With Mack

Sometimes we get just what we want, but as a rule we take what we can get, and like it. This weather, for instance! No sane man would ever put in an order for such slop as we are having this week. Even the duck hunters are kicking, and when they kick it's time for the rest of us to dig in for the winter.

It's wet, but we are not getting enough rain to scare a doodle-bug bac in his hole. It's cold, but not cold enough to supply local plumbers with a few day's work repairing frozen pipes. It's slick, but not slick enough to force us to get out mud-chains. It is just "so so" weather, we suppose, as it certainly doesn't come under any other category. It is "So" sloppy that if it gets worse it will be just too bad, and "so" good we can't get the boss to let us close up and go home.

That fellow over at the J. C. Penny Store — manager we suppose, has "kicked". Usually he keeps a very even keel, but today he told us he was three days behind with his work, had two sick employees, and wasn't feeling any too good himself. That's a big sentence for Clyde Young. When he speaks he generally says something "A lot of us don't—just talk."

This is the season of the year that you see a lot of brotherly love in circulation. People who wouldn't bother to speak to you a week ago are now going out of their way to call you Mister. Last year Joe Faircloth called us Mac if he called us anything—generally just grunted at us, but since he has tossed his hat into the political arena, he just can't be nice enough. He announced today, and has called us Mr. Mack three or four times. In another month he will be buying most of our cigars unless we can get some other candidate interested in our well being.

Of course we have a new county Attorney, but he is already "in" and doesn't have to be so generous with his donations. Also he is the guy who can wink at the Judge and he will send you so far back in jail that it would take $8 to send you a post card. And besides that we don't know whether he is a "wet" or "dry". Joe's a fine boy, however, and we are going to help him run that office—if he wants us to.

The fellow we are worrying about is Elzo Been. He quite a perfectly good "city job" to go to farming. Well, that's his business, but we want to tell him right now that there is a lot of difference between fingering a law book and fingering a bale of hay. He will learn this the first cold, rainy morning when he goes out to feed that bunch of hungry yearlings. Those calves can bawl longer and louder on a cold, wet morning than any other time Elzo will make it alright down at the ranch, unless he gets an idea that he is a trapper and begin hanging polecat pelt around on the barn and out houses. About this time Mrs. Elzo will take over and he will witness the swiftest conviction any district attorney ever saw.

The boss has bought us a new typewriter ribbon and we are now ready to begin grinding out political thunder. If you ever plan to run for office, now is your time. By the time we get through writing you up, you will wonder why you ever announced. Our rates are reasonable for the regular file and fuss announcements, where you run your own campaign and are governed by the court of primary election judges. If you want a gift-edged, guarantee election, rates are a little higher, based on the number opponents you have. Ammunition is higher than it used to be, and if election is guaranteed, we don't want to be cramped for bullets.

Jack Cox From Breckenridge Asks House Seat

Jack Cox, 26-year-old State Representative from Breckenridge, announced Thursday that he is a candidate for Congress from the 17th District.

He is seeking the post now held by Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson, who has been unopposed in the last two campaigns. "Many important and vital issues face the people of our district and our nation," Cox said. "And it is my intention to take a positive stand on all such issues, whether domestic, national, or international, believing that our people deserve and need public servants who are not afraid to take a stand."

"I earnestly solicit the support and the votes of the people of this district, and pledge a vigorous and active campaign," he said. "I will carry this campaign to every voter so that all may know me and the things for which I stand."

World War II Vet

Cox, who graduated from Breckenridge high school and North Texas State College, is a veteran of World War II. He had never been opposed in his quest for the Texas legislative post. At one time he was named the "outstanding young man of Stephens County" by the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce.

Cox, after graduation from high school, spent a summer as a grocery clerk, but as fall rolled around, the desire to enter college got the best of him. And that was when he packed his bag, and with only $1.50 in his pocket hitchhiked to Austin to enter the University of Texas.

His education was interrupted when he entered the Navy on Sept. 25, 1940. After training at Northwestern University, he obtained his "wings" at Pensacola, Fla., to become a commissioned officer.

Cox spent 29 months of his five years of Navy service overseas, one year of it at Pearl Harbor, receiving his discharge Sept. 25, 1945.

After getting out of the Navy he entered North Texas State and obtained his degree in government. He had announced as a candidate for the House of Representatives in January before he graduated the following June.

Since that time he has not stopped. Some intimates refer to him as a "human dynamo", with a service station and an automobile agency.

He is a Breckenridge auto dealer and is president of Texas Service Stations Associated, serving about 2000 service stations in the state.

Cox teaches a senior high group at the First Christian church; is a member of the Retail Merchants Association; board of directors of the Breckenridge Lions club; Elks club; American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At Austin Cox was one of the first at his seat in the legislative halls. Besides his important seat in the appropriations committee he served on the oil and gas and common carrier committees.

His wife, the former Joyce Smyrl, is his chief critic and counsel. They have two children, Jack, Jr., 7, and Callan Sue, 5.

Ft. Worth Man Jailed In Tenn.

JACKSON, Tenn., Jan. 4 (UP)—Don Dell Click, 21 year old former sailor of Fort Worth, identified as a jailbreaker at Fargo, N. D., was lodged in jail today, unable to post $10,000 bond.

Click was arrested here on charges of transporting a stolen automobile in interstate commerce. He waived preliminary examination to await trial.

Click, alias Billy Don Walker, was taken into custody Wednesday by highway patrol officers for driving while drunk. Police found a .32 caliber automatic on the seat of the automobile.

Click had more than $1,500 in his possession, saying he had won the money gambling.

He was turned over to a federal grand jury yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Karl K. Wilkes.

Local police said Click was wanted for aiding in a North Dakota jailbreak. He told officers he broke out of jail Dec. 27 along with two federal prisoners.

Click said he came here after going to Fort Worth to see his mother, and then, to New Orleans.

GOES ON TRIAL—Denis W. Delaney, ex-collector of Internal Revenue, 2nd from left, walks down corridor of the Federal Building in Boston, Mass., before entering court room where he went on trial on charges of taking $12,000 in bribe sand making false certificates. TEXAS BUSINESS KEPT EVEN COURSE IN '51, BANK SAYS

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (UP)—The year 1951 brought "a more satisfactory degree of stabilization" than anticipated in Texas, said the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas in a year-end business review today.

"The year opened on a very strong note of inflation," the review said. "Businesses and consumers sought to acquire merchandise which it was felt might later be in short supply."

"New orders to manufacturers were at a very high level; prices pointed sharply upward; the demand for bank loans continued strong—and net personal savings were at a rate of less than four per cent of disposable income."

These factors caused concern regarding the actual and potential inflation, the review said.

But when merchandise shortages failed to show, buyers developed caution, and businessmen guarded against over-heavy stocks.

The effect of government controls was felt during the year, the review said. The federal reserve banking system regained some control over the availability of bank reserves, and a firmer market resulted.

The review credited the voluntary credit restraint program, price and wage control, materials control and the expansion of basic industries, increased income taxes and other measures with helping stem the inflation potential.

The 1952 outlook, the review said, must be based on the assumption that "the present degree of tension will continue internationally—that no appreciable improvement will occur in relation

License Plate For 'Scooters' Now Required

Motor Scooters are small in size, large enough to be recognized by the law. Christmas must have produced quite a number of these "modes of transportation" for you can hear the chug-chug-chug on every side. However, this is the story:

Those billed are classed as motor vehicles by the State Highway Department. You are required to buy a license plate for them, similar to those used on motor cycles. Also the driver must have a driver's license, and must be 16 years old. Boys 14 years of age, in company with one or more parents present, may get a permit to operate from the county judge. That is the county judge will give you a permit to orders in the district court for the removal of disabilities, which allows minors to sign papers and make certain decisions before they reach the legal age of 21.

So if you own a motor scooter and intend to use it, better see about your license plate and driver's license.

Also you will have to buy a muffler if your scooter doesn't have one. If you plan to drive at night, a reflector will have to be added.

between Russia and the Communist bloc—and the western Democracies.

It also must be assumed, said the review, that a cease-fire in Korea would not change the defense program to any great extent.

On this basis, the federal reserve economists forecast a full demand for the nation's labor force; large volume of business capital expenditures, although probably not as high as 1951; increases in personal income; good business with serious shortages unlikely; and moderate price movement, "probably pointing upward."

The forecast said higher economic indexes may come during the early part of the year because some deficit financing during the last half of 1951, tending to stimulate inflation.

Telephone Co. Announces New District Mgr.

John A. Cornell, Abilene manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has been promoted to District Manager for Eastland and 14 other exchanges in this vicinity. J. H. Chowning, division commercial superintendent, has announced.

Cornell replaces C. A. Deuschle, District Manager here for the past two years, who is being transferred to Amarillo as Camp Telephone Manager for Southwestern Bell's facilities at the Amarillo Army Air Force Base. The change is effective immediately.

Mr. Cornell will continue as Manager of the company here. Cornell began his telephone career in 1941 as a cable splicer in the company's Plant Department, and later went to Waco as a representative in the company's business office there.

During the war, he served in the U. S. Navy aboard a submarine, participating in many undersea patrols and assisting in the rescue of American flyers shot down at sea during the intensive B-29 raids on Japan. He holds the Asiatic-Pacific theatre ribbon and the Philippine Liberation medal.

In 1946, Cornell was discharged with the rank of Seaman 1st Class and returned to telephone work at Waco. He later served at Tyler, Fort Worth, and Plainview, and in April of this year was named Manager at Abilene, his position until the present promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornell have two children, a daughter 10, and a three-year-old son. They will move to Mineral Wells as soon as arrangements can be made.

The next conference game will be played here on January 11, when Eastland teams will tangle with Ranger.

Russia's Plan For Korean Truce To Be Rejected

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—The United States will reject Russia's demand for a special United Nations Security Council meeting to break the Korean truce deadlock, it was learned today.

Officials consider Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's surprise proposal at Paris yesterday so impractical that it should not be taken seriously.

They said it has been difficult enough making progress with a small team of UN and Communist negotiators at Panmunjom. Security Council action, they said, would smarl things hopelessly.

"They suggested that Vishinsky could influence the Chinese and North Korean Reds to accept the latest UN truce proposals if he really wants to crack the deadlock."

Actually, however, these officials guess Vishinsky's principal motive in making the proposal was merely to divert attention from the anti-aggression measures now being considered by the UN.

Little Action Is Expected From Congress In 1952

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—The election-year Congress is expected to give President Truman almost everything he asks for to beef up U. S. defenses, but not much else.

Aside from defense bills, the new session starting Tuesday probably will feature more talk than action with most of it devoted to politicking and investigations.

Mr. Truman will outline his legislative program in his state-of-the-nation message before a joint session of Congress at 12:30 p.m. EST, Wednesday. His budget, expected to top $80,000,000,000, will be submitted this month.

One highly-placed Democrat who requested anonymity predicted that the new session will "do more talking and less acting than any Congress in history."

Sen. James P. Kem (D-Mo.) agreed. He said "investigations and more investigations" will be the watchword.

Rep. Joseph W. Byrnes (R-Wis.) said irregularities uncovered in the Internal Revenue Bureau and Reconstruction Finance Corp. will make Congress "less likely" to take administration requests for granted.

With government revenue under the new tax bill running to about $70,000,000,000 a year, the president may ask Congress for another tax hike to put defense spending on a pay-as-we-go basis. But the legislators are in no mood to make the tax burden any heavier. Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.) said today there is "not a chance" Congress will raise taxes again.

Universal Military Training may produce the first pitched battle of the session. Congress has set up the framework for post-emergency UMT, but it still must enact legislation to get it started.

Police Chief Shot In Ardmore, Okla.

ARDMORE, OKLA., Jan. 4 (UP)—Night police chief Oscar Wilkes was shot to death last night when he answered a disturbance call at an Ardmore residence.

County Attorney Gene Ritter said a man being questioned admitted shooting Wilkes. The man said he mistook the policeman for "a man who had been threatening my wife and children."

Wilkes, a veteran police officer, was shot once with a .38 caliber pistol. He had answered the police radio call because he was nearest the scene of the reported disturbance.

Other policemen following him found him dying in front of the house.

Ritter said the man being questioned, a 39-year-old father of five children, said he had been standing in front of his house talking with a girl he knew when the girl's ex-husband approached.

He said he ran into the house because the man had threatened his family, and that when he saw Wilkes approaching he thought the policeman was the ex-husband and fired.

Poll Tax Payments Are Falling Off In This County; Only 1732 Receipts Been Issued To Date

It's going to take a miracle to pull the "poll tax depression" out of the hole, if we are to judge from former years. Today they are a drag on the market, and unless people begin fortifying themselves for the oncoming elections, most people will not vote.

To date only 1,732 poll tax receipts have been issued in Eastland county. This number includes exemptions and army receipts.

In 1950, another state and county election year, 3,442 poll tax payers left their dollar and six bits with the county tax collector, and this was considered a bad year. Back in 1948 when everybody and his dog wanted to vote for Truman, no less than

Fifty Million In Back Taxes Collected; 11,816 Cases Probed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—Treasury agents have tapped 5,000 small-time racketeers for almost $50,000,000 in unpaid taxes since last August and now are closing in on some of the nation's most notorious hoodlums, it was disclosed today.

A top official of the Internal Revenue Bureau said the drive against racketeering tax-dodging, coupled with enforcement of the new stamp tax on gamblers, may well break the back of organized gambling. Simultaneously with the highly-publicized cleanup of the bureau itself, Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap has assigned 2,300 agents to the racket squad under James J. Guthrie to dig into the tax records of every known or suspected racketeer in the country.

Guthrie indicated the back taxes and penalties already collected may turn out to be chicken feed compared with the sums his agents hope to recover from the underworld big shots now coming under investigation. Guthrie said the Bureau has a file of 30,000 unfinished racketeering cases, of which 11,816 are under active investigation.

The Bureau doesn't talk about cases under investigation. But Guthrie left no doubt that the list includes such reputed gamblers and underworld kingpins as Frank Costello, Frank Erickson, Joe Adonis, and Ernest (Checkers) Smaldone, the Colorado gambling boss, and score of others who paraded before the Senate Crime Committee last year.

Also on the T-men's trouble list is Harry Gross, the Brooklyn bookie who wrecked the corruption trial of 18 New York City policemen last fall by refusing to testify against them.

Gross, now serving a long jail term, will have to explain whether he paid taxes on the $20,000,000-a-year business he is said to have handled. The Bureau also is interested in the tax returns of the police officers who, according to Gross grand jury testimony, collected $1,000,000 a year for protection.

One of the biggest hauls in the drive thus far was obtained in the case of Louis E. Wolcher, San Francisco, said to be one of the country's chief distributors of coin machines. He was sentenced to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine, and was forced to pay the treasury $958,151 in back taxes and penalties.

Clayton Rand Says

There was a sharp drop in temperatures as the sleet and rain front moved south. Balmly temperatures prevailed in the area not yet hit by the cold mass. Miami had 81 yesterday and New Orleans 72. But Lake Charles, La., a short distance to the north, reported 59.

Supplies of fresh milk and fuel were low, the crews reported. The city's 1,800 residents had been using dry and powdered milk. Existing coal supplies were shared with those who ran low.

Singers To Meet In Gorman, 13th

The Eastland County Singing Convention will meet in Gorman, on Sunday, January 13th, according to Tommy Nichols, vice-president of the organization. Singing will begin promptly at one o'clock in the Baptist church.

Some special singers, including quartettes, have been invited, are expected to be in attendance, Mr. Nichols says. These conventions usually begin on Saturday night and continue all day Sunday.

The next convention will be held in Eastland in April.

Certainly, single women seeking mates should be optimistic. According to the Census Bureau a girl has a much better chance in every 100 females over 14 years old 60 years ago. As of last April only 19 out of every 100 women were unmarried. And about 26 out of every 100 males over 14 were bachelors last spring. In 1890, 35 percent were single.

Despite the marriages that go on the rocks, matrimony is still our most popular institution. And it isn't difficult, girls, for two people to be happy, if they don't get mad at the sometime and don't expect each other to like the same things.

It's an awful experience to marry a lovely lady, and find out when it's too late, as did my father, that she eats sugar on her sliced tomatoes.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

The heavy fox population in north Texas can be blamed for a quail hunting situation which has frustrated many well-trained bird dogs this season.

The quail-hunting tactics of the fox—markedly similar to those of a good dog—have forced a change in quail habits. As result, many dogs have been shocked and confused by what happens after they go on point.

North Texas hunters may expect to encounter the unusual situation until the season closes Jan. 16. Because of quail-hunting by foxes, the birds are "running" rather than "holding" ahead of the dogs.

Up to the critical point, the fox works like a bird dog. But where the dog points the game and waits the fox ducks in for a quick meal. Quail now seen unsure as to who's a dog and who's a fox. So they run from everything.

Whereas the birds formerly depended on foliage to hide them from hunters, they now choose to slip away. A situation where the deadly fox lines up the shotgun as an enemy to quail has an obvious cure. Point the shotguns at the foxes.

Arms makers, realizing more than ever the importance of the sportsman's market, came up with an outstanding piece of practical ingenuity in that field during 1951.

Glorified Gingerbread

Here's Gingerbread in party dress. This two-layer affair is filled with fresh applesauce and topped with whipped cream cheese.

Who cannot remember his delight as a child with munching a fat gingerbread man? An old-fashioned dessert, gingerbread still finds a popular place on the modern menu as "cake" or muffins.

Bakers offer a number of molasses-and-spice desserts in the gingerbread class. But gingerbread is easily made at home too, as this recipe proves. Though it can stand alone with its mellow molasses flavor and exhilarating spices, gingerbread looks pretty with a whipped cream cheese icing. You may give it an applesauce filling, if you're making the two-layer kind.

A hot lemon sauce makes a good topping for gingerbread. Muffins served as dessert. In any of these roles, gingerbread provides delectable enjoyment at a minimum of cost, yet proffers excellent nutritional value. It is especially high in the food mineral iron provided by enriched flour, eggs and molasses, plus the B-vitamins of enriched flour.

GINGERBREAD

- 2 cups sifted enriched flour; 1/2 tsp salt; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon soda; 1/2 teaspoon ginger; 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon cloves; 2 eggs, beaten; 1/2 cup molasses; 1 cup sour milk; 1/2 cup melted shortening; 1/2 teaspoon cloves; 1/2 tsp. lemon; 1/4 cup molasses; 1 cup sour milk; 1/2 cup melted shortening

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, soda, ginger, cinnamon and cloves. Combine eggs, molasses, sour milk and shortening. Add to flour mixture stirring until smooth. Pour into greased muffin pans or 2 8-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 20 minutes for muffins or 30 minutes for layers. Makes about 16 2-inch muffins or 2 8-inch layers.

new hard-chrome resurfacing process for gun bores will put money in the sportsman's pocket.

The process is impractical for pitted or worn barrels, but definitely will improve shotgun shot patterns and preserve rifle accuracy in new firearms. It will completely eliminate pitting, leading, rust and corrosion.

Guns treated with the chrome acquire mirror-smooth, extremely hard bores which give increased muzzle velocity and flattens load trajectory. The wear, then, is much less.

Application of the hard-chrome is a simple process. It's unnecessary to tamper with the weapon's action or bluing. Cost depends on the gun type, but varies from about $13 to $20.

If you have an investment in firearms, you know immediately that such an outlay readily is justified for the elimination of rust alone, regardless of the other benefits.

Farm Can Yield You Tax Savings

It's a good bet for a businessman with surplus cash. His farm operating losses offset his other income, and his long-range profit is capital gain at lower tax rates. More and more businessmen with extra cash are joining the back-to-the-farm movement, according to the December 29 issue of Business Week.

If you invest in a farm, you can reap some real tax advantages along with any other benefits of living close to the soil. But you must be sure to show a serious intent to farm for profit. If you run your farm merely as a country home or vacation place, you'll lose the special tax benefits that farmers enjoy, according to the Business Week story.

This doesn't mean that you have to show a profit in any particular year. It's the intent that counts. And if your farm isn't fairly obviously a tax-evasion device your operating losses can be used to off-set other income.

Investment in a farm combines investment in real estate, in equipment and generally in livestock. Operating a farm is a business. You get the special tax advantage of each activity.

Feeding Test Results Told

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 3.—Johnsongrass hay was a better roughage for fattening steers than either cottonseed hulls or peanut hulls in a test conducted last spring at the Stephenville unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

B. C. Langley, superintendent of the Stephenville station, reports that steers fed cottonseed hulls or coarsely ground peanut hulls made equal gain and finish. Finely ground peanut hulls gave higher gain and finish than either cottonseed hulls or coarse peanut hulls.

Finely ground peanut hulls were worth only slightly more than coarse peanut hulls, however, because a greater amount of fine hulls were required to produce 100 pounds of gain.

Feed costs for roughages used in this test were: peanut hulls, $14 per ton; cottonseed hulls, $26.50 per ton; and Johnsongrass hay, $23 per ton. The results of this experiment are given in Progress Report 1396.

This test is part of a study of the use of peanut hulls as a roughage. The results of an earlier test, conducted at Stephenville in 1950, are given in Progress Report 1264. Progress Report 1385 gives the results of a test with peanut hulls conducted at the Prairie View substation this year. These reports are available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Looking Back on 1951— the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore finger and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live here where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than a quarter century. Earl Bender & Company Eastland (Abstracting Since 1923) Texas

Larger Farms In This County, But Number Reduced
One of the most significant agricultural changes in Eastland County the past few years has been the decrease in the number of farms according to a report from the County Agent's office.
The 1950 Agricultural Census Report shows a decrease from 2,345 farms in 1945 to 1,929 farms in 1950, a loss of 416 farms caused by consolidations and increasing the farms size. The average size farm increased from 216 acres to 259 acres during the five year period.
Electric and telephone service to farmers increased during the past few years. In 1945 only 230 farms reported telephone service whereas in 1950 service had been increased to 357. Electric service increased from 883 to 1,326 during this time also. The census showed a total of 117 home freezers, 136 electric hot water heaters, 332 electric water pumps, 547 electric washing machines and 165 electric chick brooders on the farms over the County by 1950.
Mules on the farms over the county decreased from 281 to 89 and surprisingly cattle did also. Cattle and calves decreased from 31,258 in 1945 to 28,619 by 1950. Out of the number reported in 1950, 4,214 were milk cows or calves. The number of tractors increased.
The hog and sheep numbers remained fairly constant with around 10,000 head of hogs including pigs and a little over 8,000 head of sheep.
Poultry numbers decreased also from 154,596 to 98,036 in the five year period.
The number of farm tenants dropped from 710 to 434.
Turkeys and alfalfa increased in numbers and acreage whereas corn and sorghum acreage decreased.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 4 (UP)—Dominion wildlife officers are having a difficult time fulfilling their promise to send six British Columbia swans to Princess Elizabeth.

Pioneer Repents Waste Of Trees

PALESTINE, Tex. (UP)—An Anderson County pioneer who can remember when pine trees six in diameter were common in this area plans to plant a forest of his own to make up for the loss of timber he helped to waste many years ago.

William Travis Todd, a 70-year-old farmer, already has set out 40,000 pine seedlings on his 2,000 acres of sandy soil, and he plans to start sowing seeds he gathered by hand.

"I have ruined and wasted enough timber in my lifetime to have lasted us a long, long time," Todd said.

He will keep only a small patch of land clear for farming, Todd said. All the rest he hopes to cover with pines.

The convert to reforestation said the days of trees more than a hundred feet high won't come back unless men restore what they have wasted. Before he dies, Todd said, he is determined to do his part.

Billy Rose Looks At Wife's Past

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4 (UP)—An attorney for Billy Rose said today he was doing "some investigation" into a divorce that separated the theatrical producer's estranged wife, Eleanor Holm, and her first husband.

Greg Bautzer, attorney for many Hollywood screen personalities, said Rose came here last week to check court records of a divorce band leader Art Jarrett obtained from Miss Holm in 1938.

The swimming star has sued Rose for separation and won $700 a week alimony pending trial of her suit.

Jarrett obtained his decree on grounds of mental cruelty and accused Miss Holm of "running around with a married man."

He said publicly linking his wife with Rose was a "constant source of embarrassment" to him. At the time, Rose was married to the late comedienne Fannie Brice.
