daughters off to college; some of the money for your travel and vacations. It means school houses and highways, new businesses and civic improvements.

The value of crude oil produced in West Texas* in 1950 was approximately a billion dollars. This is productive money. It pays taxes, salaries and wages; it buys equipment and supplies; it goes to landowners as royalty and lease payments, to stockholders as dividends; a heavy percentage of it is reinvested in the further development of the region's petroleum resources.

Productive money. It means progress, not only for the oil industry, but for all of West Texas, including you!

* The shaded area is the region called West Texas by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

ment was intolerable to his nation and the Jewish peoples of the world.
The proposal for a UN commission on Germany, is "morally unacceptable and legally unjustified," Sharrett said.

"To Israel and to Jews throughout the world, harried as we constantly are by poignant memories, anything tantamount to the readmission of Germany to the family of nations and any acceleration in the progress of such readmission cannot in these circumstances but appear as a desecration of the memory of the martyrdom of my people," he added.
Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky assailed the three-power German proposal as a western plot to delay reunification. He declared that only the big four foreign ministers are competent to discuss any German problem.
By taking the German issue before the UN, the big three made the first step to implement the global defense plan described last week by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Russia opened up a blast of name-calling in its efforts to block the assembly's agenda. Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik shouted "slander," "Provocation" and "American aggression" in vain at the delegates.

He repeatedly accused the United States of aggressive aims in the Far East.
It is "the aggressive action of the United States in unleashing aggressive war against Korea" that has caused all the trouble in the Far East, Malik said.
Malik insisted that the Communist regime was the only government representing China. He spoke derisively of the nationalists as the "Kuomintang Clique."
"The Soviet Union has exposed the slanderous and provocative and bankrupt Kuomintang Clique which is doomed to failure," Malik said.

The vote marked another setback in Russia's efforts to seat Red China at the UN in place of the Nationalists. The Assembly's General (steering) committee voted last Saturday to defer the question of Chinese representation for this session.

RJC Homecoming Largest Held By Exes; Rangers Lose Game

RANGER, Tex. (Special) — The Ranger Junior College Homecoming Day held here Saturday turned out to be the largest ever held by the ex-students. The day got underway when the special train arrived here bearing the Arlington Football team, band, Sam Houston Rifles, and fans.

The parade started immediately upon the arrival of the group from Arlington on the train. The Arlington band left the train and formed ranks adjacent to the railroad station, where they swung into the strains of "Dixie" the Arlington Rebels school song. The band was followed by the Sam Houston Rifles, a very well known precision drill team made up of ROTC students at the school.

Before the band and drill team could reach the Main Street the students had fallen in behind and staged a short pep rally as the band traveled to Main.

The visiting Arlington band led by the colors started the parade of bands, floats, and the drill team from the visiting school. Eight high school bands and the two college bands, floats from the various organizations at the college, and most of the leading merchants and places of business of Ranger highlighted the very colorful parade.

Some sixty ex-students of the college registered at the Community Clubhouse for the banquet and the business meeting of the exes at 6:00 p.m. The Exes heard Dean W. W.

Smith of the college tell them of the tremendous progress made by the institution in the past ten years.

Smith told the Exes that the college was spending about twenty-five times the amount of money yearly they did ten years ago, and the enrollment of the college had increased ten times. He also said a future planned program of expansion for the college will help in its continued growth and this will be made possible through the efforts and help of the former students.

Pete Brasher was re-elected president for another year of the association; Wesley Walker was made vice-president; Voncil Hopper elected secretary; Wilson Guest, treasurer; Betty Wolford, reporter, and Mrs. Cy Landers was made parliamentarian of the Exes.

The retiring officers were Mrs. Bruce Harris, vice-president; secretary, Mrs. H. G. Adams, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Cy Landers; parliamentarian, Finis Langston, Jr. of Dallas; and reporter, Mrs. Roscoe Hopper.

The Exes agreed at the business meeting of the banquet to sponsor a scholarship for a second year girl student at the college in order that they might take a more active part toward helping the school.

The Exes had also heard Dean Smith say that in 1940 the college property was valued at nothing, today the valuation was placed at $350,000. He said now the school has about twenty full time teachers, whereas ten years ago all the faculty was part time.

After the banquet the Exes went to the football game where they saw Miss Wanda Clem crowned homecoming queen by co-captains of the Rangers football team, Earl Keller, Bobby Boynton, and Wayne Morrow.

The three queen candidates rode out on the field on a float decorated by the Ranger Times, followed by floats of the Los Hildalgos Club, Rope and Spur, and Debs Clubs of Ranger Junior College.

Half-time activities at the game featured the Armistice Day theme with the massed bands honoring the four branches of the armed services with music and formations.

The crack Sam Houston Rifles gave the fans at the game a splendid performance with their trick drill formations and the presentation of the Queen Anne Salute.

The Exes had a perfect Homecoming ruined by the 20-0 loss in the football game by the Rangers to Arlington State.

The Rebels held the Rangers scoreless all through the game while their 210 pound halfback Charlie Marshall was tearing through the Rangers line for long gains to set up the Rebel scores.

The first charity hospital in the U. S. was founded in New Orleans in 1730, when a sailor, Jean Louis, bequeathed 10,000 livres to that city for the construction of an institution to care for the sick.

Schoolboy List Has Two New Members Today

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (UP)—Two newcomers were named to the top 10 class AAAA teams in Texas in the Dallas Morning News weekly poll today but Lubbock, for the second straight week, held the top spot.

Dallas Sunset and Waco were rated 9th and 10th respectively, the first time either was named to the elite group picked by 16 sports writers.

They replaced Texarkana which dropped out from eighth place last week after its 33 to 13 loss to Waco, and Amarillo which dropped from 19th place after losing to Tampa 26 to 14.

Fort Worth Arlington Heights gained, from 9th to 8th place in the ratings while Pampa dropped from 5th to 7th despite its victory over Amarillo.

Odessa and Port Arthur both moved up one spot, to 5th and 6th respectively.

Selections, in order, were Lubbock, Houston (Lamar, Corpus Christi Bay, Baytown, Odessa, Port Arthur, Pampa, Fort Worth Arlington Heights, Dallas Sunset and Waco.

It has been estimated that each year in the United States 12,000 women die from breast cancer, and that approximately 4 per cent of all female adults succumb to the disease.

Egyptians March Through Streets Of Cairo Today

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 13 (UP)—Two hundred thousand Egyptians marched through the streets of Alexandria today in the largest demonstration in Egyptian history, protesting British occupation of the Suez Canal Zone.

The almost three-mile long procession snaked through the shuttered heavily-guarded streets of the Egyptian summer capital. The demonstration marked "national struggle day", anniversary of the 1919 revolution against the British.

(From Valletta, Malta, it was reported units of the British Mediterranean fleet had been alerted for possible trouble during the day's demonstrations. Three squadrons of aircraft were loaded aboard the carrier Ocean to standby. The flagship cruiser Liverpool and the frigate Mermaid left Valletta harbor for an undisclosed destination.)

Police declared a state of emergency in Alexandria. All of the city's political, social, religious, commercial and industrial organizations were represented in the demonstration. The demonstrators massed at Mir Station Square to start a five mile march to Raseltin Palace, the Alexandria residence of King Farouk.

Special guards were placed around all foreign consulates. The city has a foreign population of about 250,000 mostly Greeks, Italians, British and French.

The demonstrators were ordered to disperse at the end of the march to avoid anti-British riots. A similar procession will be held in Cairo tomorrow and a temporary stoppage of all the nation's trains also is scheduled for tomorrow.

Your Scrap Dealer
A VITAL LINK IN NATIONAL PRODUCTION

The scrap metal he gathers is essential for producing tanks and autos, nails and bridges, as iron ore from mines. He needs your broken machinery, old batteries, in fact anything discarded or useless made of iron and steel or other metals to send on to the mills. Most steel is made from 1/2 scrap and 1/2 pig iron. Other metals, too—zinc, lead, aluminum, copper, etc.—are re-used in production. Scrap is critically short.
